AMENDS:

35A-4-303, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2020, Fifth Special Session, Chapter 17

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 35A-4-303 is amended to read:

35A-4-303. Determination of contribution rates.

(1) (a) An employer's basic contribution rate is the same as the employer's benefit ratio and is determined by dividing the total benefit costs charged back to an employer during the immediately preceding four fiscal years by the total taxable wages of the employer for the same time period, calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction.

(b) In calculating the basic contribution rate under Subsection (1)(a), if four fiscal years of data are not available:

(i) the data of the number of complete fiscal years that is available shall be divided by the total taxable wages for the same time period; or

(ii) if the employer is a new employer, the basic contribution rate shall be determined as described in Subsection (5).

(2) (a) Subject to Subsection (2)(b), the division shall determine the social contribution rate by dividing all social costs as defined in Subsection 35A-4-307(1) applicable to the preceding four fiscal years by the total taxable wages of all employers subject to contributions for the same period, calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction, and rounding the result to three decimal places as follows:

(i) if the fourth decimal place is four or less, the third decimal place does not change; or

(ii) if the fourth decimal place is five or more, rounding the third decimal place up.

(b) For calendar years 2012 and 2013 only, if the calculation of the social contribution rate under Subsection (2)(a) is greater than 0.004, the social contribution rate for that calendar year is 0.004.

(c) For calendar year 2021 only, if the calculation of the social contribution rate under Subsection (2)(a) is greater than 0.002, the social contribution rate for that calendar year is 0.002.

(d) For calendar year 2022 only, if the calculation of the social contribution rate under Subsection (2)(a) is greater than 0.003, the social contribution rate for that calendar year is 0.003.

(e) For calendar years 2023 and 2024 only, if the calculation of the social contribution rate under Subsection (2)(a) is greater than 0.004, the social contribution rate for that calendar year is 0.004.

(3) (a) The division shall set the reserve factor at a rate that sustains an adequate reserve.

(b) For the purpose of setting the reserve factor:

(i) the adequate reserve is defined as between 18 and 24 months of benefits at the average of the five highest benefit cost rates in the last 25 years;

(ii) the division shall set the reserve factor at 1.0000 if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is determined to be an adequate reserve;

(iii) the division shall set the reserve factor between 0.5000 and 1.0000 if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is greater than the adequate reserve;

(iv) the division shall set the reserve factor between 1.0000 and 1.5000 if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 prior to the computation date is less than the adequate reserve;

(v) if the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is insolvent or negative or if there is an outstanding loan from the Federal Unemployment Account or other lending institution, the division shall set the reserve factor at 2.0000 until the actual reserve fund balance as of June 30 preceding the computation date is determined by the division to be solvent or positive and there is no outstanding loan;

(vi) the division shall set the reserve factor on or before January 1 of each year;

(vii) money made available to the state under Section 903 of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1103, as amended, which is received on or after January 1, 2004, may not be considered in establishing the reserve factor under this section for the rate year 2005 or any following rate year; [~~and~~]

(viii) for calendar year 2021 only, the division may not set the reserve factor to be more than 1.0500[~~.~~];

(ix) for calendar year 2022 only, the division may not set the reserve factor to be more than 1.1500; and

(x) for calendar years 2023 and 2024 only, the division may not set the reserve factor to be more than 1.2000.

(4) (a) Beginning January 1, 2009, an employer's overall contribution rate is:

(i) except as provided in Subsection (4)(a)(ii) or (iii), the employer's basic contribution rate multiplied by the reserve factor established under Subsection (3)(b), calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction, plus the social contribution rate established under Subsection (2), and the result calculated to three decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction;

(ii) if under Subsection (4)(a)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for an employer is greater than 9% plus the applicable social contribution rate, the overall contribution rate for the employer shall be reduced to 9% plus the applicable social contribution rate; or

(iii) if under Subsection (4)(a)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for a new employer is less than 1.1%, the overall contribution rate for the new employer shall be increased to 1.1%.

(b) Beginning January 1, 2012, an employer's overall contribution rate is:

(i) except as provided in Subsection (4)(b)(ii) or (iii), the employer's basic contribution rate multiplied by the reserve factor established under Subsection (3)(b), calculated to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction, plus the social contribution rate established under Subsection (2), and the result calculated to three decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction;

(ii) if under Subsection (4)(b)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for an employer is greater than 7% plus the applicable social contribution rate, the overall contribution rate for the employer shall be reduced to 7% plus the applicable social contribution rate; or

(iii) if under Subsection (4)(b)(i), the overall contribution rate calculation for a new employer is less than 1.1%, the overall contribution rate for the new employer shall be increased to 1.1%.

(c) The overall contribution rate described under this Subsection (4) does not include the addition of any penalty applicable to an employer:

(i) as a result of delinquency in the payment of contributions as provided in Subsection (9); or

(ii) that is assessed a penalty rate under Subsection 35A-4-304(5)(a).

(5) (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the basic contribution rate for a new employer is based on the average benefit cost rate experienced by employers of the major industry, as defined by department rule, to which the new employer belongs.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (5)(c), by January 1 of each year, the basic contribution rate to be used in computing a new employer's overall contribution rate under Subsection (4) is the benefit cost rate that is the greater of:

(i) the amount calculated by dividing the total benefit costs charged back to both active and inactive employers of the same major industry for the last two fiscal years by the total taxable wages paid by those employers that were paid during the same time period, computed to four decimal places, disregarding any remaining fraction; or

(ii) 1%.

(c) If the major industrial classification assigned to a new employer is an industry for which a benefit cost rate does not exist because the industry has not operated in the state or has not been covered under this chapter, the employer's basic contribution rate is 5.4%. This basic contribution rate is used in computing the employer's overall contribution rate under Subsection (4).

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, and except as provided in Subsection (7), if an employing unit that moves into this state is declared to be a qualified employer because it has sufficient payroll and benefit cost experience under another state, a rate shall be computed on the same basis as a rate is computed for all other employers subject to this chapter if that unit furnishes adequate records on which to compute the rate.

(7) An employer who begins to operate in this state after having operated in another state shall be assigned the maximum overall contribution rate until the employer acquires sufficient experience in this state to be considered a "qualified employer" if the employer is:

(a) regularly engaged as a contractor in the construction, improvement, or repair of buildings, roads, or other structures on lands;

(b) generally regarded as being a construction contractor or a subcontractor specialized in some aspect of construction; or

(c) required to have a contractor's license or similar qualification under Title 58, Chapter 55, Utah Construction Trades Licensing Act, or the equivalent in laws of another state.

(8) (a) If an employer acquires the business or all or substantially all the assets of another employer and the other employer had discontinued operations upon the acquisition or transfers its trade or business, or a portion of its trade or business, under Subsection 35A-4-304(3)(a):

(i) for purposes of determining and establishing the acquiring party's qualifications for an experience rating classification, the payrolls of both employers during the qualifying period shall be jointly considered in determining the period of liability with respect to:

(A) the filing of contribution reports;

(B) the payment of contributions; and

(C) the benefit costs of both employers;

(ii) the transferring employer shall be divested of the transferring employer's unemployment experience provided the transferring employer had discontinued operations, but only to the extent as defined under Subsection 35A-4-304(3)(c); and

(iii) if an employer transfers its trade or business, or a portion of its trade or business, as defined under Subsection 35A-4-304(3), the transferring employer may not be divested of its employer's unemployment experience.

(b) An employing unit or prospective employing unit that acquires the unemployment experience of an employer shall, for all purposes of this chapter, be an employer as of the date of acquisition.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 35A-4-310, when a transferring employer, as provided in Subsection (8)(a), is divested of the employer's unemployment experience by transferring all of the employer's business to another and by ceasing operations as of the date of the transfer, the transferring employer shall cease to be an employer, as defined by this chapter, as of the date of transfer.

(9) (a) A rate of less than the maximum overall contribution rate is effective only for new employers and to those qualified employers who, except for amounts due under division determinations that have not become final, paid all contributions prescribed by the division for the four consecutive calendar quarters in the fiscal year immediately preceding the computation date.

(b) Notwithstanding Subsections (1), (5), (6), and (8), an employer who fails to pay all contributions prescribed by the division for the four consecutive calendar quarters in the fiscal year immediately preceding the computation date, except for amounts due under determinations that have not become final, shall pay a contribution rate equal to the overall contribution rate determined under the experience rating provisions of this chapter, plus a surcharge of 1% of wages.

(c) An employer who pays all required contributions shall, for the current contribution year, be assigned a rate based upon the employer's own experience as provided under the experience rating provisions of this chapter effective the first day of the calendar quarter in which the payment was made.

(d) Delinquency in filing contribution reports may not be the basis for denial of a rate less than the maximum contribution rate.

(10) If an employer makes a contribution payment based on the overall contribution rate in effect at the time the payment was made and a provision of this section retroactively reduces the overall contribution rate for that payment, the division:

(a) may not directly refund the difference between what the employer paid and what the employer would have paid under the new rate; and

(b) shall allow the employer to make an adjustment to a future contribution payment to offset the difference between what the employer paid and what the employer would have paid under the new rate.

Section 2. Effective date.

If approved by two-thirds of all the members elected to each house, this bill takes effect upon approval by the governor, or the day following the constitutional time limit of Utah Constitution, Article VII, Section 8, without the governor's signature, or in the case of a veto, the date of veto override.

(1) (a) (i) [~~To~~] If a taxed interlocal entity is a project entity, and to the extent authorized in a taxed interlocal entity's organization agreement or by a majority of the public entities that are parties to a taxed interlocal entity's organization agreement, the governing board of a taxed interlocal entity may by resolution adopted on or before November 10, 2021, establish or provide for the establishment of one or more segments that have separate rights, powers, privileges, authority or by a majority of the public entities that are parties to a taxed interlocal entity's organization agreement, or duties with respect to, as specified in the segment's organizing resolution, the taxed interlocal entity's:

[~~(i)~~] (A) property;

(ii) If a taxed interlocal entity is not a project entity, and to the extent authorized in a taxed interlocal entity's organization agreement, the governing board of a taxed interlocal entity may by resolution establish or provide for the establishment of one or more segments that have separate rights, powers, privileges, authority, or by a majority of the public entities that are parties to a taxed interlocal entity's organization agreement, or duties with respect to, as specified in the segment's organizing resolution, the taxed interlocal entity's:

(A) property;

(B) assets;

(C) projects;

(D) undertakings;

(E) opportunities;

(F) actions;

(G) debts;

(H) liabilities;

(I) obligations; or

(J) any combination of the items listed in Subsections (1)(b)(ii)(A) through (H).

(b) To the extent provided in the organization agreement of a segment's associated entity, a segment may have a separate purpose from the associated entity.

(c) The name of a segment shall:

(i) contain the name of the segment's associated entity; and

(ii) be distinguishable from the name of any other segment established by the associated entity.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the debts, liabilities, and obligations incurred, contracted for, arising out of the conduct of or otherwise existing with respect to a particular segment are only enforceable or chargeable against the assets of that segment, and not against the assets of the segment's associated entity generally or any other segment established by the segment's associated entity if:

(a) the segment is established by or in accordance with an organizing resolution;

(b) separate records are maintained for the segment to the extent necessary to avoid the segment's records constituting a fraud upon the segment's creditors;

(c) the assets associated with the segment are held and accounted for separately from the assets of any other segment established by the associated entity to the extent necessary to avoid the segment's accounting for the segment's assets constituting a fraud upon the segment's creditors;

(d) the segment's organizing resolution provides for a limitation on liabilities of the segment; and

(e) a notice of limitation on liabilities of the segment is recorded in accordance with Section 11-13-605.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in the segment's organizing resolution, a segment that satisfies the conditions described in Subsections (2)(a) through (e):

(a) is treated as a separate interlocal entity; and

(b) may:

(i) in its own name, contract, hold title to property, grant liens and security interests, and sue and be sued;

(ii) exercise all or any part of the powers, privileges, rights, authority, and capacity of the segment's associated entity; and

(iii) engage in any action in which the segment's associated entity may engage.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in the organization agreement of the segment's associated entity or in the segment's organizing resolution, a segment is governed by the organization agreement of the segment's associated entity.

(5) Subject to Subsection (4), a segment's organizing resolution:

(a) may address any matter relating to the segment, including the segment's governance or operation, to the extent that the organization agreement of a segment's associated entity does not address the matter; and

(b) to the extent not addressed in the organization agreement of the segment's associated entity, shall address the following matters:

(i) the powers delegated to the segment;

(ii) the manner in which the segment is to be governed, including whether the segment's governing body is the same as the governing board of the segment's associated entity;

(iii) subject to Subsection (6), if the segment's governing body is different from the governing board of the segment's associated entity, the manner in which the members of the segment's governing body are appointed or selected;

(iv) the segment's purpose;

(v) the manner of financing the segment's actions;

(vi) how the segment will establish and maintain a budget;

(vii) how to partially or completely terminate the segment and, upon a partial or complete termination, how to dispose of the segment's property;

(viii) the process, conditions, and terms for withdrawal of a participating public agency from the segment; and

(ix) voting rights, including whether voting is weighted, and, if so, the basis upon which the vote weight is determined.

(6) An organizing resolution shall provide that if a segment's governing body is different from the governing board of the segment's associated entity, the Utah public agencies that are parties to the organization agreement of the segment's associated entity may appoint or select members of the segment's governing body with a majority of the voting power.

(7) A segment may not:

(a) transfer the segment's property or other assets to the segment's associated entity or to another segment established by the segment's associated entity if the transfer impairs the ability of the segment to pay the segment's debts that exist at the time of the transfer, unless the segment's associated entity or the other segment gives fair value for the property or asset; or

(b) assign a tax or other liability imposed against the segment to the segment's associated entity or to another segment established by the segment's associated entity if the assignment impairs a creditor's ability to collect the amount due when owed.

(8) If a segment and a segment's associated entity or another segment established by the segment's associated entity are involved in a joint action or have a common interest in a facility, the segment's or the segment's associated entity's maintenance of records and accounts related to the joint action or common interest does not constitute a violation of Subsection (2)(b) or (c).

(9) Except as otherwise provided in this part or where clearly not applicable, the provisions of law that apply to a segment's associated entity also apply to the segment, including Subsection 11-13-205(5), as if the segment were a separate legal or administrative entity.

(10) (a) To the extent an associated entity is a taxpayer as defined in Section 59-8-103, the associated entity shall pay tax on the associated entity's gross receipts at the rate of tax that would apply if all gross receipts of the associated entity and the associated entity's segments, in the aggregate, were the gross receipts of a single taxpayer.

(b) Each segment of an associated entity that is a taxpayer as defined in Section 59-8-103 shall pay tax on the segment's gross receipts each period described in Subsection 59-8-105(1) at the same rate of tax as the rate of tax paid by the segment's associated entity for the same period.

(c) Notwithstanding Subsections (10)(a) and (b):

(i) an associated entity is not liable for the tax imposed on a segment; and

(ii) a segment of an associated entity is not liable for the tax imposed on the segment's associated entity or on another segment of the segment's associated entity.

[~~(11) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a segment is a project entity if the segment's associated entity is a project entity.~~]

[~~(4)~~] (3) (a) [~~Notwithstanding Subsection (3), the~~] The Legislature enacts the district numbers and boundaries of the Senate districts designated in the Senate block equivalency file and resulting Senate shapefile that is the electronic component of [~~the bill that enacts this section.~~] this bill:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING CONGRESS AND THE PRESIDENT TO PROTECT CONSUMER PRIVACY IN BANKING AND FINANCIAL TRANSACTIONS

Chief Sponsor: Joel Ferry
Senate Sponsor: Curtis S. Bramble

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution urges Congress and the President to protect consumers from certain banking and financial transaction reporting requirements under consideration by Congress and the federal government.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- urges Congress and the President to protect consumers from harmful, intrusive, and burdensome Internal Revenue Service reporting requirements for financial institutions.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the Biden Administration and some in Congress have proposed changes to tax information reporting which would require financial institutions to provide the Internal Revenue Service reports of incoming and outgoing transactions from every customer financial account with gross inflows and outflows that range from $600 to $10,000 in a tax year;

WHEREAS, these proposals would require financial institutions to include in the reports for both personal and business accounts a breakdown for physical cash, transactions with foreign accounts, and transfers to and from another account with the same owner;

WHEREAS, savings, transactional, loan, and investment accounts at these financial institutions would be subject to this proposed requirement;

WHEREAS, there are real concerns over data privacy and security if this proposed requirement is implemented;

WHEREAS, keeping member and customer account information private and secure is among the primary goals of all financial institutions in this state;

WHEREAS, this proposed requirement at any threshold dollar amount could jeopardize the privacy and security of accounts and personal information;

WHEREAS, privacy is cited as one of the primary reasons individuals choose not to open a bank account;

WHEREAS, this proposed requirement lays a foundation for new and future barriers for unbanked or underbanked individuals;

WHEREAS, financial institutions throughout the state of Utah and the nation are already subject to many burdensome regulations;

WHEREAS, the inclusion of this new, hyper-extensive reporting requirement would increase that burden in an untenable and destructive manner for many community-based financial institutions;

WHEREAS, the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution guarantees every Utahn the right to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures;

WHEREAS, that fundamental right shall not be violated, and no warrants shall be issued, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized;

WHEREAS, Utahns' bank account information is personal and private information and effects, and any proposal to forcibly acquire universal access to that information without a warrant based on probable cause is a violation of the constitutional rights of every Utahn and the oath of office of every member of Congress; and

WHEREAS, the Internal Revenue Service should not have universal access to every American's private financial information because in recent years its administration and staff have used their authority and access to confidential personal information to engage in openly political behavior:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, calls upon the United States Congress and the President to protect consumers from harmful, intrusive, and burdensome Internal Revenue Service reporting requirements for financial institutions.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, the President of the United States, and the members of Utah's Congressional Delegation.

(e) (i) "Quantity impairment" means any reduction in the amount of water a person is able to receive in order to satisfy an existing right to the use of water that would result from an action proposed in a change application, including:

(A) diminishing the quantity of water in the source of supply for the existing right;

(B) a change in the timing of availability of water from the source of supply for the existing right; or

(C) enlarging the quantity of water depleted by the nature of the proposed use when compared with the nature of the currently approved use.

(ii) "Quantity impairment" does not mean a decrease in the static level of water in an underground basin or aquifer that would result from an action proposed to be taken in a change application, if the volume of water necessary to satisfy an existing right otherwise remains reasonably available.

(f) "Split season change" means a change when the holder of a perfected right grants to a water user the right to make sequential use of a portion of the water right.

(b) Statements made and information presented in the consultation are not binding on the applicant or the state engineer.

(c) The consultation described in Subsection (2)(a) may occur in the state engineer's regional office for the region where the proposed change would occur.

(3) (a) A person entitled to the use of water may make a change to an existing right to use water, including a right involved in a general determination of rights or other suit, if:

(i) the person makes the change in accordance with this section;

(iii) the state engineer approves the change application, consistent with Section 73-3-8.

(b) A change application on a federal reclamation project water right shall be signed by:

(i) the local water users organization that is contractually responsible for:

(A) the operation and maintenance of the project; or

(B) the repayment of project costs; and

(ii) the record owner of the water right.

(xi) any other information that the state engineer requires.

(c) A shareholder in a water company who seeks to make a change to a water right to which the water company is the record owner shall file a change application in accordance with Section 73-3-3.5.

(5) In a proceeding before the state engineer, the applicant has the burden of producing evidence sufficient to support a reasonable belief that the change can be made in compliance with this section and Section 73-3-8, including evidence:

(a) that the change will not cause a specific existing right to experience quantity impairment; or

(b) if applicable, rebutting the presumption of quantity impairment described in Subsection 73-3-8(6)(c).

(6) A change of an approved application to appropriate water does not:

(a) affect the priority of the original application to appropriate water; or

(b) extend the time period within which the construction of work is to begin or be completed.

(7) Any person who makes a change without first filing and obtaining approval of a change application providing for the change:

(a) obtains no right by the change;

Section 2. Section 73-3-8 is amended to read:

73-3-8. Approval or rejection of application -- Requirements for approval -- Application for specified period of time -- Filing of royalty contract for removal of salt or minerals -- Request for agency action.

(1) (a) It shall be the duty of the state engineer to approve an application if there is reason to believe that:

(i) for an application to appropriate, there is unappropriated water in the proposed source;

(ii) the proposed use will not impair existing rights or interfere with the more beneficial use of the water;

(iii) the proposed plan:

(A) is physically and economically feasible, unless the application is filed by the United States Bureau of Reclamation; and

(B) would not prove detrimental to the public welfare;

(iv) the applicant has the financial ability to complete the proposed works;

(v) the application was filed in good faith and not for purposes of speculation or monopoly; and

(vi) if applicable, the application complies with a groundwater management plan adopted under Section 73-5-15.

(b) If the state engineer, because of information in the state engineer's possession obtained either by the state engineer's own investigation or otherwise, has reason to believe that an application will interfere with the water's more beneficial use for irrigation, municipal and industrial, domestic or culinary, stock watering, power or mining development, or manufacturing, or will unreasonably affect public recreation or the natural stream environment, or will prove detrimental to the public welfare, the state engineer shall withhold approval or rejection of the application until the state engineer has investigated the matter.

(c) If an application does not meet the requirements of this section, it shall be rejected.

(2) (a) An application to appropriate water for industrial, power, mining development, manufacturing purposes, agriculture, or municipal purposes may be approved for a specific and certain period from the time the water is placed to beneficial use under the application, but in no event may an application be granted for a period of time less than that ordinarily needed to satisfy the essential and primary purpose of the application or until the water is no longer available as determined by the state engineer.

(b) At the expiration of the period fixed by the state engineer the water shall revert to the public and is subject to appropriation as provided by this title.

(c) No later than 60 calendar days before the expiration date of the fixed time period, the state engineer shall send notice by mail or by any form of electronic communication through which receipt is verifiable, to the applicant of record.

(d) Except as provided by Subsection (2)(e), the state engineer may extend any limited water right upon a showing that:

(i) the essential purpose of the original application has not been satisfied;

(ii) the need for an extension is not the result of any default or neglect by the applicant; and

(iii) the water is still available.

(e) An extension may not exceed the time necessary to satisfy the primary purpose of the original application.

(f) A request for extension of the fixed time period must be filed in writing in the office of the state engineer on or before the expiration date of the application.

(3) (a) Before the approval of any application for the appropriation of water from navigable lakes or streams of the state that contemplates the recovery of salts and other minerals therefrom by precipitation or otherwise, the applicant shall file with the state engineer a copy of a contract for the payment of royalties to the state.

(b) The approval of an application shall be revoked if the applicant fails to comply with terms of the royalty contract.

(4) (a) The state engineer shall investigate all temporary change applications.

(b) The state engineer shall:

(i) approve the temporary change if the state engineer finds there is reason to believe that the temporary change will not impair an existing right; and

(ii) deny the temporary change if the state engineer finds there is reason to believe the temporary change would impair an existing right.

(5) (a) With respect to a change application for a permanent or fixed time change:

(i) the state engineer shall follow the same procedures provided in this title for approving an application to appropriate water; and

(ii) the rights and duties of a change applicant are the same as the rights and duties of a person who applies to appropriate water under this title.

(b) The state engineer may waive notice for a permanent or fixed time change application if the application only involves a change in point of diversion of 660 feet or less.

(c) The state engineer may condition approval of a change application to prevent an enlargement of the quantity of water depleted by the nature of the proposed use when compared with the nature of the currently approved use of water proposed to be changed.

(d) A condition described in Subsection (5)(c) may not include a reduction in the currently approved diversion rate of water under the water right identified in the change application solely to account for the difference in depletion under the nature of the proposed use when compared with the nature of the currently approved use.

(6) (a) Except as provided in Subsection (6)(b), the state engineer shall reject a permanent or fixed time change application if the person proposing to make the change is unable to meet the burden described in Subsection 73-3-3(5).

(b) If otherwise proper, the state engineer may approve a change application upon one or more of the following conditions:

(i) for part of the water involved;

(ii) that the applicant acquire a conflicting right; or

(iii) that the applicant provide and implement a plan approved by the state engineer to mitigate impairment of an existing right.

(c) (i) There is a rebuttable presumption of quantity impairment, as defined in Section 73-3-3, to the extent that, for a period of at least seven consecutive years, a portion of the right identified in a change application has not been:

(A) diverted from the approved point of diversion; or

(B) beneficially used at the approved place of use.

(ii) The rebuttable presumption described in Subsection (6)(c)(i) does not apply if the beneficial use requirement is excused by:

(A) Subsection 73-1-4(2)(e);

(B) an approved nonuse application under Subsection 73-1-4(2)(b);

(C) Subsection 73-3-30~~(7)~~; or

(D) the passage of time under Subsection 73-1-4(2)(c)(i).

(d) The state engineer may not consider quantity impairment based on the conditions described in Subsection (6)(c) unless the issue is raised in a:

(i) timely protest that identifies which of the protestant's existing rights the protestant reasonably believes will experience quantity impairment; or

(ii) written notice provided by the state engineer to the applicant within 90 days after the change application is filed.

(e) The written notice described in Subsection (6)(d)(ii) shall:

(i) specifically identify an existing right the state engineer reasonably believes may experience quantity impairment; and

(ii) be mailed to the owner of an identified right, as shown by the state engineer's records, if the owner has not protested the change application.

(f) The state engineer is not required to include all rights the state engineer believes may be impaired by the proposed change in the written notice described in Subsection (6)(d)(ii).

(g) The owner of a right who receives the written notice described in Subsection (6)(d)(ii) may not become a party to the administrative proceeding if the owner has not filed a timely protest.

(h) If a change applicant, the protestants, and the persons identified by the state engineer under Subsection (6)(d)(ii) come to a written agreement regarding how the issue of quantity impairment shall be mitigated, the state engineer may incorporate the terms of the agreement into a change application approval.
