

63A-3-301 Definitions.

As used in this part, "account receivable" means any amount due the state or any other governmental entity as a result of a court or administrative order, or for which materials or services have been provided but for which payment has not been received by the servicing unit.

Amended by Chapter 79, 2011 General Session