RULES OF THE SENATE

TWELFTH SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF UTAH.

I.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS.

1. Punishment of Members—The Senate shall be the judge of the election and qualification of its members, and may punish them for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member for cause; and the reason for such expulsion shall be entered upon the journal, with the yea and nay vote of the members. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 10.)

2. Quorum—A majority of the members of the Senate shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 11.)

3. Journal—The Senate shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which, except in case of executive sessions, shall be published daily, and the yeas and nays on any question, at the request of five members of the Senate, shall be entered upon the journal. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 14.)

4. Sessions to be Public—All sessions of the Senate, except while sitting in executive session, shall be public, and it shall not without the consent of the House of Representatives, adjourn for more than three days. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 15.)

5. Enacting Clause and Vote—The enacting clause of every law shall be, "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Utah." No bill or Joint Resolution shall be passed, except with the assent of the majority of all the members elected to the Senate, and after it has been read three times. The vote upon the final passage of all bills shall be by yeas and nays; and no law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only; but the act as revised, or section as amended, shall be re-enacted and published at length. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 22.)

6. Bill to Contain Only One Subject—Except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of laws, no bill shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 23.)

7. President to Sign Bills—The President, in the presence of the Senate, shall sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature, after their titles have been publicly read immediately before signing, and the fact of such signing shall be entered upon the journal. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 24.)

II.

ORDER AND DISCIPLINE.

8. President to Call to Order—The President, or in his absence, any Senator called to the chair by the Senate, shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned, and shall immediately call the members to order, and upon the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read.

9. President in Charge of Senate Chamber—The President shall have the general direction of the Senate Chamber; he shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, and such member shall be vested with all the powers of the President while so presiding.

10. Preserve Decorum—The presiding officer shall preserve decorum and order, and may speak to points of order, in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose; and he shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member, and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate.

11. Disorderly Conduct, Etc.—In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct the President shall have the power to order the lobby or gallery to be cleared.

12. Punishment by Imprisonment—The Senate, during its session, may punish by imprisonment any person not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the same, by any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not at any time exceed twenty-four hours, unless the person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous behavior.

13. Member Called to Order for Words Spoken—If any member be called to order for words spoken in debates the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down by the Secretary; but no member shall be held to answer or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words thus spoken, if any member has meanwhile spoken in debate or other business has intervened.

14. Member Not to Enter Into Private Discussion, Etc.—While the President is putting a question, or addressing the Senate, no member shall walk out of or across the room; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking shall pass between the speaker and the chair.

15. Trangression of Rules—When any member, in speaking (or otherwise) transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall sit down, unless permitted to explain; and the Senate, if appealed to shall decide on the case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed. If otherwise, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the Senate.

16. Members to Vote, Except—Every member who shall be in the Senate Chamber when a question is put shall vote, unless excused by the Senate.

17. Members Not to Vote Unless in Chamber—No member shall be permitted to vote on any question, unless within the Senate Chamber before the vote is announced.

18. Call of the Senate—Any five Senators may make a call of the Senate and require absent Senators to be sent for, but a call of the Senate cannot be made after the voting has commenced; and a call for the Senate being ordered, the doors shall be closed and the absentees noted, and no Senator shall be permitted to leave the room without the consent of the President, until the report of the Sergeant-at-Arms be received and acted upon, or further proceedings in the call be suspended, or the Senate adjourn. Previous to the reception of such report, further proceedings in the call shall not be suspended, except by vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

III.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

19. President to Assign Officers—The President shall assign to the officers and employees of the Senate their respective duties and stations, and shall have general supervision over them. (For further duties of President, see Rules 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 15.)

20. Secretary—It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep the journal, in which he shall record the motions, resolutions, rules, decisions and all other proceedings of the Senate, and to do and perform such other acts appertaining to his office as may be required of him by the Senate or its presiding officer, and it shall be his further duty to keep the Senate calendar as by Rule No. 32 provided.

21. Secretary Supervision of Clerks—The Secretary shall have supervision over all employees not under the supervision of the Sergeant-at-Arms except the engrossing clerk or clerks. The Secretary shall keep a record of the attendance of all employees, and any employee absenting himself or herself without the consent of the President shall not be paid for the day or days of such absence; and there shall be a record kept of all leaves of absence granted.

22. Sergeant-at-Arms to Attend Sittings, Etc.—It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to attend all sittings of the Senate, to execute the command of the Senate from time to time, and to serve all process which shall be issued by order of the Senate, or by the order of any committee, when the same is signed by the President. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall have supervision over the doorkeepers, messengers and watchmen, and he shall preserve order in the lobby and gallery and guard the floor from intruders; and he shall report each day to the Secretary the absence or late arrival of any employee of the Senate.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

23. Standing Committees—The following standing committees shall be appointed by the President:

Agriculture, three members.
Appropriations and Claims, five members.
Commerce and Industries, three members.
Education, three members.
Engrossing and Enrolling, three members.
Judiciary, five members.

Legislative Reference, three members.
Public Affairs, five members.
Public Health and Labor, three members.
Rules, three members.

IV.

PRACTICE.

24. Privileged Committee Report—The Committee on Engrossing and Enrolling may tender a report at any time.

25. Report of Committee on Rules—It shall always be in order to call up for consideration the report of the Committee on Rules.

26. No Committee Shall Sit While Senate is in Session—No committee shall sit while the Senate is in session, without special leave.

27. Presenting Resolutions—All resolutions presented to the Senate shall lie one day on the table.

28. Number of Copies Required for Introduction—Seven typewritten copies of every bill, resolution or memorial shall be furnished to the Secretary by the member introducing same. Preceding the title shall be the following heading:

"Senate Bill (or Resolution or Memorial) No..... by (inserting the name of the member or committee introducing same)."

In all cases where it is proposed to amend an existing statute, the new matter shall be underscored, so as to be easily distinguishable from the old matter to be left in the statute.

29. Course to be Followed by Bill—Each bill introduced shall be subject to the following course of procedure:

(a) Upon the introduction of a bill, it shall be read by the Secretary, either in full or by title.

(b) It shall then be referred by the President to the Legislative Reference Committee.

(c) It shall then be reported to the Senate by said committee, and read for the second time, either in full or by title.

(d) If ordered printed, it shall be referred by the President to a regular standing committee, and after the report of such committee, it shall take its place upon the calendar.

(e) When a bill is reached upon the calendar and is regularly called for consideration by the Senate, it shall be read in full, and this shall constitute its third reading.

30. Printing of Bills—A bill when introduced and read for the first time, shall thereupon be referred to the Legislative Reference Committee, and said Committee shall, within five days, critically examine said bill, and without altering the general intent and purpose thereof, shall consider (1) the constitutionality thereof, (2) the orderly, logical and grammatical construction thereof, and (3) the proper relation thereof to existing statues. The committee shall then propose amendments to such bill to conform to its findings in the foregoing particulars, whereupon it shall report the bill to the Senate, with a recommendation as to whether it shall be printed and as to the number of copies required, if any. If the Senate orders the bill printed, the President shall thereupon refer it to the appropriate standing committee for consideration and recommendation as to its passage.

No bill shall be printed at the expense of the State until acted upon by the committee as herein provided.

The Legislative Reference Committee shall recommend to the Senate the employment of two persons possessing the necessary qualifications of scholarship and legal training, to render expert service in the examination and revision of bills as herein provided, and shall recommend the compensation of each.

31. Bills Automatically to Take Place on Calendar —It shall be the duty of each standing committee to report back to the Senate each and every bill referred to it within twenty days after the date of reference. This time may, however, be extended by a majority vote of the Senate; but if the committee fails to report within said period of twenty days and no extension of time be granted, then the bill shall automatically take its place upon the calendar as though regularly reported by the committee; provided, however, that all Senate bills shall be reported by all standing committees not later than the fiftieth day of the session.

32. Senate Chamber—Secretary Responsible For —The calendar shall be under the direct charge and control of the Secretary of the Senate, and it shall be his duty forthwith to cause to be placed thereon each bill reported by any standing committee in the order in which reported, and also each bill automatically taking its place upon the calendar as by Rule 31 provided; and bills shall be read and considered by the Senate in the order thus established, and such order shall not be changed except by unanimous consent.

33. Limitation of Time for Presenting Bills—No Bills shall be introduced after the thirtieth day of the session without unanimous consent.

34. Amendments—No amendment, by way of rider, shall be made to any bill on its third reading.

35. Alteration of Rules—No rule of the Senate shall be altered, suspended or reconsidered, without the vote of two-thirds of the members present.

36. Message From House—Messages from the House of Representatives may be received at any time except when the President is putting the question, or the yeas and nays are being called, and upon motion may be considered at any time.

37. Previous Question—The previous question shall not be entertained or be a rule of practice in the Senate.

V.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE.

38. Daily Order of Business—The daily order of business shall be as follows:

1. Roll Call.
2. Prayer by the Chaplain.
3. Reading of the Journal.
4. Unfinished Business.
5. Presentation of Petitions.
6. Reports of Standing Committees.
7. Reports of Special Committees.
8. Presentation of Resolutions.
9. Introduction of Bills.
10. Consideration of Resolutions.
11. Consideration of Bills on the Calendar.
12. Miscellaneous Business.

39. Rules of Parliamentary Practice—The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Roberts' Rules of Order, shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate.

40. Motion to Commit—A motion to commit, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments, and debate on the main question, and a motion to postpone indefinitely or to a day certain, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments on the main question.

41. Motion to Reconsider—Upon a motion to reconsider the vote on the final passage of any bill, a majority of all the members elected shall be required to reconsider the same.

42. Constitutional Majority—If a bill shall fail to pass on account of not having received the constitutional majority, any Senator having voted in the negative shall have a right to move a reconsideration.

43. Motions or Propositions—No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

44. Motion Stated Before Debate—When a motion is made it shall be stated by the President, or, if in writing, shall be handed to the Secretary and read aloud before debate.

45. Motion in Writing—When—Every motion shall be reduced to writing upon demand of the President or any member.

46. Yeas and Nays—When the yeas and nays are taken on any question, no member shall be permitted to vote or to change his vote after the decision is announced by the chair, unless permitted by a two-thirds vote of the Senate, before decision.

47. Withdrawing Motion—After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed in the possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn at any time by the unanimous consent of the Senate, before decision.

48. What Motions Received—When a question is under debate, no motion shall be entertained, except:

To fix the time to which to adjourn.
To adjourn.
To call the Senate.
To lay on the table.
To postpone to a day certain.
To postpone indefinitely.
To commit.
To amend.

49. These several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged.

50. Motion to Postpone—No motion to postpone to a day certain or indefinitely, or to commit, being decided in the negative, shall again be allowed on the same day.

51. Motion to Strike Out—A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to demand, and if carried shall be deemed equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

52. Dividing the Question Under Debate—If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out or insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question; but the rejection of a motion to strike out or insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out or insert a different proposition.

53. Moving for a Reconsideration of Motions Already Carried—When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for a member of the majority to move for a reconsideration thereof; or give notice that he will make such motion within the time prescribed by the rules, for which time he shall control the motion. No motion for reconsideration shall be in order unless made within the next day of actual session of the Senate; provided that should the member giving notice of a motion to reconsider not make such a motion within the time prescribed by the rules, any other member voting with the majority may make such motion within the next succeding legislative day. Such motion shall take precedence of all other questions except a motion to adojurn.

54. Amendments—Amendments shall be in order at the third reading of a bill, resolution or motion requiring three readings, and it shall be at all times in order, before the final passage of such bill, resolution, or motion, to move its commitment or recommitment.

VI.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS AND NOMINATIONS.

55. Messages from Governor or State Officers—Messages from the Governor and communications from State officers may be received at any time, except when the President is putting the question and the yeas and nays are being called, and upon motion, may be considered at any time. The consideration of nominations, or other executive business may take place with closed doors.

56.—Nominations—Nominations may be referred to a standing or special committee. On considering nominations the President shall put the following question: "Does the Senate advise and consent to the nomination just made?" While any nomination remains with the Senate, it shall be in order to reconsider any vote taken thereon.

57. Action on Appointees—Action on all appointees made by the Governor for confirmation by the Senate, shall be deferred three days from the time any designated appointment or appointments are received by the Senate.

MISCELLANEOUS.

58. Admittance to Floor—No person, except members of the House of Representatives and their officers, members and ex-members of Congress, heads of Executive Departments of this State, Chaplains, Judges of the United States Courts, and of the State Courts, former Governors and ex-members of the Lagislature and members of the Constitutional Convention, and the Mayor and City Commissioners of Salt Lake City, and general field and staff officers of the National Guard of Utah, the officers of the United States Army, and reporters of the press, shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate unless by leave of the President, or on special invitation of a member.

59. Hours of Meeting—Unless otherwise ordered, the regular hours of meeting of the Senate shall be 2 o'clock p. m. daily. Sunday excepted.

SENATE JOURNAL

TWELFTH SESSION

FIRST DAY.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 8, 1917.

Pursuant to constitutional requirements, the hold-over Senators and the Senators-elect of the Twelfth Regular Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah, convened at 12 o'clock noon.

The Senate was called to order by Secretary of State Harden Bennion, who read the following Certificate of Election.

STATE OF UTAH,
Executive Department,
Secretary of State's Office.

I, Harden Bennion, Secretary of State of the State of Utah, do hereby certify that on Tuesday the Seventh day of November, A. D. One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixteen, at the general election held within and for said State, the following named persons were duly elected from their respective Senatorial districts to the membership in the State Senate for the term of four years:

as appears from the returns of said electon, which have been duly canvassed and certified and are of record in the office of the Secretary of State.

And I do further certify that the following named persons:
James W. Funk of Cache county, Second District;
Joseph Chez of Weber County, Fourth District;
George H. Dern, Frank Evans of Salt Lake county, Sixth District;
H. T. Reynolds, John H. Wootton of Utah county, Seventh District;
Orlando Bradley of Sanpete county, Ninth District;
William W. Seegmiller of Kane county, Eleventh District;
Don B. Colton of Uintah county, Twelfth District; are "holdover" Senators by virtue of a previous election and are entitled to serve their unexpired term as members of the State Senate from their respective Senatorial Districts.

WHEREFORE, by virtue of said elections and in the absence of any question of eligibility arising here or hereafter, each and all of the aforesaid persons are entitled to sit as the members of the State Senate in the Twelfth Session of the Utah State Legislature.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Utah this Eighth day of January, A. D. 1917.

HARDEN BENNION,
Secretary of State.

The oath of office was then administered to the members by Chief Justice J. E. Frick of the Supreme Court.

The roll call showed all the members of the Senate present.

Prayer was offered by O. B. Huntington.

Nominations for President being declared in order, Senator Olson nominated Senator J. W. Funk of Cache county.

Senators Chez, Evans and Reynolds seconded the nomination of Senator J. W. Funk.

Senator Wm. W. Seegmiller nominated John B. Colton of Vernal.

Senator J. H. Wootton seconded the nomination of Senator Don B. Colton.

For Senator J. W. Funk—Senators Bevan, Stringham, Parker, Clyde, Olson, Armstrong, Walton, Stevens, Kimball, Chez, Dern, Evans, Reynolds, Bradley, Colton; total, 15.

For Senator Don B. Colton—Senators Funk, Wootton, Seegmiller; total, 3.

On motion of Senator Colton the election of Senator J. W. Funk as President of the Twelfth Session of the Senate was made unanimous.

Senators Olson and Chez were appointed a committee to escort Senator Funk to the President's chair.

Chief Justice J. E. Frick then administered the oath of office.

Senator Dern then moved the following Order of Business:

1. Nomination and election of officers and employees of the Senate, and administering oath of office to same.

2. Appointment of a committee of three to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is organized and ready for business.

3. Appointment of a committee of three to act with a like committee from the House of Representatives, to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the Legislature is duly organized for the transaction of business, and is ready to receive any communication he may desire to submit.

4. Appointment of a committee on Rules, consisting of three members.
5. Selection of seats.
6. Recess, one hour.
7. Report of the Committee on Rules.
8. Adjournment.

Senator Dern moved the appointment of the following officers:

Watchmen—H. P. Myton of Salt Lake and Thomas Hunt of Sevier.

Doorkeepers—Henry Marshall of Tooele and Thomas Smith of Salt Lake.

The vote on the substitute motion was lost, and on motion of Senator Colton the original motion was made unanimous.

The motion was declared carried, and the oath of office was then administered to the officers elect by Chief Justice J. E. Frick.

On motion of Senator Dern the President appointed the following committee to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate was organized and ready for business: Senators Parker, Colton and Olson.

On motion of Senator Evans the President was empowered to appoint the other committees mentioned in the Order of Business.

The President appointed Senators Stringham, Seegmiller and Reynolds to act with a like committee from the House of Representatives to wait upon the Governor and inform him that the Senate was duly organized for the transaction of business, and ready to receive any communications he may desire to submit.

The President appointed Senators Evans, Dern and Chez as a Committee on Rules.

On motion of Senator Armstrong, Senators Wootton, Seegmiller and Colton were given the first choice of seats in the Senate Chamber; Senators Chez, Dern, Evans, Reynolds and Bradley were given second choice of seats by lot; Senators Bevan, Armstrong, Walton, Stringham, Parker, Clyde, Bradley, Stevens and Kimball, third choice of seats by lot.

The President thanked the Senate for the flowers placed on his desk by members of the Senate.

The Senate took a recess for one hour.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 8, 1917.

Mr. President:

We are directed to inform your honorable body that the House of Representatives is now in session and ready for the transaction of business.

P. Rees; Janitor, Jos. H. Newton; Committee Clerks, Mabel Wysong, Maud Forsgren, June Q. Kimball, J. Pratt Duke, Hattie Peters, Lavon Chandler.

Respectfully,

ADAM L. PETERSEN,
Chief Clerk.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 8, 1917.

Mr. President:

I am directed to inform your honorable body that House of Representatives has this day appointed the following committee to act conjointly with a like committee, on the part of the Senate to wait upon his excellency, the Governor, and inform him that the Legislature is now duly organized for the transaction of business and is ready to receive any communications he may desire to submit.

Respectfully,

GEORGE W. DECKER,
FRANK T. BENNETT,
DAISY C. ALLEN,
Committee.

ADAM L. PETERSON,
Chief Clerk.

The report of the Committee on Rules of the Senate for the Twelfth Session was adopted with a few minor corrections which were accepted by the committee.

RULES OF THE SENATE.
TWELFTH SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF UTAH.

I.

Constitutional Provisions.

1. Punishment of Members. The Senate shall be the judge of the election and qualification of its members, and may punish them for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member for cause; and the reason for such expulsion shall be entered upon the journal, with the yea and nay vote of the members. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 10.)

2. Quorum. A majority of the members of the Senate shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 11.)

3. Journal. The Senate shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which, except in case of executive sessions, shall be published daily, and the yeas and nays on any question, at the request of five members of the Senate, shall be entered upon the journal. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 14.)

4. Sessions to be Public. All sessions of the Senate, except while sitting in executive session, shall be public; and it shall not without the consent of the House of Representatives, adjourn for more than three days. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 15.)

5. Enacting Clause and Vote. The enacting clause of every law shall be, 'Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Utah.'' No bill or Joint Resolution shall be passed, except with the assent of the majority of all the members elected to the Senate, and after it has been read three times. The vote upon the final passage of all bills shall be by yeas and nays; and no law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only; but the act as revised, or section as amended, shall be re-enacted and published at length. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 22.)

6. Bill to Contain Only One Subject. Except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of laws, no bill shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 23.)

7. President to Sign Bills. The President, in the presence of the Senate, shall sign all bills and joint resolutions passed by the Legislature, after their titles have been publicly read immediately before signing, and the fact of such signing shall be entered upon the journal. (Const. Art. VI, Sec. 24.)

II.

ORDER AND DISCIPLINE.

8. President to Call to Order. The President, or in his absence, any Senator called to the chair by the Senate, shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour to which the Senate shall have adjourned, and shall immediately call the members to order, and upon the appearance of a quorum, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read.

9. President in Charge of Senate Chamber. The President shall have the general direction of the Senate Chamber; he shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, and such member shall be vested with all the powers of the President while so presiding.

10. Preserve Decorum. The presiding officer shall preserve decorum and order, and may speak to points of order, in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose; and he shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Senate by any member, and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once, unless by leave of the Senate.

11. Disorderly Conduct, Etc. In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct the President shall have the power to order the lobby or gallery to be cleared.

12. Punishment by Imprisonment. The Senate, during its session, may punish by imprisonment any person not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the same, by any disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not at any time exceed twenty-four hours, unless the person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous behavior.

13. Member Called to Order for Words Spoken. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall repeat the words excepted to, and they shall be taken down by the Secreatry; but no member shall be held to answer or be subject to the censure of the Senate for words thus spoken, if any member has meanwhile spoken in debate or other business has intervened.

14. Member Not to Enter Into Private Discussion, Etc. While the President is putting a question, or addressing the Senate, no member shall walk out of or across the room; nor in such case, or when a member is speaking shall pass between the speaker and the chair.

15. Transgression of Rules. When any member, in speaking (or otherwise) transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President shall, or any member may call him to order, in which case the member so called to order shall sit down, unless permitted to explain; and the Senate, if appealed to, shall decide on the case without debate. If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, he shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case requires it, he shall be liable to the censure of the Senate.

16. Members to Vote, Except. Every member who shall be in the Senate Chamber when a question is put shall vote, unless excused by the Senate.

17. Members Not to Vote Unless in Chamber. No member shall be permitted to vote on any question, unless within the Senate Chamber before the vote is announced.

18. Call of the Senate. Any five Senators may make a call of the Senate and require absent Senators to be sent for, but a call of the Senate cannot be made after the voting has commenced; and a call of the Senate being ordered, the doors shall be closed and the absentees noted, and no Senator shall be permitted to leave the room without the consent of the President, until the report of the Sergeant-at-Arms be received and acted upon, or further proceedings in the call be suspended, or the Senate adjourn. Previous to the reception of such report, further proceedings in the call shall not be suspended, except by vote of two-thirds of the Senators present.

III.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

19. President to Assign Officers. The President shall assign to the officers and employees of the Senate their respective duties and stations, and shall have general supervision over them. (For further duties of President, see Rules 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 15.)

20. Secretary. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep the journal, in which he shall record the motions, resolutions, rules, decisions and all other proceedings of the Senate, and to do and perform such other acts appertaining to his office as may be required of him by the Senate or its presiding officer, and it shall be his further duty to keep the Senate calendar as by Rule No. 32 provided.

21. Secretary Supervision of Clerks. The Secretary shall have supervision over all employees not under the supervision of the sergeant-at-arms except the engrossing clerk or clerks. The Secretary shall keep a record of the attendance of all employees, and any employee absenting himself or herself without the consent of the President shall not be paid for the day or days of such absence; and there shall be a record kept of all leaves of absence granted.

22. Sergeant-at-Arms to Attend Sittings, Etc. It shall be the duty of the Sergeant-at-Arms to attend all sittings of the Senate, to execute the command of the Senate from time to time, and to serve all process which shall be issued by order of the Senate, or by the order of any committee, when the same is signed by the President. The Sergeant-at-Arms shall have supervision over the doorkeepers, messengers and watchmen, and he shall preserve order in the lobby and gallery and guard the floor from intruders; and he shall report each day to the Secretary the absence or late arrival of any employee of the Senate.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

23. Standing Committees. The following standing committees shall be appointed by the President:

Agriculture, three members.
Appropriations and Claims, five members.
Commerce and Industries, three members.
Education, three members.
Engrossing and Enrolling, three members.
Judiciary, five members.
Legislative Reference, three members.
Public Affairs, five members.
Public Health and Labor, three members.
Rules, three members.

IV.

PRACTICE.

24. Privileged Committee Report. The Committee on Engrossing and Enrolling may tender a report at any time.

25. Report of Committee on Rules. It shall always be in order to call up for consideration the report of the Committee on Rules.

26. No Committee Shall Sit While Senate is in Session. No committee shall sit while the Senate is in session, without special leave.

27. Presenting Resolutions. All resolutions presented to the Senate shall lie one day on the table.

28. Number of Copies Required for Introduction. Seven typewritten copies of every bill, resolution or memorial shall be furnished to the Secretary by the member introducing same. Preceding the title shall be the following heading:

"Senate Bill (or Resolution or Memorial) No. .... by (inserting the name of the member or committee introducing same.)"

In all cases where it is proposed to amend an existing statute, the new matter shall be underscored, so as to be easily distinguishable from the old matter to be left in the statute.

29. Course to be Followed by Bill. Each bill introduced shall be subject to the following course of procedure:

(a) Upon the introduction of a bill, it shall be read by the Secretary, either in full or by title.

(b) It shall then be referred by the President to the Legislative Reference Committee.

(c) It shall then be reported to the Senate by said committee, and read for the second time, either in full or by title.

(d) If ordered printed, it shall be referred by the President to a regular standing committee, and after the report of such committee, it shall take its place upon the calendar.

(e) When a bill is reached upon the calendar and is regularly called for consideration by the Senate, it shall be read in full, and this shall constitute its third reading.

30. Printing of Bills. A bill when introduced and read for the first time, shall thereupon be referred to the Legislative Reference Committee, and said Committee shall, within five days, critically examine said bill, and without altering the general intent and purpose thereof, shall consider (1) the constitutionality thereof, (2) the orderly, logical and grammatical construction thereof, and (3) the proper relation thereof to existing statutes. The committee shall then propose amendments to such bill to conform to its findings in the foregoing particulars, whereupon it shall report the bill to the Senate, with a recommendation as to whether it shall be printed and as to the number of copies required, if any. If the Senate orders the bill printed, the President shall thereupon refer it to the appropriate standing committee for consideration and recommendation as to its passage. No bill shall be printed at the expense of the State until acted upon by the committee as herein provided.

The Legislative Reference Committee shall recommend to the Senate the employment of two persons possessing the necessary qualifications of scholarship and legal training, to render expert service in the examination and revision of bills as herein provided, and shall recommend the compensation of each.

31. Bills Automatically to Take Place on Calendar. It shall be the duty of each standing committee to report back to the Senate each and every bill referred to it within twenty days after the date of reference. This time may, however, be extended by a majority vote of the Senate; but if the committee fails to report within said period of twenty days and no extension of time be granted, then the bill shall automatically take its place upon the calendar as though regularly reported by the committee; provided, however, that all Senate bills shall be reported by all standing committees not later than the fiftieth day of the session.

32. Senate Calendar—Secretary Responsible For. The calendar shall be under the direct charge and control of the Secretary of the Senate, and it shall be his duty forthwith to cause to be placed theron each bill reported by any standing committee in the order in which reported, and also each bill automatically taking its place upon the calendar as by Rule 31 provided; and bills shall be read and considered by the Senate in the order thus established, and such order shall not be changed except by unanimous consent.

33. Limitation of Time for Presenting Bills. . No bill shall be introduced after the thirtieth day of the session without unanimous consent.

34. Amendments. No Amendment, by way of rider, shall be made to any bill on its third reading.

35. Alteration of Rules. No rule of the Senate shall be altered, suspended or reconsidered, without the vote of two-thirds of the members present.

36. Message From House. Messages from the House of Representatives may be received at any time except when the President is putting the question, or the yeas and nays are being called, and upon motion, may be considered at any time.

37. Previous Question. The previous question shall not be entertained or be a rule of practice in the Senate.

V.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE.

38. Daily Order of Business. The daily order of business shall be as follows:

1. Roll Call.
2. Prayer by the Chaplain.
3. Reading of the Journal.
4. Unfinished Business.
5. Presentation of Petitions.
6. Reports of Standing Committees.
7. Reports of Special Committees.
8. Presentation of Resolutions.
9. Introduction of Bills.
10. Consideration of Resolutions.
11. Consideration of Bills on the Calendar.
12. Miscellaneous Business.

39. Rules of Parliamentary Practice. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Roberts' Rules of Order, shall govern the Senate in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate.

40. Motion to Commit. A motion to commit, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments and debate on the main question, and a motion to postpone indefinitely or to a day certain, until it is decided, shall preclude all amendments on the main question.

41. Motion to Reconsider. Upon a motion to reconsider the vote on the final passage of any bill, a majority of all the members elected shall be required to reconsider the same.

42. Constitutional Majority. If a bill shall fail to pass on account of not having received the constitutional majority, any Senator having voted in the negative shall have a right to move a reconsideration.

43. Motions or Propositions. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment.

44. Motion Stated Before Debate. When a motion is made it shall be stated by the President, or, if in writing, shall be handed to the Secretary and read aloud before debate.

45. Motion in Writing. When. Every motion shall be reduced to writing upon demand of the President or any member.

46. Yeas and Nays. When the yeas and nays are taken on any question, no member shall be permitted to vote or to change his vote after the decision is announced by the chair, unless permitted by a two-thirds vote of the Senators present and voting.

47. Withdrawing Motion. After a motion is stated by the President, or read by the Secretary, it shall be deemed in the possession of the Senate, but may be withdrawn at any time by the unanimous consent of the Senate, before decision.

48. What Motions Received. When a question is under debate, no motion shall be entertained, except:

To fix the time to which to adjourn.
To adjourn.
To call the Senate.
To lay on the table.
To postpone to a day certain.
To postpone indefinitely.
To commit.
To amend.

49. These several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they stand arranged.

50. Motion to Postpone. No motion to postpone to a day certain or indefinitely, or to commit, being decided in the negative, shall again be allowed on the same day.

51. Motion to Strike Out. A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill shall have precedence of a motion to amend, and if carried shall be deemed equivalent to the rejection of the bill.

52. Dividing the Question Under Debate. If the question in debate contains several points, any member may have the same divided; but on motion to strike out or insert, it shall not be in order to move for a division of the question; but the rejection of a motion to strike out or insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out or insert a different proposition.

53. Moving for a Reconsideration of Motions Already Carried. When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for a member of the majority to move for a reconsideration thereof; or give notice that he will make such motion within the time prescribed by the rules, for which time he shall control the motion. No motion for reconsideration shall be in order unless made within the next day of actual session of the Senate; provided that should the member giving notice of a motion to reconsider not make such a motion within the time prescribed by the rules, any other member voting with the majority may make such motion within the next succeeding legislative day. Such motion shall take precedence of all other questions except a motion to adjourn.

54. Amendments. Amendments shall be in order at the third reading of a bill, resolution or motion requiring three readings, and it shall be at all times in order, before the final passage of such bill, resolution, or motion, to move its commitment or recommitment.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS AND NOMINATIONS.

VI.

55. Messages from Governor or State Officers. Messages from the Governor and communications from State officers may be received at any time, except when the President is putting the question and the yeas and nays are being called, and upon motion, may be considered at any time. The consideration of nominations, or other executive business may take place with closed doors.

56. Nominations. Nominations may be referred to a standing or special committee. On considering nominations the President shall put the following question: "Does the Senate advise and consent to the nomination just made?" While any nomination remains with the Senate, it shall be in order to reconsider any vote taken thereon.

57. Action on Appointees. Action on all appointees made by the Governor for confirmation by the Senate, shall be deferred three days from the time any designated appointment or appointments are received by the Senate.

MISCELLANEOUS.

58. Admittance to Floor. No person, except members of the House of Representatives and their officers, members and ex-members of Congress, heads of Executive Departments of this State, Chaplains, Judges of the United States Courts, and of the State Courts, former Governors and ex-members of the Legislature and members of the Constitutional Convention, and the Mayor and City Commissioners of Salt Lake City, and general field and staff officers of the National Guard of Utah, the officers of the United States Army, and reporters of the press, shall be admitted to the floor of the Senate unless by leave of the President, or on special invitation of a member.

59. Hours of Meeting. Unless otherwise ordered, the regular hour of meeting of the Senate shall be at 2 o'clock p. m. daily. Sunday excepted.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
G. H. DERN,
JOSEPH CHEZ,
Committee.

The report of the committee to notify the House that the Senate was duly organized was received and accepted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY THE HOUSE.

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 8, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your committee appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate has convened, organized and is ready for business, respectfully reports that we found the House of Representatives in session and delivered said notification, which was duly acknowledged by the House of Representatives.

W. J. PARKER,
DON B. COLTON,
CULBERT L. OLSON,
Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY GOVERNOR.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 8, 1917.

Mr. President:

We, your committee appointed to wait upon the Governor with a committee of the House to notify his excellency of the organization of the Legislature, beg leave to report that it will be the Governor's pleasure to meet with the Legislature in joint session at 12 noon on January 9, 1917.

Respectfully,

RICHARD STRINGHAM,
WM. W. SEEGMILLER,
H. T. REYNOLDS.

At 4:30 p. m., on motion of Senator Dern, the Senate adjourned until 11:45 a. m., January 9, 1917.

SECOND DAY.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 9, 1917.

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order at 11:45 a. m.

President Funk presiding.

Roll call. All members present but Senators Parker and Stringham.

Prayer by Chaplain.

The reading of the minutes of the first day's session was dispensed with owing to the lack of time before the hour of meeting in joint session of the Legislature.

On motion of Senator Olson, a recess was taken in order to meet in joint session of the Legislature to hear the Governor's message, and to reconvene again in the Senate Chamber immediately thereafter.

JOINT SESSION.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 9, 1917.

The Twelfth Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah, met in joint session at 12 noon, President Funk of the Senate presiding.

The Secretary of the Senate called the roll of the Senate. Quorum was present.

The Chief Clerk of the House called the roll of the House. Quorum was present.

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain of the Senate.

On motion of Senator Chez, the President appointed a committee of three members from the Senate and three members from the House, to notify his Excellency the Governor that the Legislature was in joint session and ready to receive his message.

The committee from the Senate, were Senators Chez, Evans and Wootton. The committee from the House were Representatives Fisher, Young and Eddy.

At 12:15 p. m. Senator Chez announced the arrival of the Governor and the Governor was introduced to the joint assembly by President Funk, and read his message as follows:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
STATE OF UTAH.
Salt Lake City, Jan. 9, 1917.

To the Legislature of the State of Utah:

Obedient to the Constitution of the State of Utah I come before the Legislature to submit a statement of the condition of the State and of its several departments and institutions, to make recommendations for legislation and to offer suggestions as to policies which should govern the Legislature in its deliberations.

It is not necessary for me to remind you of the opportunity for public service that has come to the members of this assembly, nor is it pertinent to call attention to the grave responsibilities which rest with the legislative branch of the State government. The importance of this occasion, I believe, is sensed by all of you. To you the people of Utah look for constructive leadership. It is for you to take the necessary steps to put this State in the front ranks of the progressive states of this great nation.

Our platform promises are covenants with the people. What we have promised we will do to the best of our ability. But it does not follow because a sweeping change has been made in the political complexion of the Legislature, that radical legislation is expected except in those specified innovations promised to and ordered by the people. Certainly nothing in the way of freak legislation is justified by the platform upon which we were elected. We represent a careful, painstaking, and conservative constituency. Our measures should be few, carefully considered, and constructed to stand any test the future may place upon them.

Materially our beloved commonwealth has been marvelously blessed. Recent years have witnessed a wonderful growth and development. Everything produced in Utah is now sought in every market of the world. This Legislature, of course, has no desire to hamper the prosperity of this great State, but intends by progressive legislation to foster and extend this happy condition.

FACING A DEFICIT

While the people of Utah are prosperous and contented, the finances of the State government are far from satisfactory. You, ladies and gentlemen of this Legislature, are confronted with the difficult problem of providing revenue, not only to meet the current expenses and growing needs of the State government for the next biennium, but also sufficient to meet a deficit of nearly half a million dollars which comes as a legacy from preceding administrations.

The responsibility for this inexcusable condition rests largely with the Legislature of 1915, which recklessly appropriated funds far in excess of the estimated revenues of the State. Particular attention is called to this fact here and now lest this Legislature fall into the error of its predecessor.

This administration is pledged to the most rigid economy and it is well that the Legislature should keep in mind what is expected of it. Every request for an appropriation should be scrutinized with the most painstaking care and no appropriation not absolutely necessary for the immediate welfare of the State should be granted.

You will be asked by the various State departments and institutions for appropriations of more than one million dollars in excess of the estimated revenue for the ensuing biennium. It is your duty under the Constitution of the State to keep your appropriations within the estimated amount of revenue which the State will receive from taxation and fees during the next two years.

ECONOMY NECESSARY

Many requests will be received from State institutions for appropriations for new buildings. I would suggest at this time the advisability of denying all such requests, at least until the deficit is wiped out. The condition of the State Treasury necessitates such economy that it seems to me we must call a halt in our building program in order to be in a position to meet the just obligations to which the credit of the State is pledged.

In furtherance of our program of economy and in other legislative matters your Governor is ever ready to meet with you as individuals, and in committee, to advise with you, and to give what information he may possess. The other State officers and heads of departments will be at your service during the session.

In this connection I wish to acknowledge the courtesy of my predecessor, of the members of his office force, and of the outgoing State officers who have aided the new administration in every way possible. They inform me that they will be glad to co-operate with the members of the Legislature and to aid them in making their session a success.

State officers and heads of departments of the last preceding administration have submitted detailed reports of the operations of the several State departments and institutions during the last two years. These reports have either already been placed before you or will soon reach your desks. In these reports you will find various recommendations as to legislation. I am not prepared to concur in all such recommendations but they merit your careful consideration.

Before going into detail as to recommendations for legislation, I wish to urge upon you the necessity for expedition in the work of the Legislature. It has been a matter of comment that the usual legislative assembly wastes the first half of its session in idling and spends the the last half in hastily considering a mass of very important legislation, with the result that much of the work of the Legislature is likely to prove far from satisfactory. The business of the public is of such a grave nature and so important as to merit the most careful attention from the opening day of the session to the closing day. There is no reason why consideration of vital matters should be postponed. May we not expect to have much of the most important work behind us when the session is half completed?

There is ample opportunity for this Legislature to set a splendid example of economy for legislatures to come. You have made a good beginning by reducing the number of employees of each branch of the assembly.

A material saving can be made by avoiding needless expense in printing bills and documents. No bill should be printed unless, in the opinion of the committee to which it is referred, it is one that merits the serious consideration of the members.

PROHIBITION

The work of the Legislature should be easier than usual because of the fact that almost every member is pledged to the same program of progressive legislation. The people of the State have outlined clearly what is expected. It only remains for you to work out the details of the general plan.

Of paramount importance in this legislative program is the enactment of a law providing for absolute prohibition within the borders of this State. The first duty of the Legislature is to enact an effective prohibition law.

Practically every member of this assembly is definitely committed to the enactment of a law prohibiting the manufacture, sale or other disposition of intoxicating liquors and intoxicating beverages within the State of Utah, such law to be in full force and effect not later than August 1st, 1917.

It should not be a difficult task for the members of this assembly to prepare and pass a measure in exact accord with this covenant with the people of Utah. The people want only an honest and effective prohibition law. It is the duty—and I assure you it will be the great honor and privilege—of the Governor of Utah to sign such a measure.

Most of the members of the Legislature are further pledged to submit to the people of Utah for their vote and approval at the next general election an amendment to the State Constitution which shall forever prohibit the manufacture, sale or other disposition of intoxicants of every kind within the State.

I respectfully urge the submission of such an amendment to the Constitution.

There should be no occasion for any delay in carrying out this program of prohibition legislation. An excellent opportunity is here offered us to show how we fulfill our pledges to the people of the State.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

Utah is one of two states—the other one being Delaware—having little or no provision for the regulation of public service corporations. Our statute books are almost barren on this most important subject. Almost every other state in the union has recognized the necessity for regulating these corporations upon which the public must now depend for its very existence.

The members of this assembly are pledged to create a public utilities commission which shall be charged with the duty of establishing and maintaining the mutual confidence and friendly relations of the public and the public service corporations.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has well in hand much of the important regulation of interstate traffic and interstate railway lines, but the states do have the right of jurisdiction in many respects over railroads, and this is a right which should not be surrendered to the federal government. While the federal government exercises control over hours of service and the establishment of safety devices, and has the right to fix rates and regulations governing interstate traffic, the State retains the right to establish intrastate rates and to regulate other matters properly coming under State control.

The regulation of the railways, though important, is not the sole reason for the existence of a public utilities commission. The Utah public utilities commission should be empowered to supervise, regulate and determine the quality of service and all rates and charges to be made by telephone, telegraph, gas, power, light, heat, transportation and other public service corporations of every kind doing business within the State.

The public utilities commission will perform the very important function of providing a tribunal for hearing complaints of the public and adjusting differences between the public and the public service corporations.

In this connection I would call the attention of this assembly to the abuse of free transportation over railway lines and the abuse of the franking system developed by some telephone, telegraph and other public service corporations. I respectfully recommend that in addition to a law creating a public utilities commission this Legislature enact a rigid anti-pass law. Such law should make it a misdemeanor for any public service corporation to offer, or any public officer of the State or any county or municipality within the State, to accept free transportation or any other privilege not extended to the general public.

TAXATION AND REVENUE

We enter the new year facing a deficit of nearly half a million dollars, according to the estimate of the retiring State Auditor. To care for this deficit and to provide for the needs of the various State departments and institutions for the ensuing biennium, if we follow the estimates of the heads of the various State departments and institutions, will require an expenditure of $2,957,-915.10. The State Auditor estimates that the net total amount to be placed to the credit of the general fund from taxation, fees and all other sources of revenue during the next two years will be $1,767,222.54.

The estimated requirements of the State, therefore, for the next two years, exceed the estimated revenues by $1,190,692.56.

This is a problem which confronts the Legislature. There are three ways in which to meet this situation, and all must be considered by this assembly.

First, by bonding to cover the deficit which exists. Our current expenses must not exceed our current income. But where a large portion of the revenue to be collected in the present year must be taken to meet obligations incurred by your predecessors in the Legislature, something not contemplated nor desired by us may have to be done. We cannot afford to suspend the business of the State for a portion of the year until the deficit is made good. We cannot afford to delay the construction of highways, so imperatively needed in fertile sections of the State not now accessible to railways, in order to give to settlers the benefit of markets unusually favorable and encouraging. We cannot afford to overlook the conservation of any of the long-neglected resources of the public which may not be available much longer. There may be no way to secure these advantages to future generations except through bonds for future generations to pay. This is a matter for your most serious consideration.

Second, the estimated requirements must be reduced to the absolute minimum. Included in the estimated requirements of the State institutions are requests for new buildings, aggregating close to half a million dollars. In my judgment it may be necessary to deny most of these requests for new buildings, however urgent they may appear to be. There are also some requests for salary increases and increased contingent funds. The Legislature will probably find it necessary to deny these requests also. In administering the funds of the State the executive departments of this government promise the most rigid economy. It may be that the exercise of practical economy in all departments and institutions will make possible some reductions in the maintenance funds of each department and institution without the slightest impairment of efficiency in the public service.

The third way of meeting this financial problem is by making provision for more revenue. In my judgment this can be done without adding to the burden of the taxpayer. In 1916, I believe, the average taxpayer paid far more than his share of the taxes, and yet the revenue resulting from the operation of the new tax law was insufficient to properly maintain State, county, municipal and school governments. The farmer, the home-owner, and the business man, for the most part, paid more taxes than formerly, while the mine owner proportionately not more than two-fifths of the taxes he had formerly paid.

There are several important matters to consider in this connection. In his biennial report the retiring Attorney General calls attention to the fact that "only 22 per cent of the entire area of the State is subject to taxation." This means that 78 per cent of our land is not now bearing any portion of the burden of State government. We should memorialize Congress to open to settlement much of this unused land that it may be used for the upbuilding of the State.

The present scheme of taxation is wholly inequitable. It is possible now for wealthy corporations to evade their just proportion of the expenses to which the State is subjected by reason of the protection afforded them and of the problems presented through their operation. One great corporation of this character, whose properties and resources lie entirely within the confines of this State, has yielded, outside of enormous salaries paid, many millions of dollars in dividends during the current year, more than 90 per cent of which will be withdrawn from Utah and enjoyed or invested elsewhere. This company pays but a nominal tax as compared with its earning capacity or its actual value to its stockholders.

This is a matter we cannot well ignore. With farms, shops and stores valued by their earnings, or according to the legal earning power of the money invested, this one corporation actually receives from property within the State and withdraws from the resources of the State in a single year more than the State would receive in taxes from all sources in many years. This is but an illustration of the inequality and injustice of the present system of taxation. If the assessments were evenly and fairly adjusted the ordinary taxpayer would be relieved of much of his present burden.

REPEAL OF TAX LAWS

An amendment to the State Constitution making possible the assessment of mines at a value equal to three times the net proceeds was overwhelmingly defeated at the polls last fall, probably because the people did not understand that the amendment was designed to equalize the burden of taxation.

Notwithstanding the action of the voters in defeating the proposed amendment it would seem unjust to continue longer in force the inequitable tax law enacted by the Legislature two years ago. I therefore recommend that this law be repealed and that the previously existing law under which taxes were collected for many years be re-enacted with such changes as may be necessary to clarify its purpose. Such action would tend not only to equalize the burden of taxation but, in my opinion, would also serve the purpose of adding about $200,000 to the general fund of the State, without increasing the amount paid by the average taxpayer.

I would not advocate anything that would enable anyone to avoid his just share of the expense of State government. I believe that every item of real and personal property, not exempted under the Constitution, should be on the tax rolls of the State, and that there should be a uniform assessment of all property. I think the assessed valuation of farm lands, city real estate, and most of the personal property is probably too high. I believe there are in the State many more head of livestock than are shown on the assessment rolls. Intangible property, which has a purchasable value, should, I believe, be assessed at higher valuation than at present. Certain public service corporations hold valuable franchises which are clearly taxable under the law. Valuation of public service corporations should be based on their earning power, rather than on physical assets.

With a return to former tax levies, a readjustment of valuations, and the enrollment of all taxable property, I believe there is a possibility of meeting all the bare necessities of the State government for the next two years and yet keep within the revenues.

I recommend that the Legislature submit to the people to be voted upon at the next general election a resolution amending the Constitution to provide for the assessment of mines and mining property at a valuation not to exceed three times the net proceeds.

I believe this proposed amendment should be stated clearly and concisely and should involve only this question of the taxation of mines and mining property.

The poor man bears a disproportionately large share of the burden of taxation. I would recommend that an amendment to the Constitution be submitted, empowering the Legislature to exempt homes and homesteads from taxation in a reasonable amount.

EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY

With the increase in population and wealth of Utah it is inevitable that the cost of administering the affairs of the State must also increase, but it should not increase faster than the wealth of the State. With the many new buildings we have constructed, notable among which is this beautiful structure in which we are now assembled, we have incurred obligations which impose upon us the necessity for rigid economy.

The State of Utah has become a great business institution and it should be given a thorough business administration. A careful investigation should show many places where savings can be made.

I have felt for a long time that the State has not been getting the full benefit of those two splendid State institutions, the University of Utah and the Agricultural College of Utah. Formerly universities and colleges were deemed institutions of higher education, above and apart from practical usefulness. Now it is universally agreed that the field of usefulness of such institutions is greatly enlarged as they are brought closer to the people, closer to the knowledge of practical things.

It seems to me that these two State institutions could do many more things than are now being done, and in a way that would effect a saving for the State and increase the efficiency of its departments, and at the same time be of greater benefit to the young men and women of these two schools.

For example, should we establish a department of agriculture, much of the field and laboratory work of that department could be done by advanced students of the Agricultural College, in a manner that would prove mutually advantageous to the State and to the College.

The State Conservation Commission is maintained by the State with a view of ascertaining the resources of each county and of assisting each county in collecting data relative to its resources and in preparing resource maps.

An important feature of the work of the University of Utah is the advanced study of our own State and its resources. During the past year and a half much field work has been done by the University along these lines. Would it not be possible to let the University do the important work now being done by the State Commission and permit the students of the University, the future members of the Legislature, State officials, educators, and business and professional men and women, to profit by the knowledge of our State so obtained?

What is true of the work of the Conservation Commission is probably also largely true of much of the work of the Commissioner of Immigration, Labor and Statistics.

The work of the health department of the State has been greatly handicapped by lack of funds, yet the University of Utah employs on full time several high-salaried medical men to teach a handful of students at the School of Medicine. An important feature of the modern school of medicine is the study of public sanitation. There would seem to be the possibility of so correlating the work of the State health department and that of the School of Medicine at the State University as to make the work mutually beneficial at an actual saving to the public.

I appreciate the fact that lack of information will probably hinder us from going as far in the direction of efficiency and economy as we would desire at this time and I therefore recommend that the State Board of Examiners be given a modest appropriation to enable it to conduct a more thorough investigation into the various State departments and to report its findings to the next Legislature.

BOARD OF CONTROL

I recommend for your consideration a proposal for the creation of a board of control to supersede several boards now in existence. Under this plan suggested a board of three members would be created to have jurisdiction over the affairs of the State Prison, the State Mental Hospital, the State School for the Deaf and the Blind, the State Industrial School, the State Capitol, and the finances of the University of Utah and of the Agricultural College of Utah.

Under this board a purchasing department would be maintained to buy supplies for various State departments and institutions, and officers could make requisitions on the board for supplies instead of buying them individually on the open market at top prices.

Officials have learned that of the reports printed a great many copies perform no other service than that of occupying room in this building. I would suggest that the complete reports be filed with the Secretary of State and that a digest of each report be printed for distribution to interested parties. This would reduce the cost of printing and probably increase the interest in the reports.

The printing for the State government is a large item of expense and there is evidence that the State has been paying too much for this work. Printing for the last biennium cost the state about $50,000. The purchasing department of a board of control might have included among its duties that of letting contracts for public printing.

It is probable that this board could save many times its cost in the efficient management of the finances of the public institutions. I would urge the Legislature to investigate the feasibility of the plan.

BUDGET SYSTEM

The adoption of a budget system for this State would save the Legislature an immense amount of trouble and would go far toward placing the administration of the affairs of the State on a sound business basis. The task of making provision for all the State departments and State institutions is a tremendous one for citizens not thoroughly familiar with the needs of the different institutions, and with only a few short weeks within which to familiarize themselves with these matters and many others that come suddenly to their attention.

The Constitution provides that no appropriation shall be made, nor any expenditure authorized by the Legislature, whereby the expenditures of the State during any fiscal year shall exceed the total revenue then provided by law and available for such appropriation or expenditure. Yet Legislatures find it difficult to act intelligently in reducing estimated requirements so as to bring them within the estimated revenues. The Governor, it is true, has the authority to veto appropriations and withhold funds for certain items in the appropriation bill, but he has no authority to reduce the amount specified in any item. He cannot cut down an excessive appropriation. He must eliminate it entirely or let it stand.

The remedy for this situation is obviously the adoption of a budget system. Unfortunately, it is a little late for a budget law to be of assistance to this Legislature, but it is within the power of this assembly to enact a law which will make it hereafter practically impossible to appropriate more money than the State collects.

I respectfully recommend the passage of a measure providing for an executive budget. It would be the duty under the plan I have in mind for each State officer and head of department and the head of each State institution to submit to the Governor at least six months prior to each regular session of the State Legislature an estimate of the requirements of the department or institution for the next biennium, and the duty of the State Auditor to submit to the Governor an estimate of the revenues for the next biennium. The Governor would be charged with the duty of investigating each request for appropriation and of preparing a budget for the consideration of the Legislature, the budget to provide for expenditures not in excess of the estimated revenue of the State.

The Legislature would have the power under the proposed plan to reduce or eliminate any appropriation in the budget but not to increase or add to any of the proposed appropriations.

The Legislature, however, would retain the power to pass bills providing for special appropriations, such bills to be subject to the veto or approval of the Governor, the same as all other enactments.

I know of no constitutional or statutory obstacle to this plan and I am satisfied that it would prove to be a great improvement over the long-used, haphazard method of making appropriations.

I would recommend that the practice of making continuing appropriations for special purposes be stopped, and that all laws providing for continuing appropriations be repealed and the amounts remaining in such special funds be returned to the general fund of the State.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

A human life is one of the most important assets of a State or community. The conservation of human life is one of the most important duties of the State. At the present time Utah enjoys the distinction of being the healthiest state in the United States and yet in healthy Utah thousands of persons die each year from preventable diseases.

The health department of this State has an enviable record but its work has not reached the scope that should be covered. Several departments are now covering the same field and the responsibility for the work is divided.

A consolidation of the different branches of this work under one head would restrict the responsibility, reduce overhead expenses, and greatly increase efficiency.

I recommend that a new law providing for a department of public health be enacted, that the responsibility for the public health be centered in the board of health, the secretary of which shall be the executive officer of the department. I recommend that under the department of public health be placed the State Chemist, the Bureau of Food and Dairy Inspection, the Bureau of Weights and Measures, the Bureau of Meat Inspection, the Bureau of Public Sanitation, the inspection of hotels, barber shops, theatres, and places of amusements, and such other matters pertaining to the public health as may from time to time be designated.

The duplication of the work in various departments is extravagant and inefficient. Consolidation of the different branches of health work will provide for a closer and more economical inspection service and make it possible to secure experts who are especially trained in the work required.

I believe the Board of Health should be given the power to district the State for inspection purposes and to place an inspector in charge of each district. This would enable the inspector to make more frequent inspections, greatly reduce traveling expenses, and do away with all duplication. Each inspector should be qualified to do all the work of inspection for the various branches of the health department.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Husbandry in Utah has become such an important part of the development of the State that it should receive more comprehensive recognition by the State government than has heretofore been given it. Realizing the importance of this branch of industry, which occupies the attention of so many of the State's citizens, I recommend that this Legislature establish a department of agriculture.

Several branches of the State government could easily be taken over by this new department. I have in mind especially the Livestock Inspection Bureau, the Board of Sheep Commissioners, the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners and the State Horticultural Commisison. The present cost of the maintenance of these various boards would probably prove sufficient to maintain this new department.

I would suggest that this proposed new department co-operate with the Agricultural College and that the employes of this department be chosen from graduates of the College or similar institutions. The careful study of experiments in dry farming in connection with the Agricultural College would be an appropriate duty of this department. The feasibility of longer maintaining the dry farming experiment stations should be a subject for investigation by the experts of this department.

The Legislature should provide for an investigation by this proposed department of a plan for co-operating with the federal government in building the necessary reservoirs and irrigation works to conserve the headwaters of all of the rivers and streams within the State, now permitted to run to waste in the winter and spring seasons, with a view to making such waters available for the irrigation of the vast tracts of farming lands now above canal levels and which cannot be settled upon or be brought under cultivation until provision is made for water to irrigate them.

Co-operating with the extension department of the Agricultural College, the department of agriculture should bring the advantages of scientific study of farm problems to every rural home in the State. A study and analysis of soils would prove of tremendous advantage to the farming industry. An important feature of the work of the department would be the fostering of the live-stock industry so necessary as a source of the nation's food supply.

WATER RIGHTS

One of the most important matters deserving of your consideration is a clear, fair and definite law respecting water rights.

Irrigation means almost as much as ownership of land and in some sections it is more valuable than the land itself, since without the land it would produce revenue which the land alone would not. The present law governing water rights and irrigation was enacted fourteen years ago. It undertook three things:

1. Adjudication of existing water rights.
2. State supervision over distribution of water under these rights.
3. Regulation of the acquisition of new rights to unappropriated waters of the State.

These principles cover the field, but the methods to secure results and to render these results binding and lasting have not been entirely satisfactory.

Hydrographic surveys have been made of some of the principal Utah rivers. This takes three or four years and entails considerable expense. A shorter and less expensive method should be worked out.

State supervision is an absolute necessity as the existing rights must be determined and protected before there is anything to work on. Supervision of newly acquired rights must of necessity rest in the office of the State Engineer.

The basis of land values is the right to water—its amount and kind. A water right is a part of the land and may be considered as real property. The same requirements and protection are needed.

One reason why this important matter has not been more definitely settled is that legislatures have no time to go into the subject thoroughly and that so many adverse interests have been represented in the Legislature itself. Often patchworks of laws from other states are made—not here applicable.

Probably a committee of the Legislature or a commission named by the Governor or the Legislature should be charged with the duty of revising the laws and of working out a plan by personal investigation of many unsettled questions and of the causes which have led to controversies. The report of the findings of the commission so designated should be made to the next State Legislature, together with a revised measure covering the mooted points of this important subject.

EDUCATION

While Utah spends an enormous amount annually on her schools and while the efficiency of the public school system is a source of great pride to every citizen in the State, there remains much in the way of progressive school legislation to be enacted.

Many recommendations from school experts have been submitted to you for your consideration and I will not attempt to advise you in detail respecting these recommendations. I wish only to emphasize the importance of this subject and the necessity for the careful consideration of the measures proposed.

Probably no profession renders so much public service and is so poorly paid as the teaching profession and any plan that the Legislature may devise which will result in the advancement of the salaries of the devoted men and women who are teaching our children will receive the hearty approval of the Governor. I fear there is a tendency to spend too much for architecture in school buildings and too little for the brains and scholarship of the teachers of the State.

Fads have no place in education. I believe the State funds should be expended in constructing clean, healthful school buildings, in teaching the fundamental subjects that aid in making good citizens, and in paying the teachers salaries at least partially commensurate with their duties and responsibilities. Some means should be provided to guarantee the payment of teachers for a full school year. School boards should not have the option of shortening the school year and thus making uncertain the yearly salaries of teachers.

GOOD ROADS

The construction and maintenance of good roads is one of the most important duties of state and county governments, and I believe we should bend every energy to accomplish more in this respect each year. Main arteries of travel linking the more populous centers of the State should be constructed. They should be constructed primarily for the use of the citizens of Utah, and secondarily for transcontinental motorists whom we would welcome gladly to our State, remembering, however, that our first duty is to the people who are actually building up our commonwealth and paying for the roads we build. We must also remember the importance of road construction in parts of the State remote from railroads. In such sections good highways provide the only means of transportation and each good road built in these parts of the State will pay for itself many times in increased farm values.

I wish the Legislature would look into the feasibility of a plan for a bond issue for road building purposes, the interest and sinking fund to be provided by the returns from the motor vehicle tax. I believe that under our present system of the administration of State road funds there is a possibility of expending too much for overhead cost. I believe that the work of supervising road construction could be handled in connection with the work of the State Engineer, at a reduction of office expense, clerk hire, supervision and contingent expense. A saving in this respect would make possible increased expenditures for actual road construction.

LABOR LAWS

It is well for all of us to remember in the conduct of our official duties one fundamental rule of free government—where property rights and human rights conflict human rights must always prevail. The interest of the workingman, the wage earner, the settler, the home-builder, should be the first consideration of every lawmaking body.

That the rights of the workingman shall be safeguarded I respectfully recommend the passage of a just and equitable workingmen's compensation act. The Legislature of 1915 provided for the creation of a commission to investigate this subject and report to the present Legislature. This commission has completed its work and has laid its report before you for your consideration. The commission has prepared a bill which it has submitted to this assembly. You should consider well the work of the commission and the measure it has submitted for your approval. It is for this Legislature to decide whether or not the draft of this commission meets the requirements of a just and equitable workingmen's compensation act. If it does it should be passed. If it does not, it should be so amended as to meet the requirements of such a law. I respectfully recommend the passage of a compensation act that will protect the rights of both employers and employees and provide a just and reasonable compensation for those injured in the course of their legitimate employment.

I would further recommend, in the line of recommendation of laws for the protection of the rights of workingmen, the incorporation into the statutes of Utah of the provisions of the federal law securing to workingmen all the rights and privileges of voluntary association for their protection and welfare, protecting their rights against unwarranted issuance of writs of injunction and guaranteeing to them the right of trial by jury in the State courts in case of contempt of court where the alleged offense was committed outside of the presence of the court.

I am informed that groups of workingmen will submit for your consideration proposed legislation having for its object the betterment of conditions under which men are employed by public service corporations. Requests coming from organizations or groups of individuals representing the working class merit just as careful consideration as requests coming from groups or associations of employers.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Recently the people of Utah, as well as residents of other states, have suffered by reason of a sudden and unprecedented advance in the price of food products and other necessities of life. There appears to be a growing suspicion on the part of the consuming public that these prices were not justified by conditions, that the inflation of the price of food was due to causes other than those produced by the operation of the law of supply and demand.

It is clearly within the province of this Legislature to investigate and attempt to determine the real causes for such advances in prices of the necessaries of life. In order that the public may not be without a remedy, should it be found in this instance or in any other, that the advance in food prices was due to a conspiracy on the part of producers or dealers, or both, to curtail the supply or artificially to stimulate the demand, I respectfully recommend the enactment of a law prohibiting and punishing conspiracies in restraint of trade whereby the practice of charging unreasonable or exhorbitant prices for the necessaries of life shall not be permitted.

There is at present a serious coal shortage which demands investigation and relief. The Legislature should fix the responsibility for this intolerable situation and take such steps as will guarantee the State against a repetition. Apparently there is plenty of coal within the State for all our needs and steps should be taken by the Legislature to make this coal available at all times. Whether this may be done in connection with the enactment of a public utilities law or by independent action is for the Legislature to determine.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

More than sixteen years ago the people of Utah adopted an amendment to the Constitution providing for the initiative and referendum. The amendment was not self-operative. It directed the Legislature to pass such laws as were necessary to make its provisions operative. Legislature after legislature, however, ignored this specific mandate of the State Constitution.

The members of this Legislature are also pledged to do in this particular, what other Legislatures have failed to do. I recommend the passage of an appropriate law designed to make this constitutional provision effective.

NONPARTISAN ELECTIONS

Utah has finally and definitely succeeded in removing the schools from any real vestige of partisan political influence. It remains for this State to do the same service for the judiciary. Utah courts should be above any suggestion of political consideration.

Apparently the most feasible method of taking the courts entirely out of politics is to provide for the nonpartisan selection of judges when no general election is being held.

Recently there has been much criticism of the public for its lack of interest in school elections. Permit me to suggest that members of school boards and other school officers and judges of our various courts be selected at the same election in a nonpartisan manner. Such a method, I believe, would have the effect of arousing greater interest in our school elections without detracting at all from the interest in the selection of the judiciary.

I respectfully recommend that the Legislature advise itself, by investigation, as to the feasibility of the plan.

CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT

The time has arrived in Utah when there should be some regulation of the amount expended in political campaigns. The enormous expenditure of money occasioned by elections often comes close to the wholesale corruption of a large portion of the electorate.

Voters should be so interested in the issue of an election and so concerned with the outcome that no undue influence should be required to induce them to exercise the high privilege of the elective franchise.

I therefore respectfully recommend the passage of a law forbidding the use of automobiles and other vehicles by political organizations for the purpose of taking voters to registration places and to polling places, limiting the amount which may be expended in a political campaign, restricting the number of paid political workers at each polling place, and providing for the publication at intervals before election and also after election of all campaign contributions and expenditures.

JUVENILE COURTS

Our present juvenile court law, despite its many good points, has not proved entirely satisfactory. In the less populous counties the results attained have not warranted the expenditure necessitated under the law.

Recently the executives of the cities and towns of the State went on record as opposed to the operation of the juvenile court in so far as it affected the smaller communities.

The problem of the juvenile offender is principally a larger city problem. In the smaller communities this class of offenders can probably be better handled by the local authorities than by an itinerant court having a large jurisdiction. I would recommend, therefore, that the jurisdiction of the juvenile courts be limited to counties containing cities of the first or second classes and that in the less populous counties of the State the authority now vested in the juvenile court judge be conferred on the county or district superintendent of schools.

The maintenance of probation officers, it seems to me, should be a county charge and I recommend the amendment of the law so as to make the employment of probation officers a proper item of county expense, permitting the county commissioners to designate a probation officer for the county.

APPORTIONMENT

The Constitution in Article IX, Section 2, commands the Legislature at stated periods to revise and adjust the apportionment of representatives and senators in the Legislature upon ratios to be fixed by law. In the twenty years since statehood manifest irregularities of representation have developed which heretofore have been without correction. I recommend that the representation in the Legislature be equalized as between the several counties of the State, that a separate representative district be created for each representative, and that the senatorial districts be re-arranged with a view to greater equality of population and convenience of communication between the counties which shall constitute the same.

COMPILATION OF LAWS

No compilation of the laws of Utah has been made since the compilation of 1907. At each session of the Legislature since 1907 important changes in the statutes have been made and the need of a compilation is urgent.

The copies of the compiled laws of 1907 and of the session laws of each Legislature are becoming scarce and a new compilation or a reprinting of the various volumes of session laws is necessary. I recommend that the Governor be authorized to name a compilation commission to compile and re-arrange the laws and that an appropriation for that purpose be made.

NATIONAL GUARD

The heart of every loyal citizen of Utah swells with pride at the record made by the National Guard of Utah during the past year. Last summer there came a grave crisis in the country's affairs. The President of the United States ordered the National Guard of the several states to mobilize for active field service on the Mexican border. As soon as the call was received in Utah the young men comprising the Utah Guard immediately placed themselves at the service of the national government. In a quiet, soldierly manner they prepared for active duty and in an incredibly short time were on their way to the border.

One unit of the Utah Guard, the battery, was the first National Guard unit from any state to reach the Mexican border. Two squadrons of cavalry and the field hospital soon followed. In active service the Utah guardsmen acquitted themselves in a manner that was true to the best traditions of the service and reflected great credit on themselves and their State. Four troops of Utah cavalry are still on the border and are performing an important duty. The Utah troopers are patrolling 100 miles of Mexican border and for their military efficiency they have earned the commendation of regular army officers. While we would like to have our soldiers back at home, we are glad they are performing a useful duty at the border and we can spare them just as long as their country needs them.

Many of our young men were disfranchised at the last election because they responded to the call of duty. Those who were at the Mexican border were unable to vote, despite a provision in the Constitution of Utah providing that they shall be entitled to vote at their post of duty, either within or without the State. Our Legislatures have failed to enact a law carrying out this constitutional provision and the boys were unable, therefore, to vote. This Legislature should pass a law empowering the guardsmen to vote at their post of duty.

Several public spirited citizens aided in the relief of families of members of the National Guard, deprived of support because their breadwinners responded to the call of their country. I recommend that this Legislature pass a law reimbursing those citizens for the money so expended and make provision for the continuation of the relief work.

Because of recent changes in federal laws dealing with the subject of national defense and with the organization of the National Guard, it is imperative that this Legislature pass a new military law to make our organization conform to the requirements of the new federal law. If we are to continue to have a National Guard we must have an efficient organization and any legislation enacted on this subject should be given careful consideration.

I recommend that each house name a military committee which shall have the power to go into matters governing the National Guard fully and candidly, that we may learn what is necessary to be done to maintain our military organization at its present high standard and to provide for the increase in numbers and efficiency demanded by the new federal law.

CONCLUSION

Let me again emphasize in conclusion the need of careful attention to duty, of painstaking care in all matters coming before you, and of close co-operation of legislative and executive departments to accomplish that which the people of the State have decreed we shall do.

In this message to you I have outlined some of the things that to me appear to be of paramount importance.

I have tried to interpret for you what I considered to be the desire of the people of the State. There will doubtless be other important matters, not mentioned here by me, which will claim a share of your attention, and in failing to mention them I do not want you to feel that they should be neglected.

I have not attempted to go into detail concerning the various State departments and institutions. The reports of their condition as made by their executive officers are on file and copies will be placed before you.

Permit me to express the hope that your work will be pleasant, that your associations will be agreeable, and that your accomplishments when you have completed your sixty days of service in this session will be worthy of your highest ambition. Let me express my best wishes for your health, happiness, and length of days.

SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Senator Evans moved that the Message of the Governor be received for the respectful consideration of this assembly; that it be spread on the minutes thereof and that five hundred copies of said message be printed and indexed for the use of the members. This motion was seconded by Representative Curry and carried unanimously.

On motion of Senator Dern the joint session of the Senate and House was dissolved at 1:30 p. m.

The Senate reconvened at 1:50 p. m. in the Senate Chamber.

On motion of Senator Wootton a recess was taken until 2:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Senate reconvened at 3:15 p. m.

President Funk announced his list of standing committees as follows:

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS.

(The first named is chairman.)

Agriculture—Bradley, Walton, Clyde.

Appropriations and Claims—Armstrong, Reynolds, Parker, Seegmiller, Stringham.

Commerce and Industries—Reynolds, Clyde, Parker, Colton and Kimball.

Education—Chez, Wootton, Stevens.

Engrossing and Enrolling—Bevan, Bradley, Kimball.

Judiciary—Olson, Evans, Chez, Dern, Colton.

Legislative Reference—Evans, Armstrong, Dern.

Public Affairs—Dern, Bevan, Stevens, Olson, Seegmiller.

Public Health and Labor—Wootton, Bevan, Stringham.

Rules—Evans, Chez, Kimball.

The journal of the previous day was read and approved as corrected. On motion of Senator Dern the reading of the rules was dispensed with and the committee on rules empowered to correct any errors in the rules and report next day. Carried.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

S. B. No. 1, by Mr. Dern: "An Act to appropriate $35,000.00 to defray the regular and contingent expenses of the Twelfth Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah.

Senator Dern moved that the rules be suspended and that S. B. No. 1 be read first, second and third times and placed on its final passage. Carried.

S. B. No. 1, was read first, second and third times, and passed under suspension of the rules on the following roll call: Ayes, 17; nays, 0; absent and not voting, 1.

Those voting in the affirmative were Senators Armstrong, Bradley, Bevan, Chez, Clyde, Colton, Dern, Evans, Kimball, Olson, Reynolds, Seegmiller, Stevens, Stringham. Walton, Wootton. Mr. President.

Absent and not voting, Senator Parker.

S. B. No. 2, by Mr. Chez: "An Act fixing the liability of railroad companies for injury to or death of any of their employees, and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with its provisions," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

S. B. No. 3, by Mr. Chez: "An Act amending sections 2930, 2931, and 2931x, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, and Sections 2932 and 2933, Revised Statutes of Utah, 1898, as re-enacted by Chapter 93, Laws of Utah, 1913, relating to the venue of civil actions," were read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

S. B. No. 4, by Mr. Evans: "An Act providing the District Court to defend indigent persons," was read the first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

At 3.40 p. m., on motion of Senator Bevan, the Senate adjourned until 2 p. m., January 10, 1917.

THIRD DAY.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 10, 1917.

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order at 2 p. m., President Funk presiding.

Roll call. All members present.

Prayer by Chaplain.

Minutes of the second day's session were read and approved by the Committee on Rules.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. President:

The Legislative Reference Committee submits the following report: Your committee has conferred with Honorable Joseph L. Rawlins and has secured his services as an adviser of the Legislative Reference Committee. As to salary, your committee reports that Senator Rawlins expressed his willingness to serve the State at whatever compensation might be fixed by the Senate; that he is much interested in the work of the committee and in sympathy with it; that he had no concern as to the amount of the compensation but would be willing to leave the matter wholly to the Senate. Your committee appreciates the fact that no adequate salary can be provided, but would recommend that the sum of $500.00 be allowed.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
GEORGE H. DERN,
W. W. ARMSTRONG,
Committee.

Senator Reynolds moved the adoption of the report of the Legislative Reference Committee, and that the Senate employ Honorable Joseph L. Rawlins for the term of the Senate at a salary of $500.00.

Senator Seegmiller amended the motion of Senator Reynolds making the salary the same as that received by a Senator. The vote on the amended motion was lost. The vote on the original motion was carried.

PRESENTATION OF RESOLUTIONS.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, by Olson: Authorizing appointment of messenger to the Governor.

Senator Olson moved that the rules be suspended and that S. C. R. No. 1 be read first, second and third times and placed on its final passage. Carried.

S. C. R. No. 1 was read first, second and third times and passed under suspension of the rules on the following vote: Ayes, 18; nays, 0.

Those voting in the affirmative were Senators Armstrong, Bradley, Bevan, Chez, Clyde, Colton, Dern, Evans, Kimball, Olson, Parker, Reynolds, Seegmiller, Stevens, Stringham, Walton, Wootton, Mr. President.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE HOUSE.

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 9, 1917.

The President of the Senate:

I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House of Representatives has this day passed under suspension of the rules, Senate Bill No. 1, by Mr. Dern, entitled, "An Act appropriating $35,000.00 to defray the regular and contingent expenses of the Twelfth Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah."

ADAM L. PETERSEN,
Chief Clerk.

Communication filed and S. B. No. 1 referred to the Committee on Engrossing and Enrolling.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

S. B. No. 5, by Mr. Evans: "An Act amending Chapter 68, of the Session Laws of 1909, designating who shall exact the bond therein provided and prescribing a penalty for failure to obtain such bond," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

S. B. No. 6, by Mr. Wootton: "An Act regulating and limiting the liability of inn keepers, hotel keepers, boarding house and lodging house keepers," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

The following communication was received from Salt Lake City Lodge 259 of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 8, 1917.

Utah State Senate.

Gentlemen:

I am instructed by a resolution adopted by Salt Lake City Lodge 259 of the Loyal Order of Moose, to extend to the officers and members of your honorable body the courtesies and privileges of our club rooms at No. 222 South West Temple street during your stay in our city.

You are cordially invited to make our home your headquarters whenever it may meet your convenience.

Respectfully,

G. C. HOFFMAN,
Secretary.

The Senate ordered the communication filed and a letter of thanks mailed.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Executive Office,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 10, 1917.

To the Senate,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Gentlemen:—

I have the honor of transmitting to your honorable body an invitation to meet in joint session with the House of Representatives at 7:30 o'clock tonight, to listen to an address by the Honorable Henry A. Wise Wood of New York City.

Respectfully,
SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

On motion of Senator Wootton the invitation of the Governor was accepted and the President appointed the following committee to notify the House of their acceptance and to arrange with the House to meet in joint session.

The President appointed Senators Wootton, Stringham and Clyde.

A recess for ten minutes was called to await the return and report of the committee.

The Senate resumed its session, and the committee to report on the Governor's invitation, reported that the House had acted favorably on the invitation, and would meet with the Senate members in joint session this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

At 3:15 on motion of Senator Bradley the Senate adjourned until 2 p. m., January 11, 1917.

FOURTH DAY.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 11, 1917.

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order at 2 p. m., President Funk presiding.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE HOUSE.

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 10, 1917.

To the President of the Senate:

I am directed to inform your honorable body that the House has this day passed, under suspension of rules, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, by Mr. Olson, authorizing appointment of Messenger to Governor, and the same is herewith returned to your honorable body.

Respectfully,
ADAM L. PETERSEN,
Chief Clerk.

Communication filed, and S. C. R. No. 1 referred to the Committee on Engrossing and Enrolling Bills.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

The following communication was received from the State Librarian:

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 11, 1917.

The Honorable President of the Senate,
State Capitol.

Dear Sir:—

I have communications from the Iowa State Library (Legislative Reference Department), the Arizona State Library, the Bureau of Legislative Information, State House, Indianapolis, Ind., and Franklin O. Poole, representing the Cumulative Index to Current State Legislation, 42 West Forty-fourth street, New York City, in which communications they ask for an exchange of bills during the present session of the legislature.

Should you deem it advisable or profitable to make the exchanges as suggested will you kindly have your mailing clerk send daily copies of bills to the addresses as indicated above.

Very truly yours,
H. W. GRIFFITH,
State Librarian.

On motion of Senator Wootton, the request was granted, copies of all bills be forwarded, and a letter mailed to the State Librarian advising him of the Senate's action.

The following communications were received from the President and Librarian of the University of Utah.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 9, 1917.

Senator J. W. Funk,
President, Utah Senate,
Capitol Building,
City.

Dear Senator Funk:

With the consent of the Governor, the University of Utah has placed in room 313, Capitol Building, a collection of books and circulars bearing on a number of subjects that are likely to be discussed by the Legislature during the present session. We shall have in attendance attendants to help the members of the Legislature find the material that they may need.

The University desires in this way to be of service to the Legislature. Should other material be found necessary, the University library is at your disposal and we shall be glad to transfer such books as may be needed from the University library to the Capitol Building during the time of the session. I am enclosing herewith a letter from Miss Esther Nelson, our Librarian, who, with her assistants, will have charge of the reference library.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN A. WIDTSOE.

UNIVERSITY OF UTAH,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 9, 1917.

Senator J. W. Funk,
President, Utah Senate,
Capitol Building,
City.

Dear Senator:

We wish, through you, to offer the services of the University of Utah Library to the members of the Legislature, to render them such aid as is given elsewhere by the regularly established Legislative reference libraries of the several states. Acting upon the permission of Governor Bamberger, we have placed material bearing upon questions now under discussion in Room 313, one of the Senate committee rooms. We are desirous of serving you in every way possible, and to this end we will have an attendant in Room 313 at such hours as you may wish, to secure for you information upon pertinent questions and to render to you such assistance as we may.

Respectfully yours,

ESTHER NELSON,
Librarian.

On motion of Senator Reynolds the communications were received and the Secretary instructed to write a letter of thanks, and to suggest that the hours between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. would be convenient for the members of the Senate.

Moved by Senator Chez, that each member of the Senate be restricted to twelve copies of each bill printed, and that the names and addresses of those to whom they wish copies mailed be given to the mailing clerk. Carried.

At 2:50 p. m., on motion of Senator Olson the Senate adjourned until 2 p. m., January 12, 1917.

FIFTH DAY.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 12, 1917.

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order at 2 p. m., President Funk presiding.

Roll call. All members present.

Prayer by Chaplain.

Minutes of the fourth day's session were read and approved by the Committee on Rules.

On motion of Senator Dern, the Committee on Rules was requested to introduce a resolution to obviate the reading of the Journal in open session.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

S. P. No. 1. Petition from a number of citizens and taxpayers of Wellington, Utah, protesting against the passage of any legislation that would tend towards enforcing military training in the schools, and also on all male citizens sixteen years or over out of school, was received and referred to the Committee on Public Affairs.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 12, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Engrossing and Enrolling, to whom was referred Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1, by Mr. Olson, "Authorizing appointment of Messenger to Governor," beg leave to report that they have had same carefully engrossed and enrolled and transmit the same herewith for your signature.

Respectfully,

DON B. COLTON,
Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. C. R. No. 1 was read by title, signed by the President in open session in the presence of the Senate, and transmitted to the House for the signature of the Speaker.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 12, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Legislative Reference, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 5, by Mr. Evans, entitled, "An Act amending Chapter 68, of the Session Laws of Utah, 1909, designating who shall exact the bond therein provided for and prescribing the penalty for failure to obtain such bond," respectfully reports as follows:

Your committee has critically examined said Bill and having added a clause repealing Section 1400x of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of said act, your committee finds no constitutional or other legal objections thereto. We approve the form of the bill and recommend the printing of three hundred copies thereof.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK EVANS,
Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. B. No. 5 was read second time, ordered printed and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 12, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Legislative Reference, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 2, by Mr. Chez, entitled, "An Act fixing the liability of railroad companies for injury to, or death of any of their employees and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with its provisions, respectfully reports as follows:

Your committee has critically examined said Bill and has amended the same with the consent of the author and finds no constitutional or other legal objections thereto. We approve the form of the bill and recommend the same for printing to the number of three hundred copies.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,

Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. B. No. 2 was read second time, ordered printed and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 15, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Legislative Reference, to which was referred Senate Bills Nos. 7 and 9, the first by Mr. Colton, entitled, "An Act to prohibit traffic in peyote and the sale of the same to Indians," and the latter by Mr. Bevan, entitled, "An Act to amend Section 8 of Chapter 66, Laws of Utah, 1915, relating to the sale of narcotic drugs; providing that the same may not be sold except upon prescription; providing for the registry of such sales and providing that preparations containing any of said drugs may be sold only by a registered pharmacist," respectfully reports as follows:

These bills are upon the same subject. Mr. Bevan's bill enumerates a large number of obnoxious drugs and prohibits their sale, the giving away thereof, or the possession thereof; and it appears to your committee that these two acts should be combined by adding to the list of drugs enumerated in Bill No. 9 the substance referred to in Bill No. 7, to-wit: Anhalonium or peyote, thus the sale, giving away and possession of this substance will be prohibited, and therefore any person, whether Indian, half blood or white will be prohibited from the use of this drug, whether in religious services or otherwise. Thus, in the opinion of your committee, the purposes of Bill No. 7 are subserved by the terms of Bill No. 9 by the insertion in the latter bill of the terms, "anhalonium or peyote," and your committee therefore recommends that Bill No. 7 be not printed, and that two hundred and fifty copies of Bill No. 9 be printed. This report is concurred in by the author of Bill No. 7.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. B. No. 9 was read second time, ordered printed and referred to the Public Health and Labor Committee.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 15, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Legislative Reference, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 8, by Mr. Chez, entitled, "An Act regulating the exhibition of moving picture films and reels, creating a Board of Censors and providing penalties for violations thereof," respectfully reports as follows:

Your committee has critically examined said Bill and finds no constitutional or other legal objections thereto; and as amended your committee recommends the same for printing to the number of two hundred and fifty copies.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. B. No. 8 was read second time, ordered printed and referred to the Education Committee.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 15, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Legislative Reference, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 13, by Mr. Wootton, entitled, "An Act providing for the revision, annotation and printing of the Laws of Utah, and creating a Compilation Commission, appointment of Commissioners and making an appropriation therefor," respectfully reports as follows:

Your committee has critically examined said Bill and with amendments, recommends the same for printing to the number of two hundred fifty copies as there are no legal or constitutional objections thereto.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
Chairman.

Report adopted, and S. B. No. 13 was read second time, ordered printed and, upon request of the author of the Bill, was referred to the Judiciary Committee, and by that committee to be referred to the Appropriations and Claims Committee.

PRESENTATION OF RESOLUTIONS.

S. J. R. No. 2, by Mr. Dern: "Providing for the appointment of a Special Joint Committee, consisting of three members of the Senate and four members of the House of Representatives, to investigate the reasons for the shortage of coal for domestic and industrial purposes."

Under the rules the resolution was laid on the table for one day.

S. J. M. No. 1, by Mr. Wootton: "A Memorial asking the Federal Government for the establishment in practice of universal military training and service for young men."

Under the rules the resolution was laid on the table for one day.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

S. B. No. 16, by Mr. Olson: "An Act to amend Sections 225 and 887, of Chapter 125, of the 1911 Session Laws of Utah, relating to municipal government of incorporated cities as to salary of city auditor and term of office of city auditor in cities of the first class having a population over 90,000," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

S. B. No. 17, by Mr. Chez: "An Act to repeal Sections 868x, 868x1, 868x2, 868x3, 868x4, 868x5, 868x6, 868x7, 868x8, 868x9, 868x10, 868x11, 868x12, 868x13, 868x14, 868x15, 868x16, 868x17, 868x18, 868x19, of Chapter 6, of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, relating to the use of voting machines at elections," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

S. B. No. 18, by Mr. Chez: "An Act to amend Sections 839, 846, 847 and 848, of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, relating to voting, and the form, marking and counting of ballots," was read the first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

The following communication was received from the President of the Agricultural College of Utah:

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE OF UTAH,
Logan, Utah, January 10, 1917.

President J. W. Funk,
Utah State Senate, State Capitol,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

My Dear Sir:

I would be glad to have you present to the Senate a most cordial invitation to visit the Agricultural College, Friday, February 2. I feel sure that special railroad accommodations can be secured which will make it possible for the Senate to visit the College, leaving Salt Lake City the morning of February 2, and returning that same evening. Many members, however, would undoubtedly wish to remain over during Saturday, February 3, including the certain committees which are interested particularly in the condition of the College.

If I may hear from you at your early convenience I can then make special plans for the transportation and entertainment of the visitors at that time.

Very sincerely yours,
E. G. PETERSON,
President.

Moved by Senator Bevan, the invitation be accepted.

Motion to amend, by Senator Olson, that the invitation be laid on the table. Carried.

At 4:00 p. m., on motion of Senator Olson, the Senate adjourned until 2 p. m., January 16, 1917.

NINTH DAY.

SENATE CHAMBER,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 16, 1917.

Pursuant to adjournment the Senate was called to order at 2 p. m., President Funk presiding.

Roll call. All members present but Senators Parker and Reynolds.

Prayer by Chaplain.

Minutes of the eighth day's session were referred to the Committee to be appointed by the President.

Moved by Senator Evans the Committee on Rules recommends that the President appoint one Senator each day, and with the assistance of the Secretary, make such corrections in the Journal as found necessary. Carried.

The President appointed Senator Stevens to act until he asked to be relieved.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE COMMITTEE ROOM,
Salt Lake City, Utah, January 16, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Legislative Reference, to which was referred S. B. No. 11, by Senator Chez, entitled, "An Act defining and prohibting trusts and providing proceeding to enforce the provisions of this Act, and to repeal all acts and parts of Acts in conflict with its provisions," respectfully reports as follows:

Your committee has critically examined said bill, and finds the same to be in part a duplication of an existing statute and a repeal by implication of an important section of said statute. And your committee further states that a careful examination of the bill discloses the fact that the evident intent thereof is not met by the actual intent as gathered from the terms of the measure. It is understood that a public utilities bill will be passed at the present session, and such a measure will undoubtedly subserve the purposes intended to be met by this measure, and this would further result in duplication.

Therefore, for the reasons that the bill interferes with existing statutes which the author evidently had no intention to repeal, but which will be repealed by implication, and for the further reasons that much ambiguity would arise between the existing statute and the proposed measure, and for the further reasons contained in the opinion which is hereto attached, and which are regarded as ample by your committee, we respectfully recommend that the bill be not printed.

For the information of those who may be interested in the further examination of this measure, we attach hereto a written opinion by Joseph L. Rawlins, adviser to your committee.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
Chairman.

On motion of Senator Chez, the committee's report was laid on the table.

PRESENTATION OF RESOLUTIONS.

S. R. No. 1, by Mr. Wootton: "Authorizing the destruction of certain documents.

"Be it Resolved by the Senate of the Legislature of the State of Utah:

"That consent is hereby given to the Commissioner of Immigration, Labor and Statistics of the State of Utah to destroy certain schedules, records, papers and documents now held in the office of said commissioner, and which schedules, records, papers and documents have been in said office for a period of two years and more; the consent herewith asked for is in accordance with Section 2427x5, Chapter 4, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907."

Under the rules the resolution was laid on the table for one day.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

S. B. No. 19, by Mr. Wootton: "An Act providing for the licensing of sheep owned or leased by non-residents: Providing for the amount of said license and providing penalty for violation of same. Empowering the sheriff of the various counties to collect said license and providing for the disposition of said fund," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

S. B. No. 20, by Mr. Colton: "An Act to promote the prevention of industrial accidents; to cause provision to be made for adequate medical and surgical care for injured employees; to establish rates of compensation for personal injuries or death sustained by employees in the course of employment; to provide methods for insuring the payment of such compensation; to create an Industrial Board for the administration of the Act and to prescribe the powers and duties of such board," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

Moved by Senator Colton, that the rules be suspended, and this bill be introduced in printed form instead of typewritten form, and that the seven copies as printed be accepted. Carried.

S. B. No. 21, by Mr. Dern: "An Act to authorize the State Board of Land Commissioners to compromise with claimants upon certain State lands, and to execute relinquishments to such claimants, or the United States in certain cases," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTIONS.

S. J. R. No. 2, by Mr. Dern:

"Whereas, there appears to be in Salt Lake City and elsewhere throughout the State, a shortage of coal for domestic and industrial purposes, which situation is reputed to be causing great physical hardships and to be crippling the industries of the State, and

"Whereas, such condition is reputed to be due, in great part, to the inability of the coal operators to obtain empty cars from the railroads, and to the inability of the coal dealers to obtain delivery of coal consigned to them, and

"Whereas, this is a matter of grave public concern, the responsibility for which should be definitely fixed before remedial measures are attempted, now, therefore,

"Be It Resolved, by the Legislature of the State of Utah, that a special joint committee, consisting of three members of the Senate and four members of the House of Representatives, the said members to be appointed by the presiding officer of each said House respectively, be constituted for the purpose of forthwith conducting a thorough investigation of the aforesaid conditions, and of all matters in any wise appertaining thereto.

"The said special committee shall have power to call and subpoena witnesses, compel and take testimony, employ the services of a stenographer to take down and transcribe the proceedings of and the testimony adduced before the said committee, and to do all other matters necessary and incidental to carrying out the purposes of this resolution and the powers hereby given.

"The said committee shall report its finding to the Legislature not later than the first day of March, 1917."

Moved by Senator Colton to amend S. J. R. No. 2, to have the committee report their findings to the Legislature not later than the twentieth day of February, 1917. Carried.

Moved by Senator Olson to postpone further consideration of S. J. R. No. 2 until January 17, 1917. Lost.

S. J. R. No. 2, by Mr. Dern, was read second and third times and placed on its final passage, and passed on the following roll call. Ayes, 14; nays, 1.; absent and not voting, 3.

Those voting in the affirmative were: Senators Bevans, Bradley, Chez, Clyde, Colton, Dern, Evans, Kimball, Olson, Seegmiller, Stevens, Stringham, Walton, and Wootton.

Those voting in the negative were: Mr. President.

Absent and not voting: Senators Armstrong, Parker and Reynolds.

Senator Evans gave notice for a reconsideration of S. J. R. No. 2, by Mr. Dern, which under the rules lays it on the table for one day.

S. J. M. No. 1, by Mr. Wootton:

"A memorial asking the Federal Government for the establishment in practice of universal military training and service for young men.

"To the President of the United States, and to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

"Whereas, in the words of the constitution of the United States, the object sought in forming the federal government was 'To establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty,' and,

"Whereas, under the constitution the federal government guarantees 'to every state in this Union a republican form of government,' and that it 'will protect each of them against invasion;' and,

"Whereas, by the powers conferred upon Congress, and the prohibition enjoined against the keeping of 'troops and ships of war' by the states, the responsibility as well as the obligation of providing for the common defense was placed by the constitution upon the federal government; and,

"Whereas, in the words of Washington, 'Every man of proper age and ability of body is firmly bound by the social compact to perform his proportion of military duty for the defense of the nation,' and,

"Whereas, the constitution contemplated the equal service of all in the common defense, and Congress enacted the statute of 1792 providing for the enrollment of all male citizens of military age as the militia of the United States; and,

"Whereas, Congress having delegated the organization of the militia to the several states, the burden of the maintenance of armed forces for their own defense fell upon the several states notwithstanding the guarantee of the constitution that such defense would be provided by the federal government; and

"Whereas, the unfairness of the present militia laws have imposed the burdens of defense upon the few, whereas they should have been distributed equally upon all male citizens of military age as was contemplated by the constitution; and,

"Whereas, owing to the injustice of requiring the few to defend the many it has not been possible to bring the militia of the State of Utah, to its enrolled strength as proved by Congress; and,

"Whereas, it is now necessary for the State of Utah to determine its future policy with respect to its militia;

"Be It Then Resolved, That as the defense of the United States, jointly and severally, is a federal function to be discharged by the federal government and supported by the federal treasury, the federal government be requested to take such steps promptly as shall enable it to make effective its constitutional guarantee with respect to the defense of the several states; and,

"Be It Further Resolved, That there be recommended to the federal government the immediate establishment in practice of universal and obligatory military training and service for young men; and,

"Be It Further Resolved, That as soon as practicable the several states be relieved of the necessity of maintaining their national guards and the personnel of the national guard of the several states be utilized by the federal government upon the charge of the federal treasury to assist in organizing and training a national civilian army; and,

"Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States with the request that he propose to Congress appropriate legislation for the purposes set forth herein," was read January 15, 1917, but not printed in full in Journal, was read second time, and on motion of Senator Dern was referred to the Public Affairs Committee.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE HOUSE.

Salt Lake City, Utah, January 16, 1917.

To the President of the Senate:

I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Speaker has signed House Joint Resolution No. 2, by Mr. Williams (Sylvester), "Asking the Congress of the United States to provide for creating, designating and setting apart of National Forest Reserves to be regulated and controlled by the Department of Agriculture of the United States Government and authorizing and empowering said department to establish rules and regulations for the proper control and maintenance of said Forest Reserves," etc., and the same is herewith transmitted for the signature of the President of the Senate.

Respectfully,
ADAM L. PETERSEN,
Chief Clerk.

Communication filed, and H. J. R. No. 2 was read by title, and signed by the President in open session in the presence of the Senate, and returned to the House for further consideration.

At 2:50 p. m., on motion of Senator Bradley, the Senate adjourned until 2 p. m., January 17, 1917.

TENTH DAY.

To the Senate:

In my message to the Legislature I recommended that each House name a military committee with power to go into matters pertaining to the National Guard fully and candidly that we may learn what should be done to maintain our military organization at its present high standard and to provide for the increase in numbers and effciency demanded by the new law.

Since that message was delivered the members of the Legislature in joint session listened to a very able discussion of the military problem of the United States, and are therefore more or less acquainted with the movement for the abolition of the National Guard organizations and the substitution of national compulsory military training. The military question is a problem of great concern to the people of the United States at the present time and the gravity of the question has led to widespread investigation and discussion of the whole subject. As a result of the investigations the National Guard organizations of the country have been criticised by military authorities and others as failing to measure up to all that is desired in maintaing a strong military reserve force.

Further and more careful consideration of this subject impels me to supplement the recommendation heretofore made with this most earnest recommendation that the military committees of the two houses be organized immediately as a joint military committee and that this committee be directed and empowered to institute a most careful and searching inquiry into the whole subject of our National Guard organization and make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Legislature at an early date.

As you will readily appreciate this matter involves the grave responsibility of determining the State's future policy in military matters. It involves also the important question of adjusting the State's income to the very materially increased expense which will be entailed in maintaining the National Guard up to the standard of numbers and efficiency exacted by the new Federal law—an expense for the present biennial period of $189,800.00 as against $95,578.67 for the past two years.

The question to be considered is not the standing of the State militia as compared with other organizations of similar character. In every state these men are loyal and ready to respond to every call of duty. In Utah the National Guard has distinguished itself in times of war and danger, in the Philippines and on the Mexican border. But neither the patriotism of the men who comprise the militia nor our pride in the organization are points at issue. The system itself is on trial. Its efficiency as a practical arm of national defense is disputed by some of the ablest authorities and military experts in the country. It is urged that the entire military training and equipment of the nation should be under one head that the expense should be borne by the general government and that unity and efficiency are out of the question under the present arrangement. This is a subject that requires your early and serious consideration.

A similar communication has this day been transmitted to the House of Representatives.

Very respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,

Governor.

City.

Gentlemen:—

On behalf of the civic, fraternal, patriotic and labor organizations of this city I desire to extend to your honorable body a cordial invitation to attend a mass meeting to be held at the Auditorium, Monday, February twelfth, at 8:00 p. m.

The purpose of this meeting is three-fold: to direct attention to and endeavor to increase the attendance at the night school for adult foreigners now being conducted in this city; to bring the citizens of this city and state to a better realization of the obligations they owe the foreigner preparing himself for citizenship and to arouse a keener sense of civic duty.

Governor Bamberger is being asked to preside over the meeting, an interesting program containing numbers by representatives of various nationalities will be presented and final citizenship papers will be delivered to forty-two successful applicants.

The organization supporting this movement bespeak your favorable consideration of this invitation and will appreciate a reply at your early convenience that arrangements may be made to care for you as a body.

Very truly yours,

W. MONT FERRY,
Mayor.

S. J. M. No. 2, by Mr. Reynolds:

Memoralizing Congress to enact liberal and adequate legislation for development of water power sites in the Public Land States.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress Assembled:

Your memorialists, the Governor and the Legislature of the State of Utah respectfully represent that,

WHEREAS, Agricultural, commercial and manufacturing development is greatly retarded in the Public Land States by reason of the fact that the numerous water power sites on the public domain of the United States within the Public Land States, and particularly within the State of Utah, are now incapable of development for want of adequate legislation; and,

WHEREAS, Heretofore the representatives of this state have petitioned Congress for a national policy with relation to the public domain that would render the natural resources of the state available for public use and benefit. It is for the best interest of this state, and its citizens, that these resources be developed and so vested as to render them subject to taxation and thus distribute over a wider area the burden of taxation for local government that is now being borne by less than 25% of the total area of the state. It is particularly important that the vast quantities of water which are now being wasted may be utilized.

If legislation shall be enacted by the Congress of the United States which will encourage the investment of private capital in the development of these power sites, it will stimulate the mining and other industries dependent upon utilization of power for their operation; will render possible the irrigation by pumping of vast areas of arid lands which cannot be reached by gravity systems; will encourage manufacturing by reason of the cheap power for such purposes thereby rendered available; will permit of the electrification of railroads, thereby preserving for the use of present and future generations the coal deposits of this and other states for other uses for which electric power is not available, and will otherwise greatly benefit this state and its residents.

The state possesses, through its police powers, ample means to prevent and correct the abuses of monopoly, and to enforce adequate service at fair and reasonable rates, and to secure, for its citizens, the ultimate benefits resulting from water power development.

THEREFORE, The Governor and the Legislature of the State of Utah respectfully and earnestly petition the Congress of the United States to enact at the present session, appropriate legislation prescribing a definite, broad and liberal policy, and a simple and direct method, by which water power sites on the public domain in Federal ownership and control may be economically developed. Amendment made.

The Secretary of State of the State of Utah is hereby directed to transmit a copy of this joint memorial to the President, to each house of Congress and to each Senator and Representative in Congress from this state.

Under the rules the resolution was laid on the table for one day.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

OFFICE OF STATE BOARD OF EXAMINERS,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, January 29. 1917

To the Honorable Members of the Utah State Senate, Twelfth Regular Session.

Gentlemen:

I am directed by the State Board of Examiners to transmit to your Honorable Body the enclosed claim of Henry Dykman, in amount $3,500.00, for injuries sustained through alleged negligence of the State in maintaining proper public road.

The claim sets forth in detail the facts in the case. The Board has heard witnesses for Mr. Dykman and for the State Road Commission, from whom it appears that, while the road in question was in bad condition, Mr. Dykman was partially to blame for the accident. After considering the matter thoroughly the Board approved the claim for $1,000.00, and recommends that an appropriation be made to Mr. Dykman in that amount.

Very kindly yours,
HARDEN BENNION,
Secretary State Board of Examiners.

Communication filed and referred to the Appropriations and Claims Committee.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, January 30, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Appropriations and Claims, to whom was referred S. B. No. 40, by Mr. Bradley, entitled, "An Act to amend Sections 1 and 2, Chapter 92, Laws of Utah, 1913, relating to bounty fund and schedule of bounties, for destruction of certain animals," beg leave to report that they have duly considered said Bill, and for the reason that the object intended to attain is already covered and provided for in laws already upon the Statute books, we would respectfully recommend that it be not passed.

Respectfully submitted,
W. W. ARMSTRONG,
Chairman.

On motion of Senator Reynolds the report of the Committee was received and adopted. S. B. No. 40 was killed on the adoption of the Committee's report.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, January 30, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Commerce and Industries to whom was referred H. B. No. 3, reports as follows: We have carefully considered said Bill and have held hearings upon the same, and respectfully suggest that it be not passed.

Respectfully submitted,
H. T. REYNOLDS,
Chairman.

Report received and H. B. No. 3 placed on the calendar.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, January 30, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Commerce and Industries to whom was referred H. B. No. 1, reports as follows: Your Committee has carefully considered said Bill and has held a number of hearings thereon, and respectfully suggests a number of vital amendments thereto, as follows:

1. That the provision for the Commissioner be eliminated, and that an appropriate substitution be made therefor. Said substitution is ready, and at the proper time will be offered on the floor of the Senate.

2. That the words on page 2, line 28, and including the word "purpose" on line 29, be eliminated.

3. That the provisions found on page 7 providing for labeling and tagging shipments and sales, be made to conform to the elimination of the provisions for the commissioners, and that it be placed in its logical order, to-wit: Between lines 23 and 24 on the following page.

4. That on page 10 after the word "therein," on line 14, we insert the words "provided that any peace officer, relative or person, as described herein, upon such hearing may take a change of venue in the manner provided by law therefor. And that on line 25, after the word "preparation," the words "in the opinion of the State Chemist" be stricken out, and that in lieu thereof we insert the words "conforming to a standard established by the State Chemist, and." That on line 31, page 11, the words "or if" be inserted after the numerals "1913."

5. That the search and seizure provisions be amended by adding the word "possessed" at the end of line 26, on page 12, and also by adding after the word "place," on line 36, page 12, the following words: "stating the source of his information, and the facts within his knowledge, and upon which he bases his belief." And, that on line 14, page 13, the word "all' be omitted.

6. That on page 21, line 19, the word "law" be stricken, and that the words "this act" be inserted in lieu thereof. That on page 23, line 12, after the word "violating" we insert the words "or used in violation of," and after the word "possession" on line 23, we insert the words "except as provided in Section 20." That on line 34, page 23, after the word "that" we insert the words "the defendant shall in one trial be tried on all offenses contained therein, and."

7. That on line 30, page 24, we strike the word "eight," and insert in lieu thereof the word "four," and that the sentence commencing on line 30 with the word "any" be stricken, and that we insert in lieu thereof "and such prescription shall not be refilled within seven days."

8. That on page 27, the paragraph commencing on line 30, be inserted after the first paragraph on page 26 at the end of Section 32.

9. That on page 28 the words on line 10, and including the word "legislation" on line 11, be stricken out.

10. That after line 15, page 28, the following paragraph be inserted:

"Within two days after the taking effect of this act, every druggist, retail and wholesale liquor dealer within this state, is required to file an inventory of all liquors in their possession at the close of business on July 31, 1917. Said inventory must be verified and set forth in detail as to the kind and quantity of all such liquors, and must be filed with the County Clerk on August 2, 1917."

11. That after the figures "1917" on line 23, page 28, the following shall be added: "and wholesale and retail liquor dealers and druggists are allowed 10 days after August 1, 1917, within which to remove from the State of Utah all intoxicating liquors in their possession."

Inasmuch as the proposed amendments will materially alter the structure of the said Bill, your Committee desires to obtain the sentiment of the Senate before offering the Bill in reconstructed form, so that the Committee's final draft may be in harmony with the wishes of the Senate, that it may thereafter be quickly disposed of when returned to your Committee for final construction, and we further recommend that this Bill be discussed by the Senate under special order, on Wednesday, the 31st day of January, 1917, at 2:30 p. m., and after said Bill has been so discussed the same be referred back to your Committee to be amended in accordance with the decision of the Senate upon said amendments as herein suggested, and that the Bill be again reported to the Senate in the form proposed by said amendment.

Respectfully submitted,

H. T. REYNOLDS,
Chairman.

On motion of Senator Colton the report of the Committee was adopted.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 6, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Agriculture, to whom was referred S. B. No. 72, by Committee on Agriculture, entitled, "An Act amending Chapter 52, Laws of Utah, 1915, relating to bulls and their use upon the public range and forest reserve, defining a pure bred bull, and providing a penalty for a violation of any provision of this Act."

beg leave to report favorably upon the same and recommend that the Bill be passed.

Respectfully submitted,

ORLANDO BRADLEY,
Chairman.

Report filed and S. B. No. 72 placed on the calendar.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 6, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Agriculture, to whom was referred S. B. No. 65, by Mr. Funk, entitled, "An Act to provide for the appointment of one State Supervisor of Agricultural and Industrial Education, one State Supervisor of Home Economics in the High Schools and District Schools of the State, and defining their qualifications and duties," beg leave to report favorably upon the same and recommend that the Bill be Passed.

Respectfully submitted,

ORLANDO BRADLEY,
Chairman.

Report filed and S. B. No. 65 placed on the calendar.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 6, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Agriculture, to whom was referred S. B. No. 42, by Mr. Stevens, entitled, "An Act regulating the use of artesian water in this state, and providing for the regulation of well-drilling machines, for licensing operators thereof, reports to be made to the State Engineer, and specifying what such reports shall contain," beg leave to report that through a mistake the Bill was not printed, but we have made a careful examination of it and now recommend that the Bill be printed with certain amendments made by your Committee.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

UTAH STATE SENATE,
Salt Lake City, Utah, February 13, 1917.

SENATE BILL No. 46

REPORT OF JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

Your Judiciary Committee, to which was referred Senate Bill No. 46, entitled "An Act creating a Public Utilities Commission, defining public utilities, etc.," respectfully reports that your committee has had said bill under consideration and returns the same to the Senate with the recommendation that it be passed with the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1. On page 4, line 22, after the word "Commission" and before the word "upon" insert the following sentence: "the appointment of the secretary of the commission and all clerks, experts, attorneys and other subordinates and employes of the commission shall be made upon considerations only of the integrity and the competency of the individual to perform the duties of the position to which he is appointed, and regardless of the recommendations of any political party organizations, and regardless of any considerations of political party service by the applicant: provided, that the commission shall, with respect to the appointment of any clerks, experts or other subordinates, make rules and regulations for a civil service examination of each applicant, which rules and regulations shall provide for the appointment of the applicants for position under the commission based upon the merit system."

Amendment No. 2. On page 5, line 31, after the word "paid" strike out the words "by the state" and in lieu thereof insert the following words: "out of the public utility fund hereinafter provided for."

Amendment No. 3. On page 7, at the end of line 12, after the word "utilities" insert a semi-colon and the following words: "nor shall any public utility or any officer, agent, attorney or employe of any public utility, directly or indirectly, solicit, request or recommend to the Governor or to any State Senator or to the commission the appointment of any person as commissioner or as secretary of the commission or the appointment of any person to any place or position under the commission."

Amendment No. 4. On page 22 strike out all of Section 8.

Amendment No. 5. On page 27, line 17, strike out all of lines 17 to 22, inclusive, and the following words on line 23 "of a hearing or proceeding" and insert in lieu thereof the following: "Hearings or proceedings of the commission or of any commissioner shall be open to the public and all records of all hearings or proceedings or orders, rules or investigations by the commission or any commissioner shall be at all times open to the public; provided, that any information furnished the commission by a public utility or by any officer, agent or employe of any public utility may be withheld from the public whenever and during such time as the commission may determine that it is for the best interest of the public to withhold such information."

Amendment No. 6. On page 20, line 12, after the word "families," insert the following: "nor to prohibit free or reduced rate service by other public utilities to its officers, directors and employes," and on line 13 of the same page, after the word "transportation" insert the words "or other public utility service."

Your committee is unanimous in recommending the foregoing amendments, and this report is made with the understanding and reservation that other amendments proposed in committee, concerning which the committee is divided, will be presented by individual members on the floor of the Senate for determination there.

Respectfully,

CULBERT L. OLSON,
Chairman.

S. B. No. 143, by Committee on Appropriations and Claims: "An Act providing for the issuance and disposal of state bonds, and appropriating the proceeds of the sale thereof for the construction, maintenance and repair of state roads and the building of bridges thereon, and providing a fund for the payment of interest on and the redemption of said bonds," was read first time and referred to the Legislative Reference Committee.

Senator Armstrong was given unanimous consent to introduce a substitute Bill for S. B. No. 80, by Mr. Armstrong, the substitute Bill to take the place of the original Bill now on the calendar.

Substitute for S. B. No. 80, by Mr. Armstrong: "An Act to authorize the Governor to order an audit of the books, records and accounts of state departments and institutions, to appoint auditors, accountants and to employ counsel for the purpose of making inquiry as to the management or disposition of public funds or property, to commence and prosecute such actions as may be advisable for relief, and making an appropriation to cover the expenses thereof."

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The Senate resumed consideration of S. B. No. 46.

On motion of Senator Olson amendments Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6 contained in the Judiciary Committee's report of February 13th were adopted.

Moved by Senator Olson to amend as follows:

At the end of Section 21, on page 43, after line 34, insert the following as Sections 21-D and 21-E:

Sec. 21-D (a) No railroad corporation, street railroad corporation, gas corporation, electrical corporation, telephone corporation, telegraph corporation, or water corporation shall henceforth sell, lease, assign, mortgage or otherwise dispose of, or encumber the whole or any part of its railroad, street railroad, line, plant or system, necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, or any franchise or permit or any right thereunder, nor by any means whatsoever, direct or indirect, merge or consolidate its railroad, street railroad, line, plant or system, or franchises or permits or any part thereof, with any other public utility, without having first secured from the commission an order authorizing it so to do. Every such sale, lease, assignment, mortgage, disposition, encumbrance, merger or consolidation made other than in accordance with the order of the Commission authorizing the same shall be void. The permission and approval of the commission to the exercise of a franchise or permit under Section 21 of Article IV of this Act, or the sale, lease, assignment, mortgage or other disposition or encumbrance of a franchise or permit under this section shall not be construed to revive or validate any lapsed or invalid franchise or permit, or to enlarge or add to the powers or privileges contained in the grant of any franchise or permit, or to waive any forfeiture. Nothing in this subsection contained shall be construed to prevent the sale, lease or other disposition by any public utility of a class designated in this subsection of property which is not necessary or useful in the performance of its duties to the public, and any sale of its property by such public utility shall be conclusively presumed to have been of property which is not useful or necessary in the performance of its duties to the public, as to any purchaser of such property in good faith for value.

(b) No public utility shall hereafter purchase or acquire, take or hold, any part of the capital stock of any other public utility, organized or existing under or by virtue of the laws of this State, without having been first authorized to do so by the commission. Every assignment, transfer, contract or agreement for assignment or transfer of any stock by or through any person or corporation to any corporation or otherwise in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be void and of no effect, and no such transfer shall be made on the books of any public utility. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the holding of stock heretofore lawfully acquired.

Sec. 21-E (a) The power of public utilities to issue stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness and to create liens on their property situated within this State is a special privilege, the right of supervision, regulation, restriction and control of which is and shall continue to be vested in the State, and such power shall be exercised as provided by law and under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe.

(b) A public utility may issue stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness payable at periods of more than twelve months after the date thereof, for the following purposes and no others, namely, for the acquisition of property, or for the construction, completion, extension or improvement of its facilities, or for the improvement or maintenance of its service, or for the discharge of lawful refunding of its obligations, or for the reimbursement of moneys actually expended from income or from any other moneys in the treasury of the public utility not secured by or obtained from the issue of stocks or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of such public utility, within five years next prior to the filing of an application with the commission for the required authorization, for any of the aforesaid purposes except maintenance of service and replacements, in cases where the applicant shall have kept its accounts and vouchers for such expenditures in such manner as to enable the commission to ascertain the amount of moneys so expended and the purposes for which such expenditure was made; provided, that such public utility, in addition to the other requirements of law, shall first have secured from the commission an order authorizing such issue and stating the amount thereof and the purpose or purposes to which the issue or the proceeds thereof are to be applied, and that, in the opinion of the commission, the money, property or labor to be procured or paid for by such issue is reasonably required for the purpose or purposes specified in the order, and that, except as otherwise permitted in the order in the case of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, such purpose or purposes are not, in whole or in part, reasonably chargeable to operative expenses or to income. To enable it to determine whether it will issue such order, the commission shall hold a hearing and may make such additional inquiry or investigation, and examine such witnesses, books, papers, documents and contracts and require the filing of such data as it may deem of assistance. The commission may by its order grant permission for the issue of such stocks or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness in the amount applied for, or in a lesser amount, or not at all, and may attach to the exercise of its permission such condition or conditions as it may deem reasonable and necessary. No public utility shall, without the consent of the commission, apply the issue of any stock, or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or any part thereof, or any proceeds thereof, to any purpose not specified in the commission's order, or to any purpose specified in the commission's order in excess of the amount authorized for such purpose, or issue or dispose of the same on any terms less favorable than those specified in such order, or a modification thereof. A public utility may issue notes, for proper purposes, and not in violation of any provision of this Act or any other Act, payable at periods of not more than twelve months after the date of issuance of the same, without the consent of the commission, but no such note shall, in whole or in part, be refunded by any issue of stocks or stock certificates, or of bonds, notes of any term or character or any other evidence of indebtedness, without the consent of the commission.

The commission shall have no power to authorize the capitalization of the right to be a corporation, or to authorize the capitalization of any franchise or permit whatsoever, or the right to own, operate or enjoy any such franchise or permit, in excess of the amount (exclusive of any tax or annual charge) actually paid to the State or to a political subdivision thereof as the consideration for the grant of such franchise, permit or right; nor shall any contract for consolidation or lease be capitalized, nor shall any public utility hereafter issue any bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness against or as a lien upon any contract for consolidation or merger.

(c) The commission shall have the power to require public utilities to account for the disposition of the proceeds of all sales of stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness, in such form and detail as it may deem advisable, and to establish such rules and regulations as it may deem reasonable and necessary to insure the disposition of such proceeds for the purpose or purposes specified in its order.

(d) All stocks and every stock certificate, and every bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, of a public utility, issued without an order of the commission authorizing the same then in effect shall be void, and likewise all stock and every stock certificate, and every bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, of a public utility, issued with the authorization of the commission, but not conforming in its provisions to the provisions, if any, which it is required by the order of authorization of the commission to contain, shall be void; but no failure in any other respect to comply with the terms or conditions of the order of authorization of the commission shall render void any stock or stock certificate, or any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, except as to a corporation or person taking the same otherwise than in good faith and for value and without actual notice.

(e) Every public utility which, directly or indirectly, issues or causes to be issued, any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, in non-conformity with the order of the commission authorizing the same, or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or of the constitution of this State, or which applies the proceeds from the sale thereof, or any part thereof, to any purpose other than the purpose or purposes specified in the commission's order, as herein provided, or to any purpose specified in the commission's order in excess of the amount in said order authorized for such purpose, is subject to a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than twenty thousand dollars for each offense.

(f) Every officer, agent or employe of a public utility, and every other person who knowingly authorizes, directs, aids in, issues or executes, or causes to be issued or executed, any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, in non-conformity with the order of the commission authorizing the same, or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or of the constitution of this State, or who, in any proceeding before the commission, knowingly makes any false statement or representation or with knowledge of its falsity, files, or causes to be filed with the commission any false statement or representation, which said statement or representation so made, filed or caused to be filed may tend in any way to influence the commission to make an order authorizing the issue of any stock or stock certificate, or any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or which results in procuring from the commission the making of any such order, or who, with knowledge that any false statement or representation was made to the commission, in any proceeding, tending in any way to influence the commission to make such order, issues or executes or negotiates, or causes to be issued, executed or negotiated any such stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, or who, directly or indirectly, knowingly applies or causes or assists to be applied the proceeds or any part thereof, from the sale of any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, to any purpose not specified in the commission's order, or to any purpose specified in the commission's order in excess of the amount authorized for such purpose, or who, with knowledge that any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, has been issued or executed in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, negotiates, or causes the same to be negotiated, shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof, shall be imprisoned in the State penitentiary for a term not less than two years and not more than ten years.

(g) No provision of this Act, and no deed or act done or performed under or in connection therewith, shall be held or construed to obligate the State of Utah to pay or guarantee, in any manner whatsoever, any stock or stock certificate, or bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness authorized, issued or executed under the provisions of this Act.

(h) All stocks and stock certificates, and bonds, notes, and other evidence of indebtedness issued by any public utility after this Act takes effect, upon the authority of any articles of incorporation or amendments thereto or vote of the stockholders or directors filed, taken or had, or other proceeding taken or had, previous to the taking effect of this Act, shall be void, unless an order of the commission authorizing the issue of such stocks or stock certificates, or bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, shall have been obtained from the commission prior to such issue. The commission may by its order impose such condition or conditions as it may deem reasonable and necessary.

On motion of Senator Colton, "Section 10, page 55, lines 18 to 24," inclusive, were stricken out and the following inserted in lieu thereof:

Section 10. Any public utility shall have the right to complain to the commission on any of the grounds upon which complaints are allowed to be filed by other parties, including the fairness, reasonableness or adequateness of any schedule, classification, rate, price, charge, fare, toll, rental, rule, regulation, service, or facility of such public utility, and the same procedure shall be adopted and followed as in other cases, except that the complaint may be heard ex parte by the commission or may be served upon any parties designated by the commission."

Moved by Senator Colton to amend by striking out all of Section 20, on page 41, from lines 10 to 27, inclusive, and insert the following in lieu thereof:

"Sec. 20 (a) Every public utility shall carry a proper and adequate depreciation account whenever the commission, after investigation, shall determine that such depreciation account can be reasonably required. The commission shall ascertain and determine what are the proper and adequate rates of depreciation of the several classes of property of each public utility. The rates shall be such as will provide the amounts required over and above the expense of maintenance, to keep such property in a state of efficiency corresponding to the progress of the industry. Each public utility shall conform its depreciation accounts to such rates so ascertained and determined by the commission. The commission may make changes in such rates of depreciation from time to time as it may find to be necessary. ,

"20. (b) The commission shall also prescribe rules, regulations, and forms of accounts regarding such depreciation which the public utility is required to carry into effect.

"20. (c) The commission shall provide for depreciation in fixing the rates, tolls and charges to be paid by the public.

"20. (d) All moneys thus provided for shall be set aside out of the earnings and carried to a depreciation fund. The moneys in this fund may be expended in new constructions, extensions or additions to the property of such public utility, or invested, and if invested the income from the investment shall also be carried to the depreciation fund. This fund and the proceeds thereof shall be used for no other purpose than as provided in this section and for depreciation."

Mr. President:

We, your Committee on Health and Labor, to whom was re-committed S. B. No. 51, by Mr. Bevan, entitled, "An Act to amend Section 1113x28, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, relating to locations of pest houses, and to repeal Section 4278, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907," beg leave to report that we have re-examined the same and recommend that the Bill be passed with the following amendment:

1. By striking out that part of Section 1113x28 beginning on line 10 of the printed Bill down to and including line 20 of the printed Bill, and inserting in lieu thereof the following section:

Sec. 1113x28. Provided, however, that the inhabitants of any town, city or county may establish in such locality as the board of health may deem best and may provide one or more hospitals for the reception of persons having smallpox or other disease which may be dangerous to public health.

Sec. 1113x29. All such hospitals shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the board of health or committee appointed by such board for that purpose, but no such hospital shall be established within one hundred yards of any inhabited house without the consent of the occupant thereof.

Sec. 1113x30. When the smallpox or other disease dangerous to the public health is found to exist in any town, city or county the board of health shall use all possible care to prevent the spreading of the infection and give the public notice of infected places by such means as in their judgment shall be most effectual for the common safety.

To the Senate:

I have this day approved and filed with the Secretary of State, S. J. R. No. 4, by Mr. Evans, entitled, "An adopting of state song, 'Utah We Love Thee.'"

Respectfully,
SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed.

S. J. R. No. 4, by Mr. Evans.

BE IT RESOLVED, BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF UTAH, THE GOVERNOR CONCURRING THEREIN:

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that a state should select and officially recognize an appropriate state song; and

Whereas, The people of Utah are especially favored with patriotic songs which have been produced by both the native and adopted sons and daughters of the State; and

Whereas, It is universally recognized that the song, by Evan Stephens, entitled, "Utah' We Love Thee," possesses the supreme merits of a people's song; and

Whereas, Its author and composer is the most venerated and distinguished of Utah's splendid array of poet-musicians; and

Whereas, This song has historical significance in that it was composed especially for the festival held on the 6th day of January, 1896, in celebration of the admission of Utah into the Union, on which occasion it was sung by a chorus of one thousand children under the direction of its author and composer; and

Whereas, The author has graciously consented to dedicate this song to the people of this commonwealth as an evidence of his affection and patriotism towards the state of his adoption and life-long residence and activities; now, therefore, it is hereby

Resolved, That the song, "Utah, We Love Thee," is hereby recognized and designated as the official state song of the State of Utah, and that the gratitude of the State of Utah is hereby expressed to Prof. Evan Stephens for his praiseworthy production and generous gift. It is further

Resolved, That this resolution and the text of the song be entered in the Senate Journal.

Statement in Support of Resolution No. 4, by Mr. Evans:

The late Ordando W. Powers, in describing the song, "Utah, We Love Thee," said: "Its text is music, its music breathes the text. So perfectly wedded are the two that neither could be mated to another poem or another music, nor be made to say any other thing than 'Utah, We Love Thee!' "

The combination of occasion and genius produced this song—the occasion, the great festival held in the Salt Lake Tabernacle on the 6th day of January, 1896, immediately following the proclamation of the President of the United States by which Utah was admitted into the Union—the genius, Evan Stephens, who as poet-musician, stands as Utah's most illustrious son.

The occasion marked the culmination of long years of effort upon the part of Utah's leading men and women —of sacrifice, contention, bitter strife and suffering upon the part of her people. For Utah more than any other state of the Union, admission to statehood marked the dawn of a new and better day.

The spirit and significance of the occasion found their best expression in this song. He was a man then of mature years, having grown with the State, personally experiencing the development of its history, enjoying the acquaintance of all its leading citizens, and coming in direct contact with all classes of its people, old and young, cheering and inspiring them with his anthems and his poetry—this man of all others could sense and feel the full significance of the recognition by the United States of America of his beloved State and her people.

What more could be felt, or what less, than that which he has expressed by the words and by the music of this song? What more or what less could by any genius have been expressed? "It has all the points of supreme merit for a people's song—the fire of enthusiastic inspiration, brevity and directness of text and music, dignity without pretentiousness."

This song has been sung in every hamlet in this commonwealth. First heard upon Utah's natal day, when rendered by one thousand school children under the direction of its author and composer, it has from that time to this been sung by hundreds of thousands. It has been carried to the east and to the west by our great choirs. It was sung on the battleship "Utah" at its christening, and the marine band of this great man-of-war has taken it to many foreign lands.

No act of ours can either add to or detract from the merits of this composition. It has established its own place and its author has done likewise. We, as representatives of the State, are no doubt tardy in our recognition, but I am sure it is none the less earnest—none the less sincere.

UTAH, WE LOVE THEE.

By E. STEPHENS.

Land of the mountains high, Utah, we love thee;
Land of the sunny sky, Utah, we love thee!
Far in the glorious west,
Throned on the mountain's crest,
In robes of statehood dress'd, Utah, we love thee.

Columbia's newest star, Utah, we love thee;
Thy lustre shines afar, Utah, we love thee!
Bright in our banner's blue,
Among her sisters true,
She proudly comes to view, Utah, we love thee.

Land of the Pioneers, Utah, we love thee;
Grow with the coming years, Utah, we love thee!
With wealth and peace in store,
To fame and glory soar,
God guarded evermore, Utah, we love thee.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 21, 1917.

To the Senate:

I have this day approved and filed with the Secretary of State S. B. No. 26, by Mr. Funk, entitled, "An Act providing for the registration of farm names in the office of the State Auditor, and providing a fee therefor, and prescribing a penalty for the violation thereof."

Respectfully,
SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 23, 1917.

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith without my approval S. B. No. 50, by Mr. Stevens, entitled, "An Act to amend Section 2063x19, of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, in relation to investment of sinking funds."

This bill seeks to make it possible for boards of commissioners of any city, city councils, boards of education, boards of town trustees, school trustees and directors of irrigation districts to invest sinking funds in interest bearing bonds issued by any city, county or school district within the state, or by the state itself, or by the federal farm loan bank, and further, when any sinking fund exceeds the amount needed to redeem any bond for which such sinking fund was created to loan such excess amount of money on real estate situated in the State of Utah in an amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the value of such real estate, for a period not exceeding three years and at a rate not less than five per cent.

The law which this bill seeks to amend makes it possible for such city, town, school and irrigation district authorities to invest sinking funds in city, county, school district and state bonds. The change proposed would make possible the investment of such funds in federal farm loan bank bonds and also the loaning of excess amounts in sinking funds on real estate.

The loaning of money on real estate by cities, towns and school and irrigation districts is an innovation that should be carefully considered. In many of the subdivisions the amount in the sinking funds is small and the returns from loans at five per cent interest would be so small as to be in no way commensurate with the risk involved. Depreciation in real estate might easily dissipate the sinking fund. Furthermore, such investments of sinking funds would involve a careful investigation of titles to real estate and a careful appraisal of the valuation of property. The protection of the sinking fund is an important factor in the sale of bonds, and when bond buyers learn that the sinking fund is invested in securities of uncertain value it is quite probable that the market for such bonds would be impaired.

I wish also to call your attention to what is probably a typographical error in the bill, but which if left uncorrected would probably change the meaning of the act.

In line of the engrossed bill the word "bank" is followed by a comma and then comes a clause beginning with the word "whenever," which apparently modifies what has gone before. However, in the law which this bill seeks to amend the word "whenever" begins a new sentence and bears no direct relation with what has gone before.

Respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed.

S. B. No. 50, by Mr. Stevens, was placed on its final passage, the Governor's veto notwithstanding.

S. B. No. 50 was rejected on the following roll call: Ayes 4, nays 14.

Those voting in the affirmative were: Senators Colton, Olson, Seegmiller, Stevens.

Those voting in the negative were: Senators Armstrong, Bevan, Bradley, Chez, Clyde, Dern, Evans, Kimball, Parker, Reynolds, Stringham, Walton Wootton, Mr. President.

S. B. No. 50, by Mr. Stevens, killed.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 23, 1917.

To the Senate:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, S. B. No. 10, by Mr. Chez, entitled, "An Act providing that freight charges on carloads of coal delivered at any point within the state where railroad track scales are maintained, shall be based upon the actual weight of said coal at the point of delivery, prescribing the manner of weighing such coal, providing a penalty for a violation of any provision of this Act, and repealing Chapter 97, Laws of Utah, 1913."

This measure is one designed to provide for the destination weighing of coal at points where track scales are maintained.

I find myself in accord with the object sought to be attained by this bill, but I am of the opinion that the present Legislature will enact a law providing for a Public Utilities Commission and that this commission will be clothed with sufficient authority to provide for destination weighing of coal and for such other relief as may be necessary under the circumstances which have prompted this legislation.

In view of the probability of the enactment of a Public Utilities law and the desirability of giving the Public Utilites Commission free rein in making such regulations as will best serve the public necessity and convenience, I am of the opinion that this bill should not became a law.

Respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

On motion of Senator Chez the communication was laid on the table for one day.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 23, 1917.

To the Senate:

Pursuant to your request, I am returning herewith S. B. No. 19, by Mr. Wootton, entitled, "An Act providing for the licensing of sheep owned or leased by non-residents, providing for the amount of said license, and providing penalty for violation of same, empowering the sheriffs of the various counties to collect said license, and providing for the disposition of said fund."

Respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed.

Moved by Senator Wootton that we reconsider our action by which S. B. No. 19, by Mr. Wootton, was passed. Carried.

On motion of Senator Wootton the title of the Bill was amended by inserting after the last word the following, "and providing for certain exceptions."

S. B. No. 19 then passed on the following roll call: Ayes 17, Absent and not voting 1.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 24, 1917.

To the Senate:

Pursuant to your request, I am returning herewith S. B. No. 5, by Mr. Evans, entitled, "An Act amending Chapter 68 of the Session Laws of 1909, designating who shall exact the bond therein provided and prescribing a penalty for failure to obtain such bond."

Respectfully,
SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed.

Moved by Senator Evans that we reconsider our action by which S. B. No. 5 was passed. Carried.

On motion of Senator Evans the Bill as passed was amended as follows: The title of the Bill was made to read, S. B. No. 5, by Mr. Evans: "An Act amending Chapter 68 of the Laws of Utah, 1909, by amending Section 1 thereof, herein named Section 2, re-enacting Section 2 thereof, herein named Section 4, and adding new Sections 3, 5 and 6; and repealing Section 1400x, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, designating who shall exact the bonds therein provided for, and prescribing a penalty for failure to obtain such bond."

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

To the Senate and the House of Representatves of the State of Utah:

Your Special Joint Committee to investigate the prevailing shortage of coal in this State, respectfully submits the following report:

For some time prior to the convening of the Legislature there was general complaint of a coal shortage in Salt Lake City and elsewhere throughout the State. This situation was sensed by Governor Bamberger when, in his message to the Legislature, he said:

> "There is at present a serious coal shortage which demands investigation and relief. The Legislature should fix the responsibility for this intolerable situation and take such steps as will guarantee the State against a repetition. Apparenly there is plenty of coal within the State for all our needs, and steps should be taken by the Legislature to make this coal available at all times. Whether this may be done in connection with the enactment of a public utilities law or by independent action is for the Legislature to determine."

Judging from newspaper reports, the situation grew steadily worse, until Attorney General Dan B. Shields took official cognizance thereof, by making a preliminary inquiry and conducting a hearing in his office. This hearing convinced Mr. Shields that a more extended and more thorough investigation should be made, and in a letter to the now chairman of this committee he suggested a legislative inquiry. A copy of the Attorney General's letter is appended hereto. Responsive to the suggestion therein contained, Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, a copy of which is also appended, was introduced on January 15, 1917. In pursuance of the passage of that Resolution, the committee was appointed on January 25. The committee promptly organized by electing George H. Dern chairman, and J. G. Widdison, Jr., Secretary.

The committee held nine public sessions, the first being on January 29 and the last on February 14. Twenty-eight witnesses testified, and a complete transcript of the testimony, consisting of over 600 typewritten pages, is submitted herewith, to be filed with this report in the office of the Secretary of State. We also submit a transcript of the testimony taken in the Attorney General's office on January 17.

Assistant Attorney General James H. Wolfe acted as special counsel for the committee, and played a leading part both in directing the scope and method of the investigation and in examining the witnesses. We take this opportunity of expressing our high appreciation of Mr. Wolfe's valuable assistance.

Owing to the press of the regular legislative work we have not been able to devote as much time as we might have desired to studying the transcript and preparing a comprehensive report. We are, therefore, constrained to limit ourselves to a brief reference to the most salient points.

DEGREE OF SHORTAGE.

It required little investigation to affirm that there was an actual coal shortage and the committee did not spend much time directly on that phase of the question.

However, the testimony incidentally elicited a good deal of information to prove that the shortage actually was serious and acute. We are aware that there is a class of people that is always short of coal in the winter season. These unfortunate or improvident people, who make work for the charity organizations, can supply examples of hardship and suffering in any winter, and hence the actual conditions cannot be judged by reference to this class, although it is possible that even its destitution was keener this winter than usual.

Those who needed coal and were unable to get it, although able and willing to pay for it probably constituted a majority of the people of the State during the past two months or more. Many of these people, if they did not suffer real hardship, certainly suffered great inconvenience and discomfort. It seems to have been a common thing to put the heating stove out of commission and get along with the fire in the kitchen stove. Borrowing back and forth between neighbors was a frequent practice. Furnaces were banked or allowed to go out at night, instead of being run in the ordinary way. These and other devices for economizing and conserving enabled most people to get along after a fashion. We are of the opinion that the retail dealers in the cities are deserving of great credit for a wise and judicious distribution of the available coal.

It is often asked why the consumer is so improvident that he does not prepare for winter by buying and storing coal in the summer. Possibly the average mind lacks the power of imagination required to see the necessity of buying coal in July, when one of the chief aims of life is to keep cool. But without speculating upon the psychological question involved, the plain fact is that most people will not store coal in the summer unless they are offered a financial inducement to do so. The dealers all say that unless their customers can save money by laying in a supply of coal in the summer they will take the chances of getting their coal when they need it. Moreover, the experience of years has proven this course to be comparatively safe, and hence a sense of security has developed, which is rudely shocked when a condition comes such as has prevailed this winter. But there is another good and sufficient reason why a great many people do not store coal, and that is that they have no room for it. If a man's coal bin or cellar will only hold a ton or two, it is futile to talk to him about storage.

As is usual in times like this, the element of fear had something to do with the shortage. People got panic-stricken, and ordered coal long before they actually needed it. This caused an abnormally increased demand, so far as placing orders is concerned. It seems, however, that the dealers understood the situation, and delivered the coal where it was most urgently needed, hence we are of the opinion that the feeling of panic did not have a very important effect.

The testimony indicated that Salt Lake City fared better than other towns in Utah and Idaho. At Hooper a carload of coal arrived before daylight and there were at least fifty teams lined up, waiting their turn to get the portion that was doled out to each. In Bingham the coal yards were out of coal fifty per cent of the time after the first of December, and deliveries were limited to 500 pounds to each customer. When a car was set in, people came with sacks and carried the coal away a sack at a time. Similar conditions prevailed in other communities and the general conclusion is that there was undoubtedly an acute shortage of coal for domestic uses.

Retail dealers of Salt Lake City, Ogden and Provo testified that they had been running from hand to mouth for two months, and that they could not fill over 40 to 75 per cent of their orders, because they could not get the coal from the mines.

For industrial purposes there was an acute shortage. Mines were shut down in some instances. One of the large smelters was at one time down to three hours' supply of coal. All of the industries of the State, including sugar factories, were operating on a precarious basis, so far as fuel supply was concerned.

As to whether or not the shortage this year was unusual ,there was no difference of opinion that it was at least the worst since 1907, and probably worse than the shortage of that year. However, it was testified that in some places or localities there has been more or less of a shortage every year.

Witnesses have also stated that since the legislative investigation began the situation has improved, because the railroads have made a special effort to deliver coal.

CAUSES OF SHORTAGE.

Utah is wonderfully rich in deposits of high-grade bituminous coal. The coal fields of Carbon county are less than 130 miles from Salt Lake City. The mines are opened up and equipped for a production far in excess of the present maximum demand. The Wyoming coal mines are also comparatively close, and help to supply the Utah market. With these facts in mind, the committee addressed itself to the question as to the reasons why the people should be suffering from a coal shortage. Three main reasons were assigned—weather, lack of transportation facilities, and absence of a differential freight rate between summer and winter haulage of coal.

Everybody seems to agree that the past winter has been one of imprecedented severity. While heavy snows are frequent in Utah, cold weather is usually of short duration. In an ordinary winter, a couple of weeks of extremely cold weather is almost invariably followed by a thaw. This winter there has not only been more snow than usual, but freezing weather has been continuous for two months. No one will deny that this has been a large factor in the coal shortage. Its effect is apparent in the following particulars:

1. It has resulted in increased consumption. Dealers generally agree that the protracted coal spell has caused a very marked increase in the demand for coal, and in the amount of coal burned. In fact, some of the dealers testified that they actually sold and delivered to their customers about the same quantity of coal as last winter, and that the shortage was due to the increased demand caused by the cold weather.

2. The railroads testified that not only did the storms cause total or partial blockades which impeded traffic, but that the cold weather reduced the capacity of their locomotives twenty-five per cent. In this way the weather contributed directly to the railroads' inability to haul as much coal as was needed.

3. The snowy condition of the roads and streets made it very difficult for teams to deliver coal to the consumer. Instances were brought to the attention of the committee where residents of the east bench in Salt Lake City were obliged to lock up their houses and come to the hotels, because no coal could be hauled in that part of the city. At certain times teams were scarce or hard to get. Teamsters could get $5 for eight hours from the city for hauling snow, and they found this more attractive than hauling coal. We are of the opinion, however, that this has not been a matter of any particular consequence in the coal shortage, because apparently there has at no time been much of a stock of coal in the Salt Lake yards that could not be delivered for want of teams. By extraordinary exertion and extra expense, the dealers have managed to deliver the coal about as fast as it came in.

4. The unusual season, coupled with other reasons which will be stated later, caused the storage coal to be consumed in many cases several months earlier than in ordinary years. As soon as this reserve stock was exhausted, the public was absolutely dependent upon the railroads to deliver the coal as it was required.

From these four poinnts it is obvious that the weather actually had a good deal to do with the coal shortage this winter. In the opinion of the committee, however, this should not be permitted wholly to exuce the failure to provide the people with fuel. It is not enough to say that if the weather conditions had been normal the public would not have suffered. Abnormal conditions are liable to occur any year. Nobody can guarantee that next winter will not be as severe as this. The public is entitled to at least a reasonable degree of protection against emergencies and extraordinary conditions. Moreover, the testimony shows that the scarcity of coal began long before the cold weather began. Dealers testified that in ordinary years they do not begin to draw on their storage coal until the latter part of December or the early part of January, but that this season, on account of being unable to get coal from the mines as they needed it, they were obliged to begin selling their storage coal in September, and that this reserve was all gone by the middle of November. In other words, the dealers' reserves, which were intended for January and February consumption, were used up during good weather in the autumn months. It is evident, therefore, that we must look beyond the cold weather for the more important cause of the shortage.

The reasons given by the dealers for the shortage of coal, besides increased demand due to the weather, are inadequate storage and inadequate current deliveries. Greater current deliveries are necessary under the present freight tariffs, because dealers lack financial incentive to store to full capacity. Storing coal entails expense and loss due to shrinkage, degeneration of lump coal into slack, duplicated handling, risk of fire, interest on money invested, and other factors. Consequently without incentive to store coal, dealers testify that they are not inclined to do more than necessary in this direction.

It may be said at this point that had not the dealers year after year stored a quantity of coal, in spite of loss, in order to protect their patrons against shortage, the dearth each year, and especially this year, would have been felt far more keenly than it has been. For the present season, moreover, dealers disclaim responsibility in this regard for the reason that they could not get coal even during the autumn months for storage purposes, but that on the contrary such reserves as they had laid in were used up before the cold weather began. The whole trouble, therefore, so far as the retail dealers are concerned, simmers down to the inability to get coal.

Tracing the inquiry through the consumer and the dealer, the next step relates to the failure on the part of the producer to supply the dealers with all the coal that was needed. The sole reason given was lack of railroad cars. The undisputed testimony of the producers goes to show that not only are the mines developed sufficiently and equipped adequately to produce the maximum tonnage that the market will absorb, but that they are prepared to expand their output to double or treble its present volume. They point out that whereas Wyoming and Colorado each produce in excess of ten million tons of coal per annum, Utah produces about three and one-half million tons. They confidently look forward to the time when coal mining in Utah will not be behind what it is in our neighboring states, and that they hope this time is not far distant, since they already have the organization, equipment and facilities to rival Colorado and Wyoming. It is obvious, therefore, that the coal shortage was not due to the inability of the mines to supply the coal. Neither was it due to shortage of labor. All of the mines appear to have been able throughout the season to command sufficient labor to produce the tonnage needed to satisfy the market, provided the crews could have been kept working steadily.

In substantiation of these claims, the producers gave figures to show that they have only been able to work about half time for want of cars. Full working time is 208 hours per month. One producer gave the following record of actual working time, the idle time being entirely due to lack of cars:

	Working Time Hours	Idle Time Hours
July, 1916	194	14
August, 1916	194	14
September, 1916	140½	67½
October, 1916	116¼	91¾
November, 1916	143	65
December, 1916	138½	69½
January, 1917	162	46

The same producer gave the following list of unfilled orders that he was unable to ship on account of failure to get cars:

October 9, 1916	403 cars
October 16, 1916	524 cars
October 23, 1916	598 cars
October 30, 1916	652 cars
November 6, 1916	805 cars
November 13, 1916	800 cars
November 20, 1916	932 cars
November 27, 1916	960 cars
December 4, 1916	1017 cars
December 11, 1916	1191 cars
December 18, 1916	1093 cars
December 26, 1916	1073 cars
January 1, 1917	1218 cars
January 8, 1917	1138 cars
January 15, 1917	929 cars
January 22, 1917	865 cars
January 29, 1917,	839 cars

Another producer testified that at the time of the hearing his company was short 2,000 cars for commercial business, and another 1,000 cars on contracts, or a total of 3,000 cars. In other words, this company had orders for 100,000 tons of coal that it could not ship for want of cars. The foregoing figures are typical of the predicament of all the producers, hence there is no need of multiplying examples. With the advent of warmer weather a large percentage of these orders will be cancelled, and the sales lost. Inability to get cars is therefore the thing that most seriously restricts the producers' operations.

It also developed that some of the producers have large contracts for slack coal, which they sell at very low prices. One company sells 48 per cent of its entire output on such contracts at prices materially lower than those paid by the retail dealers. In fact, it was admitted that the contract prices on slack coal sold to the smelters and other large industries are below the cost of production. This apparent discrimination between their patrons, which forces the general public to provide all the profit, if not actually to make up the loss, on the 52 per cent which it buys, is explained by the producers by saying that it gives them enough business during the summer season to enable them to keep their organization intact. Also it was stated that at times slack is a drug on the market, and the mines prefer to sell it at a loss rather than throw it over the dump. When a new mine is being opened it must carry on its development work, and in so doing it produces a good deal of slack, which it would rather sell at any price than to throw it away. On the other hand it was intimated that one or more of the mines occasionally made slack artificially in order to fill their contracts. Furthermore, one producer conceded that the smelters have been given a preference over the commercial trade, in order to keep them in operation. However, since the smelters have actually suffered a great deal of embarrassment from the coal shortage, and have had their work hampered to some extent, it does not appear that this discrimination was very pronounced.

One or two of the witnesses thought the producers were to some extent to blame for the shortage, because they shipped too much of their coal out of the state, where they could get a higher price for it. It developed that the producers get from $2.40 to $3.00 per ton at the mine for lump coal shipped to Utah points, while they get $3.00 for the same coal in Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington. They have, since December 1, been getting $3.50 per ton in these four states, against a maximum of $3.00 in Utah. Notwithstanding a more tempting market without the state, the producers testified that they sold a larger percentage of their output in Utah this year than ever before.

The testimony of one of the "independent" companies (i. e., companies other than the Utah Fuel Company) included the following figures showing the percentage of its total production shipped to Salt Lake City for the periods mentioned:

Entire year 1914.....	10	per cent
Entire year 1915	17.6	per cent
Entire year 1916	18.2	per cent
December, 1915	25	per cent

December, 1916	25	per cent
January, 1916	19	per cent
January, 1917	26	per cent

Other producers corroborated the claim that they had not increased shipments to other states to the detriment of Utah.

Our inquiries were chiefly in regard to the Utah coal field. Endeavor was made to secure information regarding the state of affairs at the Wyoming fields, and the witness subpoenaed, although seemingly poorly informed, gave the impression that his company at Rock Springs had suffered more from labor troubles than from lack of cars. We regret that the time at our disposal did not enable us to inquire into Wyoming conditions more closely and to compare them with Utah conditions. However, it appears to us that the Utah coal mines are the logical source of coal supply for Utah, especially since they are able and willing to furnish all the coal that is needed. Since the Utah mines are on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, the next step in the inquiry was to determine the reasons for that company's failure to furnish the necessary transportation facilities.

The producers expressed the firm conviction that the Denver & Rio Grande railroad has neither enough cars nor enough locomotives to handle its business, and that the coal shortage was wholly due to the failure and inability of the railroad to furnish cars. Some of the testimony gave the committee the impression that the railroad company has cars enough, but that its operating methods are inefficient. On the other hand, Mr. F. R. Rockwell, Assistant General Manager of the Utah Lines of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, expressed the opinion that the coal shortage was caused by a shortage of cars, unprecedented weather and unfortunate enlargement upon the conditions by the newspapers. He went on to explain that there is now the greatest shortage of cars in the history of railroading in the United States; that no railroad in the country has had sufficient cars for the last six months; and that this condition is a result of the tremendous business that has developed in the United States since the outbreak of the European War. The effect of the weather, he said, had been to decrease the capacity of his company's locomotives by twenty-five per cent; and that for this reason the storm has had a great deal to do with the shortage. The "unfortunate advertising given to the situation," in Mr. Rockwell's opinion, caused an unnecessary demand for coal, just as a rumor will start a run on a bank. The officials of the railroad also claim that their equipment is in first class condition, and ample for normal conditions.

The members of the committee do not feel that, as a result of conducting this investigation, they have qualified as railroad experts. They do not feel disposed to enter upon a detailed discussion of the technical aspects of this problem. There are a few points, however, that the committee feels are within the scope of a layman's mind. For one thing, as has already been explained, the committee thinks the panic argument is exaggerateed. If, as is believed, the dealers succeeded in keeping the available coal from going to people who did not actually need it, the element of fear did not have much effect. The conditions in Bingham and Hooper, which have been cited, were not merely psychological; they showed a real and serious need of coal.

The committee has already conceded that the protracted cold spell materially augmented the demand for and the consumption of coal. Presumably it is also true that in cold weather a car is harder to pull than in warm weather, and that consequently the capacity of the D. & R. G. locomotives was cut down as stated. It should not be forgotten, however, that the coal shortage began before the cold weather began. Its most acute stages came in December and January, after the storage coal was used up, but the testimony proves that the shortage began in September. Indeed, one producer claimed that he lost some time for lack of cars as early as June. There is no attempt to disprove the obvious fact that the weather had a good deal to do with the shortage, but merely to point out that the weather is not the whole story.

In regard to the nation-wide car shortage, it is generally understood that this has been a serious matter, but to what extent it has affected the Utah coal situation, the committee is not prepared to say. One witness testified, however, that according to a report of the American Railroad Association, on December 1. the Denver & Rio Grande had on its own lines 95.26 per cent of the total number of cars owned by it. This was substantially corroborated by Mr. Rockwell when he stated that they had within 1,000 of the total number of their cars on their lines. Out of a total of 14,556 cars, that does not seem like an insuperable handicap, especially since all railroad companies must take into account a probability at any time that there may be a net balance against them, due to other lines withholding cars. From these premises the railroad can easily argue that if the winter and traffic conditions had been normal there woud have been no shortage of coal. But while no railroad can be expected to provide itself with sufficient cars to handle peak loads without causing delay and inconvenience, there would seem to be some obligation to provide for even extraordinary conditions of weather and traffic to a fair degree. Later in this report the utility of granting a differential rate for the prevention of unmanageable peak loads is considered.

The reasons for the railroad's failure to render the necessary service lead into complicated and technical questions, such as a public utilities commission would examine. The committee received considerable testimony on this phase of the problem, but through the consideration of brevity is compelled to limit its references to only a few of the points contained in the transcript.

Shortage of cars has already been mentioned. As has been stated, the railroad admits a car shortage. It ordered 1,000 new box cars a year ago, which were promised for delivery in August, but the first of them did not arrive until the middle of November, and the last ones came in January. It was stated that if these cars had been received promptly when promised the situation would have been materially relieved. The railroad also has 500 gondola cars under construction for delivery in June. If all of these new cars were to be used continuously and exclusively in Utah for hauling coal, they ought to make a big improvement. Some criticism of the condition of the Denver & Rio Grande coal cars was offered, and the fact that about two "hospital trains," or trains of cripped coal cars, are brought down from Soldier Summit each week, was cited as evidence that a large portion of the equipment is in bad order.

On the other hand, the railroad officials insist that their cars are in first class condition, and to prove their contention they say that more of their cars pass the test for service on foreign lines than is the case with foreign cars routed via the Denver & Rio Grande. The railroad officials say their equipment is in better condition than it ever was before. This is in all probability the case, but considered in the light of other testimony it may go to show that the Denver & Rio Grande railroad has been attempting to catch up after a somewhat prolonged period of depreciation suffered.

Some of the witnesses thought it was not so much lack of cars as lack of motive power that caused the trouble. An employe testified that during the cold weather there were at one time 700 or 800 loaded cars of coal standing at various points along the line for want of power to move them. Another employe testified that during the worst coal shortage there were empties from Ninth South in Salt Lake City to within four miles of Midvale; that both of the Rio Grande yards in Salt Lake City were blocked with empties; that the Oregon Short Line delivered empties which the Denver & Rio Grande could not take care of; that the Western Pacific side-tracks were filled with empty cars to a point 50 miles from Salt Lake; that on one of these passing tracks 75 cars stood for three weeks; and that in fact there were empty cars, all in good order, from one end of the Salt Lake division to the other. With reference to loaded cars, he testified that there were loads at every place where there was room for them, coming west. These empty and loaded cars were not all Denver & Rio Grande equipment, but they were available for coal service, and the fact that they were not in use indicated a shortage of motive power. However, in regard to much of this evidence there was an irreconcilable difference in testimony, the railroad officials flatly denying its truth. For instance, the railroad officials asserted that they have all the motive power they need and that additional locomotives would not have helped the situation. It was shown that the Denver & Rio Grande in January, 1913, had 468 standard gauge locomotives on the system, and in January, 1917, it had 475, or a net increase of seven. Another official said the increase for the Utah lines was only two locomotives in these four years. It was pointed out, however, that the locomotives are heavier and more powerful, and that the total tractive power has increased 16.61 per cent. The inference is that the hauling capacity has increased proportionately with the tractive power, but it does not seem to the committee that this necessarily follows. In the first place, it implies that the engine will always be loaded to full capacity, so as to get the full benefit of the increased power. It may well be doubted that 100 per cent efficiency can be achieved in this respect. In the second place, there was abundant testimony to show that the larger train units entails increased delays and loss of running time, for the purpose of making up trains, setting out and picking up cars, passing other trains, "doubling in" on account of grades, and other causes. For these reasons we think it doubtful that the Denver & Rio Grande has really increased its hauling capacity 16 per cent in the past four years in spite of the 16 per cent additional tractive force. It may be doubted that the actual increase in hauling capacity was half of the increase in the tractive power.

No figures were obtained on the growth of business during these four years, hence it can not be stated whether or not the railroad has kept pace with the development of its territory. The question inevitably suggests itself, does the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad lead or follow in the development of its Utah territory? Does it build, expand and equip in advance of present needs, and then use its energies to develop the territory so as to produce new traffic to justify its venture; or does it wait until somebody else makes the development, and then furnish additional equipment only as it is forced to do so? Of course, upon the choice of these two policies on the part of the railroad depends in a large measure not only the coal situation but also the general development of the whole of the State of Utah.

We may mention that another reason why the railroad officials thought additional engines would not have helped the situation is that they could not have been taken care of because the railroad had reached the limit of its present roundhouse capacity.

The relation of the railroad's method of operating to the coal supply is an interesting phase of the question, and one for the consideration of a public uitilities commission, rather than a legislative committee. We can only mention some of the points to which our attention was directed.

The coal mines are about 130 miles from Salt Lake City. The bulk of the testimony was to the effect that the average time required to bring a car of coal from the mines to Salt Lake City was four or five days. This would indicate an average speed of about one mile per hour, from which it is obvious that the cars are not kept moving. The railroad officials testified that a big majority of the trains make the trip in one day. The trainmen testified that they generally reach Salt Lake City in from thirty to forty hours. This discrepancy is not vital. Either statement is sufficient to prove that the loaded cars, instead of being kept moving, are allowed to stand on side-tracks two-thirds or three-fourths of the time. It developed that it is not the railroad's method of operating to make up a train and bring it straight through, but that it has a system of setting out and picking up cars, so that the size of the train is constantly undergoing change. Thus a car of coal is liable to be set out by one train, to be picked up by various other trains at Soldier Summit, Thistle, Springville, Lehi and Midvale, before it finally reaches Salt Lake City. Despite the apparent waste of time, the railroad insists that this is the most economical and scientific method of operating, because it means loading the locomotives up to capacity at all times. It was testified that in the earlier days of the Denver & Rio Grande the practice was to start from the mines with a train of coal, and come straight through with it, making the trip in less than sixteen hours. The present management claims that such a system is crude; that there are several upgrade stretches between Helper and Salt Lake City or even between Soldier Summit and Salt Lake City; that the steepest grade on the line is the ruling grade; that if a train is to come straight through the train must be light enough to enable the engine to pull it up the ruling grade; and that this means that for the greater part of the way the engine would be running along with only half a load. The present system is to lengthen and shorten the trains according to the grades, so as to get full benefit of the engine's power at all times. One witness, a former employe of the railroad severely criticised this method of operating. and said the railroad was sacrificing speed for tonnage, which meant that the efficiency of the service was being impaired in the effort to reduce the cost per ton mile, but this was denied by the railroad officials.

In this connection, the effect of long trains also came into question. The railroad claims that efficiency and economical handling demand the longest possible trains. The employes testified that when trains became unduly long they promote inefficiency and waste of time. Their reasons are as follows:

1. There is a loss of speed because a long train necessarily runs slower than a shorter one.

2. It takes longer to make up a long train on account of the extra switching.

3. It takes longer to get into and out of sidings when another train is allowed to pass.

4. When cars are set out or picked up on a grade, a long train is harder to handle and the work is much slower.

5. It frequently becomes necessary to "double" up a grade; that is, divide the train into two sections and take up one section at a time.

6. Long trains frequently break in two, with consequent danger of a wreck.

7. It is almost impossible for the engineer to distinguish signals given from the rear end of a 70-car train which makes the operation of trains dangerous.

The railroad officials do not admit the validity of any of these arguments, and insist that there is no sound reason for limiting the length of trains.

According to testimony of the trainmen, it is the rule rather than the exception for crews to be "tied up" under the Federal 16-hour law. The Federal law prohibits the continuous employment of train crews for longer than sixteen hours at a stretch and requires a ten-hour period of rest in between. In some cases there is another crew provided to take the train on to its destination, but generally the train is kept standing while the crew takes its ten hours of rest. The committee was not satisfied as to the wisdom, efficiency or policy of permitting locomotives to stand idle along the line for ten hours at a time while there was such a critical shortage of coal.

REMEDIES.

Presumably the present coal shortage is about over, and any discussion of remedies must refer to future recurrences of the conditions that have prevailed this winter.

While the past winter has been an extreme one, yet it is evident from the testimony that the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad is unable to supply current demands of coal in any winter without summer storage. This argues a shortage of equipment which the railroad is striving to overcome. Whether the new cars and locomotives it has ordered will be sufficient is a question that is hard to answer, because it depends upon so many conditions. The committee will not undertake to answer it, but will simply say that it is convinced that more rolling stock was urgently needed this winter. In other words, one thing necessary to insure the State of Utah against future fuel famine is more adequate transportation facilities.

The committee is not disposed to make the foregoing statement without some qualifications. It is not reasonable to expect a railroad to provide sufficient equipment to handle a great valume of business during a short season. and then have that equipment stand idle the rest of the year. But on the other hand it is also not unreasonable to say that if a railroad's business is not well distributed throughout the year, it should give some inducement for equalizing the traffic. The committee did not hear a dissenting voice from the proposition that the way to prevent coal shortages in the future is to store coal in the summer, and the railroads should encourage such storage.

In the first place, it seems to the committee that the railroad should store coal for its own use at such points as may be convenient. It has not engaged in this practice for several years, and yet it is very positive in its opinion that the dealer and the consumer should store. What is good for the dealer and consumer ought to be good for the railroad itself, for the railroad is one of the heaviest consumers. If the railroad feels safe in depending upon current deliveries during the winter, it cannot consistently find fault with dealers and consumers for feeling the same sense of security.

But it is not merely for the sake of the good example that the railroad should store coal. Rather, it is a case of releasing for general commercial use large numbers of cars that are now used to haul coal for railroad use. This would doubtless have made an appreciable difference during the past winter.

Since it is not safe to depend upon the railroad for adequate current deliveries during the winter, probably the most important thing to be accomplished is to bring about greater summer storage on the part of the retail dealer, and likewise on the part of the consumer It has already been pointed out that although dealers store some coal, they do not store to their full capacity because of the loss on storage coal If the railroads would put in a reduced freight rate during the summer months, the producers say they would do the same. The sum of these two differentials ought to be more than the mere cost of storing coal, or else the dealer will have no inducement beyond merely assuring his customers of a supply of coal. If, however, the summer differential is in excess of the cost of storage, so that the dealer will actually make more profit on storage coal than on his winter purchases, he will have a direct object in storing up to his full capacity, and the difference in price to the consumer between summer and winter coal would probably be attractive enough to induce him to store. By this means the ordinary cellar would be made an addition to the community's storage capacity. If the dealers throughout the State would store as much coal as their yards will hold ,even without storage on the part of the consumers, the railroad's winter peak would be considerably reduced and the public would be well insured against a shortage.

The producers are anxious to get a summer differential, because they have a slack season for several months during which the demand for coal is light. They would like to equalize their output as much as possible, by increasing their summer production. They have expressed a willingness to grant concessions to that end.

Coal is one of the great necessities of life. A dealer testified that 80 per cent of the annual coal consumption is consumed between the first of October and the last of March. During the other six months, only 20 per cent is consumed. It seems to the committee that a better distribution or equalization of the production, transportation and delivery of the coal over the whole year is the real solution of the problem

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, January 13, 1917.

Hon. George H. Dern,
Senate Chamber,
Capitol Building,
Salt Lake City, Utah.

Dear Sir:—

It needs no argument to show how vitally important in this day is the matter of adequately supplying a community with fuel for its industrial and domestic purposes. Unless there are proper transportation systems from the coal mines to the consumer and a proper, just and fair use of the transportation systems already in existence, the suffering among the people dependent thereon may become even a matter of life itself.

During the last month the situation with respect to the transportation of coal from the mines of this State and the matter of delivery of coal to the consignees have become of very grave public concern. It may be said to be acute and unless something effective is done very soon the consequences may be disastrous.

This office is not equipped to carry on investigations for the purpose of gathering evidence or determining a complicated set of facts. Being legal advisors of the various state boards and departments, and exercising supervisory jurisdiction over prosecuting attorneys only, we are not equipped with the machinery for extended investigations. It is our opinion, however, that it is within the province of this office to consult with parties who have special knowledge of conditions for the purpose of determining whether or not to suggest to the proper officials the advisability of a grand-jury investigation. But. while this is being done, it is our belief that a far broader investigation might at this time be undertaken by a joint committee consisting of members of both houses of the Legislature which is now, very fortunately, in session. Its investigation might take a broader scope than that of a grand jury, whose purpose would be to report on the immediate situation. If you concur with us in this idea we would be glad, in our capacity, as legal advisors to the Legislators, to frame the proper resolution to be introduced to bring this committee into being.

Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) DAN B. SHIELDS,
Attorney General.

S. J. R. No. 2, by Mr. Dern:

Whereas, there appears to be in Salt Lake City and elsewhere throughout the State, a shortage of coal for domestic and industrial purposes, which situation is reputed to be causing great physical hardship and to be crippling the industries of the State, and,

Whereas, such condition is reputed to be due, in great part, to the inability of the coal operators to obtain empty cars from the railroads, and to the inability of the coal dealers to obtain delivery of coal consigned to them, and,

Whereas, this is a matter of grave public concern, the responsibility for which should be definitely fixed before remedial measures are attempted; Now, therefore,

of Representatives, the said members to be appointed by the presiding officer of each said House respectively, be constituted for the purpose of forthwith conducting a thorough investigation of the aforesaid conditions, and of all matters in any wise appertaining thereto.

The said special committee shall have power to call and subpoena witnesses, compel and take testimony, employ the services of a stenographer to take down and transcribe the proceedings of and the testimony adduced before the said committee, and to do all other matters necessary and incidental to carrying out the purposes of this resolution and the powers hereby given.

The said committee shall report its findings to the Legislature not later than the Twentieth day of February, 1917.

Moved by Senator Wootton that we accept the Committee's report and that it be spread on the pages of the Journal. Carried.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 27, 1917.

To the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House:

Your joint conference committee appointed to consider House amendment on S. B. No. 54, by Mr. Armstrong, relating to the erection and repair of buildings and bridges by contract, beg leave to report that we have duly considered said bill and amendment, and unanimously recommend the following amendments:

On line 3 of the bill, after the word "which" insert the words "erection, construction, or repairs." On the same line after the word "exceed" strike out the figures "$1000.00" and insert "$2000.00." On line 5, strike out the word "may" and insert the word "must."

Respectfully submitted,
WM. W. SEEGMILLER,
G. W. DECKER.

Committee's report accepted.

S. B. No. 54 then passed as amended by the Special Committee on the following roll call Ayes 18.

Those voting in the affirmative were: Senators Armstrong, Bevan, Bradley, Chez, Clyde, Colton, Dern, Evans, Kimball, Olson, Parker, Reynolds, Seegmiller, Stevens, Stringham, Walton, Wootton, Mr. President.

The title of the Bill was made the title of the Act.

S. B. No. 54 was transmitted to the House for its action.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, February 26, 1917.

Mr. President:

Your Committee on Public Affairs, to which was referred S. B. No. 91, by Mr. Armstrong, entitled, "An Act amending Section 973, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, as amended by Chapter 91, Laws of Utah, 1909, relating to fees of county recorders," respectfully reports as follows: We find that the office of county recorder is self-sustaining in nearly all of the counties of the state except Salt Lake and Weber, and consequently there is no general demand for an increase of the recording fees. We therefore recommend that the Bill be amended so that all the fees will be the same as now provided by the Laws of Utah, 1909, Chapter 91, with the following exceptions, which we recommend as stated in the Bill:

1. For filing chattel mortgages, 50c.

2. For each entry in an abstract of title, not including entries on margin of record, 50c.

3. Also insert the following provision of the Laws of Utah, 1909, which was omitted in the Bill: "For each entry of certificate of discharge of mortgage, deed or trust, or other instrument in the book kept for that purpose, and making the necessary reference on the record of the original instrument, 50c.

With these amendments we recommend the Bill for passage. Unfortunately, this Bill has not been printed and consequently it is difficult to refer to these various amendments in the usual manner. However, we have caused typewritten copies, as introduced, to be prepared, upon which the above amendments have been noted.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. DERN,
Chairman.

United States," the words, "National Guard," and place a semicolon after the word "Guard."

Omit all of Sections 34, 35, 36 and 37 on pages 17 and 18, and substitute therefore the following as Section 34:

"All punishments and sentences, adjudged, found or imposed by the court-martial, unless otherwise provided for in the sentence or punishment itself, shall be executed by the civil authorities the same as if the said sentence or punishment had been imposed by a judge of a civil court in a criminal case. A certified copy of the judgment rendered and sentence imposed by the court-martial certified to by the judge advocate, or the president of the court-martial rendering said judgment and imposing said sentence shall be filed in the office of the proper civil authorities and the same docketed in a special docket kept for said purpose. If the sentence imposed by the court-martial is a sentence involving a fine less than $299.00 or less than six months' imprisonment in the county jail, or both such fine and imprisonment, the certified copy of said judgment and sentence shall be filed in a justice court, whose precinct is within the limits of the place where the court-martial has been held. If the fine imposed be more than $299.00, or the imprisonment more than six months in the county jail, or imprisonment for more than six months in any jail or penitentiary, the certified copy of said judgment and sentence shall be filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the Judicial District in which said court-martial was held. In the case of any filing of certified copy of judgment and sentence the same shall be docketed as above specified and execution shall issue upon said file and docketed judgment and sentence the same as in a criminal judgment tried in the civil courts."

Change Section 38, page 18, line 27, to Section 35, and number all the following sections consecutively. On page 18, line 28, between the word "act" and the word "unless" insert the following words, "and the regulations governing the National Guard of the United States."

On page 20, line 1, omit the words beginning with the word "Any" down to and including the word "held," line 14, page 20. On page 20, line 16, omit the word "and wilfully." On page 20, line 21, omit the words beginning with the word "fined" and ending with the word "guard" on line 23, and substitute for the same the following words, "punished by a fine not exceeding $299.00 or by imprisonment not to exceed three months in the county jail, or both such fine and imprisonment." On page 20, line 25, omit the words "either of."

On pages 22 and 23 omit the sections numbered 48, 49, 50, 51 and 52. On page 23, line 23, change Section numbered 53 to Section 44, and number the succeeding sections consecutively.

On page 24, line 33, between the word "laws" and the word "of" insert the words "and military regulations."

On page 25 line 1, between the word "laws" and the word "of" insert the words "and military regulations."

Respectfully submitted,

S. B. No. 48, by a Majority of the Judiciary Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC AFFAIRS.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

Your Committee on Public Affairs, to whom was referred S. B. No. 48, by a Majority of the Judiciary Committee, being "An Act creating an industrial commission of Utah, providing for a system of industrial insurance, etc.," respectfully report as follows:

We have carefully considered said Bill and have had several public hearings thereon. We have found it necessary to insert a large number of amendments, the enumeration of which would make a very lengthy report. We have, therefore, prepared twenty-one copies of the Bill with the committee amendments in order that each Senator may have a correct copy of the Bill before him.

With these amendments a majority of the committee recommend the Bill for passage, Senators Dern and Bevan dissenting, with notice that they will file a minority report.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. DERN,
Chairman.

Report filed.

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,

CONSIDERATION OF BILLS ON THE CALENDAR.

Moved by Senator Dern to make S. B. No. 137, by Joint Committee on Military Affairs, a special order of business for 2 p. m. to-morrow. Carried.

Moved by Senator Chez to reconsider our action by which H. B. No. 10 was rejected. Motion carried.

Moved by Senator Chez to amend by striking out Sections 2, 3, 4 and 5, and substituting the following in lieu thereof:

"Sec. 2. That no restraining order or injunction shall be granted by any court of the State of Utah, or a judge or the judges thereof, in any case between an employer and employes, or between employers and employes, or between employers, or between persons employed and persons seeking employment, involving, or growing out of, a dispute concerning terms or conditions of employment, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property, or to property right of the party making the application, for which injury there is no adequate remedy at law, and such property or property rights must be described with particularity in the application, which must be in writing and sworn to by the applicant, or by his agent or attorney.

"Sec. 3. And no such restraining order or injunction shall prohibit any person or persons, whether single or in concert, from terminating any relation of employment, or from ceasing to perform any work or labor, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means so to do; or from attending at any place where such person or persons may lawfully be, for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information or from peacefully persuading any person to work or to abstain from working; or from ceasing to patronize, or to employ any party to such dispute, or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means and lawful means so to do; or from paying or giving to or withholding from, any person engaged in such dispute, any strike benefits or other moneys or things of value, or from peaceably assembling in a lawful manner, and for lawful purposes; or from doing any act or thing which might lawfully be done in the absence of such dispute by any party thereto; nor shall any of the acts specified in this paragraph be considered or held to be violations of the law of the State of Utah.

"Sec. 4. Whenever it shall be made to appear to any district court or judge thereof, or to any judge therein siting, by the return of a proper officer on lawful process, or upon the affidavit of some creditable person, or by information filed by any district attorney, that there is reasonable ground to believe that any person has been guilty of such contempt, the court of judge thereof, or any judge therein sitting, may issue a rule requiring the said person so charged to show cause upon a day certain why he should not be punished therefor, which rule, together with a copy of the affidavit or information, shall be served upon the person charged, with sufficient promptness to enable him to prepare for and make return to the order at the time fixed therein. If upon or by such return, in the judgment of the court, the alleged contempt be not sufficiently purged, a trial shall be directed at a time and place fixed by the court; provided, however, that if the accused, being a natural person, fail or refuse to make return to the rule to show cause, an attachment may issue against his person to compel an answer, and in case of his continued failure or refusal, or for any reason, it be impracticable to dispose of the matter on the return day, he may be required to give reasonable bail for his attendance at the trial and his submission to the final judgment of the court. Where the accused is a body corporate, an attachment for the sequestration of its property may be issued upon like refusal or failure to answer.

"Sec. 5. In all cases within the purview of this Act, such trial may be by the court, or, upon demand of the accused, by a jury, in which latter event the court may impanel a jury from the jurors then in attendance, or the court or the judge thereof in chambers may cause a sufficient number of jurors to be selected and summoned, as provided by law, to attend at the time and place of trial, at which time a jury shall be selected and impaneled as upon a trial for misdemeanor; and such trial shall conform, as near as may be, to the practice in criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or upon information.

"Sec. 6. If the accused be found guilty, judgment shall be entered accordingly, prescribing the punishment, either by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. Such fine shall be paid to the State of Utah, or to the complainant, or other party injured by the act constituting the contempt, or may, where more than one is so damaged, be divided, or apportioned among them as the court may direct, but in no case shall the fine to be paid to the State of Utah exceed, in case the accused is a natural person, the sum of $1,000, nor shall such imprisonment exceed the term of six months; provided, that in any case the court or a judge thereof may, for good cause shown, by affidavit, or proof taken in open court or before such judge and filed with the papers in the case, dispense with the rule to show cause, and may issue an attachment for the arrest of the person charged with contempt; in which event such person, when arrested, shall be brought before such court or a judge thereof without unnecessary delay, and shall be admitted to bail in a reasonable penalty for his appearance to answer to the charge or for trial for the contempt; and thereafter the proceedings shall be the same as provided herein in case the rule had issued in the first instance.

"Sec. 7. The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce. Nothing contained in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of labor, agricultural, or horticultural organizations, instituted for the purpose of mutual help, and not having capital stock or conducted for profit, or to forbid or to restrain individual members of such organizations from lawfully carrying out the legitimate objects thereof; nor shall such organizations, or the members thereof, be held or construed to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade, under the anti-trust laws."

H. W. Dunn of Ogden.

Each to serve for a term of two years.

Respectfully,
SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.

Communication filed and under the rules was laid on the table for three days.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 6, 1917.

To the Legislature of the State of Utah:

After due and careful consideration of the taxation and revenue problem and after taking the counsel and advice of emminent tax experts and legal advisors I have reached the conclusion that this question can best be solved by the present session of the Legislature in the following manner:

First. The submission to the people of the State of Utah for their vote and approval a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State to tax mines and mining property at their actual value as provided by law. I believe this could be done through the passage of House Joint Resolution No. 9, by Mr. Page, which has already passed the House and which I firmly believe if submitted to the people will be adopted at the next general election as an amendment to the Constitution. The adoption of this amendment by the people will remove and special constitutional protection for any special interest or industry and will do much to make the work for future legislatures relative to the taxation problems much easier.

Second. The enactment of a law providing for the tax on mines for the next two years at a valuation not exceeding three times the net proceeds of such mines. This law to my mind is just and equitable and I am advised that it cannot be successfully attacked in court. This law is admittedly just to the mining interests of the state and it is certain only just to all other interests of the state. This measure is now before the Senate in the form of Senate Bill No. 146, by the Committee on Education. I respectfully urge its immediate passage by both Houses.

If the program of tax legislation I have outlined is followed by this State Legislature, I have every reason to believe that it will have the effect of reducing the taxes of those who have been burdened too heavily, that it will distribute more equitably the burden of taxation and that it will provide the revenues absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the State for the next ensuing biennium.

Respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,

Governor.

Communication filed.

On motion of Senator Chez S. B. No. 146 and H. J. R. No. 9 were made a special order of business for 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

H. B. No. 29, by Mr. Cardon.
H. B. No. 63, by Mr Young
S B. No. 83, by Mr. Chez.

REPORT OF THE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.

To the President and Members of the Senate:

Your Committee on Judiciary, to which was referred H. B. No. 29, by Mr. Cardon, relating to the creation and jurisdiction of municipal courts, and H. B. No. 65, by Mr. Young, relating to city courts in cities of the first class, and S B. No. 83, by Mr. Chez, relating to municipal courts in cities of the second class, respectfully reports that as each of these measures involves amendments of existing statutes with reference to city and municipal courts, and require harmonizing, we have, for that purpose, and to meet the purpose of the Bills referred to, prepared two substitute measures which we are submitting herewith, together with eighteen copies of each relating to city and municipal courts, and we recommend that these substitute measures (one to be known as the substitute for H. B. No. 29, and the other as substitute for H. B. No. 65) be passed, and that said House Bills and S. B. No. 83, to meet which the substitute measures are drawn, be not passed.

Respectfully submitted,

SENATE COMMITTEE ROOM,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 8th, 1917.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

Following the lead of more than thirty other states of the Union, the Senate adopted a rule providing for a Committee on Legislative Reference, and authorized the employment of expert legal, stenographic and clerical services.

The work of the committee has been very greatly aided by the co-operation of the University of Utah, by which a reference library was placed at the disposal of the Legislature, in charge of Miss Esther Nelson, University Librarian, who has kept a detailed record of the proceedings of the Legislature, and has tabulated this data in such a way as to show the course taken by every bill as well as the substance and purpose thereof, and by means of an elaborate index which has been prepared a ready reference to all legislative data covering the present session may be made.

Hon. J. L. Rawlins has been associated with your committee as counsel, and Prof. William G. Roylance, employed by the House Reference Committee, has also worked in connection with the Senate Committee as advisor, and F. E. Barker, Esq., has performed efficient services as expert reporter.

The functions of this department are manifold. Its particular duty is to guard the character and quality of legislation in its inception, so as to prevent the indiscriminate introduction of numerous bills without merit or justifiable purpose, thus clogging the legislative machinery until near the end of the session, when the old-time "sifting committee" consigns the major portion of such embryonic legislation to the furnace.

A comparison may be worth while: At the Eleventh Session of the Legislature, 252 bills were introduced in the Senate, of which 90 were passed and 16 were vetoed, making 74 bills that were enacted into laws. At the present session 169 bills have been introduced in the Senate. Of these a much higher percentage will be passed than the percentage of bills passed at the Eleventh Session, and the latter session is no exception to the general rule.

A comparison of the expense of printing is also interesting. The cost of printing bills at the 11th Session was $4,581.59

The cost of printing Senate Bills at the 12th Session was 2,639.49

Thus showing a saving of $1,942.10

Your committee is informed that a similar relation exists with respect to House bills, so that there has been, in actual figures, a total saving of $3,675.54. Approximately twelve bills have been typewritten. We disapprove of this method, and urge the printing of all bills where possible.

The foregoing facts become more significant when it is borne in mind that the legislative program of the present Legislature was larger, and perhaps more important, than that of any preceding Legislature, and a greater number of lengthy and important measures have been handled and enacted into law than ever before at a single session of the Legislature.

There are very few, if any, members of the Legislature who have not made use of the Reference Library, and conferred personally with the counsel and advisers of this committee.

Numerous oral and written opinions as to the policy, the quality, the legality and the constitutionality of proposed measures have been prepared and furnished by this department. A minute examination of 45 bills, being approximately one-third of the number introduced, shows some interesting facts with respect to the work of this department. These bills represent an average of all that were introduced, and by multiplying by three the data obtained by this examination we arrive at the approximate number of the various kinds of corrections made in the 169 bills.

Corrections in titles (in some cases rewritten in in full)	84
Corrections in punctuation, approximately	2500
Insertions of words, lines or entire sections in approximately (bills)	99
Elimination of words, lines or entire sections in approximately (bills)	102

Ten bills were killed by the adoption of the reports of this committee, either by abandonment or withdrawal, because of illegality or unconstitutionality, or duplication of existing statutes. Two others were redrafted by the committee to which they were referred, after this committee had pointed out errors in reporting adversely.

There were some technical errors that escaped the committee, especially in the early part of the session, owing to the fact that the work had not then been systematized.

As the Senate and House Reference Committees have worked to some extent conjointly, it is in point to report here that, the House Committee has drafted for committees five bills, and has reconstructed twenty-six. Sixteen bills were prepared for House members, numerous bills for members of the Senate, and more than twenty for individuals and organizations outside the Legislature. Eighteen bills were withdrawn by their authors or sponsors on the recommendation of the House Committee. Many conflicts between provisions in different bills have been reconciled, and several difficult problems solved by the aid of the advisers of the Reference Committee.

Authors of bills were at first more or less sensitive with regard to the action of this committee upon their bills; but when it was learned that the only purpose of this commitee and its advisers was to be helpful, there was less exception taken to adverse comment and reporting upon bills.

If it were not for the fact that this department is new and, so far as Utah is concerned, in the nature of an experiment, your committee would not feel disposed to file a report as lengthy as this one; but our main purpose in tendering this report is to show the wisdom of establishing this department upon a permanent basis. It may probably take a different form in future sessions of the Legislature, and it certainly can be made very much more efficient than in its present form. We have the experience of more than thirty states to draw upon, in twenty-one of which there is a permanent department established as a result of legislative enactment.

New York led out in this field of endeavor, and Wisconsin quickly followed, and very soon took the place of leadership, and it is significant that in Wisconsin very few acts have been declared unconstitutional in the past fifteen years.

Dr. Charles McCarthy, who is at the head of the legislative reference department of the University of Wisconsin, after fifteen years of experience, strongly urges the establishment of such a department in each state, but expresses a warning against rushing into it without proper organization.

We concur with an authority who, writing in World's Work, Volume Eleven, commenting upon this subject, tersely says:

"This system operates to produce conservatism, lifts measures from the sphere of petty partisan wrangling and establishes them on a higher plane."

We recommend that this department be established in connection with the University of Utah, and be placed upon a permanent basis in such manner as to render services at any and all times to legislators, to individuals interested in the subject of legislation and to municipalities throughout the state.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK EVANS,
W. W. ARMSTRONG,
G. H. DERN.

On motion of Senator Evans the report was accepted and ordered placed in the Journal.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Capitol Building,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 8, 1917.

To the Honorable President of the Senate of the State of Utah:

Mr. President:

To you and the honorable members of the Senate, the Department of Utah Grand Army of the Republic, desires to express its appreciation of your action in assisting in passing H. B. No. 177, providing for the publishing of reports of this Department of Grand Army of the Republic and extend to you the thanks of the entire department.

By order,

N. D. CORSER,
Department Commander.

C. W. A. SCHNELL.
A. A. General.

Communication filed.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 8, 1917.

To Governor Simon Bamberger and Members of the Utah State Legislature, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Gentlemen:

At the regular monthly meeting of the Daughters of Utah Indian War Veterans held Tuesday afternoon, March 6, 1917, the following Resolution was passed:

RESOLUTION.

THAT, WHEREAS, The Governor and the Legislature of the State of Utah, have, within the last two weeks passed and signed a bill granting to the Utah Indian War Veterans an appropriation of $25,000.00 for services rendered to the state and government on account of Indian wars and depredations which occurred in the early history of the state,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That we as an organization, called Daughters of Utah Indian War Veterans, which organization also includes the wives of veterans, do hereby extend unto Governor Simon Bamberger, Governor of the State of Utah, and the Utah Legislature, our sincere appreciation and thanks for your support to this measure, and wish to say that this appropriation is well deserved, as history will tell the suffering and loss of life, homes and property that occurred by reason of the extreme cruelty of the redmen to the settlers of this state and the Utah boys who so valiently fought for the protection of life, homes and propery of the people.

DAUGHTERS OF UTAH INDIAN WAR VETERANS.

MISS EMMA E. LINDSEY,
State Regent,

MRS. LILY C. WOLSTENHOLME,
State First Vice-Regent.

MRS. WALTER WRIGHT,
State Second Vice-Regent.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March 8, 1917.

To the Senate:

I wish to inform your honorable body that I have no further communications for the Twelfth Session of the Legislature of the State of Utah.

I wish to take this occasion to thank you personally and on behalf of the State for the high service you have rendered the State of Utah. You were fortunate in having the opportunity to do much for the State and the people of the State of Utah are particularly fortunate in the manner in which you performed that service. You have discharged your duties in a spirit of high patriotism and I am sure you will always be proud of having been a member of the Twelfth Legislative assembly.

I trust that on your return home you will impress upon your constituents the necessity for the strict observance and rigid enforcement of the splendid laws you have passed.

I congratulate you upon your successful completion of your labor and I trust that you will have a safe journey to your respective homes.

Respectfully,

SIMON BAMBERGER,
Governor.
