(f) (i) "Public utility" does not include any person that is otherwise considered a public utility under this Subsection (16) solely because of that person's ownership of an interest in an electric plant, cogeneration facility, or small power production facility in this state if all of the following conditions are met:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 58-13-3 is amended to read:58-13-3. Qualified immunity -- Health professionals -- Charity care.

(1) (a) (i) The Legislature finds many residents of this state do not receive medical care and preventive health care because they lack health insurance or because of financial difficulties or cost.

Highlighted Provisions:

This bill:

- ▶ provides that a district court shall consider, when determining child custody in a separation or divorce, whether the parent has intentionally exposed the child to pornography or material harmful to a child; and

AMENDS:

30-3-10, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2013, Chapter 22
78A-6-508, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2009, Chapter 161

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 30-3-10 is amended to read:

30-3-10. Custody of children in case of separation or divorce -- Custody consideration.

(1) If a husband and wife having minor children are separated, or their marriage is declared void or dissolved, the court shall make an order for the future care and custody of the minor children as it considers appropriate.

(a) In determining any form of custody, including a change in custody, the court shall consider the best interests of the child without preference for either the mother or father solely because of the biological sex of the parent and, among other factors the court finds relevant, the following:

(i) the past conduct and demonstrated moral standards of each of the parties;

(ii) which parent is most likely to act in the best interest of the child, including allowing the child frequent and continuing contact with the noncustodial parent;

(iii) the extent of bonding between the parent and child, meaning the depth, quality, and nature of the relationship between a parent and child; ~~and~~

(iv) whether the parent has intentionally exposed the child to pornography or material harmful to a minor, as defined in Section 76-10-1201; and

~~[(4)(v)]~~ (v) those factors outlined in Section 30-3-10.2.

(b) There shall be a rebuttable presumption that joint legal custody, as defined in Section 30-3-10.1, is in the best interest of the child, except in cases where there is:

(i) domestic violence in the home or in the presence of the child;

(ii) special physical or mental needs of a parent or child, making joint legal custody unreasonable;

(iii) physical distance between the residences of the parents, making joint decision making impractical in certain circumstances; or

(iv) any other factor the court considers relevant including those listed in this section and Section 30-3-10.2.

(c) The person who desires joint legal custody shall file a proposed parenting plan in accordance with Sections 30-3-10.8 and 30-3-10.9. A presumption for joint legal custody may be rebutted by a showing by a preponderance of the evidence that it is not in the best interest of the child.

(d) The children may not be required by either party to testify unless the trier of fact determines that extenuating circumstances exist that would necessitate the testimony of the children be heard and there is no other reasonable method to present their testimony.

(e) The court may inquire of the children and take into consideration the children's desires regarding future custody or parent-time schedules, but the expressed desires are not controlling and the court may determine the children's custody or parent-time otherwise. The desires of a child 14 years of age or older shall be given added weight, but is not the single controlling factor.

(f) If interviews with the children are conducted by the court pursuant to Subsection (1)(e), they shall be conducted by the judge in camera. The prior consent of the parties may be obtained but is not necessary if the court finds that an interview with the children is the only method to ascertain the child's desires regarding custody.

(2) In awarding custody, the court shall consider, among other factors the court finds relevant, which parent is most likely to act in the best interests of the child, including allowing the child frequent and continuing contact with the noncustodial parent as the court finds appropriate.

(3) If the court finds that one parent does not desire custody of the child, the court shall take that evidence into consideration in determining whether to award custody to the other parent.

(4) (a) Except as provided in Subsection (4)(b), a court may not discriminate against a parent due to a disability, as defined in Section 57-21-2, in awarding custody or determining whether a substantial change has occurred for the purpose of modifying an award of custody.

(b) If a court takes a parent's disability into account in awarding custody or determining whether a substantial change has occurred for the purpose of modifying an award of custody, the parent with a disability may rebut any evidence, presumption, or inference arising from the disability by showing that:

(i) the disability does not significantly or substantially inhibit the parent's ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the child at issue; or

(ii) the parent with a disability has sufficient human, monetary, or other resources available to supplement the parent's ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the child at issue.

(c) Nothing in this section may be construed to apply to adoption proceedings under Title 78B, Chapter 6, Part 1, Utah Adoption Act.

(5) This section establishes neither a preference nor a presumption for or against joint physical custody or sole physical custody, but allows the court and the family the widest discretion to choose a parenting plan that is in the best interest of the child.

Section 2. Section 78A-6-508 is amended to read:

78A-6-508. Evidence of grounds for termination.

(1) In determining whether a parent or parents have abandoned a child, it is prima facie evidence of abandonment that the parent or parents:

(a) although having legal custody of the child, have surrendered physical custody of the child, and for a period of six months following the surrender have not manifested to the child or to the person having the physical custody of the child a firm intention to resume physical custody or to make arrangements for the care of the child;

(b) have failed to communicate with the child by mail, telephone, or otherwise for six months;

(c) failed to have shown the normal interest of a natural parent, without just cause; or

(d) have abandoned an infant, as described in Subsection 78A-6-316(1).

(2) In determining whether a parent or parents are unfit or have neglected a child the court shall consider, but is not limited to, the following circumstances, conduct, or conditions:

(a) emotional illness, mental illness, or mental deficiency of the parent that renders the parent unable to care for the immediate and continuing physical or emotional needs of the child for extended periods of time;

(b) conduct toward a child of a physically, emotionally, or sexually cruel or abusive nature;

(c) habitual or excessive use of intoxicating liquors, controlled substances, or dangerous drugs that render the parent unable to care for the child;

(d) repeated or continuous failure to provide the child with adequate food, clothing, shelter, education, or other care necessary for the child's physical, mental, and emotional health and development by a parent or parents who are capable of providing that care;

(e) whether the parent is incarcerated as a result of conviction of a felony, and the sentence is of such length that the child will be deprived of a normal home for more than one year; [ØÆ]

(f) a history of violent behavior[-]; or

(g) whether the parent has intentionally exposed the child to pornography or material harmful to a minor, as defined in Section 76-10-1201.

(3) A parent who, legitimately practicing the parent's religious beliefs, does not provide specified medical treatment for a child is not, for that reason alone, a negligent or unfit parent.

(4) (a) Notwithstanding Subsection (2), a parent may not be considered neglectful or unfit because of a health care decision made for a child by the child's parent unless the state or other party to the proceeding shows, by clear and convincing evidence, that the health care decision is not reasonable and informed.

(b) Nothing in Subsection (4)(a) may prohibit a parent from exercising the right to obtain a second health care opinion.

(5) If a child has been placed in the custody of the division and the parent or parents fail to comply substantially with the terms and conditions of a plan within six months after the date on which the child was placed or the plan was commenced, whichever occurs later, that failure to comply is evidence of failure of parental adjustment.

(6) The following circumstances constitute prima facie evidence of unfitness:

(a) sexual abuse, sexual exploitation, injury, or death of a sibling of the child, or of any child, due to known or substantiated abuse or neglect by the parent or parents;

(b) conviction of a crime, if the facts surrounding the crime are of such a nature as to indicate the unfitness of the parent to provide adequate care to the extent necessary for the child's physical, mental, or emotional health and development;

(c) a single incident of life-threatening or gravely disabling injury to or disfigurement of the child;

(d) the parent has committed, aided, abetted, attempted, conspired, or solicited to commit murder or manslaughter of a child or child abuse homicide; or

(e) the parent intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly causes the death of another parent of the child, without legal justification.

(b) If a qualified community development entity withdraws its request pursuant to Subsection (6)(a), the office shall return any refundable performance deposit required by Subsection 63M-1-3406(1).

(c) A partial certification does not decrease the amount of the refundable performance deposit required under Subsection 63M-1-3406(1).

(7) An approved applicant may transfer all or a portion of its certified qualified equity investment authority to its controlling entity or a subsidiary qualified community development entity of the controlling entity, provided that the applicant and the transferee notify the office of the transfer with the notice set forth in Subsection (8) and include with the notice the information required in the application with respect to the transferee.

This Subsection (9) does not limit the holder of the debt instrument's ability to accelerate payments on the debt instrument in situations when the qualified community development entity has defaulted on covenants designed to ensure compliance with this part or Section 45D, Internal Revenue Code.

(10) (a) A qualified community development entity that issues qualified equity investments

(c) On each credit allowance date of the qualified equity investment, the entity that made the qualified equity investment, or the subsequent holder of the qualified equity investment, may claim a portion of the tax credit during the calendar year that includes the credit allowance date.

(d) The office shall calculate the tax credit amount and the tax credit amount shall be equal to the applicable percentage for the credit allowance date multiplied by the purchase price paid to the qualified community development entity for the qualified equity investment.

(e) A tax credit allowed to a partnership, limited liability company, or S-corporation shall be allocated to the partners, members, or shareholders of the partnership, limited liability company, or S-corporation for the partners', members', or shareholders' direct use in accordance with the provisions of any agreement among the partners, members, or shareholders.

(f) An entity may not sell a tax credit allowed under this section on the open market.

The Honorable Rebecca Lockhart
Speaker of the House and

The Honorable Wayne Niederhauser
President of the Senate

Dear Speaker Lockhart and President Niederhauser,

As required by Article VII, Section 8 of the Utah Constitution, I am writing to provide you with my objections to House Bill 102, ASSESSMENT AREA AMENDMENTS, and to explain my decision to veto the bill.

After reviewing HB 102, I understand the original purpose was to reform and revise potential problems that exist in the creation of Special Assessment Areas. However, because of the complexity of these revisions and the time constraints of the session, a decision was made to amend HB 102 to place a one-year moratorium on the creation of new Special Assessment Areas.

Unbeknownst to the bill sponsor, several rural counties have been working for years on projects to expand critical natural gas infrastructure to communities and businesses that do not have access to the benefits of this energy resource. Over the past few months, these counties have received the regulatory changes necessary to make these projects happen. Currently, there are six projects planned for later this year that will favorably impact hundreds of families and millions of dollars in business investment for these economically challenged areas. Unfortunately, the only vehicle available for these changes will be the creation of new Special Assessment Area.

I have spoken with the bill sponsor, Representative Webb, and the floor sponsor, Senator Adams, and both understand the importance of these projects and never intended for their delay. Please note that a veto of this bill is not a commentary on the underlying effort to improve the Special Assessment Areas creation process. Indeed, I support the efforts of the bill sponsor to continue this process during the interim. Furthermore, I urge the League of Cities and Towns, the Utah Association of Counties and other interested parties to work diligently with the bill sponsor to solve these issues.

For these reasons, I veto House Bill 102, ASSESSMENT AREA AMENDMENTS and return it to the House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

Speaker of the House

Dear President Niederhauser and Speaker Lockhart,

As required by Article VII, Section 8 of the Utah Constitution, I am writing to provide you with my objections to Senate Bill 257, PARENT REVIEW OF INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS AND CIRRICULUM, and to explain my decision to veto the bill.

While I greatly appreciate the sponsors' call for increased parent participation in decisions related to curriculum and instructional materials, the participation and dialog should happen with teachers and elected school board members, community councils, and charter officials – at a local level.

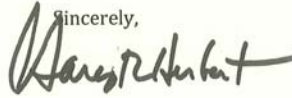

Senate Bill 257 calls for a review of curriculum complaints by an appointed state level panel of parents. Decisions about curriculum and instructional materials are made at the local level: local teachers, schools, school districts, and charter schools make decisions about materials, textbooks, and methods they will use in the classroom. Locally elected school board members and charter board members have the responsibility to work with their teachers and administrators to monitor the instructional materials used in their schools and to respond to parent concerns. Most already have formal processes in place to do this.

In discussions about this bill, the stakeholders, including members of the parent panel given the responsibility by the bill acknowledged the need for school districts and charter schools to have policies in place that outline a clear process to address parent concerns about curriculum issues. I intend to work with the State Board of Education and sponsors of this bill to assure these policies are in place and implemented on a local level and in a way that will be truly meaningful.

For these reasons, I disapprove of and veto Senate Bill 257, PARENT REVIEW OF INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS AND CURRICULUM, and return it to the House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

The Honorable Wayne Niederhauser

Dear Speaker Lockhart and President Niederhauser,

As required by Article VII, Section 8 of the Utah Constitution, I am writing to provide you with my objections to House Bill 414, LEGISLATIVE SUBPOENA AMENDMENTS, and to explain my decision to veto the bill.

In vetoing HB 414, I do not question the Legislature's authority to seek information through subpoenas and to conduct investigations. The State is best served when policy makers have complete information in order to make informed decisions. Further, I recognize this bill was passed in response to the investigation of former Attorney General John Swallow, and was a result of the frustration the Legislature experienced in conducting that investigation. While I am sympathetic to that frustration, history has repeatedly shown us that government response to scandals can often be excessive and overreaching. Regardless of the motives for passing HB 414, I cannot sign a bill that demands information of anyone, at any time, on any subject, for any purpose, and denies our citizens their fundamental constitutional rights of defense and due process.

HB 414 ignores the checks and balances that are the basis for our system of government by exempting legislative subpoenas from judicial oversight. The bill violates the open courts provision of the Utah Constitution by denying citizens the ability to seek redress in the courts. In fact, the bill specifically states that "A person may not file with a court, and a court does not have jurisdiction to hear or decide, a disputative motion or any other motion or action challenging the scope, breadth, or validity of a legislative subpoena." The bill subjects, not only public officials, but also private citizens to unlimited and unrestrained subpoena power. And most egregiously, the bill criminalizes any attempt by an individual to seek relief from anyone other than the legislative body itself, punishable by up to one year in jail.

The problems with HB 414 might have been resolved with sufficient vetting and public debate, but instead, this bill was voted on late in the session, too quickly, and without public hearing or input. The final version of HB 414 did not have a committee hearing in either the House or Senate, and the only debate on the final version of the bill was related to a motion to concur. While the flaws in the bill were acknowledged and discussed in that final vote, the message was, we know it is flawed but we can fix it later. That sentiment may work with technical corrections to governmental programs, but should never be applied to a bill that denies citizens their civil rights.

I am confident that when concepts in this bill are looked at more carefully and are given more scrutiny by the public and members of the Legislature, the original purpose of this bill can be accomplished without jeopardizing the rights of our citizens.

For these reasons, I disapprove of and veto House Bill 414, LEGISLATIVE SUBPOENA AMENDMENTS, and return it to the House of Representatives.

Sincerely,

Dear Speaker Lockhart and President Niederhauser,

As required by Article VII, Section 8 of the Utah Constitution, I am writing to provide you with my statement of the item of appropriation of which I disapprove in House Bill 3, APPROPRIATIONS ADJUSTMENTS.

I disapprove of lines 802 through 807 of HB 3. This will correct the unintentional double funding of Senate Bill 104, Improvement of Reading Instruction, which appropriates $100,000 from the Education Fund to the University of Utah to carry out the provisions of the bill. This bill, HB 3, includes a duplicate appropriation from the Education Fund to the University of Utah for the same purpose. This veto removes the duplicate appropriation.

For these reasons, I veto lines 802 through 807 of House Bill 3, APPROPRIATIONS ADJUSTMENTS.

Sincerely,

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor designates July 3, 2014, as “Call Your Military Hero Day.”

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ designates July 3, 2014, as “Call Your Military Hero Day” in the state of Utah and urges Utah’s citizens and military personnel to strengthen bonds of friendship with military veterans and active duty service members.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the United States Department of Veterans Affairs reports that, based on both its own data and data reported by 21 states from 1999 through 2011, 22 military veterans take their own lives every day;

WHEREAS, the United States Department of Veterans Affairs added that 70% of these suicides are committed by military veterans 50 years of age or older;

WHEREAS, if more complete and accurate data were available on suicide victims, the number of suicides among military veterans would be even higher;

WHEREAS, nearly one in five suicides nationally is a military veteran, even though veterans make up about 10% of the population;

WHEREAS, combat stress is just one reason why some military veterans commit suicide;

WHEREAS, these reasons include the struggle some military veterans have after being a victim of violent assault, including rape;

WHEREAS, other reasons include economic pressure and rising unemployment, as many military veterans struggle to obtain employment at the conclusion of their service;

WHEREAS, according to a survey of 4,000 veterans conducted in 2012, about one out of every three responded that they had considered suicide;

WHEREAS, suicide is also a significant challenge among active duty military personnel;

WHEREAS, Leon Panetta, former United States Defense Secretary, has called the suicide rate among active duty military personnel “an epidemic”;

WHEREAS, the United States Army has reported that it has not been able to provide the same type of suicide awareness and prevention programs to Army Reserve and National Guard personnel living as civilians back in their communities as it provides to active duty personnel;

WHEREAS, one key to ending this epidemic is to have more people taking a personal interest in the lives of individual military veterans and active duty military personnel, people who genuinely care and will make the time and effort to connect and stay connected with those who have served or continue to serve our nation;

WHEREAS, military personnel and Utah citizens who reach out to military veterans and active duty military personnel and establish and strengthen bonds of friendship are an inestimable force for good that can save lives;

WHEREAS, veterans and active duty military personnel deserve to know that they are not alone when facing their struggles, that we feel a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation for the sacrifices of all veterans and active duty military personnel in all branches of military service, and that we recognize our debt to them; and

WHEREAS, after all that our military veterans and active duty military personnel have done and endured for us, in standing in harm's way in our place, it is incumbent upon us to reach out to them and lift their spirits, help them cope with their unique struggles, listen to them, and demonstrate to them that our appreciation for their service and sacrifice has become a part of who we are as individuals and as citizens:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, designates July 3, 2014, as "Call Your Military Hero Day" in the state of Utah.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor urge citizens and military personnel to reach out to military veterans and active duty military personnel to establish and strengthen bonds of friendship so that they will know that they are not alone when facing their struggles, that we are filled with gratitude and appreciation for the sacrifices of all veterans in all branches of military service, and that we recognize our debt to them for putting themselves in harm's way in our place.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the United States Department of Veterans Affairs, the Utah Department of Veterans' and Military Affairs, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

 Senate Sponsor: Brian E. Shiozawa

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor designates Friday, April 18, 2014, as "Identify Your Pet Day" in the state of Utah.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ designates Friday, April 18, 2014, as "Identify Your Pet Day" in the state of Utah; and
- ▶ urges Utahns to ensure that their pets have identification that can assist in reuniting lost pets with their owners, reducing animal shelter costs, and reducing the euthanizing of unclaimed pets.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, many household pets become lost and are picked up by county animal services;

WHEREAS, these lost pets are then taken either to municipal or county animal shelters or the Humane Society or other animal rescue organizations;

WHEREAS, many of these animals do not wear an identification collar or have an implanted identification chip;

WHEREAS, pets that wear identification, or have had implanted an identification chip, can be much more easily reunited with their owners;

WHEREAS, according to Salt Lake County Animal Services, it costs approximately $33 per day for an animal shelter to house and care for a pet;

WHEREAS, eventually, animal shelters have no choice but to euthanize the pets in their care that are not claimed by their owners;

WHEREAS, as more pets have identification, fewer taxpayer dollars are needed to house lost pets;

WHEREAS, pet identification provides a great service to pets, their owners, and Utah's communities; and

WHEREAS, Friday, April 20-26, 2014, is National Pet ID Week:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, designates Friday, April 18, 2014, as "Identify Your Pet Day" in the state of Utah, in recognition of National Pet ID Week, April 20-26, and urges Utah's pet owners to provide identification for their pets, either through an implanted identification chip or on a pet's collar.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor recognize that, as Utah's pet owners get identification for their pets, pet owners will more likely be reunited with their lost pets and fewer taxpayer dollars will be spent housing lost animals.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Utah League of Cities and

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the state of Utah has excellent resources that can be used to further advance the research, development, and use of technology to benefit and support Utahns and Americans with the safe use of Unmanned Aircraft Systems (UAS);

WHEREAS, SITLA, consistent with its legal mandate, has managed its diverse land portfolio by balancing short- and long-term benefits;

WHEREAS, in addition to its mandate to optimize and maximize trust land uses for financial support of its beneficiaries over time, SITLA has been involved in numerous transactions and projects that have preserved, protected, and improved more than 500,000 acres of land, an area equivalent to the combined acreage of Arches, Zion, Bryce Canyon, and Capitol Reef national parks;

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor declares that if a state opts out of a federal program, the state should not have to contribute state dollars to the federal program.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ declares that if a state opts out of a federal program, it should not have to contribute state dollars to the federal program.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the 16th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States was passed by the United States Congress in 1909 and ratified by the states in 1913;

WHEREAS, the 16th Amendment made the income tax a permanent fixture in the United States tax system;

WHEREAS, the 16th Amendment gave Congress legal authority to tax income and resulted in a revenue law that taxed incomes of both individuals and corporations;

WHEREAS, the income tax provided the means for policymakers to finance a range of new federal aid programs;

WHEREAS, as the years passed, the portion of tax money collected by the federal government and returned to the states was accompanied by an increasing number of stipulations regarding how states must spend the money;

WHEREAS, many of these aid programs required states to match federal funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis;

WHEREAS, unfortunately, matching requirements have induced excessive state spending and continuous program expansion;

WHEREAS, in 1925, President Calvin Coolidge stated that aid to the states should be cut because it was "encumbering the national government beyond its wisdom to comprehend, or its ability to administer";

WHEREAS, federal aid has also prompted the growth in state bureaucracies, partly because aid programs have often required that states set up new agencies to oversee spending in the prescribed activities;

WHEREAS, when a state has to cut its budget, and it attempts to do it by cutting federally funded programs, it can only save cents on the dollar;

WHEREAS, because a federal program cut looks more expensive than an equivalent cut in a state-funded program, states often prefer to cut competing state-funded programs or raise taxes;

WHEREAS, federal funding programs tend to expand state budgets, and, over time, those programs grow faster than wholly state-owned functions and account for an ever-larger portion of state budgets;

WHEREAS, initial state resistance to the expansion of federal aid usually bowed to the reality that, even if a state opted out of new aid programs, its residents still had to pay federal taxes to support federal aid spending in other states;

WHEREAS, the number of grants-in-aid programs rose from 15 in 1930 to 132 by 1960;

WHEREAS, during the 1960s, federal aid programs quadrupled from 132 in 1960 to 530 by 1970;

WHEREAS, efforts to trim federal aid in the 1980s were later reversed, and there have been no major efforts to reform or cut the federal aid system since the mid-1990s;

WHEREAS, in recent years, the many failings of the federal aid system have become more acute as hundreds of programs have been added;

WHEREAS, the Affordable Care Act, passed in 2010, added a range of new aid programs and also involved a huge expansion in Medicaid, the largest federal aid program;

WHEREAS, in fiscal year 1993, Medicaid took up almost 12% of Utah's General Fund;

WHEREAS, in 2003, Medicaid took up 15% of Utah's General Fund, and this year, Medicaid will consume 23% of the General Fund;

WHEREAS, this percentage is projected to be more than 30% in the next 10 years;

WHEREAS, according to Congressional Budget Office estimates, when comparing federal spending in Utah to federal revenue received from Utah as a result of the Affordable Care Act, Utah citizens will lose approximately $97 million per year to the federal government to support the new health care reform law;

WHEREAS, today, the number of federal aid programs for the states is more than triple the number just 25 years ago;

WHEREAS, the grants-in-aid system is not guided by an overall strategy, but has been built over the decades as responses to pressures to fix state and local problems with federal rules and subsidies;

WHEREAS, federal aid stimulates overspending by state governments and creates a web of top-down rules that destroy state innovation;

WHEREAS, at all levels of the federal aid system, the focus is on maximizing the money spent and regulatory compliance, not on delivering quality services;

WHEREAS, every dollar of federal aid sent to the states is ultimately taken from federal taxpayers who live in the 50 states;

WHEREAS, federal grants, which is one form of federal aid, reduce state diversity and innovation because the grants come with one-size-fits-all mandates;

WHEREAS, federal taxpayers pay the direct costs of the grants, but taxpayers at all levels of government are burdened by the costly bureaucracy needed to support the system;

WHEREAS, each of the more than 1,100 current aid programs has different rules and the activities funded by the programs often overlap, causing more confusion;

WHEREAS, the Federal Highway Program's flawed allocation formulas have caused about half of the states, called donors and located mostly in the South and Great Lakes regions, to pay proportionately more into the federal Highway Trust Fund than they get back;

WHEREAS, the lure of federal matching funds has led many states to rely too heavily on this source of funding to address their problems;

WHEREAS, a fiscal analysis of the costs of accepting a federal grant over the life of the grant would assist states in weighing the costs and benefits of participating in federal grant programs;

WHEREAS, states can opt out of federal grants-in-aid but must still pay the taxes that pay for those grants;

WHEREAS, if a state opts out of a federal program, the citizens of that state should not be required to contribute taxpayer dollars to support the federal program; and

WHEREAS, states should be empowered to address the unique challenges inherent in meeting the needs of their citizens:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, declares that if a state opts out of a federal program, it should be able to withhold and redirect federal income tax funds equivalent to the amount that would have been used to fund federal operations for the federal program in the state.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION
 REGARDING MOVING THE STATE PRISON

Chief Sponsor: Brad R. Wilson
 Senate Sponsor: Jerry W. Stevenson

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor addresses the relocation of the Utah State Prison.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ concludes that it is in the best interests of the state to move the state prison from its current location in Draper;
- ▶ resolves that the prison should be relocated from its current location;
- ▶ identifies factors that should be given careful, serious, and deliberate consideration in the process of relocating the prison; and
- ▶ directs that a copy of the resolution be given to various persons.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the question of whether to move the Utah State Prison from its current location in Draper has received much attention and study, including the work of the Prison Relocation and Development Authority (PRADA) over the past two years and an in-depth study commissioned by PRADA;

WHEREAS, the decisions of where and how to relocate prison facilities must be given careful, serious, and deliberate consideration, taking into account many important factors, including:

a. whether to locate new prison facilities on land already owned by the state or on land that is currently in public or private ownership but that the state may acquire or lease;

b. the efforts of the Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice to evaluate criminal justice policies to increase public safety, reduce recidivism, and reduce prison population growth should be supported;

c. new prison facilities should be conducive to future inmate programming that encourages a reduction in recidivism;

d. the location of new prison facilities should help facilitate an adequate level of volunteer and staff support that will allow for a correctional program that is commensurate with the high standards that should be maintained in the state;

e. new prison facilities should be located within a reasonable distance of comprehensive medical facilities;

f. new prison facilities should be located to be compatible with surrounding land uses for the foreseeable future;

g. new prison facilities should be supported by one or more appropriations from the Legislature;

h. the preparation of performance specifications for new prison facilities, to facilitate a high quality correctional program, and for the use of the current prison site should be designed to maximize the overall value to taxpayers;

i. construction should be phased in over a period of time;

j. every reasonable effort should be made to maximize efficiencies and cost savings that result from building and operating newer, more efficient prison facilities;

k. access to courts, visiting and public access, expansion capabilities, emergency response factors, and the availability of infrastructure should be given careful and serious consideration;

l. the existing relationship between the state and counties regarding the housing of state prisoners in county facilities should be respected, and serious consideration should be given to the role county jails and sheriffs can play in the future in terms of housing prisoners and possibly moderating the need for the state to build and maintain additional prison facilities; and

m. the land on which the current prison is located in Draper should be used, disposed of, or redeveloped through an orderly, competitive, and open process, with the goal of maximizing the economic development potential of the property and achieving the greatest benefit to the state's taxpayers;

WHEREAS, the citizens of the state will be best served by a relocation of the current prison facilities, as these and other relevant factors guide the decisions of where and how to move the current prison facilities; and

WHEREAS, considering all relevant factors, including the substantial expense that will be required in coming years to maintain, replace, expand, and upgrade existing prison facilities at the Draper location, the cost savings to be realized over time from new, more efficient facilities, the opportunity to tailor new facilities to any improved correctional programs, and the substantial economic and other benefits from changing the use of the current prison property, it is sound public policy and in the best interests of the state to move the prison facilities from their current location in Draper:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, that the Utah State Prison facilities currently located in Draper should be relocated from that site to one or more other suitable locations in the state.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the relocation of prison facilities should be guided by the principles stated in paragraphs a through m of this resolution.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Utah Department of Corrections, the Prison Relocation and Development Authority, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON SCHOOL AND INSTITUTIONAL TRUST LANDS EXCHANGE ACT

Chief Sponsor: Michael E. Noel

Senate Sponsor: Evan J. Vickers

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor urges the United States Congress to enact legislation affirming the federal land grant process and eliminating barriers to federal-state land exchanges.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ urges the United States Congress to enact legislation that:
 - affirms and clarifies that Congress and federal land management agencies recognize their historic role of establishing land grants to the states for the support of educational and other public institutions;
 - establishes that the United States has a continuing affirmative obligation to assist the states in fulfilling the purposes of the various grants;
 - establishes that rationalizing the land ownership pattern to reposition lands more suited to the management mandates of each owner is an important public purpose equivalent in character to all of the other management mandates required of federal land management and federal resource regulatory agencies;
 - establishes that land exchanges between the United States and the respective states are transactions between coequal sovereign governments and require standards of prioritization, evaluation, and processing that may differ from those involving private parties; and
 - eliminates unnecessary obstacles to federal-state land exchanges contained in the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 by:
 - creating the presumption in federal environmental and land use planning that state-federal land exchanges are in the public interest;
 - requiring federal land management agencies to give priority to land exchanges that remove state land grant properties from areas of federal land or resource management provisions that restrict the state's ability to generate revenue; and

- setting a goal for federal land management agencies and managers of state land exchange proposals to work from the feasibility study through the transaction-closing phases of state-federal land exchanges in two years or less.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Utah Enabling Act of 1894, the Congress of the United States granted four sections in every township in the state of Utah for the benefit of public schools and school children;

WHEREAS, Congress intended that these lands provide the state with revenue to assist in funding the state's education system;

WHEREAS, federal courts have interpreted the grant of lands by Congress, and the acceptance of the lands in the Utah Constitution as the creation of a "trust" between the United States as "settlor" and the state of Utah as "trustee";

WHEREAS, the scattered nature of the congressional land grants established an ownership pattern that results in trust land being included within the areas of federal management for noneconomic purposes;

WHEREAS, this ownership pattern has led to numerous situations where trust land management mandates and federal land management mandates cannot coexist without conflict; and

WHEREAS, processing land exchange proposals through the administrative process has become time-consuming, expensive, ineffectual, and burdensome for both state and federal land management agencies:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, urges the United States Congress to enact legislation that:

1. affirms and clarifies that Congress and federal land management agencies recognize their historic role in establishing land grants to the states for the support of educational and other public institutions;

2. establishes that the United States, through Congress and federal land management agencies, as settlor of the land grant trusts, has a continuing affirmative obligation to assist the states in fulfilling the purposes of the various grants;

3. establishes that rationalizing the land ownership pattern to reposition lands more suited to the management mandates of each owner is, in and of itself, an important public purpose equivalent in character to all of the other management mandates required of federal land management and federal resource regulatory agencies pursuant to the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976;

4. establishes that land exchanges between the United States and the respective states are transactions between coequal sovereign governments and require standards of prioritization, evaluation, and processing that may differ from those involving private parties;

5. eliminates unnecessary obstacles to federal-state land exchanges contained in the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 by:

a. creating the presumption in federal environmental and land use planning that state-federal land exchanges are in the public interest;

b. requiring federal land management agencies to give priority to land exchanges that remove state land grant properties from areas of federal land or resource management provisions that restrict the state's ability to generate revenue; and

c. setting a goal for federal land management agencies and managers of state land exchange proposals to work from the feasibility study through the transaction-closing phases of state-federal land exchanges in two years or less.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the United States Secretary of the Interior, the Principal Deputy Director of the Bureau of Land Management, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON TRANSFER OF PUBLIC LANDS ACT

Chief Sponsor: Michael E. Noel
Senate Sponsor: David P. Hinkins

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor calls upon the federal government to honor the promises that it honored with all states east of Colorado and transfer title of public lands to all willing western states.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ calls upon the federal government to honor the promises that it honored with all states east of Colorado and transfer title of public lands to all willing western states;
- ▶ calls upon national and state government leaders to exert their utmost power and influence to urge the imminent transfer of public lands to all willing western states for the benefit of these western states and for the nation as a whole;
- ▶ strongly urges the members of Utah's congressional delegation to immediately sponsor legislation in the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate that transfers ownership and title of the public lands within the state of Utah and any other western state that wishes to be included in the legislation; and
- ▶ urges the members of Utah's congressional delegation to use the proposed introduction of legislation to transfer title and ownership of public lands as an opportunity to educate their colleagues regarding the importance of the legislation and to begin the process of obtaining cosponsors for the bill and support from the numerous individuals that will be positively affected by the transfer of these public lands to state ownership and control.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the federal government promised all newly created states, in their statehood enabling contracts, that it would transfer title of the public lands it held within the borders of those states;

WHEREAS, this promise is the same for all states east and west of Colorado;

WHEREAS, the federal government has honored this promise with Hawaii and all states east of Colorado and today controls, on average, less than 5% of the lands in those states;

WHEREAS, the federal government has failed to honor this same promise with Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, California, and Alaska and today still controls more than 50% of all lands in these states, including more than 80% of the state of Nevada;

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court declared the statehood enabling act contracts to be "solemn compacts" with enforceable rights and obligations on both sides;

WHEREAS, in 1976, the United States Congress ended its nearly 200-year public policy of beneficially transferring ownership of public lands by passing the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (FLPMA);

WHEREAS, public lands previously held in trust for the individual states were managed for their resource value prior to the passage of FLPMA;

WHEREAS, since the passage of FLPMA, the public lands of western states are instead being perpetually managed for their conservation value;

WHEREAS, as long as these lands are managed only for their conservation value, local, state, and national economies will be adversely impacted by the loss of use of the natural resources connected to these lands;

WHEREAS, Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILT), Secure Rural Schools (SRS), and other public offsets are financially inadequate to compensate for that loss, have been unreliably funded, and do not adequately compensate the states for the breach of their enabling acts;

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court, in Hawaii et al. v. Office of Hawaiian Affairs (07-1372), concluded that Congress cannot, by subsequent, unilateral action, alter or diminish the rights conferred upon a state in consequence of its admission to the Union;

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court further declared in the same case that Congress does not have the authority to unilaterally change these statehood promises, known as enabling acts, particularly "where virtually all of a State's public lands . . . are at stake";

WHEREAS, under the guise of sequestration and to cut federal expenses, the federal government is cutting western states' revenues in the form of PILT, SRS, and Federal Mineral Lease (FML) cutbacks;

WHEREAS, states east of Colorado pay billions of dollars each year to subsidize western states to not use their lands and resources to educate their own children and care for their own communities;

WHEREAS, western states already manage millions of acres of state lands and generate more revenue with less expense and less environmental damage, in general, than federally managed public lands;

WHEREAS, the National Association of Forest Service Retirees recently issued a paper describing the unsustainability of current federal forest management practices;

WHEREAS, the resulting increase in catastrophic wildfires is needlessly killing millions of animals and destroying habitat and watersheds;

WHEREAS, western states are incurring inordinate expenses to suppress forest fires related to failed federal forest policies;

WHEREAS, the federal government discourages capital investment and job creation by taking 10 times longer to approve energy development permits than states to whom the federal government honored the promise to transfer title of the public lands;

WHEREAS, in 2013, the Institute for Energy Research discovered that there is more than $150 trillion in mineral value locked up in federally controlled lands;

WHEREAS, opening 8% of the coastal plain of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge in Alaska would provide billions of dollars to the federal treasury, create more than 500,000 jobs nationwide, and add 9-16 billion barrels of oil to the nation's supply;

WHEREAS, in 2012, the United States Government Accountability Office testified before Congress that there is more recoverable oil in Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming than in the rest of the world combined;

WHEREAS, legal analyses by the Sutherland Institute and the Federalist Society conclude that the intent of the parties, the text, and the context of the statehood enabling acts obligate the federal government to dispose of public lands;

WHEREAS, for decades, states such as Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Arkansas, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida were as much as 90% federally controlled;

WHEREAS, these states persistently protested to the United States Congress that they could not fund their children's education, grow their economies, or govern themselves as sovereign states due to the federal government's control over their lands;

WHEREAS, under the leadership of United States Senator Thomas Hart Benton from Missouri, these states worked together to compel Congress to transfer title to their public lands;

WHEREAS, Senator Benton wrote that he went to "battle for an ameliorated system of disposing of our public lands . . . I resolved to move against the whole system . . . I did so in a bill, renewed annually for a long time";

WHEREAS, of even more powerful effect than sponsoring a bill every year "for a long time," Senator Benton recorded that, for years, he taught throughout the United States that it was the "solemn compact" of the national government -- from the very founding of this nation -- to transfer title to the public lands within the states;

WHEREAS, Senator Benton taught people true principles of statehood and rallied them to compel the members of their congressional delegations to "fix their eyes steadily upon the period of the speedy extinction of the federal title to all the lands within the limits of their respective States";

WHEREAS, the 1828 Congressional Committee on the Public Lands indicated "in vain may the People of these States expect the advantages of well settled neighborhoods, so essential to the education of youth . . . Those states will, for many generations, without some change, be retarded in endeavors to increase their comfort and wealth, by means of works of internal improvements, because they have not the power, incident to all sovereign States, of taxing the soil, to pay for the benefits conferred upon its owner";

WHEREAS, the Congressional Committee on the Public Lands during Senator Benton's service in Congress found, with respect to their admission as states, that "when these States stipulated not to tax the lands of the United States until they were sold, they rested upon the implied engagement of Congress to cause them to be sold, within a reasonable time. No just equivalent has been given those States for a surrender of an attribute of sovereignty so important to their welfare, and to an equal standing with the original States";

WHEREAS, inspired by the courage and leadership of Senator Benton, those states succeeded in compelling Congress to transfer title of their public lands;

WHEREAS, today, those states have less than 5% of their lands under federal control;

WHEREAS, the national government made the same statehood promise to transfer title of the public lands to Utah and the other western states;

WHEREAS, in 2012, Utah passed H.B. 148, Transfer of Public Lands Act and Related Study, which called upon the federal government to honor the same statehood promise made to Utah that it made and kept with all states east of Colorado to transfer title of Utah's public lands;

WHEREAS, in 2013, the South Carolina Legislature passed a resolution supporting the transfer of public lands to willing western states;

WHEREAS, other states east of Colorado are considering similar resolutions of support in 2014; and

WHEREAS, national organizations, including the National Association of Counties, the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the Republican National Committee have passed resolutions supporting the transfer of public lands to willing western states:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, calls upon the federal government to honor the promises that it honored with all states east of Colorado and transfer title of public lands to all willing western states.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor call upon national and state government leaders to exert their utmost power and influence to urge the imminent transfer of public lands to all willing western states for the benefit of these western states and for the nation as a whole.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor strongly urge the members of Utah's congressional delegation to use every exertion of their power, by reason, argument, and persuasion, to induce the United States to honor the same statehood promise to transfer title of Utah's public lands that it made and kept with all states east of Colorado.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor strongly urge the members of Utah's congressional delegation, acting for the "separate and independent sovereign" state of Utah, to follow the path of United States Senator Thomas Hart Benton and file, and do all in their power to secure the passage of, legislation to secure the transfer of all of the public lands enumerated in H.B. 148, Transfer of Public Lands Act and Related Study, 2012 General Session.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor strongly urge the members of Utah's congressional delegation to immediately sponsor legislation in the House of Representatives and the United States Senate that transfers ownership and title of the public lands within the state of Utah and within any other western state that wishes to be included in the legislation.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor urge the members of Utah's congressional delegation to use the proposed introduction of legislation to transfer title and ownership of public lands as an opportunity to educate their colleagues regarding the importance of the legislation and to begin the process of obtaining cosponsors for the bill and support from the numerous individuals that will be positively affected by the transfer of these public lands to state ownership and control.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the leader of each state legislative body in each of the 50 states, the United States Secretary of the Interior, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

JOINT RESOLUTION ON THE SOVEREIGN CHARACTER OF PILT — PAYMENT IN LIEU OF TAXES

Chief Sponsor: Ken Ivory

Senate Sponsor: David P. Hinkins

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This joint resolution of the Legislature strongly urges the United States Congress to fully and permanently fund Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) and transfer to the state of Utah the federally controlled public lands within the state.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ urges and directs the United States Congress to use every exertion in its power, by reason, argument, and persuasion, to induce the United States to fully fund, on a perpetual and mandatory basis, Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILT), which the state and its subdivisions would otherwise collect if the federal government honored the same statehood enabling act terms that it honored with all states east of Colorado; and
- ▶ demands, if Congress cannot or will not fully fund PILT at the full assessed value of similarly situated lands within Utah’s counties on a mandatory, permanent, and perpetual basis, that Congress transfer title to the public lands, as was done previously for similarly impacted states east of Colorado, directly to the state of Utah so that Utah and its subdivisions can generate tax and other revenues from these lands to fund education, police, fire, sanitation, social welfare, and other essential public services.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

WHEREAS, the United States Congress elected to not fund the Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) Act in its most recent $1.1 trillion Omnibus Spending Bill of 2014;

WHEREAS, Congress instead included funding for its PILT obligations for only one year in the Farm Bill of 2014;

WHEREAS, PILT was imposed by Congress in 1976 to compensate states for the loss of tax and other revenues that states would generate if Congress had honored its nearly 200-year-old obligation to transfer title to the public lands;

WHEREAS, Congress originally promised that PILT would be mandatory and perpetual because it was intentionally imposed as a substitute for what the congressional Committee on the Public Lands referred to in 1828 as “a power incident to all sovereign states of taxing the soil to confer benefits”;

WHEREAS, in 1976, Congress enacted the Federal Land Policy Management Act of 1976, or FLPMA, which unilaterally changed the obligation of the federal government to transfer title to the public lands in favor of a policy to “forever retain public lands in federal ownership”;

WHEREAS, as a palliative to the affected states for usurping this “power incident to all sovereign states of taxing the soil” through FLPMA, Congress also imposed the new PILT program;

WHEREAS, as a result of the federal government’s failure or refusal to transfer title to the public lands, some counties in Utah have as little as 5% taxable lands to fund education, police, fire, sanitation, social welfare, and other essential public services;

WHEREAS, an analysis by the Legislature’s Office of Legislative Fiscal Analyst reveals that the amounts previously funded by Congress as PILT to Utah counties amounts only to approximately 13 cents on the dollar of the average taxable value for similarly situated lands;

WHEREAS, PILT more accurately represents “Pennies in Lieu of Trillions,” in light of the fact that the Institute for Energy Research estimated in 2013 that there is more than $150 trillion in mineral value locked up in federally controlled lands;

WHEREAS, the United States Government Accountability Office estimated in 2012 that there is more recoverable oil in the federally controlled lands in Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming than the rest of the world combined;

WHEREAS, as a result of having such a minimal amount of lands subject to taxation or other revenues because of federal retention of these lands, Utah counties are dependent upon the promise of PILT for as much as 40% of their total county budgets to fund education, police, fire, sanitation, social services, and other essential public services;

WHEREAS, a one-year appropriation for PILT in the Farm Bill of 2014 disregards entirely the uniquely sovereign character of PILT--putting PILT on par with other line items of federal expense like funding the study of excess alcohol on prostitutes in China--rather than honoring PILT as a mandatory and perpetual substitute for the “power incident to all sovereign states of taxing the soil”;

WHEREAS, a mere one-year PILT appropriation denies state and local governments of budgetary certainty to meet fundamental public obligations like funding education, police, fire, sanitation, social welfare, and other essential public services;

WHEREAS, the federal government has not passed a budget for more than five years, has accumulated a national debt exceeding $17 trillion, overspends at the rate of nearly $1 trillion a year, has unfunded obligations for Medicare, Medicaid, Social Security, and others in excess of $87 trillion, and is creating money at the rate of tens of billions of dollars per month;

WHEREAS, the United States Government Accountability Office regularly declares that the financial statement of the United States is “unsustainable”;

WHEREAS, history reflects that Congress previously delayed for decades disposing of as much as 90% of the lands in states such as Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida, depriving these states of the ability to tax or generate revenues from their lands;

WHEREAS, lacking the ability to tax or generate revenues from their lands, the 1828 congressional Committee on the Public Lands indicated “in vain may the People of these States expect the advantages of well settled neighborhoods, so essential to the education of youth . . . Those states will, for many generations, without some change, be retarded in endeavors to increase their comfort and wealth, by means of works of internal improvements, because they have not the power, incident to all sovereign States, of taxing the soil, to pay for the benefits conferred upon its owner”;

WHEREAS, upon raising their collective demand to Congress, the congressional Committee on the Public Lands found with respect to their admission as states that “when these States stipulated not to tax the lands of the United States until they were sold, they rested upon the implied engagement of Congress to cause them to be sold, within a reasonable time. No just equivalent has been given those States for a surrender of an attribute of sovereignty so important to their welfare, and to an equal standing with the original States”;

WHEREAS, ultimately, the collective and persistent demands of these states resulted in the transfer of their public lands by Congress;

WHEREAS, Congress’s obligation to transfer title to the public lands to the states is included in the Enabling Act for Utah’s admission as a state — an agreement the United States Supreme Court refers to as a “bi-lateral” and “solemn compact”;

WHEREAS, the terms of Utah’s Enabling Act, with respect to the transfer of public lands, are in all material respects similar to the enabling acts of most of the newly created states east of Colorado and west of the original 13 states; and

WHEREAS, legal analysis by the Federalist Society concludes that the Enabling Act is “a compact and promise made between two sovereigns where the federal government committed itself to disposal and promised that it would exercise its disposal obligations in a manner (and with an understanding that respects the expectation by the State that the federal government would dispose of such lands) so that both a percentage of the proceeds from the sales would be shared with the State and the State thereafter would have the capacity to tax such lands when disposed . . .”;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that until the federal government honors the promise made at statehood to transfer title to the public lands, the Legislature of the state of Utah urges and directs, in the most strenuous terms within the power of a sovereign and independent state, that the senators and representatives of the United States Congress use every exertion in their power, by reason, argument, and persuasion, to induce the United States to fully fund, on a perpetual and mandatory basis, Payments in Lieu of Taxes (PILT), which the state and its subdivisions would otherwise collect if the federal government honored the same statehood enabling act terms that it honored with all states east of Colorado.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if Congress cannot or will not fully fund PILT at the full assessed value of similarly situated lands within Utah’s counties on a mandatory, permanent, and perpetual basis, the Legislature of the state of Utah demands that Congress transfer title to the public lands, as was done previously for similarly impacted states east of Colorado, directly to the state of Utah so that Utah and its subdivisions can generate tax and other revenues from these lands to fund education, police, fire, sanitation, social welfare, and other essential public services.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the United States Department of the Interior, and the members of Utah’s congressional delegation.

 OF THE INCLUSION OF UNDER GOD IN THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Chief Sponsor: Aaron Osmond

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor recognizes the 60th anniversary of the introduction of the legislation that added the words "Under God" to the United States Pledge of Allegiance.

This resolution:

- ▶ recognizes February 10, 2014, as the 60th anniversary of the introduction of the legislation that added the words "Under God" to the United States Pledge of Allegiance.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, on February 10, 1954, Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan introduced a bill in the United States Congress to amend the Pledge of Allegiance by adding the words "Under God" to the pledge;

WHEREAS, February 10, 1954, was chosen as the date to introduce the bill because it was the five-year anniversary of the imprisonment of Cardinal Joseph Mindszenty of Hungary;

WHEREAS, Cardinal Mindszenty was imprisoned and tortured because he refused to stop delivering sermons about the dangers of Communism, particularly the threat it posed to religious freedom;

WHEREAS, speeches delivered in the United States Congress by members of both political parties honored Cardinal Mindszenty and emphasized the threat posed to America by Communism;

WHEREAS, Senator Ferguson commented, "I believe this modification of the pledge is important because it highlights one of the real fundamental differences between the free world and the Communist world, namely, belief in God," and added, "Our nation is founded on a fundamental belief in God, and the first and most important reason for the existence of our Government is to protect the God-given rights of our citizens. Spiritual values are every bit as important to the defense and safety of our nation as are military and economic values";

WHEREAS, on February 7, 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower became convinced that the words "Under God" should be added to the United States Pledge of Allegiance after hearing Reverend George Docherty point out that the phrase "nation under God" was first used by President Abraham Lincoln in the Gettysburg Address;

WHEREAS, Reverend Docherty further reasoned, "Lincoln claims that it is 'UNDER GOD' that this nation shall know a new birth of freedom. And by implication, it is under God that 'government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth'";

WHEREAS, on June 8, 1954, the legislation adding "Under God" to the United States Pledge of Allegiance passed by unanimous vote;

WHEREAS, President Eisenhower stated, "This law and its effects today have profound meaning. In this way we are reaffirming the transcendence of religious faith in America's heritage and future; in this way we shall constantly strengthen those spiritual weapons which forever will be our country's most powerful resource, in peace or in war";

WHEREAS, the first time the United States Pledge of Allegiance was recited in its current form was on Flag Day, June 14, 1954; and

WHEREAS, recognizing the 60th anniversary of the introduction of this legislation strengthens the ties of history that bind us to the nation's religious heritage:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, recognizes February 10, 2014, as the 60th anniversary of the introduction of the legislation that added the words "Under God" to the United States Pledge of Allegiance.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION SUPPORTING THE MASTER PLAN

Chief Sponsor: Margaret Dayton
House Sponsor: Michael S. Kennedy

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor expresses support for the master plan to serve Utahns with disabilities.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ expresses support for the Utah State Development Center’s master plan to provide services for people with mental disabilities.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, in 1929, the Legislature of the state of Utah established the Utah State Training Center to assist with the care, protection, treatment, and education of people with mental disabilities;

WHEREAS, the Utah State Training Center, later known as the Utah State Development Center (USDC), was established during an era when relatively little was known about the causes of mental disabilities;

WHEREAS, like other states, Utah built a public institution in a remote location and within a broad perimeter of land that provided a physical barrier between the institution and the nearest rural homes and communities;

WHEREAS, residents were supervised in large groups, with staff ratios as high as one staff member to 60 residents;

WHEREAS, since its establishment in 1929, the USDC has evolved and improved with each major change in thinking regarding what public services should be provided for persons with mental disabilities and how to provide those services;

WHEREAS, since state governments first acknowledged a public interest in and accepted some fiscal responsibility for citizens with disabilities, states have made sweeping changes in the philosophy and practice of providing public services;

WHEREAS, these paradigm shifts have resulted from a growing knowledge about disabilities, including their causes, prevention, interventions, and accommodations;

WHEREAS, also contributing to the paradigm shifts was an improving regard for persons who experience disabilities, as evidenced by public laws that affirm and promote their rights, an expansion of publicly funded services, and greater inclusion by their communities;

WHEREAS, in April 1999, Utah’s Lieutenant Governor, Olene Walker, issued a set of guiding principles entitled “Principles to Guide the Delivery of Publicly Funded Services for People with Disabilities in Utah”;

WHEREAS, these principles were developed by a group of individuals representing the Governor’s office, the state Legislature, state agencies, service providers, and parent advocates;

WHEREAS, the principles were distributed in the community and public comment was received at a meeting conducted by the Lieutenant Governor on April 13, 1999;

WHEREAS, the Department of Human Services and the Department of Health subsequently adopted these principles to guide how they provide services;

WHEREAS, like providers of community-based services, USDC is currently working to support and promote more person-centered services, a greater choice of services and supports, and increased opportunities for inclusion of people with mental disabilities in the community;

WHEREAS, today, Utah’s citizens are served from across the entire state of Utah under the direction of the Utah Department of Human Services and the Division of Services for People with Disabilities;

WHEREAS, the USDC provides 24-hour residential care, is Utah’s only state-operated intermediate care facility for people with intellectual disabilities, and takes great pride in serving these most vulnerable of Utah’s citizens;

WHEREAS, as other providers in the state of Utah struggle to provide care for individuals with complex emotional, medical, and behavioral issues, USDC is in the unique position of providing most of the essential services needed in a single location;

WHEREAS, central to its present and future success in providing services for people with mental disabilities is USDC’s development of a master plan to guide its service;

WHEREAS, master plan development was facilitated and led by the competent, respected, and trusted companies of Design Workshop, Stantec civil engineers, and Fehr & Peers transportation planners, which have developed several successful master plans nationwide;

WHEREAS, the master plan was developed in conjunction with an overall strategic vision for the future use of the USDC;

WHEREAS, the strategic planning group included a wide range of stakeholders and was vetted by conducting over 30 public meetings and planning sessions;

WHEREAS, input for the planning process was received from people living at the USDC and their families; from neighborhoods, counties, and cities surrounding the USDC; community advocacy groups representing people with disabilities; and community service providers who regularly work with the USDC;

WHEREAS, the USDC master plan creates a long-term vision for undeveloped property that is in accordance with the original purpose of the Legislature in creating this resource for Utahns with disabilities;

WHEREAS, the master plan provides a long-term revenue source for people with disabilities living in Utah, while preserving the original purpose of the land and maximizing development potential;

WHEREAS, the master plan was created with a sustainable methodology, including a balance between environmental sensitivity, community connections, artistic beauty, and economic viability;

WHEREAS, USDC's mission is "dedication to providing an array of resources and supports for people with disabilities with complex or acute needs in Utah";

WHEREAS, the USDC vision is to "provide an effective, efficient array of critical services and supports that promote independence and quality of life for Utah's most vulnerable people with disabilities in partnership with families, guardians and the community"; and

WHEREAS, by following the master plan, USDC is in a position to better assist people with disabilities to achieve their highest potential in an atmosphere that preserves personal dignity:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, expresses support for the Utah State Development Center's master plan.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Utah State Development Center, the Utah Department of Human Services, and the Utah Department of Health.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION CALLING ON CONGRESS TO PROVIDE PERMANENT MULTIYEAR FUNDING FOR THE PAYMENT IN LIEU OF TAXES PROGRAM

Chief Sponsor: Ralph Okerlund

House Sponsor: Michael E. Noel

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor calls on the United States Congress to provide permanent multiyear funding for the federal Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) program in future years.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ recognizes the unprecedented failure of Congress to fund the federal Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) program in its Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014;
- ▶ recognizes the serious financial hardship Utah counties face if they do not receive timely annual PILT payments;

- ▶ recognizes the vital need of Utah counties to have PILT funding certainty while engaging in their annual county budget processes; and
- ▶ calls on Congress to establish reliable year-to-year funding authorization for PILT so counties may have certainty in their annual budget processes.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the federal Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) program was established in 1976 to offset costs incurred by counties for services provided to the federal government and to the users of public land;

WHEREAS, according to State Tax Commission data and a report prepared by the Utah Automated Geographic Reference Center (AGRC), the percentages of federal land in each county that the county cannot tax consisting of land managed by the Bureau of Land Management (BLM), the United States Forest Service, the National Park Service, and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service are as follows:

Beaver 77.2% - County still provides services on this land

Box Elder 28.79% - County still provides services on this land

Cache 38.13% - County still provides services on this land

Carbon 47.51% - County still provides services on this land

Daggett 80.50% - County still provides services on this land

Emery 79.66% - County still provides services on this land

Garfield 94.25% - County still provides services on this land

Grand 74.67% - County still provides services on this land

Iron 57.73% - County still provides services on this land

Juab 72.30% - County still provides services on this land

Kane 86.18% - County still provides services on this land

Millard 77.20% - County still provides services on this land

Morgan 4.42% - County still provides services on this land

Piute 73.95% - County still provides services on this land

Rich 32.21% - County still provides services on this land

Salt Lake 19.32% - County still provides services on this land

San Juan 66.48% - County still provides services on this land

Sanpete 51.40% - County still provides services on this land

Sevier 77.15% - County still provides services on this land

Summit 43.78% - County still provides services on this land

Tooele 44.32% - County still provides services on this land

Uintah 58.94% - County still provides services on this land

Utah 43.07% - County still provides services on this land

Wasatch 56.13% - County still provides services on this land

Washington 83.21% - County still provides services on this land

Wayne 98.26% - County still provides services on this land

Weber 14.23% - County still provides services on this land;

WHEREAS, according to the average of estimates from the National Association of Counties, in 2013, PILT funding was about $0.66 per acre of federal land to which PILT applies;

WHEREAS, $0.66 per acre is far below the amount those lands would return through value-based taxation if those lands and their facilities were subject to county taxation;

WHEREAS, annual PILT payments to Utah counties, which exceeded $35.3 million in 2013, have become an important component of county budgets and help Utah counties provide necessary basic services on federal lands, ranging from search and rescue to law enforcement activities;

WHEREAS, removal of this annual $35.3 million funding stream for 2014 will prove detrimental to many counties in Utah that have conducted their budgeting under the assumption that they would receive at least that same amount for 2014;

WHEREAS, in April 2013, the United States Department of the Interior made an annual budget request to Congress for approximately $410 million nationwide for PILT;

WHEREAS, a deficit neutral placeholder for the Department of the Interior's PILT request was set to be included in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014;

WHEREAS, actual PILT funding, however, was not included in the final version of the bill that Congress passed January 16, 2014, and the President signed on January 17, 2014;

WHEREAS, it is unprecedented that Congress has failed to include PILT funding in its major consolidated appropriations legislation;

WHEREAS, Congress did appropriate $740.9 million in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014, for wildland fire management activities, more than tripling BLM's initial fire management budget request of $201.3 million;

WHEREAS, this funding amount represented approximately 77% of the $956.9 million that Congress appropriated for BLM's fiscal year 2014 basic operating budget;

WHEREAS, it appears that the Department of the Interior's initial 2014 funding request of $410 million for PILT and other funds was absorbed, without explanation, into the department's final appropriation for wildland fire management, increasing that account by $539 million, from the $201.3 million requested, to $740.9 million;

WHEREAS, the Department of the Interior's wildland fire management budget would not be so large if the department would manage its lands responsibly for multiple use and sustained yield, as the state of Utah and counties in Utah have continually urged, and as the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 directs;

WHEREAS, counties in Utah are required to provide law enforcement, search and rescue, emergency medical services, road building and maintenance, and other community services on, or associated with, tax-exempt federal public lands;

WHEREAS, failure to provide a revenue source for PILT places a large, unsustainable burden squarely on the backs of county taxpayers and critically impacts the budget process and solvency of some public land counties;

WHEREAS, the United States House of Representatives on January 30, 2014, and the United States Senate on February 4, 2014, passed H.R. 2642, the Federal Agriculture Reform and Risk Management Act of 2013, known as the Farm Bill or the Agricultural Act of 2014;

WHEREAS, the Farm Bill provides for a one-year extension of PILT funding for federal fiscal year 2014;

WHEREAS, had the Farm Bill not included a one-year PILT funding provision, there would not have been significant fiscal year 2014 authorizing bills with bipartisan support remaining in Congress to carry the 2014 PILT to full funding;

WHEREAS, Congress, including members of Utah's delegation, should prudently and practically give serious consideration to preventing future recurrences of the PILT funding crisis that the counties of Utah had to face this year, with all of the uncertainty that accompanied this crisis;

WHEREAS, the counties of Utah need and deserve long-term stability in PILT funding in a timely manner year to year, so that counties may establish their own annual operating budgets with timeliness and certainty;

WHEREAS, PILT is the program by which the federal government pays a portion of the value of vital municipal services that counties provide to the federal government in its role as a major land owner in the state;

WHEREAS, PILT funding should not be perennially tied to a farm bill but should have priority stand-alone treatment as a major appropriation, a cost properly borne by the federal government as an untaxed major landowner in the West for county municipal services provided; and

WHEREAS, Congress should legislate and authorize full PILT funding in multiyear blocks to give counties in Utah stability and predictability when setting their upcoming calendar year operating budgets:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

1. recognizes the unprecedented failure of Congress to fund Payment in Lieu of Taxes payments (PILT) in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014, and the uncertainty that prevailed for counties until 2014 PILT was finally provided in the 2014 Farm Bill;

2. recognizes the serious financial hardship many counties in Utah would have faced if they had not received fiscal year 2014 PILT payments by June of 2014;

3. recognizes the vital need of Utah counties to have timely PILT funding certainty while engaged in their annual county budget processes;

4. calls on Congress and members of Utah’s congressional delegation to give serious consideration to preventing future recurrences of the PILT funding crisis that the counties of Utah had to face this year, with all of the uncertainty that accompanied this crisis;

5. calls on Congress to provide long-term stability in PILT funding in a timely manner year to year so that counties may establish their own annual operating budgets with timeliness and certainty;

6. calls on Congress to not perennially tie PILT funding to a farm bill but give PILT priority stand-alone treatment as a major appropriation, a cost properly borne by the federal government as an untaxed major landowner in the West for county municipal services provided; and

7. calls on Congress to establish reliable multiyear funding authorization for PILT so that counties may have certainty in their annual budget processes.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of Utah’s congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION CONCERNING PROPOSED GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSION STANDARDS

Chief Sponsor: David P. Hinkins

House Sponsor: Michael E. Noel

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution of the Legislature and the Governor calls upon the United States Environmental Protection Agency to issue greenhouse gas New Source Performance Standards for fossil-fueled electric generating units and provide separate standards for coal-fueled steam electric and natural gas combined-cycle generating units.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ calls upon the United States Environmental Protection Agency to issue greenhouse gas New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) for fossil-fueled electric generating units; and
- ▶ calls upon the United States Environmental Protection Agency to provide separate standards for coal-fueled steam electric and natural gas combined-cycle generating units that can be achieved with commercially demonstrated technologies and that will permit the economic utilization of all types of domestic coals.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has proposed regulations for New Source Performance Standards (NSPS) for carbon dioxide (CO2) emissions from new coal-fueled and natural gas-fueled electric generating units;

WHEREAS, the proposed NSPS would impose a single emission rate standard of 1,000 pounds of CO2 per megawatt-hour on both coal and natural gas combined-cycle power plants, requiring new coal units to employ carbon capture and storage (CCS) technology;

WHEREAS, President Obama's Interagency Task Force on Carbon Capture and Storage has determined that CCS technologies are not ready for widespread implementation primarily because they have not been demonstrated at the scale necessary to establish confidence for power plant application;

WHEREAS, the EPA has found that the application of CCS technology to new coal-fueled power plants would increase the cost of electricity produced by such plants by 80%, effectively precluding the construction of new, highly efficient coal generating units;

WHEREAS, previous EPA NSPS for fossil-fueled generating units have established separate emission standards for coal-fueled or steam electric and natural gas combined-cycle units, recognizing the inherent differences in these fuels and electric generation technologies; and

WHEREAS, an “all the above” national energy policy should encourage, not impede, access to all available domestic sources of energy:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, calls upon the United States Environmental Protection Agency to issue greenhouse gas New Source Performance Standards for fossil-fueled electric generating units.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor call upon the United States Environmental Protection Agency to provide separate standards for coal-fueled steam electric and natural gas combined-cycle generating units that can be achieved with commercially demonstrated technologies and that will permit the economic utilization of all types of domestic coals.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the Utah Department of Environmental Quality, and the members of Utah’s congressional delegation.

JOINT RESOLUTION ON MUSEUM
RECOGNIZING ATROCITIES AGAINST AMERICAN INDIANS

Chief Sponsor: Stuart C. Reid
House Sponsor: Jack R. Draxler

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This joint resolution of the Legislature strongly urges the United States Congress to support, establish, or construct a national museum recognizing atrocities against American Indians.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ strongly urges the United States Congress to take action to support, establish, or construct a commemorative museum to recognize atrocities against American Indians;
- ▶ strongly urges each of the states to pass a similar resolution; and
- ▶ strongly urges American Indian tribes to call upon Congress to support, establish, or construct a national museum and to support similar resolutions in the states in which the American Indian tribes reside.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

WHEREAS, the indigenous peoples of this land are the original inhabitants of land that now constitutes the United States;

WHEREAS, conservative estimates numbered the American Indian population in North America at approximately 10 million in 1500;

WHEREAS, by 1900, the American Indian population was reduced to barely 237,000;

WHEREAS, this immense population reduction was caused by disease or intentionally, and was intensified by forced migration, deprivation of nutrition, and neglect after relocation to unfamiliar, barren lands;

WHEREAS, American Indians were the subject of centuries of circumstances that deprived them of land, liberty, livelihood, and life;

WHEREAS, once an expanding nation found attractive the land occupied by American Indians for centuries, the land was often simply taken, and frequently by force;

WHEREAS, American Indians, displaced by the taking of the lands of their fathers and mothers, then had their liberties further violated through forced relocation, including the young being separated from their families to be sent away for schooling and assimilation;

WHEREAS, American Indian tribes that resisted relocation and land takings were subdued by force and were, in some instances, pursued to extinction;

WHEREAS, relocation stripped American Indians of the livelihoods they had made for centuries from their lands’ often plentiful natural resources and forced them to scratch out a new life on lands with little value and few usable natural resources;

WHEREAS, American Indians today, as descendants of those against whom the original atrocities were perpetrated, have great resilience;

WHEREAS, through this resilience, American Indians continue to progress beyond the consequences of past atrocities;

WHEREAS, establishing a national museum recognizing atrocities against American Indians and recognizing American Indians’ valuable contributions to America, its history, and its culture would not only illuminate a vital chapter in American history, but would also implore that such atrocities should never happen again; and

WHEREAS, establishing a national museum recognizing atrocities against American Indians would be an important step toward reconciliation and intergenerational healing from these atrocities:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah strongly urges the United States Congress to take action to support, establish, or construct a national museum recognizing atrocities against American Indians.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah strongly urges each of the states to pass a similar resolution urging the United States Congress to support, establish, or construct a national museum recognizing atrocities against American Indians.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah strongly urges each American Indian tribe to call upon the United States Congress to support, establish, or construct a national museum recognizing atrocities against American Indians and to support the resolutions for this purpose in the states in which the tribes reside.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States; the Secretary of the Interior; the Assistant Secretary of Indian Affairs; the Majority Leader of the United States Senate; the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives; the chair of the United States Senate Committee on Indian Affairs; the House Committee on Natural Resources' Subcommittee on Indian and Alaska Native Affairs; the leader of each legislative house in each of the other states; to each tribe; and to the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

JOINT RESOLUTION ON WATER RIGHTS ON GRAZING LANDS

Chief Sponsor: Kevin T. Van Tassell
House Sponsor: John G. Mathis

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This joint resolution of the Legislature declares sovereign the rights of the state of Utah and Utah livestock producers to put the state's livestock water rights located on public lands to beneficial use.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ declares that Utah has a sovereign right to put the state's livestock water rights located on public lands to beneficial use through development and maintenance;

- ▶ recognizes the right of a livestock owner to access the state's water to put it to beneficial use, including crossing public land, grazing the livestock as necessary while livestock drink, and ultimately developing and maintaining watering facilities on necessary appurtenant public lands to put the state's water to beneficial use; and
- ▶ expresses support for H.R. 3189, the Water Rights Protection Act, to protect state sovereignty and the water rights of livestock producers.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

WHEREAS, Utah is the second most arid state in the nation;

WHEREAS, water is essential to the life, health, safety, and welfare of Utah's citizens;

WHEREAS, Utah has the right to exercise the state's jurisdiction over water resources within the state;

WHEREAS, the state of Utah has long established water rights based on the principle of prior appropriation or "first in time, first in right";

WHEREAS, Utah's water users can and have demonstrated the ability to put the water to beneficial use;

WHEREAS, "beneficial use," as defined by Utah law, includes the watering of livestock on federal lands;

WHEREAS, Congress has spoken clearly and often on state water sovereignty, including:

1. The Act of July 26, 1866, subsequently known as the Mining Act or Ditch Act of 1866, which recognized common-law practices of the time, declaring, "Whenever, by priority or possession, rights to the use of water for mining, agriculture, manufacturing, or other purposes, have vested and accrued, the same are recognized and acknowledged by the local customs, laws and decisions of the courts . . ."

2. The Desert Land Act of 1877, which recognized, "All surplus water over and above such actual appropriation and use . . . shall remain and be held free for appropriation and use of the public for irrigation, mining and manufacturing . . ."

3. The Taylor Grazing Act of 1934, which stated, "nothing in this Act shall be construed or administered in a way to diminish or impair any right to the possession and use of water for mining, agriculture, manufacturing and other purposes . . ."

4. The McCarran Amendment of 1952, which "waives the sovereign immunity of the United States for adjudications for all rights to use water"

5. The 1976 Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA), which states, "All actions by the Secretary concerned under this act shall be subject to valid existing rights";

WHEREAS, to further underscore congressional intent, the United States Senate and the United States House of Representatives are considering action through H.R. 3189, the Water Rights Protection Act, to prohibit the United States Forest Service (USFS) and the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) from “conditioning any permit, lease or other land use agreement on the transfer, relinquishment or other impairment of any water right”;

WHEREAS, this legislation would protect livestock water rights and the sovereign water rights of the states;

WHEREAS, federal land management agencies have created ownership uncertainty for ranchers with water rights on federal lands through over-filing and diligence claims that challenge ownership on privately held livestock water rights;

WHEREAS, federal land management agencies have sought ranchers’ approval of “change of use” applications and agreement to “joint ownership” of livestock water as a condition of access to their federal grazing allotments;

WHEREAS, these federal land management agencies have implemented practices aimed at reducing or eliminating livestock grazing on federal grazing allotments that have resulted in lost livestock water rights and de facto federal water claims;

WHEREAS, in blatant disregard for the long-established state jurisdiction over the state’s water resources, the federal government, principally by and through the USFS, has engaged in a persistent pattern and course of conduct to exert control and influence over water resources within Utah and across the West;

WHEREAS, the apparent intention of the federal government is to expand its water holdings in the western states, including in Utah, in accordance with 16 U.S.C. Sec. 526, which states, “There are authorized to be appropriated for expenditure by the Forest Service such sums as may be necessary for the investigation and establishment of water rights, including the purchase thereof or of lands or interests in lands or rights-of-way for use and protection of water rights necessary or beneficial in connection with the administration and public use of the national forests”;

WHEREAS, federal land management agencies, including USFS and BLM, are negatively impacting the water resources of Utah and other western states by unilaterally reducing the number of livestock grazing permits;

WHEREAS, this reduction in livestock grazing permits is part of a strategy of resource control, including control of the state’s water resources on federal lands;

WHEREAS, federal land management agencies have precluded some of Utah’s water right holders from putting the state’s waters to beneficial use by denying access, reducing livestock rights, and denying holders of water rights from developing or maintaining livestock water rights associated with grazing permits appurtenant to federal lands;

WHEREAS, a USFS Intermountain Region Guidance Document states that the federal government will not invest in livestock water improvements, “nor,” according to 36 C.F.R. 222.9(b)92, “will the agency authorize water improvements to be constructed or reconstructed with private funds where the rights are held solely by the livestock owner”;

WHEREAS, in the spring of 2012, agents of the USFS attempted to coerce Tooele County livestock producers to sign “change” applications or “certificates of joint ownership” on privately held livestock water rights or face the possibility of not being allowed to “turn out” cattle to graze their forage rights associated with their USFS grazing allotment;

WHEREAS, a USFS Intermountain Region Guidance Document declares “until the court issues a decree accepting these claims, it is not known whether these claims will be recognized as water rights”;

WHEREAS, this document reflects an intention to undermine state water sovereignty;

WHEREAS, when USFS allows improvements, including developing, redeveloping, and maintaining a livestock rancher’s water rights, all the improvements are claimed as the property of the United States, even when it is the livestock owner’s investment that enables the water to be put to beneficial use, as prescribed by state law, and the livestock owner covers all costs;

WHEREAS, court records for the United States District Court for the District of Nevada indicate that USFS and BLM have actively sought to reduce or eliminate livestock grazing and watering rights from western public lands, often resulting in protracted litigation;

WHEREAS, the litigation includes the 2012 conviction of two public servants employed by the USFS and BLM for contempt of court and witness intimidation, and the determination that the regional forester in charge of Utah lied to the court regarding the agency’s antigrazing bias intended to reduce or eliminate livestock grazing on public lands;

WHEREAS, Intermountain Region forest service agents testified that the United States controls all access on federal lands;

WHEREAS, this control creates a situation where the only way a rancher could use the water on the rancher’s federal grazing allotment, with its associated livestock water rights, without USFS approval would be “to lower the cattle out of the air”;

WHEREAS, in seeking to expand water rights claimed by the United States, the USFS has filed more than 16,000 diligence claims on Utah water associated with forest grazing allotments, claiming that livestock were grazing on land that not only belonged to the United States but whose water rights were established on behalf of the United States prior to Utah's statehood;

WHEREAS, USFS claimed long-held livestock water rights in Idaho, arguing that the water belonged to the United States based on its ownership and control of the public land;

WHEREAS, the Joyce Livestock Company prevailed against the United States in a unanimous Idaho Supreme Court decision, in which the court held that, under the constitutional method of appropriation, "the United States did not actually apply the water to beneficial use," and therefore had no claim to the livestock water right;

WHEREAS, the United States cannot obtain Utah's sovereign water rights, nor can it obtain long-held livestock water rights established on public lands, through any federal laws;

WHEREAS, the United States Supreme Court determined, in Solid Waste Agency of Northern Cook County v. U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (531 U.S. 159 (2001)), that the administrative authority of federal government agencies is limited, declaring "Where an administrative interpretation of a statute invokes the outer limits of Congress's power, we expect a clear indication that Congress intended the result . . . Congress does not casually authorize administrative agencies to interpret statute to push the limit of Congressional authority. This concern is heightened where the administrative interpretation alters the federal-state framework by permitting federal encroachment upon traditional state power";

WHEREAS, in United States v. Bass, 404 U.S. 336, 349 (1971), the United States Supreme Court stated, "Unless Congress conveys its purpose clearly, it will not be deemed to have significantly changed the federal-state balance";

WHEREAS, the development and maintenance of the states dispersed livestock water rights is important to the health of the ecosystem, to Utah's wildlife populations, and the state's recreation interests;

WHEREAS, water rights are sovereign rights of the state of Utah; and

WHEREAS, the state of Utah has the right and obligation to protect this scarce resource to protect the health, safety, and welfare of its citizens:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah declares its sovereign right to put the state's livestock water rights located on public lands to beneficial use through development and maintenance of the resource.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah recognizes the right of the livestock owner to access the state's water to put it to beneficial use, including crossing public land, grazing the livestock as necessary while livestock drink, and ultimately developing and maintaining watering facilities on the necessary appurtenant public lands to put the state's water to beneficial use.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah expresses support for H.R. 3189, the Water Rights Protection Act, to protect state sovereignty and the water rights of Utah livestock producers.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the United States Forest Service, the United States Bureau of Land Management, the Utah Department of Natural Resources, the Utah Department of Agriculture and Food, each county commission in the state of Utah, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.
