Public Education Capital Outlay Amendments

24-Jan-00

10:00 AM

This bill redistributes funding allocations among school districts, while not changing the total funding level. Some districts would lose funds, while others would see increases.

Individual and Business Impact

Individuals and businesses contracting for this work from those school districts which would lose funds would be negatively impacted by their diminished spending, conversely, those districts which would receive increased funding would be able to expand their capital expenditures.
