Local Government

UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

Enactment of this legislation could generate additional property tax revenues as a result of improvements made on utility-related properties. This legislation could also impact local governments as ratepayers due to rate fluctuations based on the costs borne by ratepayers to implement utility-related improvements. Both of these impacts cannot be predicted at this time based on uncertainty regarding how utilities would utilize the provisions of this bill.

Individuals & Businesses

UCA 36-12-13(2)(d)

This legislation could impact businesses and individuals as ratepayers due to rate fluctuations based on the costs borne by ratepayers to implement utility-related improvements. These impacts cannot be predicted at this time based on uncertainty regarding how utilities would utilize the provisions of this bill.

JR4-2-404

No performance note required for this bill

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
