"Security interest" includes any interest of a consignor and a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, a payment intangible, or a promissory note in a transaction that is subject to Chapter 9a, Uniform Commercial Code - Secured Transactions. "Security interest" does not include the special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under Section 70A-2-401, but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Chapter 9a, Uniform Commercial Code - Secured Transactions. Except as otherwise provided in Section 70A-2-505, the right of a seller or lessor of goods under Chapter 2, Uniform Commercial Code - Sales, or Chapter 2a, Uniform Commercial Code - Leases, to retain or acquire possession of the goods is not a "security interest," but a seller or lessor may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Chapter 9a, Uniform Commercial Code - Secured Transactions. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer under Section 70A-2-401 is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest." Whether a transaction in the form of a lease creates a "security interest" is determined pursuant to Section 70A-1a-203.

70A-1a-202 Notice -- Knowledge.

- (1) Subject to Subsection (6), a person has "notice" of a fact if the person:
- (a) has actual knowledge of it;
 - (b) has received a notice or notification of it; or
 - (c) from all the facts and circumstances known to the person at the time in question, has reason to know that it exists.
- (2) "Knowledge" means actual knowledge. "Knows" has a corresponding meaning.
- (3) "Discover," "learn," or words of similar import refer to knowledge rather than to reason to know.
- (4) A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another person by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other person in ordinary course, whether or not the other person actually comes to know of it.
- (5) Subject to Subsection (6), a person "receives" a notice or notification when:
- (a) it comes to that person's attention; or
 - (b) it is duly delivered in a form reasonable under the circumstances at the place of business through which the contract was made or at another location held out by that person as the place for receipt of such communications.
- (6) Notice, knowledge, or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction and, in any event, from the time it would have been brought to the individual's attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless the communication is part of the individual's regular duties or the individual has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

70A-1a-203 Lease distinguished from security interest.

- (1) Whether a transaction in the form of a lease creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case.
- (2) A transaction in the form of a lease creates a security interest if the consideration that the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease and is not subject to termination by the lessee, and:
- (a) the original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods;
 - (b) the lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods;

- (c) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or for nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement; or
 - (d) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or for nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.
- (3) A transaction in the form of a lease does not create a security interest merely because:
- (a) the present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into;
 - (b) the lessee assumes risk of loss of the goods;
 - (c) the lessee agrees to pay, with respect to the goods, taxes, insurance, filing, recording, or registration fees, or service or maintenance costs;
 - (d) the lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods;
 - (e) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed; or
 - (f) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.
- (4) Additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised. Additional consideration is not nominal if:
- (a) when the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee, the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed; or
 - (b) when the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee, the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed.
- (5) The "remaining economic life of the goods" and "reasonably predictable" fair market rent, fair market value, or cost of performing under the lease agreement must be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into.

- (2) as security for, or in total or partial satisfaction of, a preexisting claim;
- (3) by accepting delivery under a preexisting contract for purchase; or
- (4) in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

70A-1a-205 Reasonable time -- Seasonableness.

- (1) Whether a time for taking an action required by this title is reasonable depends on the nature, purpose, and circumstances of the action.
- (2) An action is taken seasonably if it is taken at or within the time agreed or, if no time is agreed, at or within a reasonable time.

70A-1a-206 Presumptions.

Whenever this title creates a "presumption" with respect to a fact, or provides that a fact is "presumed," the trier of fact must find the existence of the fact unless and until evidence is introduced that supports a finding of its nonexistence.
