AMENDED NOTE

State Impact

Provisions of this bill could result in additional persons being sent to prison and being incarcerated longer once they are sentenced. Over several years, the number of individuals that would be affected by the bill is unpredictable and too small to estimate a cost. Most affected by the provisions of this bill would be sentenced to prison for related offenses currently in statute.

Individual and Business Impact

Individuals sentenced to prison under the provisions of this bill may have their ability to earn personal income significantly reduced.
