MORNING SESSION

House Chamber
State Capitol
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 15, 2001

Pursuant to the provision of the Constitution of the State of Utah, Members of the House of Representatives of the Fifty-Fourth Legislature of the State of Utah met in General Session in the House Chamber at the State Capitol at 10:00 a.m.

The House was called to order by Former Speaker Nolan E. Karras at 10:00 a.m.

PRAYER BY ELDER DALLIN H. OAKS
QUORUM OF THE TWELVE APOSTLES
THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

Our Father in Heaven,

At the beginning of this 2001 Legislative Session of the Utah State House of Representative, we come to thee in gratitude for the privilege of self-government, for the constitution of this state and of this nation, and for the privilege of serving fellow citizens in this important exercise in self-government. Father, we pray that the members of this assembly will be ever mindful of the responsibilities they have to all of the people of this state. We pray that thou wilt bless them in their deliberations that they may be open to hear the voices of all and that they may be guided to make the decisions that are appropriate under the constitution of this state and in responsibility to the citizens who have sent their representatives to participate in this legislative branch of government.

We pray for each representative, for their spouses, for their children, and for their activities of a professional and of an occupational nature which they have left to give service to the state. Wilt thou bless them with good health, with judgement. Watch over them and bless them that this effort may be fruitful and unified, harmonious and wise for the benefit of all who await upon the actions of this assembly. We pray for these blessings and thank thee for all that we have, as our creator. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen

Roll call showed all members present.

Former Speaker Nolan E. Karras administered the oath of office to elected members.

Representative Ralph Becker nominated Representative Martin R. Stephens as Speaker of the House of Representatives for the 54th Legislature.

On motion of Representative Kevin S. Garn, Representative Martin R. Stephens was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives by acclamation.

Former Speaker Karras appointed Representatives Joseph G. Murray, Carl R. Saunders, Judy Ann Buffmire, and Gary F. Cox to escort the Speaker-elect to the chair.

Former Speaker Karras administered the oath of office to Speaker Martin R. Stephens.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER MARTIN R. STEPHENS

Let me start out with a personal note if I might. Two years ago, when I was sworn in as Speaker for the first time my parents were unable to be here. They were in Kiev, Ukraine serving as missionaries. My parents have been a great influence in my life, and I'm happy to have them here with us today.

Saturday, they invited me up to their home and presented me with this gavel. My father made this out of the limb of an old English Walnut tree that I used to play in as a child. My children have spent hours swinging in a home-made swing in that same tree and soon their children will too. I hope each of you will take the chance to come up as you have time and take a look at it. The imperfections, knots, and changes in coloration combine to make a beautiful tool. I will use this with pride.

Well, here we are, elected by our family, friends, neighbors, and fellow citizens to represent them in the Utah State Legislature. It is a sobering responsibility. We, by virtue of our office, become the stewards of the freedoms of the citizens of this state. We will decide, in this great chamber, whether bills of greater freedom and individual responsibility will be our legacy, or rather, whether bills of incremental encroachment into the Constitutionally guaranteed freedoms of our citizens will be the product of our deliberations.

What is our charge? What is our responsibility? We have a guide, that it seems we too often forget to use. On this holiday which celebrates the great struggles for civil rights which have taken place since our nations inception, we need to remember that the Constitution of the United States and the Utah State Constitution were established to be our guidebooks, on government. It is these two great documents that we should look to for guidance in our responsibilities as legislators.

I have asked that we each be provided with a copy of the Utah State Constitution. You should find it on your desk. Please join me in opening this great document to the preamble, and follow along with me.

“Grateful to Almighty God for life and liberty, we, the people of Utah, in order to secure and perpetuate the principles of free government, do ordain and establish this CONSTITUTION.”

The purpose of our forefathers establishing this Constitution was to “secure and perpetuate the principles of free government.”

That is our charge today. As we consider legislation this session I hope we will apply this standard to every bill that comes before us; Does it help, “secure and perpetuate the principles of free government?” If the bill does not meet this standard, then the bill should be rejected. We are the guardians of freedom in this state, in the making of laws. We are, as the House motto above me says; “VOX POPULI” The Voice of the People.

How can we best carry out that charge? I would like to briefly mention three traits that I think every outstanding legislator that I have known has shared.

1. They trust the People.

It is very tempting with the power we have as lawmakers to try to make everything alright. As we are petitioned by individuals, or as we see inequities in our society, we, through our compassion, or because of continual petitions, have a natural desire to help. And help we should, but not generally by the use of governmental force. We have to have the self restraint and understanding to use our authority prudently, but in a very limited way.

Government cannot usually cure societies ills. In fact, many times government makes societal problems worse as it involves itself in the lives of its citizens. Sometimes the most difficult decisions the legislature makes is to do nothing, or, to encourage -- instead of force.

As we attempt to expand upon the powers of government, by necessity we diminish the power of the people. No two groups can hold power concurrently. Thus, every expansion of the role of government for some perceived societal good, by definition actually reduces the power of the people. This is a trade which should seldom be considered. We need to weigh the long term affects of our actions as we debate "so called" minor pieces of legislation in this body.

President Andrew Jackson in his valedictory address put it this way: "It is well known that there have always been those amongst us who wish to enlarge the powers of the General Government; and experience would seem to indicate that there is a tendency on the part of this government to overstep the boundaries marked out for it by the Constitution. Every attempt to exercise power beyond these limits should be promptly and firmly opposed..."

We see governments attempting to provide more and more services - even services which have been previously, or are currently, being provided by the private sector in the name of saving people money, or helping people. Governments providing services do not generally save anyone money. It takes more land and property out of the private sector, increases government's controls over the lives of its citizens, takes more choices and decisions out of its citizen's hands and generally reduces their freedoms.

Thomas Jefferson said; "If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of taking care of them, they must become happy." Another leader said; "This trend to a welfare state in which people look to and worship government more than their God, is certain to sap the individual ambitions and moral fiber of our youth unless they are warned and re-warned of the consequences. History, of course, is replete with the downfall of nations who, instead of assuming their own responsibility for their religious and economic welfare, mistakenly attempted to shift their individual responsibility to government." We must trust more in our people.

2. They display a minimal interest in partisanship.

It is important that every issue discussed during our tenure here in the House receive thorough and well reasoned consideration. But, partisanship simply to create issues, or to distort, for political advantage, another's positions should have no place in this body. Let me quote from George Washington's farewell address on this subject:

"Let me now take a more comprehensive view, and warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party generally. This spirit, unfortunately, is inseparable from our nature, having its root in the strongest passions of the human mind. It exists under different shapes in all governments, more or less stifled, controlled, or repressed; but in those of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness and is truly their worst enemy.

"It serves always to distract the public councils and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another...

"There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This within certain limits is probably true... But... in governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged. From their natural tendency it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose; and there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be by force of public opinion to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume." [end quote]

Let us work together, across party divisions for the betterment of this great state. Let that be a legacy of this legislature.

3. They value Integrity above all else.

Legislators who are remembered for good have been known for their integrity.

Although we do not think about it now, our days of service in the legislature are numbered. There will come a time when each of us will walk away from this body, and turn the powers of the office over to our successors. What will we take with us? What will be our legacy?

Whether our bills pass or fail, whether we are Democrats or Republicans, the one thing we can always take with us is our integrity. People cannot take our integrity from us. If it is to be lost, we must give it away. Many times we cannot control whether we win or lose, but we can always control our own actions.

In a biography of Mother Teresa she says on this point when asked by a United States Senator; "Mother Teresa, Don't you get discouraged when you can see the magnitude of the poverty and realize how little you can really do?" She replied; "God has not called me to be successful, God has called me to be faithful."

The citizens of this state have elected us to be faithful to the principles we espouse. Whether we win or lose in the minor skirmishes up here is not nearly as important as if we are faithful to our principles.

Samuel Adams said this; "We may look up to armies for our defense, but virtue is our best security. It is not possible that any state should long remain free, where virtue is not supremely honored."

May this be known as a House of integrity and honor.

These three traits are as important today as they have always been. It is my hope, that this legislature will consider these lasting traits of honorable legislators who have gone before to be our creed.

Let me close my remarks with one additional quote again from President Andrew Jackson's valedictory address which seems particularly appropriate today:

"You have the highest of human trusts committed to your care. Providence has showered on this favored land blessings without number and has chosen you as the guardians of freedom to preserve it for the benefit of the human race. May He... enable you, with pure hearts and pure hands and sleepless vigilance, to guard and defend to the end of time the great charge He has committed to your keeping..."

Let it be said of this legislature that they were men and women who trusted in the great people of this state, and worked together to protect their freedoms.

Let it be said of this legislature that order prevailed; that the great issues of our day were discussed and debated with fervor and candor, yet in kindness. That partisanship for its own sake was absent. That a new spirit of working together to solve the problems of this state was the legacy of this legislature.

And finally, let it be said of this legislature that they were men and women of integrity as they worked to "secure and perpetuate the principles of free government." for the citizens of this great state is my humble prayer.

Thank you.
