CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ON STATE
 EMPLOYEE BENEFITS AND PROVIDING A REFUND FROM THE STATE HEALTH INSURANCE POOL

Chief Sponsor: Lincoln Fillmore
 House Sponsor: Norman K. Thurston

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution directs the Public Employees' Benefit and Insurance Program to offer certain benefits with respect to employee health benefit packages and to reimburse the excess funds held in the state health insurance pool.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ describes the state's philosophy on compensation and benefit design for state employees;
- ▶ acknowledges the excess money held in reserve in the state health insurance pool; and
- ▶ directs the Public Employees' Benefit and Insurance Program to:

- increase the salaries of employees that choose not to receive benefits under the Public Employees' Benefit and Insurance Program;
- allow employees who receive coverage under the Consumer Plus plan to elect to receive 100% of employer HSA contributions as cash;
- increase the premium share percentage for the STAR HSA plan for the 2020-2021 plan year;
- offer HSA dental plans; and
- reimburse the state and state employees the excess funds held in the state health insurance pool.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the state offers a competitive compensation package for employees that generally provides a higher percentage of benefits compared to salary than other employers on the market;

WHEREAS, while many state employees prefer a higher level of benefits compared to salary, others may prefer more compensation in cash and less in benefits;

WHEREAS, the state has encouraged HSA adoption to foster greater consumerism which could be extended to dental plan options;

WHEREAS, some employees may value state-provided medical and dental benefits less because of access to such coverage through a spouse or other source;

WHEREAS, the Legislature, during the 2019 General Session, permitted state employees on HSA-eligible plans to take up to half of the state's HSA contributions in cash;

WHEREAS, to maintain benefit equity and cost neutrality, state employees who convert the state's HSA contribution to cash are responsible for all related taxes, including employer FICA, and the cash, as a converted benefit, is not included in compensation for other employee benefits;

WHEREAS, the state desires to extend the ability of state employees on the HSA-eligible Consumer Plus plan to convert up to 100% of the state's HSA contribution to cash, provided that the employee is responsible for all related taxes, including employer FICA, and no amount is included as compensation for other employee benefits;

WHEREAS, the state desires to differentiate the STAR HSA plan from the Consumer Plus plan by charging a premium to be offset by an HSA increase for Fiscal Year 2021;

WHEREAS, the state desires to make HSA-based plans available for dental benefits;

WHEREAS, the state is willing to pay more in salary to state employees who opt out of medical or dental benefits because it results in significant cost savings to the state;

WHEREAS, unlike an HSA contribution converted to cash, the increased salary paid to state employees who opt out of coverage is taxed as income, with the state paying employer FICA, and counts toward other employee benefits, because the salary never takes the form of a medical or dental benefit and is paid from significant cost savings, eliminating equity and budgetary issues; and

WHEREAS, the state health insurance pool currently exceeds the recommended reserve level, making it possible for the state and its employees to receive a refund of $25,460,000 from the pool with $23,300,000, or 92%, of the refund going to the state and the remaining $2,160,000, or 8%, going to state employees:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Legislature, the Governor concurring therein, directs:

(1) PEHP to notify State Finance of any state employee who opts out of medical or dental benefits upon proof of other insurance coverage during open enrollment or a special enrollment period;

(2) State Finance to increase the salary of a state employee who opts out of medical coverage as provided in Section (1) to a proportionate share of the following amounts each payroll period:

(a) $2,000 per year for an employee eligible for single coverage; and

(b) $4,000 per year for an employee eligible for double or family coverage;

(3) State Finance to increase the salary of a state employee who opts out of dental benefits as provided in Section (1) to a proportionate share of the following amounts each payroll period:

(a) $400 per year for an employee eligible for family coverage;

(b) $200 per year for an employee eligible for double coverage; and

(c) $100 per year for an employee eligible for single coverage;

(4) State Finance to treat the amounts described in Sections (2) and (3) as income for purposes of employer FICA, retirement contributions, workers' compensation, long-term disability, and any other benefit;

(5) PEHP to assist State Finance in creating a cash-in-lieu of benefits flexible spending account to allow a state employee to opt out of medical or dental benefits as directed above;

(6) PEHP to give a state employee on Consumer Plus the option of electing up to 100% of the allocation sent to PEHP as an HSA contribution to be forwarded to that employee rather than be deposited into the employee's HSA, and to distribute that sum at the same time Health Savings Account contributions are dispersed;

(7) PEHP to require a state employee who requests any part of an HSA contribution in cash to agree to the following as a condition of receiving payment:

(a) that the sum is not compensation, but an employee benefit, and thus may not be counted toward retirement contributions, workers' compensation, long-term disability, or any other benefit; and

(b) that the sum paid is subject to all taxes related to that sum, including employer FICA;

(8) PEHP to charge state employees on the STAR HSA Plan a premium of 2% of the health plan costs on an ongoing basis and to increase the state's HSA contribution by the same amount as the 2% employee premium share for Fiscal Year 2021 only;

(9) PEHP to offer a new BASIC HSA Dental Plan with coverage for basic dental, no premium, and a state HSA contribution, paid at the same time as the medical HSA, of:

(a) $255 for family coverage;

(b) $140 for double coverage; and

(c) $75 for single coverage;

(10) PEHP to offer a new DISCOUNT HSA Dental Plan with no premium and access to PEHP's dental network for discounted rates and a state HSA contribution, paid at the same time as the medical HSA, of:

(a) $785 for family coverage;

(b) $430 for double coverage; and

(c) $235 for single coverage;

(11) PEHP to develop rules of eligibility for the options above to minimize adverse selection and address other insurance-related issues; and

(12) PEHP to refund $25,460,000 from the state health insurance pool to the state and its employees before May 1, 2020, with $23,300,000, or 92%, of the refund going to the state and the remaining $2,160,000, or 8%, going to state employees.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE ISSUANCE OF FEDERAL GUIDELINES TO PROTECT CONSUMERS OF CANNABIDIOL PRODUCTS

Chief Sponsor: Curtis S. Bramble

House Sponsor: Brad M. Daw

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution urges the issuance of product quality and safe consumption guidelines for cannabidiol products.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- ▶ highlights the absence of federal guidelines addressing product quality and safe consumption for cannabidiol products; and

- ▶ urges Congress and the President of the United States to require the United States Food and Drug Administration to issue product quality and safe consumption guidelines for cannabidiol products.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, cannabidiol (CBD) is a chemical prevalent in marijuana and hemp;

WHEREAS, the federal Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018 removed hemp meaning cannabis, or derivatives of cannabis, with a very low tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) content (not more than 0.3% by dry weight) from the federal Controlled Substances Act definition of marijuana;

WHEREAS, cannabidiol does not induce euphoria or reinforcing pleasure effects of tetrahydrocannabinol found in marijuana;

WHEREAS, a 2018 World Health Organization report on cannabidiol concluded that “there are no case reports of abuse or dependence relating to the use of pure CBD” and “there is no evidence of recreational use of CBD or any public health-related problems associated with the use of pure CBD”;

WHEREAS, the 2018 World Health Organization report also cited a human study (Martin-Santos, R., et al., Current Pharmaceutical Design, Volume 18, 2012) that “administered 600 mg of CBD to healthy participants and detected no THC and trace concentrations of THC metabolites”;

WHEREAS, a substantial market for cannabidiol-formulated drinks, cosmetics, foods, and other products has evolved, even in states that have not legalized medical or recreational cannabis;

WHEREAS, cannabidiol-formulated products are sold in major retail chains in the United States;

WHEREAS, within the past three years, more than 1,500 cannabidiol products have come to market while the United States Food and Drug Administration has had no clear approach to regulation, including balancing product access and consumer safety;

WHEREAS, the United States Food and Drug Administration states that food additives, dietary supplements, and other products containing cannabidiol are illegal under federal law and refuses to issue regulations or guidance to promote product quality and identify safe consumption levels;

WHEREAS, the conflict between the United States Food and Drug Administration’s policy and the Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018 has led to a patchwork of cannabidiol regulations by states that has failed to adequately protect consumers’ health and increased the complexity of the legal environment the cannabidiol product industry is required to navigate;

WHEREAS, the cannabidiol product industry is also hampered by the reticence of banks, insurance companies, and merchant service companies to put their reputations at risk by offering services to an industry threatened with regulatory action by the United States Food and Drug Administration; and

WHEREAS, enactment of federal legislation requiring the United States Food and Drug Administration to establish product quality and safe consumption guidelines for cannabidiol would do much to promote the availability and safety of cannabidiol products and generate significant interstate economic activity;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, urges the United States Congress and the President of the United States to act quickly to protect American consumers by requiring the United States Food and Drug Administration to issue product quality and safe consumption guidelines for cannabidiol products.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President and Vice President of the United States, the Majority Leader and Minority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker and Minority Leader of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of Utah’s congressional delegation.

STATE OF UTAH

GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH
84114-2220

SPENCER J. COX
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

April 1, 2020

The Honorable Brad Wilson
Speaker of the House and

The Honorable Stuart Adams
President of the Senate

Dear Speaker Wilson and President Adams,

I have vetoed the following four bills that amend tax policy in a time of economic uncertainty. Rather than address policies like these individually, the State should continue its work on broad tax reform.

- HB 59, Alternative Fuel Tax Credit
- HB 269, Tax Credit Amendments
- HB 332, Special Needs Scholarship Amendments
- HB 356, Railroad Amendments

I have also vetoed HB 278, Jordan River Amendments. HB 278 has modest fiscal impact and will not have significant impact on the FY21 budget. Even so, I have vetoed the bill. In the best of economic circumstances, I would question the appropriateness of this type of expenditure of state funds. The signs mandated by HB 278, while nice, are not necessary. In the current environment, this kind of expenditure is not appropriate.

HB 59, HB269, and HB 332 create or extend tax credits. While the policy of those individual bills may be appropriate under normal circumstances, these are not normal circumstances. With the FY20 and FY21 budgets facing unprecedented uncertainties, we need to reconsider our tax policy in general and discuss tax credits in light of that larger discussion.

HB 59 narrows the income tax through tax credit extensions. This will result in negative impacts to state income tax revenues at a time of significant economic uncertainty. Additionally, alternative fuel heavy duty vehicles should compete on a more level playing field, similar to other alternative fuel commercial and passenger vehicles.

HB269 likewise narrows the income tax by establishing and expanding tax credits. These tax credits will negatively impact the Education Fund. This is unwise during a time of significant reform to the way Utah funds education and during this time of revenue instability.

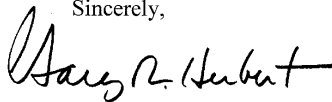

In addition to the tax revenue impacts associated with HB 332, I have additional concerns with the approach the bill takes to funding services for our students. Utah has a program in place that offers an option to address the needs of students with an Individualized Education Plan: the Carson Smith Scholarship Program. The Carson Smith Scholarship Program, which does not have a cap in admissions, nor a waiting list, is well-established and well-managed. It would be more appropriate to amend the existing Carson Smith Scholarship Program to meet any remaining needs of the state and Utah students, rather than create a new administrative burden and cost to taxpayers to duplicate an existing program.

I am concerned that the narrative surrounding this bill was about removing students with special needs out of the public education system, rather than supporting our students within their community schools. While it is helpful to provide options for students with special needs, special education federal law and best practice require that children with special needs be served whenever possible in an inclusive environment, alongside their typically developing peers. This is best not only for the students with special needs, but also for their peers.

I have vetoed HB 356, Railroad Amendments because it is contrary to principles of sound state tax policy. Sound sales tax policy does not tax business inputs when the output is taxed and that is precisely what HB 356 would do by removing the exemption from state sales tax for the sale of locomotive fuel. In doing so, HB 356 could create double taxation: both on the railroad and the ultimate consumer of the products transported by the railroad. At a time when leaders throughout the State recognize the need for tax reform, HB 356 complicates our efforts.

For these reasons, I have vetoed HB 59, Alternative Fuel Tax Credit; HB 269, Tax Credit Amendments; HB 278, Jordan River Amendments; and HB 332, Special Needs Scholarship Amendments; and HB 356, Railroad Amendments.

Sincerely,

Gary R. Herbert
Governor

The Honorable Stuart Adams

Dear Speaker Wilson and President Adams,

I have allowed HB243, Warning Labels Amendments, to become law without my signature.

I appreciate the efforts of the Utah Legislature to combat pornography and the many problems in our society that are related to pornography. I likewise support the provisions in HB243 that require obscene material to include a warning of the harmful effects on minors.

I also have concerns about the enforcement provisions within the bill that permit a private person to bring an action in certain circumstances. While I recognize the need to enforce the bill, I believe that enforcement is best left in the hands of the Attorney General or a county attorney. Private enforcement of this kind of statute, which involves payment of penalties, may not always take place in a consistent and fair manner.

For these reasons, I have allowed HB243 to become law without my signature.

Sincerely,

(a) the amount appropriated for the necessarily existent small schools program in a fiscal year; and

(b) the amount distributed to school districts for the necessarily existent small schools program in the same fiscal year.

(3) The state board shall adopt standards and make rules, in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, to:

(a) govern the approval of necessarily existent small schools consistent with principles of efficiency and economy that serve the purpose of eliminating schools where consolidation is feasible by participation in special school units; and

(b) ensure that school districts are not building secondary schools in close proximity to one another where economy and efficiency would be better served by one school meeting the needs of secondary students in a designated geographical area.

(4) The state board shall prepare and publish objective standards and guidelines for determining which small schools are necessarily existent after consultation with local school boards.

(5) (a) Additional weighted pupil units for schools classified as necessarily existent small schools shall be computed using distribution formulas adopted by the state board.

(d) A secondary school with fewer than 15 students shall receive the same add-on weighted pupil units as a secondary school with 15 students.

(f) The state board shall prepare and distribute an allocation table based on the distribution formula to each school district.

(6) (a) To avoid penalizing a school district financially for consolidating the school district's small schools, additional weighted pupil units may be allowed a school district each year, not to exceed two years.

(b) The additional weighted pupil units may not exceed the difference between what the school district receives for a consolidated school and what the school district would have received for the small schools had the small schools not been consolidated.

(7) (a) The state board may allocate up to ~~200~~ 208 weighted pupil units to support schools that:

(i) have isolating conditions, as defined by the state board, including geographic isolation; and

(ii) do not qualify for necessarily existent small schools funding due to formula limitations.

(b) The state board shall review funding allocations under this Subsection ~~[(8)]~~ (7) at least once every five calendar years.

(8) If the state board classifies a school as a necessarily existent small school in accordance with this section, the state board shall, subject to legislative appropriation, distribute small district base funding to the relevant school district in the following amounts:

~~[(9)]~~ (10) (a) Subject to Subsection ~~[(9)]~~ (10)(b) and after a distribution made under Subsection ~~[(8)]~~ (9), the state board may distribute a portion of necessarily existent small schools funding:

(i) in accordance with a formula adopted by the state board that considers the tax effort of a local school board; or

(ii) to isolated small schools, as identified by the state board.

(b) The amount distributed in accordance with Subsection ~~[(9)]~~ (10)(a) may not exceed the necessarily existent small schools fund in balance of the prior fiscal year.

~~[(10)]~~ (11) A local school board may use the money allocated under this section for maintenance and operation of school programs or for other school purposes as approved by the state board.

(5) The guarantee provided under this section does not apply to the portion of a voted local levy rate that exceeds the voted local levy rate that was in effect for the previous fiscal year, unless an increase in the voted local levy rate was authorized in an election conducted on or after July 1 of the previous fiscal year and before December 2 of the previous fiscal year.

(6) (a) If a voted and board local levy funding balance exists for the prior fiscal year, the state board shall:

(ii) distribute guaranteed local levy increment funds to school districts based on the increased value of the state guarantee per weighted pupil unit described in Subsection (6)(a)(i).

(b) The state board shall report action taken under Subsection (6)(a) to the Office of the Legislative Fiscal Analyst and the Governor's Office of Management and Budget.

35A-4-303, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2013, Chapter 26

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 35A-4-303 is amended to read:*35A-4-303. Determination of contribution rates.

(1) (a) An employer's basic contribution rate is the same as the employer's benefit ratio and is determined by dividing the total benefit costs charged back to an employer during the immediately preceding four fiscal years by the total taxable wages of the employer for the same time period, calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction.

(b) In calculating the basic contribution rate under Subsection (1)(a), if four fiscal years of data are not available:

(i) the data of the number of complete fiscal years that is available shall be divided by the total taxable wages for the same time period; or

(ii) if the employer is a new employer, the basic contribution rate shall be determined as described in Subsection (5).

(2) (a) Subject to Subsection (2)(b), the division shall determine the social contribution rate by dividing all social costs as defined in Subsection 35A-4-307(1) applicable to the preceding four fiscal years by the total taxable wages of all employers subject to contributions for the same period, calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction, and rounding the result to three decimal places as follows:

(i) if the fourth decimal place is four or less, the third decimal place does not change; or

(ii) if the fourth decimal place is five or more, rounding the third decimal place up.

(b) For calendar years 2012 and 2013 only, if the calculation of the social contribution rate under Subsection (2)(a) is greater than 0.004, the social contribution rate for that calendar year is 0.004.

(c) For calendar year 2021 only, if the calculation of the social contribution rate under Subsection (2)(a) is greater than 0.002, the social contribution rate for that calendar year is 0.002.

(3) (a) The division shall set the reserve factor at a rate that sustains an adequate reserve.

(b) For the purpose of setting the reserve factor:

(i) the adequate reserve is defined as between 18 and 24 months of benefits at the average of the five highest benefit cost rates in the last 25 years;

(ii) the division shall set the reserve factor at 1.0000 if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is determined to be an adequate reserve;

(iii) the division shall set the reserve factor between 0.5000 and 1.0000 if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is greater than the adequate reserve;

(iv) the division shall set the reserve factor between 1.0000 and 1.5000 if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 prior to the computation date is less than the adequate reserve;

(v) if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is insolvent or negative or if there is an outstanding loan from the Federal Unemployment Account or other lending institution, the division shall set the reserve factor at 2.0000 until the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is determined by the division to be solvent or positive and there is no outstanding loan;

(vi) the division shall set the reserve factor on or before January 1 of each year; ~~and~~

(vii) money made available to the state under Section 903 of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1103, as amended, which is received on or after January 1, 2004, may not be considered in establishing the reserve factor under this section for the rate year 2005 or any following rate year[-]; and (viii) for calendar year 2021 only, the division may not set the reserve factor to be more than 1.0500.

(4) (a) Beginning January 1, 2009, an employer's overall contribution rate is:

(i) except as provided in Subsection (4)(a)(ii) or (iii), the employer's basic contribution rate multiplied by the reserve factor established under

Subsection (3)(b), calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction, plus the social contribution rate established under Subsection (2), and the result calculated to three decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction;

(ii) if under Subsection (4)(a)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for an employer is greater than 9% plus the applicable social contribution rate, the overall contribution rate for the employer shall be reduced to 9% plus the applicable social contribution rate; or

(iii) if under Subsection (4)(a)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for a new employer is less than 1.1%, the overall contribution rate for the new employer shall be increased to 1.1%.

(b) Beginning January 1, 2012, an employer's overall contribution rate is:

(i) except as provided in Subsection (4)(b)(ii) or (iii), the employer's basic contribution rate multiplied by the reserve factor established under Subsection (3)(b), calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction, plus the social contribution rate established under Subsection (2), and the result calculated to three decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction;

(ii) if under Subsection (4)(b)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for an employer is greater than 7% plus the applicable social contribution rate, the overall contribution rate for the employer shall be reduced to 7% plus the applicable social contribution rate; or

(iii) if under Subsection (4)(b)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for a new employer is less than 1.1%, the overall contribution rate for the new employer shall be increased to 1.1%.

(c) The overall contribution rate described under this Subsection (4) does not include the addition of any penalty applicable to an employer:

(i) as a result of delinquency in the payment of contributions as provided in Subsection (9); or

(ii) that is assessed a penalty rate under Subsection 35A-4-304(5)(a).

(5) (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the basic contribution rate for a new employer is based on the average benefit cost rate experienced by employers of the major industry, as defined by department rule, to which the new employer belongs.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (5)(c), by January 1 of each year, the basic contribution rate to be used in computing a new employer's overall contribution rate under Subsection (4) is the benefit cost rate that is the greater of:

(i) the amount calculated by dividing the total benefit costs charged back to both active and inactive employers of the same major industry for the last two fiscal years by the total taxable wages paid by those employers that were paid during the same time period, computed to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction; or

(ii) 1%.

(c) If the major industrial classification assigned to a new employer is an industry for which a benefit cost rate does not exist because the industry has not operated in the state or has not been covered under this chapter, the employer's basic contribution rate is 5.4%. This basic contribution rate is used in computing the employer's overall contribution rate under Subsection (4).

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, and except as provided in Subsection (7), if an employing unit that moves into this state is declared to be a qualified employer because it has sufficient payroll and benefit cost experience under another state, a rate shall be computed on the same basis as a rate is computed for all other employers subject to this chapter if that unit furnishes adequate records on which to compute the rate.

(7) An employer who begins to operate in this state after having operated in another state shall be assigned the maximum overall contribution rate until the employer acquires sufficient experience in this state to be considered a "qualified employer" if the employer is:

(a) regularly engaged as a contractor in the construction, improvement, or repair of buildings, roads, or other structures on lands;

(b) generally regarded as being a construction contractor or a subcontractor specialized in some aspect of construction; or

(c) required to have a contractor's license or similar qualification under Title 58, Chapter 55, Utah Construction Trades Licensing Act, or the equivalent in laws of another state.

(8) (a) If an employer acquires the business or all or substantially all the assets of another employer and the other employer had discontinued operations upon the acquisition or transfers its trade or business, or a portion of its trade or business, under Subsection 35A-4-304(3)(a):

(i) for purposes of determining and establishing the acquiring party's qualifications for an experience rating classification, the payrolls of both employers during the qualifying period shall be jointly considered in determining the period of liability with respect to:

(A) the filing of contribution reports;

(B) the payment of contributions; and

(C) the benefit costs of both employers;

(ii) the transferring employer shall be divested of the transferring employer's unemployment experience provided the transferring employer had discontinued operations, but only to the extent as defined under Subsection 35A-4-304(3)(c); and

(iii) if an employer transfers its trade or business, or a portion of its trade or business, as defined under Subsection 35A-4-304(3), the transferring employer may not be divested of its employer's unemployment experience.

(b) An employing unit or prospective employing unit that acquires the unemployment experience of an employer shall, for all purposes of this chapter, be an employer as of the date of acquisition.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 35A-4-310, when a transferring employer, as provided in Subsection (8)(a), is divested of the employer's unemployment experience by transferring all of the employer's business to another and by ceasing operations as of the date of the transfer, the transferring employer shall cease to be an employer, as defined by this chapter, as of the date of transfer.

(9) (a) A rate of less than the maximum overall contribution rate is effective only for new employers and to those qualified employers who, except for amounts due under division determinations that have not become final, paid all contributions prescribed by the division for the four consecutive calendar quarters in the fiscal year immediately preceding the computation date.

(b) Notwithstanding Subsections (1), (5), (6), and (8), an employer who fails to pay all contributions prescribed by the division for the four consecutive calendar quarters in the fiscal year immediately preceding the computation date, except for amounts due under determinations that have not become final, shall pay a contribution rate equal to the overall contribution rate determined under the experience rating provisions of this chapter, plus a surcharge of 1% of wages.

(c) An employer who pays all required contributions shall, for the current contribution year, be assigned a rate based upon the employer's own experience as provided under the experience rating provisions of this chapter effective the first day of the calendar quarter in which the payment was made.

(d) Delinquency in filing contribution reports may not be the basis for denial of a rate less than the maximum contribution rate.

(10) If an employer makes a contribution payment based on the overall contribution rate in effect at the time the payment was made and a provision of this section retroactively reduces the overall contribution rate for that payment, the division:

(a) may not directly refund the difference between what the employer paid and what the employer would have paid under the new rate; and

(b) shall allow the employer to make an adjustment to a future contribution payment to offset the difference between what the employer paid and what the employer would have paid under the new rate.

(b) For a case described in Subsection 78A-6-103(1), findings of fact are not necessary.

(c) If the court adjudicates a minor for an offense of violence or an offense in violation of Title 76, Chapter 10, Part 5, Weapons, the court shall order that notice of the adjudication be provided to the school superintendent of the district in which the minor resides or attends school. (b) For a case described in Subsection 78A-6-103(1), findings of fact are not necessary.

(c) If the court adjudicates a minor for an offense of violence or an offense in violation of Title 76, Chapter 10, Part 5, Weapons, the court shall order that notice of the adjudication be provided to the school superintendent of the district in which the minor resides or attends school. Notice shall be made to the district superintendent within three days of the adjudication and shall include:
