(3) if the address under Subsection (2) is in another state, the other state is considered to be the state of the last-known address of the apparent owner; and

(4) the address of the apparent owner of a life or endowment insurance policy or annuity contract or the policy’s or contract’s proceeds is presumed to be the address of the insured or annuitant if a person other than the insured or annuitant is entitled to the amount owed under the policy or contract and the address of the other person is not known by the insurance company and cannot be determined under Section 67-4a-302.

(9) Notice of any public sale shall be mailed to the last known address of the tenant at least five calendar days prior to the public sale.

(10) If the tenant is present at the public sale:

(a) the tenant may specify the order in which the personal property is sold;

(b) the owner may sell only as much personal property necessary to satisfy the amount due under the rental agreement and statutorily allowed damages, costs, and fees associated with the abandoned items; and

(2) (a) The president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of Representatives shall confer when appointing members under Subsections (1)(a) and (b) to ensure that there is at least one member from among their four appointees who is a member of the Utah State Bar.

(b) Each of the appointing authorities may appoint no more than half of the appointing authority's members from the same political party.

(c) A sitting legislator or a sitting judge may not serve as a commission member.

(3) (a) A member appointed under Subsection (1) shall be appointed for a four-year term.

(6) (a) Eight members of the commission constitute a quorum.

(b) The action of a majority of the quorum constitutes the action of the commission, except that a decision of the commission to recommend that a judge be retained or not be retained may not be made except by a vote of at least six members. If because of absences the commission is unable to have at least six votes recommending that a judge be retained or not retained, the commission may meet a second time to consider whether to recommend that the judge be retained or not retained.

(c) If a vote on the question of whether to recommend a judge be retained or not be retained ends in a tie or if a decision does not have six votes required by Subsection (6)(b), the commission may make no recommendation concerning the judge's retention.

78A-12-203. Judicial performance evaluations.

(b) each justice of the Supreme Court in the third, seventh, and ninth year of the justice's term.

(2) Except as provided in Subsection (3), the performance evaluation for a judge under Subsection (1) shall consider only the following information but shall give primary emphasis to the information that is gathered and relates to the performance of the judge during the period subsequent to the last judicial retention election of that judge or if the judge has not had a judicial retention election, during the period applicable to the first judicial retention election:

(i) considers relevant to evaluating the judge's performance for the purpose of a retention election; and

(ii) establishes by rule.

(3) The commission shall make rules concerning the conduct of courtroom observation under Subsection (2), which shall include the following:

(a) an indication of who may perform the courtroom observation;

(b) a determination of whether the courtroom observation shall be made in person or may be made by electronic means; and

(c) a list of principles and standards used to evaluate the behavior observed.

(4) (a) As part of the evaluation conducted under this section, the commission shall determine whether to recommend that the voters retain the judge.

(b) (i) If a judge meets the minimum performance standards established in accordance with Section 78A-12-205, there is a rebuttable presumption that the commission will recommend the voters retain the judge.

(ii) If a judge fails to meet the minimum performance standards established in accordance with Section 78A-12-205, there is a rebuttable presumption that the commission will recommend the voters not retain the judge.

(c) The commission may elect to make no recommendation on whether the voters should retain a judge if the commission determines that the information concerning the judge is insufficient to make a recommendation.

(d) (i) If the commission deviates from a presumption for or against recommending the voters retain a judge or elects to make no recommendation on whether the voters should retain a judge, the commission shall provide a detailed explanation of the reason for that deviation or election in the commission’s report under Section 78A-12-206.

(ii) If the commission makes no recommendation because of a tie vote, the commission shall note that fact in the commission’s report.

(5) (a) The commission shall allow a judge who is the subject of a judicial performance retention evaluation and who has not passed one or more of the minimum performance standards on the midterm evaluation or on the retention evaluation to appear and speak at any commission meeting, except a closed meeting, during which the judge’s judicial performance evaluation is considered.

(b) The commission may invite any judge to appear before the commission to discuss concerns about the judge’s judicial performance.

(c) (i) The commission may meet in a closed meeting to discuss a judge’s judicial performance evaluation by complying with Title 52, Chapter 4, Open and Public Meetings Act.

(ii) The commission may meet in an electronic meeting by complying with Title 52, Chapter 4, Open and Public Meetings Act.

(d) Any record of an individual commissioner’s vote on whether or not to recommend that the voters retain a judge is a protected record under Title 63G, Chapter 2, Government Records Access and Management Act.

(e) (i) A member of the commission, including a member of the Utah State Bar, may not be disqualified from voting on whether to recommend that the voters retain a judge solely because the member appears before the judge as an attorney, a fact witness, or an expert, so long as the member is not a litigant in a case pending before the judge.

(ii) Notwithstanding Subsection (5)(e)(i), a member of the commission shall disclose any conflicts of interest with the judge being reviewed to the other members of the commission before the deliberation and vote of whether to recommend that a judge be retained or not be retained.

(iii) Information disclosed under this Subsection (5)(e) is a protected record under Title 63G, Chapter 2, Government Records Access and Management Act.

(f) The commission may only disclose the final commission vote on whether or not to recommend that the voters retain a judge.

(6) (a) The commission shall compile a midterm report of its judicial performance evaluation of a judge.

(b) The midterm report of a judicial performance evaluation shall include information that the commission considers appropriate for purposes of judicial self-improvement.

(c) The report shall be provided to the evaluated judge, the presiding judge of the district in which the evaluated judge serves, and the Judicial Council. If the evaluated judge is the presiding judge, the midterm report shall be provided to the chair of the board of judges for the court level on which the evaluated judge serves.

(d) (i) The commission may provide a partial midterm evaluation to a judge whose appointment date precludes the collection of complete midterm evaluation data.

(ii) For a newly appointed judge, a midterm evaluation is considered partial when the midterm evaluation is missing a respondent group, including attorneys, court staff, court room observers, or intercept survey respondents.

(iii) A judge who receives partial midterm evaluation data may receive a statement in acknowledgment of that fact on the judge’s voter information pamphlet page.

(iv) On or before the beginning of the retention evaluation cycle, the commission shall inform the Judicial Council of the name of any judge who receives a partial midterm evaluation.

(7) The commission shall identify a judge whose midterm evaluation:

(a) fails to meet minimum performance standards in accordance with Section 78A-12-205 or as established by rule; or

(b) otherwise demonstrates to the commission that the judge’s performance would be of such concern if the performance occurred in a retention evaluation that the judge would be invited to appear before the commission in accordance with Subsection (5)(b).

(8) The commission may make rules in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, as necessary to administer the evaluation required by this section.

Section 4. Section 78A-12-204 is amended to read:

(a) considers a survey of that classification of respondents helpful to voters in determining whether to vote to retain a judge; and
(b) establishes the additional classification of respondents by rule.

(4) All survey responses are anonymous, including comments included with a survey response.

(5) If the commission provides any information to a judge or the Judicial Council, the information shall be provided in such a way as to protect the confidentiality of a survey respondent.

(6) A survey shall be provided to a potential survey respondent within 30 days of the day on which the case in which the person appears in the judge's court is closed, exclusive of any appeal, except for court staff and attorneys, who may be surveyed at any time during the survey period.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section  1.  Section 30-5a-103 is amended to read:

30-5a-103.  Custody and visitation for persons other than a parent.
(1)  In accordance with Section 62A-4a-201, it is the public policy of this state that parents retain the fundamental right and duty to exercise primary control over the care, supervision, upbringing, and education of their children. There is a rebuttable presumption that a parent’s decisions are in the child’s best interests.
(2)  A court may find the presumption in Subsection (1) rebutted and grant custodial or visitation rights to a person other than a parent who, by clear and convincing evidence, has established all of the following:
(a)  the person has intentionally assumed the role and obligations of a parent;
(b)  the person and the child have formed an emotional bond and created a parent-child type relationship;
(c)  the person contributed emotionally or financially to the child’s well being;
(d)  assumption of the parental role is not the result of a financially compensated surrogate care arrangement;
(e)  continuation of the relationship between the person and the child would be in the child’s best interests;
(f)  loss or cessation of the relationship between the person and the child would be detrimental to the child; and
(i)  the parent:
(ii)  is absent; or
(iii)  is found by a court to have abused or neglected the child.
(3)  A proceeding under this chapter may be commenced by filing a verified petition, or petition supported by an affidavit, in the juvenile court if a matter is pending, or in the district court in the county in which the child:
(a)  currently resides; or
(b)  lived with a parent or a person other than a parent who acted as a parent within six months before the commencement of the action.
(4)  A proceeding under this chapter may be filed in a pending divorce, parentage action, or other proceeding, including a proceeding in the juvenile court, involving custody of or visitation with a child.
(5)  The petition shall include detailed facts supporting the petitioner’s right to file the petition including the criteria set forth in Subsection (2) and residency information as set forth in Section 78B-13-209.
(6)  A proceeding under this chapter may not be filed against a parent who is actively serving outside the state in any branch of the military.
(7)  Notice of a petition filed pursuant to this chapter shall be served in accordance with the rules of civil procedure on all of the following:
(a)  the child’s biological, adopted, presumed, declarant, and adjudicated parents;
(b)  any person who has court-ordered custody or visitation rights;
(c)  the child’s guardian;
(d)  the guardian ad litem, if one has been appointed;
(e)  a person or agency that has physical custody of the child or that claims to have custody or visitation rights; and
(f) any other person or agency that has previously appeared in any action regarding custody of or visitation with the child.

(8) The court may order a custody evaluation to be conducted in any action brought under this chapter.

(9) The court may enter temporary orders in an action brought under this chapter pending the entry of final orders.

(10) Except as provided in Subsection (11), a court may not grant custody of a child under this section to an individual who is not the biological or adoptive parent of the child and who, before a custody order is issued, is convicted, pleads guilty, or pleads no contest to a felony or attempted felony involving conduct that constitutes any of the following:

(a) child abuse, as described in Section 76-5-109;

(b) child abuse homicide, as described in Section 76-5-208;

(c) child kidnapping, as described in Section 76-5-301.1;

(d) human trafficking of a child, as described in Section 76-5-308.5;

(e) sexual abuse of a minor, as described in Section 76-5-401.1;

(f) rape of a child, as described in Section 76-5-402.1;

(g) object rape of a child, as described in Section 76-5-402.3;

(h) sodomy on a child, as described in Section 76-5-403.1;

(i) sexual abuse of a child or aggravated sexual abuse of a child, as described in Section 76-5-404.1;

(j) sexual exploitation of a minor, as described in Section 76-5b-201; or

(k) an offense in another state that, if committed in this state, would constitute an offense described in this Subsection (10).

(11) (a) For purpose of this Subsection (11), “disqualifying offense” means an offense listed in Subsection (10) that prevents a court from granting custody except as provided in this Subsection (11).

(b) A person described in Subsection (10) may only be considered for custody of a child if the following criteria are met by clear and convincing evidence:

(i) the person is a relative, as defined in Section 78A-6-307, of the child;

(ii) at least 10 years have elapsed from the day on which the person is successfully released from prison, jail, parole, or probation related to a disqualifying offense;

(iii) during the 10 years before the day on which the person files a petition with the court seeking custody the person has not been convicted, pleaded guilty, or plead no contest to an offense greater than an infraction or traffic violation that would likely impact the health, safety, or well-being of the child;

(iv) the person can provide evidence of successful treatment or rehabilitation directly related to the disqualifying offense;

(v) the court determines that the risk related to the disqualifying offense is unlikely to cause harm, as defined in Section 78A-6-105, or potential harm to the child currently or at any time in the future when considering all of the following:

(A) the child’s age;

(B) the child’s gender;

(C) the child’s development;

(D) the nature and seriousness of the disqualifying offense;

(E) the preferences of a child 12 years of age or older;

(F) any available assessments, including custody evaluations, parenting assessments, psychological or mental health assessments, and bonding assessments; and

(G) any other relevant information;

(vi) the person can provide evidence of the following:

(A) the relationship with the child is of long duration;

(B) that an emotional bond exists with the child; and

(C) that custody by the person who has committed the disqualifying offense ensures the best interests of the child are met;

(vii) (A) there is no other responsible relative known to the court who has or likely could develop an emotional bond with the child and does not have a disqualifying offense; or

(B) if there is a responsible relative known to the court that does not have a disqualifying offense, Subsection (11)(d) applies; and

(viii) that the continuation of the relationship between the person with the disqualifying offense and the child could not be sufficiently maintained through any type of visitation if custody were given to the relative with no disqualifying offense described in Subsection (11)(d).

(c) The person with the disqualifying offense bears the burden of proof regarding why placement with that person is in the best interest of the child over another responsible relative or equally situated person who does not have a disqualifying offense.

(d) If, as provided in Subsection (11)(b)(vii)(B), there is a responsible relative known to the court who does not have a disqualifying offense:

(i) preference for custody is given to a relative who does not have a disqualifying offense; and

(ii) before the court may place custody with the person who has the disqualifying offense over another responsible, willing, and able relative:
(A) an impartial custody evaluation shall be completed; and

(B) a guardian ad litem shall be assigned.

(12) Subsections (10) and (11) apply to a case pending on the effective date of this bill for which a final decision on custody has not been made and to a case filed on or after the effective date of this bill.

(b) A person described in Subsection (5) may only be considered for adoption of a child if the following criteria are met by clear and convincing evidence:

(i) at least 10 years have elapsed from the day on which the person is successfully released from prison, jail, parole, or probation related to a disqualifying offense;

(ii) during the 10 years before the day on which the person files a petition with the court seeking adoption, the person has not been convicted, pleaded guilty, or pleaded no contest to an offense greater than an infraction or traffic violation that would likely impact the health, safety, or well-being of the child;

(iii) the person can provide evidence of successful treatment or rehabilitation directly related to the disqualifying offense;

(iv) the court determines that the risk related to the disqualifying offense is unlikely to cause harm, as defined in Section 78A-6-105, or potential harm to the child currently or at any time in the future when considering all of the following:

(B) subject to Subsection (6)(d), a relative of the child as defined in Section 78A-6-307 and there is not another relative without a disqualifying offense filing an adoption petition.
(c) The person with the disqualifying offense bears the burden of proof regarding why adoption with that person is in the best interest of the child over another responsible relative or equally situated person who does not have a disqualifying offense.
(d) If there is an alternative responsible relative who does not have a disqualifying offense filing an adoption petition, the following applies:
(i) preference for adoption shall be given to a relative who does not have a disqualifying offense; and

(2) (a) There is created within the department the position of child protection ombudsman. The ombudsman shall be appointed by and serve at the pleasure of the executive director.
(b) The ombudsman shall be:
(i) an individual of recognized executive and administrative capacity;
(ii) selected solely with regard to qualifications and fitness to discharge the duties of ombudsman; and
(iii) have experience in child welfare, and in state laws and policies governing abused, neglected, and dependent children.
(c) The ombudsman shall devote full time to the duties of office.
(3) (a) Except as provided in Subsection (3)(b), the ombudsman shall, upon receipt of a complaint from any person, investigate whether an act or omission of the division with respect to a particular child:
(i) is contrary to statute, rule, or policy;
(ii) places a child’s health or safety at risk;
(iii) is made without an adequate statement of reason; or
(iv) is based on irrelevant, immaterial, or erroneous grounds.
(b) The ombudsman may decline to investigate any complaint. If the ombudsman declines to investigate a complaint or continue an investigation, the ombudsman shall notify the complainant and the division of the decision and of the reasons for that decision.
(c) The ombudsman may conduct an investigation on the ombudsman's own initiative.
(4) The ombudsman shall:

Subsequent to processing a complaint, the ombudsman may conduct further investigations upon the request of the complainant or upon the ombudsman’s own initiative. Nothing in this subsection precludes a complainant from making a complaint directly to the ombudsman before pursuing an administrative remedy.

(d) The ombudsman shall immediately notify the division if the ombudsman finds that a child needs protective custody, as that term is defined in Section 78A-6-105.

(2) If the original will is not in the possession of the court, has not been presented to the court for electronic storage or electronic filing, does not accompany the petition, and no authenticated copy of a will probated in another jurisdiction accompanies the petition, the petition also shall state the contents of the will and indicate that it is lost, destroyed, or otherwise unavailable.

(6) A person who refuses to accept the authority of a guardian with authority over financial decisions to transact business with the assets of the protected person after receiving a certified copy of letters of guardianship is liable for costs, expenses, attorney fees, and damages if the court determines that the person did not act in good faith in refusing to accept the authority of the guardian.

(e) the owner fails to turn over to the mortgagee proceeds or rents the mortgagee was entitled to collect; or

(f) the holder of a subordinate lien obtains appointment of a receiver for the property.

(3) (a) The court may condition appointment of a receiver without prior notice under Subsection 78B-21-103(2)(a) or without a prior hearing under Subsection 78B-21-103(2)(b) on the giving of security by the person seeking the appointment for the payment of damages, reasonable attorney fees, and costs incurred or suffered by any person if the court later concludes that the appointment was not justified.

(b) If the court later concludes that the appointment described in Subsection (3)(a) was justified, the court shall release the security.

Section 7. Section 78B-21-107 is enacted to read:

78B-21-107. Disqualification from appointment as receiver -- Disclosure of interest.

(1) The court may not appoint a person as receiver unless the person submits to the court a statement under penalty of perjury that the person is not disqualified.

(d) has a debtor-creditor relationship with a party; or

(e) holds an equity interest in a party, other than a noncontrolling interest in a publicly traded company.

(3) A person is not disqualified from appointment as receiver solely because the person:

(a) was appointed receiver or is owed compensation in an unrelated matter involving a party or was engaged by a party in a matter unrelated to the receivership;

(b) is an individual obligated to a party on a debt that is not in default and was incurred primarily for personal, family, or household purposes; or

(c) maintains with a party a deposit account as defined in Section 70A-9a-102.

(4) A person seeking appointment of a receiver may nominate a person to serve as receiver, but the court is not bound by the nomination.

Section 8. Section 78B-21-108 is enacted to read:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (2), a receiver shall post with the court a bond that:

(a) is conditioned on the faithful discharge of the receiver's duties;

(b) has one or more sureties approved by the court;

(c) is in an amount the court specifies; and

(d) is effective as of the date of the receiver's appointment.

(2) (a) The court may approve the posting by a receiver with the court of alternative security, such as a letter of credit or deposit of funds.

(b) The receiver may not use receivership property as alternative security.

(c) Interest that accrues on deposited funds must be paid to the receiver on the receiver's discharge.

(3) The court may authorize a receiver to act before the receiver posts the bond or alternative security required by this section.

(4) A claim against a receiver's bond or alternative security must be made not later than one year after the date the receiver is discharged.

Section 9. Section 78B-21-109 is enacted to read:

78B-21-109. Status of receiver as lien creditor.

On appointment of a receiver, the receiver has the status of a lien creditor under:

78B-21-110. Security agreement covering after-acquired property.

Except as otherwise provided by law of this state other than this chapter, property that a receiver or owner acquires after appointment of the receiver is subject to a security agreement entered into before the appointment to the same extent as if the court had not appointed the receiver.

Section 11. Section 78B-21-111 is enacted to read:

78B-21-111. Collection and turnover of receivership property.

(1) Unless the court orders otherwise, on demand by a receiver:

(b) subject to Subsection (3), a person that has possession, custody, or control of receivership property shall turn the property over to the receiver.

(2) A person that has notice of the appointment of a receiver and owes a debt that is receivership property may not satisfy the debt by payment to the owner.

(3) If a creditor has possession, custody, or control of receivership property and the validity, perfection, or priority of the creditor's lien on the property depends on the creditor's possession, custody, or control, the creditor may retain possession, custody, or control until the court orders adequate protection of the creditor's lien.

(4) Unless a bona fide dispute exists about a receiver's right to possession, custody, or control of receivership property, the court may sanction as civil contempt a person's failure to turn the property over when required by this section.

Section 12. Section 78B-21-112 is enacted to read:

78B-21-112. Powers and duties of receiver.

(d) disclose to the court any fact arising during the receivership that would disqualify the receiver under Section 78B-21-107; and

(e) perform any duty imposed by court order, this chapter, or a law of the state other than this chapter.

(4) The powers and duties of a receiver may be expanded, modified, or limited by court order.

Section 13. Section 78B-21-113 is enacted to read:

78B-21-113. Duties of owner.

(1) An owner shall:

(a) assist and cooperate with the receiver in the administration of the receivership and the discharge of the receiver's duties;

(b) preserve and turn over to the receiver all receivership property in the owner's possession, custody, or control;

(c) identify all records and other information relating to the receivership property, including a password, authorization, or other information needed to obtain or maintain access to or control of the receivership property, and make available to the receiver the records and information in the owner's possession, custody, or control;

(2) If an owner is a person other than an individual, this section applies to each officer, director, manager, member, partner, trustee, or other person exercising or having the power to exercise control over the affairs of the owner.

(3) If a person knowingly fails to perform a duty imposed by this section, the court may:

(a) award the receiver actual damages caused by the person's failure, reasonable attorney fees, and costs; and

(b) sanction the failure as civil contempt.

Section 14. Section 78B-21-114 is enacted to read:

78B-21-114. Stay -- Injunction.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (4) or ordered by the court, an order appointing a receiver operates as a stay, applicable to all persons, of an act, action, or proceeding:

(a) to obtain possession of, exercise control over, or enforce a judgment against receivership property; and

(b) to enforce a lien against receivership property to the extent the lien secures a claim against the owner that arose before entry of the order.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (4), the court may enjoin an act, action, or proceeding against or relating to receivership property if the injunction is necessary to protect the property or facilitate administration of the receivership.
(3) A person whose act, action, or proceeding is stayed or enjoined under this section may apply to the court for relief from the stay or injunction for cause.

(4) An order under Subsection (1) or (2) does not operate as a stay or injunction of:

(a) an act, action, or proceeding to foreclose or otherwise enforce a mortgage by the person seeking appointment of the receiver;

(b) an act, action, or proceeding to perfect, or maintain or continue the perfection of, an interest in receivership property;

(c) commencement or continuation of a criminal proceeding;

(d) commencement or continuation of an action or proceeding, or enforcement of a judgment other than a money judgment in an action or proceeding, by a governmental unit to enforce the governmental unit’s police or regulatory power; or

(e) establishment by a governmental unit of a tax liability against the owner or receivership property or an appeal of the liability.

(5) The court may void an act that violates a stay or injunction under this section.

(6) If a person knowingly violates a stay or injunction under this section, the court may:

(a) award actual damages caused by the violation, reasonable attorney fees, and costs; and

(b) sanction the violation as civil contempt.

Section 15. Section 78B-21-115 is enacted to read:

78B-21-115. Engagement and compensation of professional.

(1) (a) With court approval, a receiver may engage an attorney, accountant, appraiser, auctioneer, broker, or other professional to assist the receiver in performing a duty or exercising a power of the receiver.

(b) The receiver shall disclose to the court:

(i) the identity and qualifications of the professional;

(ii) the scope and nature of the proposed engagement;

(iii) any potential conflict of interest; and

(iv) the proposed compensation.

(2) (a) A person is not disqualified from engagement under this section solely because of the person’s engagement by, representation of, or other relationship with the receiver, a creditor, or a party.

(b) This chapter does not prevent the receiver from serving in the receivership as an attorney, accountant, auctioneer, or broker when authorized by law.

(3) (a) A receiver or professional engaged under Subsection (1) shall file with the court an itemized statement of the time spent, work performed, and billing rate of each person that performed the work and an itemized list of expenses.

(b) The receiver shall pay the amount approved by the court.

Section 16. Section 78B-21-116 is enacted to read:

78B-21-116. Use or transfer of receivership property not in ordinary course of business.

(1) As used in this section, “good faith” means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable commercial standards of fair dealing.

(2) With court approval, a receiver may use receivership property other than in the ordinary course of business.

(3) (a) With court approval, a receiver may transfer receivership property other than in the ordinary course of business by sale, lease, license, exchange, or other disposition.

(b) Unless the agreement of sale provides otherwise, a sale under this section is:

(i) free and clear of a lien of the person that obtained appointment of the receiver, any subordinate lien, and any right of redemption; and

(ii) subject to a senior lien.

(4) A lien on receivership property that is extinguished by a transfer under Subsection (3) attaches to the proceeds of the transfer with the same validity, perfection, and priority the lien had on the property immediately before the transfer, even if the proceeds are not sufficient to satisfy all obligations secured by the lien.

(5) (a) A transfer under Subsection (3) may occur by means other than a public auction sale.

(b) A creditor holding a valid lien on the property to be transferred may purchase the property and offset against the purchase price part or all of the allowed amount secured by the lien, if the creditor tenders funds sufficient to satisfy in full the reasonable expenses of transfer and the obligation secured by any senior lien extinguished by the transfer.

(6) A reversal or modification of an order approving a transfer under Subsection (3) does not affect the validity of the transfer to a person that acquired the property in good faith or revive against the person any lien extinguished by the transfer, whether the person knew before the transfer of the request for reversal or modification, unless the court stayed the order before the transfer.

Section 17. Section 78B-21-117 is enacted to read:

78B-21-117. Executory contract.

(1) As used in this section, “timeshare interest” means the same as that term is defined in Section 57-19-2.
(2) (a) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (8), with court approval, a receiver may adopt or reject an executory contract of the owner relating to receivership property.

(b) The court may condition the receiver's adoption and continued performance of the contract on terms appropriate under the circumstances.

(c) If the receiver does not request court approval to adopt or reject the executory contract within a reasonable time after the receiver's appointment, the receiver is deemed to have rejected the executory contract.

(3) A receiver's performance of an executory contract before court approval under Subsection (2) of the executory contract's adoption or rejection is not an adoption of the executory contract and does not preclude the receiver from seeking approval to reject the executory contract.

(4) A provision in an executory contract that requires or permits a forfeiture, modification, or termination of the executory contract because of the appointment of a receiver or the financial condition of the owner does not affect a receiver's power under Subsection (2) to adopt the executory contract.

(5) (a) A receiver's right to possess or use receivership property pursuant to an executory contract terminates on rejection of the executory contract under Subsection (2).

(b) Rejection is a breach of the executory contract effective immediately before appointment of the receiver.

(c) A claim for damages for rejection of the executory contract must be submitted by the later of:

(i) the time set for submitting a claim in the receivership; or

(ii) 30 days after the court approves the rejection.

(6) If at the time a receiver is appointed, the owner has the right to assign an executory contract relating to receivership property under law of this state other than this chapter, the receiver may assign the executory contract with court approval.

(7) If a receiver rejects an executory contract for the sale of receivership property that is real property in possession of the purchaser or a real-property timeshare interest under Subsection (2), the purchaser may:

(a) treat the rejection as a termination of the executory contract, and in that case the purchaser has a lien on the property for the recovery of any part of the purchase price the purchaser paid; or

(b) retain the purchaser's right to possession under the executory contract, and in that case the purchaser shall continue to perform all obligations arising under the executory contract and may offset any damages caused by nonperformance of an obligation of the owner after the date of the rejection, but the purchaser has no right or claim against other receivership property or the receiver on account of the damages.

(8) A receiver may not reject an unexpired lease of real property under which the owner is the landlord if:

(a) the tenant occupies the leased premises as the tenant's primary residence;

(b) the receiver was appointed at the request of a person other than a mortgagee; or

(c) the receiver was appointed at the request of a mortgagee and:

(i) the lease is superior to the lien of the mortgage;

(ii) the tenant has an enforceable agreement with the mortgagee or the holder of a senior lien under which the tenant's occupancy will not be disturbed as long as the tenant performs the tenant's obligations under the lease;

(iii) the mortgagee has consented to the lease, either in a signed record or by the mortgagee's failure to timely object that the lease violated the mortgage; or

(iv) the terms of the lease were commercially reasonable at the time the lease was agreed to and the tenant did not know or have reason to know that the lease violated the mortgage.

Section 18. Section 78B-21-118 is enacted to read:

78B-21-118. Defenses and immunities of receiver.

(1) A receiver is entitled to all defenses and immunities provided by law of this state other than this chapter for an act or omission within the scope of the receiver's appointment.

(2) A receiver may be sued personally for an act or omission in administering receivership property only with approval of the court that appointed the receiver.

Section 19. Section 78B-21-119 is enacted to read:

78B-21-119. Interim report of receiver.

A receiver may file, or if ordered by the court shall file, an interim report that includes:

(1) the activities of the receiver since appointment or a previous report;

(2) receipts and disbursements, including a payment made or proposed to be made to a professional engaged by the receiver;

(3) receipts and dispositions of receivership property;

(4) fees and expenses of the receiver and, if not filed separately, a request for approval of payment of the fees and expenses; and

(5) any other information required by the court.

Section 20. Section 78B-21-120 is enacted to read:

78B-21-120. Notice of appointment -- Claim against receivership -- Distribution to creditors.
General Session - 2017

Ch. 431

(1) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (6), a receiver shall give notice of appointment of the receiver to creditors of the owner by:

(a) deposit for delivery through first-class mail or other commercially reasonable delivery method to the last known address of each creditor; and

(b) publication as directed by the court.

(2) (a) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (6), the notice required by Subsection (1) must specify the date by which each creditor holding a claim against the owner that arose before appointment of the receiver must submit the claim to the receiver.

(b) The date specified must be at least 90 days after the later of the notice under Subsection (1)(a) or the last publication under Subsection (1)(b).

(c) The court may extend the period for submitting the claim.

(d) Unless the court orders otherwise, a claim that is not submitted timely is not entitled to a distribution from the receivership.

(3) A claim submitted by a creditor under this section must:

(a) state the name and address of the creditor;

(b) state the amount and basis of the claim;

(c) identify any property securing the claim;

(d) be signed by the creditor under penalty of perjury; and

(e) include a copy of any record on which the claim is based.

(4) An assignment by a creditor of a claim against the owner is effective against the receiver only if the assignee gives timely notice of the assignment to the receiver in a signed record.

(5) (a) At any time before entry of an order approving a receiver’s final report, the receiver may file with the court an objection to a claim of a creditor, stating the basis for the objection.

(b) The court shall allow or disallow the claim according to law of this state other than this chapter.

(6) If the court concludes that receivership property is likely to be insufficient to satisfy claims of each creditor holding a perfected lien on the property, the court may order that:

(a) the receiver need not give notice under Subsection (1) of the appointment to all creditors of the owner, but only such creditors as the court directs; and

(b) unsecured creditors need not submit claims under this section.

(7) Subject to Section 78B-21-121:

(a) a distribution of receivership property to a creditor holding a perfected lien on the property must be made in accordance with the creditor’s priority under law of this state other than this chapter; and

(b) a distribution of receivership property to a creditor with an unsecured claim must be made as the court directs according to law of this state other than this chapter.

Section 21. Section 78B-21-121 is enacted to read:

78B-21-121. Fees and expenses.

(1) The court may award a receiver from receivership property the reasonable and necessary fees and expenses of performing the duties of the receiver and exercising the powers of the receiver.

(2) The court may order one or more of the following to pay the reasonable and necessary fees and expenses of the receivership, including reasonable attorney fees and costs:

(a) a person that requested the appointment of the receiver, if the receivership does not produce sufficient funds to pay the fees and expenses; or

(b) a person whose conduct justified or would have justified the appointment of the receiver under Subsection 78B-21-106(1)(a).

Section 22. Section 78B-21-122 is enacted to read:

78B-21-122. Removal of receiver -- Replacement -- Termination of receivership.

(1) The court may remove a receiver for cause.

(2) The court shall replace a receiver that dies, resigns, or is removed.

(3) If the court finds that a receiver that resigns or is removed, or the representative of a receiver that is deceased, has accounted fully for and turned over to the successor receiver all receivership property and has filed a report of all receipts and disbursements during the service of the replaced receiver, the replaced receiver is discharged.

(4) (a) The court may discharge a receiver and terminate the court’s administration of the receivership property if the court finds that appointment of the receiver was improvident or that the circumstances no longer warrant continuation of the receivership.

(b) If the court finds that the appointment was sought wrongfully or in bad faith, the court may assess against the person that sought the appointment:

(i) the fees and expenses of the receivership, including reasonable attorney fees and costs; and

(ii) actual damages caused by the appointment, including reasonable attorney fees and costs.

Section 23. Section 78B-21-123 is enacted to read:

(g) any other information required by the court.

(2) If the court approves a final report filed under Subsection (1) and the receiver distributes all receivership property, the receiver is discharged.

Section 24. Section 78B-21-124 is enacted to read:

78B-21-124. Receivership in another state -- Ancillary proceeding.

(1) The court may appoint a receiver appointed in another state, or that person's nominee, as an ancillary receiver with respect to property located in this state or subject to the jurisdiction of the court for which a receiver could be appointed under this chapter, if:

(a) the person or nominee would be eligible to serve as receiver under Section 78B-21-107; and

(b) the appointment furthers the person's possession, custody, control, or disposition of property subject to the receivership in the other state.

(2) The court may issue an order that gives effect to an order entered in another state appointing or directing a receiver.

(3) Unless the court orders otherwise, an ancillary receiver appointed under Subsection (1) has the rights, powers, and duties of a receiver appointed under this chapter.

Section 25. Section 78B-21-125 is enacted to read:

78B-21-125. Effect of enforcement by mortgagee.

(1) A request by a mortgagee for appointment of a receiver, the appointment of a receiver, or application by a mortgagee of receivership property or proceeds to the secured obligation does not:

(a) make the mortgagee a mortgagee in possession of the real property;

(b) make the mortgagee an agent of the owner;

(c) constitute an election of remedies that precludes a later action to enforce the secured obligation;

(d) make the secured obligation unenforceable;

(e) limit any right available to the mortgagee with respect to the secured obligation;

(f) constitute an action within the meaning of Section 78B-6-901; or

(2) If a receiver sells receivership property that pursuant to Subsection 78B-21-116(3) is free and clear of a lien, the ability of a creditor to enforce an obligation that had been secured by the lien is subject to law of the state other than this chapter relating to a deficiency judgment.

Section 26. Section 78B-21-126 is enacted to read:

78B-21-126. Uniformity of application and construction.

In applying and construing this uniform act, consideration shall be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to the law's subject matter among states that enact it.

Section 27. Section 78B-21-127 is enacted to read:

This chapter modifies, limits, or supersedes the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001 et seq., but does not modify, limit, or supersede Section 101(c) of that act, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001(c), or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in Section 103(b) of that act, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 7003(b).
