Dear Mr. Brockbank:

We have received your letter of December 10th notifying the Prison Relocation Commission of your decision to withdraw your property from consideration as a possible site for a new state correctional facility.

Thank you for your willingness to voluntarily offer your property for sale and for your time and effort in providing us information and for allowing us to visit this site earlier this year. You have been cooperative and responsive at every step of our review process.

As we have stated numerous times, our site selection process has always relied on willing sellers to come forward and offer their property for consideration. As such, you are certainly free to make decisions that you believe to be in your best interest.

We also remain committed to find a site that is in the best interests of the citizens of Utah and will continue our work to that end. We have established an objective process to assess and evaluate the other highly ranked properties in our inventory that we believe will yet yield a suitable site for a new prison.

Thank you again for voluntarily offering your property for consideration.

Sincerely,

Senator Jerry Stevenson
