01-04-17 1:24 PM

59	(c) Historical and current earnings shall be used to determine whether an
60	underemployment or overemployment situation exists.
61	(6) Gross income includes income imputed to the parent under Subsection (7).
62	(7) (a) Income may not be imputed to a parent unless the parent stipulates to the
63	amount imputed, the parent defaults, or, in contested cases, a hearing is held and the judge in a
64	judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding enters findings of
65	fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.
66	(b) $\hat{S} \rightarrow [\hat{H}] \leftarrow \hat{S}$ If income is imputed to a parent, the income shall be based upon
66a	employment
67	potential and probable earnings as derived from employment opportunities, work history,
68	occupation qualifications, and prevailing earnings for persons of similar backgrounds in the
69	community, or the median earning for persons in the same occupation in the same geographical
70	area as found in the statistics maintained by the Bureau of Labor Statistics $\hat{S} \rightarrow \underline{, except that if a}$
70a	parent has no recent work history in a specified occupation or has not recently worked a 40-
70b	hour work week, the court may consider the parent's attempts at obtaining employment, and
70c	may impute income congruent with employment in a recent occupation or congruent with
70d	actual recent earnings (  $ .
71	$\hat{S} \Rightarrow [$ (ii) Income may not be imputed to a parent for an occupation for which the parent has
	Ŝ→ [ (ii) Income may not be imputed to a parent for an occupation for which the parent has no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it
71
71 72	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it
71 72 73	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ( $
71 72 73 74	<ul> <li>no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it</li> <li>can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←Ŝ</li> <li>(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> </ul>	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←Ŝ (c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> </ul>	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←Ŝ (c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> </ul>	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←Ŝ (c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> </ul>	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←Ŝ (c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation. (d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> <li>79</li> </ul>	no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←Ŝ (c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation. (d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> <li>79</li> <li>80</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←$</li> <li>(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.</li> <li>(d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:</li> <li>(i) the reasonable costs of child care for the parents' minor children approach or equal</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> <li>79</li> <li>80</li> <li>81</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←$</li> <li>(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.</li> <li>(d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:</li> <li>(i) the reasonable costs of child care for the parents' minor children approach or equal the amount of income the custodial parent can earn;</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> <li>79</li> <li>80</li> <li>81</li> <li>82</li> <li>83</li> <li>84</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>nor recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←$</li> <li>(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.</li> <li>(d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:</li> <li>(i) the reasonable costs of child care for the parents' minor children approach or equal the amount of income the custodial parent can earn;</li> <li>(ii) a parent is physically or mentally unable to earn minimum wage;</li> <li>(iii) a parent is engaged in career or occupational training to establish basic job skills;</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> <li>79</li> <li>80</li> <li>81</li> <li>82</li> <li>83</li> <li>84</li> <li>85</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>no recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←$</li> <li>(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.</li> <li>(d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:</li> <li>(i) the reasonable costs of child care for the parents' minor children approach or equal the amount of income the custodial parent can earn;</li> <li>(ii) a parent is physically or mentally unable to earn minimum wage;</li> <li>(iii) a parent is engaged in career or occupational training to establish basic job skills;</li> <li>(or</li> <li>(iv) unusual emotional or physical needs of a child require the custodial parent's</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>71</li> <li>72</li> <li>73</li> <li>74</li> <li>75</li> <li>76</li> <li>77</li> <li>78</li> <li>79</li> <li>80</li> <li>81</li> <li>82</li> <li>83</li> <li>84</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>nor recent and significant work history and has no recent occupational qualifications, unless it can be shown that the parent can obtain employment in that occupation.] ←$</li> <li>(c) If a parent has no recent work history or a parent's occupation is unknown, income shall be imputed at least at the federal minimum wage for a 40-hour work week. To impute a greater income, the judge in a judicial proceeding or the presiding officer in an administrative proceeding shall enter specific findings of fact as to the evidentiary basis for the imputation.</li> <li>(d) Income may not be imputed if any of the following conditions exist and the condition is not of a temporary nature:</li> <li>(i) the reasonable costs of child care for the parents' minor children approach or equal the amount of income the custodial parent can earn;</li> <li>(ii) a parent is physically or mentally unable to earn minimum wage;</li> <li>(iii) a parent is engaged in career or occupational training to establish basic job skills;</li> </ul>