Legislative Review Note
as of 3-4-11 9:29 AM

As required by legislative rule and practice, the Office of Legislative Research and General Counsel provides the following legislative review note to assist the Legislature in making its own determination as to the constitutionality of the bill. The note is based on an analysis of relevant state and federal constitutional law as applied to the bill. The note is not written for the purpose of influencing whether the bill should become law, but is written to provide information relevant to legislators’ consideration of this bill. The note is not a substitute for the judgment of the judiciary, which has authority to determine the constitutionality of a law in the context of a specific case.

The Constitution of the United States grants authority to the federal government to regulate foreign commerce and to adopt a uniform rule of naturalization. The United States Supreme Court has also found inherent federal authority to regulate immigration on the basis of federal sovereignty and the power to engage in foreign affairs: this is sometimes referred to as the "plenary power," which in more recent years has been made subject to certain constitutional limits. See, e.g., Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U.S. 678 (2001); Fong Yue Ting v. United States, 149 U.S. 698 (1893); Hernandez-Carrera v. Carlson, 547 F.3d 1237 (10th Cir. 2009). Federal immigration law generally consists of both civil and criminal laws regarding admission of foreign nationals, including the criteria and means for selection and the basis and procedure for removal; citizenship by birth or by naturalization; criminal actions, such as transporting or harboring an alien; and related laws such as access to public benefits, employment of unauthorized aliens, issuance of driver licenses, etc. The key federal statute is the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. Sec. 1101 et seq. (INA).
When a state regulates in the area of immigration, the issue arises of whether the state action is preempted by federal law. To determine whether preemption exists, courts generally examine whether the state regulation fails at least one of three tests: Is it preempted because of a conflict with federal law? Is it preempted because federal law has so occupied the field that states are not allowed to regulate in the area? Is there an express preemption of state action?

The bill addresses areas also addressed by federal law such as accessing and disclosing immigration information. Significantly, this bill provides a means by which a person may employ an unauthorized alien in this state if the unauthorized alien is issued a state permit, and the bill imposes state specific penalties that include both fines and loss of professional licenses for hiring an unauthorized alien without a permit. Federal law, in 8 U.S.C. Sec. 1324a, makes it unlawful to hire, recruit, or refer for a fee, an alien for employment in the United States knowing that the alien is an unauthorized alien. This section further provides that "The provisions of this section preempt any State or local law imposing civil or criminal sanctions (other than through licensing and similar laws) upon those who employ, or recruit or refer for a fee for employment, unauthorized aliens."

The bill requires the executive branch to seek waivers that would authorize the state program, but provides for implementation in the absence of such a waiver. Although federal law contains measures to allow cooperation between the federal government and a state, the INA and related regulations do not have an express process to provide a waiver that grants states authority to act in areas that are governed by federal law. In the absence of an effective waiver recognized as valid by the courts, under current law, there is a high probability that a court would find that portions of this bill as unconstitutional because they are preempted by federal law as applied through the Supremacy Clause of the Constitution of the United States.

STATE GOVERNMENT (UCA 36-12-13(2)(b))
Enactment of this bill may cost the Utah State Tax Commission $487,200 one-time General Fund in FY 2013 for programming costs. This bill may cost the Department of Public Safety $5,434,200 one-time from the General Fund for start up costs in FY 2013.

Enactment of this bill may allow additional income tax withholding of an estimated $11.5 million ongoing to the Education Fund beginning in FY 2014.

Ongoing costs for the Department of Public Safety are estimated at $6.1 million per year from a newly created restricted account for program operation beginning in FY 2014. An equal amount of revenue will presumably accrue to the account from fees authorized in this bill.

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) will collect as much as $3.1 million per year beginning in FY 2014 for background checks, fingerprinting, and FBI fees. Associated annual DPS costs could be as much as $885,000 from dedicated credits beginning in FY 2014.

Enactment of this bill may cost the Department of Public Safety an estimated $162,200 in FY 2013 and $116,700 in FY 2014 from the Transportation Restricted - Public Safety Account for training.

To the extent that state law enforcement agencies choose to detain additional individuals for verification of immigration status, those agencies could incur a cost of $100 per stop.

To the extent that the bill results in cases of public assistance fraud, the Courts would incur a cost of up to $259 per incident.

There are approximately 640 non-citizen students currently enrolled in various institutions in the Utah System of Higher Education. These individuals generate $2.3 million in resident tuition. To the extent that these students do not continue their enrollment due to the price change proposed in this bill, institutions would lose this tuition revenue and the associated costs. To the extent that non-citizen students continue enrollment and pay nonresident tuition rates, institutions could collect up to $7.8 million in nonresident tuition, an increase of up to $5.5 million per year.

The Legislative General Counsel has attached a detailed Legislative Review Note to this bill. If provisions in the bill are challenged in court, there will be costs associated with defending those provisions.

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS (UCA 36-12-13(2)(c))
To the extent that local law enforcement officials choose to detain individuals for verification of immigration status, local governments could incur a cost of about $100 per stop.

DIRECT EXPENDITURES BY UTAH RESIDENTS AND BUSINESSES (UCA 36-12-13(2)(d))
Approximately 58,000 individuals that apply for a worker permit would pay about $159 per year generating $9.2 million per year in revenue. Individuals guilty of prohibited conduct may pay a $750 penalty. Individuals who entered the U.S. illegally would pay at $2,500 fine generating $117 million in restricted revenue in FY 2014. Those who overstayed visas would pay a $1,000 fine generating $11 million in restricted revenue beginning in FY 2014.

Employers will withhold and remit between $11.5 and $218 million per year in additional taxes. Businesses will pay a yet to be determined fee to hire individuals participating in the work program. Businesses who hire undocumented and unpermitted immigrants will pay a fine of between $100 and $10,000.

To the extent that non-citizen students continue to pursue higher education in Utah they would pay nonresident tuition rates that are about 3.5 times resident tuition rates. The total impact on the non-citizen student population could be up to $5.5 million per year.

NOTE: All of the above estimates assume the programs established in this bill comes into effect on July 1, 2013 as per Section 11 of this bill. Should the State receive federal waivers before that time, the costs estimated here may be incurred earlier than anticipated in this note.
