By modifying the maximum grant amount that the Governor's Office of Economic Development may award to a business entity from $25,000 to $250,000, some individual grants may be larger. However, since the total allocation doesn't change, larger grants to some businesses may result in smaller grants to others.

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
