Local Government

UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

Enactment of this bill requires municipal and county animal shelters to dismantle and remove any parts or infrastructure of a chamber that was used to euthanize an animal. Depending on the type of chamber that an animal shelter has, the dismantle costs may range from approximately $10,000 to $25,000 per animal shelter. Currently, there are seven animal shelters that would be affected, the total impact for all animal shelters could range from approximately $70,000 to $175,000 one-time.

Individuals & Businesses

UCA 36-12-13(2)(d)

Enactment of this legislation likely will not result in direct, measurable expenditures by Utah residents or businesses.

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
