Section 1. Section 30-3-10 is amended to read:

30-3-10. Custody and parent-time of a child -- Custody factors -- Child conceived as a result of a sexual offense.

(1) If a married couple having one or more minor children are separated, or the married couple's marriage is declared void or dissolved, the court shall enter, and has continuing jurisdiction to modify, an order of custody and parent-time.

(2) In determining any form of custody and parent-time under Subsection (1), the court shall consider the best interest of the child and may consider among other factors the court finds relevant, the following for each parent:

(a) evidence of domestic violence, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, or emotional abuse, involving the child, the parent, or a household member of the parent;

(b) the parent's demonstrated understanding of, responsiveness to, and ability to meet the developmental needs of the child, including the child's:

(i) physical needs;

(ii) emotional needs;

(iii) educational needs;

(iv) medical needs; and

(v) any special needs;

(c) the parent's capacity and willingness to function as a parent, including:

(i) parenting skills;

(ii) co-parenting skills, including:

(A) ability to appropriately communicate with the other parent;

(B) ability to encourage the sharing of love and affection; and

(C) willingness to allow frequent and continuous contact between the child and the other parent, except that, if the court determines that the parent is acting to protect the child from domestic violence, neglect, or abuse, the parent's protective actions may be taken into consideration; and

(iii) ability to provide personal care rather than surrogate care;

(d) in accordance with Subsection (10), the past conduct and demonstrated moral character of the parent;

(e) the emotional stability of the parent;

(f) the parent's inability to function as a parent because of drug abuse, excessive drinking, or other causes;

(g) whether the parent has intentionally exposed the child to pornography or material harmful to minors, as "material" and "harmful to minors" are defined in Section 76-10-1201;

(h) the parent's reasons for having relinquished custody or parent-time in the past;

(i) duration and depth of desire for custody or parent-time;

(j) the parent's religious compatibility with the child;

(k) the parent's financial responsibility;

(l) the child's interaction and relationship with step-parents, extended family members of other individuals who may significantly affect the child's best interests;

(m) who has been the primary caretaker of the child;

(n) previous parenting arrangements in which the child has been happy and well-adjusted in the home, school, and community;

(o) the relative benefit of keeping siblings together;

(p) the stated wishes and concerns of the child, taking into consideration the child's cognitive ability and emotional maturity;

(q) the relative strength of the child's bond with the parent, meaning the depth, quality, and nature of the relationship between the parent and the child; and

(r) any other factor the court finds relevant.

(3) There is a rebuttable presumption that joint legal custody, as defined in Section 30-3-10.1, is in the best interest of the child, except in cases when there is:

(a) evidence of domestic violence, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, or emotional abuse involving the child, a parent, or a household member of the parent;

(b) special physical or mental needs of a parent or child, making joint legal custody unreasonable;

(c) physical distance between the residences of the parents, making joint decision making impractical in certain circumstances; or

(d) any other factor the court considers relevant including those listed in this section and Section 30-3-10.2.

(4)(a) The person who desires joint legal custody shall file a proposed parenting plan in accordance with Sections 30-3-10.8 and 30-3-10.9.

(b) A presumption for joint legal custody may be rebutted by a showing by a preponderance of the evidence that it is not in the best interest of the child.

(5)(a) A child may not be required by either party to testify unless the trier of fact determines that extenuating circumstances exist that would necessitate the testimony of the child be heard and there is no other reasonable method to present the child's testimony.

(b)(i) The court may inquire of the child's and take into consideration the child's desires regarding future custody or parent-time schedules, but the expressed desires are not controlling and the court may determine the child's custody or parent-time otherwise.

(ii) The desires of a child 14 years old or older shall be given added weight, but is not the single controlling factor.

(c)(i) If an interview with a child is conducted by the court pursuant to Subsection (5)(b), the interview shall be conducted by the judge in camera.

(ii) The prior consent of the parties may be obtained but is not necessary if the court finds that an interview with a child is the only method to ascertain the child's desires regarding custody.

(6)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (6)(b), a court may not discriminate against a parent due to a disability, as defined in Section 57-21-2, in awarding custody or determining whether a substantial change has occurred for the purpose of modifying an award of custody.

(b) The court may not consider the disability of a parent as a factor in awarding custody or modifying an award of custody based on a determination of a substantial change in circumstances, unless the court makes specific findings that:

(i) the disability significantly or substantially inhibits the parent's ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the child at issue; and

(ii) the parent with a disability lacks sufficient human, monetary, or other resources available to supplement the parent's ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the child at issue.

(c) Nothing in this section may be construed to apply to adoption proceedings under Title 78B, Chapter 6, Part 1, Utah Adoption Act.

(7) This section does not establish a preference for either parent solely because of the gender of the parent.

(8) This section establishes neither a preference nor a presumption for or against joint physical custody or sole physical custody, but allows the court and the family the widest discretion to choose a parenting plan that is in the best interest of the child.

(9) When an issue before the court involves custodial responsibility in the event of a deployment of one or both parents who are service members and the service member has not yet been notified of deployment, the court shall resolve the issue based on the standards in Sections 78B-20-306 through 78B-20-309.

(10) In considering the past conduct and demonstrated moral standards of each party under Subsection (2)(d) or any other factor a court finds relevant, the court may not:

(a) consider or treat a parent's lawful possession or use of cannabis in a medicinal dosage form, a cannabis product in a medicinal dosage form, or a medical cannabis device, in accordance with Title 4, Chapter 41a, Cannabis Production Establishments and Pharmacies, Title 26B, Chapter 4, Part 2, Cannabinoid Research and Medical Cannabis, or Subsection 58-37-3.7(2) or (3) any differently than the court would consider or treat the lawful possession or use of any prescribed controlled substance; or

(b) discriminate against a parent because of the parent's status as a:

(i) cannabis production establishment agent, as that term is defined in Section 4-41a-102;

(ii) medical cannabis pharmacy agent, as that term is defined in Section 26B-4-201;

(iii) medical cannabis courier agent, as that term is defined in Section 26B-4-201; or

(iv) medical cannabis cardholder in accordance with Title 26B, Chapter 4, Part 2, Cannabinoid Research and Medical Cannabis.

(11) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the court may not grant custody or parent-time of a child to a parent convicted of a sexual offense, as defined in Section 77-37-2, that resulted in the conception of the child unless:

(a) the nonconvicted biological parent, or the legal guardian of the child, consents to custody or parent-time and the court determines it is in the best interest of the child to award custody or parent-time to the convicted parent; or

(b) after the date of the conviction, the convicted parent and the nonconvicted parent cohabit and establish a mutual custodial environment for the child.

(12) A denial of custody or parent-time under Subsection (11) does not:

(a) terminate the parental rights of the parent denied parent-time or custody; or

(b) affect the obligation of the convicted parent to financially support the child.

(13)(a) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section and unless exempt under Subsection (9), (10), or (11), to comply with this section, a secondary water supplier is not required to meter every secondary water connection of the secondary water supplier's system, but shall meter at strategic points of the system as approved by the state engineer under this Subsection (13) if:

(i) the system has no or minimal storage and relies primarily on stream flow;

(ii)(A) the majority of secondary water users on the system are associated with agriculture use or power generation use; and

(B) less than 50% of the secondary water is used by residential secondary water users; or

(iii) the system has a mix of pressurized lines and open ditches and:

(A) 1,000 or fewer users[~~; and~~]if any part of the system is within a critical area; or

(B) [~~a mix of pressurized lines and open ditches.~~]2,500 or fewer users for a system not described in Subsection (13)(a)(iii)(A).

(b)(i) A secondary water supplier may obtain the approval by the state engineer of strategic points where metering is to occur as required under this Subsection (13) by filing an application with the state engineer in the form established by the state engineer.

(ii) The state engineer may by rule, made in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, establish procedures for approving strategic points for metering under this Subsection (13).

AMENDS:

77-15-6, as last amended by Laws of Utah 2023, Chapters 171, 330

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 77-15-6 is amended to read:

77-15-6. Commitment on finding of incompetency to stand trial -- Subsequent hearings -- Notice to prosecuting attorneys.

(1)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (5), if after a hearing a court finds a defendant to be incompetent to proceed, the court shall order the defendant committed to the department for restoration treatment.

(b)(i) Except as provided in Subsection (1)(b)(ii), the court may recommend but may not order placement of a defendant who is found incompetent to proceed.

(ii) The court may order that the defendant be placed in a secure setting rather than a nonsecure setting.

(c) Following restoration screening, the department's designee shall designate and inform the court of the specific placement and restoration treatment program for the defendant.

(d) Restoration treatment shall be of sufficient scope and duration to:

(i) restore the defendant to competency; or

(ii) determine whether the defendant can be restored to competency in the foreseeable future.

(e) A defendant who a court determines is incompetent to proceed may not be held for restoration treatment longer than:

(i) the time reasonably necessary to determine that the defendant cannot become competent to stand trial in the foreseeable future; and

(ii) the maximum period of incarceration that the defendant could receive if the defendant were convicted of the most severe offense of the offenses charged.

(2)(a) A defendant who is receiving restoration treatment shall receive a progress toward competency evaluation, by:

(i) a forensic evaluator, designated by the department; and

(ii) an additional forensic evaluator, if requested by a party and paid for by the requesting party.

(b) A forensic evaluator shall complete a progress toward competency evaluation and submit a report within 90 days after the day on which the forensic evaluator receives the commitment order from the department.

(c) The report shall:

(i) assess whether the defendant is exhibiting false or exaggerated physical or psychological symptoms;

(ii) describe any diagnostic instruments, methods, and observations used by the evaluator to make the determination;

(iii) describe the defendant's current mental illness or intellectual disability, if any;

(iv) state the forensic evaluator's opinion as to the effect of any false or exaggerated symptoms on the defendant's competency to stand trial;

(v) assess the facility's or program's capacity to provide appropriate restoration treatment for the defendant;

(vi) assess the nature of restoration treatment provided to the defendant;

(vii) assess what progress the defendant has made toward competency restoration, with respect to the factors identified by the court in its initial order;

(viii) assess whether the defendant can reasonably be restored to competency in the foreseeable future given the restoration treatment currently being provided and the facility's or program's capacity to provide appropriate restoration treatment for the defendant; [~~and~~]

(ix) assess the likelihood of restoration to competency, the amount of time estimated to achieve competency, or the amount of time estimated to determine whether restoration to competency may be achieved[~~.~~]; and

(x) include a statement by the facility's treating physician regarding:

(A) whether the defendant is taking any antipsychotic medication as prescribed;

(B) whether ongoing administration of antipsychotic medication is necessary to maintain the defendant's competency to stand trial;

(C) whether antipsychotic medication is substantially likely to maintain the defendant's competency to stand trial;

(D) whether antipsychotic medication is substantially unlikely to produce side effects which would significantly interfere with the defendant's ability to assist in the defendant's defense;

(E) that no less intrusive means are available, and whether any of those means have been attempted to render the defendant competent; and

(F) whether antipsychotic medication is medically appropriate and in the defendant's best medical interest in light of the defendant's medical condition.

(3)(a) The court on its own motion or upon motion by either party or the department may appoint an additional forensic evaluator to conduct a progress toward competency evaluation.

(b) If the court appoints an additional forensic evaluator upon motion of a party, that party shall pay the costs of the additional forensic evaluator.

(4)(a) Within 15 days after the day on which the court receives the forensic evaluator's report of the progress toward competency evaluation, the court shall hold a hearing to review the defendant's competency.

(b) At the hearing, the burden of proving that the defendant is competent to stand trial is on the proponent of competency.

(c) Following the hearing, the court shall determine by a preponderance of evidence whether the defendant[~~is~~]:

(i) is competent to stand trial;

(ii) is competent, but requires the ongoing administration of antipsychotic medication in order to maintain the defendant's competency to stand trial;

~~(ii)~~ is incompetent to proceed, with a substantial probability that the defendant may become competent in the foreseeable future; or

~~(iii)~~ is incompetent to proceed, without a substantial probability that the defendant may become competent in the foreseeable future.

(5)(a) If at any time the court determines that the defendant is competent to stand trial, the court shall:

(i) proceed with the trial or other procedures as may be necessary to adjudicate the charges; [~~and~~]

(ii) order that the defendant be returned to the placement and status that the defendant was in at the time when the petition for the adjudication of competency was filed or raised by the court, unless the court determines that placement of the defendant in a less restrictive environment is more appropriate[~~.~~];

(iii) order the ongoing administration of antipsychotic medication to the defendant for the purpose of maintaining the defendant's competency to stand trial, if the court finds that the administration of antipsychotic medication is necessary to maintain the defendant's competency to stand trial under Subsection (4)(c)(ii); and

(iv) require the agency, jail, or prison with custody over the defendant to report to the court any noncompliance with the court's orders under this Subsection (5) within 48 hours of the noncompliance.

(b) If the court determines that the defendant is incompetent to proceed with a substantial probability that the defendant may become competent in the foreseeable future, the court may order that the defendant remain committed to the department or the department's designee for the purpose of restoration treatment.

(c)(i) If the court determines that the defendant is incompetent to proceed without a substantial probability that the defendant may become competent in the foreseeable future, the court shall order the defendant released from commitment to the department, unless the prosecutor or another individual informs the court that civil commitment proceedings pursuant to Title 26B, Chapter 5, Health Care - Substance Use and Mental Health, or Title 26B, Chapter 6, Part 4, Division of Services for People with Disabilities, will be initiated.

(ii) The commitment proceedings must be initiated by a petition filed within seven days after the day on which the court makes the determination described in Subsection ~~(4)(c)(iii)~~(c)(iv), unless the court finds that there is good cause to delay the initiation of the civil commitment proceedings.

(iii) The court may order the defendant to remain committed to the department until the civil commitment proceedings conclude.

(iv) If the defendant is civilly committed and admitted to a secure setting, the department shall provide notice to the court that adjudicated the defendant incompetent to proceed and to the prosecution agency that prosecuted the case at least 60 days before any proposed release of the committed individual from the secure setting.

(6)(a) At any time following the court's order under Subsection (5)(a)(iii), the defendant, the prosecuting attorney, the department, the treating physician, or the agency, jail, or prison with custody over the defendant, may notify the court of the need to review the medication order under Subsection (5)(a)(iii) for continued appropriateness and feasibility.

(b) The court shall set the matter for a hearing if the notification under Subsection (6)(a) establishes good cause to review the matter.

~~(6)~~ If a court, under Subsection (5)(b), extends a defendant's commitment, the court shall schedule a competency review hearing for the earlier of:

(a) the department's best estimate of when the defendant may be restored to competency; or

(b) three months after the day on which the court determined under Subsection (5)(b) to extend the defendant's commitment.

~~(7)~~ Unless the defendant is charged with a crime listed in Subsection ~~(8)~~, if a defendant is incompetent to proceed by the day of the competency review hearing that follows the extension of a defendant's commitment, the court shall:

(a) order the defendant be:

(i) released or temporarily detained pending civil commitment proceedings as described in Subsection (5)(c); and

(ii) terminate the defendant's commitment to the department for restoration treatment; or

(b) if the forensic evaluator reports to the court that there is a substantial probability that restoration treatment will bring the defendant to competency to stand trial in the foreseeable future, extend the defendant's commitment for restoration treatment up to 45 additional days.

~~(8)~~ If the defendant is charged with aggravated murder, murder, attempted murder, manslaughter, or a first degree felony and the court determines that the defendant is making reasonable progress towards restoration of competency at the time of the hearing held pursuant to Subsection ~~(6)~~, the court may extend the commitment for a period not to exceed nine months for the purpose of restoration treatment, with a mandatory review hearing at the end of the nine-month period.

~~(9)~~ Unless the defendant is charged with aggravated murder or murder, if, at the nine-month review hearing described in Subsection ~~(8)~~, the court determines that the defendant is incompetent to proceed, the court shall:

(a)(i) order the defendant be released or temporarily detained pending civil commitment proceedings as provided in Subsection (5)(c); and

(ii) terminate the defendant's commitment to the department for restoration treatment; or

(b) if the forensic evaluator reports to the court that there is a substantial probability that restoration treatment will bring the defendant to competency to stand trial in the foreseeable future, extend the defendant's commitment for restoration treatment for up to 135 additional days.

~~(10)~~ If the defendant is charged with aggravated murder or murder and the court determines that the defendant is making reasonable progress towards restoration of competency at the time of the nine-month review hearing described in Subsection ~~(8)~~, the court may extend the commitment for a period not to exceed 24 months for the purpose of restoration treatment.

~~(11)~~ If the court extends the defendant's commitment term under Subsection ~~(10)~~, the court shall hold a hearing no less frequently than at 12-month intervals following the extension for the purpose of determining the defendant's competency status.

~~(12)~~ If, at the end of the 24-month commitment period described in Subsection ~~(10)~~, the court determines that the defendant is incompetent to proceed, the court shall:

(a)(i) order the defendant be released or temporarily detained pending civil commitment proceedings as provided in Subsection (5)(c); and

(ii) terminate the defendant's commitment to the department for restoration treatment; or

(b) if the forensic evaluator reports to the court that there is a substantial probability that restoration treatment will bring the defendant to competency to stand trial in the foreseeable future, extend the defendant's commitment for restoration treatment for up to 12 additional months.

~~(13)~~(a) Neither release from a pretrial incompetency commitment under the provisions of this section nor civil commitment requires dismissal of criminal charges.

(b) The court may retain jurisdiction over the criminal case and may order periodic reviews.

~~(14)~~ A defendant who is civilly committed pursuant to Title 26B, Chapter 5, Health Care - Substance Use and Mental Health, or Title 26B, Chapter 6, Part 4, Division of Services for People with Disabilities, may still be adjudicated competent to stand trial under this chapter.

~~(15)~~(a) The remedy for a violation of the time periods specified in this section, other than those specified in Subsection (5)(c), ~~(7)~~, ~~(9)~~, or ~~(12)~~, shall be a motion to compel the hearing, or mandamus, but Ânot release from detention or dismissal of the criminal charges.

(b) The remedy for a violation of the time periods specified in Subsection (5)(c), ~~(7)~~, ~~(9)~~, or ~~(12)~~, or is not dismissal of the criminal charges.

~~(16)~~ In cases in which the treatment of the defendant is precluded by court order for a period of time, that time period may not be considered in computing time limitations under this section.

~~(17)~~(a) If, at any time, the defendant becomes competent to stand trial while the defendant is committed to the department, the clinical director of the Utah State Hospital, the department, or the department's designee shall certify that fact to the court.

(b) The court shall conduct a competency review hearing:

(i) within 15 working days after the day on which the court receives the certification described in Subsection ~~(17)(a)~~(a); or

(ii) within 30 working days after the day on which the court receives the certification described in Subsection ~~(17)(a)~~(a), if the court determines that more than 15 working days are necessary for good cause related to the defendant's competency.

Section 1. Section 30-3-4 is amended to read:

30-3-4. Pleadings -- Decree -- Mandatory course requirements -- Use of affidavit -- Private records.

(1) As used in this section, "mandatory courses" means:

(a) the mandatory parenting course described in Subsection 30-3-11.3(1)(a); and

(b) the divorce orientation course described in Section 30-3-11.4.

~~(1)~~(a) The complaint shall be in writing and signed by the petitioner or petitioner's attorney.

(b) A decree of divorce may not be granted upon default or otherwise except upon legal evidence taken in the cause. If the decree is to be entered upon the default of the respondent, evidence to support the decree may be submitted upon the affidavit of the petitioner with the approval of the court.

[~~(c) If the petitioner and the respondent have a child or children, a decree of divorce may not be granted until both parties have attended the mandatory course described in Section 30-3-11.3 or 30-3-11.4, and have presented a certificate of course completion to the court. The court may waive this requirement, on its own motion or on the motion of one of the parties, if it determines course attendance and completion are not necessary, appropriate, feasible, or in the best interest of the parties.~~]

~~(d)~~ All hearings and trials for divorce shall be held before the court or the court commissioner as provided by Section 78A-5-107 and rules of the Judicial Council. The court or the commissioner in all divorce cases shall enter the decree upon the evidence or, in the case of a decree after default of the respondent, upon the petitioner's affidavit.

(3)(a) If the parties to the divorce action have a child, the parties shall attend the mandatory courses:

(i) for the petitioner, within 60 days after the day on which the petition is filed; and

(ii) for the respondent, within 30 days after the day on which the respondent is served.

(a) make a final determination of indigency; and

(b) order the party to pay the costs of the mandatory courses if the court determines the party is not indigent.

(5)(a) Except for a temporary restraining order under Rule 65 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure, a party may file, but the court may not hear, a motion for an order related to the divorce until the moving party completes the mandatory courses.

An order classifying part of the file as private does not apply to subsequent filings.

(c) The record is private until the judge determines it is possible to release the record without prejudice to the interests that justified the closure. (b) order the party to pay the costs of the divorce orientation course if the court determines the party is not indigent.

(6)(a) Except for a temporary restraining order under Rule 65 of the Utah Rules of Civil Procedure, a party may file, but the court may not hear, a motion for an order related to the temporary separation petition until the moving party completes the divorce orientation course.

(b) It is an affirmative defense in a temporary separation action that a party has not completed the divorce orientation course and the action may not continue until a party has complied with the divorce orientation course.

(7)(a) Notwithstanding Subsections (4) or (6)(b), the court may waive the requirement that the parties attend the divorce orientation course, on the court's own motion or on the motion of one of the parties, if the court determines course attendance and completion are not necessary, appropriate, or feasible, or in the best interest of the parties.

~~(2)~~ An order of joint legal or physical custody shall provide terms the court determines appropriate, which may include specifying:

~~(6)~~ An order of joint legal custody, in itself, is not grounds for modifying a support order.

~~(7)~~ An order of joint legal or physical custody shall require a parenting plan incorporating a dispute resolution procedure the parties agree to use:

30-3-10.4. Modification or termination of order.

(1) On the petition of one or both of the parents, or the joint legal or physical custodians if they are not the parents, the court may, after a hearing, modify or terminate an order that established joint legal custody or joint physical custody if:

(a) the verified petition or accompanying affidavit initially alleges that admissible evidence will show that the circumstances of the child or one or both parents or joint legal or physical custodians have materially and substantially changed since the entry of the order to be modified;

(b) a modification of the terms and conditions of the order would be an improvement for and in the best interest of the child; and

(c)(i) both parents have complied in good faith with the dispute resolution procedure in accordance with Subsection [~~30-3-10.3(7)~~]30-3-10.3(6); or

(ii) if no dispute resolution procedure is contained in the order that established joint legal custody or joint physical custody, the court orders the parents to participate in a dispute resolution procedure in accordance with Subsection 30-3-10.2(5) unless the parents certify that, in good faith, they have used a dispute resolution procedure to resolve their dispute.

(2)(a) In determining whether the best interest of a child will be served by either modifying or terminating the joint legal custody or joint physical custody order, the court shall, in addition to other factors the court considers relevant, consider the factors outlined in Section 30-3-10 and Subsection 30-3-10.2(2).

(b) A court order modifying or terminating an existing joint legal custody or joint physical custody order shall contain written findings that:

(i) a material and substantial change of circumstance has occurred; and

(ii) a modification of the terms and conditions of the order would be an improvement for and in the best interest of the child.

(c) The court shall give substantial weight to the existing joint legal custody or joint physical custody order when the child is thriving, happy, and well-adjusted.

(3) The court shall, in every case regarding a petition for termination of a joint legal custody or joint physical custody order, consider reasonable alternatives to preserve the existing order in accordance with Subsection 30-3-10(3). The court may modify the terms and conditions of the existing order in accordance with Subsection 30-3-10(8) and may order the parents to file a parenting plan in accordance with this chapter.

(4) A parent requesting a modification from sole custody to joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both, or any other type of shared parenting arrangement, shall file and serve a proposed parenting plan with the petition to modify in accordance with Section 30-3-10.8.

(5) If the court finds that an action under this section is filed or answered frivolously and in a manner designed to harass the other party, the court shall assess attorney fees as costs against the offending party.

(6) If an issue before the court involves custodial responsibility in the event of deployment of one or both parents who are service members, and the service member has not yet been notified of deployment, the court shall resolve the issue based on the standards in Sections 78B-20-306 through 78B-20-309.

Section 5. Section 30-3-10.9 is amended to read:

30-3-10.9. Parenting plan -- Objectives -- Required provisions -- Dispute resolution -- Education plan.

(1) The objectives of a parenting plan are to:

(a) provide for the child's physical care;

(b) maintain the child's emotional stability;

(c) provide for the child's changing needs as the child grows and matures in a way that minimizes the need for future modifications to the parenting plan;

(d) set forth the authority and responsibilities of each parent with respect to the child consistent with the definitions outlined in this chapter;

(e) minimize the child's exposure to harmful parental conflict;

(f) encourage the parents, where appropriate, to meet the responsibilities to their minor children through agreements in the parenting plan rather than relying on judicial intervention; and

(g) protect the best interests of the child.

(2) The parenting plan shall contain provisions for resolution of future disputes between the parents, allocation of decision-making authority, and residential provisions for the child, and provisions addressing notice and parent-time responsibilities in the event of the relocation of either party. It may contain other provisions comparable to those in Sections 30-3-5 and 30-3-10.3 regarding the welfare of the child.

(3) A process for resolving disputes shall be provided unless precluded or limited by statute. A dispute resolution process may include:

(a) counseling;

(b) mediation or arbitration by a specified individual or agency; or

(c) court action.

(4) In the dispute resolution process:

(a) preference shall be given to the provisions in the parenting plan;

(b) parents shall use the designated process to resolve disputes relating to implementation of the plan, except those related to financial support, unless an emergency exists;

(c) a written record shall be prepared of any agreement reached in counseling or mediation and provided to each party;

(d) if arbitration becomes necessary, a written record shall be prepared and a copy of the arbitration award shall be provided to each party;

(e) if the court finds that a parent has used or frustrated the dispute resolution process without good reason, the court may award attorney fees and financial sanctions to the prevailing parent;

(f) the district court has the right of review from the dispute resolution process; and

(g) the provisions of this Subsection (4) shall be set forth in any final decree or order.

(5)(a) Subject to the other provisions of this Subsection (5), the parenting plan shall allocate decision-making authority to one or both parties regarding the child's education, healthcare, and religious upbringing. The parties may incorporate an agreement related to the care and growth of the child in these specified areas or in other areas into the plan, consistent with the criteria outlined in Subsection 30-3-10.7(2) and Subsection (1). Regardless of the allocation of decision-making in the parenting plan, either parent may make emergency decisions affecting the health or safety of the child.

(b) A child's education plan shall designate the following:

(i) the home residence for purposes of identifying the appropriate school or another specific plan that provides for where the child will attend school;

(ii) which parent has authority to make education decisions for the child if the parents cannot agree; and

(iii) whether one or both parents have access to the child during school and authority to check the child out of school.

(c) If no education provision is included in the parent plan:

(i) a parent with sole physical custody shall make the decisions listed in Subsection (5)(b);

(ii) in the event of joint physical custody when one parent has custody a majority of the time, pursuant to Subsection [~~30-3-10.3(4)~~]30-3-10.3(3):

(A) the parent having the child the majority of the time shall make the decisions listed in Subsections (5)(b)(i) and (ii); and

(B) both parents with joint physical custody shall have access to the child during school and authority to check the child out of school; or

(iii) in the event of joint physical custody when the parents have custody an equal amount of time:

(A) the court shall determine how the decisions listed in Subsections (5)(b)(i) and (ii) are made; and

(B) both parents with joint physical custody shall have access to the child during school and authority to check the child out of school.

(6) Each parent may make decisions regarding the day-to-day care and control of the child while the child is residing with that parent.

(7) When mutual decision-making is designated but cannot be achieved, the parties shall make a good faith effort to resolve the issue through the dispute resolution process.

(8) The plan shall include a residential schedule that designates in which parent's home each minor child shall reside on given days of the year, including provisions for holidays, birthdays of family members, vacations, and other special occasions.

(9) If a parent fails to comply with a provision of the parenting plan or a child support order, the other parent's obligations under the parenting plan or the child support order are not affected. Failure to comply with a provision of the parenting plan or a child support order may result in a finding of contempt of court.

(10)(a) When one or both parents are service members, the parenting plan shall contain provisions that address the foreseeable parenting and custodial issues likely to arise in the event of notification of deployment or other contingency, including long-term deployments, short-term deployments, death, incapacity, and noncombatant evacuation operations.

(b) The provisions in the parenting plan described in Subsection (10)(a) shall comport substantially with the requirements of an agreement made pursuant to Section 78B-20-201.

(2) If a person is convicted in this state of a violent felony by plea or by verdict and the trier of fact determines beyond a reasonable doubt that the person is a habitual violent offender under this section, the penalty for a:

(a) third degree felony is as if the conviction were for a first degree felony;

(b) second degree felony is as if the conviction were for a first degree felony; or

(c) first degree felony remains the penalty for a first degree penalty except:

(i) the convicted person is not eligible for probation; and

(ii) the Board of Pardons and Parole shall consider that the convicted person is a habitual violent offender as an aggravating factor in determining the length of incarceration.

(3)(a) The prosecuting attorney, or grand jury if an indictment is returned, shall provide notice in the information or indictment that the defendant is subject to punishment as a habitual violent offender under this section. Notice shall include the case number, court, and date of conviction or commitment of any case relied upon by the prosecution.

(b)(i) The defendant shall serve notice in writing upon the prosecutor if the defendant intends to deny that:

(A) the defendant is the person who was convicted or committed;

(B) the defendant was represented by counsel or had waived counsel; or

(C) the defendant's plea was understandingly or voluntarily entered.

(d) If any previous conviction and commitment is based upon a plea of guilty or no contest, there is a rebuttable presumption that the conviction and commitment were regular and lawful in all respects if the conviction and commitment occurred after January 1, 1970. If the conviction and commitment occurred prior to January 1, 1970, the burden is on the prosecution to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant was then represented by counsel or had lawfully waived the right to have counsel present, and that the defendant's plea was understandingly and voluntarily entered.

(e) If the trier of fact finds this section applicable, the court shall enter that specific finding on the record and shall indicate in the order of judgment and commitment that the defendant has been found by the trier of fact to be a habitual violent offender and is sentenced under this section.

(5)(a) The sentencing enhancement provisions of Section 76-3-407 supersede the provisions of this section.

63L-11-302. Principles to be recognized and promoted.

The office shall recognize and promote the following principles when preparing any policies, plans, programs, processes, or desired outcomes relating to federal lands and natural resources on federal lands under Section 63L-11-301:

(1)(a) the citizens of the state are best served by applying multiple-use and sustained-yield principles in public land use planning and management; and

(i) achieve and maintain in perpetuity a high-level annual or regular periodic output of mineral and various renewable resources from public lands;

(ii) support valid existing transportation, mineral, and grazing privileges at the highest reasonably sustainable levels;

(iii) support the specific plans, programs, processes, and policies of state agencies and local governments;

(iv) are designed to produce and provide the desired vegetation for the watersheds, timber, food, fiber, livestock forage, wildlife forage, and minerals that are necessary to meet present needs and future economic growth and community expansion without permanent impairment of the productivity of the land;

(v) meet the recreational needs and the personal and business-related transportation needs of the citizens of the state by providing access throughout the state;

Forest Service lands that are not wilderness areas or wilderness study areas;

(3) all waters of the state are:

(a) owned exclusively by the state in trust for the state's citizens;

(b) are subject to appropriation for beneficial use; and

(c) are essential to the future prosperity of the state and the quality of life within the state;

(4) the state has the right to develop and use the state's entitlement to interstate rivers;

(5) all water rights desired by the federal government must be obtained through the state water appropriation system;

(6) land management and resource- use decisions which affect federal lands should give priority to and support the purposes of the compact between the state and the United States related to school and institutional trust lands;

(7) development of the solid, fluid, and gaseous mineral resources of the state is an important part of the economy of the state, and of local regions within the state;

(8) the state should foster and support industries that take advantage of the state's outstanding opportunities for outdoor recreation;

(9) wildlife constitutes an important resource and provides recreational and economic opportunities for the state's citizens;

(10) proper stewardship of the land and natural resources is necessary to ensure the health of the watersheds, timber, forage, and wildlife resources to provide for a continuous supply of resources for the people of the state and the people of the local communities who depend on these resources for a sustainable economy;

(11) forests, rangelands, timber, and other vegetative resources:

(a) provide forage for livestock;

(13)(a) land management plans, programs, and initiatives should provide that the amount of domestic livestock forage, expressed in animal unit months, for permitted, active use as well as the wildlife forage included in that amount, be no less than the maximum number of animal unit months sustainable by range conditions in grazing allotments and districts, based on an on- the- ground and scientific analysis;

(b) the state opposes the relinquishment or retirement of grazing animal unit months in favor of conservation, wildlife, and other uses;

(c)(i) the state favors the best management practices that are jointly sponsored by cattlemen, sportsmen, and wildlife management groups such as chaining, logging, seeding, burning, and other direct soil and vegetation prescriptions that are demonstrated to restore forest and rangeland health, increase forage, and improve watersheds in grazing districts and allotments for the benefit of domestic livestock and wildlife;

(ii) when practices described in Subsection (13)(c)(i) increase a grazing allotment's forage beyond the total permitted forage use that was allocated to that allotment in the last federal land use plan or allotment management plan still in existence as of January 1, 2005, a reasonable and fair portion of the increase in forage beyond the previously allocated total permitted use should be allocated to wildlife as recommended by a joint, evenly balanced committee of livestock and wildlife representatives that is appointed and constituted by the governor for that purpose; and

(iii) the state favors quickly and effectively adjusting wildlife population goals and population census numbers in response to variations in the amount of available forage caused by drought or other climatic adjustments, and state agencies responsible for managing wildlife population goals and population census numbers will, when making those adjustments, give due regard to both the needs of the livestock industry and the need to prevent the decline of species to a point of listing under the terms of the Endangered Species Act;

(d) the state opposes the transfer of grazing animal unit months to wildlife for supposed reasons of rangeland health;

(e) reductions in domestic livestock animal unit months must be temporary and scientifically based upon rangeland conditions;

(f) policies, plans, programs, initiatives, resource management plans, and forest plans may not allow the placement of grazing animal unit months in a suspended use category unless there is a rational and scientific determination that the condition of the rangeland allotment or district in question will not sustain the animal unit months sought to be placed in suspended use;

(g) any grazing animal unit months that are placed in a suspended use category should be returned to active use when range conditions improve;

(h) policies, plans, programs, and initiatives related to vegetation management should recognize and uphold the preference for domestic grazing over alternate forage uses in established grazing districts while upholding management practices that optimize and expand forage for grazing and wildlife in conjunction with state wildlife management plans and programs in order to provide maximum available forage for all uses; and

(i) in established grazing districts, animal unit months that have been reduced due to rangeland health concerns should be restored to livestock when rangeland conditions improve, and should not be converted to wildlife use[.]; and

(14) a grazing allotment on federal public lands is a valid existing right for purposes of federal land withdrawals when the owner of the grazing allotment meets the requirements described in Section 63L-8-404.

~~(b)~~ Notwithstanding Title 63G, Chapter 4, Administrative Procedures Act, the commission's determination, under Subsection (2)(c), regarding the existence or nonexistence of substantial evidence to support the director's determination is not subject to further agency action or direct judicial review.

(2) The department shall apply the graduated and evidence-based responses established [~~by the Utah Sentencing Commission~~]in the adult sentencing and supervision length guidelines, as defined in Section 63M-7-401.1, to facilitate a prompt and appropriate response to an individual's violation of the terms of probation or parole, including:

(b) The collected information shall be provided to the State Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice not less frequently than annually on or before August 31.

(5) Employees of the department who are POST certified as law enforcement officers or correctional officers and who are designated as parole and probation officers by the executive director have the following duties:

(e) The court or the Board of Pardons and Parole shall terminate an offender's probation or parole upon completion of the period of probation or parole accrued by time served and credits earned under this Subsection (7) unless the court or the Board of Pardons and Parole finds that termination would interrupt the completion of a necessary treatment program, in which case the termination of probation or parole shall occur when the treatment program is completed.

(f) The department shall report annually to the State Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice on or before August 31:

(i) the number of offenders who have earned probation or parole credits under this Subsection (7) in one or more months of the preceding fiscal year and the percentage of the offenders on probation or parole during that time that this number represents;

(A) multiplying the rate difference by the average daily population for that region; and

(B) multiplying the product of the calculation described in Subsection (5)(d)(ii)(A) by $2,500.

(6) In addition to the employment incentive payment described in Subsection (5), after receiving the information described in Subsections (3) and (4), the office, in consultation with the department, shall, for each region, multiply the sum of the numbers described in Subsections (3)(f) and (g) for the region by $2,500 to determine the end-of-supervision employment incentive payment for the region.

(7) The employment incentive payment, or end-of-supervision employment supervision payment, for a region is zero if the recidivism percentage for the region, described in Subsection (3)(c), represents an increase in the recidivism percentage when compared to the fiscal year immediately preceding the fiscal year to which the recidivism percentage for the region, described in Subsection (3)(c), relates.

(8) Upon determining an employment incentive payment for a region in accordance with Subsections (5)(d)(ii), (6), and (7), the office shall authorize distribution, from the restricted account, of the incentive payment as follows:

(iii) A recoverable cost under Subsection (1)(b)(i) may not be added to the cost or otherwise considered in the evaluation of a project proposed by any person other than the affected electrical utility for the purpose of evaluating that person's proposal.

(c) Except to the extent that the commission enters an order under Section 54-17-304, an increase from the projected costs specified in the commission's order issued under Section 54-17-302 shall be subject to review by the commission as part of a rate hearing under Section 54-7-12.

(2)(a) Subsequent to the commission issuing an order described in Subsection (2)(a)(i) or (ii), the commission may disallow some or all costs incurred in connection with an approved significant energy resource decision if the commission finds that an affected electrical utility's actions in implementing an approved significant energy resource decision are not prudent because of new information or changed circumstances that occur after:

(i) the commission's approval of the significant energy resource decisions under Section 54-17-302; or

(ii) a commission order to proceed under Section 54-17-304.

(b) In making a determination of prudence under Subsection (2)(a), the commission shall use the standards identified in Section 54-4-4.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the commission may disallow some or all of the costs incurred by an affected electrical utility in connection with an approved significant energy resource decision upon a finding by the commission that the affected electrical utility is responsible for a material misrepresentation or concealment in connection with an approval process under this chapter.

Section 5. Section 54-17-402 is amended to read:

54-17-402. Request for review of resource decision.

(1) Beginning on February 25, 2005, before implementing a resource decision, an energy utility may request that the commission approve all or part of a resource decision in accordance with this part.

(2)(a) To obtain the approval permitted by Subsection (1), the energy utility shall file a request for approval with the commission.

(b) The request for approval required by this section shall include any information required by the commission by rule made in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act.

(c) A request for approval of natural gas infrastructure development shall include:

(i) a description of the proposed rural gas infrastructure development project;

(ii) an explanation of projected benefits from the proposed rural gas infrastructure development project;

(iii) the estimated costs of the rural gas infrastructure development project; and

(iv) any other information the commission requires.

(3) In ruling on a request for approval of a resource decision, the commission shall determine whether the decision:

(a) is reached in compliance with this chapter and rules made in accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act; and

(b) is in the public interest, taking into consideration:

(i)(A) the dispatchability of the energy resource;

(B) the state's desire to have proven dispatchable generation resources operating within the state to ensure adequate resources to reliably meet the state's energy needs and to make needed dispatchable generation from proven dispatchable energy generation resources available to the bulk electric system to support reliability;

(C) whether the proposal is consistent with the state energy policy described in Section 79-6-301;

(D) whether it will most likely result in the acquisition, production, and delivery of utility services at the lowest reasonable cost to the retail customers of an energy utility located in this state, including any lowered costs resulting from the ability to sell excess energy generated in an interstate energy market;

~~(B)~~ long-term and short-term impacts;

~~(C)~~ risk;

~~(D)~~ reliability;

~~(E)~~ financial impacts on the energy utility; and

~~(F)~~ other factors determined by the commission to be relevant; or

(ii) for a request for approval of rural gas infrastructure development:

(A) the potential benefits to previously unserved rural areas;

(B) the potential number of new customers;

(C) natural gas consumption; and

(D) revenues, costs, and other factors determined by the commission to be relevant.

(4) In a decision relating to a request for approval of rural gas infrastructure development, the commission may determine that spreading all or a portion of the costs of the rural gas infrastructure development to the larger customer base is in the public interest.

(5)(a) If the commission approves a proposed resource decision only in part, the commission shall explain in the order issued under this section why the commission does not approve the resource decision in total.

(b) Recovery of expenses incurred in connection with parts of a resource decision that are not approved is subject to the review of the commission as part of a rate hearing under Section 54-7-12.

(6) The commission may not approve a resource decision in whole or in part under this section before holding a public hearing.

(7) Unless the commission determines that additional time to analyze a resource decision is warranted and is in the public interest, within 180 days of the day on which the energy utility files a request for approval, the commission shall:

(a) approve all or part of the resource decision;

(b) approve all or part of the resource decision subject to conditions imposed by the commission; or

(c) disapprove all or part of the resource decision.

(8) The commission shall include in [~~its~~]the commission's order under this section:

(a) findings as to the approved projected costs of a resource decision; and

(b) the basis upon which the findings described in Subsection (8)(a) are made.

(9) In accordance with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, the commission shall make rules regarding the process for approval of a resource decision under this section.

Section 6. Section 54-17-403 is amended to read:

54-17-403. Cost recovery.

(1)(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, and excluding cost recovery for costs associated with proven dispatchable generation resources, which is governed by Section 54-17-1002, if the commission approves any portion of an energy utility's resource decision under Section 54-17-402, the commission shall, in a general rate case or other appropriate commission proceeding, include in the energy utility's retail rates the state's share of costs:

(i) relevant to that proceeding;

(ii) incurred by the energy utility in implementing the approved resource decision; and

(iii) up to the projected costs specified in the commission's order issued under Section 54-17-402.

(b) Except to the extent that the commission issues an order under Section 54-17-404, any increase from the projected costs specified in the commission's order issued under Section 54-17-402 shall be subject to review by the commission as part of a rate hearing under Section 54-7-12.

(c) If the commission approves a request for approval of rural gas infrastructure development under Section 54-17-402, the commission may approve the inclusion of rural gas infrastructure development costs within the gas corporation's base rates if:

(i) the inclusion of those costs will not increase the base distribution non-gas revenue requirement by more than 2% in any three-year period;

(ii) the distribution non-gas revenue requirement increase related to the infrastructure development costs under Subsection (1)(c)(i) does not exceed 5% in the aggregate; and

(iii) the applicable distribution non-gas revenue requirement is the annual revenue requirement determined in the gas corporation's most recent rate case.

(2)(a) Subsequent to the commission issuing an order described in Subsection (2)(a)(i) or (ii), the commission may disallow some or all costs incurred in connection with an approved resource decision if the commission finds that an energy utility's actions in implementing an approved resource decision are not prudent because of new information or changed circumstances that occur after:

(i) the commission approves the resource decision under Section 54-17-402; or

(ii) the commission issues an order to proceed under Section 54-17-404.

(b) In making a determination of prudence under Subsection (2)(a), the commission shall use the standards identified in Section 54-4-4.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the commission may disallow some or all of the costs incurred by an energy utility in connection with an approved resource decision upon a finding by the commission that the energy utility is responsible for a material misrepresentation or concealment in connection with an approval process under this chapter.

Section 7. Section 54-17-1001 is enacted to read:

54-17-1001. Acquiring excess proven dispatchable generation capacity.

(1) As used in this section:

(a) "Allocation agreement" means a multi-state agreement that allocates the costs and benefits from energy resources serving multiple states to each participating state.

(b) "Division" means the Division of Public Utilities established in Section 54-4a-1.

(c) "Excess proven dispatchable generation capacity" means electric generation capacity from a proven dispatchable generating resource located in the state that is subject to an allocation agreement, where excess capacity becomes available as another state transitions away from the use of proven dispatchable generation resources.

(d) "Office" means the Office of Energy Development created in Section 79-6-401.

(2) If the affected electrical utility becomes aware that the affected electrical utility will have excess proven dispatchable generation capacity at an in-state proven dispatchable generation resource, the affected electrical utility shall provide notice to:

(a) the commission;

(b) the division;

(c) the office;

(d) the president of the Senate; and

(e) the speaker of the House of Representatives.

(3) An affected electrical utility that becomes aware of excess proven dispatchable generation capacity shall provide the notice described in Subsection (2):

(a) by July 1, 2024, for any excess capacity the utility is aware of on or before May 1, 2024; or

(b) within 60 days after the day the utility becomes aware of the excess capacity, for any excess capacity the utility becomes aware of after May 1, 2024.

(4) An affected electrical utility may not offer excess proven dispatchable generation capacity for sale outside of the state unless the affected electrical utility has complied with Subsection (2).

(5)(a) After receiving the notice described in Subsection (2), the division shall immediately begin negotiations through an allocation agreement process for excess proven dispatchable generation capacity.

(b) The division shall provide regular updates on the status of negotiations under Subsection (5)(a) to the president of the Senate, the speaker of the House of Representatives, and other relevant stakeholders as determined by the commission.

(6) When reviewing an affected electrical utility's application seeking approval of an agreement to allocate another state's existing share of excess proven dispatchable generation capacity, the commission shall consider:

(a) the state energy policy described in Section 79-6-301;

(b) recommendations made by the president of the Senate, the speaker of the House of Representatives, and the office;

(c) current and forecasted electricity needs within the state and the region;

(d) the potential impact on long-term electricity costs for ratepayers in the state;

(e) the potential to resell excess electricity on interstate energy markets to lower costs for state ratepayers;

(f) the additional operating costs borne by the state as the sole purchaser of capacity or energy from the proven dispatchable generation resource;

(g) opportunities to coordinate with neighboring states with similar energy policies and goals;

(h) that any excess capacity allocated and approved in rates under an agreement described in Subsection (5) shall be operated in a manner that prioritizes the interests of ratepayers in the state;

(i) that all revenues from the sale of excess capacity that is allocated and approved in rates under an agreement described in Subsection (5) shall be credited to ratepayers in the state; and

(j) any other factors the commission determines relevant.

Section 8. Section 54-17-1002 is enacted to read:

54-17-1002. Cost recovery for proven dispatchable generation assets.

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the recovery of costs associated with the acquisition, expansion, maintenance, retrofitting, fueling, or operation of a proven dispatchable generation resource, as well as the reasonable legal fees and costs associated with efforts to preserve the continued operation of a proven dispatchable generation resource, is governed by this section.

(2) To recover costs described in Subsections (3) and (5), an affected electrical utility is required to demonstrate, to the commission's satisfaction:

(a) the amount sought to be recovered that is attributable to the state;

(b) a detailed description of the actions taken by the affected electrical utility resulting in the costs sought to be recovered;

(c) that the actions taken by the affected electrical utility resulting in the costs sought to be recovered were:

(i) reasonable when considering available dispatchable resources; and

(ii) necessary to acquire, operate, and maintain dispatchable resources; and

(d) that the recovery of costs for the actions taken by the affected electrical utility is in the public interest.

(3) Subject to requirements of Subsection (2), the commission shall allow an affected electrical utility to recover through the affected electrical utility's rates, as established in a general rate case or other appropriate commission proceeding, the reasonable costs associated with:

(a) any commission approved significant energy resource decision relating to a proven dispatchable generation resource within the state;

(b) any commission approved voluntary resource decision relating to a proven dispatchable generation resource within the state;

(c) costs necessary to acquire, expand, retrofit, or maintain proven dispatchable generation resources located within the state to comply with federal law or ensure the efficient operation of those resources;

(d) costs to obtain needed generation due to a federal decision or mandate requiring the closure, retirement, or decommission of a proven dispatchable generation resource within the state until permanent replacement generation can be obtained or constructed;

(e) stranded costs due to any federal decision or mandate to close, retire, or decommission proven dispatchable generation resources located within the state; and

(f) reasonable legal fees and costs arising out of efforts to preserve the continued operation of proven dispatchable generation resources that are either located within the state or that provide generation to the state.

(4) An affected electrical utility may recover fuel- related costs associated with acquiring and transporting fuel necessary for operating a proven dispatchable generation resource located within the state if the affected electrical utility demonstrates to the commission's satisfaction that:

(a) any fuel purchase for the proven dispatchable generation resource is at a cost less than or equal to the lower of:

(i) the current market price for that fuel in the general geographic area from which the resource is extracted; or

(ii) the cost to purchase that fuel from an affiliate company of the affected electrical utility;

(b) any fuel transportation costs are reasonable in comparison to current fuel transportation market rates;

(c) the term of collective fuel supply contracts entered into by the affected electrical utility is reasonable to ensure necessary fuel supply for the affected electrical utility; and

(d) that the cost for the affected electrical utility to maintain a reasonable stockpile of fuel for up to one year for the proven dispatchable generation resource is reasonable according to prudent utility practice.

(5)(a) An affected electrical utility:

(i) may recover reasonable ongoing operating costs incurred in connection with the operation of a proven dispatchable generation resource located within the state; and

(ii) has a presumption that the ongoing operating costs described in Subsection (5)(a)(i) are reasonable as determined by the commission in a general rate case or other appropriate commission proceeding.

(b) A party may submit evidence in a commission proceeding to challenge the reasonableness of the affected electrical utility's operating costs.

(c) If an affected electrical utility's operating costs are unchallenged or the commission determines after a commission proceeding that a challenging party has failed to demonstrate that the affected electrical utility's operating costs are not reasonable, the affected electrical utility is entitled to recover operating costs associated with a proven dispatchable generation resource in rates.

(d) If the commission determines, after hearing evidence from a challenging party, that the affected electrical utility's operating costs are not reasonable, the commission shall establish reasonable rates that allow the affected electrical utility to recover only reasonable operating costs associated with a proven dispatchable generation resource.

(6)(a) Upon filing of a request for recovery under this section from an affected electrical utility that is expected to result in a rate increase, the commission shall provide a written notice of the request to the Executive Appropriations Committee and the Public Utilities, Energy, and Technology Interim Committee.

(b) Upon receiving the notice described in Subsection (6)(a), the Executive Appropriations Committee may review the affected utility's request for cost recovery and determine whether to direct committee staff, or an otherwise qualified third party to intervene and advocate on behalf of the Legislature.

Section 9. Section 54-24-301 is enacted to read:

54-24-301. Utah fire funds -- Creation -- Sources of funding.

Part 3. Utah Fire Fund

(1) As used in this part:

(a)(i) "Eligible payment" means an amount owed by a large-scale electric utility to a third party in the state that exceeds the large-scale electric utility's applicable insurance coverage, including self-insurance.

(ii) "Eligible payment" includes amounts owed as a result of:

(A) a settlement agreement resolving economic damages arising out of a fire claim; or

(B) economic damages awarded in a finally adjudicated fire claim.

(iii) "Eligible payment" does not include an amount for damages to infrastructure owned by a large-scale electric utility caused by a fire event.

(b) "Fire event" means any unplanned or uncontrolled fire in the state alleged to have been caused by an electrical corporation.

(c) "Fire claim" means any claim, whether based on negligence, nuisance, trespass, or any other claim for relief, brought by a non-governmental person against an electrical corporation in any civil action to recover for damage resulting from a fire event.

(d) "Inflation" means the seasonally adjusted Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor.

(e) "Utah fire fund" means a fund that may be created under this section by a large-scale electric utility to serve as a resource to supplement other forms of insurance to make eligible payments.

(2)(a) A large-scale electric utility may create a Utah fire fund by filing notice with the commission.

(b) The creation of a Utah fire fund under this section does not:

(i) establish an exclusive fund for payment of eligible claims; or

(ii) prohibit a large-scale electric utility from proposing, or the commission from approving, other mechanisms for third party liability coverage that are in the public interest.

(3) A Utah fire fund shall consist of:

(a) a reasonable and prudent fire surcharge that a large-scale electric utility may charge to the large-scale electric utility customers, as approved by the commission in a rate case, to be collected over a 10-year period from the date of the commission's approval of the Utah fire fund;

(b) investment income from money in the fund; and

(c) other amounts deposited into the fund as otherwise required by law.

(4) The commission shall approve a large-scale electric utility's request to create a Utah fire fund for a large-scale electric utility if the large-scale electric utility demonstrates to the commission's satisfaction:

(a) that the fund:

(i) is in the public interest;

(ii) supports the financial health of the large-scale electric utility; and

(iii) maintains or improves the large-scale electric utility's ability to deliver safe and reliable services;

(b) that the fire surcharge does not result in an increase over current rates:

(i) for all customers, more than 4.95%; and

(ii) for an average residential customer more than $3.70 a month.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a Utah fire fund created under this part may not be used for payments related to any fire or property damage claim originating or occurring outside of the state.

Section 10. Section 54-24-302 is enacted to read:

54-24-302. Utah fire fund administration.

(1) Upon creation of a Utah fire fund under Section 54-24-301, a large-scale electric utility shall:

(a) open a separate investment account designated as the Utah fire fund to hold all assets as described in Subsection 54-24-301(3) and designate the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and other appropriate representatives as authorized by the board of directors of the utility as the account signatories;

(b) invest Utah fire fund assets collected under Subsection 54-24-301(3) only in accordance with Title 51, Chapter 7, State Money Management Act, with all investment returns remaining in the Utah fire fund and not allocated to other accounts of the large-scale electric utility;

(c) record all customer funds received into the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund account in a separate ledger account that reflects deposits, disbursements, assets, liabilities, equity, income, and expenditures related to the fund;

(d) report all Utah fire fund account activity, including investment statements and ledger account reconciliations, to the commission annually, unless otherwise directed by commission order or regulation;

(e) identify the Utah fire fund investment account as restricted in the large-scale electric utility's financial statements, with an offsetting regulatory liability owed back to customers in the event the funds are not fully utilized; and

(f) maintain records of the assets, liabilities, equity, income, and expenditures of the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund.

(2)(a) For all fire claims arising out of fire events that occurred in a calendar year, a large-scale electric utility may not receive disbursement of funds from a Utah fire fund until the large-scale electric utility has first paid $10,000,000 towards eligible payments from the large-scale electric utility's own funds, not included in its regulated revenue requirement.

(b) Subject to Subsection (2)(a), a large-scale electric utility may disburse funds from the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund to pay eligible payments.

(3) A surcharge described in Section 54-24-301 that funds a large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund shall terminate on the earliest of the following dates:

(a) the date that is 10 years after the effective date of the commission approved surcharge that established the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund;

(b) the date on which the assets in the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund reach an amount equal to 50% of the large-scale electric utility's Utah revenue requirement established in the large-scale electric utility's most recently approved general rate case; or

(c) the date on which the commission determines, on the commission's own motion, that the surcharge should terminate, regardless of the current balance in the Utah fire fund.

(4)(a) In a rate case or other appropriate proceeding, any party may challenge the amount of the disbursement from the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund used for the settlement of a fire claim.

(b) If an expenditure is challenged under Subsection (5)(a):

(i) the commission may require that the large-scale electric utility replenish the large-scale electric utility's Utah fire fund for any amount that the commission determines was imprudent; and

(ii) the burden is on the challenging party to prove imprudence.

(c) The use of a Utah fire fund to pay a judgment relating to a fire claim is considered prudent and is not subject to challenge.

(5) If the commission orders a large-scale electric utility to reimburse a Utah fire fund due to imprudence under this Subsection (5), the large-scale electric utility's total reimbursement obligation may not exceed 10% of the large-scale electric utility's distribution equity rate base assigned to this state for the calendar year in which the calculation is performed.

Section 11. Section 54-24-303 is enacted to read:

54-24-303. Fire claims against an electrical corporation.

(1) A fire claim shall be brought within two years from the date of the ignition of the fire.

(2) Subject to the limitations described in this section and Section 65A-3-4, an injured plaintiff may recover for a fire claim:

(a) economic losses to compensate for damage to property; and

(b) noneconomic losses to compensate for pain, suffering, and inconvenience.

(3) Subject to Subsection (6), the amount of damages recoverable under Subsection (2)(a) for economic loss to property shall be calculated as the lesser of:

(a) the cost to restore the property to the property's pre-fire condition; or

(b) the difference between:

(i) the fair market value of the property immediately before the fire; and

(ii) the fair market value of the property after the fire.

(4)(a) Subject to Subsections (4)(b) and (6), the amount of damages recoverable under Subsection (2)(b) for noneconomic loss may not exceed:

(i) for a person who is not physically injured as a result of the fire, $100,000; or

(ii) for a person who is physically injured as a result of the fire, $450,000.

(b) The limitation described in Subsection (4)(a)(ii) does not apply in a wrongful death action.

(5)(a) Beginning on July 1, 2025, and on July 1 of each year thereafter until July 1, 2031, the commission shall adjust the limitation on recoverable damages described in Subsection (4) for inflation.

(b) By July 15 of each year described in Subsection (5)(a), the commission shall:

(i) certify the inflation-adjusted limitation on recoverable damages calculated under this subsection; and

(ii) inform the Administrative Office of the Courts of the adjusted limitation on recoverable damages.

(6) The limitations on an electrical corporation's liability for recoverable damages described in Subsections (3) and (4) apply unless:

(a) the electrical corporation did not have a wildland fire protection plan approved by the electrical corporation's own governing authority in place before the occurrence of the fire event; or

(b) the public service commission determines, in an action brought under Subsection (7), that the electrical corporation was in material noncompliance with the electrical corporation's wildland fire protection plan in the area of the fire event at the time the fire event occurred.

(7)(a) A party may bring a request for agency action under Title 63G, Chapter 4, Administrative Procedures Act, requesting the commission to determine whether an electrical corporation was in material noncompliance with the electrical corporation's wildland fire protection plan in the area of a specific fire event.

(b) The commission's determination for an action brought under Subsection (7)(a) is binding on all fire claims arising out of the specific fire event.

(c) A party shall bring or join an action described in Subsection (7)(a) within 180 days of a fire event.

(d) Unless the commission determines additional time to complete the analysis required to make a determination under (7)(a) is in the public interest, the commission shall make a determination within 120 days from the date a party files a request for a determination.

Section 12. Effective date.

This bill takes effect on May 1, 2024.

(4) "Content" means any information, visual depiction, or other material that appears on or is available or enabled through a social media service.

(5)(a) "Curation algorithm" means a computational process or set of rules used by a social media platform that determines, influences, or personalizes, designed to encourage prolonged or frequent engagement:

(i) the content a user views;

(ii) the order in which content is displayed;

(iii) how prominently content is displayed; or

(iv) the manner in which content is displayed.

(b) "Curation algorithm" does not include the curation of:

(i) responses to specific user queries or user prompts requesting content related to defined topics or interests selected by the user; or

(ii) content to ensure only age appropriate material is provided to a user based on the user's age;

(iii) content that prevents a minor from viewing violent, bullying, threatening, or harassing content; or

(iv) content to comply with any state or federal law restricting the display of material harmful to minors.

(a) autoplay features that continuously play content without requiring user interaction;

(b) scroll or pagination that loads additional content as long as the user continues scrolling; or

(c) push notifications.

(7) "Excessive use" means the use of a social media service by a minor to an extent that the use substantially interferes with the minor's normal functioning in:

(11) "Resident" means the same as that term is defined in Section 53-3-102.

(12) "Social media company" means an entity that owns or operates a social media service.

(iii) connects account holders to allow users to interact socially with each other within the website or application;

(iv) makes available to each account holder a list or lists of other account holders with whom the account holder shares a connection within the system; and

Section 3. Section 78B-3-1102 is enacted to read:

78B-3-1102. Legislative findings.

The Legislature finds that:

(1) social media services utilize curation algorithms and engagement driven design elements to maximize user engagement;

(2) minors are particularly vulnerable to manipulation by the use of curation algorithms and engagement driven design elements;

(3) a minor's excessive use of an algorithmically curated social media service is likely to cause adverse mental health outcomes in minors, regardless of the content being viewed;

(4) the risk of an adverse mental health outcome resulting from the excessive use of an algorithmically curated social media service increases when a minor uses the service for more than three hours per day, or during regular sleeping hours;

(5) algorithmically curated social media services are designed without sufficient tools to allow adequate parental oversight, exposing minors to risks that could be mitigated with additional parental control;

(6) protecting minors from the risks associated with the use of algorithmically curated social media services requires intervention at a societal level, informed by expertise in technology, psychology, and youth mental health;

(7) the state has a long-established role and responsibility in implementing protections and regulations to safeguard the health and welfare of minors;

(8) the state has enacted safeguards around products and activities that pose risks to minors, including regulations on motor vehicles, medications, and products and services targeted to children;

(9) any adverse mental health outcomes for minors that are linked to the excessive use of algorithmically curated social media services are a serious public health concern for the state; and

(10) the state has a compelling interest to protect minors in the state against adverse mental health outcomes.

Section 4. Section 78B-3-1103 is enacted to read:

78B-3-1103. Private right of action.

(1) A Utah minor account holder or a Utah minor account holder's parent may bring a cause of action against a social media company in court for an adverse mental health outcome arising, in whole or in part, from the minor's excessive use of the social media company's algorithmically curated social media service.

(2) To recover damages in a cause of action brought under this section, a person bringing the cause of action must demonstrate:

(a) that the Utah minor account holder has been diagnosed by a licensed mental health care provider with an adverse mental health outcome; and

(b) that the adverse mental health outcome was caused by the Utah minor account holder's excessive use of an algorithmically curated social media service.

(3) Except as provided in Subsection (4), a person who brings an action described in Subsection (1), is entitled to a rebuttable presumption that:

(a) the Utah minor account holder's adverse mental health outcome was caused, in whole or in part, by the Utah minor account holder's excessive use of the algorithmically curated social media service; and

(b) the Utah minor account holder's excessive use of the algorithmically curated social media service was caused, in whole or in part, by the algorithmically curated social media service's curation algorithm and engagement driven design elements.

(4) A social media company that complies with the provisions of Section 78B-11-1104 is entitled to a rebuttable presumption that:

(a) the Utah minor account holder's adverse mental health outcome was not caused, in whole or in part, by the Utah minor account holder's excessive use of the algorithmically curated social media service; and

(b) the Utah minor account holder's excessive use of the algorithmically curated social media service was not caused, in whole or in part, by the algorithmically curated social media service's curation algorithm and engagement driven design elements.

(5) If a court or fact finder finds that a Utah minor account holder suffered any adverse mental health outcome as a result of the Utah minor account holder's use of a social media company's algorithmically curated social media service, the person seeking relief is entitled to:

(a) an award of reasonable attorney fees and court costs; and

(b) an amount equal to the greater of:

(i) $10,000 for each adverse mental health outcome incidence; or

(ii) the amount of actual damages.

(6) A social media company may not be held liable under this part:

(a) based on the content of material posted by users of the algorithmically curated social media service; or

(b) for declining to restrict access to or modify user posts based solely on the content of those posts.

(7) Nothing in this part shall displace any other available remedies or rights authorized under the laws of this state or the United States.

Section 5. Section 78B-3-1104 is enacted to read:

78B-3-1104. Affirmative defense.

(1) A person is not entitled to the rebuttable presumption described in Subsection 78B-11-1103(3), and a social media company is entitled to the rebuttable presumption described in Subsection 78B-11-1103(4), if the social media company demonstrates to the court that the social media company:

(a) limits a Utah minor account holder's use of the algorithmically curated social media service to no more than three hours in a 24 hour period across all devices;

(b) restricts a Utah minor account holder from accessing the algorithmically curated social media service between the hours of 10:30 p.m. and 6:30 a.m.;

(c) requires the parent or legal guardian of the minor to consent to a Utah minor account holder's use of the algorithmically curated social media service; and

(d) disables engagement driven design elements for a Utah minor account holder's account.

(2) A social media company may utilize settings that are enabled at the device level to impose the requirements described in Subsection (1).

(3) Notwithstanding Subsection (2), a social media company remains liable to ensure that the Utah minor account holder's account is subject to the restrictions of Subsection (1).

Section 6. Section 78B-3-1105 is enacted to read:

78B-3-1105. Waiver prohibited.

A waiver or limitation, or a purported waiver or limitation, of any of the following is void as unlawful, is against public policy, and a court or arbitrator may not enforce or give effect to the waiver, notwithstanding any contract or choice-of-law provision in a contract:

(1) a protection or requirement provided under this chapter;

(2) the right to cooperate with or file a complaint with a government agency;

(3) the right to a private right of action as provided under this chapter; or

(4) the right to recover actual damages, statutory damages, civil penalties, costs, or fees as allowed by this chapter.

Section 7. Section 78B-3-1106 is enacted to read:

78B-3-1106. Severability.

(1) If any provision of this chapter or the application of any provision to any person or circumstance is held invalid by a final decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of this chapter shall be given effect without the invalid provision or application.

(2) The provisions of this chapter are severable.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 73-1-4 is amended to read:

73-1-4. Reversion to the public by abandonment or forfeiture for nonuse within seven years -- Saved water -- Nonuse application.

(1) As used in this section:

(a) "Public entity" means:

(i) the United States;

(ii) an agency of the United States;

(iii) the state;

(iv) a state agency;

(v) a political subdivision of the state; or

(vi) an agency of a political subdivision of the state.

(b) "Public water supplier" means an entity that:

(i) supplies water, directly or indirectly, to the public for municipal, domestic, or industrial use; and

(ii) is:

(A) a public entity;

(B) a water corporation, as defined in Section 54-2-1, that is regulated by the Public Service Commission;

(C) a community water system:

(I) that:

(Aa) supplies water to at least 100 service connections used by year-round residents; or

(Bb) regularly serves at least 200 year-round residents; and

(II) whose voting members:

(Aa) own a share in the community water system;

(Bb) receive water from the community water system in proportion to the member's share in the community water system; and

(Cc) pay the rate set by the community water system based on the water the member receives; or

(D) a water users association:

(I) in which one or more public entities own at least 70% of the outstanding shares; and

(II) that is a local sponsor of a water project constructed by the United States Bureau of Reclamation.

(c) "Saved water" means the same as that term is defined in Section 73-3-3.

~~(c)~~ "Shareholder" means the same as that term is defined in Section 73-3-3.5.

~~(d)~~ "Water company" means the same as that term is defined in Section 73-3-3.5.

~~(e)~~ "Water supply entity" means an entity that supplies water as a utility service or for irrigation purposes and is also:

(i) a municipality, water conservancy district, metropolitan water district, irrigation district, or other public agency;

(ii) a water company regulated by the Public Service Commission; or

(iii) any other owner of a community water system.

(2)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (2)(b) or (e), when an appropriator or the appropriator's successor in interest abandons or ceases to beneficially use all or a portion of a water right for a period of at least seven years, the water right or the unused portion of that water right is subject to forfeiture in accordance with Subsection (2)(c).

(b)(i) An appropriator or the appropriator's successor in interest may file an application for nonuse with the state engineer.

(ii) A nonuse application may be filed on all or a portion of the water right, including water rights held by a water company.

(iii) After giving written notice to the water company, a shareholder may file a nonuse application with the state engineer on the water represented by the stock.

(iv)(A) The approval of a nonuse application excuses the requirement of beneficial use of water from the date of filing.

(B) The time during which an approved nonuse application is in effect does not count toward the seven-year period described in Subsection (2)(a).

(v) The filing or approval of a nonuse application or a series of nonuse applications under Subsection (3) does not:

(A) constitute beneficial use of a water right;

(B) protect a water right that is already subject to forfeiture under this section; or

(C) bar a water right owner from:

(I) using the water under the water right as permitted under the water right; or

(II) claiming the benefit of Subsection (2)(e) or any other forfeiture defense provided by law.

(c)(i) Except as provided in Subsection (2)(c)(ii), a water right or a portion of the water right may not be forfeited unless a judicial action to declare the right forfeited is commenced:

(A) within 15 years from the end of the latest period of nonuse of at least seven years; or

(B) within the combined time of 15 years from the end of the most recent period of nonuse of at least seven years and the time the water right was subject to one or more nonuse applications.

(ii)(A) The state engineer, in a proposed determination of rights filed with the court and prepared in accordance with Section 73-4-11, may not assert that a water right was forfeited unless the most recent period of nonuse of seven years ends or occurs:

(I) during the 15 years immediately preceding the day on which the state engineer files the proposed determination of rights with the court; or

(II) during the combined time immediately preceding the day on which the state engineer files the proposed determination of rights consisting of 15 years and the time the water right was subject to one or more approved nonuse applications.

(B) After the day on which a proposed determination of rights is filed with the court a person may not assert that a water right subject to that determination was forfeited before the issuance of the proposed determination, unless the state engineer asserts forfeiture in the proposed determination, or a person, in accordance with Section 73-4-11, makes an objection to the proposed determination that asserts forfeiture.

(iii) A water right, found to be valid in a decree entered in an action for general determination of rights under Chapter 4, Determination of Water Rights, is subject to a claim of forfeiture based on a seven-year period of nonuse that begins after the day on which the state engineer filed the related proposed determination of rights with the court, unless the decree provides otherwise.

(iv) If in a judicial action a court declares a water right forfeited, on the date on which the water right is forfeited:

(A) the right to beneficially use the water reverts to the public; and

(B) the water made available by the forfeiture:

(I) first, satisfies other water rights in the hydrologic system in order of priority date; and

(II) second, may be appropriated as provided in this title.

(d) Except as provided in Subsection (2)(e), this section applies whether the unused or abandoned water or a portion of the water is:

(i) permitted to run to waste; or

(ii) beneficially used by others without right with the knowledge of the water right holder.

(e) This section does not apply to:

(i) the beneficial use of water according to a written, terminable lease or other agreement with the appropriator or the appropriator's successor in interest;

(ii) a water right if its place of use is contracted under an approved state agreement or federal conservation fallowing program;

(iii) those periods of time when a surface water or groundwater source fails to yield sufficient water to satisfy the water right;

(iv) a water right when water is unavailable because of the water right's priority date;

(v) a water right to store water in a surface reservoir, or an aquifer in accordance with [~~Title 73, Chapter 3b, Groundwater Recharge and Recovery Act~~]Chapter 3b, Groundwater Recharge and Recovery Act, if the water is stored for present or future beneficial use;

(vi) a water right if a water user has beneficially used substantially all of the water right within a seven-year period, provided that this exemption does not apply to the adjudication of a water right in a general determination of water rights under Chapter 4, Determination of Water Rights;

(vii) except as provided by Subsection (2)(g), a water right:

(A)(I) owned by a public water supplier;

(II) represented by a public water supplier's ownership interest in a water company; or

(III) to which a public water supplier owns the right of beneficial use; and

(B) conserved or held for the reasonable future water requirement of the public, which is determined according to Subsection (2)(f);

(viii) a supplemental water right during a period of time when another water right available to the appropriator or the appropriator's successor in interest provides sufficient water so as to not require beneficial use of the supplemental water right;

(ix) a period of nonuse of a water right during the time the water right is subject to an approved change application where the applicant is diligently pursuing certification;

(x) a water right to store water in a surface reservoir if:

(A) storage is limited by a safety, regulatory, or engineering restraint that the appropriator or the appropriator's successor in interest cannot reasonably correct; and

(B) not longer than seven years have elapsed since the limitation described in Subsection (2)(e)(x)(A) is imposed; [~~or~~]

(xi) a water right subject to an approved change application for use within a water bank that has been authorized but not dissolved under Chapter 31, Water Banking Act, during the period of time the state engineer authorizes the water right to be used within the water bank[~~.~~]; or

(xii) subject to Subsection (2)(h), that portion of a water right that is quantified as saved water in a final order from the state engineer approving a change application, but not to exceed the amount subsequently verified by the state engineer in a certificate issued under Section 73-3-17.

(f)(i) The reasonable future water requirement of the public is the amount of water needed in the next 40 years by:

(A) the persons within the public water supplier's reasonably anticipated service area based on reasonably anticipated population growth; or

(B) other water use demand.

(ii) For purposes of Subsection (2)(f)(i), a community water system's reasonably anticipated service area:

(A) is the area served by the community water system's distribution facilities; and

(B) expands as the community water system expands the distribution facilities in accordance with Title 19, Chapter 4, Safe Drinking Water Act.

(iii) The state engineer shall by rule made in accordance with Subsection 73-2-1(4) establish standards for a written plan that may be presented as evidence in conformance with this Subsection (2)(f), except that before a rule establishing standards for a written plan under this Subsection (2)(f) takes effect, in addition to complying with Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act, the state engineer shall present the rule to:

(A) if the Legislature is not in session, the Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Environment Interim Committee; or

(ii) the state engineer approves the change application.

(h) Saved water does not retain the protection of Subsection (2)(e)(xii) and any period of nonuse for saved water begins to run the day on which:

(i) the underlying water right that serves as the basis for the saved water is declared by court decree to have been lost due to forfeiture under this section; or

(ii) the title of a right to saved water segregated under Section 73-3-27 is conveyed independent of the underlying water right.

(4)(a) Before making a change, a person entitled to the use of water shall submit a change application upon forms furnished by the state engineer.

(b) The application described in Subsection (4)(a) shall include:

(i) the applicant's name;

(ii) the water right description, including the water right number;

(c) A shareholder in a water company who seeks to make a change to a water right to which the water company is the record owner shall file a change application in accordance with Section 73-3-3.5.

(5) In a proceeding before the state engineer, the applicant has the burden of producing evidence sufficient to support a reasonable belief that the change can be made in compliance with this section and Section 73-3-8, including evidence:

(a) that the change will not cause a specific existing right to experience quantity impairment; [~~or~~]

(b) if applicable, rebutting the presumption of quantity impairment described in Subsection 73-3-8(6)(c)[~~.~~]; and

(c) that, if the change application proposes to quantify saved water:

(i) the net decrease in depletion or net reduction in diversion can be reliably sustained over the life of the agricultural water optimization project; and

(ii) an agricultural water optimization project proposing a net reduction in diversion does not increase depletion allowed by the underlying perfected water right that serves as the basis of the saved water.

(6) A change of an approved application to appropriate water does not:

(a) affect the priority of the original application to appropriate water; or

(b) extend the time period within which the construction of work is to begin or be completed.

(7) Any person who makes a change without first filing and obtaining approval of a change application providing for the change:

(a)(i) obtains no right by the change;

~~(b)~~ is guilty of an offense punishable under Section 73-2-27 if the change is made knowingly or intentionally; and

~~(c)~~ shall comply with the change application process[~~.~~]; and

(8)(a) This section does not apply to the replacement of an existing well by a new well drilled within a radius of 150 feet from the point of diversion of the existing well.

(b) A replacement well must be drilled in accordance with the requirements of Section 73-3-28.

Section 4. Section 73-3-8 is amended to read:

73-3-8. Approval or rejection of application -- Requirements for approval -- Application for specified period of time -- Filing of royalty contract for removal of salt or minerals -- Request for agency action.

(1)(a) It shall be the duty of the state engineer to approve an application if there is reason to believe that:

(i) for an application to appropriate, there is unappropriated water in the proposed source;

(ii) the proposed use will not impair existing rights or interfere with the more beneficial use of the water;

(iii) the proposed plan:

(A) is physically and economically feasible, unless the application is filed by the United States Bureau of Reclamation; and

(B) would not prove detrimental to the public welfare;

(iv) the applicant has the financial ability to complete the proposed works;

(v) the application was filed in good faith and not for purposes of speculation or monopoly; and

(vi) if applicable, the application complies with a groundwater management plan adopted under Section 73-5-15.

(b) If the state engineer, because of information in the state engineer's possession obtained either by the state engineer's own investigation or otherwise, has reason to believe that an application will interfere with the water's more beneficial use for irrigation, municipal and industrial, domestic or culinary, stock watering, power or mining development, or manufacturing, or will unreasonably affect public recreation or the natural stream environment, or will prove detrimental to the public welfare, the state engineer shall withhold approval or rejection of the application until the state engineer has investigated the matter.

(c) If an application does not meet the requirements of this section, it shall be rejected.

(2)(a) An application to appropriate water for industrial, power, mining development, manufacturing purposes, agriculture, or municipal purposes may be approved for a specific and certain period from the time the water is placed to beneficial use under the application, but in no event may an application be granted for a period of time less than that ordinarily needed to satisfy the essential and primary purpose of the application or until the water is no longer available as determined by the state engineer.

(b) At the expiration of the period fixed by the state engineer the water shall revert to the public and is subject to appropriation as provided by this title.

(c) No later than 60 calendar days before the expiration date of the fixed time period, the state engineer shall send notice by mail or by any form of electronic communication through which receipt is verifiable, to the applicant of record.

(d) Except as provided by Subsection (2)(e), the state engineer may extend any limited water right upon a showing that:

(i) the essential purpose of the original application has not been satisfied;

(ii) the need for an extension is not the result of any default or neglect by the applicant; and

(iii) the water is still available.

(e) An extension may not exceed the time necessary to satisfy the primary purpose of the original application.

(f) A request for extension of the fixed time period must be filed in writing in the office of the state engineer on or before the expiration date of the application.

(3)(a) Before the approval of any application for the appropriation of water from navigable lakes or streams of the state that contemplates the recovery of salts and other minerals therefrom by precipitation or otherwise, the applicant shall file with the state engineer a copy of a contract for the payment of royalties to the state.

(b) The approval of an application shall be revoked if the applicant fails to comply with terms of the royalty contract.

(4)(a) The state engineer shall investigate all temporary change applications.

(b) The state engineer shall:

(i) approve the temporary change if the state engineer finds there is reason to believe that the temporary change will not impair an existing right; and

(ii) deny the temporary change if the state engineer finds there is reason to believe the temporary change would impair an existing right.

(5)(a) With respect to a change application for a permanent or fixed time change:

(i) the state engineer shall follow the same procedures provided in this title for approving an application to appropriate water; and

(ii) the rights and duties of a change applicant are the same as the rights and duties of a person who applies to appropriate water under this title.

(b) The state engineer may waive notice for a permanent or fixed time change application if the application only involves a change in point of diversion of 660 feet or less.

(c) The state engineer may condition approval of a change application, including to:

(i) prevent an enlargement of the quantity of water depleted by the nature of the proposed use when compared with the nature of the currently approved use of water proposed to be changed[.]; and

(ii) ensure that the recognition and subsequent use of saved water, as defined in Section 73-3-3:

(A) is quantified, reported, and verified;

(B) does not lead to an enlargement of the depletion or diversion amounts in the underlying water right that serves as the basis of the saved water, or an increase in the authorized number of irrigated acres unless depletion is accounted for and regulated in the condition;

(C) is limited to the net decrease in depletion and net reduction in diversion of the underlying water right that serves as the basis of the saved water;

(D) is limited to the volume of water that will be sustained over time from the net decrease in depletion or net reduction in diversion of the underlying water right that serves as the basis of the saved water;

(E) does not violate an existing water agreement; and

(F) when based solely on a net reduction in diversion, the subsequent use is limited to nonconsumptive beneficial uses and does not increase the depletion allowed by the underlying water right that serves as the basis of the saved water or otherwise cause quantity impairment to an existing water right when the saved water is beneficially used separate from the underlying water right.

(d) [~~A~~]Except for an application proposing to quantify saved water, a condition described in Subsection (5)(c) may not include a reduction in the currently approved diversion rate of water under the water right identified in the change application solely to account for the difference in depletion under the nature of the proposed use when compared with the nature of the currently approved use.

(6)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (6)(b), the state engineer shall reject a permanent or fixed time change application if the person proposing to make the change is unable to meet the burden described in Subsection 73-3-3(5).

(b) If otherwise proper, the state engineer may approve a change application upon one or more of the following conditions:

(i) for part of the water involved;

(ii) that the applicant acquire a conflicting right; or

(iii) that the applicant provide and implement a plan approved by the state engineer to mitigate impairment of an existing right.

(c)(i) There is a rebuttable presumption of quantity impairment, as defined in Section 73-3-3, to the extent that, for a period of at least seven consecutive years, a portion of the right identified in a change application has not been:

(A) diverted from the approved point of diversion; or

(B) beneficially used at the approved place of use.

(ii) The rebuttable presumption described in Subsection (6)(c)(i) does not apply if the beneficial use requirement is excused by:

(A) Subsection 73-1-4(2)(e);

(B) an approved nonuse application under Subsection 73-1-4(2)(b);

(C) Subsection 73-3-30(7); or

(D) the passage of time under Subsection 73-1-4(2)(c)(i).

(d) The state engineer may not consider quantity impairment based on the conditions described in Subsection (6)(c) unless the issue is raised in a:

(i) timely protest that identifies which of the protestant's existing rights the protestant reasonably believes will experience quantity impairment; or

(ii) written notice provided by the state engineer to the applicant within 90 days after the change application is filed.

(e) The written notice described in Subsection (6)(d)(ii) shall:

(i) specifically identify an existing right the state engineer reasonably believes may experience quantity impairment; and

(ii) be mailed to the owner of an identified right, as shown by the state engineer's records, if the owner has not protested the change application.

(f) The state engineer is not required to include all rights the state engineer believes may be impaired by the proposed change in the written notice described in Subsection (6)(d)(ii).

(g) The owner of a right who receives the written notice described in Subsection (6)(d)(ii) may not become a party to the administrative proceeding if the owner has not filed a timely protest.

(h) If a change applicant, the protestants, and the persons identified by the state engineer under Subsection (6)(d)(ii) come to a written agreement regarding how the issue of quantity impairment shall be mitigated, the state engineer may incorporate the terms of the agreement into a change application approval.

Section 5. Section 73-3-16 is amended to read:

73-3-16. Proof of appropriation or permanent change -- Notice -- Manner of proof -- Statements -- Maps, profiles, and drawings -- Verification -- Waiver of filing -- Statement in lieu of proof of appropriation or change.

(1) Sixty days before the date set for the proof of appropriation or proof of change to be made, the state engineer shall notify the applicant by mail, or send notice electronically if receipt is verifiable, when proof of completion of the works and application of the water to a beneficial use is due.

(2)(a) On or before the date set for completing the proof in accordance with the approved application, the applicant shall file proof with the state engineer on forms furnished by the state engineer.

(b) The filing of a proof in accordance with this section is a request for agency action under Title 63G, Chapter 4, Administrative Procedures Act, only between the applicant and the state engineer.

(iv) the place of use.

(b) The state engineer may waive the filing of maps, profiles, and drawings if in the state engineer's opinion the written proof adequately describes the works and the nature and extent of beneficial use.

(7) In those areas in which general determination proceedings are pending, or have been concluded, under Chapter 4, Determination of Water Rights, the state engineer may petition the district court for permission to:

(a) waive the requirements of this section and Section 73-3-17; and

(b) permit each owner of an application to file a verified statement to the effect that the applicant has completed the appropriation or change and elects to file a statement of water users claim in the proposed determination of water rights or any supplement to it in accordance with Chapter 4, Determination of Water Rights, in lieu of proof of appropriation or proof of change.

(8) This section does not apply to a fixed time or temporary change application.

Section 6. Section 73-3-17 is amended to read:

73-3-17. Certificate of appropriation -- Evidence.

(1) Upon the satisfaction of the state engineer that an appropriation, a permanent change of point of diversion, place or purpose of use, or a fixed time change authorized by Section 73-3-30 has been perfected in accordance with the application, and that the water appropriated or affected by the change has been put to a beneficial use, as required by Section 73-3-16 or 73-3-30, or demonstrated to be saved water, as defined in Section 73-3-3, the state engineer shall issue a certificate, in duplicate, setting forth:

(3) A certificate issued under this section does not:

(a) extend the rights described in the application; or

(b) constitute a determination by the state engineer as to whether the perfected appropriation or change has or may result in interference, impairment, injury, or other harm to another water right.

(4) Failure to file proof of appropriation or proof of change of the water on or before the date set for the filing causes the application to lapse.

(5)(a) One copy of a certificate issued under this section shall be filed in the office of the state engineer and the other copy shall be delivered to the appropriator or to the person making the change who may record the certificate in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the water is diverted from the natural stream or source.

(b) The state engineer is not required to deliver a copy of a certificate issued under this section to a person other than the appropriator or the person making the change.

(6) The certificate issued under this section is prima facie evidence of the owner's right to use the water in the quantity, for the purpose, at the place, and during the time specified in the certificate, subject to prior rights.

Section 7. Section 73-3-27 is amended to read:

73-3-27. Requests for segregation or consolidation.

(1)(a) Upon written request, the state engineer shall segregate into two or more parts the following in the state engineer's records:

(i) an application to:

(A) under Section 73-3-2, appropriate water;

(B) under Section 73-3-3, permanently change:

(I) the point of diversion;

(II) the place of water use; or

(III) the purpose of water use; and

(ii) a water right for which:

(A) the state engineer has issued a certificate according to Section 73-3-17;

(B) a court has entered a judgment according to Section 73-4-15; and

(C) a person has filed a claim according to Section 73-5-13.

(b) A person shall:

(i) submit the request authorized by Subsection (1)(a) on a form furnished by the state engineer; and

(ii) include:

(A) the water right number to be segregated;

(B) the name and post-office address of the owner of the application or water right;

(C) a statement of the nature of the proposed segregation;

(D) the reasons for the proposed segregation; and

(E) other information the state engineer may require to accomplish the segregation.

(c) Notwithstanding Subsection (1)(a), saved water, as defined in Section 73-3-3, may not be segregated from the underlying water right that serves as the basis of the saved water, except in accordance with rules made under Section 73-2-1 and Title 63G, Chapter 3, Utah Administrative Rulemaking Act.

(2)(a) An action taken by the state engineer on an application or water right before segregation is applicable in all respects to the segregated parts of the application or water right.

(b) After the state engineer segregates the application or water right, each segregated part is a separate application or water right in the state engineer's records.

(c) The segregation of an application or a water right in the state engineer's records does not:

(i) confirm the validity or good standing of the segregated parts of the application or water right; or

(ii) extend the time for the construction of works for an application.

(3) Upon written request, the state engineer may consolidate two or more applications or water rights if the applications or water rights:

(a) are from the same source;

(b) have the same priority date; and

(c) are sufficiently consistent in definition that the consolidated application or water right may be described without referring to the characteristics of the individual application or water right that existed before consolidation.
