agency actions.
- 137 (31) "Weight of scientific evidence" means an approach to scientific evaluation in which each piece of relevant information:
- 139 (a) is considered based on the evidence's quality and relevance, including the consideration of study design, fitness for purpose, replicability, peer review, and transparency and reliability of data; and
- 142 (b) is transparently integrated with other relevant information to inform the scientific evaluation before making a judgment about the scientific evaluation.

Section 2. Section 63G-3-304.1 is amended to read:

63G-3-304.1. Delaying the effective date of a proposed rule.

SB0234 compared with SB0234S01

- (1) Upon a majority vote of the members of the committee, the Rules Review and General Oversight Committee may delay the effective date of a proposed rule [~~promulgated~~] to a date determined by the committee for a rule:
- 148 (a) made by the State Board of Education[~~to a date determined by the committee.~~] ; or 149 (b) involving environmental health and waste management made by an agency.
- 150 (2) The Rules Review and General Oversight Committee:
- 151 (a) may choose to delay the effective date of an entire proposed rule, a single section, or any complete paragraph of a rule; and 153 (b) may not delay the effective day beyond May 15 of the calendar year after the day the vote is taken.
155 (3)
- (a) Upon a majority vote of the members of the committee, the Rules Review and General Oversight Committee may remove the delay of effective date described in Subsection (1).
- 158 (b) A rule or section or paragraph of a rule that has had the delay of effective date removed under Subsection (3)(a) goes into effect on a day designated by the [~~State Board of Education~~] agency that made the rule.
- 161 (4) The Rules Review and General Oversight Committee shall notify the [~~State Board of Education~~] the agency that made the rule and the office of the delay of the effective date.
- 163 (5) [~~A State Board of Education~~] An agency's proposed rule's effective date may not be delayed if:
165 (a) the rule is explicitly mandated by a federal law or regulation;
166 (b) a provision of Utah's constitution vests the [~~State Board of Education~~] agency with specific constitutional authority to promulgate the rule; or 168 (c) the rule is an emergency rule filed under Section 63G-3-304.
- 169 (6) The office shall make rules in accordance with this chapter to determine how to bifurcate a rule that has had a section or paragraph's effective date delayed under this section.
- 172 (7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the 120-day timeframe for when a proposed rule lapses is paused for any provision subject to a delay of effective date under this section.
- 175 Section 3. Section 3 is enacted to read:
176 63G-3-306. Sound science requirement.
146 (1) For a rule involving environmental health and waste management:
147 (a) an agency may not initiate rulemaking proceedings to establish new or change existing numeric criteria or numeric limitations applicable to a regulated material if the new rule or amendment would result in criteria or limitations that are more stringent or extensive in scope, coverage, or effect than any federal law or regulation setting a standard regarding the same or a substantially similar topic; and 152 (b) in the absence of any federal law or regulation setting a standard regarding the same or a substantially similar topic, an agency may not initiate rulemaking proceedings that establish new or change existing numeric criteria or numeric limitations unless, for each regulated material to which the rule applies, all scientific and technical information relied on to support the rule is based upon the best available science and the weight of scientific evidence.

SB0234 compared with SB0234S01

158 (2)

(a) For a rule described in Subsection (1)(b) intended to protect human health, safety, or welfare:

160 (i) the best available science and the weight of scientific evidence shall establish a direct causal link between exposure at or above the numeric criteria or numeric limitations provided by the rule and manifest bodily harm in humans, based on generally accepted scientific or technical practices; and

164 (ii) in the absence of data from voluntary scientific studies on humans, the best available science and the weight of scientific evidence may be based on tests performed on experimental animal species or human and animal cells establishing a direct causal link, based on generally accepted scientific or technical practices, between exposure at or above any numeric criteria or numeric limitations provided by the rule and manifest bodily harm in humans, if the harm may be extrapolated to humans based on the best available science and the weight of scientific evidence.

172 (3) This section does not apply to:

173 (a) a rule that is required by federal law or regulation, including rules adopted under Section 19-2-106, 19-3-104, 19-4-105, 19-5-105, 19-6-106, or 19-6-403, to comply with and in furtherance of federal agency authorization or primacy ~~{requirements}~~ requirement;

175 (b) a rule that is less stringent or extensive in scope, coverage, or effect than any federal law or regulation setting a standard regarding the same or a substantially similar topic or that is substantively equivalent to a federal law or regulation;

178 (c) a rule that would repeal or amend an existing rule to be less stringent or extensive in scope, coverage, or effect; or 180 (d) an emergency rule ~~{promulgated}~~ made under Section 63G-3-304.

SB0234 compared with SB0234S01

181 ~~{(4) {The Rules Review and General Oversight Committee may delay the effective date of an environmental health and waste management rule if the committee follows the procedures described in Section 63G-3-304.1.}}~~

213 Section 4. Effective date.

 Effective Date.

This bill takes effect on May 6, 2026.
