

University of Utah Reading Clinic

FY 2020-21 USBE Priority Request: $325,000 Ongoing

Created by the Utah Legislature in 1999, the UURC has provided services in 39 Utah School Districts, 55 Charter Schools, 5 Youth-in-Custody Facilities and 6 Utah Schools for the Deaf & Blind.

UURC BACKGROUND:

The University of Utah Reading Clinic was created in 1999 by the Utah Legislature to:

- Serve as a “safety net” to “catch” struggling readers who have fallen behind
- Offer assessments and interventions for struggling readers statewide
- Provide first-rate, research-based, nationally-acclaimed professional development and resources for educators statewide
- Serve as a resource for parents both in the Clinic and on the UURC website

The University of Utah Reading Clinic is based in Murray, Salt Lake County, to provide the best access for parents and students. A “Distance Technology Lab” was added in 2016 in response to growing demand in rural areas and to increase UURC’s outreach across Utah in both urban and rural areas. The response to this Lab has been overwhelming.

Approximately 7,500 Utah students are served each year at UURC’s base Clinic, in schools or via distance technology. In addition, approximately 900 Utah educators receive UURC professional development each year either on-site, in schools or through distance technology.

NEEDS:

UURC services are in extremely high demand in both urban and rural areas statewide, especially for students who fit a dyslexic profile. The current number of students on the Clinic waiting list for basic and intensive intervention services is over 1,000. Also, teachers and administrators from schools and districts, including highly-impacted Title 1 schools and several charter schools, compose an equally compelling waiting list for UURC professional development. UURC services have become well-known and highly-regarded. Demand consistently exceeds capacity as students, parents, educators, schools and districts continue to make requests.

RESULTS/BENEFITS:

Research suggests that most struggling readers make little to no growth without intervention. Since 1999, UURC students consistently average a gain of one year’s growth in 45 sessions. This includes ELL students and those with learning disabilities.
