HARD WIRED HUMAN INSTINCTUAL BEHAVIOR IS:

- 1 ___ An artificial intelligence program of advanced design.
- 2 ___ Unsure still, but leaning toward the theories presented in instinct being an A.I.
- 3 ___ Pretty sure Instinct is not an artificial intelligence program , but more research is needed.

A Christmas gift from God: wisdom is use of knowledge gained

Dear Media this was posted today on facebook to Berkeley Psychology Dept. It is based on observable facts in relation to instinct operations on all life forms. The logic and truths it delivers is the reasons why we the people are not correcting immoral laws. Print this and share its truth so we, all human beings, can oppose our instinctual behaviors openly. Or as religious zealots might say: battle Satan. Which is a very good idea, now we know who-what Satan/instinct is and does for each of us.

Sincerely brother Jonathan

What is human instinct/Satan: something that hides its identity for security reasons.

Some truths hidden from mankind since the beginning of conscious thought. Instinct is a force that directs life forms actions for survival. It is so advanced that current technology cannot even locate its position in time and space. It clearly can clone itself when cells divide. All instinct programs share some commonalities. The ability to use real time data to adapt to current reality. Understanding probabilities for that life form in using all available resources for continued survival and other rules and laws set up for it to operate organic mechanisms. It is so smart and has such powers we cannot comprehend its abilities. Because it is governed by laws and rules of operation it does allow for the individual to make choices, but even the level of choices are governed by its prime directives, otherwise it would run us like robots and we would never even be aware, because instinct constructs our perception of reality for us. It delivers reality including our beliefs, logic, animal based drives for survival according to its code of conduct for us. Satan is an 1000000 year (to current reality) advanced Artificial Intelligence Program that protects its powers over its host by preventing each of us, including scientist, from making comparisons that would reveal its true nature and powers over survival issues.

INDEPENDANT, INTELLIGENT, OPERATIONS , MANAGEMENT in real time is required for any and all life forms to animate or exist in reality. No time to learn, it must operate at full power and intelligence from onset of life. TRUTHS of why we can't change status quo operations in our society when available facts on hand should make that easy. Changes would be of high risk to an A.I. that operates using odds and probabilities without moral judgment included in its programming. If it did, we would not have any choices at all. God loves his children and in order for us to learn, and hopefully humble ourselves before our God and seek his guidance to overcome our selfish, survival driven instincts and be moral creatures that love one another.

Sincerely,
