

73-23-5 Interim committee study responsibilities of Division of Water Resources.

The Division of Water Resources shall:

- (1) evaluate the first year's operation of the West Desert Pumping Project;
- (2) define the operational range and limitations of the West Desert Pumping Project as an emergency flood control project;
- (3) assess the feasibility of developing a cooperative ownership, operation, and maintenance plan for the project with public and private entities;
- (4) identify long-term water development opportunities upstream of the Great Salt Lake; and
- (5) report their findings to the Energy, Natural Resources and Agriculture Interim Committee before October 1, 1988.

Enacted by Chapter 232, 1988 General Session
