Local Government

UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

Enactment of this legislation could cost Salt Lake City the increased value of the property tax differential that will be generated within the boundaries of the Inland Port for an additional 15 years past the 25 years currently in statute. These funds would be collected by the Authority. Enactment would also allow the Utah Inland Port Authority to receive 50% of local sales and use tax revenue collected within a project area under the Authority's jurisdiction.

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
