(b) Time allowances described in Subsection (1) for the diagnosis and performance of warranty work and service shall be reasonable and adequate for the work to be performed.

(ii) In the case of a recreational vehicle franchisee, reimbursement for parts used in the performance of warranty repairs, including those parts separately warranted directly to the consumer by a recreational vehicle parts supplier, may not be less than the franchisee's cost plus 20%.

(iii) For purposes of Subsection (3)(b)(ii), the term "cost" shall be that same price paid by a franchisee to a franchisor or supplier for the part when the part is purchased for a nonwarranty repair.

(4) A franchisor may not fail to:

(a) perform any warranty obligation;

(a) return the part to the franchisee at the franchisor's expense; or

(b) pay the franchisee the cost of the part.

(6) (a) A claim made by a franchisee pursuant to this section for diagnostic work, labor, or parts shall be paid within 30 days after the claim's approval.

(b) The franchisor shall approve or disapprove a claim within 30 days after receipt of the claim on a form generally used by the franchisor and containing the generally required information. Any claim not specifically disapproved of in writing within 30 days after the receipt of the form is considered to be approved and payment shall be made within 30 days.

(7) A franchisor may conduct warranty service audits and recall repair audits of the franchisor's franchisee records on a reasonable basis.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (9)(e), all charge backs levied by a franchisor for sales compensation or sales incentives arising out of the sale or lease of a motor vehicle sold or leased by a franchisee shall be compensable only if written notice of the charge back is received by the franchisee within six months immediately following the sooner of:

(c) (i) Upon an audit, the franchisor shall provide the franchisee automated or written notice explaining the amount of and reason for a charge back.

(ii) A franchisee may respond in writing within 30 days after the notice under Subsection (9)(c)(i) to:

(A) explain a deficiency; or

(B) provide materials or information to correct and cure compliance with a provision that is a basis for a charge back.

(d) A charge back:

(i) may not be based on a nonmaterial error that is clerical in nature; and

(ii) (A) shall be based on one or more specific instances of material noncompliance with the franchisor's warranty compensation program, sales incentive program, recall repair program, or recall compensation program; and

(B) may not be extrapolated from a sampling of warranty claims, recall repair claims, or sales incentive claims.

(e) The time limitations of this Subsection (9) do not preclude charge backs for any fraudulent claim that was previously paid.

(10) (a) If within 30 days after the day on which a franchisor issues an initial notice of recall a part or remedy is not reasonably available to perform the recall repair on a used motor vehicle, each calendar month thereafter the franchisor shall pay the franchisee an amount equal to at least 1.35% of the value of the used motor vehicle, if:

(i) the franchisee holding the used motor vehicle for sale is authorized to sell and service a new vehicle of the same line-make;

(i) beginning:

(A) 30 days after the day on which the franchisee receives the stop-sale or do-not-drive order; or

(A) the franchisor makes the recall part or remedy available for order and prompt shipment to the franchisee; or

(11) (a) A franchisee that offsets recall repair compensation received from a franchisor under this section against recall repair compensation the franchisee receives under a state or federal recall repair compensation remedy may pursue any other available remedy against the franchisor.

(b) As an alternative to providing recall repair compensation under this section, a franchisor may compensate a franchisee for a recall repair:

(i) under a national recall repair compensation program, if the compensation is equal to or greater than the compensation provided under this section; or

(ii) as the franchisor and franchisee otherwise agree, if the compensation is equal to or greater than the compensation provided under this section.

(c) Nothing in this section requires a franchisor to provide compensation to a franchisee that exceeds the value of the used motor vehicle affected by a recall.

(12) During an audit under this section, a franchisor may not request a document from the franchisee that originated from the franchisor or a subsidiary of the franchisor, unless the document required additional information from the customer.

(ii) If the transfer of 25% of the [~~Education Fund~~] Income Tax Fund revenue surplus to the [~~Education Fund~~] Income Tax Fund Budget Reserve Account under Subsection (3)(a)(i) would cause the balance in the account to exceed 11% of [~~Education Fund~~] Income Tax Fund appropriations for the fiscal year in which the [~~Education Fund~~] Income Tax Fund revenue surplus occurred, the Division of Finance shall transfer only those funds necessary to ensure that the balance in the account equals 11% of the [~~Education Fund~~] Income Tax Fund appropriations for the fiscal year in which the [~~Education Fund~~] Income Tax Fund revenue surplus occurred.

(5) If a controller is unable to authenticate a consumer request to exercise a right described in Section 13-61-201 using commercially reasonable efforts, the controller:

Section 16. Section 58-60a-111 is enacted to read:

58-60a-111. Section 11 -- Rulemaking.

A. The Commission shall promulgate reasonable Rules in order to effectively and efficiently achieve the purpose of the Compact. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event the Commission exercises its Rulemaking authority in a manner that is beyond the scope of the purposes of the Compact, or the powers granted hereunder, then such an action by the Commission shall be invalid and have no force or effect.

B. The Commission shall exercise its Rulemaking powers pursuant to the criteria set forth in this Section and the Rules adopted thereunder. Rules and amendments shall become binding as of the date specified in each Rule or amendment.

C. If a majority of the legislatures of the Member States rejects a Rule, by enactment of a statute or resolution in the same manner used to adopt the Compact within four (4) years of the date of adoption of the Rule, then such Rule shall have no further force and effect in any Member State.

D. Rules or amendments to the Rules shall be adopted at a regular or special meeting of the Commission.

E. Prior to promulgation and adoption of a final Rule or Rules by the Commission, and at least thirty (30) days in advance of the meeting at which the Rule will be considered and voted upon, the Commission shall file a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking:

3. All hearings will be recorded. A copy of the recording will be made available on request.

4. Nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring a separate hearing on each Rule. Rules may be grouped for the convenience of the Commission at hearings required by this section.

J. Following the scheduled hearing date, or by the close of business on the scheduled hearing date if the hearing was not held, the Commission shall consider all written and oral comments received.

K. If no written notice of intent to attend the public hearing by interested parties is received, the Commission may proceed with promulgation of the proposed Rule without a public hearing.

L. The Commission shall, by majority vote of all members, take final action on the proposed Rule and shall determine the effective date of the Rule, if any, based on the Rulemaking record and the full text of the Rule.

M. Upon determination that an emergency exists, the Commission may consider and adopt an emergency Rule without prior notice, opportunity for comment, or hearing, provided that the usual Rulemaking procedures provided in the Compact and in this section shall be retroactively applied to the Rule as soon as reasonably possible, in no event later than ninety (90) days after the effective date of the Rule. For the purposes of this provision, an emergency Rule is one that must be adopted immediately in order to:

1. Meet an imminent threat to public health, safety, or welfare;

2. Prevent a loss of Commission or Member State funds;

3. Meet a deadline for the promulgation of an administrative Rule that is established by federal law or Rule; or

4. Protect public health and safety.

N. The Commission or an authorized committee of the Commission may direct revisions to a previously adopted Rule or amendment for purposes of correcting typographical errors, errors in format, errors in consistency, or grammatical errors. Public notice of any revisions shall be posted on the website of the Commission. The revision shall be subject to challenge by any person for a period of thirty (30) days after posting. The revision may be challenged only on grounds that the revision results in a material change to a Rule. A challenge shall be made in writing and delivered to the chair of the Commission prior to the end of the notice period. If no challenge is made, the revision will take effect without further action. If the revision is challenged, the revision may not take effect without the approval of the Commission.

Section 17. Section 58-60a-112 is enacted to read:

58-60a-112. Section 12 -- Oversight, dispute resolution, and enforcement.

A. Oversight

1. The executive, legislative, and judicial branches of State government in each Member State shall enforce this Compact and take all actions necessary and appropriate to effectuate the Compact's purposes and intent. The provisions of this Compact and the Rules promulgated hereunder shall have standing as statutory law.

2. All courts shall take judicial notice of the Compact and the Rules in any judicial or administrative proceeding in a Member State pertaining to the subject matter of this Compact which may affect the powers, responsibilities, or actions of the Commission.

3. The Commission shall be entitled to receive service of process in any such proceeding and shall have standing to intervene in such a proceeding for all purposes. Failure to provide service of process to the Commission shall render a judgment or order void as to the Commission, this Compact, or promulgated Rules.

B. Default, Technical Assistance, and Termination

1. If the Commission determines that a Member State has defaulted in the performance of its obligations or responsibilities under this Compact or the promulgated Rules, the Commission shall:

a. Provide written notice to the defaulting State and other Member States of the nature of the default, the proposed means of curing the default and/or any other action to be taken by the Commission; and

b. Provide remedial training and specific technical assistance regarding the default.

C. If a State in default fails to cure the default, the defaulting State may be terminated from the Compact upon an affirmative vote of a majority of the Member States, and all rights, privileges and benefits conferred by this Compact may be terminated on the effective date of termination. A cure of the default does not relieve the offending State of obligations or liabilities incurred during the period of default.

D. Termination of membership in the Compact shall be imposed only after all other means of securing compliance have been exhausted. Notice of intent to suspend or terminate shall be given by the Commission to the governor, the majority and minority leaders of the defaulting State's legislature, and each of the Member States.

E. A State that has been terminated is responsible for all assessments, obligations, and liabilities incurred through the effective date of termination, including obligations that extend beyond the effective date of termination.

F. The Commission shall not bear any costs related to a State that is found to be in default or that has been terminated from the Compact, unless agreed upon in writing between the Commission and the defaulting State.

G. The defaulting State may appeal the action of the Commission by petitioning the United States District Court for the District of Columbia or the federal district where the Commission has its principal offices. The prevailing member shall be awarded all costs of such litigation, including reasonable attorney fees.

H. Dispute Resolution

1. Upon request by a Member State, the Commission shall attempt to resolve disputes related to the Compact that arise among Member States and between member and non-Member States.

2. The Commission shall promulgate a Rule providing for both mediation and binding dispute resolution for disputes as appropriate.

I. Enforcement

1. The Commission, in the reasonable exercise of its discretion, shall enforce the provisions and Rules of this Compact.

2. By majority vote, the Commission may initiate legal action in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia or the federal district where the Commission has its principal offices against a Member State in default to enforce compliance with the provisions of the Compact and its promulgated Rules and bylaws. The relief sought may include both injunctive relief and damages. In the event judicial enforcement is necessary, the prevailing member shall be awarded all costs of such litigation, including reasonable attorney fees.

3. The remedies herein shall not be the exclusive remedies of the Commission. The Commission may pursue any other remedies available under federal or State law.

Section 18. Section 58-60a-113 is enacted to read:

58-60a-113. Section 13 -- Date of implementation of the Counseling Compact Commission and associated Rules, withdrawal, and amendment.

A. The Compact shall come into effect on the date on which the Compact statute is enacted into law in the tenth Member State. The provisions, which become effective at that time, shall be limited to the powers granted to the Commission relating to assembly and the promulgation of Rules. Thereafter, the Commission shall meet and exercise Rulemaking powers necessary to the implementation and administration of the Compact.

B. Any State that joins the Compact subsequent to the Commission's initial adoption of the Rules shall be subject to the Rules as they exist on the date on which the Compact becomes law in that State. Any Rule that has been previously adopted by the Commission shall have the full force and effect of law on the day the Compact becomes law in that State.

C. Any Member State may withdraw from this Compact by enacting a statute repealing the same.

1. A Member State's withdrawal shall not take effect until six (6) months after enactment of the repealing statute.

2. Withdrawal shall not affect the continuing requirement of the withdrawing State's Professional Counseling Licensing Board to comply with the investigative and Adverse Action reporting requirements of this act prior to the effective date of withdrawal.

D. Nothing contained in this Compact shall be construed to invalidate or prevent any Professional Counseling licensure agreement or other cooperative arrangement between a Member State and a non-Member State that does not conflict with the provisions of this Compact.

E. This Compact may be amended by the Member States. No amendment to this Compact shall become effective and binding upon any Member State until it is enacted into the laws of all Member States.

Section 19. Section 58-60a-114 is enacted to read:

58-60a-114. Section 14 -- Construction and severability.

This Compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this Compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this Compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any Member State or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this Compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this Compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any Member State, the Compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining Member States and in full force and effect as to the Member State affected as to all severable matters.

Section 20. Section 58-60a-115 is enacted to read:

58-60a-115. Section 15 -- Binding Effect of Compact and other Laws.

A. A Licensee providing Professional Counseling services in a Remote State under the Privilege to Practice shall adhere to the laws and regulations, including scope of practice, of the Remote State.

B. Nothing herein prevents the enforcement of any other law of a Member State that is not inconsistent with the Compact.

C. Any laws in a Member State in conflict with the Compact are superseded to the extent of the conflict.

D. Any lawful actions of the Commission, including all Rules and bylaws properly promulgated by the Commission, are binding upon the Member States.

E. All permissible agreements between the Commission and the Member States are binding in accordance with their terms.

F. In the event any provision of the Compact exceeds the constitutional limits imposed on the legislature of any Member State, the provision shall be ineffective to the extent of the conflict with the constitutional provision in question in that Member State.

Section 21. Section 58-60a-201 is enacted to read:

Part 2. Division Implementation

58-60a-201. Rulemaking authority -- State authority over scope of practice.

(1) The division may make rules in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, to implement this chapter.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision in Sections 58-60a-101 through 58-60a-115, Sections 58-60a-101 through 58-60a-115 do not supersede state law related to an individual's scope of practice under this title.

(ii) In the same proceeding, the juvenile court shall inform the child's parent, guardian, or other obligated individual, verbally and in writing, of the requirement to pay child support in accordance with Title 78B, Chapter 12, Utah Child Support Act.

(11) The juvenile court may not order an individual to pay child support for a child in state custody if:

(a) the individual's only form of income is a government-issued disability benefit;

(b) the benefit described in Subsection (11)(a) is issued because of the individual's disability, and not the child's disability; and

(c) the individual provides the juvenile court and the office evidence that the individual meets the requirements of Subsections (11)(a) and (b).

(12) After the juvenile court or the office establishes an individual's child support obligation ordered under Subsection (3), the office shall waive the obligation without further order of the juvenile court if:

(a) the individual's child support obligation is established [~~under Subsection 78B-12-205(6) or Section 78B-12-302~~] under the low income table in Section 78B-12-302 or 78B-12-304; or

(b) the individual's only source of income is a means-tested, income replacement payment of aid, including:

(i) cash assistance provided under Title 35A, Chapter 3, Part 3, Family Employment Program; or

(ii) cash benefits received under General Assistance, social security income, or social security disability income.

Section 3. Section 78B-12-205 is amended to read:

78B-12-205. Calculation of obligations.

(1) Each parent's child support obligation shall be established in proportion to their adjusted gross incomes, unless the low income table is applicable. Except during periods of court-ordered parent-time as set forth in Section 78B-12-216, the parents are obligated to pay their proportionate shares of the base combined child support obligation. If physical custody of the child changes from that assumed in the original order, modification of the order is not necessary, even if only one parent is specifically ordered to pay in the order.

[~~(2) Except in cases of joint physical custody and split custody as defined in Section 78B-12-102 and~~

~~in cases where the obligor's adjusted gross income is $1,050 or less monthly, the base child support award shall be determined as follows:~~]

(2) Except in cases of joint physical custody and split custody and except as provided in Subsection (4)(a), the base child support award shall be determined as follows:

(a) combine the adjusted gross incomes of the parents and determine the base combined child support obligation using the base combined child support obligation table; and

(b) calculate each parent's proportionate share of the base combined child support obligation by multiplying the combined child support obligation by each parent's percentage of combined adjusted gross income.

(3) In the case of an incapacitated adult child, any amount that the incapacitated adult child can contribute to the incapacitated adult child's support may be considered in the determination of child support and may be used to justify a reduction in the amount of support ordered, except that in the case of orders involving multiple children, the reduction shall not be greater than the effect of reducing the total number of children by one in the child support table calculation.

[~~(4) In cases where the monthly adjusted gross income of either parent is between $650 and $1,050, the base child support award shall be the lesser of the amount calculated in accordance with Subsection (2) and the amount calculated using the low income table.~~]

(4) (a) In cases where the monthly adjusted gross income of either parent is less than the highest amount of monthly adjusted gross income shown in the low income table, the base child support award shall be the lesser of the amount calculated under Subsection (2) and the amount calculated using the low income table.

(b) If the income and number of children is found in an area of the low income table in which no amount is shown, the base combined child support obligation table is to be used but the base child support may not be less than $30.

(5) The base combined child support obligation table provides combined child support obligations for up to six children. For more than six children, additional amounts may be added to the base child support obligation shown. Unless rebutted by Subsection 78B-12-210(3), the amount ordered may not be less than the amount which would be ordered for up to six children.

[~~(6) If the monthly adjusted gross income of either parent is $649 or less, the tribunal shall determine the amount of the child support obligation on a case-by-case basis, but the base child support award may not be less than $30.~~]

(6) A base child support award on a sole custody worksheet may not be less than $30.

(7) The amount shown on the table is the support amount for the total number of children, not an amount per child.

(8) For all worksheets, income and support award figures shall be rounded to the nearest dollar.

Section 4. Section 78B-12-210 is amended to read:

78B-12-210. Application of guidelines -- Use of ordered child support.

(1) The guidelines in this chapter apply to any judicial or administrative order establishing or modifying an award of child support entered on or after July 1, 1989.

(2) (a) The guidelines shall be applied as a rebuttable presumption in establishing or modifying the amount of temporary or permanent child support.

(b) The rebuttable presumption means the provisions and considerations required by the guidelines, the award amounts resulting from the application of the guidelines, and the use of worksheets consistent with these guidelines are presumed to be correct, unless rebutted under the provisions of this section.

(3) A written finding or specific finding on the record supporting the conclusion that complying with a provision of the guidelines or ordering an award amount resulting from use of the guidelines would be unjust, inappropriate, or not in the best interest of a child in a particular case is sufficient to rebut the presumption in that case. If an order rebuts the presumption through findings, it is considered a deviated order.

(4) The following shall be considered deviations from the guidelines, if:

(a) the order includes a written finding that it is a deviation from the guidelines;

(b) the guidelines worksheet has:

(i) the box checked for a deviation; and

(ii) an explanation as to the reason; or

(c) the deviation is made because there were more children than provided for in the guidelines table.

(5) If the amount in the order and the amount on the guidelines worksheet differ by $10 or more:

(a) the order is considered deviated; and

(b) the incomes listed on the worksheet may not be used in adjusting support for emancipation.

(6) (a) Natural or adoptive children of either parent who live in the home of that parent and are not children in common to both parties may at the option of either party be taken into account under the guidelines in setting a child support award, as provided in Subsection (7).

(b) Additional worksheets shall be prepared that compute the base child support award of the respective parents for the additional children. The base child support award shall then be subtracted from the appropriate parent's income before determining the award in the instant case.

(7) In a proceeding to adjust or modify an existing award, consideration of natural or adoptive children born after entry of the order and who are not in common to both parties may be applied to mitigate an increase in the award but may not be applied:

(a) for the benefit of the obligee if the credit would increase the support obligation of the obligor from the most recent order; or

(b) for the benefit of the obligor if the amount of support received by the obligee would be decreased from the most recent order.

(8) (a) If a child support order has not been issued or modified within the previous three years, a parent, legal guardian, or the office may move the court to adjust the amount of a child support order.

(b) Upon receiving a motion under Subsection (8)(a), the court shall, taking into account the best interests of the child:

(i) determine whether there is a difference between the payor's ordered support amount and the payor's support amount that would be required under the guidelines; and

(ii) if there is a difference as described in Subsection (8)(b)(i), adjust the payor's ordered support amount to the payor's support amount provided in the guidelines if:

(A) the difference is 10% or more;

(B) the difference is not of a temporary nature; and

(C) the order adjusting the payor's ordered support amount does not deviate from the guidelines.

(c) A showing of a substantial change in circumstances is not necessary for an adjustment under this Subsection (8).

(9) (a) A parent, legal guardian, or the office may at any time petition the court to adjust the amount of a child support order if there has been a substantial change in circumstances. A change in the base combined child support obligation table [~~set forth in Section 78B-12-301~~] is not a substantial change in circumstances for the purposes of this Subsection (9).

(b) For purposes of this Subsection (9), a substantial change in circumstances may include:

(i) material changes in custody;

(ii) material changes in the relative wealth or assets of the parties;

(iii) material changes of 30% or more in the income of a parent;

(iv) material changes in the employment potential and ability of a parent to earn;

(v) material changes in the medical needs of the child; or

(vi) material changes in the legal responsibilities of either parent for the support of others.

(c) Upon receiving a petition under Subsection (9)(a), the court shall, taking into account the best interests of the child:

(i) determine whether a substantial change has occurred;

(ii) if a substantial change has occurred, determine whether the change results in a difference of 15% or more between the payor's ordered support amount and the payor's support amount that would be required under the guidelines; and

(iii) adjust the payor's ordered support amount to that which is provided for in the guidelines if:

(A) there is a difference of 15% or more; and

(B) the difference is not of a temporary nature.

(10) Notice of the opportunity to adjust a support order under Subsections (8) and (9) shall be included in each child support order.

Section 5. Section 78B-12-301 is amended to read:

78B-12-301. Base combined child support obligation table -- Both parents -- Child support orders entered before January 1, 2023.

The table in this section shall be used to:

(1) establish a child support order entered for the first time on or after January 1, 2008, but before January 1, 2023;

(2) modify a child support order entered for the first time on or after January 1, 2008, but before January 1, 2023;

(3) modify a temporary judicial child support order established on or before December 31, 2007, if the new order is entered on or after January 1, 2008, but before January 1, 2023; or

(4) modify a final child support order entered on or before December 31, 2007, if the modification is made on or after January 1, 2010, but before January 1, 2025.

30-3-32. Parent-time -- Definitions -- Considerations for parent-time -- Relocation.

[~~(1) It is the intent of the Legislature to promote parent-time at a level consistent with all parties' interests.~~]

(1) As used in Sections 30-3-32 through 30-3-37:

(a) "Child" means the child of divorcing, separating, or adjudicated parents.

(2) (a) A court shall consider as primary the safety and well-being of the child and the parent who experiences domestic or family violence.

(b) Absent a showing by a preponderance of evidence of real harm or substantiated potential harm to the child:

(i) it is in the best interests of the child of divorcing, divorced, or adjudicated parents to have frequent, meaningful, and continuing access to each parent following separation or divorce;

(ii) each divorcing, separating, or adjudicated parent is entitled to and responsible for frequent, meaningful, and continuing access with the parent's child consistent with the child's best interests; and

(iii) it is in the best interests of the child to have both parents actively involved in parenting the child.

[~~(c)~~] (3) An order issued by a court pursuant to Title 78B, Chapter 7, Part 6, Cohabitant Abuse Protective Orders, shall be considered evidence of real harm or substantiated potential harm to the child.

[~~(a) "Child" means the child or children of divorcing, separating, or adjudicated parents.~~]

[~~(b) Subject to Subsection (5), "Christmas school vacation" means:~~]

[~~(i) for a single child, the time period beginning on the evening the child is released from school for the Christmas or winter school break and ending the evening before the child returns to school; and~~]

[~~(ii) for multiple children when the children's school schedules differ, at the option of the parent exercising the holiday or the parent's half of the holiday, the time period may begin on the first evening all children's schools are released for the Christmas or winter school break and end the evening before any of the children returns to school.~~]

[~~(c) "Extended parent-time" means a period of parent-time other than a weekend, holiday as provided in Subsections 30-3-35(2)(f) and (2)(g), religious holidays as provided in Subsections 30-3-33(3) and (17), and "Christmas school vacation."~~]

[~~(d) "Supervised parent-time" means parent-time that requires the noncustodial parent to be accompanied during parent-time by an individual approved by the court.~~]

[~~(g) "Virtual parent–time" means parent–time facilitated by tools such as telephone, email, instant messaging, video conferencing, and other wired or wireless technologies over the Internet or other communication media to supplement in–person visits between a noncustodial parent and a child or between a child and the custodial parent when the child is staying with the noncustodial parent. Virtual parent–time is designed to supplement, not replace, in–person parent–time.~~]

(4) If a parent relocates because of an act of domestic violence or family violence by the other parent, the court shall make specific findings and orders with regards to the application of Section 30–3–37.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TO WORK TOGETHER TO ADDRESS THE CLIMATE, PUBLIC LANDS, AND CARBON SEQUESTRATION

Chief Sponsor: Keven J. Stratton
Senate Sponsor: David P. Hinkins

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This resolution recognizes and encourages best management practices to reduce carbon emissions while also preserving and expanding forests and other lands to improve climate outcomes.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- recognizes certain challenges and concerns with current land and forest management practices and how those practices conflict with goals to slow and reverse climate change; and
- encourages improved land management practices, including coordination with all relevant parties, to reverse trends of carbon emissions with new and evolving technology, expand natural carbon sequestration, and improve health, safety, and forest and ecosystem vitality.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, in his January 27, 2021, Executive Order, President Biden stated that “the United States and the world face a profound climate crisis” and to deal with it he pledged “to implement a government-wide approach that reduces climate pollution in every sector of the economy, increases resilience to the impacts of climate change, protects public health, and conserves our lands, waters, and biodiversity”;

WHEREAS, at the recent United Nations COP 26 climate meeting in Glasgow, Scotland, President Biden announced “a new plan to conserve global forests, halt forest loss, restore critical carbon sinks, and improve land management,” and committed the United States to an international declaration to reverse global deforestation by protecting forests and mitigating wildfire damage and restoring degraded land by 2030;

WHEREAS, many people are concerned that rising levels of carbon dioxide (CO2) and green house gases (GHGs) resulting from the continued use of fossil fuels are causing climate changes that threaten human health and wellbeing through more frequent extreme weather events, damage to critical ecosystems, threats to food supplies, and other harms;

WHEREAS, the primary approaches to slow or reduce the levels of CO2 and other GHGs being pursued by climate policy advocates would rapidly replace the current “all-of-the-above” energy mix with an increasingly heavy reliance on renewable sources;

WHEREAS, there is wide concern over some of these proposed climate policies, including that the policies would increase energy costs, damage the economic competitiveness of the United States, and undermine national security;

WHEREAS, the national debate over climate change policy is becoming increasingly heated and divisive;

WHEREAS, in contrast, the state of Utah has adopted an “all-of-the-above” energy approach policy and goals as Utah’s strategy to ensure that energy is affordable and reliable;

WHEREAS, in such a policy environment, the wisest course is to emphasize first adopting the most efficacious elements of the various proposed responses to climate change on which there is wide agreement;

WHEREAS, national and international policies, agreements and reports, including specific mention in the Paris Accords, multiple reports by the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the international “4 per 1,000 Initiative” and President Biden’s proposed climate policy, among others, all recognize the importance of natural systems in removing and sequestering GHGs and call for these natural sinks to be protected and expanded where possible;

WHEREAS, forests and rangelands, including those managed by the federal government in Utah and nationally, can either be sinks for atmospheric carbon or emitters of CO2 and other GHGs, largely depending on how they are managed;

WHEREAS, for a number of reasons, federally-managed land in Utah and nationally that had been functioning as carbon sinks are increasingly becoming emitters of CO2 and other GHGs;

WHEREAS, the same conditions that convert carbon sinks into GHG emitters, such as wildland fire and soil erosion, also create a wide range of economic, health, social, and environmental problems;

WHEREAS, a growing body of scientific research, practical application, and demonstrated results on tens of millions of acres in the United States and around the world prove that in many cases degraded natural systems can be restored as vitally important carbon sinks and that the sequestration potential of existing sinks can be vastly increased by applying proven land management practices;

WHEREAS, while the importance of natural systems functioning as sinks for GHGs is widely accepted, their true potential is often not recognized;

WHEREAS, some scientists have calculated that globally applying these widely demonstrated and proven best management practices to forests, rangelands, and agricultural lands could sequester all of the CO2 produced by human activities from the beginning of the Industrial Revolution and continue to sequester enough to achieve not just net zero emissions but net negative emissions for decades to come;

WHEREAS, this research and practical experience have also shown that these same advanced and proven sequestration and management techniques also simultaneously produce a cascade of valuable and significant environmental and economic co-benefits, including greater overall ecosystem integrity and productivity, increased biodiversity, improved water quantity and quality, better fish and wildlife habitat, greater drought resilience, reduced flooding risk, more and better forage for wildlife and livestock, sustainable timber, and enhanced recreation opportunities, among others;

WHEREAS, these associated co-benefits are so valuable and cost effective in their own right that tens of millions of acres in the United States and around the world are being managed solely to generate them and not to achieve any climate-related goals;

WHEREAS, at a minimum, responsible land stewardship requires employing the best possible practices to protect, and enhance where possible, the land and resources over which the steward has responsibility;

WHEREAS, because some previous carbon sinks may not be repairable for decades or even centuries, if at all, prudent stewardship dictates putting primary emphasis on protecting them from degradation to the maximum possible extent;

WHEREAS, for a number of reasons, the federal government has not met this minimal standard of stewardship in its management of much of the public lands and resources in Utah and across the country;

WHEREAS, by failing in this stewardship responsibility, the federal government has caused a wide range of environmental and economic harm while at the same time also converting what had previously been effective carbon sinks into emitters of CO2 and other GHGs;

WHEREAS, protecting and enhancing natural carbon sinks is clearly a non-controversial win-win solution in the climate change debate because it addresses the concerns about rising GHG levels while at the same time largely alleviating the concerns of those resistant to many of the other approaches being considered to achieve this goal;

WHEREAS, in addition to helping control the rise in GHG emissions, the many co-benefits generated by adopting this win-win approach increases resilience to projected climate change and better allows for adaptation and mitigation;

WHEREAS, because of these many recognized co-benefits that carbon sinks generate, fostering them should bring an important measure of unity among all parties in the climate policy debate since all can agree on the value of this approach;

WHEREAS, research is revealing significant human health impacts from exposure to wildfire smoke and small particulate matter, including respiratory and heart issues and an increase in premature births, among others;

WHEREAS, the Salt Lake City metropolitan area has had a number of days in 2021 with the worst or close to the worst air quality of any metropolitan area in the world, and studies have found that wildland fire smoke contributes close to half of the concentration of these pollutant levels in western states; and

WHEREAS, efforts to protect and enhance natural carbon sinks are easily and rapidly scalable in Utah and nationally and would provide numerous and immediate benefits:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, challenges the Biden Administration and Congress to make meeting the federal government's stewardship responsibility in managing the federal public lands their highest priority in implementing any climate policy, thereby protecting and enhancing natural carbon sinks and, further, that they undertake this effort while recognizing Utah's state sovereignty and their statutory mandates under the Federal Land Policy and Management Act and the National Forest Management Act to fully coordinate and integrate these activities with the relevant land management and resource management plans of the state of Utah, Native American tribes, and local governments.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED the Legislature and the Governor find that the standard of responsible federal land and resources stewardship should be to achieve on federally-managed public lands the highest level of soil and ecosystem health and productivity that is being achieved on comparable land by tribal, state, local, and private managers or make a public report on why the agency is unable to restore this level of ecosystem health and productivity.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor recognize that while increased funding and attention is being proposed, also challenge the Biden Administration and Congress to urgently initiate and fund emergency efforts to expand forest and rangeland fuel reduction and other fire pre-suppression activities to the maximum acreage of federal land as quickly as possible to prevent the harm and damage now being caused on millions of acres annually.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor declare that until adequate funding is provided for such an emergency effort to protect and enhance natural sinks on federally-managed land, no funding for such purposes should be provided for similar activities in other countries unless the federal government first provides a detailed analysis justifying spending those funds abroad instead of spending them to further improve the health and fire resistance of forests and rangelands in this country.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor find that the federal government should apply a social benefits of carbon control cost-benefits funding test to identify and compare the co-benefits of protecting, rehabilitating, and expanding carbon sinks in natural systems on federally-managed land as a mechanism to control GHGs with the co-benefits that might be generated with any other alternative approach and make those calculations available to the public.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor urge Congress to request that the U.S. Government Accountability Office analyze the potential capabilities of federal land management agencies to protect, enhance, and expand carbon sinks on federally-managed land in response to a maximum effort directive and estimate the annual costs of doing so, and, further, request, and provide funding if necessary, for several appropriate professional organizations such as the National Association of State Foresters and the Society for Range Management to undertake a similar analysis and include any recommendations for changes in federal policy, adoption of new management techniques, and any other suggestions that would improve the effectiveness and efficiency of such a maximum effort.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor urge all state agencies with authority to manage state-managed public lands to continue to manage them in ways that increase soil carbon sequestration and to the extent they can, to encourage greater soil carbon sequestration on private lands.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Majority Leader of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the United States Secretary of the Interior, the United States Secretary of Agriculture, the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services, the United States Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, the United States Secretary of Commerce, the United States Secretary of Energy, the United States Secretary of Transportation, the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the leader of each legislative house in each of the other states, and the members of Utah's congressional delegation.

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This concurrent resolution addresses improving air quality through encouraging rail development and zero emission technology deployment.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- addresses air quality and its impacts in the state;
- describes solutions to reduce air pollution;
- describes the rail transportation impact on air quality;

- acknowledges the role of certain governmental agencies in the shift of freight traffic to rail;
- highlights that technology solutions, including information and communications technology and zero emission locomotives, can further reduce rail emission impacts;
- addresses funding and innovative procurement solutions;
- encourages the phased replacement of existing locomotives used in railroad and industrial plant switching services in nonattainment areas in the state with zero emission locomotives; and
- encourages the transition of rail transportation in general to zero emission locomotives.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, Utah continuously demonstrates the state's commitment to and interest in the state's air quality;

WHEREAS, good air quality is a vital component of the economy and human health in Utah and research conducted by Utah universities shows the harmful impacts of air pollution on human health, with the greatest negative impact on the health of children, the elderly, and those with compromised immune systems;

WHEREAS, for example, exposure to direct small particulate matter exacerbates asthma, increases the risk of cancer, and leads to acute respiratory symptoms, bronchitis, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, heart attacks, nervous system effects, lost work days, and premature death;

WHEREAS, there is now a broad range of technologically and economically viable solutions to significantly reduce air pollution and ensure that future economic and population growth does not compromise air quality;

WHEREAS, embracing zero emission technologies will help grow our state's robust clean technology sector;

WHEREAS, as of 2017, railroad transportation contributed 9.2% of NOx and 1.4% of the PM2.5 along the Wasatch Front;

WHEREAS, as of 2017, the Division of Air Quality found that locomotives used for short line, industrial plant, and switch engine operations contributed 3.4% of NOx and 0.16% of PM2.5 of the total Wasatch Front inventory of emissions, equivalent to approximately 1,828 tons of NOx and 19 tons of PM2.5;

WHEREAS, in addition to significant numbers of heavy haul freight locomotives operating in and through the state, as of 2017 there were approximately 63 short line locomotives, industrial plant locomotives, or switch engines operating in Utah;

WHEREAS, the majority of the short line locomotives, industrial plant locomotives, and switch engines operating in Utah are legacy platforms certified to the United States Environmental Protection Agency as meeting Tier 0 or Tier 0+ emission standards, and almost all emissions from these locomotives occur within two of Utah's PM2.5 nonattainment areas based on the United States National Ambient Air Quality Standards;

WHEREAS, under the federal Clean Air Act, an area where air pollution levels persistently exceed a National Ambient Air Quality Standard may be designated as a "nonattainment" area by the United States Environmental Protection Agency;

WHEREAS, designation as a nonattainment area requires the development of a State Implementation Plan with increasing mandatory requirements if the area does not return to attainment within prescribed timelines, and may result in the imposition of a Federal Implementation Plan and sanctions that could impact the availability and use of federal highway funds;

WHEREAS, the Utah Department of Transportation, other agencies of the state, and the Utah Inland Port Authority, a political subdivision of the state, can play a vital role in accelerating the modal shift of freight traffic to rail, helping to meet health and air quality goals;

WHEREAS, the Utah Inland Port Authority anticipates assisting in the reduction of trucks from the road and the modal shift to rail, while using the regulatory sandbox to test new freight movement and cargo handling equipment at the inland port to increase use of zero emission vehicles;

WHEREAS, to complement accelerating this modal shift to rail, a broad spectrum of technologies, including information and communications technologies that enable more efficient rail operation reducing fuel use and emissions, and entirely new locomotive power technologies such as hydrogen fuel cell-electric and battery-electric, must be encouraged and supported to further decrease total freight section emissions, including freight rail emissions;

WHEREAS, funding support and innovative procurement solutions made available through the Utah Department of Transportation and the Utah Inland Port Authority can assist private sector operators of short line locomotives, industrial plant locomotives, and switch engines with transitioning to zero emission technologies, including for freight rail, that can materially increase the state's air quality; and

WHEREAS, substantial federal funding is expected to be available to support this transition, and the Utah Department of Transportation and the Utah Inland Port Authority should maximize their efforts to secure the federal funding to facilitate deployment of zero emission technologies, including freight rail, that can materially increase the state's air quality:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, encourages the introduction of new zero emission locomotives operated by short line locomotives, industrial plant locomotives, and switch engines in nonattainment areas, a continued shift of freight transportation growth to rail to help meet the state's air quality goals, phasing out legacy locomotive engines in short line, industrial plant, and switch engine rail service in nonattainment areas in the state, and phasing in the use of zero emission engines to 100% use by short line locomotives, industrial plant locomotives, and switch engines by 2050.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor encourage, in addition to short line locomotives, industrial plant locomotives, and switch engines all rail transition to zero emission technologies, including commuter rail, passenger rail, and long haul freight rail.

General Description:

This resolution encourages all municipalities, public and private K-12 schools, universities, and organizations supporting youth athletic teams and activities to allow youth to wear religious clothing or headwear or to modify their uniforms to accommodate religious beliefs or personal values of modesty without barriers or limitations.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- acknowledges that all children and youth should have access to athletic teams and activities without barriers and limitations; and

- encourages all municipalities, public and private schools, and organizations that support athletic teams and activities to revise internal policies and allow all children and youth participating in athletic activities to wear religious clothing or headwear or to modify their uniforms to accommodate religious beliefs and personal values of modesty.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, Utah's children and youth participate in team sports and other athletic activities through municipal youth sports programs, public and private K-12 schools, colleges, universities, leagues, and clubs;

WHEREAS, participating in athletic teams and activities has many positive benefits for children and youth, like helping them develop friendships, develop leadership and teamwork skills, improve academic performance, improve mental and physical health, learn responsibility, and can lead to college scholarships and other enriching opportunities;

WHEREAS, if children and youth are excluded from athletic teams or activities at a young age, many will be hesitant to seek these opportunities again and miss out on the benefits and opportunities that would otherwise be available to them;

WHEREAS, children and youth who want to participate in athletic teams or activities should have access to those opportunities from an early age without barriers or limitations;

WHEREAS, municipalities, schools, and organizations that support athletic teams and activities should not use policies and practices that exclude children and youth who seek to observe the tenants of their religion or personal values of modesty through their clothing from participating, particularly with prohibitions against modifying uniforms to accommodate religious clothing and headwear and making modesty adjustments to uniforms, or by making it difficult to obtain permission to do so;

WHEREAS, over the past several years, many municipalities, states, and youth athletics organizations across the country and in Utah have created policies to allow young athletes to participate in athletic teams or activities while accommodating religious practices and beliefs and personal values of modesty without needing uniform waivers; and

WHEREAS, all schools and organizations in the state have an opportunity to foster the same inclusivity for all young athletes:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, encourages all municipalities, local education agencies, private K-12 schools, colleges, universities, leagues, athletic associations, and clubs with youth athletic teams or activities to evaluate and revise any policies and practices that prevent aspiring young athletes from participating, particularly those that would prevent participants from wearing religious clothing and headwear while participating, or prevent them from modifying athletic uniforms to accommodate religious practices and beliefs or sincerely held values about modesty.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and Governor encourage the State Board of Education and all local education agency governing boards to create policies allowing students to modify athletic uniforms to accommodate their religious clothing, headwear, practices and beliefs, or personal values of modesty without uniform waivers.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and Governor commend all organizations in the state that have proactively taken steps to allow children and youth participating in athletic teams and activities to wear religious clothing and headwear or make modesty adjustments to athletic uniforms, creating an inclusive environment for all of Utah's aspiring young athletes.

AMENDS:

Rule 409, Utah Rules of Evidence

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, two-thirds of all members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof:

As provided in Utah Constitution Article VIII, Section 4, the Legislature may amend rules of procedure and evidence adopted by the Utah Supreme Court upon a two-thirds vote of all members of both houses of the Legislature:

Section 1. Rule 26, Utah Rules of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Rule 26. General provisions governing disclosure of discovery.

(a) Disclosure. This rule applies unless changed or supplemented by a rule governing disclosure and discovery in a practice area.

(1) Initial disclosures. Except in cases exempt under paragraph (a)(3), a party must, without waiting for a discovery request, serve on the other parties:

(A) the name and, if known, the address and telephone number of:

(i) each individual likely to have discoverable information supporting its claims or defenses, unless solely for impeachment, identifying the subjects of the information; and

(ii) each fact witness the party may call in its case-in-chief and, except for an adverse party, a summary of the expected testimony;

(B) a copy of all documents, data compilations, electronically stored information, and tangible things in the possession or control of the party that the party may offer in its case-in-chief, except charts, summaries, and demonstrative exhibits that have not yet been prepared and must be disclosed in accordance with paragraph (a)(5);

(C) a computation of any damages claimed and a copy of all discoverable documents or evidentiary material on which such computation is based, including materials about the nature and extent of injuries suffered;

(D) a copy of any agreement under which any person may be liable to satisfy part or all of a judgment or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment; and

(E) a copy of all documents to which a party refers in its pleadings.

(2) Timing of initial disclosures. The disclosures required by paragraph (a)(1) must be served on the other parties:

(A) by a plaintiff within 14 days after the filing of the first answer to that plaintiff's complaint; and

(B) by a defendant within 42 days after the filing of that defendant's first answer to the complaint.

(3) Exemptions.

(A) Unless otherwise ordered by the court or agreed to by the parties, the requirements of paragraph (a)(1) do not apply to actions:

(i) for judicial review of adjudicative proceedings or rule making proceedings of an administrative agency;

(ii) governed by Rule 65B or Rule 65C;

(iii) to enforce an arbitration award; or

(iv) for water rights general adjudication under Title 73, Chapter 4, Determination of Water Rights.

(B) In an exempt action, the matters subject to disclosure under paragraph (a)(1) are subject to discovery under paragraph (b).

(4) Expert testimony.

(A) Disclosure of retained expert testimony. A party must, without waiting for a discovery request, serve on the other parties the following information regarding any person who may be used at trial to present evidence under Rule 702 of the Utah Rules of Evidence and who is retained or specially employed to provide expert testimony in the case or whose duties as an employee of the party regularly involve giving expert testimony: (i) the expert's name and qualifications, including a list of all publications authored within the preceding 10 years, and a list of any other cases in which the expert has testified as an expert at trial or by deposition within the preceding four years, (ii) a brief summary of the opinions to which the witness is expected to testify, (iii) the facts, data, and other information specific to the case that will be relied upon by the witness in forming those opinions, and (iv) the compensation to be paid for the witness's study and testimony.

(B) Limits on expert discovery. Further discovery may be obtained from an expert witness either by deposition or by written report. A deposition must not exceed four hours and the party taking the deposition must pay the expert's reasonable hourly fees for attendance at the deposition. A report must be signed by the expert and must contain a complete statement of all opinions the expert will offer at trial and the basis and reasons for them. Such an expert may not testify in a party's case-in-chief concerning any matter not fairly disclosed in the report. The party offering the expert must pay the costs for the report.

(C) Timing for expert discovery.

(i) The party who bears the burden of proof on the issue for which expert testimony is offered must serve on the other parties the information required by paragraph (a)(4)(A) within 14 days after the close of fact discovery. Within 14 days thereafter, the party opposing the expert may serve notice electing either a deposition of the expert pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B) and Rule 30, or a written report pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B). The deposition must occur, or the report must be served on the other parties, within 42 days after the election is served on the other parties. If no election is served on the other parties, then no further discovery of the expert must be permitted.

(ii) The party who does not bear the burden of proof on the issue for which expert testimony is offered must serve on the other parties the information required by paragraph (a)(4)(A) within 14 days after the later of (A) the date on which the disclosure under paragraph (a)(4)(C)(i) is due, or (B) service of the written report or the taking of the expert's deposition pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(C)(i). Within 14 days thereafter, the party opposing the expert may serve notice electing either a deposition of the expert pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B) and Rule 30, or a written report pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B). The deposition must occur, or the report must be served on the other parties, within 42 days after the election is served on the other parties. If no election is served on the other parties, then no further discovery of the expert must be permitted.

(iii) If the party who bears the burden of proof on an issue wants to designate rebuttal expert witnesses, it must serve on the other parties the information required by paragraph (a)(4)(A) within 14 days after the later of (A) the date on which the election under paragraph (a)(4)(C)(ii) is due or (B) service of the written report or the taking of the expert's deposition pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(C)(ii). Within 14 days thereafter, the party opposing the expert may serve notice electing either a deposition of the expert pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B) and Rule 30, or a written report pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B). The deposition must occur, or the report must be served on the other parties, within 42 days after the election is served on the other parties. If no election is served on the other parties, then no further discovery of the expert must be permitted. The court may preclude an expert disclosed only as a rebuttal expert from testifying in the case in chief.

(D) Multiparty actions. In multiparty actions, all parties opposing the expert must agree on either a report or a deposition. If all parties opposing the expert do not agree, then further discovery of the expert may be obtained only by deposition pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B) and Rule 30.

(E) Summary of non-retained expert testimony. If a party intends to present evidence at trial under Rule 702 of the Utah Rules of Evidence from any person other than an expert witness who is retained or specially employed to provide testimony in the case or a person whose duties as an employee of the party regularly involve giving expert testimony, that party must serve on the other parties a written summary of the facts and opinions to which the witness is expected to testify in accordance with the deadlines set forth in paragraph (a)(4)(C). Such a witness cannot be required to provide a report pursuant to paragraph (a)(4)(B). A deposition of such a witness may not exceed four hours and, unless manifest injustice would result, the party taking the deposition must pay the expert's reasonable hourly fees for attendance at the deposition.

(5) Pretrial disclosures.

(A) A party must, without waiting for a discovery request, serve on the other parties:

(i) the name and, if not previously provided, the address and telephone number of each witness, unless solely for impeachment, separately identifying witnesses the party will call and witnesses the party may call;

(ii) the name of witnesses whose testimony is expected to be presented by transcript of a deposition;

(iii) designations of the proposed deposition testimony; and

(iv) a copy of each exhibit, including charts, summaries, and demonstrative exhibits, unless solely for impeachment, separately identifying those which the party will offer and those which the party may offer.

(B) Disclosure required by paragraph (a)(5)(A) must be served on the other parties at least 28 days before trial. Disclosures required by paragraph (a)(5)(A)(i) and (a)(5)(A)(ii) must also be filed on the date that they are served. At least 14 days before trial, a party must serve any counter designations of deposition testimony and any objections and grounds for the objections to the use of any deposition, witness, or exhibit if the grounds for the objection are apparent before trial. Other than objections under Rules 402 and 403 of the Utah Rules of Evidence, other objections not listed are waived unless excused by the court for good cause.

(6) Form of disclosure and discovery production. Rule 34 governs the form in which all documents, data compilations, electronically stored information, tangible things, and evidentiary material should be produced under this Rule.

(b) Discovery scope.

(1) In general. Parties may discover any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the claim or defense of any party if the discovery satisfies the standards of proportionality set forth below.

(2) Privileged matters.

(A) Privileged matters that are not discoverable or admissible in any proceeding of any kind or character include:

(i) all information in any form provided during and created specifically as part of a request for an investigation, the investigation, findings, or conclusions of peer review, care review, or quality assurance processes of any organization of health care providers as defined in [~~the~~] Utah Code Title 78B, Chapter 3, Part 4, Utah Health Care Malpractice Act, for the purpose of evaluating care provided to reduce morbidity and mortality or to improve the quality of medical care, or for the purpose of peer review of the ethics, competence, or professional conduct of any health care provider[~~.~~]; and

(ii) except as provided in paragraph (b)(2)(C), (D), or (E), all communications, materials, and information in any form specifically created for or during a medical candor process under Utah Code Title 78B, Chapter 3, Part 4a, Utah Medical Candor Act, including any findings or conclusions from the investigation and any offer of compensation.

(B) Disclosure or use in a medical candor process of any communication, material, or information in any form that contains any information described in paragraph (b)(2)(A)(i) does not waive any privilege or protection against admissibility or discovery of the information under paragraph (b)(2)(A)(i).

(C) Any communication, material, or information in any form that is made or provided in the ordinary course of business, including a medical record or a business record, that is otherwise discoverable or admissible and is not created for or during a medical candor process is not privileged by the use or disclosure of the communication, material, or information during a medical candor process.

(D) (i) Any information that is required to be documented in a patient's medical record under state or federal law is not privileged by the use or disclosure of the information during a medical candor process.

(ii) Information described in paragraph (b)(2)(D)(i) does not include an individual's mental impressions, conclusions, or opinions that are formed outside the course and scope of the patient's care and treatment and are used or disclosed in a medical candor process.

(E) (i) Any communication, material, or information in any form that is provided to an affected party before the affected party's written agreement to participate in a medical candor process is not privileged by the use or disclosure of the communication, material, or information during a medical candor process.

(ii) Any communication, material, or information described in paragraph (b)(2)(E)(i) does not include a written notice described in Utah Code section 78B-3-452.

(F) The terms defined in Utah Code section 78B-3-450 apply to paragraphs (b)(2)(A)(ii), (B), (C), (D), and (E).

(G) Nothing in this paragraph (b)(2) shall prevent a party from raising any other privileges provided by law or rule as to the admissibility or discovery of any communication, information, or material described in paragraph (b)(2)(A), (B), (C), (D), or (E).

[~~(2)~~] (3) Proportionality. Discovery and discovery requests are proportional if:

(A) the discovery is reasonable, considering the needs of the case, the amount in controversy, the complexity of the case, the parties' resources, the importance of the issues, and the importance of the discovery in resolving the issues;

(B) the likely benefits of the proposed discovery outweigh the burden or expense;

(C) the discovery is consistent with the overall case management and will further the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of the case;

(D) the discovery is not unreasonably cumulative or duplicative;

(E) the information cannot be obtained from another source that is more convenient, less burdensome, or less expensive; and

(F) the party seeking discovery has not had sufficient opportunity to obtain the information by discovery or otherwise, taking into account the parties' relative access to the information.

[~~(3)~~] (4) Burden. The party seeking discovery always has the burden of showing proportionality and relevance. To ensure proportionality, the court may enter orders under Rule 37.

[~~(4)~~] (5) Electronically stored information. A party claiming that electronically stored information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost must describe the source of the electronically stored information, the nature and extent of the burden, the nature of the information not provided, and any other information that will enable other parties to evaluate the claim.

[~~(5)~~] (6) Trial preparation materials. A party may obtain otherwise discoverable documents and tangible things prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial by or for another party or by or for that other party's representative (including the party's attorney, consultant, surety, indemnitor, insurer, or agent) only upon a showing that the party seeking discovery has substantial need of the materials and that the party is unable without undue hardship to obtain substantially equivalent materials by other means. In ordering discovery of such materials, the court must protect against disclosure of the mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal theories of an attorney or other representative of a party.

[~~(6)~~] (7) Statement previously made about the action. A party may obtain without the showing required in paragraph [~~(b)(5)~~] (b)(6) a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that party. Upon request, a person not a party may obtain without the required showing a statement about the action or its subject matter previously made by that person. If the request is refused, the person may move for a court order under Rule 37. A statement previously made is (A) a written statement signed or approved by the person making it, or (B) a stenographic, mechanical, electronic, or other recording, or a transcription thereof, which is a substantially verbatim recital of an oral statement by the person making it and contemporaneously recorded.

[~~(7)~~] (8) Trial preparation; experts.

(A) Trial-preparation protection for draft reports or disclosures. Paragraph [~~(b)(5)~~] (b)(6) protects drafts of any report or disclosure required under paragraph (a)(4), regardless of the form in which the draft is recorded.

(B) Trial-preparation protection for communications between a party's attorney and expert witnesses. Paragraph [~~(b)(5)~~] (b)(6) protects communications between the party's attorney and any witness required to provide disclosures under paragraph (a)(4), regardless of the form of the communications, except to the extent that the communications:

(i) relate to compensation for the expert's study or testimony;

(ii) identify facts or data that the party's attorney provided and that the expert considered in forming the opinions to be expressed; or

(iii) identify assumptions that the party's attorney provided and that the expert relied on in forming the opinions to be expressed.

(C) Expert employed only for trial preparation. Ordinarily, a party may not, by interrogatories or otherwise, discover facts known or opinions held by an expert who has been retained or specially employed by another party in anticipation of litigation or to prepare for trial and who is not expected to be called as a witness at trial. A party may do so only:

(i) as provided in Rule 35(b); or

(ii) on showing exceptional circumstances under which it is impracticable for the party to obtain facts or opinions on the same subject by other means.

[~~(8)~~] (9) Claims of privilege or protection of trial preparation materials.

(A) Information withheld. If a party withholds discoverable information by claiming that it is privileged or prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial, the party must make the claim expressly and must describe the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced in a manner that, without revealing the information itself, will enable other parties to evaluate the claim.

(B) Information produced. If a party produces information that the party claims is privileged or prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial, the producing party may notify any receiving party of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a receiving party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The producing party must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(c) Methods, sequence, and timing of discovery; tiers; limits on standard discovery; extraordinary discovery.

(1) Methods of discovery. Parties may obtain discovery by one or more of the following methods: depositions upon oral examination or written questions; written interrogatories; production of documents or things or permission to enter upon land or other property, for inspection and other purposes; physical and mental examinations; requests for admission; and subpoenas other than for a court hearing or trial.

(2) Sequence and timing of discovery. Methods of discovery may be used in any sequence, and the fact that a party is conducting discovery must not delay any other party's discovery. Except for cases exempt under paragraph (a)(3), a party may not seek discovery from any source before that party's initial disclosure obligations are satisfied.

(3) Definition of tiers for standard discovery. Actions claiming $50,000 or less in damages are permitted standard discovery as described for Tier 1. Actions claiming more than $50,000 and less than $300,000 in damages are permitted standard discovery as described for Tier 2. Actions claiming $300,000 or more in damages are permitted standard discovery as described for Tier 3. Absent an accompanying damage claim for more than $300,000, actions claiming non-monetary relief are permitted standard discovery as described for Tier 2. Domestic relations actions are permitted standard discovery as described for Tier 4.

(4) Definition of damages. For purposes of determining standard discovery, the amount of damages includes the total of all monetary damages sought (without duplication for alternative theories) by all parties in all claims for relief in the original pleadings.

(5) Limits on standard fact discovery. Standard fact discovery per side (plaintiffs collectively, defendants collectively, and third-party defendants collectively) in each tier is as follows. The days to complete standard fact discovery are calculated from the date the first defendant's first disclosure is due and do not include expert discovery under paragraphs (a)(4)(C) and (D).

Tier	Amount of Damages	Total Fact Deposition Hours	Rule 33 Interrogatories including all discrete subparts	Rule 34 Requests for Production	Rule 36 Requests for Admission	Days to Complete Fact Discovery
1	$50,000 or less	3	0	5	5	120
2	More than $50,000 and less than $300,00 or non-monetary relief	15	10	10	10	180
3	$300,000 or more	30	20	20	20	210
4	Domestic relations actions	4	10	10	10	90

(6) Extraordinary discovery. To obtain discovery beyond the limits established in paragraph (c)(5), a party must:

(A) before the close of standard discovery and after reaching the limits of standard discovery imposed by these rules, file a stipulated statement that extraordinary discovery is necessary and proportional under paragraph (b)(2) and, for each party represented by an attorney, a statement that the attorney consulted with the client about the request for extraordinary discovery;

(B) before the close of standard discovery and after reaching the limits of standard discovery imposed by these rules, file a request for extraordinary discovery under Rule 37(a); or

(C) obtain an expanded discovery schedule under Rule 100A.

(d) Requirements for disclosure or response; disclosure or response by an organization; failure to disclose; initial and supplemental disclosures and responses.

(1) A party must make disclosures and responses to discovery based on the information then known or reasonably available to the party.

(2) If the party providing disclosure or responding to discovery is a corporation, partnership, association, or governmental agency, the party must act through one or more officers, directors, managing agents, or other persons, who must make disclosures and responses to discovery based on the information then known or reasonably available to the party.

(3) A party is not excused from making disclosures or responses because the party has not completed investigating the case, the party challenges the sufficiency of another party's disclosures or responses, or another party has not made disclosures or responses.

(4) If a party fails to disclose or to supplement timely a disclosure or response to discovery, that party may not use the undisclosed witness, document, or material at any hearing or trial unless the failure is harmless or the party shows good cause for the failure.

(5) If a party learns that a disclosure or response is incomplete or incorrect in some important way, the party must timely serve on the other parties the additional or correct information if it has not been made known to the other parties. The supplemental disclosure or response must state why the additional or correct information was not previously provided.

(e) Signing discovery requests, responses, and objections. Every disclosure, request for discovery, response to a request for discovery, and objection to a request for discovery must be in writing and signed by at least one attorney of record or by the party if the party is not represented. The signature of the attorney or party is a certification under Rule 11. If a request or response is not signed, the receiving party does not need to take any action with respect to it. If a certification is made in violation of the rule, the court, upon motion or upon its own initiative, may take any action authorized by Rule 11 or Rule 37(b).

(f) Filing. Except as required by these rules or ordered by the court, a party must not file with the court a disclosure, a request for discovery, or a response to a request for discovery, but must file only the certificate of service stating that the disclosure, request for discovery, or response has been served on the other parties and the date of service.

Section 2. Rule 409, Utah Rules of Evidence is amended to read:

Rule 409. Payment of Medical and Similar Expenses; Expressions of Apology; Medical Candor Process.

(a) Evidence of furnishing, promising to pay, or offering to pay medical, hospital, or similar expenses resulting from an injury is not admissible to prove liability for the injury.

(b) Evidence of unsworn statements, affirmations, gestures, or conduct made to a patient or a person associated with the patient by a defendant that expresses the following is not admissible in a malpractice action against a health care provider or an employee of a health care provider to prove liability for an injury[~~.~~]:

(b) (1) apology, sympathy, commiseration, condolence, compassion, or general sense of benevolence; or

(b) (2) a description of the sequence of events relating to the unanticipated outcome of medical care or the significance of events.

(c) Evidence of any communication, information, material, or conduct created for or during a medical candor process under Utah Code Title 78B, Chapter 3, Part 4a, Utah Medical Candor Act, is not admissible in a malpractice action against a health care provider or an employee of a health care provider to prove liability for an injury, including:

(c) (1) any findings or conclusions of an investigation under Utah Code section 78B-3-451 that are shared with a patient or a representative of a patient; or

(c) (2) any offer of compensation made to the patient or a representative of a patient during or as part of the medical candor process.

(d) The terms defined in Utah Code section 78B-3-450 apply to paragraph (c).

Section 3. Effective date.

This resolution takes effect upon approval by a constitutional two-thirds vote of all members elected to each house, only if H.B. 344, Utah Medical Candor Act (2022 General Session), passes the Legislature and becomes law on May 4, 2022.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- declares that the state will prospectively pick up and pay required employee contributions up to a maximum of 2.59% of each employee's compensation for all state employees who are members of the New Public Safety and Firefighter Tier II Contributory Retirement System;
- includes provisions relating to the employer pick up; and
- provides that an equal nonelective contribution will be made to public safety and firefighters who are members of the Tier II Defined Contribution Plan.

Special Clauses:

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, agencies of the state employ employees who are eligible for and participate as members in the New Public Safety and Firefighter Tier II Contributory Retirement System administered by the Utah Retirement Systems;

WHEREAS, in accordance with federal and state law, including Section 414(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, employers may take formal action to pick up required employee contributions, which will be paid by the employer in lieu of employee contributions;

WHEREAS, the state, in the 2020 General Session through H.C.R. 9, Concurrent Resolution Authorizing Pick Up of Public Safety and Firefighter Employee Retirement Contributions, took action to formally pick up a maximum of 2% of an employee's compensation, which represents a portion of the employee contributions required to be paid under Subsection 49-23-301(2), for all state employees participating in the New Public Safety and Firefighters Tier II Contributory Retirement System;

WHEREAS, the state now desires to pick up an additional amount of the employee contribution required to be paid under Subsection 49-23-301(2) for all state employees participating in the New Public Safety and Firefighter Tier II Contributory Retirement System;

WHEREAS, approximately 23% of Utah, or 12,628,600 acres, receives the highest level of protection available as national parks, wilderness areas, national monuments, and other highly restricted Federal lands;

WHEREAS, Utah is an all-of-the-above energy state;

WHEREAS, fostering an innovative traditional and renewable energy economy is a growing trend with widespread support within the state and across the nation;

- encourages:
  - Utah's health and education systems to support adopted children in accessing adoption resources; and
  - United States Congress and the President of the United States to support efforts to address the technical oversight in federal law.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the state of Utah has a long history of welcoming children through international adoption;

WHEREAS, all Utahns benefit from the removal of barriers to citizenship attained through international adoption;

WHEREAS, in 2000, federal legislation aimed to provide automatic United States citizenship to all internationally-born children of United States citizens, subject to certain requirements;

WHEREAS, the federal legislation contained a technical oversight that prevents internationally-born individuals who were adopted by United States citizens as children but were over 18 years old at the time the federal legislation passed from receiving United States citizenship under the federal legislation;

WHEREAS, as a result of the technical oversight, an estimated tens of thousands of legally adopted internationally-born individuals born before February 27, 1983, remain without citizenship and potentially subject to deportation despite being adopted and raised by United States citizens;

WHEREAS, the technical oversight has caused dozens of known deportations of legally adopted internationally-born individuals, breaking up families and resulting in the return of the individuals to countries to which the individuals do not have any cultural or social ties;

WHEREAS, United States' legal international adoptees have been deported to countries such as Argentina, Brazil, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Germany, El Salvador, India, Ireland, Haiti, Iran, Japan, Mexico, Panama, Philippines, Russia, South Korea, St. Kitts, Taiwan, Ukraine, and Vietnam;

WHEREAS, legally adopted internationally-born individuals who are unable to obtain citizenship face numerous challenges, including challenges in accessing banking services, voting, applying for a passport or driver license, receiving social security or disability benefits, obtaining financial aid for postsecondary education, and joining the armed forces;

WHEREAS, legally adopted internationally-born individuals are often English language learners and face significant challenges throughout education systems;

WHEREAS, numerous studies have shown that adoptee populations are overrepresented in mental health counseling needs, experience increased risk of substance use disorders, and are uniquely impacted by various other mental health disorders that can stem from high levels of childhood stress;

WHEREAS, congressional efforts have been made to correct the technical oversight and grant United States citizenship to legally adopted internationally-born individuals who were excluded under the technical oversight because the individuals were older than 18 years old at the time the federal legislation passed;

WHEREAS, passage of federal legislation to address the technical oversight will result in the naturalization of legally adopted internationally-born adults who were brought as children to the United States under the promise of finding a permanent home and with the expectation of citizenship that matched the adults' adopted parents; and

WHEREAS, congressional efforts to correct the technical oversight have seen bipartisan support in

United States Congress and have widespread praise among the nation's leading adoption advocacy organizations:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, encourages United States Congress and the President of the United States to support any efforts to address the technical oversight in the federal legislation passed in 2000.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature and the Governor encourage Utah's health and education systems to assist Utah families with accessing available resources for adopted children.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be sent to Utah's congressional delegation, the speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the majority leader of the United States Senate, the chairs and ranking members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives Judiciary Committees, and the President of the United States.

Chief Sponsor: Lincoln Fillmore
House Sponsor: Andrew Stoddard

LONG TITLE

General Description:

This resolution encourages counties, cities, towns, and metro townships to consider treating above-trend revenue growth as one-time revenue instead of ongoing revenue.

Highlighted Provisions:

This resolution:

- recognizes the volatility of tax revenue and federal funds received by state and local governments;
- recognizes the benefits of treating above-trend revenue growth as one-time revenue; and
- encourages counties, cities, towns, and metro townships to treat above-trend revenue growth as one-time revenue instead of ongoing revenue.

Special Clauses:

None

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein:

WHEREAS, the business cycle creates fluctuations in state and local government revenues;

WHEREAS, tax revenue volatility can increase suddenly and unexpectedly, as seen during the Great Recession and the COVID-19 pandemic, increasing the difficulty of revenue forecasting;

WHEREAS, the Great Recession and the COVID-19 pandemic demonstrate that the amount of federal funds received by state and local governments can also fluctuate significantly and unexpectedly;

WHEREAS, state and local government tax and budget policies can contribute to or mitigate revenue volatility and its effects;

WHEREAS, treating unexpected, or above-trend, revenue growth as one-time money can help protect against the negative effects of revenue volatility;

WHEREAS, treating above-trend revenue growth as one-time money can reduce the need for difficult and often inefficient budget choices when revenue declines, including reductions in government services or increased taxes;

WHEREAS, treating above-trend revenue growth as one-time money can protect against unsustainable growth in government budgets when revenue increases; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature considers treating above-trend revenue growth as one-time money instead of ongoing money for all major tax types and for federal funds when setting the state's budget:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah, the Governor concurring therein, encourages counties, cities, towns, and metro townships in the state to also consider treating above-trend growth in sales and use tax revenue and in federal funds as one-time money instead of ongoing money when setting a budget.

WHEREAS, episodic weather events, environmental and climate stressors, loss of farmland from urbanization, declining revenue share to the producer, and regulatory complexity impose strain on the production of food and fiber, and have the potential to impede necessary growth;

March 22, 2022

The Honorable J. Stuart Adams
President of the Senate

and

The Honorable Brad R. Wilson
Speaker of the House

Mr. President and Mr. Speaker,

I believe in fairness and protecting the integrity of women's sports. I know both of you are committed to these same ideals and that we have worked very hard together to resolve the many issues surrounding transgender student participation in sports. Unfortunately, HB11 has several fundamental flaws and should be reconsidered. Because the bill was substantially changed in the final hours of the legislative session with no public input and in a way that will likely bankrupt the Utah High School Athletic Association and result in millions of dollars in legal fees for local school districts with no state protection, and for several other reasons below, I have chosen to veto this bill.

The transgender sports participation issue is one of the most divisive of our time. Because there are logical and passionate arguments by many parties, finding compromise or common ground can be difficult. Sadly, there is very little room for nuance in this debate. But I hope you will permit me an opportunity to explain my reasons for vetoing HB11.

Utah has a history of trying to approach complicated issues in ways that bring collaboration and fairness. From immigration and criminal justice reform to LGBTQ protections and religious freedom, Utah has often shown an unusual willingness to find new and compassionate ways to solve the most toxic debates of our time. For this reason, I was heartened and encouraged to see legislators sitting down with LGBTQ advocates to work on a compromise that would both protect women's sports and allow some participation for our most marginalized transgendered youth. No other state has done this, and we hoped that Utah could be the first.

As you know, the negotiations centered around the potential compromise of a commission of experts that would help decide on an individual basis which kids would be able to participate.

The concept was fairly simple. For the very small number of transgender kids who are looking to find a sense of connection and community–without posing any threat to women's sports–the commission would allow participation. However, the committee would prohibit participation in the rare circumstance of an outlier who could pose a safety threat or dominate a sport in a way that would eliminate competitive opportunities for biological females.

Unfortunately, over time, the negotiations got bogged down debating the makeup of the commission and some of the language in the bill. While we were not able to reach an agreement on the commission, the bill sponsors did agree to remove some of the most troubling language. As the hallmark of a good compromise, neither side was thrilled, but there was a path forward. And while I admit it was not perfect, there was general agreement that we could pass the bill and continue tweaking the concept during the next year as necessary.

On the last day of the legislative session we began hearing rumors of a 4th substitute of the bill that would implement an all-out ban, with the new commission only coming into play if a court prohibited the ban. While it is not unusual to have legislators propose changes to bills, it is unusual to have major overhauls proposed at the last minute on significant policy issues that had been the subject of so much negotiation. It is even rarer to have these pass, especially with no communication with those who had been negotiating the issue. So, you can imagine my surprise when the 4th substitute was revealed late on the last day of the session and debated and passed just a few hours before midnight.

It is important to note that a complete ban was never discussed, never contemplated, never debated and never received any public input prior to the Legislature passing the bill on the 45th and final night of the session. For this reason, many legislators who might have otherwise supported the policy felt compelled to vote against it.

I believe in process. How we make policy matters almost as much as the policy itself. An opportunity to participate is a critical component of public trust. While changes are inevitable, this was more than just a cosmetic change. This was a complete reversal of every discussion, public or private. Every article written by the media on this issue was about the commission and a compromise. Every answer given during press availability was about the commission and a compromise.

Much of the debate that night centered around the difficulties of bad process and a lack of time to get constituent input. This lack of time and input has serious legal and financial implications as well (more on that below). And while I appreciate the apologies I have received from legislators involved in the truncated proceeding, I feel a veto is necessary to improve the process and to better allow the public an opportunity to weigh in.

One of the worst results of that process was the inability of legislators to understand the financial impacts that will be forced upon the Utah High School Athletic Association (UHSAA) and local Utah school districts that will inevitably get sued under this bill. The UHSAA is a private organization and runs the real risk of insolvency and bankruptcy, putting our entire state athletics program in danger. Having just completed a lengthy and very expensive lawsuit, the organization does not have significant reserves on hand. Furthermore, the UHSAA has been clear that if the state ever attempted a ban, the state would also need to provide indemnification to hold the organization harmless in the forthcoming lawsuit.

Unfortunately, HB11 provides no financial protection for the UHSAA, only an explicit invitation for a lawsuit. With several lawsuits already being litigated across the country, why would Utah insist — even encourage — expensive and debilitating legal action with no recourse for the organization that serves our own student athletes and schools? I hope you can agree that if we want to protect women's sports, bankrupting the institution that is responsible for their participation is a bad place to start.

To make matters worse, shortly after the introduction of the 4th substitute there was a hastily adopted amendment to explicitly exclude Utah's local schools from indemnification. Because the 4th substitute was so quickly introduced and at the very end of the session, there was significant confusion at the time about the reason such a clause was necessary and the impact it would have. Clearly, the reason for the amendment was to avoid a fiscal note that could not have been funded at such a late hour without nullifying the bill. However, during the discussion on the Senate floor it was incorrectly argued that government immunity would protect schools from a lawsuit based on the ban. Because these lawsuits would involve potential civil rights violations, they would not qualify for governmental immunity. This means that schools would inevitably face costly litigation and the potential for significant damages.

For this reason, many schools across the state of Utah have reached out expressing concern. Had they been aware of the language of the 4th substitute with enough time to comment, they undoubtedly would have shared a similar message with legislators who were forced to vote on the bill with no public input. Again, why would we risk significant legal exposure for some of our poorest schools with no financial support when other states are already funding identical legal defenses across the country? If the state insists on a policy that encourages significant litigation, I believe the state should pay for the litigation. It is my understanding that you have polled your members and that you have the sufficient two-thirds majority to override a veto. Should this occur, I will immediately call a special session to change this section of the bill in order to avoid bankrupting our athletic association and local schools. A simple veto override will not resolve this fundamental issue.

I also think it’s important to address some of the arguments that came up during the passing of the 4th substitute of the bill. Many legislators brought up the trans swimmer at the University of Pennsylvania, who has recently dominated women’s swimming, setting records and lapping the field. I agree with those who are concerned with this egregious example. I believe this is terrible for women’s sports. There are natural advantages that come from our birth sex, which is the very reason that we have men’s and women’s sports in the first place. Setting records and taking scholarships away from biological gendered women should give everyone pause. It’s bad for women and it is bad for the LGBTQ community, as it turns allies and reasonable people into opponents. I don’t believe that this type of participation is compelled by the Constitution, but that decision will be left to the courts in the months and years to come.

However, there are a few problems with this example being the reason for a complete ban in Utah. First, this bill would do nothing to prevent that example, as HB11 only applies to high school and middle school and does not impact collegiate athletes. And second, if there was a similar example in a Utah high school, the proposed commission would prevent it from happening. Indeed, that is the very purpose of the commission: it would attempt to both protect women’s sports and allow our most vulnerable an opportunity to participate. Interestingly, the very legislator who introduced the 4th substitute of the bill called the commission concept “brilliant.” I do not know if the commission would completely solve this divisive issue, but I appreciate the innovative and respectful approach that it offers.

I also believe there is broad misunderstanding around the current rules regarding transgender participation in sports. In particular, from the testimony of many, there seems to be a belief that any biologically-born male could simply say he was transgender and begin participating in women’s sports. This is incorrect. For many years now, the UHSAA has had in place a rule that only allows male-to-female transgender participation in women’s sports after a full year of difficult transition hormone therapy and in consultation with a health care professional. This has likely prevented some participation and helped to even the playing field. As a representative of the UHSAA stated: “As we read the science right now, we like our policy. This year we have four students who have gone through our paperwork and we have not had any complaints from any other students or families or school administrators.” I should note that while I have some reservations about a policy that requires or incentivizes these transitions, it is the policy in place.

Finally, there is one more important reason for this veto. I must admit, I am not an expert on transgenderism. I struggle to understand so much of it and the science is conflicting. When in doubt however, I always try to err on the side of kindness, mercy and compassion. I also try to get proximate and I am learning so much from our transgender community. They are great kids who face enormous struggles. Here are the numbers that have most impacted my decision: 75,000, 4, 1, 86 and 56.

- 75,000 high school kids participating in high school sports in Utah.

- 4 transgender kids playing high school sports in Utah.

- 1 transgender student playing girls sports.

- 86% of trans youth reporting suicidality.

- 56% of trans youth having attempted suicide[1]

Four kids and only one of them playing girls sports. That's what all of this is about. Four kids who aren't dominating or winning trophies or taking scholarships. Four kids who are just trying to find some friends and feel like they are a part of something. Four kids trying to get through each day. Rarely has so much fear and anger been directed at so few. I don't understand what they are going through or why they feel the way they do. But I want them to live. And all the research shows that even a little acceptance and connection can reduce suicidality significantly. For that reason, as much as any other, I have taken this action in the hope that we can continue to work together and find a better way. If a veto override occurs, I hope we can work to find ways to show these four kids that we love them and they have a place in our state.

I recognize the political realities of my decision. Politically, it would be much easier and better for me to simply sign the bill. I have always tried to do what I feel is the right thing regardless of the consequences. Sometimes I don't get it right, and I do not fault those who disagree with me. But even if you disagree with me, I hope this letter helps you understand the reasons for my decision.

Sincerely,

Spencer J. Cox

Dear President Adams and Speaker Wilson,

This letter serves to inform you that on Mar. 24, 2022, I signed, HB3, Appropriations Adjustments, with the following vetoes:

- Item 155, lines 1332-1339, House Bill 220, Pregnancy and Postpartum Medicaid Coverage Amendments did not pass
- Item 250, lines 2319-2325, House Bill 150, Disability Ombudsman Program was duplicative because HB 150 carried its own appropriation
- Item 271, lines 2497-2500, misdirected funding intended for Davis Technical College to Dixie Technical College

House Bill 11 Student Eligibility in Interscholastic Activities was also vetoed, but the corresponding funding in Item 304 in House Bill 3 was intentionally retained. This preserves funding to support a commission should one go into effect.

Sincerely,
