At the request of the Governor, the Secretary of the Senate read the following address:

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Salt Lake City, Utah,
September 29, 1919.

To the Members of the Thirteenth Legislature of the State of Utah, in Special Session:

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Governor by Section 6, Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Utah, to convene the Legislature in special session on extraordinary occasions, I have called you to meet here at this time to consider matters which I believe are of unusual importance to the people of our state and to the people of the country as a whole.

Probably the most important item for which I would ask your consideration, and the one on which the call for the special session was based, is the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States extending the right of suffrage to women. Utah has gone on record so unmistakably and so frequently in this matter that I feel further comment at this time would be superfluous.

Few subjects under discussion in the country today are of more importance and widespread interest than the cost of living. The matter is one of serious moment both locally and nationally and all governmental forces are uniting in an effort to reduce the cost of necessities to a point where it may not work a hardship upon the wage earner. Insofar as I am informed our existing laws are adequate to meet conditions in this respect except that financial provision has not been made for their enforcement. Therefore I would respectfully ask your consideration of an appropriation to the office of the Attorney General in the amount of $10,000 for investigations and prosecutions as provided under existing statutes to prevent combinations affecting the control of prices and governing the disposition of cold storage products.

While the call for the special session contemplated consideration of the foregoing subjects only, it has occurred to me that there are other items of sufficient importance to the people of our state as to warrant me in bringing them to your attention at this time. Chief among them is the law governing the sale of securities enacted at the regular session of the Thirteenth Legislature, generally known as the "Blue Sky" law, which recently has been attacked because of a clerical error in engrossment. I am strongly of the opinion that such a law is sorely needed and rather than leave its validity open to question I would suggest its re-enactment at this time with such changes as the experience of the Securities Commission has indicated to be desirable or necessary to meet existing conditions.

Another matter which I would submit for your approval is the enlargement of the powers of the State Board of Loan Commissioners to the end that it may be given authority to acquire additional land for the Capitol grounds, and to provide for authorized deficits.

In transferring certain duties from the office of the Secretary of State to that of the State Bank Commissioner, it appears that inadvertently some omissions resulted which interfere materially with the efficient operation of the State Banking Department. One of these prevents the collection of fees in connection with the filing of quarterly reports, resulting in a reduction in the state's revenues to the extent of more than $4,000.00 for the biennium. The subject involves amendments to Sections 1009 and 1207, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1917, and I believe is of sufficient importance to warrant your consideration.

Another omission to which I would respectfully direct your attention is the failure to make the dynamiting of fish a criminal offense. The practice of dynamiting streams and bodies of water not only is contrary to the ethics of sportsmanship but is manifestly unjust to our people as a whole, and I trust the defect in the law will be remedied at this session of the Legislature.

Some years ago the state undertook the reclamation of certain lands in the drainage of the Sevier river—the enterprise being generally known as the Piute project. It has been generally understood that when the project was completed it would be sold to the water users at a price which would reimburse the state for its outlay. That stage of the proceedings apparently has been reached but the state finds it is without authority to carry the program to a conclusion. I would respectfully recommend that the authority to negotiate the sale be vested in the State Board of Land Commissioners, under whose direction the project has been constructed and administered.

It has been brought to my attention that the section of the Utah Public Utilities act governing rates for long and short distances does not conform to the laws of many other states and under certain conditions creates a hardship for our public utilities. I would respectfully suggest a modification of the section to the end that upon proper representation the Public Utilities Commission be granted authority to permit a higher rate for short distance than for a long distance, thereby adding to the uniformity of the public utilities laws of the country and making possible a fair and just return on public utilities investments in Utah.

The development of the agricultural resources of our state hinges largely upon the reclamation of arid lands and I am of the opinion that it is proper to provide legislation which will encourage work of an initiatory character by county authorities. To this end I would suggest that county commissioners be authorized to make appropriations to provide for surveys and the collection of data looking to the conservation of water in their respective jurisdictions.

With the increase in the number of motor cars, automobile thievery appears almost to have reached the stage of an epidemic. To combat this condition I am inclined to favor legislation of a more stringent character than now appears on our statute books.

It is not the intention to place undue burdens upon you at this special session. I realize as well as you that on occasions such as this, matters of serious moment only should be given attention. I have limited my suggestions to subjects which I believe have been so generally discussed and are so well understood as to eliminate the necessity and desirability for lengthy debate. To such an extent has public opinion been voiced on these matters, it occurs to me I might offer with propriety the suggestion that your work would be facilitated if the various subjects were considered by the respective houses acting as committees of the whole.

In conclusion, I repeat the sentiment conveyed to you in regular session—the wish that your associations may be pleasant and your accomplishments worthy of your highest ambition.

SIMON BAMBERGER.

Senator McKinney moved that the message of the Governor be spread on the Journals of both Houses. Motion carried.

Senator McKinney then moved that the Joint Convention adjourn. Motion carried.

At 2:15 p. m. the Senate was again called to order by President Funk.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

Salt Lake City, October 2, 1919.

To the Thirteenth Legislature of the State of Utah, in Special Session:

When I submitted my recommendations to you on the opening day of the Special Session I hoped that it would not be necessary to ask your consideration of other subjects. However, representations of such a character have been made within the past few days that I feel justified in bringing to your attention certain other matters which appear to warrant special action to meet pressing needs.

The widows' pension law, which has been in effect for some time, has sufficed until recently, and it appears sufficient now in all counties except Salt Lake. Because of the influenza epidemic of a year ago authorities of Salt Lake County have found the $20,000 permitted apportionment inadequate to care for present conditions and the Board of County Commissioners ask that they be empowered to appropriate up to $50,000 for the biennium, if necessary, to care for widows and dependent children.

Another matter which I believe merits your consideration in the interest of widows and fatherless children, is an amendment to the constitution repealing that section which provides that "right of action to recover damages for injuries resulting in death, shall never be abrogated, and the amount recoverable shall not be subject to any statutory limitation." The existence of this provision, I believe, militates against efficient operation of our laws governing compensation insurance, resulting in inestimable loss to beneficiaries, and I would approve a resolution submitting the question to a vote of the people at the next regular election.

Two changes in our inheritance tax laws appear desirable to insure the state obtaining the revenue which properly should come from this source. One is an amendment which would require certain reports on personal property and the other would be new legislation making property held jointly subject to inheritance tax.

For a number of years there have been numerous investigations with a view to constructing railroads into the outlying sections of the state not now enjoying adequate transportation facilities. The investigations have been conducted by railroad companies and by private interests but for one reason or another the plans for railroad construction have been abandoned, temporarily at least. I believe the time for development of this character is at hand and that we should lend such encouragement as may be consistent to legitimate undertakings. The established railroad companies are not now in a position to attempt new construction and neither they nor private capital will be inclined to tap a new country unless they can be given reasonable assurance that a parallel road will not be constructed without a proper showing to the Public Utilities Commission. To afford this protection it will be necessary to include railroad corporations in the necessity and convenience section of the Public Utilities law, and I respectfully submit the matter for your serious consideration.

Considerable trouble has been experienced in the administration of the brand inspection laws and I would suggest a revision along lines such as will meet the emergency.

Development in some sections of the state is being retarded because no limitation is placed on indebtedness that may be incurred by irrigation districts. For this reason it has been difficult to market the bonds and I would suggest that a limit be applied to remedy the condition.

From civic and commercial organizations of Salt Lake, Ogden, Logan and Provo have come strong complaints against picketing as has been practiced recently during strike periods in some of our cities, and a request that the matter be brought to your attention with a view to consideration of the repeal of Title 58, Chapter 2, 3651-3658, inclusive, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1917.

Your Joint Agricultural Committee and representatives of the Utah Chapter of the American Legion have sought consideration of a proposal to amend the Soldier Settlement Act so as to permit the state to act independently of the Federal Government, and in accordance with their wishes I am bringing the matter to your attention.

My attention has been called to a serious condition at the State Mental Hospital, because of inadequate facilities to care for existing needs. At the regular session of the Legislature last winter an appropriation of $75,000 for new construction and equipment was passed but it was not made subject to release by the Governor when funds were available. Because funds were not available I was compelled to disapprove the bill. The situation is one, I believe, which merits your consideration.

The Finance Committee of the House of Representatives and the State Board of Equalization have called attention to a serious error in Section 6060x, Chapter 123, Laws of Utah, 1919, wherein the Treasurer is required to collect personal property taxes at the time of assessment. Evidently it was intended to place that duty on the Assessor and I am of the opinion the change should be made.

Very respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,

Governor.

Communication referred to the Special Committee on Legislation.

Filed.

Senator McKinney moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on the passage of S. B. No. 4. Motion carried.

Senator McKinney then moved to amend S. B. No. 4 as follows: (a) to strike all the words after the word "that" in line 3 down to and including the word "and" in line 4; (b) to strike the words after the word "and" in line 5 down to and including the word "community" in line 6. Motion carried and the amendments were made.

Senator Sanford moved to amend by adding after the word "magistrate" in line — the words "with the same jurisdiction as a Justice of the Peace sitting as a committing magistrate." Motion carried and the amendment was made.

S. B. No. 4 was read for the third time and placed on its final passage.

S. B. No. 4 then passed as amended on the following roll call: 15 ayes, 3 absent.

Those voting in the affirmative were: Senators Bevan, Bradley, Chez, Clyde, Dern, Hayward, Jones, Kimball, Knight, McKinney, Parker, Sanford, Southwick. Stevens, Mr. President.

Absent and not voting: Senators Lamph, Olson, Stringham.

The title of the bill became the title of the act.

S. B. No. 4 was transmitted to the House.

S. B. No. 5 was returned to the House.

Those voting in the negative were Senator McKinney.

Absent and not voting: Senators Lamph, Olson.

H. B. No. 4 was returned to the House.

President Funk announced that the absence of Senator Lamph was due to a serious illness in his immediate family.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

Salt Lake City, Utah,
October 4th, 1919.

To the Thirteenth Legislature of the State of Utah, in Special Session:

I regret very much that conditions appear to make it desirable beyond question for me to direct your attention to another matter of most unusual bearing on the public welfare. I have reference to provision for the care of fallen women. Representations of an alarming character have been made to me within the past twenty-four hours by peace officers, juvenile court officers, the superintendent of the State Industrial School and many citizens interested in controlling and eradicating social menaces.

It will be remembered that a bill bearing on this topic was passed by both Houses of the Legislature in regular session last winter but failed to meet my approval because of the unfortunate omission of the enacting clause in the engrossed bill. I believe some of the members of your Honorable Body are sufficiently familiar with the need for legislation of this character as to preclude the necessity for my going into detail at this time.

Very respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,

Governor.

Section 1. That it is proposed to amend Section 5, Article 16 of the Constitution of the State of Utah, so that said section shall read as follows:

"The right of action to recover damages for injuries resulting in death, shall never be abrogated, and the amount recoverable shall not be subject to any statutory limitation, except in cases where compensation for injuries resulting in death is provided for by law."

Section 2. The Secretary of State is hereby directed to submit this proposed amendment to the electors of the State at the next general election in the manner provided by law.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

October 4th, 1919.

To the Senate:

I am transmitting herewith a protest filed with me by representatives of the Labor organizations this morning against the repeal of Section 3653, Chapter 2, Compiled laws of Utah, 1917, generally known as the "Picketing Law."

Very respectfully,
SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed.

PETITION

Hon. Simon Bamberger,
Governor of Utah:

Dear Sir:

We have noticed through the public press that certain clubs and commercial bodies of this State, more especially of Salt Lake City, are urging you to recommend to the Legislature, now in Special Session, the repeal of Section 3653, Chapter 2, Compiled Laws of Utah, relating to the betterment of the conditions of labor. We hereby petition and protest against such action, (We feel that there is enough unrest at the present time in the State, without this unnecessary action in spending the money of the people of this state, and further antagonizing labor of this state. The employers use the same weapon, only in a different manner, by coercion in the way of cutting off material and supplies to an employer who wants to be fair and treat with his employees or their chosen representatives.) and in that behalf respectfully show, that the section referred to recognizes the right of laboring men and women, singly or in concert, to discontinue work in any employmet and to recommend and advise others by peaceful means so to do.

It also recognizes the right of such persons to attend at any place where they may lawfully be, for the purpose of obtaining or communicating information, and peacefully persuade any person to work or abstain from working or cease to patronize any party to such dispute and to recommend, advise or persuade others by peaceful and lawful means so to do, this law in no way countenances violence, threats, intimidations, rioting or like disorderly conduct.

It merely recognizes rights which are recognized in the absence of such a statute by the weight of judicial authority in the United States as a constitutional right which cannot be taken away.

We respectfully pray in the interest of law and orderly processes that you do not attempt to have this statute repealed.

Respectfully yours,

(Seal) By F. S. DUNN, Secy.,
Boilermakers No. 182, and 800 others.

Copy to the Speaker of the House.

Petition referred to Committee of the Whole.
