A. Study Items

Study items assigned by the Legislative Management Committee:

- Consumer credit laws - to study recent and impending federal regulatory impacts on consumers and financial institutions, and examine implications on state regulations.
- New motor vehicle sales - to study issues related to the automobile dealer franchising process.
- Building code revisions and building code revision timeline - to study the impending changes to the various codes that will occur this year, and also examine the statutorily established timeframe that the codes are updated.
- Bail bonds - to study issues related to bail bonds, including a court's use of bail bonds for a purpose other than ensuring the accused person appears in court at the appointed place, date, and time.
- Licensing court case - to review the U.S. Supreme Court case regarding a conflict of interest for those licensing board members who also practice in the profession.
- Study of 2015 General Session S.B. 127, Transport of Railroad Employees (as requested by Sen. Mayne).
