State Government

UCA 36-12-13(2)(b)

Enactment of this legislation likely will not materially impact state revenue but could shift a portion of a General Fund revenue surplus from the State Disaster Recovery Restricted Account to the new Local Government Emergency Response Loan Fund. The amount will vary each year depending on the surplus amount, if any.

Local Government

UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

Local governments may apply for and receive short-term loans for costs incurred in providing emergency disaster services. These loans may also be used to match funds required to secure federal funds or grants related to a declared disaster.

Individuals & Businesses

UCA 36-12-13(2)(d)

Enactment of this legislation likely will not result in direct, measurable expenditures by Utah residents or businesses.

Performance Note

JR4-2-404

No performance note required for this bill

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
