(ii) 6% to 9-1/2% for remodeling projects.

(b) The director shall hold the statewide contingency funds to cover:

(f) The Legislature shall annually review the amount held in the project reserve for possible reallocation by the Legislature to other building needs, including the cost of administering building projects.

(4) If any part of the appropriation for a building project, other than the part set aside for the Utah Percent-for-Art Program under Title 9, Chapter 6, Part 4, Utah Percent-for-Art Act, remains unencumbered after the award of construction and professional service contracts and establishing a reserve for fixed and moveable equipment, the balance of the appropriation is dedicated to the project reserve and does not revert to the General Fund.

(ii) A local entity's failure to certify an amount in accordance with Subsection (2)(a)(i) or a county treasurer's failure to include the certified amount on the property tax notice is not a defense to and does not delay, prohibit, or diminish a local entity's lien rights or authority to pursue any enforcement remedy, other than a delay in the local entity's ability to collect the delinquent assessment as described in Subsection (2)(b)(ii)(B).

(c) Nothing in Subsection (2)(a)(i) or in Title 11, Chapter 60, Political Subdivision Lien Authority, prohibits or diminishes a local entity's authority to pursue any remedy in Subsection (2)(a)(ii).

(3) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, each tax sale under Subsection (2)(a)(ii)(A) shall be governed by Title 59, Chapter 2, Part 13, Collection of Taxes, to the same extent as if the sale were for the sale of property for delinquent general property taxes.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 72-5-104 is amended to read:

72-5-104. Public use constituting dedication -- Scope.

(1) As used in this section, “highway,” “street,” or “road” does not include an area principally used as a parking lot.

(2) [a] A highway is dedicated and abandoned to the use of the public when it has been continuously used as a public thoroughfare for a period of 10 years.

[cb] Dedication to the use of the public under Subsection (2) does not require an act of dedication or implied dedication by the property owner.

(3) The requirement of continuous use under Subsection (2) is satisfied if the use is as frequent as the public finds convenient or necessary and may be seasonal or follow some other pattern.

(4) Continuous use as a public thoroughfare under Subsection (2) is interrupted [only] when:

[(a) the regularly established pattern and frequency of public use for the given road has actually been interrupted for a period of no less than 24 hours to a degree that reasonably puts the traveling public on notice; or]

[(b) for interruptions by use of a barricade on or after May 10, 2011:]

[(i) if the person or entity interrupting the continuous use gives not less than 72 hours advance written notice of the interruption to the highway authority having jurisdiction of the highway, street, or road; and]

[(ii) the barricade is in place for at least 24 consecutive hours, then an interruption will be deemed to have occurred.]

(b) the property owner undertakes an overt act which is intended to interrupt the use of the highway, street, or road as a public thoroughfare; and

(c) the overt act described in Subsection (4)(b) is reasonably calculated to interrupt the regularly established pattern and frequency of public use for the given highway, street, or road for a period of no less than 24 hours.

(5) Installation of gates and posting of no trespassing signs are relevant forms of evidence but are not solely determinative of whether an interruption under Subsection (4) has occurred.

(6) If the highway authority having jurisdiction of the highway, street, or road demands that an interruption cease or that a barrier or barricade blocking public access be removed and the property owner accedes to the demand, the attempted interruption does not constitute an interruption under Subsection (4).

(6) A property owner’s interruption under Subsection (4) of a highway, street, or road where the requirement of continuous use under Subsection (2) is not satisfied restarts the running of the 10-year period of continuous use required for dedication under Subsection (2).

(7) (a) The burden of proving dedication under Subsection (2) is on the party asserting the dedication.

(b) The burden of proving interruption under Subsection (4) is on the party asserting the interruption.

(8) (a) The dedication and abandonment creates a right-of-way held by the state or a local highway authority in accordance with Sections 72-3-102, 72-3-103, 72-3-104, 72-3-105, and 72-5-103.

(b) A property owner’s interruption under Subsection (4) of a right-of-way claimed by the state or local highway authority in accordance with Subsection (8)(a) or R.S. 2477 has no effect on the validity of the state’s or local highway authority’s claim to the right-of-way and does not return the right-of-way to the property owner.
(9) The scope of a right-of-way described in Subsection (8)(a) is that which is reasonable and necessary to ensure safe travel according to the facts and circumstances.

(10) The provisions of this section apply to any claim under this section for which a court of competent jurisdiction has not issued a final unappealable judgment or order.

The Legislature finds that the application of this section:

(i) does not enlarge, eliminate, or destroy vested rights; and

(2) The commissioner shall establish, by rule, minimum standards of coverage for diabetes equitable or identical to coverage provided for the treatment of other illnesses or diseases; and
(3) In making rules under Subsection (2), the commissioner shall require rules:

(d) “General rate increase” means:

(i) any direct increase to a public utility’s base rates; or

(ii) any modification of a classification, contract, practice, or rule that increases a public utility’s base rates.

(2) (a) A public utility that files for a general rate increase or general rate decrease shall file a complete filing with the commission setting forth the proposed rate increase or decrease.

(b) (i) For purposes of this Subsection (2), a public utility’s application for a general rate increase or decrease shall be considered a complete filing unless within 30 days after the day on which the commission receives the public utility’s application, the commission issues an order describing information that the public utility must provide for the application to be considered a complete filing.

(ii) Subject to Subsection (2)(b)(iii) and within 14 days after the day on which the application is received by the commission, a party or a person may file a motion to challenge whether an application for a general rate increase or decrease is a complete filing.

(iii) A party or a person may not file a motion described in Subsection (2)(b)(ii) unless the person or party has first filed a motion to intervene with the commission.

(c) If, in accordance with Subsection (2)(b)(i), the commission issues an order that an application is not a complete filing, the commission shall:

(i) determine the materiality of an application deficiency; and
(ii) (A) if the deficiencies are not material, issue an order that the 240–day period described in Subsection (3)(a) shall start over when the public utility files the required information; or

(B) if the deficiencies are material, issue an order that the 240–day period described in Subsection (3)(a) shall start over when the public utility files the required information.

(d) (i) The commission shall, after reasonable notice, hold a hearing to determine whether the proposed rate increase or decrease, or some other rate increase or decrease, is just and reasonable.

(ii) If a rate decrease is proposed by a public utility, the commission may waive a hearing unless it seeks to suspend, alter, or modify the rate decrease.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (2)(d), (3), or (4), a proposed rate increase or decrease is not effective until after completion of the hearing and issuance of a final order by the commission concerning the proposed increase or decrease.

(3) (a) Within 240 days after a public utility submits a complete filing, the commission shall issue a final order to:

(i) grant the proposed general rate increase or decrease;

(ii) grant a different general rate increase or decrease; or

(iii) deny the proposed general rate increase or decrease.

(b) If the commission does not issue a final written order within 240 days after the public utility submits a complete filing in accordance with Subsection (3)(a):

(i) the public utility’s proposed rate increase or decrease is final; and

(ii) the commission may not order a refund of any amount already collected or returned by the public utility under Subsection (4)(a)(ii).

(4) (a) (i) A request for interim rates shall be made within 90 days after the day on which a public utility files a complete filing for a general rate increase or a general rate decrease.

(ii) The commission, on its own initiative or in response to an application by a public utility or other party, may, after a hearing, allow any rate increase or decrease proposed by a public utility, or a reasonable part of the rate increase or decrease, to take effect on an interim basis within 45 days after the day on which the request is filed, subject to the commission’s right to order a refund or surcharge.

(iii) The evidence presented in the hearing held pursuant to this Subsection (4) need not encompass all issues that may be considered in a rate case hearing held pursuant to Subsection (2)(d), but shall establish an adequate prima facie showing that the interim rate increase or decrease is justified.

(b) The commission may, after a hearing, issue a final order before the expiration of 240 days after the day on which the public utility files a complete filing establishing the utility’s revenue requirement and fixing the utility’s allowable rates before the commission determines the final allocation of the increase or decrease among categories of customers and classes of service.

(c) (i) If the commission in the commission’s final order on a public utility’s revenue requirement finds that the interim increase ordered under Subsection (4)(a)(ii) exceeds the increase finally ordered, the commission shall order the public utility to refund the excess to customers.

(ii) If the commission in the commission’s final order on a public utility’s revenue requirement finds that the interim decrease ordered under Subsection (4)(a)(ii) exceeds the decrease finally ordered, the commission shall order the public utility to refund the excess to customers.

(5) (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this title, any schedule, classification, practice, or rule filed by a public utility with the commission that does not result in any rate increase shall take effect 30 days after the date of filing or within any lesser time the commission may grant, subject to its authority after a hearing to suspend, alter, or modify that schedule, classification, practice, or rule.

(b) When the commission suspends a schedule, classification, practice, or rule, the commission shall hold a hearing on the schedule, classification, practice, or rule before issuing its final order.

(c) For purposes of this Subsection (5), any schedule, classification, practice, or rule that introduces a service or product not previously offered may not result in a rate increase.

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, whenever a public utility files with the commission any schedule, classification, practice, or rule that does not result in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental, or charge, the schedule, classification, practice, or rule shall take effect 30 days after the date of filing or at any earlier time the commission may grant, subject to the authority of the commission, after a hearing, to suspend, alter, or modify the schedule, classification, practice, or rule.

(7) This section does not apply to any rate changes of an electrical or telephone cooperative that meets all of the requirements of this Subsection (7).

(a) (i) The cooperative is organized for the purpose of either distributing electricity or providing telecommunication services to its members and the public at cost.

(ii) “At cost” includes interest costs and a reasonable rate of return as determined by the cooperative’s board of directors.

(b) The cooperative’s board of directors and any appropriate agency of the federal government have approved the rate increase or other rate change and all necessary tariff revisions reflecting the increased rate or rate change.

(c) Before implementing any rate increases, the cooperative has held a public meeting for all its customers and members. The cooperative shall mail a notice of the meeting to all of the cooperative's customers and members not less than 10 days prior to the date that the meeting is held.

(d) The cooperative has filed its tariff revisions reflecting the rate increase or other rate change with the commission, who shall make the tariffs available for public inspection.

(8) Notwithstanding Subsections (2) and (4), the procedures for implementing a proposed rate increase by a telephone corporation having less than 30,000 subscriber access lines in the state are provided in this Subsection (8).

(a) (i) The proposed rate increase by a telephone corporation subject to this Subsection (8) may become effective on the date the telephone corporation files with the commission the proposed tariff revisions and necessary information to support a determination by the commission that the proposed rate increase is just and reasonable.

(ii) The telephone corporation shall notify the commission and all potentially affected access line subscribers of the proposed rate increase 30 days before filing the proposed rate increase or change.

(b) (i) The commission may investigate whether the proposed rate increase is just and reasonable.

(ii) If the commission determines, after notice and hearing, that the rate increase is unjust or unreasonable in whole or in part, the commission may establish the rates, charges, or classifications that the commission finds to be just and reasonable.

(c) The commission shall investigate and hold a hearing to determine whether any proposed rate increase is just and reasonable if 10% or more of the telephone corporation's potentially affected access line subscribers file a request for agency action requesting an investigation and hearing.

(9) For a rebate received by an end-use customer under a demand side management program of a large-scale natural gas utility's approved schedule, the commission shall allow the end-use customer to continue receiving the rebate for up to one calendar year if:

(a) the end-use customer:

(i) is currently participating in the demand side management program; and

(ii) has completed new construction within the previous 12 months; and

(b) the schedule under which the rebate was created is modified due to a change in:

(i) standards adopted under Title 15A, State Construction and Fire Codes Act; or

(ii) 10 C.F.R. Chapter 2, Chapter 3, and Chapter 5.

Section 2. Section 54-7-12.8 is amended to read:

54-7-12.8. Electric energy efficiency, sustainable transportation and energy, and conservation tariff.

(1) As used in this section:

(a) “Demand side management” means an activity or program that promotes electric energy efficiency or conservation, the use of heat pumps, or more efficient management of electric energy loads.

(b) “Pilot program period” means a period of five years, beginning on January 1, 2017, during which the sustainable transportation and energy plan is effective.

(c) “Sustainable transportation and energy plan” means the same as that term is defined in Section 54-20-102.

(d) “Utah solar incentive program” means the eligible utility rooftop solar pilot program established by commission order in 2012.

(2) (a) As provided in this section, the commission may approve a tariff under which an electrical corporation includes a line item charge on the electrical corporation's customers' bills to recover costs incurred by the electrical corporation for demand side management.

(b) The commission shall authorize a large-scale electric utility that is allowed to charge a customer for demand side management under Subsection (2)(a) to:

(i) if requested by the large-scale electric utility, capitalize the annual costs incurred for demand side management provided in Subsection (2)(a);

(ii) amortize the annual cost for demand side management over a period of 10 years;

(iii) apply a carrying charge to the unamortized balance that is equal to the large-scale electric utility's pretax weighted average cost of capital approved by the commission in the large-scale electric utility's most recent general rate proceeding; and

(iv) recover the amortization cost described in Subsection (2)(b)(ii) and the carrying charge described in Subsection (2)(b)(iii) in customer rates.

(3) The commission shall, before January 1, 2017, authorize a large-scale electric utility to implement a combined line item charge on the large-scale electric utility's customers' bills to recover the cost to the large-scale electric utility of:

(a) demand side management, including the cost of amortizing a deferred balance;

(b) the sustainable transportation and energy plan; and

(c) the additional expense described in Subsection (5)(a)(i).

(4) On December 31, 2016, the commission shall end the Utah solar incentive program and
(5) (a) The commission may authorize a large-scale electric utility that capitalizes demand side management costs under Subsection (2)(b) to:

(i) recognize the difference between the annual revenues the large-scale electric utility collects for demand side management and the annual amount of the large-scale electric utility’s demand side management cost amortization expense as an additional expense;

(ii) establish and fund, via the additional expense described in Subsection (5)(a)(i), a regulatory liability; and

(iii) use the regulatory liability described in Subsection (5)(a)(ii) to depreciate thermal generation plant.

(b) (i) The commission may authorize the large-scale electric utility to use the regulatory liability described in Subsection (5)(a)(ii) to depreciate thermal generation plant for which the commission determines depreciation is in the public interest for compliance with an environmental regulation or another purpose.

(ii) The commission may not consider the existence of the regulatory liability described in Subsection (5)(a)(ii) in a determination to accelerate depreciation under Subsection (5)(b)(i).

(c) The commission shall allow the large-scale electric utility to apply a carrying charge to the regulatory liability described in Subsection (5)(a)(ii) in an amount equal to the large-scale electric utility’s pretax average weighted cost of capital approved by the commission in the large-scale electric utility’s most recent general rate proceeding.

(d) The commission may allow a large-scale electric utility to use the regulatory liability carrying charge described in Subsection (5)(c) to offset the carrying charge described in Subsection (2)(b)(iii).

(e) The large-scale electric utility shall apply the carrying charge described in Subsection (5)(c) to funds that a large-scale electric utility is authorized to use to depreciate thermal generation plant under Subsection (5)(a) until the reduction in the large-scale electric utility’s rate base associated with the thermal generation plant depreciation for which the funds are used is reflected in the large-scale electric utility’s customers’ rates.

(f) If the commission determines that funds established in the regulatory liability under Subsection (5)(a) are no longer needed for the purpose of depreciating thermal generation plant, the large-scale electric utility shall use the balance of the funds in the regulatory liability to offset the capitalized demand side management costs described in Subsection (2)(b)(i).

(6) (a) During the pilot program period, of the funds a large-scale electric utility collects via the line item charge described in Subsection (3), the commission shall authorize the large-scale electric utility to allocate on an annual basis:

(i) $10,000,000 to the sustainable transportation and energy plan; and

(ii) the funds not allocated to the sustainable transportation and energy plan to demand side management.

(b) The commission shall authorize a large-scale electric utility to spend up to:

(i) $2,000,000 annually for the electric vehicle incentive program described in Section 54–20–103; and

(ii) an annual average of:

(A) $1,000,000 for the clean coal technology program described in Section 54–20–104; and

(B) $3,400,000 for the innovative utility programs described in Section 54–20–105.

(c) The commission shall authorize a large-scale electric utility to recoup the large-scale electric utility’s unrecovered costs paid through the Utah solar incentive program from the funds allocated under Subsection (6)(a)(i).

(d) The commission may authorize a large-scale electric utility to allocate funds the large-scale electric utility collects via the line item charge described in Subsection (3) not spent under this Subsection (6) to a conservation, efficiency, or new technology program if the conservation, efficiency, or new technology program is cost-effective and in the public interest.

(7) A large-scale electric utility shall establish a balancing account that includes:

(a) funds allocated under Subsection (6)(a)(i);

(b) the program expenditures described in Subsection (6)(b);

(c) the unrecovered Utah solar incentive program costs described in Subsection (6)(c); and

(d) a carrying charge in an amount determined by the commission.

(8) A customer that is paying a contract rate under an agreement with a large-scale electric utility as of January 1, 2016, is exempt from the costs recovered under Subsection (3), except for costs created by or arising from the Utah solar incentive program included in Subsection 54–7–12.8(3)(b).

(9) (a) In any proceeding commenced under Section 54–3–32, the commission may not consider or assess to an eligible customer an expenditure, cost, amortization, charge, or liability of any kind that is created by or arises in whole or in part from:

(i) any program created under Title 54, Chapter 20, Sustainable Transportation and Energy Plan Act; or
(ii) this section, except for costs created by or arising from the Utah solar incentive program included in Subsection 54-7-12.8(3)(b).

(i) amend or repeal any provision of Section 54-3-32; or

(ii) affect any right, defense, or credit available to an eligible customer under Section 54-3-32.

(a) the Division of Public Utilities;

(b) the Office of Consumer Services; and

(c) a person that files a request for notice with the commission.

(11) Before approving a tariff under this section, the commission shall hold a hearing if:

(a) requested in writing by the electrical corporation, a customer of the electrical corporation, or any other interested party within 15 days after the tariff filing; or

(b) the commission determines that a hearing is appropriate.

(12) (a) The commission may approve a demand side management tariff under this section either with or without a provision allowing an end-use customer to receive a credit against the charges imposed under the tariff for electric energy efficiency measures that:

[(a) (i) the customer implements or has implemented at the customer's expense; and

(ii) qualify for the credit under criteria established by the commission.

(b) For a credit that an end-use customer receives under an approved demand side management tariff pursuant to Subsection (12)(a), the commission shall allow the end-use customer to continue receiving the credit for up to one calendar year if:

(i) the end-use customer:

(A) is currently participating in the demand side management tariff; and

(B) has completed new construction within the previous 12 months; and

(ii) the tariff under which the credit was created is modified due to a change in:

(A) standards adopted under Title 15A, State Construction and Fire Codes Act; or

(B) 10 C.F.R. Chapter 2, Chapter 3, and Chapter 5.

(13) In approving a tariff under this section, the commission may impose whatever conditions or limits it considers appropriate, including a maximum annual cost.

(14) Unless otherwise ordered by the commission, each tariff under this section approved by the commission shall take effect no sooner than 30 days after the electrical corporation files the tariff with the commission.

30-3-5. Disposition of property -- Maintenance and health care of parties and children -- Division of debts -- Court to have continuing jurisdiction -- Custody and parent-time -- Determination of alimony -- Nonmeritorious petition for modification.

(1) When a decree of divorce is rendered, the court may include in the decree of divorce equitable orders relating to the children, property, debts or obligations, and parties.

(2) The court shall include the following in every decree of divorce:

(a) an order assigning responsibility for the payment of reasonable and necessary medical and dental expenses of a dependent child, including responsibility for health insurance out-of-pocket expenses such as co-payments, co-insurance, and deductibles;

(b) (i) if coverage is or becomes available at a reasonable cost, an order requiring the purchase and maintenance of appropriate health, hospital, and dental care insurance for a dependent child; and

(ii) a designation of which health, hospital, or dental insurance plan is primary and which health, hospital, or dental insurance plan is secondary in accordance with Section 30-3-5.4 that will take effect if at any time a dependent child is covered by both parents’ health, hospital, or dental insurance plans;

(ii) has affirmed that those listed as beneficiaries are in fact the intended beneficiaries after the divorce becomes final; and

(iii) understands that if no changes are made to the policy or contract, the beneficiaries currently listed will receive any funds paid by the insurance company under the terms of the policy or contract.

(3) (a) The court may include, in an order determining child support, an order assigning financial responsibility for all or a portion of child care expenses incurred on behalf of a dependent child, necessitated by the employment or training of the custodial parent.

(b) If the court determines that the circumstances are appropriate and that the dependent child would be adequately cared for, the court may include an order allowing the noncustodial parent to provide child care for the dependent child, necessitated by the employment or training of the custodial parent.

(4) The court has continuing jurisdiction to make subsequent changes or new orders for the custody of a child and the child’s support, maintenance, health, and dental care, and for distribution of the property and obligations for debts as is reasonable and necessary.

(5) Child support, custody, visitation, and other matters related to a child born to the parents after entry of the decree of divorce may be added to the decree by modification.

(6) (a) In determining parent-time rights of parents and visitation rights of grandparents and other members of the immediate family, the court shall consider the best interest of the child.
(b) Upon a specific finding by the court of the need for peace officer enforcement, the court may include in an order establishing a parent-time or visitation schedule a provision, among other things, authorizing any peace officer to enforce a court-ordered parent-time or visitation schedule entered under this chapter.

[61] (7) If a petition for modification of child custody or parent-time provisions of a court order is made and denied, the court shall order the petitioner to pay the reasonable attorney fees expended by the prevailing party in that action, if the court determines that the petition was without merit and not asserted or defended against in good faith.

[63] (8) If a motion or petition alleges noncompliance with a parent-time order by a parent, or a visitation order by a grandparent or other member of the immediate family where a visitation or parent-time right has been previously granted by the court, the court may award to the prevailing party:

(a) actual attorney fees incurred;

(b) the costs incurred by the prevailing party because of the other party's failure to provide or exercise court-ordered visitation or parent-time, which may include:

(i) court costs;

(ii) child care expenses;

(iii) transportation expenses actually incurred;

(iv) lost wages, if ascertainable; and

(v) counseling for a child or parent if ordered or approved by the court;

(c) make-up parent time consistent with the best interest of the child; and

(d) any other appropriate equitable remedy.

[65] (9) (a) The court shall consider at least the following factors in determining alimony:

(i) the financial condition and needs of the recipient spouse;

(ii) the recipient's earning capacity or ability to produce income, including the impact of diminished workplace experience resulting from primarily caring for a child of the payor spouse;

(iii) the ability of the payor spouse to provide support;

(iv) the length of the marriage;

(v) whether the recipient spouse has custody of a minor child requiring support;

(vi) whether the recipient spouse worked in a business owned or operated by the payor spouse; and

(vii) whether the recipient spouse directly contributed to any increase in the payor spouse's skill by paying for education received by the payor spouse or enabling the payor spouse to attend school during the marriage.

(b) The court may consider the fault of the parties in determining whether to award alimony and the terms of the alimony.

(c) “Fault” means any of the following wrongful conduct during the marriage that substantially contributed to the breakup of the marriage relationship:

(i) engaging in sexual relations with [a person] an individual other than the party's spouse;

(ii) knowingly and intentionally causing or attempting to cause physical harm to the other party or a minor child;

(iii) knowingly and intentionally causing the other party or a minor child to reasonably fear life-threatening harm; or

(iv) substantially undermining the financial stability of the other party or the minor child.

(d) The court may, when fault is at issue, close the proceedings and seal the court records.

(e) As a general rule, the court should look to the standard of living, existing at the time of separation, in determining alimony in accordance with Subsection [61] (9)(a). However, the court shall consider all relevant facts and equitable principles and may, in the court's discretion, base alimony on the standard of living that existed at the time of trial. In marriages of short duration, when no child has been conceived or born during the marriage, the court may consider the standard of living that existed at the time of the marriage.

(f) The court may, under appropriate circumstances, attempt to equalize the parties' respective standards of living.

(g) When a marriage of long duration dissolves on the threshold of a major change in the income of one of the spouses due to the collective efforts of both, that change shall be considered in dividing the marital property and in determining the amount of alimony. If one spouse's earning capacity has been greatly enhanced through the efforts of both spouses during the marriage, the court may make a compensating adjustment in dividing the marital property and awarding alimony.

(h) In determining alimony when a marriage of short duration dissolves, and no child has been conceived or born during the marriage, the court may consider restoring each party to the condition which existed at the time of the marriage.

[61] (10) (a) The court has continuing jurisdiction to make substantive changes and new orders regarding alimony based on a substantial material change in circumstances not foreseeable at the time of the divorce.

(b) Regardless of whether a party's retirement is foreseeable, the party's retirement is a substantial material change in circumstances that is subject to a petition to modify alimony, unless the divorce decree expressly states otherwise.
The court may not modify alimony or for a duration longer than individual this section, and as used in 30-3-5(2)(a), even if the former health, hospital, or dental insurance plan is primary coverage and which parent's health, hospital, or dental insurance plan is secondary coverage for a dependent child.

(b) The provisions of the court order required by Subsection (2)(a) shall:

(i) take effect if at any time a dependent child is covered by both parents’ health, hospital, or dental insurance plans; and

(ii) include the following language:

“If, at any point in time, a dependent child is covered by the health, hospital, or dental insurance plans of both parents, the health, hospital, or dental insurance plan of (Parent’s Name) shall be primary coverage for the dependent child and the health, hospital, or dental insurance plan of (Other Parent’s Name) shall be secondary coverage for the dependent child. If a parent remarries and his or her dependent child is not covered by that parent’s health, hospital, or dental insurance plan but is covered by a step–parent’s plan, the health, hospital, or dental insurance plan of the step–parent shall be treated as if it is the plan of the remarried parent and shall retain the same designation as the primary or secondary plan of the dependent child.”

(c) A decree of divorce or related court order may not modify the language required by Subsection (2)(b)(ii).

(d) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(c), a court may allocate the payment of medical expenses including co-payments, deductibles, and co-insurance not covered by health insurance between the parents in accordance with Subsections 30-3-5(11)(a) 30-3-5(2)(a) and 78B–12–212(7).

(3) In designating primary coverage pursuant to Subsection (2), a court may take into account:

(a) the birth dates of the parents;

(b) a requirement in a court order, if any, for one of the parents to maintain health insurance coverage for a dependent child;

(c) the parent with physical custody of the dependent child; or

(d) any other factor the court considers relevant.

Section 2. Section 30-3-5.4 is amended to read:

30-3-5.4. Designation of primary and secondary health, dental, or hospital insurance coverage.

(1) For purposes of As used in this section, “health, hospital, or dental insurance plan” has the same meaning as “health care insurance” as defined in Section 31A–1–301.

(2) (a) A decree of divorce rendered in accordance with Section 30–3–5, an order for medical expenses rendered in accordance with Section 78B–12–212, and an administrative order under Section 62A–11–326 shall, in accordance with Subsection (2)(b)(ii), designate which parent’s health, hospital, if insurance is available to that parent at a reasonable cost.

(c) The court shall, in accordance with Section 30-3-5, designate which health, hospital, or dental insurance plan is primary and which health, hospital, or dental insurance plan is secondary if at any time a dependent child is covered by both parents’ health, hospital, or dental insurance plans.

(3) In determining which parent shall be ordered to maintain insurance for medical expenses, the court or administrative agency may consider the:

(a) reasonableness of the cost;

(b) availability of a group insurance policy;

(c) coverage of the policy; and

(d) preference of the custodial parent.

(4) The order shall require each parent to share equally the out-of-pocket costs of the premium actually paid by a parent for the child’s portion of insurance unless the court finds good cause to order otherwise.

(5) The parent who provides the insurance coverage may receive credit against the base child support award or recover the other parent’s share of the child’s portion of the premium. If the parent does not have insurance but another member of the parent’s household provides insurance coverage for the child, the parent may receive credit against the base child support award or recover the other parent’s share of the child’s portion of the premium.

(6) The child’s portion of the premium is a per capita share of the premium actually paid. The premium expense for a child shall be calculated by dividing the premium amount by the number of persons covered under the policy and multiplying the result by the number of children in the instant case.

(7) The order shall, in accordance with Subsection [30-3-5(1)(b) 30-3-5(2)(a)], include a cash medical support provision that requires each parent to equally share all reasonable and necessary uninsured and unreimbursed medical and dental expenses incurred for a dependent child, including deductibles and copayments unless the court finds good cause to order otherwise.

(8) The parent ordered to maintain insurance shall provide verification of coverage to the other parent, or to the Office of Recovery Services under Title IV of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 601 et seq., upon initial enrollment of the dependent child, and after initial enrollment on or before January 2 of each calendar year. The parent shall notify the other parent, or the Office of Recovery Services under Title IV of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 601 et seq., of any change of insurance carrier, premium, or benefits within 30 calendar days of the date the parent first knew or should have known of the change.

(9) A parent who incurs medical expenses shall provide written verification of the cost and payment of medical expenses to the other parent within 30 days of payment.

(10) In addition to any other sanctions provided by the court, a parent incurring medical expenses may be denied the right to receive credit for the expenses or to recover the other parent’s share of the expenses if that parent fails to comply with Subsections (8) and (9).
