(b) If the reason for vacating the award is that the award was procured by corruption, fraud, or other undue means or there was evident partiality, corruption, or misconduct by the arbitrator, the rehearing shall be before another arbitrator.

(7) If the court under this section denies a motion to vacate or amend an award, the court may confirm the award under Section 81-15-115 unless a motion is pending under Section 81-15-117.

(2) The immunity provided by this section supplements any immunity under a law of this state other than this chapter.

(3) An arbitrator's failure to make a disclosure required by Section 81-15-108 does not cause the arbitrator to lose immunity under this section.

(4) (a) An arbitrator is not competent to testify, and may not be required to produce records, in a judicial, administrative, or similar proceeding about a statement, conduct, decision, or ruling occurring during an arbitration, to the same extent as a judge of a court of this state acting in a judicial capacity.

(b) This Subsection (4) does not apply:

(i) to the extent disclosure is necessary to determine a claim by the arbitrator or arbitration organization against a party to the arbitration; or

(ii) to a hearing on a motion under Subsection 81-15-118(1)(a) or (b) to vacate an award if there is prima facie evidence that a ground for vacating the award exists.

(5) If a person commences a civil action against an arbitrator arising from the services of the arbitrator or seeks to compel the arbitrator to testify or produce records in violation of Subsection (4) and the court determines that the arbitrator is immune from civil liability or is not competent to testify or required to produce the records, the court shall award the arbitrator reasonable attorney fees, costs, and reasonable expenses of litigation.

Section 25. Section 81-15-125 is enacted to read:

(1) Notice to a person who may represent and bind another person under this part has the same effect as if notice were given directly to the other person.

(2) The consent of a person who may represent and bind another person under this part is binding on the person represented unless the person represented objects to the representation before the consent would otherwise have become effective.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in [~~Sections 75-7-411 and 75B-1-302~~]Section 75-7-411 and Title 75B, Chapter 1, Part 3, Asset Protection Trust, a person who under this part may represent a settlor who lacks capacity may receive notice and give a binding consent on the settlor's behalf.

To the extent a beneficiary's interest is not protected by a spendthrift provision or [~~Section 75B-1-302~~]Title 75B, Chapter 1, Part 3, Asset Protection Trust, the court may authorize a creditor or assignee of the beneficiary to reach the beneficiary's interest by attachment of present or future distributions to or for the benefit of the beneficiary or other means. The court may limit the award to relief as is appropriate under the circumstances.

Section 15. Section 75-7-505 is amended to read:

If a revocable trust has more than one settlor, the amount the creditor or assignee of a particular settlor may reach may not exceed the settlor's interest in the portion of the trust attributable to that settlor's contribution.

(2) (a) With respect to an irrevocable trust other than an irrevocable trust that meets the requirements of [~~Section 75B-1-302~~]Title 75B, Chapter 1, Part 3, Asset Protection Trust, a creditor or assignee of the settlor may reach the maximum amount that can be distributed to or for the settlor's benefit.

(c) Notwithstanding Subsections (2)(a) and (b), a creditor of a settlor may not satisfy the creditor's claim from an irrevocable trust solely because the trustee may make a discretionary distribution reimbursing the settlor for income tax liability of the settlor attributable to the income of the irrevocable trust, when the distribution is:

(i) subject to the discretion of a trustee who is not the settlor;

(ii) subject to the consent of an advisor who is not the settlor; or

(iii) at the direction of an advisor who is not the settlor.

(3) After the death of a settlor, and subject to the settlor's right to direct the source from which liabilities will be paid, the property of a trust that was revocable at the settlor's death, but not property received by the trust as a result of the death of the settlor which is otherwise exempt from the claims of the settlor's creditors, is subject to claims of the settlor's creditors, costs of administration of the settlor's estate, the expenses of the settlor's funeral and disposal of remains, and statutory allowances to a surviving spouse and children to the extent the settlor's probate estate is inadequate to satisfy those claims, costs, expenses, and allowances.

(B) any other beneficial interest of the settlor;

(iv) require that the trustee notify in writing every person who has a domestic support obligation against the settlor at least 30 days before paying and delivering any distribution to the settlor as a beneficiary; and

(v) require that the notice described in Subsection (2)(a)(iv) state the date that the distribution will be paid and delivered and the amount of the distribution.

(b) The provision described in Subsection (2)(a)(iii) is considered a restriction on the transfer of the settlor's beneficial interest in the asset protection trust that is enforceable under applicable nonbankruptcy law within the meaning of 11 U.S.C. Sec. 541(c)(2).

(c) (i) If the trustee does not send the notice required under Subsections (2)(a)(iv) and (v), the court may authorize any person with a domestic support obligation against the settlor to whom notice was not sent to attach the distribution or future distributions.

(ii) Notwithstanding Subsection (2)(c)(i), the person described in Subsection (2)(c)(i) may not:

(A) satisfy a claim or liability in either law or equity out of the settlor's transfer to the trust or the settlor's beneficial interest in the trust; or

(d) This Subsection (2) does not require particular language to be used in the trust instrument if the meaning of the trust provision otherwise complies with this section.

(3) The settlor may not have the ability under the trust instrument, without the consent of a person who has a substantial beneficial interest in the trust and whose interest would be adversely affected by the exercise of the power held by the settlor:

(a) to revoke, amend, or terminate all or any part of the trust; or

(b) to withdraw any property from the trust, except that the settlor, without the approval or consent of any person, may be given the power under the trust instrument to substitute assets of substantially equivalent value.

(c) If a transfer of assets to an asset protection trust does not comply with the requirement described in Subsection (5)(a)(ii) or (6), the property transferred to the trust that does not satisfy the requirement may not have the benefit of the protections described in Subsection 75B-1-302(1).

(ii) The failure or inability of a peace officer to arrange for any specific chemical test is not a defense to taking a test requested by a peace officer, and it is not a defense in any criminal, civil, or administrative proceeding resulting from a person's refusal to submit to the requested test or tests.

(2) (a) If the person has been placed under arrest and has then been requested by a peace officer to submit to any one or more of the chemical tests provided in Subsection (1) and refuses to submit to any chemical test, the person shall be warned by the peace officer requesting the test that a refusal to submit to the test is admissible in civil or criminal proceedings as provided under Subsection (8).

(c) The additional test shall be subsequent to the test or tests administered at the direction of a peace officer.

(7) For the purpose of determining whether to submit to a chemical test or tests, the person to be tested does not have the right to consult an attorney or have an attorney, physician, or other person present as a condition for the taking of any test.

(9) The results of any test taken under this section or the refusal to be tested shall be reported to the Federal Aviation Administration by the peace officer requesting the test.
