

78B-1-129 Witnesses -- Subpoena defined.

The process by which the attendance of a witness is required is a subpoena. It is a writ or order directed to a person and requiring the person's attendance at a particular time and place to testify as a witness. The person may also be required to bring any books, documents, or other things under the person's control which is required to be produced in evidence.

Renumbered and Amended by Chapter 3, 2008 General Session