RULES OF THE SENATE.

NINTH SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF UTAH.

1. A majority of the Senate shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, or for less time than one day, and may compel the attendance of absent members.

2. The Senate shall keep a Journal of its proceedings, which shall be published at the close of the session. At the request of three members the ayes and nays shall be taken on any question and entered on the Journal.

3. The Senate may punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected expel a member for cause; and the reason for such expulsion shall be entered upon the Journal, with the aye and nay vote of the members.

4. The Senate, during its session, may punish by imprisonment any person, not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the same, by any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not at any time exceed twenty-four hours, unless the person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous behavior.

5. The sessions of the Senate, except those while it is sitting in executive session, shall be public; and it shall not without the consent of the House of Representatives adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which it may be holding session.

6. The enacting clause of every law shall be: "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Utah," and no bill or joint resolution shall be passed, except with the consent of a majority of all the Senators elected. On the final passage of all bills the vote shall be by ayes and nays, upon each bill separately, and shall be entered upon the Journal; and no law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only; but the act as revised, or section as amended, shall be re-enacted and published at length.

7. Except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of laws, no bill shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title.

8. The President, in the presence of the Senate, shall sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature, after their titles have been publicly read immediately before signing, and the fact of such signing shall be entered upon the Journal.

9. Every bill shall be read three times, but the first and second reading may be on the same day. On the final passage of a bill the President shall immediately put the question, "Shall the title of the bill be the title of the act?"

10. The President, or in his absence, the President pro tempore, or, in the absence of both, any Senator called to the chair by the Senate, shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned; shall immediately call the members to order, and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the Journal of the preceding day to be read.

11. The presiding officer shall preserve decorum and order, and may speak to points of order, in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member; on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate.

12. The presiding officer shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

13. Questions shall be put in the following form, viz: "As many as are in favor of (as the case may be) say aye," and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say no." If the President doubt the result of a vote, or a division be called for, the Senate shall divide; those in the affirmative shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative.

14. The President shall have the general direction of the Senate Chamber; he shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, and such substitute shall be vested with all the powers of the President during the time he shall act as such.

15. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby or gallery, the President shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

16. The President shall assign to the officers and employees of the Senate their respective duties, stations, and shall have general supervision over them.

16a. The Sergeant-at-arms shall have supervision over the Assistant Sergeant-at-arms, door keepers, messengers, watchmen and janitor, and he shall preserve order in the lobby, guard the floor from intruders; and he shall report each day to the President the absence or late arrival of any employees of the Senate.

16b. The Secretary shall have supervision over all employees not under the supervision of the Sergeant-at-arms, except the engrossing clerk or clerks. There shall be a record kept of the attendance of all employees, by an employee or employees designated by the President. Any employee absenting himself or herself without the consent of the President shall not be paid for the day or days of such absence; and there shall be a record kept of all leave of absence granted.

17. When any member is about to speak or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat and address himself to "Mr. President," and shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personalities.

18. When any member, in speaking (or otherwise) transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall sit down, unless permitted to explain; and the Senate, if appealed to shall decide on the case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the Senate.

19. If two or more members rise at once, the President shall name the member who is first to speak.

19a. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down by the Secretary; but no member shall be held to answer or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate, if any member has spoken in debate, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exception to them shall have been taken.

20. No member shall speak more than twice to the same question, nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken, without the consent of the Senate.

21. While the President is putting a question, or addressing the Senate, no member shall walk out of or across the room; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking shall pass between him and the chair.

22. Every member who shall be in the Senate when a question is put shall give his vote, unless the Senate shall excuse him.

23. No member shall be permitted to vote on any question, unless within the bar before the vote is announced.

24. No motion shall be entertained and debated until the same shall be seconded.

25. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the President, or, being in writing, shall be handed to the Secretary, and read aloud before debate.

26. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the President or any member desires it.

27. When the ayes and nays shall be taken on any question, no member shall be permitted to vote or to change his vote after the decision is announced from the chair, unless by the two-thirds vote of Senators present and voting.

28. After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed in the possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn at any time by the unanimous consent of the Senate, before decision.

29. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be received, but:

To fix the time to which to adjourn.
To adjourn.
To call the Senate.
To lay on the table.
To postpone indefinitely.
To postpone to a day certain.
To commit or to amend.

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged.

29a. A motion for adjournment shall always be in order, except when the roll is being called, and be decided, as well as the motion to lay on the table, without debate.

30. No motion to postpone to a day certain or indefinitely, or to commit, being decided in the negative, shall again be allowed on the same day.

31. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried, shall be deemed equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

32. When a blank is to be filled and different sums or times are proposed, the questions shall first be put on the largets sum and the longest time.

33. No person shall be permitted to smoke in the Senate Chamber, or to give any sign of approbation or disapprobation while the Senate is in session.

OFFICERS DUTIES.

34. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a journal, in which he shall seasonably record the motions, resolutions, rules, and decisions of the Senate, and to do and perform all such other acts appertaining to his office as may be required of him by the Senate or its presiding officer.

35. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-arms to attend the Senate during its sittings, to execute the command of the Senate from time to time, together with all such process, issued by order of the Senate, or any committee thereof, which shall be signed by the President.

42. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question; but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition.

43. When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for member of the majority to move for a reconsideration thereof; or give notice that he will make such motion within the time prescribed by the rules, for which time he shall control the motion. 49. No amendment, by way of rider, shall be received to any bill on its third reading.

50. The rules of parliamentary practice, comprised in Robert's Rules of Order, shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate.

51. A motion to commit, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments and debate on the main question, and a motion to postpone indefinitely or to a day certain until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments on the main question.

52. Upon a motion to reconsider the vote on the final passage of any bill, a majority of all the members elected shall be required to reconsider the same.

STATE OF UTAH,
EXECUTIVE OFFICE.

Salt Lake City, Jan. 10, 1911.

To the Legislature—In compliance with the Constitution, I have the honor to submit this, the ninth biennial message of the Governor of the State of Utah, covering a statement of the condition of the various State departments, together with recommendations for needed legislation:

ELECTION OF SENATOR.

March 4th, next, a vacancy will occur in Utah's representation in the United States Senate. Upon you falls the honor of filling this vacancy in the manner prescribed by the laws of the United States—a duty which should be discharged with a high regard for the importance of the office you are filling.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

In my opinion, one of the first and most important duties that devolves upon you is the passage of a local option bill with provision for the proper regulation and control of the liquor traffic, as pledged in the platform upon which you were elected. We must honestly and promptly discharge the obligation placed upon us by the people of this State and in such manner as shall be satisfactory to them.

FINANCE AND REVENUE.

It is not my purpose to occupy your time with extended suggestions as to the revision of our revenue laws; but since revenue and finance will be two of the most important matters that will concern you during your deliberations, I cannot refrain from making brief mention of them.

Our State government is maintained by taxation. We are securing our revenues through a system of taxation so antiquated in its provisions as to be ludicrous, if it were not for the fact that its modern application is a very serous matter that affects every individual and every interest of the State. Ancient, unjust, unfair, inadequate and impractical are the words that occur to me as best describing our present revenue laws. In its report, recently submitted, the State Board of Equalization has discussed the revenue laws, particularly as they relate to public utilities and has made a number of recommendations through the adoption of which it feels our present system will be greatly improved. To accomplish the end desired, it suggests the appointment of a commission clothed with power to revise the revenue laws. Personally, I believe immediate preliminary work may be done by the Legislature in this important direction without involvng the State in the expenses incidental to the creation of a commission as suggested. I am convinced that we must begin with the Constitution of the State. Before our revenue laws can safely be revised, there are a number of amendments to the Constitution that are necessary.

For instance: Section 2 of Article 13 of the Constitution provides for the taxation of all property not exempt under the laws of the United States or this Constitution. The section should be amended to read: "Property not exempt under the laws of the United States or of this State," thus giving to the Legislature the power to pass laws in harmony with modern requirements relating to taxation. Section 4 of Article 13 provides for the taxation of mining claims at the price paid the government therefor. In another part of my message, I have made reference to this provision. It is unjust, unfair and productive of an inequality in assessment that renders the absolute repeal thereof a necessity.

Should the assessed valuation of the property of the State be increased to its actual cash value, Section 4 of Article 14 should be amended so as to restrict the debt creating power of county, city, town and school boards.

In the matter of the inequality of the present distribution of public utility assessments, permit me to invite your attention to the following: Taking the four counties in the State receiving above $2,000,000.00 each from the railroads alone, the combined apportionment for the years 1909-10 is as follows:

Box Elder County	$8,515,318.00
Salt Lake County	8,097,675.00
Utah County	5,625,342.00
Weber County	4,394,950.00

From these figures, you will observe that Box Elder County receives more revenue from railroads than Salt Lake County and nearly double that of Weber County. The injustice of this becomes the more apparent when you take into consideration the fact that Box Elder County has no terminal facilities, no large depots or freight houses, no double track, and no extensive car storage yards, side tracks or switches. It derives its railroad taxation revenue almost exclusively from straight, single track mileage, which requires neither fire nor police protection.

The apparent unchecked power of a County Assessor in fixing a basis of valuation in his particular county has resulted in a woeful lack of uniformity throughout the State in assessed valuations of read estate improvements and personal property to meet the current expenses. It is obvious that the "holding down" of values of real estate, personal property, and improvements for assessment purposes in counties whose revenues from the public utilities are sufficient to permit of this, works an injustice upon the State which, by the way, is meeting one-half the salares of all county assessors and county treasurers of the State.

It requires no revenue commission to point out these inequalities in our revenue laws, and they can be largely righted without the assistance of such a commission. I invite your careful consideration of these matters. The correction of these faults in our present system, and the fixing of a uniform valuation basis for real estate, personal property, and improvements for purposes of assessment will result in a reduction of the levy. It cannot result otherwise.

I believe that the reduction of county, city and town levies is an imperative necessity and that laws should be passed further restricting such levies. The average man of means who looks toward Utah as a field for investment is shocked when he learns the rate of levy and is unfavorably impressed when he ascertains the assessed valuation.

In connection with taxation matters, I desire, at this time, to recommend to the Legislature the adoption of an amendment providing for the semi-annual collection of taxes in the State of Utah. I have given this matter much thought and am impressed with the fact that such a provision will be welcomed by the people of the State generally, as it will tend to lessen the hardship oftimes involved in raising the entire tax at one time. In addition to this, the semi-annual payment of taxes will obviate the necessity of the State Board of Loan Commissioners borrowing money to meet the current expenses of State administration as is usually the case from May of each year, to the time taxes are remitted to the State treasury and become available.

From the report of the State Auditor, you will observe that the estimated revenue to be derived from all sources for credit of the general fund, for the calendar years 1911 and 1912 is placed at $2,511,163.12. The estimated amount to be expended therefrom as per the estimates furnished by the heads of State Departments, boards of control of the respective State institutions together with estimates otherwise supplied by the State Auditor is $2,991,541.25, showing an excess of estimated requirements over estimated revenues of $480,378.13. In the estimates of requirements, no allowance has been made for expenditures for improvements of highways and bridges, except the $54,000.00 carried by special act and provided to be expended under the supervision of the State Road Commission.

Included in the estimated expenditures required for the coming biennial period are the following deficits as authorized by the State Board of Examiners in the years 1909 and 1910 for the payment of which, I recommend appropriations:

State Mental Hospital—
Purchase of additional farming land.....	$6,000.00
State Board of Land Commissioners—
Land Board expenses	9,000.00
State Auditor—
Contingent expenses	600.00
Commissioner of Insurance—
Contingent expenses	950.00
State Board of Corrections—
Gratuities	900.00
State Engineer—
Irrigation contingent	3,600.00
Engineers contingent	400.00
Attorney General—
Contingent expenses	500.00
State Coal Mine Inspector—
Contingent expenses	100.00
Total	$22,050.00

It is apparent, therefore, that judgment must be exercised in the appropriations which are made for the coming two years. I have endeavored to enumerate the appropriations asked by the various departments of State with comment as to the necessities therefor. The Legislature should understand that the business of the State in all the departments of State is increasing rapidly. I venture the assertion that, taken as a whole, the cost of administration of State government in Utah is as low, if not lower, than the cost of administration of any other State in the Union when the legitimate and necessary demands upon the treasury are considered and the efficiency of administration is taken into consideration.

I cannot too strongly urge the necessity of impartiality in making provision for the various institutions and departments of State. No department or institution should be singled out for favorable or unfavorable treatment at your hands. You must consider the State as a whole and provide according to necessities and the funds at your disposal.

EDUCATION.

What Utah has done and is doing for education is a story in whose telling every citizen of the State takes just pride. The present efficiency and high standard of our educational system involves the history of individual and community sacrifice. Our property owners, and especially those of the larger centers, have carried a burden of taxation that the people of very few sections of the United States have been called upon to meet. In addition to the revenues from special school levies, the general funds of the State have been expended in large measure in the interests of education, and today we are confronted with the astounding fact that the public school funds derived from all sources and expended for elementary, special and higher education in Utah during 1909 and 1910 reached the total (enormous in view of our population and limited public revenue), of $6,818,771.19. In the interest of the common schools, $5,961,739.22 were expended. The higher institutions, the State School for the Deaf and Blind and the Industrial School expended $857,-031.97. From an annual expenditure in 1896 of $900,- 955.35 for the support of the common schools, with a school population of 79,393, the expenditures have steadily increased until in 1910, with a school population of 104,876, there were expended $3,182,874.29. The valuation of common school property has grown during this same period from $1,386,851.45 to $6,144,065.52. During the last biennium sixty-nine public school buildings have been erected or remodeled in the State at a cost of $1,167,-109.91, and the measure passed by the last Legislature relating to ventilation, heating and lighting of public school buildings has been rigidly enforced. Seventeen thousand dollars per school day were expended in 1910 for elementary education. We are frequently reminded that in proportion to its adult population, Utah has an exceptionally large school population. Even so, our per capita expenditure ranks among the highest in the Union. As to the efficiency of our teaching corps and courses of study: When the question of inter-state certification of teachers and standardization of courses was discussed by State Superintendents a year ago, it was the proud distinction of Utah's State Superintendent to say, "when the standard is made as high as that in Utah, Utah will be glad to join in the movement."

I desire to call your attention to and request your consideration of certain practices that have crept into the handling of district school funds, which should be corrected by legislative enactment. In certain school districts, the State apportionment has not been expended for the payment of teachers, and these funds are accumulating with the result that unexpended balances amounting to $47,916.97 were on hand in various districts last year. I do not believe that this should be permitted. These funds should not be hoarded, but should be returned to the State and made to do what they were collected to do—support and improve the school system of the State. A school district which conducts but seven months of school per year and is able to operate without a special levy for district school purposes, but once in two or three years, and even then hoards its apportionment from the general State revenue, while the property owners of other school districts of the State are paying taxation under heavy special school tax levies, is a school district which should be required by law to extend the school year or turn the surplus of its State apportionment back to the school fund for reapportionment to be expended in the cause of general education in the State.

It is a source of great satisfaction that the Constitutional amendment permitting the extension of State aid to high school was adopted at the recent general election.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH.

It is gratifying to note that the past two years have recorded substantial headway in bringing the University of Utah more nearly to the college standard. The placing of our highest institution of learning on a par with the great universities of America is an aim toward which the educators of Utah have worked unceasingly. It is an aim that is being furthered by an alumni that is steadily increasing in numbers.

I am satisfied there is not a member of the present Legislature whose loyal support will not go out to this institution. The future of the University is filled with bright promise. We have a good University and its sphere of usefulness is being extended, while its standard is being raised. The State and the people of the State have done nobly by the institution, and it is a source of satisfaction to hear noted educators outspoken and unstinted in their praise of the University as a whole and its splendid mechanical equipment in particular.

The president and board of regents are insistent in their demands for additional building facilities, and are emphatic in their statement that the institution has reached a stage in its progress where it cannot advance without more class rooms and additional rooms for laboratory, museum, library and research purposes. Research work, particularly, is a function of the modern university which should not be curtailed by lack of room.

I believe that the actual present and immediate future needs of the institution should have your most careful and thoughtful consideration, and be provided for in a substantial manner, keeping in mind, of course, that the University is but one of the many growing state institutions. A plan is outlined by the board of regents for providing a central building. I commend this plan to your most careful consideration. The measure passed by the Legislature of 1909 to accomplish this purpose was held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the State. With its report to the Governor, the board submits a bill which it is believed is constitutional.

The board of regents submits the following estimate of funds required in the conduct of the University for the ensuing academic years:

School of Arts and Sciences, School of Mines, Normal School and Medical School....	$384,798.50
For buildings	329,500.00
Branch Normal at Cedar City.....	41,419.00
Total	$755,717.50

The Branch Normal School at Cedar City is in a flourishing condition and the report of the school indicates that the legislative appropriations are being judiciously expended. A strong effort is being put forth to increase the attendance and I am pleased to suggest that the needs of this school be given your careful consideration.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The Agricultural College at Logan is in splendid condition. During recent years the attendance has increased to a remarkable extent, showing a gain of approximately 480 students in the past four years, during which time the number of college students has more than doubled. Every county of the State is represented in the student body. That students graduating from this institution are taking hold of the practical affairs of life with confidence and that they are meeting with success in their chosen fields of endeavor is the strongest kind of evidence that the college is succeeding in its work.

For the purposes of administration the work of the college is divided into seven schools. A complete review of the work of each school accompanies the report of the board of trustees.

The extension work, which virtually takes the college into every county of the State is one of the most important branches of the Agricultural College, and I earnestly join in the recommendation that the appropriation of this department be increased to $7,500.00 per annum. I cannot too strongly urge the encouragement of this department.

That the college may be permitted to give a degree in irrigation engineering, I recommend an amendment to the law which specifies the courses which the college may conduct. Irrigation engineering is so closely related to the work of the college that a course should be provided, leading to a degree in this branch of engineering.

An effort is being made by the representative of Utah to secure the passage of a bill in Congress that will enable the college to acquire 3,840 acres of mountain land at $1.25 per acre for use in sheep and cattle experiments An appropriation is asked to purchase this land. Provision should be made whereby the college may obtain the land if the necessary measure passes Congress.

The appropriation for co-operative work with the government in irrigation and drainage investigaton and the reclamation of alkali lands should be continued, as should also the appropriation for the continuation of the experimental work now being done in behalf of dry farming in the State.

The destruction wrought by the alfalfa-weevil is so generaly known that I need not at this time go into the matter extensively. I heartily join in the recommendation of the college authorities that a suitable appropriation be made for investigations having in view the control of the alfalfa weevil pest.

A modification in the law relating to the southern Utah Experimental Station should be made, making it possible to do a small amount of work outside the limits of the farm proper. I recommend the establishment of an experiment station on the Uintah Reservation, somewhere near Myton or Roosevelt, to instruct settlers in irrigation and crops adapted to that region. An experiment station should also be established in Kane county to instruct the people in arid farming.

Legislative provision should be made, placing the Panguitch Indian school, recently acquired from the Government, under the control and direction of the Agricultural College.

For the biennium July 1, 1911 to June 30, 1913, the board estimates the following amounts will be needed:

Maintenance and repairs	$157,000.00
Gynasium building	50,000.00
Greenhouse	2,500.00
Total	$209,500.00

STATE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND THE BLIND.

The report of the superintendent and Board of Trustees of the State School for the Deaf and the Blind for the years 1909 and 1910 indicates a substantial increase in attendance, progress and advancement in all departments of the institution with marked improvement in the character of the educational work being conducted.

Total enrollment for the school year 1909 and 1910 was 107, of whom 84 were deaf and 23 blind. The present enrollment is 115—91 deaf and 24 blind. Investigation by the superintendent of the institution as to the present employment of graduates of the school for the deaf reveals the fact that a large percentage of the male graduates are farmers. The board is therefore asking for an appropriation of $6,000.00 for barn and livestock. Aside from the practical experience students will gain in the handling and care of livestock the advantages accruing to the school through the possession of its own dairy herd are obvious. An option has been secured on one hundred and thirty acres of land adjoining the institution grounds; the price of this land, with the necessary fencing is $7,750.00. I am strongly in favor of adding to the acreage holdings of State institutions, but the character of the land, its fertility and accompanying water rights should be the prime considerations governing its acquisition. The need of improved hospital facilities is apparent, and $7,000.00 is asked for the building and furnishing of a cottage hospital. In this connection, I cannot too strongly urge the necessity of the adoption of quarantine regulations in State institutions, against localities of the State in which contagious diseases are prevalent. This rule has been applied with success at the State Prison and the Mental Hospital, and it should be rigidly followed in the other institutions of the State, especially those caring for children. It is the intention of the board, if the appropriation above mentioned is granted, to convert the present hospital quarters into a domestic science room for the girls' department in which accommodations are an urgent necessity.

Increased salaries afforded in surrounding states, has lost to the institution some of its best teachers, and it is the hope of the Board that these valuable assistants may be returned to the institution.

The estimates of the Board for the biennium beginning July 1, 1911, are as follows:

General maintenance	$80,000.00
Renewals and improvements	5,000.00
Libraries	500.00
Barn and livestock	6,000.00
Greenhouse	1,500.00
Fire escapes	2,750.00
Finishing rooms in annex building	2,000.00
Cottage hospital and furnishings	7,000.00
Land and fencing	7,750.00
Total	$112,500.00

STATE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

I cannot refrain from commending to your especial notice the report of the State Industrial School, as a document that sheds much light and affords excellent practical suggestions on one of the important and grave problems the State is called upon to meet. The suggestions and recommendations of the superintendent, therein contained, are deserving of your careful, individual consideration, in making provision for this instituton. That you will find in the school striking evidences of the operations of a policy such as the superintendent urges, I have no doubt.

In making it possible to more effectively organize this institution along the lines suggested, the legislature can make no mistake. The abolishment of corporal punishment and the gradual elimination of the penal atmosphere, which is being supplanted by a feeling that the institution is educational in its character, are matters of congratulation. For the first time in the history of the institution, it comes before the legislature without a deficit.

Provision for the immediate completion, furnishing and occupancy of the girls' cottage is imperative. The Board of Trustees, in its estimate for the next two years, has included certain items which you will doubtless be compelled to deny. Whatever the legislature does for this institution, in the way of improvement, however, should be done with the understanding that the present central building, with the repairs and alterations that have been made upon it in past years, is unfit for the uses to which it is now put and experience has demonstrated that repairs and alterations to the present structure are a waste of money and afford little improvement. Business judgment dictates that whatever provision is made by you for the State Industrial School be made with a view of investment in improvements that will be substantial and permanent and of such character that additions may be made from time to time as the institution grows.

In the recommendation of the board that appropriations for this institution be hereafter made to cover academic years, running from July 1, to June 30, I do not concur. While I realize that the institution is educational in its character, the appropriations for the school should conform to the general practice followed in providing for other state institutions.

The estimated needs of the institution, as submitted by the board, follow:

General maintenance, exclusive of amounts received from interest and rentals	$75,000.00
Instruction, including manual training and domestic science	27,500.00
Salary and expenses of parole agent and assistant	4,000.00
Ordinary repairs	4,000.00
Alterations and permanent improvements	17,000.00
Library books for both departments	1,000.00
Girls' Cottage, to finish and furnish	17,500.00
Building and equipment of small hospital	10,000.00
Building and equipment of school building, including gymnasium and assembly hall	35,000.00
Cow barn	2,500.00
Piggery	1,000.00
Poultry plant	500.00
Shop building	5,000.00
Refrigerator plant	1,500.00
Superintendent's residence	5,000.00
	$206,500.00

STATE MENTAL HOSPITAL.

In the care and treatment of those whose mental powers have been warped and ravaged by disease, by worry, and by accident, the State has been thoughtful and considerate. The anxiety for the welfare of patients committed to the State Mental Hospital may be dispelled. All that medical science and proven methods of treatment, combined with good common sense, can do for the mentally deficient has been done. Fortunate in retaining the services of a medical superintendent of high professional attainments and sound, practical judgment, the State has been able to conduct the hospital, at Provo, with increasing efficiency and remarkable economy.

Mechanical restraint and seclusion have been practically abolished. Drugs have not been substituted for restraint. Occupation, amusement, and open air exercise, combined with segregation and classification have brought our State Mental Hospital to its present high standard of efficiency.

Twenty acres of land have recently been added, through purchase, to the hospital acreage, and I strongly urge legislative provision for the acquisition of additional land for this instituton. Acreage is and always wll be one of the most important assets of the hospital, and business judgment dictates that it be secured to the institution now at the present comparatively low market values. During the past year, the board has entered into a contract (subject to the approval of the legislature) that will provide permanent and satisfactory arrangements for the disposal of all hospital sewerage.

Steps were taken by the Board of Insanity to secure an adequate and perpetual water supply for the institution. The entering of a protest against the board's filing on certain sources of water supply has finally been taken into the courts for adjudication, and pending a judicial determination of the controversy, the board has been unable to secure to the institution an abundant supply of pure, fresh water.

In his annual reports for the years 1909 and 1910 the superintendent has set forth in detail the general condition and health of patients, the administration of the institution and the needs for the coming biennial period.

Notwithstanding the steady advance in cost of all commodities and institutional supplies, the per capita expense of the State Mental Hospital, figured on the total amount disbursed for all purposes, less repairs and renewals, was maintained at thirty-eight cents per day, the low record mark established during the biennial period 1907-1908. The practice of strictest economy in every department of the institution is alone responsible for this splendid showing.

By an act of the eighth legislature provision was made for the admission of feeble-minded and sane epileptics to this institution who are capable of improvement. It has developed that the law is not reaching the class it was intended to benefit, and many of the cases admitted are purely a custodial class of idiots, imbeciles, and dements, incapable of improvement and requiring almost constant attention. The Board, however, has instituted on a small scale an educational department, in which kindergarten, school and manual training work is being conducted. The success of the department has been so pronounced as to warrant the recommendation that it be made permanent, that its objects be enlarged to include custodial cases, and that sufficient funds be appropriated to cover the necessary needs.

As a member of the Board of Control of the State Mental Hospital, I have concurred in the estimate of funds required during the biennial period ending November 30, 1912, and I recommend that the institution be granted an appropriation of $161,007.50, segregated as follows:

Maintenance for 435 patients at 45 cents per capita daily, for two years	$142,897.50
Improvements and repairs	5,000.00
For purchase of land	15,000.00
Alterations, Wards E, F. G. and H	2,800.00
New floors	1,500.00
New oven and bakery equipment	1,900.00
Hot water boiler and smoke stack	600.00
Farm implements	710.00
Propagating house	600.00

Less interest from State land fund, $10,000.00.

STATE PRISON.

Upon your desks you will find the printed report of the Utah State Prison for the years 1909 and 1910. The report is comprehensive, covering the financial and statistical data relating to the institution in minute detail. The prison is in excellent condition. With the completion of the new cell house, which is a model in sanitary construction and security, the State has made provision for the last of the heavily expensive additions that will be required at this institution for many years to come.

Two more years have passed and nothing has occurred to definitely fix the status of the prison water rights. The cases that have been pending in court are still undetermined, and it will be necessary for the legislature to continue the appropriation made in 1907 or make a new appropriation, general in its terms, that it may be made available under any contingency that might arise by reason of an adverse decision by the courts in the cases now pending.

During the year the board was called upon to meet an unforseen expense occasioned by the destruction of a large portion of the prison dairy herd, found to be infected with tuberculosis. The loss to the herd has been made up through the purchase of Guernsey and Jersey cows.

It is the desire of the Prison Board, the Warden and the Governor to place this institution more nearly on a self-supporting basis, and much inquiry and attention has been devoted to this matter during the past two years. As a means to this end the board is asking for an appropriation to cover the cost of fruit trees which it is designed to cultivate on the high land of the prison reservation.

An appropriation for a sewerage system is also asked. The rapid growth of population and the many new homes being built in the immediate vicinity of the prison demand that the open air trench utilized at present in the disposal of the sewerage be dispensed with, and it is therefore incumbent upon the State to make early provision for the satisfactory disposal of the sewerage.

The needs of the institution have been carefully estimated for the coming biennial period, and I recommend appropriations to the State Prison as follows:

Maintenance for daily average of 325 prisoners at per capita cost of 52½ cents	$124,556.25
Gratuities to discharged prisoners	4,500.00
Improvements, repairs, paints, oils, armory, etc.	5,000.00
New boiler house, boilers and electric lighting plant to be erected outside the prison walls	19,350.00
Sewerage system (estimated)	15,000.00
New barn for live stock	2,500.00

New fence for reservation	1,500.00
Five thousand fruit trees	1,750.00
New milk house	1,500.00
Repairing hospital building and furnishing necessary supplies, surgical instruments, etc.	800.00
Insurance	750.00
Total	$177,206.25

WORKSHOP FOR THE ADULT BLIND.

You will find, in active operation, at the rear of the Lion House, this city, an industrial workshop for the adult blind of the State, furnishing employment to eighteen blind men and women. The shop was established in November of 1909, pursuant to an act of the legislature. It is equipped with machinery and apparatus for the manufacture of brushes and caning of chairs. Generous support and co-operation of institutions and individuals has enabled the commission having this work in charge to provide comfortable accommodations and adequate equipment without exhausting the appropriation made by the legislature. Comparatively few of the adult blind persons of the State have availed themselves of the employment the shop affords.

If continued, I recommend that the workshop for the adult blind be maintained in connection with the State School for the Deaf and Blind and operated under the direction and supervision of the Board of Trustees of that institution.

An appropriation of $6,000.00 will be required to conduct the workshop during the years 1911 and 1912.

UTAH STATE FAIR ASSOCIATION.

Inclement weather occasioned a falling off in attendance at the State Fair of 1909. The heavy expenses connected with the conduct of the fair of that year rendered the prospects for the 1910 exhibition anything but promising. A policy of retrenchment was adopted by the Board; favorable weather conditions prevailed, and with the loyal support of exhibitors and the public generally, there was held in October last one of the most successful exhibits in the history of the Fair Association. That improvements and enlargements at the State Fair grounds are necessities is so patent that I need not urge it. The present facilities are inadequate to meet the growing demands of exhibitors and the comfort of the ever-increasing number of people of the State who visit the fair.

The needs of the Association for the coming two years as presented by the Board of Directors, are itemized as follows:

General expenses and premiums	$30,000.00
Maintenance and grounds	2,500.00
Fire insurance	2,000.00

SECRETARY OF STATE.

The close and intimate associations of the past two years with the Secretary of State, in the transaction of the business of State government, have impressed me with the importance of the functions of this department of State. Upon this official the statutes fix, in large measure, the responsibility of setting in motion the machinery of government. Every branch of the executive department is ultimately dependent on the Secretary of State for its successful administration.

Capably, efficiently and courteously the exacting duties of this office have been discharged. The official transactions of officers, institutions and citizens of the State, alike, have been handled with business-like expedition and judicial impartiality.

During the years 1909 and 1910 the total receipts of this department from all sources was $278,713.72—an increase of $40,295.86 over the preceding biennial period. The showing is especially gratifying in view of the loss of the insurance fees which, under the act of 1909, have been handled through the Department of Insurance.

Amendments to the corporation license tax law, adopted two years ago, have been placed in successful operation, with the result that the charters of all defaulting corporations and all domestic corporations that had retired from business or whose charters had expired by limitation, and all foreign corporations that had withdrawn from the State have been revoked. New, compact and complete corporation records have been installed as a result of these amendments.

I concur in the suggestion of the Secretary of State that "as a matter of justice, and for the purpose of increasing the revenue from this (corporation license tax) source, the present schedule be extended, making the maximum license tax $250.00 instead of $50.00 as under the present law, but not in such manner as to disturb the present graduating scale up to $50.00."

On November 30th, 1908, there were in operation in this state 58 state, 3 private and 4 branch banks. During the biennial period ending November 30, 1910, there have been 15 new banks incorporated; one private bank has incorporated under the laws of this State, and one private bank has been established, so that we now have under the supervision of this department and the State Bank Examiner, 74 incorporated banks, 3 private and 4 branch banks in operation. There have been no failures during the past two years, and while the number of banks has increased more than twenty-five per cent there has been a decided increase in the volume of business transacted by all of the banks, with two or three exceptions, and the general condition of solvency has been very satisfactory. The banks have been examined once in each year, in some cases oftener, and the work of the State Bank Examiner has been thorough and complete.

Utah is yet operating under the banking laws of 1888. In recent years especially the banking business of the State has grown rapidly, and the enactment of a new banking act, containing provisions that will meet the immediate and future requirements of State supervision of banks is a duty that devolves upon you, both in the interest of the public generally and the banking institutions of the State.

I renew my recommendation of 1909 that transactions and records relating to the selection and sale of our public lands be removed from the office of the Secretary of State and confined to the land department of the State. The present system is cumbersome and unbusiness-like in that it involves a duplication of work in handling approved land lists and land patents.

The laxity of our corporation laws renders foreign corporations doing business within the State not only derelict, but oft'times defiant in their compliance with the laws of the State relating to such corporations. A severe penalty should be provided against foreign corporations failing to comply with the provisions of the law.

I recommend the amendment of Chapter 3 of Title 47, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, so as to include the investment of funds set aside for the redemption of the bond issues maturing July 1, 1916, and July 1, 1918.

As custodian of the Great Seal of the State, the Secretary of State suggests the enactment of a law restricting the use of a fac-simile photograph or impression of the seal, and prohibiting its use on advertising matter. This is a recommendation the legislature should adopt.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Competently and faithfully, the duties devolving upon the Attorney General have been discharged during the past two years. The rights of the State have been ably defended and successfully maintained before the courts, while officers charged with the enforcement of the law have found a willing advisor and a safe counsellor at the head of the State's legal department.

I heartily recommend your favorable action on the request which the Attorney General makes for additional legal assistance and a salary readjustment in his department. The ever increasing demands upon his time, in looking after the legal affairs of State, coupled with the duties imposed through membership on various important State boards, renders additional assistance imperative.

Your attention is invited to the recommendation of the Attorney General regarding the inheritance tax law of this State, and his argument and recommendations regarding an amendment to Section 4 of Article 13 of the Constitution, relating to taxation of mines and mining claims at the price paid to the United States Government therefor, as well as his opinion regarding the provision of Chapter 75 Laws of Utah, 1909, providing for a loan to be made by the State Board of Land Commissioners to the State Armory Board in the sum of $85,000.00, in all of which suggestions and recommendations I concur. I also join in his recommendation that the law relating to the assessment and taxation of transitory stock should be fully revised, for the reasons set forth in his report.

Of great interest and importance is the recommendation of the Attorney General, that the legislature delegate power to the State Board of Land Commissioners to lease the lands below the high water mark of Great Salt Lake, which contain valuable deposits of asphaltum. In his opinion, it is clearly within your power to make such delegation and I recommend your favorable action on this suggestion.

STATE AUDITOR.

Complete in every detail, evidencing a thorough understanding of the revenue laws of the State and attesting a business like accounting of the financial transactions of the past two years, is the report of the State Auditor. In your deliberations as touching upon the financial affairs of the State administration, the comprehensive report of the State Auditor will serve you as a ready reference. The tables submitted are extensive and have been so arranged as to give, at a glance, comparative statements of the receipts and disbursements in all departments during the biennial period.

During his term of office, the present State Auditor has labored earnestly for the standardization of the county financial records, he has urged annual conferences between the various county officials of the State with a view to securing a better understanding of the revenue laws and a more uniform system of accounting. His activities have resulted in prompt remittances to the State from the various counties of the general tax revenue, with the result that at the end of no other biennial period since statehood, has the State been in better financial circumstances, as will be seen from his report. A number of recommendations are made by the Auditor, in support of which, he has gone into more or less detail. Important among his recommendations is that suggesting that all tax sale accounts be closed, especially those dating back of 1906.

The State Auditor is, under the law, ex-officio State Sealer of Weights and Measures. Necessary funds and equipment to carry out the intent of the law, should be provided, or the office abolished.

THE BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

The eighth report of the Bureau of Statistics of the State of Utah is by far the most pretentious compilation of facts and data relating to agricultural, manufacturing, mining and financial conditions of the State that has ever been submitted to the legislature. The perusal of this document will emphasize the necessity of the withdrawal of the department as an adjunct of the State Auditor's office and its establishment as an independent department of State. In view of the limited appropriation for the gathering of the facts contained in this report, a remarkable showing has been made. To one connected with any of the departments of State, the necessity for concise, accurate data is daily made apparent. From every corner of the earth come inquiries touching various phases of industrial, political and social life in the State, and the dissemination of information through a duly accredited State channel can but result in a vast amount of good to the State.

That the Bureau of Statistics may be made to include the work that would naturally fall upon a bureau of immigration, labor and statistics is a necessity which I think the legislature can no longer overlook. The difficulties encountered in an endeavor to gather statistics through correspondence are clearly set forth in the report of the bureau and I recommend that the legislature provide sufficient funds to enable this bureau to conduct an aggressive campaign in securing data and furnishing it to all inquirers who may be interested in the State and its resources.

STATE TREASURER.

The report of the State Treasurer shows a balance of the State funds on hand November 30, 1908, amounting to $258,833.07, with a total revenue to the State during 1909 and 1910 of $6,157,126.36 and disbursements during the same period amounting to $5,513,220.00, leaving a balance on hand November 30, 1910, of $902,739.43, in the various funds. The report classifies the balances by funds, shows the receipts and disbursements for the two fiscal years by months, gives a record of the redemption fund invested in school bonds, classifies the bonded indebtedness of the State and itemizes the amounts paid to the State under the inheritance tax law. This tax in 1909 amounted to $92,314.24 and in 1910 to $37,386.87.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

At the head of the rapidly growing elementary school system of the State, is an officer whose whole life is wrapped up in educational matters. His report for the biennium just closed speaks for the man and for his administration of the high trust imposed in him. The past two years have been years of remarkable growth in the educational system of the State. It is the opinion of the State Superintendent that our schools were never so well equipped and progressive as at the present time; that our teachers were never more interested or better prepared than they are now; that never was there greater unanimity of action and purpose among teachers and school patrons. The opportunities for secondary and higher education are being extended every year, and as the school revenues increase, the secondary schools will grow in number.

Filled with valuable suggestions and recommendations making for the improvement of our school system, is the report of the State Superintendent, and I commend its careful perusal as a reliable guide in shaping your attitude toward the schools of the State. That approximately fifty per cent of the teachers engaged in the common schools of the State are normal graduates is a remarkable showing. While accurate data has not been secured, it is probably true that this is one of the highest percentages in the United States.

I concur in the recommendation of the State Superintendent that the standard of requirements as to qualifications of county superintendents of schools be raised, with a corresponding increase in remuneration. That medical inspection of school children be adopted in the public school system of this State, is a recommendation in keeping with the most advanced thought of the day. Whether the school revenues will permit of the adoption of this suggestion at the present time or not is a question for the Legislature to determine.

The Superintendent calls attention to the necessity of a more strict enforcement of the compulsory education law and with his recommendation regarding this matter, I am in hearty accord.

STATE FISH AND GAME COMMISSIONER.

Operating during the past two years under a law adopted by the legislature of 1909 that contemplated placing the department on a self-sustaining basis, the Fish and Game Department has been conducted with a large measure of success. Near and dear to the heart of every natural man are the rod and the gun. The desire to hunt and fish are primitive instincts that civilization has failed to eradicate. City life and office drudgery do but make more irresistable the call of the prairies, the mountains, the streams, and the swamps, with their game birds, their big game, their fish and their water fowl and all the joyous pleasure and healthful recreation that they alone afford. It is natural, therefore, that with this department and the laws governing its administration the average citizen comes in frequent contact. I am pleased that the law under which we are working is largely a composite of the wishes of the sportsmen of the State. The department belongs to the sportsmen, and I have confidence that they will support unanimously every measure that will make toward protecting and multiplying the fish and game of Utah.

Financially, the law of 1909 has been a marked success. The revenues to the department form the sale of rod and gun licenses exceed $60,000.00 and the moneys thus raised have been expended with the sole purpose of improving the fish and game conditions. The State hatchery at Murray has been increased to a capacity of 2,000,000. At Springville, a new 2,000,000 capacity hatchery has been erected and is in splendid working condition, and a hatchery has just been completed at Panguitch Lake. The combined output of these plants has been distributed generously to the streams of the State.

Personally, I am heart and soul for the fish and game interests of the State, and I earnestly urge the necessity of your making provision for a campaign on behalf of the game birds during the coming two years, a requirement that is emphasized by the recent malady among the ducks of the State. While we cannot go into the propogation of game birds on a large scale, we can at least further safeguard them and make a beginning that will ultimately result in a modern, well-equipped game bird farm. The department has been in efficcient hands; it has been well conducted and operated solely in the interests of the sportsmen, subject to the restrictions of the law.

Two years ago, I recommended the enactment of a law requiring the screening of all artificial ditches or streams at the expense of the owners of such ditches or streams. The necessity of such a law is apparent to all who are acquainted with the conditions existing in this State. The annual loss of game fish from the public streams through irrigation ditches exceeds many times the number of fish that are planted by the Fish and Game Department. So long as the ditches remain unscreened the game fish will not materially increase in the public streams.

I recommend that the fish and game law be amended so as to require that all fees from the sale of licenses be covered into the general fund monthly, and that direct appropriations be made by the Legislature for the expenses of this department.

STATE DAIRY AND FOOD BUREAU AND STATE DAIRY AND FOOD COMMISSIONER.

Aggressiveness and activity have characterized the administration of the Dairy and Food Department of the State. The law enacted by the legislative session of 1909 has been rigidly followed in the conduct of this department. Co-operation with the federal authorities and participation in the State and National pure food conventions have combined to raise the standard of administration to the very highest in the United States.

In creating the dairy and food bureau, the legislature attempted to delegate certain powers to this bureau, which, under the constitution, the bureau could not enforce. While the rules and regulations adopted by the bureau in the interest of the dairy and food production, sale and consumption in the State have been the basis upon which the commissioner has operated, the enforcement of the penalties attached to their violation has been impossible through the courts in many instances.

Many excellent recommendations, the result of the practical experience of the past two years, are contained in the reports of the commissioner and bureau, and I recommend that the rules and regulations adopted by the bureau be enacted into law with sufficient penalty attached to their violation to insure a wholesome respect for the dairy and food supervision of the State.

I commend the reports of the commissioner and the members of the bureau to your careful consideration as evidence of the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them.

Beyond question of doubt, the plan upon which the bureau was created, viz., that it consist of a manufacturer of dairy food products, a merchant engaged in the sale of food products, and a citizen who is a non-producer of food products, together with the Dairy and Food Commissioner and the State Chemist, is a most excellent one, and it should not be disturbed by amendment.

Aside from the salary of the Commissioner, it is estimated that $17,960.00 will be required to cover the necessary clerical assistance and contingent expenses of the office of the Dairy and Food Commissioner.

For traveling and contingent expenses, the Dairy and Food Bureau estimates that $12,000.00 will be required for the years 1911 and 1912.

STATE ENGINEER.

For the first time in the history of the State Engineer's office there has been turned into the State Treasury, as revenues from the office, a sum in excess of the appropriation for its maintenance. During the years 1909 and 1910 $39,960.86 were covered into the treasury from this source. Practically all of the revenue was derived from applications for water and the business incident thereto.

In connection with this particular phase of the Engineer's work, I wish to call your attention to the need of amendments governing applications for water, or more particularly the extension of such applications. During the past two years, I have observed a disposition on the part of certain individuals who are making applications for water in the State Engineer's office to traffic in these filings for promotion purposes. Unable to float their enterprises, these parties request extensions, and in granting such extensions, individuals who have the money and disposition to carry to successful completion legitimate enterprises, are being held up for fabulous prices by these usurpers. I object to promoters making money from State concessions by securing extensions from time to time on their applications and keeping capital from legitimate investment. I recommend amendments to the law that will provide restrictions and prohibit the extension of applications beyond a reasonable time required by a legitimate applicant to perfect his filings and put his enterprise into operation.

The Engineer's department has continued during the past two years its surveys of the natural streams and irrigation ditches, etc. Special attention has been given to the Logan River in Cache County, and the Virgin River in southern Utah. The State Engineer has acted as an engineering advisor and constructing director on State projects upon which large sums of money have been expended. The report contains complete information on irrigation development in the Duchesne River Basin, the Strawbrery Valley project, the Piute project, the Hatchtown project, Carey Act Irrigation and Reclamation projects, and private irrigation enterprises, as well as reservoir and stream surveys.

The State Board of Land Commissioners on June 16, 1908, acquired an application for water from the Otter Creek Reservoir Company, No. 296 of the State Engineer's files. This application was approved February 1, 1906, four years being given for the completion of the work. Subsequently the time was extended to February 1, 1911. The State Supreme Court in the case of Pool vs. the Utah County Light and Power Company, has held that the State Engineer has no discretion under the law governing this application, to extend the time for completion beyond the maximum of five years. In order to safeguard the interests of the State in the matter of this application, upon which vitally depends the success of the Piute irrigation project, the legislature should amend Section 1288 X 13, Session Laws of Utah 1909, last paragraph to read as follows:

> "It is further provided, that in the case of the works constructed by the United States Reclamation Service, the State of Utah, or municipal corporations, the State Engineer may, for good cause shown, extend the time for completion of construction and application to beneficial use, beyond the limits specified in this section."

The State Engineer furnishes the following estimate of funds required to conduct his department during the years 1911 and 1912, exclusive of the Engineer's salary:

For necessary irrigation contingent expenses, salaries of stenographers, engineers, recorders, calculators, and draftsmen; for preparing maps and records and tabulating water claims.....	$30,000.00
For contingent expenses, rent of offices and necessary traveling expense	4,000.00
For surveys of public institutions.....	1,000.00
Total expenditure for the direct uses of the State Engineer's office	$35,000.00

Under the provisions of Chapter 98, Session Laws of Utah, 1909, an appropriation was made by the legislature to be expended in co-operative work with the United States Geological Survey in gathering water statistics. I respectfully recommend that the sum of $3,000.00 be appropriated annually for the purpose of continuing this work, on the understanding that the United States Government will make a like appropriation for expenditure in Utah.

STATE CHEMIST.

The duties of the State Chemist have multiplied so rapidly during the past two years that practically his entire time has been devoted to the State's business. During this period, the chemist has personally examined and analyzed about two thousand various food products submitted by the dairy and food bureau and food commissioner, many of the analyses of food products being equivalent to some twenty or thirty of the more common ones. When it is recalled that every analysis made by the State Chemist must withstand court and legal attacks, the exactions of the office are more thoroughly appreciated. Some one hundred and twenty-five analyses have been made by the State Chemist for the State Board of Health, and he has been called upon to perform analyses for the various state institutions, in addition to serving as an expert witness in numerous court cases in which the State was involved. The Commissioner recommends that the collection of various forms of adulterations in foods collected last year be preserved by the department as a permanent exhibit and that it be added to from time to time and used for educational purposes. His suggestion that a food library be established in connection with the bureau is also an excellent one in the interest of education in this particular work. Ultimately the bureau should have a pure food laboratory.

Some time since the State Chemist was appointed as a collaborating chemist of the United States Government for the State of Utah, without salary. Through this appointment, the State is placed in immediate touch with the department at Washington and secures all publications, records and reports on investigations, etc., as they are issued by the government. With the State Chemist's report is submitted an extensive and valuable article on practical tests to be applied by the housewife for the detection of food adulterations. The report is complete and comprehensive and speaks volumes for the extensive and efficient work which has been accomplished by this official.

I recommend that the salary of the State Chemist be fixed at a figure which will enable the State to maintain his undivided attention to the duties of the office, and that a reasonable appropriation be made for laboratory, chemical and office expenses.

STATE COAL MINE INSPECTOR.

Interesting data accompanies the report of the State Coal Mine Inspector for the biennial period ending November 30, 1910. During the two years, 4,848,302 short tons of coal were mined and the coke production amounted to 327,093 tons, while 48,406 tons of gilsonite were produced. Three thousand four hundred and twenty-two persons were employed in and about the coal and hydrocarbon mines and coke plants of the State. The percentage of fatal accidents connected with the coal and hydrocarbon industry was 5.39 per thousand employed in 1909, and 4.38 in 1910.

About thirty small coal mines located in Carbon, Emery, Sanpete, Grand, Iron and Morgan counties have failed to make reports to the State Coal Mine Inspector. I respectfully recommend that the legislature make provision that all coal and hydro-carbon mines in the State be placed under the coal and hydro-carbon mining laws thereof.

During the past year, the government rescue car fitted with rescue apparatus and appliances for the training of mine officials and miners in rescue work was stationed at Rock Springs, Wyoming, and Utah is embraced within the district which this rescue car is intended to cover. From time to time, the car will visit the mining regions of the State and mine employes will be instructed in the use of the apparatus and first aid to the injured.

Experiments have been conducted during the past year with hydraulic cartridges, designed to force down coal after it has been undermined without the use of explosives. While the experiment has not been entirely successful, it is believed that this cartridge can be made to work successfully.

STATE VETERINARIAN.

Two years ago the office of State Veterinarian was created. Under the law this officer was to act in the dual capacity of State Veterinarian and Veterinarian of the Agricultural College, devoting one-half of his time to the State and one-half of his time to the college. My belief that the livestock interests of the State demanded the services of a State Veterinarian, alone, caused me to approve the measure passed by the legislature. I felt at the time, and the past two years have demonstrated that this official should not be required to divide his time between the college and the State. I therefore recommend that the law be amended and the State Veterinarian be required to devote his entire time to the business of the State.

The powers and duties of this officer should be more clearly defined and the laws under which he operates should be made more specific. I recommend also that the conducting of tuberculin tests among cattle be made a part of the duties of the State Veterinarian, and that provision be made for some remuneration to owners who lose their cattle through the enforcement of the tuberculin test law. The appropriation for office and traveling expenses should be increased and more liberal provision made for the payment of deputy State Veterinarians. Amendments covering the above suggestions will be submitted by the State Veterinarian.

STATE HORTICULTURAL COMMISSION.

Horticulturists in particular and the consuming public in general will be interested in and pleased with the report of the State Horticultural Commission for the biennial period just closed. It is the most comprehensive and accurate report on fruit culture in Utah that has ever been produced.

Much of the time of the State Horticultural Inspector has been devoted to the instruction of county inspectors and deputies in their duties, while a general campaign of education has been carried on through lectures and practical demonstrations in the orchard.

The total value in dollars of the fruit produced in this state in 1910 was $1,429.928.00. An idea of the rapidity with which the horticultural industry is growing is gained through the inspector's report. In 1910, 856,958 fruit trees were palnted. In 1909 1,466,750 foreign seedlings and American grown apples were inspected and in 1910 the total reached 2,126,550.

That wormy fruit is being eliminated from the local markets through the rigid inspections conducted is evidenced by the fact that during 1909 there was a total of 36,265 bushels of apples and pears inspected on the Salt Lake market. The law was not rigidly enforced during this period, but it was necessary to condemn 845 bushels, while during 1910, 66,338 bushels were inspected and but 402 bushels were condemned.

STATE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER.

You will be interested in the biennial report of the Commissioner of Insurance. Organized as a separate department of State in April of 1909, pursuant to an act of the eighth legislature, this department presents its first report to the legislature. That policy holders, insurance companies and the public generally have derived benefits through the creation of this department; that State supervision of the insurance business has been closer, with a rigid enforcement of the new insurance code, are facts that cannot fail to impress you with the wisdom of maintaining such a department. The expense of administering the insurance department, April 8, 1909, to November 30, 1910, was $10,017.45. The earnings for the same period were $69,377.55. During the first three months of 1909, insurance premium taxes amounting to $26,537.75 were collected by the State Treasurer and fees amounting to $8.475.00 were collected by the Secretary of State. The total earnings from insurance sources for the biennial period was $104,390.28, an increase of $9,558.74 over the previous biennium. Deducting the cost of maintenance April 8, 1909, to November 30, 1910, from the total earnings, we find that the net revenue to the State from insurance sources was $458.71 less in 1909 and 1910 than in 1907 and 1908. However, this does not take into consideration the clerical expenses of three months' administration under the Secretary of State. The importance of the work and the closer supervision the State has been able to give to it, as heretofore mentioned, are the important considerations that should govern you in making provision for this department. The Insurance Commissioner estimates that the earnings for the ensuing biennium will amount to $110,000.00.

The insurance department was organized with Colonel George E. Squires as Commissioner. Stricken with an illness which incapacitated him for office work for many months, Mr. Willard Done was employed in the office during Colonel Squires' indisposition. With the Colonel's death, which sad event occurred in September of the past year, Mr. Done was appointed Commissioner.

This situation emphasizes the necessity of legislative provision for the appointment of a deputy Commissioner of Insurance. While I do not feel that the State should incur at this time the expense incident to the employment of a regular deputy, I recommend that authority be granted the Commissioner to appoint a deputy, should the necessity arise, subject to the approval of the Governor and the State Board of Examiners.

The practical workings of the code adopted in 1909 have brought to light the necessity for certain minor amendments. These amendments the Commissioner has set forth in detail in his report, and he is preparing the provisions that will accomplish the ends desired. Without reviewing these suggestions in detail, I recommend that wherever the law can be strengthened in its protection to the legitimate companies and the insuring public and made more severe in its punishment of those who resort to misrepresentation in the insurance business, amendments should be adopted accordingly. The law should not be amended in such manner as will result in a decrease of the earnings of the department. If the present law will not insure earnings, above the cost of administration, at least equal to the earnings before the creation of the department, it should be amended to bring this about.

Chapter 10 of title 14, Compiled Laws of Utah, should be amended, classifying Surety Companies operating in Utah as Insurance Companies and placing them under the supervision of the Insurance department.

NATIONAL GUARD.

The Act of Congress, commonly known as the "Dick Bill," virtually controls the organization, equipment and discipline of the National Guard. In order that the States may draw their pro rata of the funds appropriated by Congress for the maintenance of the National Guard the provisions of this act must be followed. Under this bill each state is required to maintain, properly armed, equipped and disciplined, a force of one hundred men for each senator and representative in Congress. If, owing to the increase in population of the State, Utah's representation in Congress should be increased to two members, it would be necessary to maintain a strength of four hundred enlisted men in lieu of three hundred as at present. The strength of the organizatoin of the National Guard at the time of the annual encampment in 1910 was 352 men.

Government inspections were conducted in 1909 and 1910 by detailed officers of the war department and the Guard was found to be in excellent condition. Two annual encampments have been held during the biennium, that of 1909 near Salt Lake City, in which some officers and men of the Fifteenth Infantry participated, and that of 1910 on the Crow Creek Indian Reservation, Wyoming, in connection with a portion of the regular army. This latter encampment was one of the most successful in which the guard ever participated. In 1909 the Guard participated in the parade of the National G. A. R. encampment and later served in connection with the visit of the President of the United States. At the national rifle competition held at Camp Perry, Ohio, in 1909, the team from Utah participated in the national team match with fifty other teams and was advanced from 46th to 36th place. In the match of 1910 the team advanced from class "C" to class "B" and was the winner of the third prize in class "C," the same being a bronze medal given by the Government to each member of the team and a cash prize of $175.00 to the team.

For the ensuing two years $56,370.00 is asked by the adjutant general for the Guard.

In view of the question which has arisen as to the constitutionality of the measure passed at the last session providing a plan whereby funds could be secured for the erection of a state armory, and my recommendation that the law be repealed; and the further fact that the National Guard is in urgent need of a building for the proper housing of the valuable equipment; and additional facilities for military training and instruction. I most earnestly recommend that some provision be made whereby an armory may be secured for the Guard. The present facilities, for which the State is paying a considerable yearly rental, are unsuited and inadequate to the present and future need of the National Guard.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

It may be noted with satisfaction that there is an increasing interest in the problems of sanitation and the public health, and this should be fostered in every way within the power of the State.

During the past two years, the State Board of Health, in furthering the objects of its creation, has been active in the dissemination of information on these vital questions, and it has endeavored to secure the co-operation of the people of all parts of the State. The introduction of a course of instruction on sanitation in the public schools is an innovation of great importance in its far-reaching effects on health measures.

Utah occcupies a leading position in the matter of registration of vital statistics. The Board is earnest in its recommendation that a law be enacted giving to the State Board of Health enlarged powers, so that in conjunction with the State Board of Education, it may compel improved sanitary conditions of the schools of the State. It again urges the importance of annual meetings of health officers as provided by law.

Recommendation will be made to the Legislature by by the Board that legislation shall be enacted for the improvement in various details of the present public health law.

Twenty-one thousand, seven hundred and forty dollars are requested by the Board for the ensuing biennial period.

STATE BOARD OF LAND COMMISSIONERS.

A considerable portion of the time of the members of the State Board of Land Commissioners has been devoted, during the past two years to building the Hatchtown and Piute reservoir systems. The Hatchtown project is now completed and the lands thereunder will be ready for the market some time in June of the present year. As rapidly as funds have been obtainable, the work on the Piute project has been pushed forward. Forty miles of canal have already been completed. With the completion of the dam, it will put approximately 20,000 acres under cultivation—10,000 acres of which are State land, which it proposes to sell to the people at actual cost. The Board has certificated 611,000 acres of land during the years 1909-10, comprising lands which were applied for by the State some time ago and which have been clear-listed by the Department of the Interior. Selections are not now being made, as the board has deemed it best to reserve as much of the land of the State as possible until the State can carry on other projects and so select certain lands that can be reclaimed through the placing of the water which the State might secure.

During the year 1909 the State filed three lists applying for segregations of land under the Carey act amounting to 75,734 acres. In 1910, the board filed two lists under the same act, applying for the segregation of 33,503 acres. The board also filed three lists applying for temporary segregation of 208.400 acres at the instance of certain applicants in order to permit them to make the necessary surveys that regular applications could be filed for segregations under the Carey act.

The report of the board shows investments of the various funds under its control at the close of the fiscal year ending November 30, 1910, amounting to $2,062,-098.71. The reservoir funds invested in the Hatchtown project amounted to $150,521.52, and the same funds invested in the Piute reservoir project amounted to $206,-894.41, making the total investment reach the sum of $2,519,514.64.

The Act of Congress of April 4, 1910 (Public 114) extends the provisions of the Carey act to lands within the former Uintah Indian Reservation, with the proviso that before patent shall issue to the State for any such lands, the State shall pay to the United States the sum of $1.25 per acre. The State statutes permit the State Board of Land Commissioners to charge a maximum of $1.00 per acre, from the settler on Carey act lands. The statute should be so amended as to authorize the board to charge a maximum of $2.25 per acre for lands reclaimed under the Carey act, and which are situated within the former Uintah Indian Reservation, and the board should be authorized to contract with the government, and to pay $1.25 per acre for such lands at the time of making proof and applying for patent, as provided in the terms of said act.

The board estimates that $60,050.00 will be required to conduct the office during the years 1911 and 1912.

STATE BOARD OF SHEEP COMMISSIONERS.

Lack of funds has prevented the State Board of Sheep Commissioners from conducting a general inspection of the sheep of the State during the year 1910, and the board has assigned its inspectors to the districts where their services were most needed. Co-operation of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry with the local authorities has resulted in a more thorough official supervision of the sheep industry than the board could have rendered alone with its limited appropriation. I invite your attention to the fact that the diverting of the proceeds of the sheep tax to the payment of bounties on predatory animals deprived the Board of a revenue which enabled it to cover the field much more thoroughly than is possible under the present legislative appropriation.

I renew my suggestion of 1909 that the law be so amended as to place the State Board of Sheep commissioners on a self-supporting basis and to that end respectfully recommend the re-enactment of the law providing an inspection tax.

Generally speaking, the sheep of the State are in good condition and it is reported by the board that a better grade of range sheep is now to be found in the State. It is a matter of satisfaction to call attention to the fact also that Utah has some of the largest thoroughbred herds in the world.

STATE BOARDS.

The following State Boards have filed their biennial reports with the Governor in accordance with law: State Board of Medical Examiners, State Board of Pharmacy, State Board of Optometry, State Board of Examiners of Barbers, State Board of Accountancy, State Dental Board, and the Utah Art Institute.

The reports indicate a careful supervision of the several professions falling under the jurisdiction of the respective boards, with general satisfaction under the laws governing their administration. An annual appropriation of $750.00 is asked by the Board of Medical Examiners. Rather than draw on the general funds of the State for this amount, I recommended that the Board be authorized to increase the examination fee to meet the requirement.

Certain amendments are urged by the Board to the law governing the practice of pharmacy.

STATE ROAD COMMISSION.

Under the supervision of the State Road Commission 125.35 miles of State roads were built in 1910 at a total cost of $105,243.00, making the cost per mile approximately $840.00. The State appropriations for State road construction used in the construction of above mileage amounted to $54,000.00. The total revenues from various county sources for State road construction was $51,243.00.

The purpose and intent of the road law, and the purpose and intent of the State Road Commission is to build good roads as rapidly, as extensively and as economically as possible. It is the fixed purpose of the commission to remove as rapidly as possible the idea that the State roads in the several counties of the State are exclusively a local concern, and to assert a new and better view that the State road in each county of the State is a State concern in which the whole State is interested in construction, maintenance and use.

I recommend the passage of a law fixing the responsibility for the flooding of the public highways of the State through the overflow of canals, ditches or laterals upon abutting property owners, power or canal companies or municipalities.

The State Road Commission is unanimous in its request that the annual appropriation for State road construction be increased to $60,000.00,

It is gratifying to report increased interest in the good roads movement during the past two years. State and interstate good roads conventions have been largely attended and I earnestly recommend that the Legislature foster the sentiment for good roads in every way within its power.

LIBRARY-GYNASIUM COMMISSION.

Some years ago, the legislature passed laws making it possible to establish libraries and gymnasiums in certain incorporated towns of the State through the levy of a small tax. The Library-Gymnasium Commission appointed by the State Board of Education has had active charge of the work connected with this movement and much has been accomplished, as shown by the report of the Commission. While I favor the Library-Gymnasium movement, I believe that inasmuch as the State Board of Education exercises the power to appoint members of the Commission, it would be a saving of time and money if the work were assigned to the Board of Education itself, and I, therefore, recommend that the Library-Gymnasium Commission be abolished and that provision be made that the duties heretofore performed by the Commission devolve upon the State Board of Education.

STATE CONSERVATION COMMISSION.

From the turmoil and strife that has waged during the past two years between the pro and anti-conservation forces of the United States, and between government and State control advocates, the Utah State Conservation Commission has held aloof, and has endeavored to fulfill the objects of its creation. A preliminary report issued in December of 1909, for use at the Governors' Conference held the month following, contained much valuable information regarding the natural resources of Utah. Investigations as to the mineral, water, soil and timber of the State have been and are being conducted and as a means of furnishing accurate and reliable data on these features of Utah, a series of large maps have been prepared, showing the correct location of cities, towns and villages, county boundary lines, mountains, forests, lakes, rivers, creeks, reservoirs and canals; of wagon roads, bridges and railroads. They will show also the ownership of land, whether government, State or private; whether the land is surveyed or unsurveyed, the character of the soil; elevation, mean temperature, and average amount of rainfall; the irrigible and non-irrigible lands; the location and character of mineral lands.

These maps are nearly finished, and it is hoped that they will be published and ready for distribution as early as February of this year. The commission has been untiring in its effort to fulfill the objects of its creation, and the maps shortly to be published will be of inestimable value to the State.

JUVENILE COURTS.

Founded in the interests of the State's most valuable asset—the boy and the girl—the Juvenile Court system has been operated during the past two years with increased efficiency and with growing favor. The spirit in which the law has been enforced has practically eliminated opposition to it, while the hearty co-operation of parents, officials and individuals of the State is lifting the system to a place of high regard in the public estimation.

Approximately nine thousand cases of juvenile delinquency were handled of record during the past two years at an expense of $25,000.00 to the State for the administration of the entire system. The salaries allowed probation officers have averaged $16.00 per month, while the judges have received an average monthly salary of $85.50. The salaries for the two years amounted to $23,883.66, while the incidental expenses—traveling, office, printing and stationery—amounted to $1,116.34.

The law under which the courts are operated, as a whole is good. It should be amended as recommended by the Juvenile Court Commission, and the office of secretary should be abolished.

For the purpose of conducting the courts during the years 1911 and 1912, I recommend an appropriation of $35,000.00 to be expended as follows:

Salaries	$32,000.00
Expenses	3,000.00

COMMISSION ON UNIFORMITY OF LEGISLATION.

This commission has filed with the Governor its report for the biennial period 1909-10. The commission was represented at the Conference on Uniform Legislation held at Washington, D. C., January, 1910. The commission will lay before the Legislature bills for proposed acts covering various matters pertaining to joint State legislation considered and acted upon at the regular sessions of the national commission as also special sessions of the National Civic Federation and the Governors' Conference.

But $290.00 of the appropriation of $1,000.00 made to defray the expenses of this commission were used during the biennial period.

COMMISSIONERS OF INDIAN WAR RECORDS.

By an act of the legislature of 1909, there was created a Board of Commissioners to be known as the Commissioners of Indian War Records. The Commission was created for the purpose of ascertaining the names of the persons who were members of any organization performing military duty during any of the Indian wars or expeditions organized against the Indians, or who performed the duties of home guard as members of any organization doing military duty during the time of any Indian war expedition of this State, and to ascertain the character of the services rendered, etc.

The Commission appointed in pursuance of this act, entered into the discharge of its duties shortly after the law authorizing its appointment took effect. It was in the field about ten months, during which time it visited every county in the State, except three, and facilities were offered the people of these counties to meet them at convenient points.

The Commission has registered a total of 2,563 persons who participated in some manner in the early Indian wars of the State. While there are still a number of war veterans who have not been registered, I see no reason why the Commission should be continued. Provision should be made whereby parties may establish their records of service, and I recommend that the Adjutant General be designated as the official to receive this proof. The State has done all that it can to establish the service of the Indian war veterans, and I recommend that the legislature memorialize Congress to place these veterans on the pension roll.

UTAH COMMISSION ALASKA-YUKON-PACIFIC EXPOSITION.

The commission appointed pursuant to the act of the Eighth Legislature to take charge of Utah's representation at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition held at Seattle in 1909, has filed its report with the Governor and State Auditor. Of the appropriation made by the Eighth Legislature of $25,000.00 and the $2,000.00 remaining in the fund from the legislative appropriation of 1907, there remains an unexpended balance of $1,025.60.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION.

In my message to the Legislature two years since I called attention to and made certain recommendations regarding the creation of a public service commission in the State of Utah, which I again present for your consideration as follows:

> "The framers of our State Constitution wisely imposed upon the Legislature the duty of protecting the individual citizen from injury and oppression through combinations of persons or associations for the purpose of controlling prices, whether of manufacture, of commerce, or of production, or of the cost of exchange for transportation, or through extortionate rates, or discrimination by individuals or corporations who enjoy the privileges of a quasi-public character. The condition thus foreseen and provided for by the constitution makers has arisen in this State, as is now a matter of common knowledge and official record.
> "Prompt and effective measures should be taken for correcting abuses of the kind referred to, which now exist and which may arise in the future to interfere with the welfare of the people. The affairs of such quasi-corpoations and associations should have publicity. Intelligent investigation of combinations and public service corporations will greatly aid the people of Utah and tend to establish just and fair dealing.

"Whatever action is taken should be in the spirit of conservatism and fairness to both individuals and corporate interests, such as has characterized the past history of the State, and which will make for the public good.

"For the attainment of this end, I recommend the creation of a public service commission, to be composed of citizens of ability to deal with matters of such weighty importance; the commission to be clothed with ample powers to make regulations necessary to conserve the public welfare in this regard. Such a commission should be entirely accessible to all of the people upon all of the subjects within its jurisdiction, and the law be sufficiently broad to include every public utility operating within the State. The prompt adjustment upon an equitable and inexpensive basis of the many difficulties and complaints arising in this class of business should be provided for in creating a commission of this character, which thus would be beneficial to every interest involved In fairness to all the people of this State, the creation of a Public Service Commission should not be longer delayed."

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

The five amendments to the constitution of this State proposed by the Eighth Legislature, were published for sixty days immediately preceding the general election held November 8th, 1910, in one newspaper in each county where a newspaper was published, as required by a constitutional provision, and were submitted to the voters at said election.

The amendments were all adopted by the following vote:

For amendment to Section 7 of Article 13.....20.588
Against amendment to Section 7 of Article 13.... 7,073

For amendment to Section 2 of Article 10.....16,740
Against amendment to Section 2 of Article 10.... 6,470
For amendment to Section 3 of Article 10.....15,788
Against amendment to Section 3 of Article 10.... 6,229
For amendment to Section 1 of Article 14.....10,611
Against amendment to Section 1 of Article 14.... 6,582
For amendment to Section 4 of Article 14.....10,018
Against amendment to Section 4 of Article 14... 5,652

INCOME TAX.

With this message, I transmit a certified copy of a resolution of Congress entitled: "Joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States," forwarded to me by the Honorable Secretary of State of the United States under date of July 26th, 1909, with the request that the same be submitted to the Legislature of this State for such action as may be had. This resolution provides for an amendment to the Constitution of the United States as follows:

> "Article XVI. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration."

When ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, this amendment shall be valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

In submitting this proposed amendment for your action, I do so with the recommendation that it be not ratified. While I believe in the taxation of incomes as an equitable method of raising revenues, and while I believe that Congress should have sufficient power to readily raise the necessary revenues in cases of emergency, I am opposed to an amendment which gives to Congress the broad power of taxing incomes at its pleasure. If incomes are to be taxed, the revenues derived therefrom, in my opinion, should go to the states from which such revenues are derived. The government has so many means of raising revenue to meet the public expense and the inland states in particular are so limited in their means to do so, that I am strongly opposed to the Federal Government, through the amendment proposed, encroaching on the rights of taxation that properly belongs to the several states.

FOUR TERM OF OFFICE FOR SHERIFF AND CLERK.

Considerable confusion occurs in many of the counties of the State by reason of the fact that the county clerk and county sheriff are elected for a term of two years. Criminal prosecutions and investigations are frequently slighted because there is about to be or has just been a change of administration in the office of county sheriff. And when a new district judge, a new district attorney and a new county clerk go into office at the same time, it too frequently happens that the records which are of a permanent nature are not satisfactorily prepared. These difficulties can and should be avoided by an amendment to the laws providing that the term of office of each of these county officials should be four years instead of two, and by so arranging the times of election that the terms of office of district judge, and district attorney will always overlap with the terms of office of county clerk and county sheriff.

CELEBRATION OF COMPLETION OF PANAMA CANAL.

It is proposed to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal in 1915, through the holding of an exposition international in its scope. San Francisco and New Orleans are the two cities which are specially anxious to entertain the people of the world in this celebration.

I have no doubt that all Utah will join in promoting San Francisco's claim to this exposition, and I respectfully request that the sentiment of the citizens of this State, which has been so unanimous for the Golden Gate city be expressed through the Legislature in a resolution endorsing San Francisco as the place for holding the exposition in celebration of the completion of the canal.

G. A. R. APROPRIATION.

The chairman of the Executive Committee of the G. A. R. Encampment held at Salt Lake City in 1909, has filed with the Governor a report itemizing the expenditure of the $35,000.00 appropriated by the Eighth Legislature for the reception and entertainment of the Grand Army of the Republic at its forty-third national encampment.

CAPITOL BUILDING.

I again urge the necessity of making legislative provision for the erection of a state capitol building. The increasing demands made upon the State for additional room to accommodate the various departments of State renders the immediate erection of a capitol building an imperative necessity.

EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION.

I recommend an emergency appropriation at the hands of the Legislature to meet the current expenses of State administration for the first quarter. With a large balance in the treasury I cannot see any reason why State institutions should be borrowing money to conduct their affairs during that time.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

At the risk of being criticised for telling a legislative secret, but anxious that none of the new members shall violate any of the traditions of this august body, just a word in closing.

With commendable economy, the first legislature of Utah placed the control of certain institutions in non-partisan boards to be appointed by the Governor, the members of which were to serve without compensation. All that the Legislature required of them in order that they might partake of the honors that the appointment carried was that they pay a fee of twenty-five cents for notarial certificate of their constitutional oaths, pay for a bond conditioned on the faithful discharge of a multitude of specifically defined duties, attend from one to half a dozen meetings per month, see to it that strict economy was practiced, and report in minute detail their stewardships once in each two years.

All subsequent legislatures have followed this economical practice, occasionally, however, varying the monotony by placing the elective state officials on a half dozen boards.

To these public spirited men and women who, without remuneration, are devoting their time, their energies, and talents to the management of our state institutions, to the direction of our Commissioners, and to the control of our Boards, I offer, in the absence of a more substantial acknowledgment, my sincere thanks for their faithful and efficient services.

I wish you pleasure in your association and success in your undertakings.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America:

Your memorialist, the Ninth Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah, hereby submit for your consideration the following memorial:

WHEREAS, the frontiersmen and early settlers of the Rocky Mountain region made possible by their fearless courage and heroic self-sacrifice the present splendid growth and prosperity of the western part of our nation and have thereby directly contributed to the greatness of our country and have performed a national service of inestimable value; and

WHEREAS, the settlement of the west was accompanied by and its resulting blessings were secured only after bitter and sanguinary conflict with savage foes; and

WHEREAS, the services rendered by the citizen soldiers in Indian warfare between the years 1854 and 1874 have never been properly recognized or compensated, and the day will soon be past in which it will be possible to express the gratitude of the nation to the lingering remnant of those who performed heroic service in defense of the first efforts of the white man to establish civilization in the mountains and on the plains of the Far West;

THEREFORE, the Ninth Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah respectfully requests that Congress enact such legislation as will give to those who performed service in Indian war a pensionable status under the laws of the United States, and also that all just claims for compensation for services and supplies be recognized and paid.

JOINT RESOLUTION.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, by Mr. Badger: "A joint resolution ratifying the proposed amendment of the Constitution of the United States authorizing an income

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 12, 1911.

To the Senate:

In compliance with the resolution of the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), I have this day appointed Mr. G. Robinson of Salt Lake City, Utah, to the position of Messenger to the Governor, to serve during the present session of the Legislature.

Thanking you for your courtesy, I am,

Very respectfully,
WILLIAM SPRY,
Governor.

Communication filed.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 13, 1911.

To the Senate:

I herewith transmit correspondence which has passed between the War Department and the Governor of Utah, relating to the cession of jurisdiction over the Fort Douglas Military Reservation.

From the correspondence, you will note that the War Department has acquired in recent years additional lands as a part of the Fort Douglas Military Reservation and desires the Governor to execute a deed of cession under the authority of an Act of the Legislature of this State, approved February 20, 1903 (Laws of Utah, 1903, Chapter 14).

I have taken the position that the authority cited relates to lands acquired by the United States for the purpose of sites for public buildings and that 9,995 acres could hardly be regarded as a public building site. By an Act of the Legislature, approved February 24, 1905, (Session Laws of Utah, 1905, Chapter 21) jurisdiction was ceded to the United States in and over the lands comprised within the military reservations of Fort Douglas and Fort Duchesne, but no provision is therein contained authorizing the Governor to cede jurisdiction to additional lands that may be acquired by the United States Government.

Attached to the correspondence herewith transmitted is a draft of the proposed Act ceding jurisdiction over Fort Douglas. I respectfully recommend that the proposed Act be adopted with the amendment that the word

"exclusive" be stricken from the first line and that after the word "crimes" and before the word "committed," the words "against the laws of the State" be inserted; that after the word "without" and before the word "said," the words "or within" be inserted, making the last portion of Section 1, read: "saving, however, to the said State the right to serve all civil processes and such criminal processes as may lawfully issue under the authority of this State committed without or within said reservation."

I do not believe that the State should cede its jurisdiction over crimes that may be committed within the reservation. With this restriction, I recommend that the Legislature pass a law complying with the wishes of the Secretary of War.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM SPRY,
Governor of Utah.

Communication and letters read and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

W. C. HORSLEY,

RULES OF THE SENATE.

NINTH LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF UTAH.

1. A majority of the Senate shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, or for less time than one day, and may compel the attendance of absent members.

2. The Senate shall keep a Journal of its proceedings, which shall be published at the close of the session. At the request of three members the ayes and nays shall be taken on any question and entered on the Journal.

3. The Senate may punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected expel a member for cause; and the reason for such expulsion shall be entered upon the Journal, with the aye and nay vote of the members.

4. The Senate, during its session, may punish by imprisonment any person, not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the same, by any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not at any time exceed twenty-four hours, unless the person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous beavior.

5. The sessions of the Senate, except those while it is sitting in executive session, shall be public; and it shall not without the consent of the House of Representatives adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which it may be holding session.

6. The enacting clause of every law shall be: "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Utah," and no bill or joint resolution shall be passed, except with the assent of a majority of all the Senators elected. On the final passage of all bills the vote shall be by ayes and nays, upon each bill separately, and shall be entered upon the Journal; and no law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only; but the act as revised, or section as amended, shall be re-enacted and published at length.

7. Except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of laws, no bill shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title.

8. The President, in the presence of the Senate, shall sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature, after their titles have been publicly read immediately before signing, and the fact of such signing shall be entered upon the Journal.

9. Every bill shall be read three times, but the first and second reading may be on the same day. On the final passage of a bill the President shall immediately put the question, "Shall the title of the bill be the title of the act?"

10. The President, or in his absence, the President pro tempore, or, in the absence of both, any Senator called to the chair by the Senate, shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned; shall immediately call the members to order, and on the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the Journal of the preceeding day to be read.

11. The presiding officer shall preserve decorum and order, and may speak to points of order, in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member; on which appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate.

12. The presiding officer shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

13. Questions shall be put in the following form, viz: "As many as are in favor of (as the case may be) say aye," and after the affirmative vote is expressed," as many as are opposed say no." If the President doubt the result of a vote, or a division be called for, the Senate shall divide; those in the affirmative shall first rise from their seats, and afterwards those in the negative.

14. The President shall have the general direction of the Senate Chamber; he shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, and such substitute shall be vested with all the powers of the President during the time he shall act as such.

15. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby or gallery, the President shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

16. The President shall assign to the officers and employees of the Senate their respective duties, stations, and shall have general supervision over them.

16a. The Sergeant-at-arms shall have supervision over the Assistant Sergeant-at-arms, door keepers, messengers, watchmen and janitor, and he shall preserve order in the lobby, guard the floor from intruders; and he shall report each day to the President the absence or late arrival of any employees of the Senate.

16b. The Secretary shall have supervision over all employees not under the supervision of the Sergeant-at-arms, except the engrossing clerk or clerks. There shall be a record kept of the attendance of all employees, by an employee or employees designated by the President. Any employee absenting himself or herself without the consent of the President shall not be paid for the day or days of such absence; and there shall be a daily record kept of all leave of absence granted.

17. When any member is about to speak or deliver any matter to the Senate, he shall rise from his seat and address himself to "Mr. President," and shall confine himself to the question under debate and avoid personalities.

18. When any member, in speaking (or otherwise) transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall sit down, unless permitted to explain; and the Senate, if appealed to, shall decide on the case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the Senate.

19. If two or more members rise at once, the President shall name the member who is first to speak.

19a. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down by the Secretary; but no member shall be held to answer or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words spoken in debate, if any member has spoken in debate, or other business has intervened after the words spoken and before exceptions to them shall have been taken.

20. No member shall speak more than twice to the same question, nor more than once until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken, without the consent of the Senate.

21. While the President is putting a question, or addressing the Senate, no member shall walk out of or across the room; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking, shall enter into private discourse, nor when a member is speaking shall pass between him and the chair.

22. Every member who shall be in the Senate when a question is put shall give his vote, unless the Senate shall excuse him.

23. No member shall be permitted to vote on any question, unless within the bar before the vote is announced.

25. When a motion is made and seconded, it shall be stated by the President, or, being in writing shall be handed to the Secretary, and read aloud before debate.

26. Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the President or any member desires it.

27. When the ayes and nays shall be taken on any question, no member shall be permitted to vote or to change his vote after the decision is announced from the chair, unless by the two-thirds vote of Senators present and voting.

28. After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed in the possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn at any time by the unanimous consent of the Senate, before decision.

29. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be recevied, but:

To fix the time to which to adjourn.
To adjourn.
To call the Senate.
To lay on the table.
To postpone indefinitely.
To postpone to a day certain.
To commit or to amend.

Which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged.

29a. A motion for adjournment shall always be in order, except when the roll is being called, and be decided, as well as the motion to lay on the table, without debate.

30. No motion to postpone to a day certain or indefinitely, or to commit, being decided in the negative, shall again be allowed on the same day.

31. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried, shall be deemed equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

32. When a blank is to be filled and different sums or times are proposed, the question shall first be put on the largest sum and the longest time.

33. No person shall be permitted to smoke in the Senate Chamber, or to give any sign of approbation or disapprobation while the Senate is in session.

OFFICERS' DUTIES.

34. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep a journal, in which he shall seasonably record the motions, resolutions, rules, and decisions of the Senate, and to do and perform all such other acts appertaining to his office as may be required of him by the Senate or its presiding officer.

If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out and insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question; but the rejection of a motion to strike out and insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and insert a different proposition.

49. No amendment, by way of rider, shall be received to any bill on its third reading.

50. The rules of parliamentary practice, comprised in Robert's Rules of Order, shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 18, 1911.

To the President and Members of the Utah State Senate.

Gentlemen:

The Burley Agricultural Demonstration Train, which has given agricultural demonstrations at nearly all stations in Idaho and northern Utah, will reach Salt Lake City, Short Line Station at 3:45 p. m. next Friday, January 20th.

We respectfully invite the members and officers of your honorable body to visit this train upon its arrival next Friday to inspect the exhibits and to hear the lectures and discussions.

This train, the Burley Special of the Oregon Short Line, is one of the most complete, if not the most complete, agricultural demonstration train ever sent out in the United States. It is devoted mainly to dairying and dry-farming. A number of animals, dairy appliances, and grain exhibits are carried on the train. A visit to the train next Friday will interest you and will show you one important form of the activity of the Extension Division of the Agricultural College.

Special street cars will be in waiting at the City and County building at 3:30 Friday afternoon to convey the State Officials and the members of the Legislature to the Demonstration Train.

Very respectfully,

JOHN A. WIDSTOE.

The following communication was presented by Mr. Olson:

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 18, 1911.

Hon. L. M. Olson,
Senate, Salt Lake City, Utah.

My dear Mr. Olson:

Permit me to extend to you and through you, to your Democratic associate in the State Senate of Utah, my sincere appreciation of the high compliment that was paid me on yesterday in my selection as the candidate of the minority party for the position of United States Senator.

The office is so high and so honorable, and has been filled with men of such character and great standing, that to be merely mentioned for the place is a compliment to any citizen. The honor becomes more marked, when, in addition to being mentioned for the place of the representatives of a great party, even though they may be in the minority, select a man as their choice for the position.

As you well know, the majority is not always right. Often the efforts of those whose cause seem hopeless at the time are, in the very near future, crystalized into an overwhelming public sentiment.

In the case of our own party, which for years has been out of political power, but which has consistently advocated the interests of the people, it is a gratification to know that at last there is every indication that it is about to take charge of our government nationally, and that it is gaining great support in our State and in each locality. I am satisfied if it could succeed in this State that as a direct result much of the bitterness that has divided our people would be immediately dispersed, and that the result of its success would be of the greatest benefit to the State and to all the people.

Again thanking you I remain,

Very truly yours,
O. W. POWERS.

COMMUNICATION FROM STATE LAND BOARD.

OFFICE STATE BOARD OF LAND COMMISSIONERS,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 23, 1911.

Hon. Henry Gardner,
President of the Senate,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Dear Sir:—

In compliance with Senate Resolution No. 5, I have the honor to submit herewith the information called for therein, under the head of Exhibit "a" and "b."

As you will notice, Exhibit "a" deals altogether with the first subdivision of the Resolution, calling for a full and complete history, so far as the records of the State Land Board disclose, of the N. ½ of Section 20, Township 14 S., Range 5 E., S. L. M., and the NW. ¼ of Section 21, and the W. ½ of the NE. ¼ of Section 21, Township 14 S., Range 5 E., S. L. M.

This record deals with the tract described, containing 560 acres of land, from the time the State acquired title by selection from the United States Government, down to and including the present time.

A copy of each and every instrument which has ever been filed in or issued by this office is transmitted herewith, arranged in chronological order and referred to so that it will be an easy matter to determine the exact condition of the said tract of land during the entire time the State has exercised ownership.

Exhibit "b" calls for a list of all loans made by said Board to members thereof, or to firms or corporations in which the members thereof are interested, together with the dates and amounts of the same and maturity and condition thereof.

I have assumed that this section of the Resolution refers to the present membership of the Board only and was not intended to show the record as to whether or not former Boards had loaned State funds to members thereof from the time of the Board's creation in 1896. If I am mistaken in this I will be very glad to have the records searched and get that additional data, if the Honorable Senate so desires.

In this connection I will say that the records of the office show that no member of the present Land Board has ever applied or received from the Board an original loan while a member of the Board. In Mr. Thain's case the application was made to and the money loaned by a former Board, prior to Mr. Thain becoming associated with the Board as a member thereof. In Mr. Steele's case, the application was made to and the money loaned by the Board immediately preceding Mr. Steele's appointment as a member of this Board.

As to any firms or corporations in which the members of the Board are interested ever having applied for or borrowed any of the State's funds through the State Board of Land Commissioners, I have no means of advising the Honorable Senate as I do not know what companies or firms the members of the Board may be shareholders in or interested in otherwise; but speaking for myself, I will say that no company in which I am interested directly or indirectly has ever applied to the State for the purchase or lease of any of the State lands, or for the loan of any of the State's funds through the State Board of Land Commissioners.

Hoping the foregoing information will meet the requirements of the Honorable Senate on its Resolution No. 5, I beg to remain,

Very respectfully,
WM. J. LYNCH,
Secretary.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
Salt Lake City, Utah, February 17, 1911.

To the Senate:

Pursuant to your request of the 16th inst., I return herewith Senate Bill No. 81, by Mr. Stookey, entitled, "An Act to provide a permanent fund for the general maintenance of the University of Utah, including the branch of the State Normal School and the Agricultural College of Utah."

In complying with this request and in view of the fact that the bill is returned for further consideration, I have the honor to make the following comments and suggestions for your consideration in the further discussion of the bill.

The maintenance of the higher institutions of learning through a permanent and perpetual fund, provided by the appropriation of a given per centum of the annual revenue derived from the general tax levy for State purposes, is a plan that has much merit. I believe the plan should be adopted. The uncertainty as to the satisfactory results of such a plan, however, arises from the varying needs of the institutions. Requirements of the institutions it is intended to benefit will fluctuate, and, sooner or later, because of relative growth, some institution will suffer through an unyielding and arbitary statute, which can but result in institutional antagonism arising from the necessity of circumstances.

The not distant future must bring an entire readjustment of property valuations for assessment purposes, which change will demand a corresponding readjustment of any apportionment you may now fix. When a reduction of the apportionment becomes necessary, I need not urge the position in which future legislators will be placed in meeting such contingency.

I believe that the bill in question should be so amended as to specifically make the funds appropriated by it and to be expended by the respective boards of control, subject to the same provisions as to disbursement, the same restrictions as to the creation of deficits and the same requirements as to scrutiny by the State Board of Examiners, as the law now provides in the case of expenditures of State moneys for other institutions.

It is my opinion that the bill should be amended so as to provide a sinking fund, to the credit of which, at the end of each fiscal or academic year, the unexpended balance should be placed, the said sinking fund being created for the purpose of erecting buildings and providing permanent additions and improvements.

Under the terms of this bill, as at present framed, the institutions benefited thereby will not only receive during the years 1911 and 1912, thirty per cent of the revenue derived from the tax levy for general State purposes, exclusive of State school and high school funds, but will also enjoy the use of unexpended balances of the appropriations of the legislature of 1909 for the academic years beginning July 1, 1909, and ending June 30, 1911. I do not believe that this was contemplated in framing the bill. I, therefore, recommend that an amendment be made providing that from the funds derived under its provision during the years 1911 and 1912, there be deducted and transferred to the credit of the general fund an amount equal to the unexpended balances remaining to the credit of the general maintenance appropriations of each of the institutions benefitted, as the respective balances appeared on January 1, 1911, the transfer to be made on or before March 1, 1912. The postponing of this transfer will enable the institutions to operate with little inconvenience until the tax remittances are in the State treasury and available. In this connection, I suggest also a provision stipulating the period at which the state auditor shall make the apportionment to the respective institutions of the funds carried by the measure.

The bill should also stipulate that the institutions shall not participate in any part of the funds received from tax sale redemptions—at least prior to the date of the enactment of this law.

It is my opinion that twenty-eight per centum of the 4½ mills derived from the general tax levy for State purposes, exclusive of the State school and high school funds would provide a very liberal proportion of the State revenue for the University and its Normal branch and the Agricultural College. Based on the auditor's estimate of revenues to the general fund from the general tax levies for 1911 and 1912, twenty-eight per centum of 4½ mills will aford a substantial increase in the maintenance accounts of both the University and Agricultural College over the appropriations of 1909 and 1910.

In any event, if thirty per centum of the 4½ mills is to be the basis upon which the distribution is made, I believe it should not only include maintenance, but purchase of grounds, erection of buildings, and additions, and all other expenses, so that the legislature will not be called upon to make direct appropriations for any of the needs of the institutions benefited.

The auditor's estimate of revenues from taxation is the basis upon which all appropriations made by you must rest. For your information, I take the liberty of submitting a statement (based on the auditor's estimate) which indicates the exact status of the general fund of the State after making provision for the appropriation carried by this bill and the needs of the higher and other educational institutions of the State. For the years 1909 and 1910, after providing for the educational institutions of the State, there was left in the general land fund for all other State purposes 2.65 mills. From the table below, you will note that but 1.9 mills are available for all other institutions and State purposes. The legislature must not lose sight of the fact that under the terms of a recent constitutional amendment, ½ mill is apportioned to the high schools of the State. The table follows:

Estimated revenue accruing to general fund 1911-1912 from 4½ mill levy, on assessed valuation of two hundred and two hundred and ten millions of dollars respectively, per auditor's report		$1,845,000.00

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 2, 1911.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Judiciary, have had under consideration S. R. No. 5, by Mr. Smith, calling upon the Secretary of the State Board of Land Commissioners to furnish a complete history of certain lands therein described, and also a list of loans made by the Board of Land Commissioners to members thereof, or to firms or corporations in which members of the board are interested, and beg leave to report that under date of January 23, 1911, the secretary of the board, complying with said resolution, furnished your committee a history of the lands above referred to, together with a statement of certain loans made by the board to certain of its members. Your committee has caused said report to be examined and the conclusions to be drawn therefrom are as follows:

That the lands described in said resolution are held by Mr. Candland, a member of the board, under a lease from the board; the rights of Mr. Candland having accrued previous to the 1907 law and coming within the exception of the statute prohibiting the members from acquiring an interest in any State land, except applications for lands then pending, or the renewal of leases made prior to the passage of the Act. The section above referred to is 2369x3, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907; and it is our conclusion that there is nothing unlawful or prohibited by law in this lease.

The secretary reports two loans to members of the present board; one, to Mr. Thain, and one to Mahonri M. Steele & Sons Co., in which, we are informed, Mr. Steele, a member of the board, is interested. The loan to Mr. Thain was originally made previous to his appointment upon the board. The same is true as to the loan to Steele & Sons Co., having been made to that company previous to Mr. Steele's appointment to the board.

The Thain loan as originally made has been renewed, the last renewal being made in January, 1911. As originally made the loan was for $800, made in December, 1897, secured by a mortgage covering 375 acres. The loan was renewed and increased to $1000 in 1905. And in 1911 the loan was renewed and the security decreased to 155.11 acres; the land covered by the mortgage being part of the 375 acres covered by the original mortgage.

Neither of these loans, nor the renewals thereof, are prohibited by law, nor is there any statute prohibiting State boards, who have public funds to loan, from loaning them to members or employees of the boards. It is our opinion that the possibility of making such loans should be prohibited and that there should be an act prohibiting all State boards, who have the authority, from loaning same to any of their members, employees, State officers, or members of the Legislature, and there is submitted herewith a bill, S. B. No. 250, for an Act, entitled, "An Act relating to the loaning of public funds, prohibiting the making of loans to certain persons, the renewals and extension of certain loans heretofore made, and providing a penalty," covering this subject.

Very respectfully,
BENNER X. SMITH,
Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. B. No. 250 was read first and second times.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

SENATE CLAIM No. 6.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 4, 1911.

To the Senate:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your honorable body the following numbered claims for reimbursement for animals killed which were infected with tuberculosis, and to advise you that under the provisions of Chapter 125, Laws of Utah, 1909, it is provided that where animals are infected with any incurable disease, such as tuberculosis, they are to be destroyed, and it is also provided that animals so diseased shall possess no property value and may be condemned and destroyed without compensation to the owner. The law does not provide for any reimbursement to the owners in such cases and it appearing from the statements made in these claims that the animals killed were infected with tuberculosis the board has no authority to allow the claims.

8367	Mrs. K. Swenson	75.00

SENATE CLAIM No. 7.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 4, 1911.

To the Senate:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your honorable body the within claim of Salt Lake City for the cost of a canvas covering for the Senate Chamber and to advise you that just prior to the convening of the Senate the city had purchased and laid a canvas covering on the floor of the Senate and that upon the request of the Secretary of State it was removed with the understanding that the State would pay the cost of the canvas.

The board therefore directs me to advise you that it has approved the claim in the sum of $78.50 with the recommendation that an appropriation be made therefor.

Very respectfully,
C. S. TINGEY,
Secretary State Board of Examiners.

Communication filed, and S. C. No. 7 was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Claims.

SENATE CLAIM No. 8.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 4, 1911.

To the Senate:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your honorable body the within claim of Mrs. May Williams, amounting to $7,725.00, for injuries alleged to have been sustained at the Utah State Fair Association grounds on October 7th, 1910.

The Board has reached the conclusion from information which has been presented to it that the claimant was not injured in any way seriously, that as far as it is advised there was no occasion for the incurring of doctor bills or nurse hire, and that the claim does not show to the satisfaction of the board that any money was expended for medical services or for nurse hire, and for that reason it has not felt justified in allowing anything upon this claim. The board is of the opinion, however, that if any money was expended in the way of medical services or nurse hire and such proof can be satisfactorily presented to the Legislature the claimant should be reimbursed for the cost of such medical services and nurse hire.

Very respectfully,
C. S. TINGEY,
Secretary State Board of Examiners.

Communication filed, and S. C. No. 8 was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Claims.

SENATE CLAIM No. 9.

STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
Salt Lake City, Utah, March 4, 1911.

To the Senate:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your honorable body the enclosed claim of Jennie Cook for injuries sustained while attending the Utah State Fair in 1910, and to advise you that this board has received information which satisfies it that the claimant received such injuries as would require her going to the hospital and that she did go to the hospital as stated in the affidavit and did incur expenses as therein stated, and for that reason the board has approved the claim for $500.00 with the recommendation that an appropriation be made therefor.

Very respectfully,
C. S. TINGEY,
Secretary State Board of Examiners.

Communication filed, and S. C. No. 9 was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Claims.

SENATE CLAIM No. 10.

To the Senate:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your honorable body the enclosed claim of John S. Thomson in the sum of $144.70 (Senate Bill No. 88) to reimburse him for improvements made upon school lands, which were afterwards sold to other parties by the State Board of Land Commissioners, and to advise you that the board has approved the claim for $144.70 with the recommendation that an appropriation be made therefor.

To the Senate:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your honorable body the within claim of William B. Jones (Senate Claim No. 2) in the sum of $40.00 to reimburse him for amount paid as rental on school lands in Utah county and to advise you that inasmuch as the claim does not describe the lands and for the further reason that the board has been unable to obtain any information whatever from the land office relative to this claim the board has withheld its approval. It suggests, however, that it might be well to make an appropriation covering the claim with the understanding that before it is paid the claimant shall make satisfactory proof of his right to such refund to the State Board of Examiners.

Very respectfully,
C. S. TINGEY,
Secretary State Board of Examiners.

Communication filed, and S. C. No. 2, was referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Claims.

with the recommendation that an appropriation be made therefor.

Very respectfully,

PRESENTATION TO PRESIDENT GARDNER.

Mr. Wilson requested the floor for a personal privilege, which was granted, and he spoke as follows:

It now, Mr. President, becomes my very pleasant duty to represent the members and officers of this body, to express to you our confidence and respect and to acknowledge our appreciation of the fair and honest manner in which you have presided over this assembly. We have learned to love you for your sterling worth, not alone for the inspiration it has brought into our lives but the asset this State has in the way of a safe and sane legislator in whose hands the affairs of State are absolutely secure. Your keen foresight of all questions of importance being a beacon light to us all. As the billows ebb and flow in tranquility or dash in mighty force against the immovable reef, or as the sturdy mountain pine sways amid gentle zephyr of a humid atmosphere or surrounded by the fierce blasts of winter, hurling defiance at their puny efforts to dislodge them we find in you a typical representative unmoved by public clamor, unmoved when friends desert, unmoved when even the trained mariner of public life deserts and all seems lost, we find you standing as immovable as the rock of Gibraltar, but withal having a heart as tender as that of a pure and gentle woman, a friend as true as steel, a rough uncut, unpolished diamond of rare worth.

Now we as a feeble effort to show you the appreciation of your labors as our presiding officer, present to you this desk and chair and only ask when seated to perform the duties devolving upon you in a life of continued activity you will only remember us by the good in our natures as in your keen and honest judgment you have discerned it. Also after the days of toil and trial that will enter in the future of your busy life you are seated in the easy chair we present to you, may the spirit of rest, peace and joy be in your home, and ere you retire may your thoughts revert to us, and in the honesty of your rugged nature, offer a silent prayer for us the absent but not forgotten ones.

President Gardner responded feelingly, thanking the donors for the expression of confidence and respect shown him.

Mr. Funk moved that a copy of the speech made by Senator Wilson be properly engrossed and presented to the President, bearing the signature of each Senator and officer. Carried.

On behalf of the officers of the Senate, Mr. Wilson presented to Sergeant-at-Arms Andrew Morris, a fountain pen, suitably inscribed. Mr. Morris thanked the officers heartily for their expression of good will.

This bill provides for the setting apart of a suitable room or rooms in the State House, or some other public building in Salt Lake City for the use of the Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, for the Department of Utah, and also for the care and preservation of the records and relics of the Grand Army. In the opinion of your committee the building of the State Capitol, provision for which has been made at this session, will make it possible to accomplish the purpose for which this bill is introduced, in the near future, and in our judgment it would be inexpedient to select temporary quarters. Provision should be made in the new State home for a permanent resting place for relics and records of our military achievements.

SECOND BIENNIAL REPORT,
BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS FROM UTAH, FOR THE PROMOTION OF UNIFORMITY OF LEGISLATION IN THE UNITED STATES, 1909-1910.

To His Excellency, William Spry, Governor of Utah:

The undersigned, members of the commission for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States, appointed for the term 1909-1910, from the State of Utah, pursuant to the provisions of Title Eighty-Four of the Compiled Laws, 1907, submit the following report:

National Commission on Uniform State Laws.

The National Commission on Uniform State Laws, composed of persons appointed by the Governors, under the provisions of law of the several States and Territories, was organized at Saratoga, New York, August 24th, 1898, and since that date twenty conferences have been held, and the organization now consists of representatives from all the States and Territories, the Federal District and three possessions.

The first commissioners appointed from Utah, to-wit: C. R. Hollingsworth, Ashby Snow and S. H. Love, submitted their report December 31, 1908; since which time two annual conferences of the National Commission have been held.

The nineteenth session was held at Detroit, Michigan, August 19-23, 1909, at which delegates were in attendance from thirty-four (34) States, the time being largely occupied with consideration of uniform laws bearing upon negotiable instruments, sales, warehouse receipts, incorporations, partnership, transfer of stock and bills of lading, the first three of which had already been adopted by some of the states. All have been proposed in response to a pressing need of the business world, and are of such universal application as to make them proper subjects for statutory enactment.

National Civic Federation.

The National Civic Federation is an organization devoted to the advancement of public interests, and particularly to the solution of modern questions which have to some extent been complicated by our dual system of government. To this end it seeks to bring together all organizations for a comparison of views, and it is exerting a powerful influence over public opinion. In furtherance of this object a meeting was held at Washington City on January 17, 1910, to consider the need of uniform legislation, among the various States.

The existence of the Commission on Uniform State Laws was perhaps unknown to many, but when the relation of the two was considered, a cordial co-operation in the work was promptly afforded, and large representative delegations, including the most able men of every section attended the meeting.

The House of Governors.

At the time the meeting above mentioned was in session, the Governors of more than thirty (30) commonwealths assembled in the same city to confer, and discuss matters affecting the welfare of the State as a nation, without lawmaking powers, but as a part of the initial process by which a system can be produced, to operate in a field in which variety of legislation now seems necessary, as also for the removal of many evils and abuses which exist for the want of discussion and consideration of public opinion, upon State legislation. In brief, matters relating to uniform laws, matters of State, county and to local matters, which can be better treated in the light of the experience of other States. In an address of welcome to the Governors, the President of the United States, expressing his convicitions of the menace of centralization and of the hope and promise of this new harmony and co-operation of the States said:

"I regard this movement as of the utmost importance. The Federal Constitution has stood the test of more than one hundred years in supplying the powers that have been needed to make the central government as strong as it ought to be, and, with this movement toward uniform legislation and agreement between the States, I do not see why the Constitution may not serve our purpose always."

These assemblies were of unrivaled interest, many of the Governors sat with their State delegations in the Federation Conference and all the main subjects were persented personally to these executives. Addresses were also made by Seth Low (president of the Civic Federation), Augustus E. Willson, Alton B. Parker, Walter George Smith, president of the Commission on Uniform State Laws, Gifford Pinchot, John Hays Hammond, August Belmont, Elihu Root, Charles E. Hughes, Judson Harmon, and other leading representatives from each State and section.

Resolutions by National Conference.

At the conclusion of its session, January 19, 1910, resolutions were adopted by the National Conference:

Endorse bills as prepared on negotiable instruments, warehouse receipts, sales, bill of lading, uniform divorce.

Appropriations for Commissioners.

That every State and Territory which has made no appropriation for the work of the Commissioners on uniform State Laws be urged to make suitable appropriations annually for the efficient conduct of that work.

Other States to Name Commissioners.

That the States and Territories which have not already appointed Commissioners on Uniform State Laws be urged to appoint such commissioners as soon as practiable.

Uniform Amendment.

That, if any persons or organizations, after studying the laws submitted by the Conference on Uniform State Laws think that any of them need amendment, such persons and organizations be earnestly urged to try to bring about such amendment through the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws to the end that even in amendment, uniformity may be preserved.

Commision for Other Than Technical or Legal Subjects.

That in the opinion of this conference it seems advisable that in the matter of a Uniform Tax Law and in that relating to certain labor subjects upon which this conference favors uniformity and upon other subjects not technically of a legal nature, it is the opinion of this body that the drafting of these laws may well be considered by commissions specially appointed in the different States, the membership of which shall not be restricted to members of the legal profession, and that this action be communicated to the Governors.

Uniformity by Groups of State.

That we commend to the attention of the administration of the various States of the Union, whenever a subject of legislation affects the interests of a group of contiguous states, the possibility of joint and uniform action upon such subjects by interstate agreement or convention to become effective upon ratification by the legislatures of the States involved.

Legislative Reference Bureaus.

That we recognize the system Legislative Reference Bureaus as one of the important agencies to bring about greater uniformity of legislation, and we urge the States which have established such bureaus to develop them further and those which have not yet done so to forthwith establish them.

Uniformity in Legal Procedure.

The system in vogue for the trial of causes in the criminal, equity and law courts of the United States and of the several States, is the subject of such current discussion, both lay and professional, and is severely criticized for its technicalities and its useless expense and delay; and

The matter of procedural reform is receiving the thoughtful consideration of the American Bar Association through a special committee created for that purpose; and

This Conference recognizes the need for radical changes in the administration of the law both in criminal and civil action; therefore

Resolved, that a committee of fifteen on "Reform in Legal Procedure" be created and appointed by the Chairman of the Committee on Uniform Legislation of the National Civic Federation, and that such committee be instructed to co-operate with the Committee of the American Bar Association to suggest remedies and formulate proposed laws to prevent delay and unnecessary cost in litigation and to use the influence and power of the National Civic Federation to simplify, cheapen and expedite judicial procedure.

Pure Food and Drug Regulations.

Congress in June, 1906, passed the National Food and Drugs Act which law has since been adopted in all substantial provisions by upwards of twenty-six (26) States; therefore

This convention recommends the adoption of this model uniform statute by the Legislature of all States which have not already so acted, and urges upon the Governors and Legislatures of all States that they approve and pass only such food and drug laws, or amendments thereto, as are modeled after the provisions of the national law.

Control of Sales of Narcotics.

That all States be urged to enact such uniform laws in regard to controlling the sale of narcotic and habit-forming drugs, so that the sale of these drugs will be confined to their proper channels and uses.

Vital Statistics.

This Conference recommends Uniform State legislation on the subject of gathering and preservation of vital statistics.

The Practice of Medicine.

Uniformity in regulating the practice of medicine is of the utmost importance to the public health of the nation and to the peoples of the several States; therefore

It is requested of the Committee on Public Health, or other appropriate committee, of the Commissioners on Uniform States Laws that they cause to be prepared a model act for regulating the practice of medicine in the several States.

Compensation for Accidents.

The present remedies for compensation for industrial accidents throughout the various States are slow, uncertain and wasteful; and

There is not, and cannot be, any equitable solution thereof, based only on the fault of the employer, and

Twenty-three of the more progressive commercial nations abroad have bettered, and in some instances solved, the problem on the basis of Workmen's Compensation Acts, and

We believe that such Acts can be adequately substituted for our present laws and applied to our institutions with equal satisfaction and profit; therefore

This Conference recommends to the Governors of the several States now assembled in this city, and to the States, that Workmen's Compensation Acts, fair to the employer and employe and just to the State, be uniformly substituted for the present system of employers' liability for injuries received in and arising out of the course of employment.

Bureau of Mines.

The increasing loss of life in American mining operations and the enormous waste of resources essential to both the present and future welfare of the nation, plainly indicate the need of more uniform, rational, and enforceable mining laws and regulations in each of the several mining States; and

There is now pending before the Congress of the United States a bill to establish a Bureau of Mines in the Department of the Interior for inquiry and investigation, to aid in the accomplishment of these purposes; therefore

We earnestly urge upon the Governors of the several States the importance of co-operating with the Federal Government to procure uniformity upon which intelligent State legislation may be based.

Conservation of Forests.

This Conference endorses the Convention of American Forests. The effective handling of forest land in private ownership depends mainly upon uniform State laws, providing for right method of forest taxation and for the effective protection of forests from fire, it is therefore ordered

That this matter be referred to the Commission on Uniform State Laws.

Regulation of Water Power.

The development of water powers is a subject of growing public importance, and the regulation looking to the uniform control of these powers by State and Nation is a matter of public concern; therefore

This Conference recommends to the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws of the respective States, the importance of the consideration of this subject, with a view of securing uniformity of State laws as to the regulation of water power on non-navigable streams, and the necessity of uniformity of State regulation as to water power on navigable streams, with the object of securing proper and uniform co-operation between each State and the Federal government in the development and control of water power.

Taxation, Classification, Uniformity.

Every State ought to have constitutional powers to classify property for taxation, and all the States ought to impose their taxes in conformity with such a system of comity between the States that there shall be no double taxation which shall be unfair or oppressive to any citizen.

Insurance Code.

We favor a Uniform Insurance Code for adoption in the several States.

Child Labor.

This conference recommends to the Governors the adoption of uniform laws for the protection of children employed in industries.

Wills and Conveyances.

We recommend to the Governors of the several States and to the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, uniform State legislation on the general subjects of the execution and probate of wills, the form of acknowledgments, and the manner of conveyance of real estate.

Governmental Accounting.

The National Municipal League, the League of American Municipalities, the American Association of Public Accountants, the American Economic Asociation, the American Statistical Association, the Association of Municipal Comptrollers and Accounting Officers, the Government Accountants' Association and various other national and State bodies have endorsed the principles of uniform governmental accounting and standard governmental reports, and

The States of Ohio, New York, Massachusetts, Indiana, Rhode Island, Colorado, West Virginia and Wyoming have recognized this principle and have enacted legislation establishing Uniform Accounting Bureaus or Boards of Control and similar legislation is under consideration in various other States; therefore

The Governors and Legislatures of the several States are hereby urged to enact such measures upon conformitory lines, departing only so far as may be necessary from a standard form which shall thereby tend to become uniform, throughout the country.

Public Accountants.

Twenty-one States have enacted laws regulating the profession of public accountancy, all of which seek to attain the same ends but differ in important particulars as to standards and requirements; and

The proper regulation of the profession of accountancy is a subject of rapidly growing importance to the business community; therefore

This Conference heartily commends the principle of uniformity in certified public accountancy legislation, which should in every case require adequate standards as to education and training for admission and should provide suitable punishment for unprofessional conduct.

White Slave Traffic.

This National Conference on Uniform Legislation recommends to the Governors' Conference, that efficient and uniform legislation should be adopted to suppress and prevent the procurement of women for immoral purposes, known generally under the name of the white slave traffic; and that the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws be requested to draft a bill which will carry into effect the foregoing recommendation.

Civic Federation to Co-Operate.

The National Civic Federation is requested to promote State organizations for the advancement of uniform legislation and also requested, if deemed advisable, to arrange for Annual National Conferences upon the same subject to the end that the work may take more definite and concrete form.

Thanks to the Conference.

This Conference on Uniform State Legislation offers its thanks to the President of the United States for his deep interest in the objects of this Convention;

To the Governors and Commercial and Civic Organizations who have appointed delegates to this body;

To the Conference of Governors now in session in Washington, for their courtesy in giving a place upon their program for the purpose of receiving reports from this Conference; and

To Senator Root of New York for his instructive and valuable address.

Conference of 1910.

The Twentieth Conference of the Commission was held at Chattanooga, Tenn., August 25-29, 1910, twenty-nine States being represented. The sessions were principally occupied in the consideration of acts to make uniform the law of the incorporation of business corporations, relating to marriage and licenses to marry, family desertion and non-support, and on wills, descent and distribution.

The annual address by President Walter George Smith of Pennsylvania, and the reports of the several committees covered the questions involved in the commercial acts, and those above recommended for consideration, also a workman's compensation law, state appropriations for uniformity, assistance from other organizations, depositions, and proof of statutes of other States, child labor, Torrens system and registration of titles, and purity of articles of commerce, etc.

Proposed Acts.

Bills for proposed acts, covering all these matters are embodied in the reports of the National Commission, and will be laid before committees of the State Legislature when it next convenes, with proper references and recommendations.

The sessions of the commission, as well as the Civic Federation and the House of Governors, derived the greatest benefit from the view point of mere acquaintance, to confer, suggest, advise and focus public opinion and to transform all into a sentiment which will produce effective legislative action. Through these methods even constitutional amendments may be possible, in an easy and efficient way.

Expenditures of the Board.

The following is an account of the expenditures of the board for the years 1909-1910:
