Consumer Reports - Protection of Accuracy of Information

22-Feb-00

11:16 AM

No fiscal impact.

Individual and Business Impact

The provisions of this bill could affect both consumers and consumer reporting agencies. Consumers may benefit financially from more accurate information enabling the extension of credit or employment under certain circumstances.

Some companies that provide consumer information for fees may not be able to charge for some of the services they provide. Fines and penalties may affect companies not complying with the provisions of this bill. The requirements of the bill may increase the cost of doing business for consumer reporting agencies.
