

Charges brought for violations under this bill would be in addition to other offense charges. Any penalties associated with the new charges would most likely be in addition to the penalties associated with the original charge and would not occur for several years.

Office of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst