Local Government

UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

To the extent that land assessed for agricultural use or urban farming is left to fallow, enactment of this legislation could result in a relative reduction in the property tax revenue that might otherwise be collected from such land and result in a relative tax shift within a taxing entity; the aggregate impact is unknown.

Individuals & Businesses

UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

To the extent that land assessed for agricultural use or urban farming is left to fallow, enactment of this legislation could result in a relative reduction in the property tax paid by businesses or individuals that might otherwise be paid from such landowners and result in a relative tax shift to other landowners within a taxing entity; the aggregate impact is unknown.

Regulatory Impact

UCA 36-12-13(2)(d)

Enactment of this legislation likely will not change the regulatory burden for Utah residents or businesses.

This bill does not create a new program or significantly expand an existing program.

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
