Community Renewable Energy Goals

Objective:

- Several Utah communities want to pursue 100-percent net renewable energy goals.

Rocky Mountain Power Key Principles:

- Community or customer decisions must not shift costs to others.
- All customers must pay their fair share of existing facilities.
- Cost of new generation sources must be borne by those choosing them.
- Even if a local government chooses to participate, individual customers must have an opportunity to decide whether or not to stay on current rates.
- Strong oversight by the Utah Public Service Commission must be maintained to ensure these impacts are isolated to the participating communities.
