| Enactment of this legislation likely will not materially impact state expenditures. If the Legislature has to meet in a special session, and follows past practice and convenes on days when the Legislature is holding meetings anyway, this provision will not have a material impact on state costs. The Legislature convening into session on a day other than a day when the Legislature is holding meetings anyway could increase state costs one-time by $50,000 for each day the Legislature is convened in session. If a special congressional election is held, and is scheduled on the same day as another already-scheduled election, this provision will not have a material impact on state costs. If a special congressional election is held on a day other than another already-scheduled election, this could increase state costs one-time by $2.9 million, of which $2.6 million would be passed through to counties. |         |         |         |

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
