45 (1) Youth Court is a diversion program which provides an alternative disposition for cases

46 involving juvenile offenders in which youth participants, under the supervision of an adult

47 coordinator, may serve in various capacities within the courtroom, acting in the role of jurors,

48 lawyers, bailiffs, clerks, and judges.

49 (a) Youth who appear before youth courts have been identified by law enforcement

50 personnel, school officials, a prosecuting attorney, or the juvenile court as having committed acts

51 which indicate a need for intervention to prevent further development toward juvenile delinquency,

52 but which appear to be acts that can be appropriately addressed outside the juvenile court process.

53 (b) Youth Courts may only hear cases as provided for in this chapter.

54 (c) Youth Court is a diversion program and not a court established under the Utah

55 Constitution, Article VIII.

56 (2) Any person may refer youth to a Youth Court for minor offenses. Once a referral is

57 made, the case shall be screened by an adult coordinator to determine whether it qualifies as a

58 Youth Court case.

59 (3) Youth Courts have authority over youth:

60 (a) referred for a minor offense or offenses, or who are granted permission for referral

62 (b) who, along with a parent, guardian, or legal custodian, voluntarily and in writing,
63 request Youth Court involvement;

64 (c) who admit having committed the referred offense;

65 (d) who, along with a parent, guardian, or legal custodian, waive any privilege against 66 self-incrimination and right to a speedy trial; and

67 (e) who, along with their parent, guardian, or legal custodian, agree to follow the Youth
68 Court disposition of the case.

69 (4) Except with permission granted under Subsection (5), Youth Courts may not exercise
70 authority over youth who are under the continuing jurisdiction of the juvenile court for law 71 violations, including any youth who may have a matter pending which has not yet been 72 adjudicated. Youth Courts may, however, exercise authority over youth who are under the 73 continuing jurisdiction of the juvenile court as set forth in this Subsection (4) if the offense before
74 the Youth Court is not a law violation h , AND THE REFERRING AGENCY HAS NOTIFIED THE 74a JUVENILE COURT OF THE REFERRAL h .

75 (5) Youth Courts may exercise authority over youth described in Subsection (4), and over 76 any other offense with the permission of the juvenile court and the prosecuting attorney in the 77 county or district that would have jurisdiction if the matter were referred to juvenile court.

78 (6) Permission of the juvenile court may be granted by a probation officer of the court in 79 the district that would have jurisdiction over the offense being referred to Youth Court.

80 (7) Youth Courts may decline to accept a youth for Youth Court disposition for any reason
81 and may terminate a youth from Youth Court participation at any time.

82 (8) A youth or the youth's parent, guardian, or custodian may withdraw from the Youth
83 Court process at any time. The Youth Court shall immediately notify the referring source of the 84 withdrawal.

85 (9) The Youth Court may transfer a case back to the referring source for alternative
86 handling at any time.

87 (10) Referral of a case of Youth Court may not prohibit the subsequent referral of the case
88 to any court.
