

Article VI, Section 26 [Private laws forbidden.]

No private or special law shall be enacted where a general law can be applicable.