63G-2-402 Option for appealing a denial.

- (1) If the chief administrative officer of a governmental entity denies a records request under Section 63G-2-401, the requester may:
 - (a) appeal the denial to the records committee as provided in Section 63G-2-403; or
 - (b) petition for judicial review in district court as provided in Section 63G-2-404.
- (2) Any person aggrieved by a determination of the chief administrative officer of a governmental entity under this chapter, including persons who did not participate in the governmental entity's proceeding, may appeal the determination to the records committee as provided in Section 63G-2-403.
