AMENDS:

70C-7-101, as enacted by Laws of Utah 1985, Chapter 159

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

Section 1. Section 70C-7-101 is amended to read:

70C-7-101. Restriction on deficiency judgments in consumer credit sales.

28 (1) If a seller repossesses or voluntarily accepts the surrender or return of goods
29 [~~which~~] that were the subject of a consumer credit sale and in which the seller has a security
30 interest to secure a debt arising from the sale of goods or services or a combined sale of goods
31 and services, and the cash price of the sale was $3,000 or less, any debt remaining from the sale
32 shall be fully satisfied and the seller has no further obligation to the buyer with respect to the 33 goods taken or accepted.

34 (2) If the seller brings an action against the buyer for a debt arising from a consumer
35 credit sale of goods or services, when under this section the creditor would not be entitled to a
36 deficiency judgment if it repossessed the collateral, and obtains judgment:

37 (a) it may not repossess the collateral; and

38 (b) the collateral is not subject to levy or sale on execution or similar proceedings
39 pursuant to the judgment.

40 (3) (a) This section does not apply if the goods [~~which~~] that were the subject of the sale
41 and [~~which~~] that secured a debt arising from a consumer credit sale are damaged to a
42 significant degree after the goods are delivered to the buyer through no fault of the creditor.

43 (b) Subsection (2) does not apply if, after default and [~~demand~~] before the filing of an 44 action against the buyer, the buyer [~~has wrongfully failed to make~~] fails to surrender and 45 deliver the collateral [~~available~~] to the creditor.

46 (c) This section does not apply if the buyer no longer has the goods that were the 47 subject of the sale.

48 (d) This section does not apply if an action taken by the buyer would make the 49 collection of a judgment unenforceable, including the filing of bankruptcy.

50 (4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, a creditor has no obligation to 51 accept the surrender of collateral.
