

Summary of Estate Planning Recodification

Overview of S.B. 79 | 2024 General Session

Why recodify?

- Recodification allows the Legislature to cleanup and restructure certain areas of the code that need clarification and reorganization. The Utah Code constantly changes, requiring the Legislature to coordinate unchanged sections with changed sections to ensure that the Utah Code remains coherent and usable.
- The Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel recommended a recodification of estate planning statutes due to concerns over statutes placed in Title 75, Utah Uniform Probate Code, that are not part of the Uniform Probate Code.
- A recodification would allow staff to clarify the Legislature’s objectives in regard to estate planning issues and would also assist judges, lawyers, agencies, and the public in understanding what statutes are part of the Uniform Probate Code in Utah.

What will the proposed recodification do?

The recodification will move estate planning statutes out of Title 22, Fiduciaries and Trusts, Title 25, Fraud, and Title 75, Utah Uniform Probate Code, to new titles over a period of two legislative sessions.
