34A-2-302. Employee's willful misconduct -- Penalty.

(1) For purposes of this section:

(a) "Controlled substance" is as defined in Section 58-37-2.

(b) "Local government employee" is as defined in Section 34-41-101.

(c) "Local governmental entity" is as defined in Section 34-41-101.

(d) "State institution of higher education" is as defined in Section 34-41-101.

(e) "Valid prescription" is a prescription, as defined in Section 58-37-2, that:

(i) is prescribed for a controlled substance for use by the employee for whom it was prescribed; and

(ii) has not been altered or forged.

(2) An employee may not:

(a) remove, displace, damage, destroy, or carry away any safety device or safeguard provided for use in any employment or place of employment;

(b) interfere in any way with the use of a safety device or safeguard described in Subsection (2)(a) by any other person;

(c) interfere with the use of any method or process adopted for the protection of any employee in the employer's employment or place of employment; or

(d) fail or neglect to follow and obey orders and to do every other thing reasonably necessary to protect the life, health, and safety of employees.

(3) Except in case of injury resulting in death:

(a) compensation provided for by this chapter shall be reduced 15% when injury is caused by the willful failure of the employee:

(i) to use safety devices when provided by the employer; or

(ii) to obey any order or reasonable rule adopted by the employer for the safety of the employee; and

(b) except when the employer permitted, encouraged, or had actual knowledge of the conduct described in Subsection (4):

(i) disability compensation may not be awarded under this chapter or Chapter 3, Utah Occupational

Disease Act, to an employee when the major contributing cause of the employee's injury is the employee's conduct described in Subsection (4); or

(ii) disability compensation to an employee under this chapter or Chapter 3, Utah Occupational Disease Act, shall be reduced by 15% when the employee's conduct is a contributing cause of the employee's injury but not the major contributing cause.

(4) The conduct described in Subsection (3)(b) is the employee's:

(a) knowing use of a controlled substance that the employee did not obtain under a valid prescription;

(b) intentional abuse of a controlled substance that the employee obtained under a valid prescription if the employee uses the controlled substance intentionally:

(i) in excess of prescribed therapeutic amounts; or

(ii) in an otherwise abusive manner; or

(c) intoxication from alcohol with a blood or breath alcohol concentration of .05 grams or greater as shown by a chemical test.

(5)(a) For purposes of Subsections (3) and (4), as shown by a chemical test that conforms to scientifically accepted analytical methods and procedures and includes verification or confirmation of any positive test result by gas chromatography, gas chromatography-mass spectroscopy, or other comparably reliable analytical method, before the result of the test may be used as a basis for the presumption, it is presumed that the major contributing cause of the employee's injury is the employee's conduct described in Subsection (4) if at the time of the injury:

(i) the employee has in the employee's system:

(A) any amount of a controlled substance or its metabolites if the employee did not obtain the controlled substance under a valid prescription; or

(B) a controlled substance the employee obtained under a valid prescription or the metabolites of the controlled substance if the amount in the employee's system is consistent with the employee using the controlled substance intentionally:

(I) in excess of prescribed therapeutic amounts; or

(II) in an otherwise abusive manner; or

(ii) the employee has a blood or breath alcohol concentration of .05 grams or greater.

(b) The presumption created under Subsection (5)(a) may be rebutted by a preponderance of the evidence showing that:

(i) the chemical test creating the presumption is inaccurate because the employer failed to comply with:

(A) Sections 34-38-4 through 34-38-6; or

(B) if the employer is a local governmental entity or state institution of higher education, Section 34-41-104[~~—and~~], Subsection [~~34-41-103(5)~~] 34-41-103(7), or, if applicable, Subsection 34-41-103(6);

(ii) the employee did not engage in the conduct described in Subsection (4);

(iii) the test results do not exclude the possibility of passive inhalation of marijuana because the concentration of total urinary cannabinoids is less than 50 nanograms/ml as determined by a test conducted in accordance with:

(A) Sections 34-38-4 through 34-38-6; or

(B) if the employer is a local governmental entity or state institution of higher education, Section 34-41-104[~~—and~~], Subsection [~~34-41-103(5)~~] 34-41-103(7), or, if applicable, Subsection 34-41-103(6);

(iv) a competent medical opinion from a physician verifies that the amount of controlled substances, metabolites, or alcohol in the employee's system does not support a finding that the conduct described in Subsection (4) was the major contributing cause of the employee's injury or a contributing cause of the employee's injury; or

(v)(A) the conduct described in Subsection (4) was not a contributing cause of the employee's injury; or

(B) the employee's mental and physical condition were not impaired at the time of the injury.

(c)(i) Except as provided in Subsections (5)(c)(ii) and (iii), if a chemical test that creates the presumption under Subsection (5)(a) is taken at the request of the employer, the employer shall comply with:

(A) Title 34, Chapter 38, Drug and Alcohol Testing; or

(B) if the employee is a local governmental employee or an employee of a state institution of higher education, Title 34, Chapter 41, Local Governmental Entity Drug-Free Workplace Policies.

(ii) Notwithstanding Section 34-38-13, the results of a test taken under Title 34, Chapter 38, Drug and Alcohol Testing, may be disclosed to the extent necessary to establish or rebut the presumption created under Subsection (5)(a).

(iii) Notwithstanding Section 34-41-103, the results of a test taken under Title 34, Chapter 41, Local Governmental Entity Drug-Free Workplace Policies, may be disclosed to the extent necessary to establish or rebut the presumption created under Subsection (5)(a).

(6)(a) A test sample taken pursuant to this section shall be taken as a split sample.

(b) One part of the sample is to be used by the employer for testing pursuant to Subsection (5)(a):

(i) at a testing facility selected by the employer; and

(ii) at the employer's or the employer's workers' compensation carrier's expense.

(c) The testing facility selected under Subsection (6)(b) shall hold the part of the sample not used under Subsection (6)(b) until the sooner of:

(i) six months from the date of the original test; or

(ii) when the employee requests that the sample be tested.

(d) The employee has only six months from the date of the original test to have the remaining sample tested:

(i) at the employee's expense; and

(ii) at the testing facility selected by the employee, except that the test shall meet the requirements of Subsection (5)(a).

(7) If any provision of this section, or the application of any provision of this section to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of this section shall be given effect without the invalid provision or application.

(6)(a) This Subsection (6) applies only to an appeal to a county board of equalization involving the valuation or equalization of residential property that is not qualified real property.

(b) There is no presumption of correctness for evidence submitted in an appeal described in Subsection (6)(a), including the original assessed value of the residential property.

(c) If a qualifying contract is submitted as evidence in an appeal described in Subsection (6)(a), the only evidence that the county board of equalization or hearing officer may consider to determine that the final sales price identified in the qualifying contract does not provide an accurate or reliable indication of the fair market value of the residential property is evidence of the following, if submitted:

(i) evidence disputing the nature of the qualifying contract as an arms- length transaction;

(ii) evidence demonstrating that changes in market conditions have occurred in the time period between the day on which the qualifying contract was executed and the applicable lien date; or

(d) In determining the fair market value of residential property in an appeal described in Subsection (6)(a), the county board of equalization may not consider any evidence or information other than the evidence submitted to the county board of equalization by the parties in the appeal.

(i) the county assessor shall provide the taxpayer any evidence the county assessor relies upon in support of the county assessor's valuation; and

(ii) the taxpayer shall provide the county assessor any evidence not previously provided to the county assessor that the taxpayer relies upon in support of the taxpayer's appeal.

(b)(i) The deadline described in Subsection ~~(6)(a)~~(a) does not apply to evidence that is commercial information as defined in Section 59- 1- 404, if:

(A) for the purpose of complying with Section 59- 1- 404, the county assessor requires that the taxpayer execute a nondisclosure agreement before the county assessor discloses the evidence; and

(B) the taxpayer fails to execute the nondisclosure agreement before the deadline described in Subsection ~~(6)(a)~~(a).

(ii) The county assessor shall disclose evidence described in Subsection ~~(6)(b)(i)~~(b)(i) as soon as practicable after the county assessor receives the executed nondisclosure agreement.

(iii) The county assessor shall provide the taxpayer a copy of the nondisclosure agreement with reasonable time for the taxpayer to review and execute the agreement before the deadline described in Subsection ~~(6)(a)~~(a) expires.

(c) If at the public hearing, a party presents evidence not previously provided to the other party, the county board of equalization shall allow the other party to respond to the evidence in writing within 10 days after the day on which the public hearing occurs.

(d)(i) A county board of equalization may adopt rules governing the deadlines described in this Subsection ~~(6)~~, if the rules are no less stringent than the provisions of this Subsection ~~(6)~~.

(ii) A county board of equalization's rule that complies with Subsection ~~(6)(d)(i)~~(d)(i) controls over the provisions of this subsection.

~~(7)~~(a) The county board of equalization shall meet and hold public hearings as described in Section 59- 2- 1001.

(b)(i) For purposes of this Subsection ~~(7)(b)~~(b), "significant adjustment" means a proposed adjustment to the valuation of real property that:

(A) is to be made by a county board of equalization; and

(B) would result in a valuation that differs from the original assessed value by at least 20% and $1,000,000.

(ii) When a county board of equalization is going to consider a significant adjustment, the county board of equalization shall:

(A) list the significant adjustment as a separate item on the agenda of the public hearing at which the county board of equalization is going to consider the significant adjustment; and

(B) for purposes of the agenda described in Subsection ~~(7)(b)(ii)(A)~~(b)(ii)(A), provide a description of the property for which the county board of equalization is considering a significant adjustment.

(c) The county board of equalization shall make a decision on each appeal filed in accordance with this section within 60 days after the day on which the taxpayer makes an application.

~~22-3-507~~. 75A-5-507. Adjustment between income and principal because of taxes.

(b) an income tax or other tax imposed on the fiduciary or a beneficiary as a result of a transaction involving the fiduciary or a distribution by the fiduciary; or

(2)(a) If the amount of an estate tax marital or charitable deduction is reduced because a fiduciary deducts an amount paid from principal for income tax purposes instead of deducting the amount for estate tax purposes and, as a result, estate taxes paid from principal are increased and income taxes paid by the fiduciary or a beneficiary are decreased, the fiduciary shall charge each beneficiary that benefits from the decrease in income tax to reimburse the principal from which the increase in estate tax is paid.

(b) The total reimbursement must equal the increase in the estate tax, to the extent that the principal used to pay the increase would have qualified for a marital or charitable deduction but for the payment.

(c) The share of the reimbursement for each fiduciary or beneficiary whose income taxes are reduced shall be the same as the fiduciary's or beneficiary's share of the total decrease in income tax.

(3) A fiduciary that charges a beneficiary under Subsection (2) may offset the charge by obtaining payment from the beneficiary, withholding an amount from future distributions to the beneficiary, or adopting another method or combination of methods.

Part 6. Death of Individual or Termination of Income Interest

(1) This section applies when:

(a) the death of an individual results in the creation of an estate or trust; or

(b) an income interest in a trust terminates, regardless of whether the trust continues or is distributed.

(2) A fiduciary of an estate or trust with an income interest that terminates shall:

(a) determine, in accordance with Subsection (8) and Part 4, Allocation of Receipts, Part 5, Allocation of Disbursements, and Part 7, Apportionment at Beginning and End of Income Interest, the amount of net income and net principal receipts received from property specifically given to a beneficiary; and

(b) distribute the net income and net principal receipts to the beneficiary that is to receive the specific property.

(3) Subject to Subsection (4), a fiduciary shall determine the income and net income of an estate or income interest in a trust that terminates, other than the amount of net income determined in accordance with Subsection (2), and in accordance with Part 4, Allocation of Receipts, Part 5, Allocation of Disbursements, and Part 7, Apportionment at Beginning and End of Income Interest, and by:

(a) including in net income all income from property used or sold to discharge liabilities;

(b) paying from income or principal, in the fiduciary's discretion:

(i) fees of attorneys, accountants, and fiduciaries;

(ii) court costs and other expenses of administration;

(iii) interest on estate taxes, inheritance taxes, and other taxes imposed because of the decedent's death; and

(c) paying from principal other disbursements made or incurred in connection with the settlement of the estate or the winding up of an income interest that terminates, including:

(i) to the extent authorized by the decedent's will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law, debts, funeral expenses, disposition of remains, family allowances, estate and inheritance taxes, and other taxes imposed because of the decedent's death; and

(ii) related penalties that are apportioned, by the decedent's will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law, to the estate or income interest that terminates.

(4) A fiduciary may pay the expenses from income of property passing to a trust for which the fiduciary claims a federal estate tax marital or charitable deduction only to the extent:

(a) the payment of the expenses from income will not cause the reduction or loss of the deduction; or

(b) the fiduciary makes an adjustment under Subsection [~~22-3-507(2)~~]75A-5-507(2).

(5) If a decedent's will, the terms of a trust, or applicable law provides for the payment of interest or the equivalent of interest to a beneficiary that receives a pecuniary amount outright, the fiduciary shall make the payment from net income determined under Subsection (3) or from principal to the extent that net income is insufficient.

(6) If a beneficiary is to receive a pecuniary amount outright from a trust after an income interest ends because of an income beneficiary's death, and no payment of interest or the equivalent of interest is provided for by the terms of the trust or applicable law, the fiduciary shall pay the interest or the equivalent of interest to which the beneficiary would be entitled under applicable law if the pecuniary amount were required to be paid under a will.

(7) A fiduciary shall distribute net income remaining after payments required by Subsections (5) and (6) in the manner described in Section [~~22-3-602~~]75A-5-602 to all other beneficiaries, including a beneficiary that receives a pecuniary amount in trust, even if the beneficiary holds an unqualified power to withdraw assets from the trust or other presently exercisable general power of appointment over the trust.

(8)(a) A fiduciary may not reduce principal or income receipts from property described in Subsection (2) because of a payment described in Section [~~22-3-501 or 22-3-502~~]75A-5-501 or 75A-5-502, to the extent the decedent's will, the terms of the trust, or applicable law requires the fiduciary to make the payment from assets other than the property or to the extent the fiduciary recovers or expects to recover the payment from a third party.

(b) The net income and principal receipts from the property shall be determined by including the amount the fiduciary receives or pays regarding the property, whether the amount accrued or became due before, on, or after the date of the decedent's death or an income interest's terminating event, and making a reasonable provision for an amount the estate or income interest may become obligated to pay after the property is distributed.

Section 170. Section 75A-5-602, which is renumbered from Section 22-3-602 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~22-3-602~~. 75A-5-602. Distribution to successor beneficiary.

(1)(a) Except to the extent Part 3, Unitrust, applies for a beneficiary that is a trust, each beneficiary described in Subsection [~~22-3-601(6)~~] 75A-5-601(6) is entitled to receive a share of the net income equal to the beneficiary's fractional interest in undistributed principal assets, using values of the undistributed principal assets as of the distribution date.

(b) If a fiduciary makes more than one distribution of assets to beneficiaries to which this section applies, each beneficiary, including a beneficiary that does not receive part of the distribution, is entitled, as of each distribution date, to a share of the net income the fiduciary received after the decedent's death, an income interest's other terminating event, or the preceding distribution by the fiduciary.

(2) In determining a beneficiary's share of net income under Subsection (1):

(a) the beneficiary is entitled to receive a share of the net income equal to the beneficiary's fractional interest in the undistributed principal assets immediately before the distribution date;

(b) the beneficiary's fractional interest under Subsection (2)(a) shall be calculated:

(i) on the aggregate value of the assets as of the distribution date without reducing the value by any unpaid principal obligation; and

(ii) without regard to:

(A) property specifically given to a beneficiary under the decedent's will or the terms of the trust; and

(B) property required to pay pecuniary amounts not in trust; and

(c) the distribution date under Subsection (2)(a) may be the date on which the fiduciary calculates the value of the assets if that date is reasonably near the date on which the assets are distributed.

(3) To the extent that a fiduciary does not distribute under this section all the collected but undistributed net income to each beneficiary on or before a distribution date, the fiduciary shall maintain records showing the interest of each beneficiary in the net income.

(4) If this section applies to income from an asset, a fiduciary may apply Subsection (2) to net gain or loss realized from the disposition of the asset after the decedent's death, an income interest's terminating event, or the preceding distribution by the fiduciary.

(i) the trust for the current income beneficiary; or

~~(8)~~(a) If a trust instrument contains the provisions described in Subsections ~~(5)(b)~~(b) through (g), the transfer restrictions prevent a creditor or other person from asserting any cause of action or claim for relief against a trustee of the trust or against others involved in the counseling, drafting, preparation, execution, or funding of the trust for conspiracy to commit fraudulent conveyance or another voidable transfer, aiding and abetting a fraudulent conveyance or another voidable transfer, participation in the trust transaction, or similar cause of action or claim for relief.

(b) For purposes of this [~~subsection~~]Subsection (6), counseling, drafting, preparation, execution, or funding of the trust includes the preparation and funding of a limited partnership, a limited liability company, or other entity if interests in the entity are subsequently transferred to the trust.

(c) The creditor and other person prevented from asserting a cause of action or claim for relief may assert a cause of action against, and are limited to recourse against, only:

~~(b)~~ the settlor, to the extent otherwise allowed in this section.

~~(9)~~(a) A cause of action or claim for relief under Subsection ~~(5)(i)~~(i) or (j) is a cause of action or claim for relief under Section 25-6-202 or 25-6-203.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection ~~(9)(a)~~(a), a cause of action or claim for relief under this section is not a cause of action or claim for relief under Sections 25-6-101 through 25-6-407.

(c) Notwithstanding Section 25-6-305, a cause of action or claim for relief regarding a fraudulent conveyance or other voidable transfer of a settlor's assets under this section is extinguished unless the action is brought by a creditor of the settlor who was a creditor of the settlor before the assets in question were transferred to the trust and the action is brought within the earlier of:

(i) the later of two years after the transfer is made, or one year after the transfer is or reasonably could have been discovered by the creditor if the creditor:

(A) can demonstrate, by clear and convincing evidence, that the creditor asserted a specific claim against the settlor before the transfer; or

(B) files another action, other than an action alleging a fraudulent conveyance or other voidable transfer against the settlor that asserts a claim based on an act or omission of the settlor that occurred before the transfer, and the action described in Subsection ~~(9)(c)~~(c) is filed within two years after the transfer; or

(ii)(A) with respect to a creditor known to the settlor, 120 days after the date on which notice of the transfer is mailed to the creditor, which notice shall state the name and address of the settlor or the settlor's representative, the name and address of the trustee or the trustee's representative, and also describe the assets that were transferred, but does not need to state the value of those assets if the assets are other than cash, and which shall inform the creditor that the creditor is required to bring the creditor's cause of action or claim for relief against the settlor and the trustee within 120 days from the mailing of the notice or be forever barred; or

(B) with respect to a creditor not known to the settlor, 120 days after the date on which notice of the transfer is first published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the settlor then resides, or is published on a public legal notice website as defined in Section 45-1-101, which notice shall state the name of the settlor or the settlor's representative, the address of the settlor or the settlor's representative, the name of the trustee or the trustee's representative, the address of the trustee or the trustee's representative, and also describe the assets that were transferred, but does not need to state the value of those assets.

~~(10)~~(a) The notice required in Subsection ~~(9)(c)(ii)(B)~~(c)(ii)(B) shall be published in accordance with the provisions of Section 45-1-101 for three consecutive weeks and inform creditors that they are required to bring a cause of action or claim for relief within 120 days from the first publication of the notice or be forever barred.

(b) Failure to give the notice required in Subsection ~~(9)(c)(ii)~~(c)(ii) to a creditor does not prevent the shortening of the limitations period under Subsection ~~(9)(c)(ii)~~(c)(ii) with respect to another creditor who properly received notice by mail or publication.

~~(11)~~(a) A trust is subject to this section if it is governed by Utah law, as provided in Section 75-7-107, and if it otherwise meets the requirements of this section.

(b) A court of this state has exclusive jurisdiction over an action or claim for relief that is based on a transfer of property to a trust that is the subject of this section.

~~(12)~~(a) With respect to a trust that is subject to this section, a claim brought by a creditor of a beneficiary who is not the settlor is subject to Section 75-7-501 et. seq.

(b) With respect to an irrevocable trust that is not subject to this section, a claim brought by a creditor of a beneficiary who is the settlor is subject to the provisions of Subsection 75-7-505(2).

~~(13)~~ If a provision in this section conflicts with a provision in Sections 25-6-101 through 25-6-407, the provision of this section shall supersede the conflicting provision in Sections 25-6-101 through 25-6-407.

~~(14)~~ Nothing in this section alters rights vested or created under this section before May 14, 2019.

34-20-1. Declaration of policy.

The public policy of the state as to employment relations and collective bargaining in the furtherance of which this chapter is enacted, is declared to be as follows:

(1) It recognizes that there are three major interests involved, namely: that of the public, the employee, and the employer. These three interests are to a considerable extent interrelated. It is the policy of the state to protect and promote each of these interests with due regard to the situation and to the rights of the others.

(2) Industrial peace, regular and adequate income for the employee, and uninterrupted production of goods and services are promotive of all of these interests. They are largely dependent upon the maintenance of fair, friendly, and mutually satisfactory employment relations and the availability of suitable machinery for the peaceful adjustment of whatever controversies may arise. It is recognized that certain employers, including farmers and farmer cooperatives, in addition to their general employer problems, face special problems arising from perishable commodities and seasonal production which require adequate consideration. It is also recognized that whatever may be the rights of disputants with respect to each other in any controversy regarding employment relations, they should not be permitted in the conduct of their controversy to intrude directly into the primary rights of third parties to earn a livelihood, transact business, and engage in the ordinary affairs of life by any lawful means and free from molestation, interference, restraint, or coercion.

(3) Negotiation of terms and conditions of work should result from voluntary agreement between employer and employee. For the purpose of such negotiation an employee has the right, if [~~he~~]the employee desires, to associate with others in organizing and bargaining collectively through representatives of [~~his~~]the employee's own choosing, without intimidation or coercion from any source.

(4) It is the policy of the state, in order to preserve and promote the interests of the public, the employee, and the employer alike, to establish standards of fair conduct in employment relations and to provide a convenient, expeditious and impartial tribunal by which these interests may have their respective rights and obligations adjudicated.

Title to any security receipt, or equipment trust certificate, which by its terms entitles the person named therein to the benefits thereof, and which provides in substance that title thereto is transferable with the same effect as in the case of a negotiable instrument, may be transferred by delivery by any person in possession of the same, howsoever such possession may have been acquired, if endorsed in blank or, if it is endorsed to a specified person, by delivery by such other person.

A person to whom title is so transferred, who takes any such instrument for present or antecedent value, without notice of prior defenses, equities or claims of ownership enforceable against the transferor, shall have absolute title thereto free of any defenses enforceable against, or claims of ownership of, the signer or any prior holder. The holder of any such security receipt, or equipment trust certificate, unless the same has been endorsed in blank by such specified person, shall be deemed prima facie to have title thereto as aforesaid; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated such instrument is defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that [~~he~~]the holder, or some person under whom [~~he~~]the holder claims, acquired title as a holder for value and without notice as aforesaid.

The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to the transfer of any security receipt, or equipment trust certificate, when it is shown that such transfer was made after the date fixed therein for performance by the signer of [~~his~~]the signer's

In such action the court, or a judge thereof, shall upon the presentation of a complaint therefor alleging that the nuisance complained of exists, allow a temporary writ of injunction without bond, if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court or judge that such nuisance exists, by evidence in the form of affidavits, depositions, oral testimony or otherwise, as the complainant may elect, unless the court or judge, by previous order, shall have directed the form and manner in which it shall be presented. Three days' notice in writing shall be given the defendant of the hearing of the application, and if then continued at [~~his~~]the defendant's instance, the writ as prayed for shall be granted as a matter of course. When an injunction has been granted it shall be binding on the defendant throughout the judicial district in which it was issued, and any violation of the provisions of the injunction herein provided for shall be a contempt as hereinafter provided.

Section 79. Section 47-1-3 is amended to read:

If the court is of the opinion that the action ought not to be dismissed, it may direct the county attorney to prosecute the action to judgment, and, if the action is continued for more than one term of court, any citizen of the county or the county attorney may be substituted for the relator and prosecute the action to judgment. If the action is brought by a citizen and the court finds there was no reasonable ground or cause therefor, the costs may be taxed to such citizen.

56-1-19. Right to eject passenger.

If any passenger refuses to pay [~~his~~]the fare or exhibit or surrender [~~his~~]a ticket when requested so to do, or if [~~he~~]the passenger behaves in a disorderly manner, the conductor and employees of a railroad company may, on stopping the train, put [~~him~~]the passenger and [~~his~~]the passenger's baggage out of the cars, using no unnecessary force, at any usual stopping place or in sight of a dwelling.

Section 89. Section 57-1-11 is amended to read:

57-1-11. Claimant out of possession may convey.

Any person claiming title to any real estate may, notwithstanding there may be an adverse possession thereof, sell and convey [~~his~~]the claimant's interest therein in the same manner and with the same effect as if [~~he~~]the claimant were in the actual possession thereof.

Section 90. Section 57-2-12 is amended to read:

57-2-12. Certificate of proof by subscribing witness.

No certificate of such proof shall be made unless such subscribing witness shall prove that the person whose name is subscribed thereto as a party is the person described in, and who executed, the same; that such person executed the conveyance, and that such person [~~subscribed his name~~]signed thereto as a witness thereof at the request of the maker of such instrument.

knowledge, and believes the name of the party subscribed thereto as a party was subscribed by such person; nor unless a competent and credible witness shall in like manner state that [~~he~~]the competent and credible witness personally knew the person whose name is subscribed to such conveyance as a witness, well knows [~~his~~]the subscribing witness's signature, stating [~~his~~]the competent and credible witness's means of knowledge, and believes the name subscribed thereto as a witness was thereto subscribed by such person.

Section 92. Section 57-2-16 is amended to read:

57-2-16. Subpoena to subscribing witness.

Upon the application of any grantee in any conveyance required by law to be recorded, or of any person claiming under such grantee, verified under the oath of the applicant, that any witness to such conveyance residing in the county where such application is made refuses to appear and testify touching the execution thereof, and that such conveyance cannot be proved without [~~his~~]the subscribing witness's evidence, any officer authorized to take the acknowledgment or proof of such conveyance may issue a subpoena requiring such witness to appear before such officer and testify touching the execution thereof.

Section 94. Section 57-6-2 is amended to read:

57-6-2. Claimant to commence action -- Complaint -- Trial of issues.

Such complaint must set forth the grounds on which the defendant seeks relief, stating as accurately as practicable the value of the real estate, exclusive of the improvements thereon made by the claimant or [~~his~~]the claimant's grantors, and the value of such improvements. The issues joined thereon must be tried as in law actions, and the value of the real estate and of such improvements must be separately ascertained on the trial.

Section 95. Section 57-6-3 is amended to read:

57-6-3. Rights of parties -- Acquiring other's interest or holding as tenants in common.

The plaintiff in the main action may thereupon pay the appraised value of the improvements and take the property, but should [~~he~~]the plaintiff fail to do so after a reasonable time, to be fixed by the court, the defendant may take the property upon paying its value, exclusive of the improvements. If this is not done within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the court, the parties will be held to be tenants in common of all the real estate, including the improvements, each holding an interest proportionate to the values ascertained on the trial.

Section 96. Section 57-6-7 is amended to read:

57-6-7. When execution on judgment of possession may issue.

The plaintiff in the main action is entitled to an execution to put [~~him~~]the plaintiff in possession of [~~his~~]the plaintiff's property in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, but not otherwise.

Section 98. Section 57-8-19 is amended to read:

57-8-19. Liens against units -- Removal from lien -- Effect of part payment.

(1) Subsequent to recording the declaration as provided in this act, and while the property remains subject to this act, no lien shall thereafter arise or be effective against the property. During such period liens or encumbrances shall arise or be created only against each unit and the percentage of undivided interest in the common areas and facilities appurtenant to such unit in the same manner and under the same conditions in every respect as liens or encumbrances may arise or be created upon or against any other separate parcel of real property subject to individual ownership; provided that no labor performed or materials furnished with the consent or at the request of a unit owner or [~~his~~]the unit owner's agent or [~~his~~]the unit owner's contractor or subcontractor shall be the basis for the filing of a lien pursuant to the lien law against the unit of any other unit owner not expressly consenting to or requesting the same, except that such express consent shall be deemed to be given by the owner of any unit in the case of emergency repairs. Labor performed or materials furnished for the common areas and facilities, if authorized by the unit owners, the manager or management committee in accordance with this act, the declaration or bylaws or the house rules, shall be deemed to be performed or furnished with the express consent of each unit owner and shall be the basis for the filing of a lien pursuant to the lien law against each of the units.

(2) In the event a lien against two or more units becomes effective, the unit owners of the separate units may remove their units and the percentage of undivided interest in the common areas and facilities appurtenant to such units from the lien by payment of the fractional or proportional amount attributable to each of the units affected. Such individual payment shall be computed by reference to the percentages appearing in the declaration. Subsequent to any payment, discharge or other satisfaction, the unit and the percentage of undivided interest in the common areas and facilities appurtenant thereto shall be free and clear of the lien so paid, satisfied or discharged. Partial payment, satisfaction or discharge shall not prevent the lienor from proceeding to enforce [~~his~~]the lienor's rights against any unit and the percentage of undivided interest in the common areas and facilities appurtenant thereto not so paid, satisfied or discharged.

Section 99. Section 57-8-25 is amended to read:

57-8-25. Joint and several liability of grantor and grantee for unpaid common expenses.

In a voluntary conveyance, the grantee of a unit shall be jointly and severally liable with the grantor for all unpaid assessments against the latter for [~~his~~]the grantor's share of the common expenses up to the time of the grant or conveyance, without prejudice to the grantee's rights to recover from the grantor the amounts paid by the grantee. However, any such grantee shall be entitled to a statement from the manager or management committee setting forth the amounts of the unpaid assessments against the grantor, and such grantee shall not be liable for, nor shall the unit conveyed be subject to a lien for, any unpaid assessments against the grantor in excess of the amount set forth.

Section 100. Section 57-8-26 is amended to read:

57-8-26. Waiver of use of common areas and facilities -- Abandonment of unit.

No unit owner may be exempt [~~himself~~] from liability for [~~his~~]the unit owner's contribution towards the common expenses by waiver of the use or enjoyment of any of the common areas and facilities or by abandonment of [~~his~~]the owner's unit.

Section 101. Section 57-9-4 is amended to read:

No disability or lack of knowledge of any kind on the part of anyone shall suspend the running of the forty-year period. The notice may be filed for record by the claimant or by any other person acting in behalf of any claimant who is:

(a) under a disability[~~,~~];

(b) unable to assert a claim on [~~his own~~]the claimant's own behalf[~~,~~]; or

(c) one of a class, but whose identity cannot be established or is uncertain at the time of filing the notice of claim for record.

(2) If the same record owner of any possessory interest in land has been in possession of such land continuously for a period of 40 years or more, during which period no title transaction with respect to such interest appears of record in [~~his~~]the record owner's chain of title, and no notice has been filed by [~~him~~]the record owner or on [~~his~~]the record owner's behalf as provided in Subsection (1), and such possession continues to the time when marketability is being determined, such period of possession shall be deemed equivalent to the filing of the notice immediately preceding the termination of the forty-year period described in Subsection (1).

(c) the ability of the payor to provide support;

(b) The court may, when fault is at issue, close the proceedings and seal the court records.

(3)(a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, the court shall consider the standard of living, existing at the time of separation, in determining alimony in accordance with this section.

(b) In considering all relevant facts and equitable principles, the court may, in the court's discretion, base alimony on the standard of living that existed at the time of trial.

(4) The court may, under appropriate circumstances, attempt to equalize the parties' respective standards of living.

(5)(a) If the marriage is short in duration and a minor child has not been conceived or born during the marriage, the court may consider the standard of living that existed at the time of the marriage.

(b) In determining alimony when a marriage of short duration dissolves and a minor child has not been conceived or born during the marriage, the court may consider restoring each party to the condition which existed at the time of the marriage.

(b) Subsection (2)(a) applies to a divorce decree regardless of the date on which the divorce decree was entered.

(3) The court may not modify alimony or issue a new order for alimony to address needs of the recipient that did not exist at the time the decree was entered, unless the court finds extenuating circumstances that justify that action.

(4) In modifying the amount of alimony, the court may not consider the income of any subsequent spouse of the payor, except that the court may consider:

(a) the subsequent spouse's financial ability to share living expenses; or

(b) the income of a subsequent spouse if the court finds that the payor's improper conduct justifies that consideration.

Section 136. Section 81-4-504 is enacted to read:

81-4-504. Termination of alimony.

(1)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (1)(b), or unless a decree of divorce specifically provides otherwise, any order of the court that a payor pay alimony to a payee automatically terminates upon the remarriage or death of that payee.

(b) If the remarriage of the payee is annulled and found to be void ab initio, the payment of alimony shall resume if the payor is made a party to the action of annulment and the payor's rights are determined.

[~~(b) For purposes of this Subsection (9), a substantial change in circumstances may include:~~]

[~~(i) material changes in custody;~~]

[~~(ii) material changes in the relative wealth or assets of the parties;~~]

[~~(iii) material changes of 30% or more in the income of a parent;~~]

[~~(iii) adjust the payor's ordered support amount to that which is provided for in the guidelines if:~~]

[~~(A) there is a difference of 15% or more; and~~]

[~~(B) the difference is not of a temporary nature.~~]

[~~(10) Notice of the opportunity to adjust a support order under Subsections (8) and (9) shall be included in each child support order.~~]

Section 150. Section 81-6-203, which is renumbered from Section 78B-12-203 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~78B-12-203~~. 81-6-203. Determination of gross income for child support -- Imputing income to a parent.

(1)(a) Each parent shall provide verification of current income to the court or administrative agency.

(b) Each parent shall provide year-to-date pay stubs or employer statements and complete copies of tax returns from at least the most recent year, unless the court finds the verification is not reasonably available.

(c) Verification of income from records maintained by the Department of Workforce Services may be substituted for pay stubs, employer statements, and income tax returns.

(2)(a) To calculate gross income of a parent, the court or administrative agency may include:

(i) prospective income of the parent, including income from earned and nonearned sources, such as salaries, wages, commissions, royalties, bonuses, rents, gifts from anyone, prizes, dividends, severance pay, pensions, interest, trust income, alimony from previous marriages, annuities, capital gains, Social Security benefits, worker compensation benefits, unemployment compensation, income replacement disability insurance benefits, and payments from nonmeans-tested government programs; and

(ii) income imputed to the parent as described in Subsection (6).

~~(2)~~ Income from earned income sources is limited to the equivalent of one full-time 40-hour job.

(c) If and only if during the time before the original support order, the parent normally and consistently worked more than 40 hours at the parent's job, the court may consider this extra time as a pattern in calculating the parent's ability to provide child support.

(3)(a) The court or administrative agency shall use historical and current earnings to determine whether an underemployment or overemployment situation exists.

(b) The office may not treat incarceration of at least six months as voluntary unemployment in establishing or modifying a support order.

[~~(3) Notwithstanding Subsection (1), specifically excluded from gross income are:~~]

[~~(a) cash assistance provided under Title 35A, Chapter 3, Part 3, Family Employment Program;~~]

[~~(b) benefits received under a housing subsidy program, the Job Training Partnership Act, Supplemental Security Income, Social Security Disability Insurance, Medicaid, SNAP benefits, or General Assistance; and~~]

[~~(c) other similar means-tested welfare benefits received by a parent.~~]

(4)[~~(a) Gross income from self-employment or operation of a business shall be calculated~~]

(a) To calculate income from self-employment or operation of a business, the court or administrative agency:

(i) shall calculate gross income from self-employment or operation of a business by subtracting necessary expenses required for self-employment or business operation from gross receipts[~~.~~];

(ii) [~~The~~]shall review income and expenses from self-employment or operation of a business [~~shall be reviewed~~]to determine an appropriate level of gross income available to the parent to satisfy a child support award[~~.~~]; and

(iii) [~~Only~~]may only deduct those expenses necessary to allow the business to operate at a reasonable level [~~may be deducted~~]from gross receipts.

(b) Gross income determined under this Subsection (4) may differ from the amount of business income determined for tax purposes.

[~~(5)(a) When possible, gross income should first be computed on an annual basis and then recalculated to determine the average gross monthly income.~~]

[~~(b) Each parent shall provide verification of current income. Each parent shall provide year-to-date pay stubs or employer statements and complete copies of tax returns from at least the most recent year unless the court finds the verification is not reasonably available. Verification of income from records maintained by the Department of Workforce Services may be substituted for pay stubs, employer statements, and income tax returns.~~]

[~~(c) Historical and current earnings shall be used to determine whether an underemployment or overemployment situation exists.~~]

[~~(6) Incarceration of at least six months may not be treated as voluntary unemployment by the office in establishing or modifying a support order.~~]

[~~(7) Gross income includes income imputed to the parent under Subsection (8).~~]

[~~(8)(a) Income may not be imputed~~]

(5) When possible, the court or administrative agency shall determine the average monthly gross income for each parent by:

(a) calculating the gross income of each parent on an annual basis; and

(b) dividing the annual gross income for each parent by 12.

(6)(a) The court or administrative agency may not impute income to a parent unless the parent stipulates to the amount imputed, the parent defaults, or, in contested cases, a hearing is held and [~~the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding~~]the court or administrative agency enters findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.

(b) If income is imputed to a parent, [~~the income shall be based~~]the court or administrative agency shall base income upon employment potential and probable earnings considering, to the extent known:

(i) employment opportunities;

(ii) work history;

(iii) occupation qualifications;

(iv) educational attainment;

(v) literacy;

(vi) age;

(vii) health;

(viii) criminal record;

(ix) other employment barriers and background factors; and

(x) prevailing earnings and job availability for persons of similar backgrounds in the community.

(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, [~~that parent may be imputed~~]the court or administrative agency may impute an income to that parent at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week.

(d) To impute a greater or lesser income, the [~~judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding~~]court or administrative agency shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.

~~(d)~~ [~~Income may not be imputed~~]The court or administrative agency may not impute income to a parent if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:

(i) the reasonable costs of child care for the parents' minor [~~children~~]child approach or equal the amount of income the custodial parent can earn;

(ii) a parent is physically or mentally unable to earn minimum wage;

(iii) a parent is engaged in career or occupational training to establish basic job skills; or

(iv) unusual emotional or physical needs of a child require the custodial parent's presence in the home.

(7) Notwithstanding Subsection (2), the court or administrative agency may not include the following sources of income when calculating the gross income of a parent:

(a) cash assistance provided under Title 35A, Chapter 3, Part 3, Family Employment Program;

(b) benefits received under a housing subsidy program, the Job Training Partnership Act, Supplemental Security Income, Social Security Disability Insurance, Medicaid, SNAP benefits, or General Assistance;

(c) other similar means-tested welfare benefits received by a parent;

(d) the earned income of a child who is the subject of a child support award; or

(e) except as otherwise provided in Subsection (8), the benefits to a child in the child's own right, such as Supplemental Security Income.

(8)(a) The court or administrative agency shall credit, as child support, the amount of social security benefits received by a child due to the earnings of the parent on whose earning record the social security benefits are based by crediting the amount against the potential obligation of that parent.

(b) The court or administrative agency may consider other unearned income of a child as income of a parent depending upon the circumstances of each case.

[~~(9)(a) Gross income may not include the earnings of a minor child who is the subject of a child support award nor benefits to a minor child in the child's own right such as Supplemental Security Income.~~]

[~~(b) Social security benefits received by a child due to the earnings of a parent shall be credited as child support to the parent upon whose earning record it is based, by crediting the amount against the potential obligation of that parent. Other unearned income of a child may be considered as income to a parent depending upon the circumstances of each case.~~]

Section 151. Section 81-6-204 is enacted to read:

81-6-204. General provisions for calculating child support -- Determination of base combined child support obligation.

(1) To calculate child support, the court or administrative agency shall determine the base combined child support obligation for the parents by:

(a) except as provided in Subsection (3), adjusting the average monthly gross income for each parent by subtracting any alimony previously ordered and paid and any child support previously ordered for that parent;

(b) adjusting the average monthly gross income for each parent by subtracting any credits deemed appropriate under Subsections 81-6-202(7) and (8);

(c) combining the adjusted average monthly gross incomes for both parents; and

(d) locating the base combined child support obligation in the base combined child support obligation table by finding:

(i) the combined adjusted average monthly gross incomes of the parents in the table; and

(ii) the total number of children in common to the parents.

(2) The court or administrative agency may only use the income of the parents of the child to determine the base child support award.

(3) The court or administrative agency may not subtract any alimony ordered in the pending proceeding from the gross incomes of the parents as described in Subsection (1)(a).

(4) If there is no amount listed for the base combined child support obligation in the base combined child support obligation table, the base combined support obligation for the parents is $0.

(5) Upon determining the base combined child support obligation, the court or administrative agency shall make additional calculations as described in Section 81-6-205, 81-6-206, or 81-6-207 to determine the base child support award.

(6)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (6)(b), the court may consider any amount that an incapacitated adult child can contribute to the child's support and use the amount to justify a reduction in the amount of support ordered.

(b) If the case described in Subsection (6)(a) involves more than one child, the reduction may not be greater than the effect of reducing the total number of children by one.

(7)(a) The base combined child support obligation table provides combined child support obligations for up to six children.

(b) If a case involves more than six children, the court may add additional amounts to the base child support obligation shown in the base combined child support obligation table.

(c) Unless rebutted by Subsection 81-6-202(3), the court or administrative agency may not order an amount less than the amount that would be ordered for up to six children.

(8)(a) If the combined adjusted gross income exceeds the highest level specified in the base combined child support obligation table, the court shall order an appropriate and just amount of child support on a case-by-case basis, except that the court may not order an amount that is less than the highest level specified in the table for the number of children due child support.

(b) There is no maximum limit on the base child support award that a court may order using the child support tables.

(9) The amount shown in a child support table is the child support amount for the total number of children not an amount per child.

(10) For all worksheets, income and child support award figures are rounded to the nearest dollar.

Section 152. Section 81-6-205 is enacted to read:

81-6-205. Sole physical custody -- Obligation calculations -- Change in physical custody.

(1) This section applies to a case in which a parent, or another person, is awarded sole physical custody of the children.

(2) Except as provided in Subsections (3) and (4), the court or administrative agency shall determine the base child support award for each parent by:

(a) dividing each parent's monthly adjusted gross income by the combined monthly adjusted gross income to determine each parent's percentage; and

(b) multiplying each parent's percentage by the base combined child support obligation that is calculated as described in Subsection 81-6-204(1).

(3)(a) If the base combined child support obligation is $0, the court or administrative agency shall establish the base child support award for each parent by:

(i) determining the individual monthly adjusted gross income for the parent;

(ii) locating the amount of the base child support award in the low income table by finding:

(A) the monthly adjusted gross income for the parent in the low income table; and

(B) the number of children in common with the parents.

(b) The corresponding amount in the low income table is the base child support award for that parent.

(4)(a) If a parent's individual monthly adjusted gross income is less than the highest amount of monthly adjusted gross income shown in the low income table, the court or administrative agency shall determine that the base child support award is the lesser of:

(i) the amount calculated using the base combined child support obligation table as described in Subsection (2); and

(ii) the amount calculated using the low income table as described in Subsection (3).

(b) If the monthly adjusted gross income of a parent is found in an area of the low income table in which no amount is shown, the court or administrative agency shall determine the base child support award by using the amount listed in the base combined child support obligation table and calculated as described in Subsection (2).

(5) A base child support award in a sole physical custody case may not be less than $30.

(6) The amounts calculated under this section are rebuttable as described in Section 81-6-202.

(7) A parent without sole physical custody of the children is an obligor and is required to pay the amount of child support calculated under this section.

(8)(a) When physical custody of a child changes after the original child support order, the parent without physical custody of the child is required to pay the amount of child support calculated under this section, without the need to modify the order, to:

(i) the parent who has physical custody of the child;

(ii) a relative to whom physical custody of the child has been voluntarily given; or

(iii) the state when the child is residing outside of the home in the protective custody, temporary custody, or care of the state or a state-licensed facility for at least 30 days.

(b) When physical custody of a child changes from the physical custody that is assumed in the original child support order calculated under this section, the modification of the child support order is not necessary even if only one parent is specifically ordered to pay in the child support order.

Section 153. Section 81-6-206 is enacted to read:

81-6-206. Joint physical custody -- Obligation calculations.

(1) This section applies to a case in which the parents are awarded joint physical custody of the children.

(2) If the base combined child support obligation that is calculated as described in Subsection 81-6-204(1) is $0, the base child support award for each parent is $0.

(3) If the base combined child support obligation that is calculated as described in Subsection 81-6-204(1) is greater than $0, the court or administrative agency shall determine each parent's share of the base combined child support obligation by:

(a) dividing each parent's monthly adjusted gross income by the combined monthly adjusted gross income to determine each parent's percentage; and

(b) multiplying each parent's percentage by the base combined child support obligation.

(4) The court or administrative agency shall determine the base child support award for the parent with the lesser number of overnights by:

(a) multiplying the number of overnights over 110 and under 131 for that parent by .0027;

(b) multiplying the number calculated under Subsection (4)(a) by the base combined child support obligation;

(c) multiplying the number of overnights over 130 for that parent by .0084;

(d) multiplying the number calculated under Subsection (4)(c) by the base combined child support obligation; and

(e) subtracting the numbers calculated in Subsections (4)(b) and (4)(d) from that parent's share of the base combined child support obligation calculated under Subsection (3).

(5) If the base child support award calculated under Subsection (4) is greater than $0, the parent with the lesser number of overnights is the obligor and is required to pay child support.

(6) If the base child support award calculated under Subsection (4) is less than $0:

(a) the parent with the lesser number of overnights is the obligee; and

(b) the parent with the greater number of overnights is the obligor and is required to pay child support.

(7) If the parents have an equal parent-time schedule under Section 81-9-305, the amount of time to be spent with the parent who has the lower monthly adjusted gross income is considered 183 overnights, regardless of whether the parent receives 182 overnights or 183 overnights under the equal parent-time schedule.

Section 154. Section 81-6-207 is enacted to read:

81-6-207. Split physical custody -- Obligation calculations.

(1) This section applies to a case in which the parents are awarded split physical custody of the children.

(2) If the base combined child support obligation that is calculated as described in Subsection 81-6-204(1) is $0, the base child support award for each parent is $0.

(3) If the base combined child support obligation that is calculated as described in Subsection 81-6-204(1) is greater than $0, the court shall determine the base child support award by:

(a) dividing the number of children with each parent by the combined number of children to calculate each parent's percentage of children;

(b) dividing each parent's monthly adjusted gross income by the combined monthly adjusted gross income to calculate each parent's percentage of the combined monthly adjusted gross income;

(c) multiplying each parent's percentage of the combined monthly adjusted gross income by the base combined child support obligation to calculate each parent's share of the base combined child support obligation;

(d) multiplying each parent's share of the base combined child support obligation by the other

parent's percentage of children to determine the individual child support obligations for each parent; and

(e) subtracting the lesser individual child support obligation from the higher individual child support obligation to reach the base child support award.

(4) The parent with the higher individual child support obligation is the parent required to pay the base child support award calculated under Subsection (3).

Section 155. Section 81-6-208, which is renumbered from Section 78B-12-212 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~78B-12-212~~. 81-6-208. Requirements for a child support order regarding medical expenses -- Determination of parental liability for medical expenses.

(1) As used in this section, "health insurance" means the same as that term is defined in Section 31A-1-301.

~~(1)~~ Except as provided in Subsection ~~(3)~~, a child support order issued or modified in this state on or after May 3, 2023, shall require compliance with the requirements described in Subsection ~~(2)~~ as of the effective date of the child support order.

~~(2)~~ A child support order shall:

(a) [~~order that~~]require the parents provide health care coverage for the medical expenses of a child;

(b) [~~order that~~]require the parents provide health insurance for the medical expenses of a child if health insurance is available to the parents at a reasonable cost;

(c) [~~in accordance with Subsection 30-3-5(3)(b)(ii) and Section 30-3-5.4,~~] designate which health[~~, hospital, or dental~~] insurance plan is primary and which health[~~, hospital, or dental~~] insurance plan is secondary if, at any time, a child is covered by both parents' health[~~, hospital, or dental~~] insurance plans as described in Subsection (7);

(d) [~~require~~]require each parent to share equally the out-of-pocket costs of the premium actually paid by a parent for the child's portion of health insurance; and

(e) [~~in accordance with Subsection 30-3-5(3)(a),~~]include a provision that requires each parent to equally share all reasonable and necessary uninsured and unreimbursed medical and dental expenses incurred for a child, including co-payments, co-insurance, and deductibles.

~~(3)~~ [~~A court~~]The court may deviate from the requirements described in Subsection ~~(2)~~ if:

(a) the court makes specific findings establishing good cause for the deviation; or

(b) subject to the court's approval, the parents agree which parent shall provide health insurance for the child.

~~(4)~~ In determining whether to take the action described in Subsection ~~(3)~~, the court may consider:

(a) the reasonableness of the cost;

(b) the availability of a group insurance policy;

(c) the coverage of the policy; or

(d) the preference of the custodial parent.

~~(5)~~ Subject to Subsection ~~(3)~~, if a child support order does not contain the requirements described in Subsection ~~(2)~~:

(a) the parents are nonetheless subject to the requirements described in Subsection ~~(2)~~, as applicable; and

(b) for purposes of Subsection ~~(2)(c)~~(c), the health insurance plan of the parent whose birthday falls first in the calendar year is primary, and the health insurance plan of the parent whose birthday falls second in the calendar year is secondary.

(7)(a) The provisions of an order under Subsection (3)(c) shall:

(i) take effect if at any time a child is covered by both parents' health insurance plans; and

(ii) include the following language: "If, at any point in time, a child is covered by the health insurance plans of both parents, the health insurance plan of (Parent's Name) shall be primary coverage for the child and the health insurance plan of (Other Parent's Name) shall be secondary coverage for the child. If a parent remarries and the child is not covered by that parent's health insurance plan but is covered by a step-parent's plan, the health insurance plan of the step-parent shall be treated as if it is the plan of the remarried parent and shall retain the same designation as the primary or secondary plan of the child."

(b) A court or administrative agency may not modify the language required by Subsection (7)(a)(ii).

(c) Notwithstanding Subsection (7)(b), the court may allocate the payment of medical expenses including co-payments, deductibles, and co-insurance not covered by health insurance between the parents.

(d) In designating primary coverage pursuant to Subsection (3)(c), the court may take into account:

(i) the birth dates of the parents;

(ii) a requirement in a court order, if any, for one of the parents to maintain health insurance coverage for a child;

(iii) the parent with physical custody of the child; or

(iv) any other factor the court considers relevant.

~~(6)~~(a) The parent who provides health insurance may receive credit against the base child support award or recover the other parent's share of the child's portion of the premium.

(b) If the parent does not have health insurance but another member of the parent's household provides health insurance for the child, the parent may receive credit against the base child support award or recover the other parent's share of the child's portion of the premium.

~~(7)~~(a) The child's portion of the premium is a per capita share of the premium actually paid.

(b) The premium expense for a child shall be calculated by dividing the premium amount by the number of persons covered under the policy and multiplying the result by the number of children in the instant case.

~~(8)~~(a) The parent maintaining health care coverage or insurance shall provide verification of coverage to the other parent, or to the [~~Office of Recovery Services~~]office under Title IV of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 601 et seq., upon initial enrollment of the child, and after initial enrollment on or before January 2 of each calendar year.

(b) The parent shall notify the other parent, or the [~~Office of Recovery Services~~]office under Title IV of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 601 et seq., of any change of insurance carrier, premium, or benefits within 30 calendar days of the date the parent first knew or should have known of the change.

~~(9)~~ A parent who incurs medical expenses shall provide written verification of the cost and payment of medical expenses to the other parent within 30 days of payment.

~~(10)~~ [~~In addition to any other sanctions provided by the court, a~~]The court may deny a parent incurring medical expenses [~~may be denied~~]the right to receive credit for the expenses or to recover the other parent's share of the expenses if that parent fails to comply with [~~Subsections (8) and (9)~~]this Subsection (10).

(11)(a) The court or administrative agency may issue an order determining the amount of a parent's liability for medical expenses of a child when the parent:

(i) is required by a prior court or administrative order to:

(A) share those expenses with the other parent of the child; or

(B) obtain insurance for medical expenses but fails to do so; or

(ii) receives direct payment from an insurer under insurance coverage obtained after the prior court or administrative order was issued.

(b) If the prior court or administrative order does not specify what proportions of the expenses are to be shared:

(i) the court may determine the amount of liability as may be reasonable and necessary; and

(ii) the administrative agency may determine the amount of liability in accordance with established rules.

(c) This Subsection (11) applies to an order without regard to when the order was issued.

Section 156. Section 81-6-209, which is renumbered from Section 78B-12-214 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~78B-12-214~~. 81-6-209. Requirements for a child support order regarding child care costs and expenses -- Actual expenses for child care.

[~~(1) The child support order shall require that each parent share equally the reasonable work-related child care expenses of the parents.~~]

(1) The court or administrative agency shall require in a child support order that each parent share equally the reasonable work-related child care expenses of the parents.

(2)(a) If an actual expense for child care is incurred, a parent shall begin paying [~~his~~]the parent's share on a monthly basis immediately upon presentation of proof of the child care expense[~~, but if~~].

(b) If the child care expense ceases to be incurred, [~~that~~]the parent may suspend making monthly payment of that expense, while [~~it~~]the expense is not being incurred, without obtaining a modification of the child support order.

~~(b)~~(i) In the absence of a court order to the contrary, a parent who incurs child care expense shall provide written verification of the cost and identity of a child care provider to the other parent upon initial engagement of a provider and thereafter on the request of the other parent.

(ii) In the absence of a court order to the contrary, the parent shall notify the other parent of any change of child care provider or the monthly expense of child care within 30 calendar days [~~of the date of the change~~]after the day on which the change occurred.

(3) [~~In addition to any other sanctions provided by the court, a~~]The court may deny a parent incurring child care expenses [~~may be denied~~]the right to receive credit for the expenses or to recover the other parent's share of the expenses if the parent incurring the expenses fails to comply with Subsection ~~(2)(b)~~(c).

(4)(a) The court or administrative agency shall presume that child care costs should be included in a child support order if a parent, during extended parent-time, is working and actually incurring the child care costs.

(b) The presumption under Subsection (4)(a) is rebutted if:

(i) the obligor's base child support award, in combination with the award of medical expenses, exceeds 50% of the obligor's adjusted gross income; or

(ii) by adding the child care costs, the obligor's child support obligation would exceed 50% of the obligor's adjusted gross income.

(5)(a) The court or administrative agency may award child care costs on a case-by-case basis if the child care costs are related to the career and occupational training of the custodial parent or the child care costs would be in the interest of justice.

(b) The court or administrative agency may assign financial responsibility in a child support order for all or a portion of child care expenses incurred on behalf of a child due to the employment or training of the custodial parent.

(6)(a) The court or administrative agency may impute a monthly obligation for child care costs when the court imputes income to a parent who is providing child care for the child so that the parties are not incurring child care costs for the child.

(b) The court shall apply any monthly obligation imputed under Subsection (6)(a) towards any actual child care costs incurred within the same month for the child.

Section 157. Section 81-6-210, which is renumbered from Section 78B-12-217 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~78B-12-217~~. 81-6-210. Award of tax exemption for a child.

(1) [~~No presumption exists~~]There is no presumption as to which parent should be awarded the right to claim a child [~~or children as exemptions~~]as an exemption for federal and state income tax purposes.

(2) Unless the parties otherwise stipulate in writing, the court [~~or administrative agency~~]shall award in any final order the exemption on a case-by-case basis.

~~(2)~~ In awarding the exemption, the court [~~or administrative agency~~]shall consider:

(a) as the primary factor, the relative contribution of each parent to the cost of raising the child; and

(b) among other factors, the relative tax benefit to each parent.

~~(3)~~(a) Notwithstanding Subsection ~~(2)~~, the court [~~or administrative agency~~]may not award any exemption to [~~the noncustodial parent if that parent is not current in his~~]a parent if the parent is not current in the parent's child support obligation[~~, in which case~~].

(b) If a parent is not current in the parent's child support obligation under Subsection (4)(a), the court [~~or administrative agency~~]may award an exemption to the [~~custodial parent~~]other parent.

~~(4)~~ An exemption may not be awarded to a parent unless the award will result in a tax benefit to that parent.

Section 158. Section 81-6-211, which is renumbered from Section 78B-12-216 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~78B-12-216~~. 81-6-211. Reduction for extended parent-time.

(1) The base child support award [~~shall be~~]is:

Section 159. Section 81- 6- 212 is enacted to read:

81- 6- 212. Modification of child support order -- Adjustment of child support.

(1) The amount of prospective child support is equal to the amount granted by a prior child support order unless:

(a) there is a substantial change of circumstances on the part of the obligor or obligee as described in this section; or

(b) an adjustment is made as described in this section or Section 81- 6- 213.

(2) If the prior child support order contains a stipulated provision for the automatic adjustment for prospective child support, the prospective child support is the amount as stated in the order, without a showing of a substantial change of circumstances, if the stipulated provision:

(a) is clear and unambiguous;

(b) is self- executing;

(c) provides for child support that equals or exceeds the base child support award required by the child support guidelines; and

(d) does not allow a decrease in child support as a result of the obligor's voluntary reduction of income.

(3)(a) A parent, legal guardian, or the office may, at any time, petition the court to adjust the amount of a child support order if there has been a substantial change in circumstances.

(b) A change in the child support tables is not a substantial change in circumstances for the purposes of Subsection (3)(a).

(c) For purposes of this Subsection (3)(a), a substantial change in circumstances may include:

(i) material changes in custody;

(ii) material changes in the relative wealth or assets of the parties;

(iii) material changes of 30% or more in the income of a parent;

(iv) material changes in the employment potential and ability of a parent to earn;

(v) material changes in the medical needs of the child; or

(vi) material changes in the legal responsibilities of either parent for the support of others.

(4) Upon receiving a petition under Subsection (3)(a), the court shall, taking into account the best interests of the child:

(a) determine whether a substantial change has occurred;

(b) if a substantial change has occurred, determine whether the change results in a difference of 15% or more between the obligor's ordered support amount and the obligor's support amount that would be required under the child support guidelines; and

(c) adjust the obligor's ordered support amount to that which is provided for in the child support guidelines if:

(i) there is a difference of 15% or more; and

(ii) the difference is not of a temporary nature.

(5)(a) If a child support order has not been issued or modified within the previous three years, a parent, legal guardian, or the office may move the court to adjust the amount of a child support order.

(b) Upon receiving a motion under Subsection (5)(a), the court shall, taking into account the best interests of the child:

(i) determine whether there is a difference between the obligor's ordered support amount and the obligor's support amount that would be required under the child support guidelines; and

(ii) if there is a difference as described in Subsection (5)(b)(i), adjust the obligor's ordered support amount to the obligor's support amount provided in the child support guidelines if:

(A) the difference is 10% or more;

(B) the difference is not of a temporary nature; and

(C) the order adjusting the obligor's ordered support amount does not deviate from the child support guidelines.

(c) A showing of a substantial change in circumstances is not necessary for an adjustment under this Subsection (5).

Section 160. Section 81-6-213 is enacted to read:

81-6-213. Adjustment to child support when child becomes emancipated.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in the child support order, the base child support award is automatically adjusted to the base child support award for the remaining number of children due child support, without the need to modify the most recent child support order by a court, when a child:

(a) becomes 18 years old or graduates from high school during the child's normal and expected year of graduation, whichever occurs later;

(b) dies, marries, becomes a member of the armed forces of the United States; or

(c) is emancipated in accordance with Title 80, Chapter 7, Emancipation.

(2) The base child support award is adjusted as described in Subsection (1) by using the child support table that was used to establish the most recent child support order and by using the income of the parties as specified in the most recent child support order or the worksheets.

(3) The base child support award may not be reduced by a per child amount derived from the base child support award originally ordered.

(4) If the incomes of the parties are not specified in the most recent child support order or the worksheets, the information regarding the incomes is not consistent, or the order deviates from the child support guidelines, the base child support award is not automatically adjusted under Subsection (1) and the child support order will continue until modified by the issuing tribunal.

(5) If the child support order is deviated and the parties subsequently obtain a court order that adjusts the amount of child support back to the date of the emancipation of the child, the office may not be required to repay any difference in the child support collected during the interim.

Section 161. Section 81-6-214, which is renumbered from Section 78B-12-218 is renumbered and amended to read:

(ii) in the event of joint physical custody when one parent has custody a majority of the time[~~, pursuant to Subsection 30-3-10.3(4).~~]as described in Subsection 81-9-205(10):

(A) the parent having the minor child the majority of the time shall make the decisions listed in Subsections ~~(5)(b)(i)~~(d)(i) and (ii); and

(B) both parents with joint physical custody shall have access to the minor child during school and authority to check the child out of school; or

(iii) in the event of joint physical custody when the parents have custody an equal amount of time:

(A) the court shall determine how the decisions listed in Subsections ~~(5)(b)(i)~~(d)(i) and (ii) are made; and

(B) both parents with joint physical custody shall have access to the minor child during school and authority to check the minor child out of school.

~~(6)~~ Each parent may make decisions regarding the day-to-day care and control of the minor child while the minor child is residing with that parent.

~~(7)~~ When mutual decision-making is designated but cannot be achieved, the parties shall make a good faith effort to resolve the issue through the dispute resolution process.

~~(8)~~ The parenting plan shall include a residential schedule that designates in which parent's home [~~each~~]a minor child shall reside on given days of the year, including provisions for holidays, birthdays of family members, vacations, and other special occasions.

~~(9)~~(a) If a parent fails to comply with a provision of the parenting plan or a child support order, the other parent's obligations under the parenting plan or the child support order are not affected.

(b) Failure to comply with a provision of the parenting plan or a child support order may result in a finding of contempt of court.

~~(10)~~(a) [~~When one or both parents are servicemembers~~]If a parent is a service member, the parenting plan shall contain provisions that address the foreseeable parenting and custodial issues likely to arise in the event of notification of deployment or other contingency, including long-term deployments, short-term deployments, death, incapacity, and noncombatant evacuation operations.

(b) The provisions in the parenting plan described in Subsection ~~(10)(a)~~(a) shall comport substantially with the requirements of an agreement made pursuant to Section 78B-20-201.

Section 180. Section 81-9-204, which is renumbered from Section 30-3-10 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~30-3-10~~. 81-9-204. Custody and parent-time of a minor child -- Custody factors -- Preferences.

[~~(1) If a married couple having one or more minor children are separated, or the married couple's marriage is declared void or dissolved, the court shall enter, and has continuing jurisdiction to modify, an order of custody and parent-time.~~]

(1) In a proceeding between parents in which the custody and parent-time of a minor child is at issue, the court shall consider the best interests of the minor child.

(2) The court shall determine whether an order for custody or parent-time is in the best interests of the minor child by a preponderance of the evidence.

~~(2)~~ [~~In determining any form of custody and parent-time under Subsection (1), the court shall consider the best interest of the child and may consider among other factors the court finds relevant, the following~~]In determining the form of custody or parent-time that is in the best interests of the minor child, the court may consider the following factors for each parent:

(a) evidence of domestic violence, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, or emotional abuse, involving the minor child, the parent, or a household member of the parent;

(b) the parent's demonstrated understanding of, responsiveness to, and ability to meet the developmental needs of the minor child, including the minor child's:

(i) physical needs;

(ii) emotional needs;

(iii) educational needs;

(iv) medical needs; and

(v) any special needs;

(c) the parent's capacity and willingness to function as a parent, including:

(i) parenting skills;

(ii) co-parenting skills, including:

(A) ability to appropriately communicate with the other parent;

(B) ability to encourage the sharing of love and affection; and

(C) willingness to allow frequent and continuous contact between the minor child and the other parent, except that, if the court determines that the parent is acting to protect the minor child from domestic violence, neglect, or abuse, the parent's protective actions may be taken into consideration; and

(iii) ability to provide personal care rather than surrogate care;

(d) [~~in accordance with Subsection (10),~~]the past conduct and demonstrated moral character of the parent as described in Subsection (8);

(e) the emotional stability of the parent;

(f) the parent's inability to function as a parent because of drug abuse, excessive drinking, or other causes;

(g) whether the parent has intentionally exposed the minor child to pornography or [~~material harmful to minors, as "material" and "harmful to minors" are~~]material that is harmful to minors, as those terms are defined in Section 76-10-1201;

(h) the parent's reasons for having relinquished custody or parent-time in the past;

(i) duration and depth of desire for custody or parent-time;

(j) the parent's religious compatibility with the minor child;

(k) the parent's financial responsibility;

(l) the minor child's interaction and relationship with step-parents, extended family members of other individuals who may significantly affect the minor child's best interests;

(m) who has been the primary caretaker of the minor child;

(n) previous parenting arrangements in which the minor child has been happy and well-adjusted in the home, school, and community;

(o) the relative benefit of keeping siblings together;

(p) the stated wishes and concerns of the minor child, taking into consideration the minor child's cognitive ability and emotional maturity;

(q) the relative strength of the minor child's bond with the parent, meaning the depth, quality, and nature of the relationship between the parent and the minor child; and

(r) any other factor the court finds relevant.

[~~(3) There is a rebuttable presumption that joint legal custody, as defined in Section 30-3-10.1, is in the best interest of the child, except in cases when there is:~~]

[~~(a) evidence of domestic violence, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, or emotional abuse involving the child, a parent, or a household member of the parent;~~]

[~~(b) special physical or mental needs of a parent or child, making joint legal custody unreasonable;~~]

[~~(c) physical distance between the residences of the parents, making joint decision making impractical in certain circumstances; or~~]

[~~(d) any other factor the court considers relevant including those listed in this section and Section 30-3-10.2.~~]

[~~(4)(a) The person who desires joint legal custody shall file a proposed parenting plan in accordance with Sections 30-3-10.8 and 30-3-10.9.~~]

[~~(b) A presumption for joint legal custody may be rebutted by a showing by a preponderance of the evidence that it is not in the best interest of the child.~~]

~~(5)~~(a) A minor child may not be required by either party to testify unless the trier of fact determines that extenuating circumstances exist that would necessitate the testimony of the minor child be heard and there is no other reasonable method to present the minor child's testimony.

(b)(i) The court may inquire [~~of the child's~~] and take into consideration the minor child's desires regarding future custody or parent-time schedules, but the expressed desires are not controlling and the court may determine the minor child's custody or parent-time otherwise.

(ii) The desires of a minor child who is 14 years old or older shall be given added weight, but is not the single controlling factor.

(c)(i) If an interview with a minor child is conducted by the court [~~pursuant to~~]in accordance with Subsection ~~(5)(b)~~(b), the interview shall be conducted by the [~~judge~~]court in camera.

(ii) The prior consent of the parties may be obtained but is not necessary if the court finds that an interview with a minor child is the only method to ascertain the minor child's desires regarding custody.

~~(6)~~(a) Except as provided in Subsection ~~(6)(b)~~(b), a court may not discriminate against a parent due to a disability, as defined in Section 57-21-2, in awarding custody or determining whether a substantial change has occurred for the purpose of modifying an award of custody.

(b) The court may not consider the disability of a parent as a factor in awarding custody or modifying an award of custody based on a determination of a substantial change in circumstances, unless the court makes specific findings that:

(i) the disability significantly or substantially inhibits the parent's ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the minor child at issue; and

(ii) the parent with a disability lacks sufficient human, monetary, or other resources available to supplement the parent's ability to provide for the physical and emotional needs of the minor child at issue.

(c) Nothing in this section may be construed to apply to adoption proceedings under Title 78B, Chapter 6, Part 1, Utah Adoption Act.

~~(7)~~ This section does not establish:

(a) a preference for either parent solely because of the gender of the parent[.]; or

~~(8)~~ [~~This section establishes neither a preference nor a presumption~~]a preference for or against joint physical custody or sole physical custody, but allows the court and the family the widest discretion to choose a parenting plan that is in the best interest of the minor child.

~~(9)~~ When an issue before the court involves custodial responsibility in the event of a deployment of [~~one or both parents who are service members~~]a parent who is a service member and the service member has not yet been notified of deployment, the court shall resolve the issue based on the standards in Sections 78B-20-306 through 78B-20-309.

~~(10)~~ In considering the past conduct and demonstrated moral standards of each party under Subsection ~~(2)(d)~~(d) or any other factor a court finds relevant, the court may not:

(a) consider or treat a parent's lawful possession or use of cannabis in a medicinal dosage form, a cannabis product in a medicinal dosage form, or a medical cannabis device, in accordance with Title 4, Chapter 41a, Cannabis Production Establishments and Pharmacies, Title 26B, Chapter 4, Part 2, Cannabinoid Research and Medical Cannabis, or Subsection 58-37-3.7(2) or (3) any differently than the court would consider or treat the lawful possession or use of any prescribed controlled substance; or

(b) discriminate against a parent because of the parent's status as a:

(i) cannabis production establishment agent, as that term is defined in Section 4-41a-102;

(ii) medical cannabis pharmacy agent, as that term is defined in Section 26B-4-201;

(iii) medical cannabis courier agent, as that term is defined in Section 26B-4-201; or

(iv) medical cannabis cardholder in accordance with Title 26B, Chapter 4, Part 2, Cannabinoid Research and Medical Cannabis.

(9)(a) The court shall consider evidence of domestic violence if evidence of domestic violence is presented.

(b) The court shall consider as primary, the safety and well-being of the minor child and the parent who experiences domestic violence.

(c) A court shall consider an order issued by a court in accordance with Title 78B, Chapter 7, Part 6, Cohabitant Abuse Protective Orders, as evidence of real harm or substantiated potential harm to the minor child.

(d) If a parent relocates because of an act of domestic violence or family violence by the other parent, the court shall make specific findings and orders with regards to the application of Section 81-9-209.

(10) Absent a showing by a preponderance of evidence of real harm or substantiated potential harm to the minor child:

(a) it is in the best interest of the minor child to have frequent, meaningful, and continuing access to each parent following separation or divorce;

(b) each parent is entitled to and responsible for frequent, meaningful, and continuing access with the parent's minor child consistent with the minor child's best interests; and

(c) it is in the best interest of the minor child to have both parents actively involved in parenting the minor child.

Section 181. Section 81-9-205, which is renumbered from Section 30-3-10.2 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~30-3-10.2.~~ 81-9-205. Presumption of joint legal custody -- Joint custody factors -- Order for joint custody.

[~~(1) The court may order joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both if one or both parents have filed a parenting plan in accordance with Section 30-3-10.8 and the court determines that joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both is in the best interest of the child.~~]

[~~(2) In determining whether the best interest of a child will be served by ordering joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both, the court shall consider the custody factors in Section 30-3-10 and the following factors:~~]

(1) The court may order joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both joint legal custody and joint physical custody if:

(a) one or both parents have filed a parenting plan as described in Section 81-9-203; and

(b) the court determines that, by a preponderance of the evidence, joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both joint legal custody and joint physical custody is in the best interest of the minor child in accordance with Subsection (5) and Section 81-9-204.

(2)(a) There is a rebuttable presumption that joint legal custody is in the best interest of the minor child, except in cases when there is:

(i) evidence of domestic violence, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, or emotional abuse involving the minor child, a parent, or a household member of the parent;

(ii) special physical or mental needs of a parent or minor child, making joint legal custody unreasonable;

(iii) physical distance between the residences of the parents, making joint decision making impractical in certain circumstances; or

(iv) any other factor the court considers relevant, including the factors described in Subsection (5) and Section 81-9-204.

(b) A presumption for joint legal custody may be rebutted by showing by a preponderance of the evidence that it is not in the best interest of the minor child.

(3)(a) Joint legal custody does not affect the physical custody of the minor child except as specified in the order of joint legal custody.

(b) Joint legal custody is not based on awarding equal or nearly equal periods of physical custody of and access to the minor child to each of the parents because the best interest of the minor child often requires that a primary physical residence for the minor child be designated.

(c) In ordering joint legal custody, the court:

(i) may include an award of exclusive authority by the court to one parent to make specific decisions regarding the minor child; and

(ii) is not prohibited from specifying one parent as the primary caretaker and one home as the primary residence of the minor child.

(4)(a) Joint physical custody may result in equal or nearly equal periods of physical custody of and access to the minor child by each of the parents to meet the best interest of the minor child.

(b) Joint physical custody may require that a physical residence for the minor child be designated.

(c) In ordering joint physical custody, the court is not prohibited from specifying one parent as the primary caretaker and one home as the primary residence of the minor child.

(5) In addition to the factors described in Section 81-9-204, the court shall consider the following factors in determining whether joint legal custody, joint physical custody, or both joint legal custody and joint physical custody, is in the best interest of the minor child:

(a) whether the physical, psychological, and emotional needs and development of the minor child will benefit from joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both joint legal custody and joint physical custody;

(b) the ability of the parents to give first priority to the welfare of the minor child and reach shared decisions in the minor child's best interest;

(c) co-parenting skills, including:

(i) ability to appropriately communicate with the other parent;

(ii) ability to encourage the sharing of love and affection; and

(iii) willingness to allow frequent and continuous contact between the minor child and the other parent, except that, if the court determines that the parent is acting to protect the minor child from domestic violence, neglect, or abuse, the parent's protective actions may be taken into consideration; [~~and~~]

(d) whether both parents participated in raising the minor child before the divorce;

(e) the geographical proximity of the homes of the parents;

(f) the preference of the minor child if the minor child is of sufficient age and capacity to reason so as to form an intelligent preference as to joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both joint legal custody and joint physical custody;

(g) the maturity of the parents and their willingness and ability to protect the minor child from conflict that may arise between the parents;

(h) the past and present ability of the parents to cooperate with each other and make decisions jointly; and

(i) any other factor the court finds relevant.

[~~(3) The determination of the best interest of the child shall be by a preponderance of the evidence.~~]

~~(4)~~ The court shall inform both parties that an order for joint physical custody may preclude eligibility for cash assistance provided under Title 35A, Chapter 3, Employment Support Act.

(7) An order of joint legal custody or joint physical custody shall provide terms the court determines appropriate, which may include specifying:

(a) the county of residence of the minor child, until altered by further order of the court, or the custodian who has the sole legal right to determine the residence of the minor child;

(b) that the parents shall exchange information concerning the health, education, and welfare of the minor child, and where possible, confer before making decisions concerning any of these areas;

(c) the rights and duties of each parent regarding the minor child's present and future physical care, support, and education;

(d) provisions to minimize disruption of the minor child's attendance at school and other activities, the minor child's daily routine, and the minor child's association with friends; and

(e) as necessary, the remaining parental rights, privileges, duties, and powers to be exercised by the parents solely, concurrently, or jointly.

(8) An order of joint legal custody or joint physical custody shall require the parenting plan contain a dispute resolution procedure that the parties agree to use:

(a) in accordance with Subsection 81-9-203(10); and

(b) before seeking enforcement or modification of the terms and conditions of the order of joint legal custody or joint physical custody through litigation, except in emergency situations requiring ex parte orders to protect the minor child.

(9) The court shall, where possible, include in the order the terms of the parenting plan provided in accordance with Section 81-9-203.

(10) Any parental rights not specifically addressed by the court order may be exercised by the parent having physical custody of the minor child the majority of the time.

(11) The appointment of joint legal or physical custodians does not impair or limit the authority of the court to order support of the child, as defined in Section 81-6-101, including payments by one custodian to the other.

(12) An order of joint legal custody, in itself, is not grounds for modifying a support order.

~~(5)~~ The court may order that when possible the parties attempt to settle future disputes by a dispute resolution method before seeking enforcement or modification of the terms and conditions of the order of joint legal custody or joint physical custody through litigation, except in emergency situations requiring ex parte orders to protect the minor child.

Section 182. Section 81-9-206, which is renumbered from Section 30-3-34 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~30-3-34~~. 81-9-206. Determination of parent-time schedule -- Parent-time factors.

(1) If the parties are unable to agree on a parent-time schedule, the court may:

(a) establish a parent-time schedule; or

(b) order a parent-time schedule described in [~~Section 30-3-35, 30-3-35.1, 30-3-35.2, or 30-3-35.5~~]Part 3, Parent-time Schedules.

(2) [~~The advisory guidelines as provided in Section 30-3-33 and the parent-time schedule as provided in Sections 30-3-35 and 30-3-35.5 shall be considered~~]There is a presumption that the advisory guidelines described in Section 81-9-202 and the parent-time schedules described in Part 3, Parent-time Schedules, are the minimum parent-time to which the noncustodial parent and the minor child [~~shall be~~]are entitled.

(3) A court may consider the following when ordering a parent-time schedule:

(a) whether parent-time would endanger the minor child's physical health or mental health, or significantly impair the minor child's emotional development;

(b) evidence of domestic violence, neglect, physical abuse, sexual abuse, or emotional abuse, involving the minor child, a parent, or a household member of the parent as described in Subsection (4) and Section 81-9-204;

(c) the distance between the residency of the minor child and the noncustodial parent;

(d) a credible allegation of child abuse has been made;

(e) the lack of demonstrated parenting skills without safeguards to ensure the minor child's well-being during parent-time;

(f) the financial inability of the noncustodial parent to provide adequate food and shelter for the minor child during periods of parent-time;

(g) the preference of the minor child if the court determines the minor child is of sufficient maturity;

(h) the incarceration of the noncustodial parent in a county jail, secure youth corrections facility, or an adult corrections facility;

(i) shared interests between the minor child and the noncustodial parent;

(j) the involvement or lack of involvement of the noncustodial parent in the school, community, religious, or other related activities of the minor child;

(k) the availability of the noncustodial parent to care for the minor child when the custodial parent is unavailable to do so because of work or other circumstances;

(l) a substantial and chronic pattern of missing, canceling, or denying regularly scheduled parent-time;

(m) the minimal duration of and lack of significant bonding in the parents' relationship before the conception of the minor child;

(n) the parent-time schedule of siblings;

(o) the lack of reasonable alternatives to the needs of a nursing minor child; and

(p) any other criteria the court determines relevant to the best interests of the minor child.

(4) The court shall enter the reasons underlying the court's order for parent-time that:

(a) incorporates a parent-time schedule [~~provided in Section 30-3-35 or 30-3-35.5~~]described in Section 81-9-302 or 81-9-304; or

(b) provides more or less parent-time than a parent-time schedule [~~provided in Section 30-3-35 or 30-3-35.5~~]described in Section 81-9-302 or 81-9-304.

(5) A court may not order a parent-time schedule unless the court determines by a preponderance of the evidence that the parent-time schedule is in the best interest of the minor child.

(6) Once the parent-time schedule has been established, the parties may not alter the parent-time schedule except by mutual consent of the parties or a court order.

(7)(a) If the court orders parent-time and a protective order or stalking injunction is still in place, the court shall consider whether to order the parents to conduct parent-time pick-up and transfer through a third party.

(b) The parent who is the stated victim in the protective order or stalking injunction may submit to the court, and the court shall consider, the name of a person considered suitable to act as the third party.

(c) If the court orders the parents to conduct parent-time through a third party, the parenting plan shall specify the time, day, place, manner, and the third party to be used to implement the exchange.

(8) If there is a protective order, stalking injunction, or the court finds that a parent has committed domestic violence, the court shall:

(a) consider the impact of domestic violence in awarding parent-time; and

(b) make specific findings regarding the award of parent-time.

(9) Upon a specific finding by the court of the need for peace officer enforcement, the court may include a provision in an order for parent-time that authorizes a peace officer to enforce the order for parent-time.

(10) When parent-time has not taken place for an extended period of time and the minor child lacks an appropriate bond with the noncustodial parent, both parents shall consider the possible adverse effects upon the minor child and gradually reintroduce an appropriate parent-time plan for the noncustodial parent.

Section 183. Section 81-9-207, which is renumbered from Section 30-3-34.5 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~30-3-34.5.~~ 81-9-207. Supervised parent-time.

[~~(1) Considering the fundamental liberty interests of parents and children, it is the policy of this state that divorcing parents have unrestricted and unsupervised access to their children. When necessary to protect a child and no less restrictive means is reasonably available however, a court may order supervised parent-time if the court finds evidence that the child would be subject to physical or emotional harm or child abuse, as described in Sections 76-5-109, 76-5-109.2, 76-5-109.3, and 76-5-114, from the noncustodial parent if left unsupervised with the noncustodial parent.~~]

(1) If it is necessary to protect a minor child and there is no less restrictive means reasonably available, a court may order supervised parent-time if the court finds evidence that the minor child would be subject to physical or emotional harm or child abuse, as described in Sections 76-5-109, 76-5-109.2, 76-5-109.3, and 76-5-114, from the noncustodial parent if left unsupervised with the noncustodial parent.

(2)(a) A court that orders supervised parent-time shall give preference to persons suggested by the parties to supervise, including relatives.

(b) If the court finds that the persons suggested by the parties are willing to supervise, and are capable of protecting the [~~children~~]minor child from physical or emotional harm, or child abuse, the court shall authorize the persons to supervise parent-time.

~~(3)~~ If the court is unable to authorize any persons to supervise parent-time[~~ pursuant to Subsection (2)~~], the court may require that the noncustodial parent seek the services of a professional individual or agency to exercise their supervised parent-time.

~~(4)~~ At the time supervised parent-time is imposed, the court shall consider:

(a) whether the cost of professional or agency services is likely to prevent the noncustodial parent from exercising parent-time; and

(b) whether the requirement for supervised parent-time should expire after a set period of time.

~~(5)~~(a) The court shall, in its order for supervised parent-time, provide specific goals and expectations for the noncustodial parent to accomplish before unsupervised parent-time may be granted.

(b) The court shall schedule one or more follow-up hearings to revisit the issue of supervised parent-time.

~~(6)~~ A noncustodial parent may, at any time, petition the court to modify the order for supervised parent-time if the noncustodial parent can demonstrate that the specific goals and expectations set by the court [~~in Subsection (5)~~]as described in Subsection (4) have been accomplished.

Section 184. Section 81-9-208, which is renumbered from Section 30-3-10.4 is renumbered and amended to read:

~~30-3-10.4~~. 81-9-208. Modification or termination of a custody or parent-time order -- Noncompliance with a parent-time order.

(1) The court has continuing jurisdiction to make subsequent changes to modify:

(a) custody of a minor child if there is a showing of a substantial and material change in circumstances since the entry of the order; and

(b) parent-time for a minor child if there is a showing that there is a change in circumstances since the entry of the order.

~~(1)~~ On the petition of one or both of the parents, or the joint legal or physical custodians if they are not the parents, the court may, after a hearing, modify or terminate an order that established joint legal custody or joint physical custody if:

(a) the verified petition or accompanying affidavit initially alleges that admissible evidence will show that there has been a substantial and material change in the circumstances of the minor child or one or both parents or joint legal or physical custodians [~~have materially and substantially changed~~]since the entry of the order to be modified;

(b) a modification of the terms and conditions of the order would be an improvement for and in the best interest of the minor child; and

(c)(i) both parents have complied in good faith with the dispute resolution procedure in accordance with Subsection [~~30-3-10.3(7)~~]81-9-205(8); or

(ii) if no dispute resolution procedure is contained in the order that established joint legal custody or joint physical custody, the court orders the parents to participate in a dispute resolution procedure in accordance with Subsection [~~30-3-10.2(5)~~]81-9-205(13) unless the parents certify that, in good faith, they have used a dispute resolution procedure to resolve their dispute.

~~(2)~~(a) In determining whether the best interest of a minor child will be served by either modifying or terminating the joint legal custody or joint physical custody order, the court shall, in addition to other factors the court considers relevant, consider the factors [~~outlined in Section 30-3-10 and Subsection 30-3-10.2(2)~~]described in Sections 81-9-204 and 81-9-205.

(b) A court order modifying or terminating an existing joint legal custody or joint physical custody order shall contain written findings that:

(i) a [~~material and substantial~~]substantial and material change of circumstance has occurred; and

(ii) a modification of the terms and conditions of the order would be an improvement for and in the best interest of the minor child.

(c) The court shall give substantial weight to the existing joint legal custody or joint physical custody order when the minor child is thriving, happy, and well-adjusted.

~~(3)~~ The court shall, in every case regarding a petition for termination of a joint legal custody or joint physical custody order, consider reasonable alternatives to preserve the existing order in accordance with [~~Subsection 30-3-10(3)~~]Section 81-9-204.

(5) The court may modify the terms and conditions of the existing order in accordance with [~~Subsection 30-3-10(8)~~]this chapter and may order the parents to file a parenting plan in accordance with [~~this chapter~~]Section 81-9-203.

~~(4)~~ A parent requesting a modification from sole custody to joint legal custody or joint physical custody or both, or any other type of shared parenting arrangement, shall file and serve a proposed parenting plan with the petition to modify in accordance with Section [~~30-3-10.8~~]81-9-203.

[~~(5) If the court finds that an action under this section is filed or answered frivolously and in a manner designed to harass the other party, the court shall assess attorney fees as costs against the offending party.~~]

~~(6)~~ If an issue before the court involves custodial responsibility in the event of deployment of one or both parents who are service members, and the service member has not yet been notified of deployment, the court shall resolve the issue based on the standards in Sections 78B-20-306 through 78B-20-309.

(8) If the court finds that an action to modify custody or parent-time is filed or answered frivolously and, in a manner, designed to harass the other party, the court shall assess attorney fees as costs against the offending party.

(9) If a petition to modify custody or parent-time provisions of a court order is made and denied, the court shall order the petitioner to pay the reasonable attorney fees expended by the prevailing party in that action if the court determines that the petition was without merit and not asserted or defended against in good faith.

(10) If a motion or petition alleges noncompliance with a parent-time order by a parent, or a visitation order by a grandparent or other member of the immediate family where a visitation or parent-time right has been previously granted by the court, the court:

(a) may award to the prevailing party:

(i) actual attorney fees incurred;

(ii) the costs incurred by the prevailing party because of the other party's failure to provide or exercise court-ordered visitation or parent-time, including:

(A) court costs;

(B) child care expenses;

(C) transportation expenses actually incurred;

(D) lost wages, if ascertainable; or

~~(13)~~ If a holiday falls on a regularly scheduled school day, the parent exercising parent-time shall be responsible for the minor child's attendance at school for that school day.

~~(14)~~ If there is more than one minor child and the minor children's school schedules vary for purpose of a holiday, at the option of the parent exercising the holiday or the parent's half of the holiday, the minor children may remain together for the holiday period beginning the first evening that all minor children's schools are dismissed for the holiday and ending the evening before any minor child returns to school.

~~(15)~~ If there is a minor child five to 18 years old and a minor child under five years old and both minor children are the [~~natural or adopted~~]children of the parties, the parents and the court should consider an upward deviation for parent-time with all the minor children so that parent-time is uniform based on a schedule under this section.

(8) The court may order a custody evaluation to be conducted in any [~~action brought under this chapter~~]proceeding brought under this section.

(9) The court may enter temporary orders in [~~an action brought under this chapter~~]a proceeding brought under this section pending the entry of final orders.

(10) Except as provided in Subsection (11), a court may not grant custody of a minor child under this section to an individual:

(b) who, before a custody order is issued, is convicted, pleads guilty, or pleads no contest to a felony or attempted felony involving conduct that constitutes any of the following:

~~(a)~~ child abuse, as described in Sections 76-5-109, 76-5-109.2, 76-5-109.3, and 76-5-114;

~~(k)~~ aggravated sexual exploitation of a minor, as described in Section 76-5b-201.1; or

~~(l)~~ an offense in another state that, if committed in this state, would constitute an offense described in this Subsection (10).

(11)(a) As used in this Subsection (11), "disqualifying offense" means an offense listed in Subsection (10) that prevents a court from granting custody except as provided in this Subsection (11).

(b) An individual described in Subsection (10) may only be considered for custody of a minor child if the following criteria are met by clear and convincing evidence:

(i) the individual is a relative, as defined in Section 80-3-102, of the minor child;

(ii) at least 10 years have elapsed from the day on which the individual is successfully released from prison, jail, parole, or probation related to a disqualifying offense;

(iii) during the 10 years before the day on which the individual files a petition with the court seeking custody the individual has not been convicted, plead guilty, or plead no contest to an offense greater than an infraction or traffic violation that would likely impact the health, safety, or well-being of the minor child;

(iv) the individual can provide evidence of successful treatment or rehabilitation directly related to the disqualifying offense;

(v) the court determines that the risk related to the disqualifying offense is unlikely to cause harm, as defined in Section 80-1-102, or potential harm to the minor child currently or at any time in the future when considering all of the following:

(A) the minor child's age;

(B) the minor child's gender;

(C) the minor child's development;

(D) the nature and seriousness of the disqualifying offense;

(E) the preferences of a minor child who is 12 years old or older;

(G) any other relevant information;

(vi) the individual can provide evidence of the following:

(A) the relationship with the minor child is of long duration;

(B) that an emotional bond exists with the minor child; and

(C) that custody by the individual who has committed the disqualifying offense ensures the best interests of the minor child are met;

(vii)(A) there is no other responsible relative known to the court who has or likely could develop an emotional bond with the minor child and does not have a disqualifying offense; or

(B) if there is a responsible relative known to the court that does not have a disqualifying offense, Subsection (11)(d) applies; and

(viii) that the continuation of the relationship between the individual with the disqualifying offense and the minor child could not be sufficiently maintained through any type of visitation if custody were given to the relative with no disqualifying offense described in Subsection (11)(d).

(c) The individual with the disqualifying offense bears the burden of proof regarding why placement with that individual is in the best interest of the minor child over another responsible relative or equally situated individual who does not have a disqualifying offense.

(d) If, as provided in Subsection (11)(b)(vii)(B), there is a responsible relative known to the court who does not have a disqualifying offense:

(i) preference for custody is given to a relative who does not have a disqualifying offense; and

(ii) before the court may place custody with the individual who has the disqualifying offense over another responsible, willing, and able relative:

(A) an impartial custody evaluation shall be completed; and

(B) a guardian ad litem shall be assigned.

(12) Subsections (10) and (11) apply to a case pending on March 25, 2017, for which a final decision on custody has not been made and to a case filed on or after March 25, 2017.

(b) A court shall presume that a parent's decision in regard to grandparent visitation is in the best interest of the parent's minor child.

(3) A court may find the presumption in Subsection (2)(b) rebutted if the grandparent, by clear and convincing evidence, establishes that:

(a) the grandparent has filled the role of custodian or caregiver to the grandchild that:

(i) is in a manner akin to a parent; and

(ii) the loss of the relationship between the grandparent and the grandchild would cause substantial harm to the grandchild; or

(b) both parents are unfit or incompetent in a manner that causes potential harm to the grandchild.

(4)(a) If the court finds the presumption in Subsection (2)(b) is rebutted, the court may consider whether grandparent visitation is in the best interest of the grandchild.

(b) If the court considers whether grandparent visitation is in the best interest of the child, the court shall take into account the totality of the circumstances, including:

(i) the reasonableness of the parent's decision to deny grandparent visitation;

(ii) the age of the grandchild;

(iii) the death or unavailability of a parent; and

(iv) if the grandchild is 14 years old or older, the grandchild's desires regarding visitation after the court inquires of the grandchild.

(5) If the court finds the presumption in Subsection (2)(b) is rebutted and grandparent visitation is in the best interest of the grandchild, the court may issue an order for grandparent visitation.

(6) [~~The~~]Notwithstanding Section 81-9-404, the adoption of a grandchild by the grandchild's stepparent does not diminish or alter visitation rights previously ordered under this section.

(7) On the petition of a grandparent or the legal custodian of a grandchild the court may, after a hearing, modify an order regarding grandparent visitation if:

(a) the circumstances of the grandchild, the grandparent, or the custodian have materially and substantially changed since the entry of the order to be modified, or the order has become unworkable or inappropriate under existing circumstances; and

(b) the court determines that a modification is appropriate based upon the factors set forth in Subsections (3) and (4).

(8) A grandparent may petition the court to remedy a parent's wrongful noncompliance with a visitation order.
