Cash Benefit

The Family Employment Program (FEP), also known as Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF)

Includes single-parent families with children (FEP); two-parent families with children (FEP-TP); and relatives caring for children who do not live with their parents (specified relative).

The Family Employment Program offers financial assistance and help finding employment to low-income parents who are supporting children living in their home.

Eligibility and Requirements:
Assistance is available for the following people, based on income and assets:

- single parents with children under 18 living with them;
- pregnant women in their third trimester;
- two-parent families with children under 18 living with them; and
- children being cared for by relatives who are not the parents (under certain circumstances).

Income requirements vary based on household size. For example, gross income per month of:

- $843 or less for a household of two;

...
• $1,050 or less for a household of three; and
• $1,230 or less for a household of four.

Every participating parent works with an employment counselor to write an employment plan with activities that will assist the parent in reaching the goal of supporting the family without assistance.

A parent must perform the activities in the employment plan for 30 hours per week (or 20 hours a week if the parent has a child under age 6).

Amounts and Restrictions:
Cash assistance is based on household size. For example:
- $399 per month for a household of two;
- $498 per month for a household of three; and
- $583 per month for a household of four.

The maximum lifetime duration of the benefit is 36 months.

Benefits may not be accessed in an establishment that primarily sells intoxicating liquor, allows gambling, or provides adult-oriented entertainment.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, 30,285 individuals and 12,035 households were assisted by FEP. FEP benefits are funded by federal TANF grants.

For FY 2012, state and federal spending was $76.5 million, of which 92% was federal funding. The $5.9 million state-funded portion was federally required maintenance of effort (state’s share of administrative and operating costs).

General Assistance (GA) Program
For individuals who are unable to work

The GA program provides time-limited services to single adults and married couples who have no dependent children residing with them 50% or more of the time.

Eligibility:
Assistance is based on income, assets, and disability.

General Assistance customers must:
- be at least 18 years old or no longer being supported by parents;
• provide "Verification of Impairment" that prevents basic work activities in any occupation;
• have a gross monthly income of $608 or less for a one-person household;
• have a gross monthly income of $843 or less for a two-person household; and
• have $2,000 or less in household assets.

Amounts/Restrictions:
• $287 per month cash assistance for one individual;
• $398 per month for two-person household; and
• some participants required to apply for long-term disability benefits.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For 2012, 2,308 individuals and 2,293 households were assisted by the GA program.

General Assistance is a state-funded program. For 2012, the state budget for GA was $5.8 million.

Refugee Program

The Refugee program provides cash and medical assistance to:
• newly arriving refugees;
• new asylees; and
• certified victims of human trafficking.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is need based and may only be used within the first 8 months of:
• arrival;
• being granted asylum; or
• certification as a trafficking victim.

Must not be receiving other federal public cash assistance, such as FEP or FEP-TP.

Must meet with an employment counselor to develop an employment plan and participate in the plan activities, which may include job skills training, working, English language training, or applying for Social Security Disability (if disabled and appropriate).

Amounts/Restrictions:
Amount varies, depending on circumstances. Maximum 8-month benefit, then may apply for other state benefits.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, 394 individuals and 207 households were assisted by the Refugee Program.

For FY 2012, state and federal spending was $7.7 million, of which 98% was federal funding.

Food Benefit

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) (formerly food stamps)

 הרשות ובו צוותי ה马来 ב-65% (65% - 67%)

Provides assistance to buy food.

SNAP benefits are provided on an electronic card that is used like a debit card to buy food at grocery stores.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is income and asset based.

For example, gross monthly family income for a family of four must be less than $2,498 ($29,976 annually), and the family must have less than $2,000 in assets.

SNAP benefits are available to legal immigrants and to all children under 18. However, most legal immigrants must wait five years before getting SNAP benefits.

There is no wait for children under 18, for some elderly and disabled, or for refugees.

Amounts/Restrictions:
Monthly benefits range from $16 to $668 monthly for a family of four.

The allotment is based on the number of people in the household and the amount of money the household earns each month.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, 404,378 individuals and 168,767 households were assisted by SNAP.

For FY 2012, state and federal spending was $455 million, of which 95% was federal funding. The $23 million state-funded portion was a state-paid 50% share of administrative and operating costs.

Medical Benefit

DWS determines eligibility for the following medical benefits but does not administer the programs.

Medicaid Eligibility

Provides individual medical coverage. Basic Medicaid benefits include doctor visits, prescriptions, hospital, and dental coverage. Not all benefits are available to every Medicaid customer.

The Medicaid health plan chosen has a list of doctors who will accept the Medicaid card.

Benefits are administered by the Department of Health.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is available for the following people, based on income and assets (and may include disability):

- children (age 0-18);
- pregnant women;
- families who lack one parent's support because of death, absence, inability to work, or the primary wage earner's unemployment/underemployment;
- women with breast/cervical cancer;
- individuals with disabilities;
- individuals age 65 and older;
- individuals in a nursing home; and
- refugees.

Amounts/Restrictions:
Depending on the individual's situation, the individual may have to pay a small copayment for certain services, such as prescriptions.

Certain Medicaid programs allow the individual to pay cash or use medical bills to "spend down" the difference between the individual's income and the program's income limit, so the individual may still receive a Medicaid card.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, state and federal spending for eligibility services was $35 million, of which 48% was federal funding. The $18 million state-funded portion includes a state-paid 50% share of administrative and operating costs plus $2 million in credit for third-party contracted administrative and operating costs.

Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP)
Provides medical coverage for children who do not have access to affordable health insurance.

Based on the individual's plan, CHIP covers doctor visits; prescriptions; immunizations; dental, hospital, mental health services; etc.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is income-based and is available for working families who need medical coverage for their children and do not have access to other health insurance.

The CHIP health plan the individual chooses provides a list of doctors who accept CHIP.

Amounts/Restrictions:
With some exceptions, the individual pays a quarterly premium of either $30 or $75 (depending on income) and a small copayment for certain services.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, state and federal spending was $3.3 million, of which 73% was federal funding.

Notes/References:
- http://health.utah.gov/umb/
- http://health.utah.gov/umb/
Primary Care Network (PCN)

Health coverage for adults who do not have access to affordable health insurance.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is income-based and is available for adults age 19-64 who are not eligible for Medicaid and who cannot get other health insurance.

An applicant must apply during an open enrollment period as advertised by the Department of Health and DWS.

Amounts/Restrictions:
The annual enrollment fee is $50 or less (depending on income or if the individual receives GA), and there are small copayments for certain services.

PCN covers visits to a primary doctor, four prescriptions a month, dental exams, (teeth cleaning, fillings and x rays), eye exams, etc.

Scope and Cost of Program:
This program is funded under Medicaid.

http://health.utah.gov/umb/

Utah's Premium Partnership (UPP)

Assistance for working families who want to sign up for their employer’s health insurance, but need assistance in paying the monthly premium.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is income-based.

A person must apply for UPP:
- during the employer’s open enrollment period;
- before the date that health insurance coverage begins; and
- as soon as the person begins a new job.

If a person qualifies and if employer’s health insurance meets the basic UPP guidelines, a person may switch from PCN to UPP.

Amounts/Restrictions:
UPP will reimburse up to $150 a month per adult and up to $120 a month per child to assist in covering the premium for employer-provided health insurance.

Must pay the monthly premium before reimbursement and must pay for any copayments the insurance requires.

Scope and Cost of Program:
This program is funded under Medicaid and CHIP.

Unemployment/Job Training Benefit

Unemployment Insurance (UI)

Provides a temporary living allowance while an unemployed worker looks for new employment.

Eligibility:
Eligibility is not need-based.

Qualified individuals who are unemployed through no fault of their own may receive benefits if the individual earned at least $3,300 in the previous year and is:
- looking for full time work;
- in approved training; or
- awaiting recall to employment.

The individual must be able and willing to work.

Once approved, the applicant must file an on-line weekly claim showing at least four new job contacts a week and provide information regarding whether the applicant worked in the last week or went to school. A recipient must report part-time or temporary work as part of the weekly claim. The benefit ends when full-time employment is secured or the benefit is exhausted.

Amounts/Restrictions:
Benefit ranges from $26 to $479 per week (average is $336), based on wages earned during the first four of the last five completed quarters or the last four completed quarters.

The state pays up to 26 weeks maximum.

The federal government provides for Emergency Unemployment Compensation (EUC) up to an additional 14 weeks after state benefits are exhausted.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, 108,930 individuals were assisted by UI.

For FY 2012, state and federal spending was $473 million, of which 93% was state funding from the Utah Unemployment Trust Fund. The $33.5 million in federal funding was for administrative and operating costs.

FY 2012 Funding

Notes/References:
The Social Security Act of 1935 authorizes a federal-state UI system.

Section 35A-4-102 of the Utah Code authorizes the establishment of UI in Utah.

Sections 35A-4-201 through 313 provide the framework of determining what employers and workers are subject to coverage, the contribution rates assessed, and collection provisions.

WorkKeys/ KeyTrain

WorkKeys is an assessment system which measures "real-world" foundational skills that are critical to job success. These skills are valuable for all occupations and education levels.

WorkKeys assessments evaluate skills that are identified by employers as required for all jobs in the economy.

KeyTrain assists DWS staff in analyzing the current foundational skill level of a job seeker and offer employment strategies based on the job seeker’s needs and current labor market information.

Eligibility:
All DWS job-seeking customers are eligible to participate in WorkKeys and KeyTrain.

Scope and Cost of Program:
This program is funded under the Employment Services Program.

Employment Support Child Care

Provides child care for parents who work or who are doing the approved activities for financial assistance, including attending school.

Parents may choose their child-care provider from licensed child-care centers/providers, residential certificate providers, license-exempt centers (such as after-school programs), and approved relatives.

Child-care providers receive reimbursement for serving low-income families and can draw on networks of training and technical resources to assist them in providing high-quality child-care services.

Parents in low-income families with children up to age 12 are eligible.

Eligibility:
Parents in eligible low-income families with children up to age 12.

Amounts/Restrictions:
Parents receive a voucher to pay or partially pay for child care.

Quality grants are available for licensed or legally licensed exempt child-care providers and afterschool providers. Grants are awarded based on a competitive procurement process.

Scope and Cost of Program:
For FY 2012, 42,424 individuals and 13,277 households were assisted.

---

For FY 2012, state and federal spending was $60.5 million, of which 90% was federal funding.

The $6.3 million state-funded portion was a state-paid match and includes “maintenance of effort” money used for administrative and operating costs.

Foreign Labor Certification (FLC)

The FLC program is designed to meet the labor force needs of state employers through the use of foreign laborers when U.S. workers cannot be found to fill positions.

A secondary purpose is to ensure that all federal rules and regulations governing the recruitment of foreign laborers are met.

Eligibility:
The FLC works directly with Utah employers to process recruitment applications for three types of worker programs:
- The H-2A temporary agricultural program allows agricultural employers who anticipate a shortage of domestic workers to bring non-immigrant foreign workers to the U.S. to perform agricultural labor or services of a temporary or seasonal nature.

- The H-2B non-immigrant program permits employers to hire foreign workers to come temporarily to the U.S. and perform temporary non-agricultural services or labor on a one-time, seasonal, peak-load, or intermittent basis.
- The Permanent Labor Certification Program permits employers to hire foreign workers to come to the U.S. and perform agriculture, non-agricultural, or labor services on a permanent basis.

Scope and Cost of Program:
This program is funded under the Employment Services Program.

Amounts/Restrictions:
The current grant amount is about $100,000 and is distributed annually to state workforce agencies derived from a funding formula based on the number of job order requests cleared for placement and the number of resume referrals sent to the employers in the state.
