

73-29-206 Effect of chapter on other uses and restrictions -- Required acts.

- (1) Nothing in this chapter affects the right of the public to use public water for public recreational access, including the touching of the bed beneath the public water if:
  - (a) the bed beneath the public water is public property; or
  - (b) the bed beneath the public water is private property to which access is not restricted.
- (2) A person using a public water for public recreational access is subject to any other restriction lawfully placed on the use of the public water by a governmental entity with authority to restrict the use of the public water.
- (3) Nothing in this chapter limits or enlarges any right granted by express easement.
- (4) When leaving a public access area, a person shall remove any refuse or tangible personal property the person brought into the public access area.
