

State Budget Overview

Appropriations Summary & Budget Highlights

Summary

Utah continues to lead the nation into prosperity with projected economic expansion reflected in 6% discretionary revenue growth. Approximately $450 million in new ongoing and one-time collections allowed for targeted investment in education, social services, and law enforcement. Legislators allocated more than $175 million (39%) to public schools ($117 million); higher education operations ($32 million); and higher education capital ($27 million). Social Services including Medicaid received 34% of new available revenue ($152 million). Funding for law enforcement also increased ($42 million) – including resources to put 20 more troopers on Utah highways.

Lawmakers funded the cost of new public education students as reported by the State Office of Education. They provided for a 1.15% increase in the value of the Weighted Pupil Unit. Policy-makers also funded retirement costs for state employees, and appropriated funds equivalent to a 1% salary increase in higher education institutions and state agencies. They expanded resources for capital improvements from 0.5% of asset value to 0.84%. They appropriated $11 million into the state's rainy day funds – on top of the $28 million automatically deposited.

The Legislature enacted a number of tax policies, including:

- HB 35, Extension of the Recycling Market Development Zone Tax Credits, extends the current recycling market development zone tax credit to 2021, reducing income and corporate tax liability by $2.1 million annually.
- HB 250, Tax Credit for Dependent with Disability, authorizes a nonrefundable tax credit for a disabled dependent adult or child, reducing income tax liability by $765,000 in FY 2013 and $781,000 in FY 2014.
- HB 312, Veteran Employment Tax Credit, authorizes a nonrefundable corporate and individual income tax credit for employing a recently deployed veteran who is eligible to collect or has recently exhausted unemployment benefits, reducing tax liability by $86,700 in FY 2013 and $173,500 in FY 2014.

- HB 365, Revisions to Tax, changes the research and development income tax credit from 9.2% to 7.5% and enacts sales tax exemptions for construction material and certain equipment used in life science research and development facilities, reducing overall tax liability by $200,000 in FY 2013 and $600,000 in FY 2014.
- HB 384, Sales and Use Tax Seller Nexus Amendments, addresses the types of sellers who are required to pay or remit sales taxes, which increases tax liability by $5.6 million in FY 2013 and $5.8 million in FY 2014.
- SB 27, Amendments to Revenue and Taxation Title, reverses the Utah Supreme Court's decisions regarding third party refunds and restatement of invoices, and thereby reduces unaccounted-for tax liability by $6.7 million annually beginning in FY 2012 and reduces one-time sales tax revenue of $1.7 million in FY 2015.
- SB 65, Alternative Energy Development Tax Incentives, expands the current energy development incentives to include coal-to-liquids, nuclear fuel, oil sands, oil shale, petroleum coke, and landfill industries and expands the type of items eligible for sales tax exemptions; these tax changes reduce tax liability by $200,000 over the coming two fiscal years and, presuming the state has 20% of its energy in 2025 produced by the industries contained in the bill, forgoes Education Fund and General Fund revenue by an estimated $74 million in FY 2025.
- SB 143, Income Tax—Pass-through Entities, imposes withholding requirements on certain beneficiaries of estates and trusts, which, by shifting the collection of taxes to earlier payments, increases one-time revenue by $3.3 million in FY 2013.

Higher Education

Appropriations Summary & Budget Highlights

Budget Summary

The Utah System of Higher Education (USHE), including the Utah College of Applied Technology (UCAT) provides academic, career, and technical educational learning opportunities for students.

USHE promotes research, as well as economic, academic, cultural, and other social programs for the citizens of Utah. USHE is comprised of eight credit-granting institutions, governed by the State Board of Regents, and UCAT, governed by a Board of Trustees.

The Utah Education Network (UEN) is a partnership of Utah's public and higher education institutions, delivering distance learning and educational services statewide.

The Utah Medical Education Council (UMEC) works closely with the healthcare industry, colleges and universities, and medical education programs.

Major Funding Initiatives

Several items were funded, including:

- Equity Funding - $4,000,000: A study looking at comparable institutions determined that funding for USHE institutions was overly dependent on tuition and should receive additional state support. In a first step, the Legislature approved $4 million, to be distributed according to a specific equity formula to seven of the USHE Institutions and USU's regional campuses.
- Institutional Priorities - $4,000,000: In conjunction with last year's S.B. 97, Mission-Based Funding, the Legislature approved $4 million to all eight USHE institutions and the State Board of Regents for specific priorities at each institution. Intent language directs that this funding should be directed toward student progress, holding students' costs down, and retention and completion measures.

Public Education

Appropriations Summary & Budget Highlights

Budget Summary

Appropriations made as part of the state's public education budget provide the majority of operating revenues to Utah's 41 school districts and 80 charter schools. These local education agencies (LEAs) receive funding through the Minimum School Program and the School Building Program. The budget also includes various statewide support agencies. The "Total Budget" box shows a short history of the education budget. State funds are indicated in italics.

Fall 2012 enrollment projections indicate that 600,224 students will enroll in LEAs, an increase of 12,479 or 2.1 percent over fall 2011; approximately 5,950 of this growth will occur in school districts and the remaining 6,529 in charter schools.

The line chart shows the total education budget over the past 5 years. Between FY 2009 and FY 2010, the budget declined as a result of state-fund reductions made to balance the state's budget. The budget has increased gradually since FY 2010.

Legislators increased funding for public education during the FY 2012 General Session by approximately $117 million, with $82.5 million ongoing and $34.1 million one-time.

Finally, the pie chart details the major revenue sources used in the budget. State funds make up the largest source (General Fund, Education Fund, Uniform School Fund) at 69.0 percent. Remaining revenues come from Other funds (primarily local property tax revenue), federal funds, and dedicated credits. LEAs generate additional revenue, through property taxes, to supplement the state program.
