TOTAL CONCEALED FIREARM PERMITS, UTAH VS. NON-UTAH

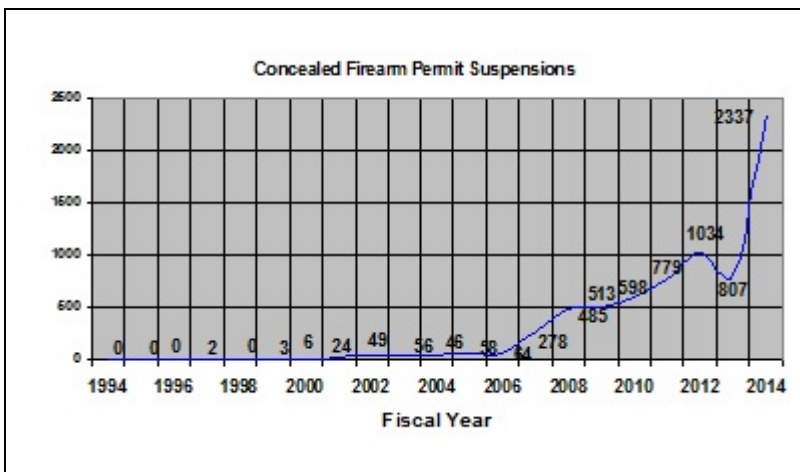

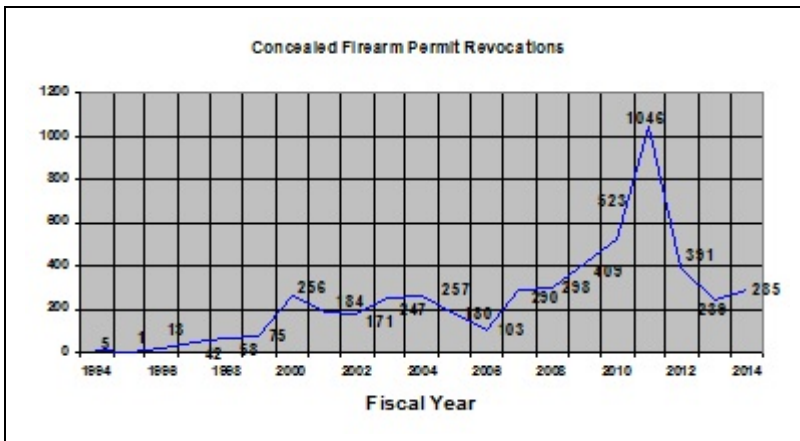

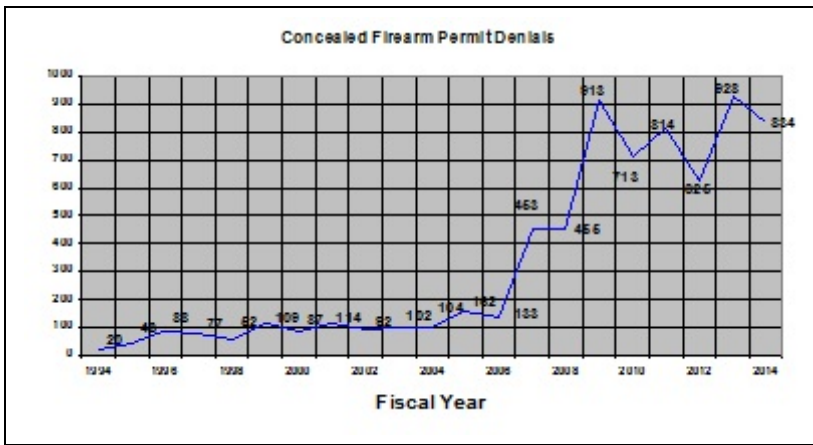

The total number of valid permits counted from 1994 to the end of June 30, 2014, shows that the majority of applications have come from non-Utah Residents 379,047 compared to Utah residents 197,590. Three additional reporting periods were researched to be able to reflect any overall changes and also show any ongoing shifts between the two groups. During the fiscal year 2012, 22.5% (15,826) of permit applications were submitted from Utah applicants and 77.5% (54,515) are from non-Utahns. In FY 2013, 30% (40,130) of permit applications were submitted from Utah applicants and 70% (93,636) are from non-Utahns. In FY 2014, 20% (20,328) of permit applications were submitted from Utah applicants and 80% (81,312) are from non-Utahns.

Research of total concealed firearm instructors was conducted on fiscal years 2007 – 2014. Current research for fiscal year 2014 reflects 660 certified instructors in Utah and 1662 instructors outside of Utah. All periods studied reflect a continual growth trend for both Utah and “Out of State” instructors.

TOTAL REVOCATIONS, SUSPENSIONS, AND DENIALS BY FISCAL YEAR

Revocations, suspensions, and denials:

Along with the statutory duties to issue concealed firearm permits within a prescribed time frame, an additional responsibility exists which is to supervise the program and ensure lawful, qualified possession of the permit as set forth in state statute. (Utah Code. Ann. § 53-5-704)

Recently there has been a decrease in the number of revocation which is due to an interpretation from legal counsel on the definition of a revocation. In the past revocation and suspension were used almost interchangeably. There was not a difference administratively when BCI revoked and permit versus suspending a permit. After legal counsel defined for BCI what a revocation and suspension was, BCI starting treating them different. A suspension is a temporary deprivation, for a specified period of time, of a permit. A revocation is a permanent deprivation of a permit which does not preclude the individual from reapplying at a later date. Now when a permit holder commits a crime that is only a temporary deprivation BCI suspends their permit. But, for example, if a person is convicted of a felony crime or a crime of domestic violence, their permit is revoked since these are permanent disqualifiers for a Utah concealed firearm permit.

Conclusion :

The total monthly average of concealed firearm permits for the fiscal year 2014 was 8,470. During the 2014 fiscal year the number of applications coming into BCI decreased from the record number of applications that came in fiscal year 2013, which was 133,766.
