2982 [(10)] (8) At the time an arrest is made for a qualifying offense, the arresting officer
2983 shall provide the alleged victim with written notice containing:

2984 (a) the release conditions described in this section, and notice that the alleged

2986 offense for which the alleged perpetrator was arrested, unless:

2987 (i) the alleged perpetrator enters into a jail release agreement to comply with the release
2988 conditions; or

2989 (ii) the magistrate issues a jail release order that specifies the release conditions;

2990 (b) notification of the penalties for violation of any jail release agreement or jail release

3001 (b) the release conditions described in this section and notice that the alleged

3005 conditions; or

3006 (ii) the magistrate issues a jail release court order;

3007 (c) notification of the penalties for violation of any jail release agreement or jail release

3011 ~~[(12)]~~ (10) (a) A pretrial or sentencing protective order ~~[supersedes]~~ issued under this 3012 part supersedes a jail release agreement or jail release court order.

3013 (b) If a court dismisses the charges for the qualifying offense that gave rise to a jail
3014 release agreement or jail release court order, the court shall dismiss the jail release agreement
3015 or jail release court order.

3016 ~~[(13)]~~ (11) This section does not apply if the individual arrested for the qualifying
3017 offense is a minor, unless the qualifying offense is domestic violence.

3018 Section 63. Section 78B-7-803 is enacted to read:

3019 78B-7-803. Pretrial protective orders.

3020 (1) (a) When a defendant is charged with a crime involving a qualifying offense, the 3021 court shall, at the time of the defendant's court appearance under Section 77-36-2.6:

3022 (i) determine the necessity of imposing a pretrial protective order or other condition of 3023 pretrial release; and

3024 (ii) state the court's findings and determination in writing.

3025 (b) In any criminal case, the court may, during any court hearing where the defendant is 3026 present, issue a pretrial protective order, pending trial.

3027 (2) A court may include any of the following provisions in a pretrial protective order:

3028 (a) an order enjoining the defendant from threatening to commit or committing acts of 3029 domestic violence or abuse against the victim and any designated family or household member;

3030 (b) an order prohibiting the defendant from harassing, telephoning, contacting, or
3031 otherwise communicating with the victim, directly or indirectly;

3032 (c) an order removing and excluding the defendant from the victim's residence and the 3033 premises of the residence;

3034 (d) an order requiring the defendant to stay away from the victim's residence, school, or

3037 (e) an order for any other relief that the court considers necessary to protect and 3038 provide for the safety of the victim and any designated family or household member;

3039 (f) an order identifying and requiring an individual designated by the victim to
3040 communicate between the defendant and the victim if and to the extent necessary for family
3041 related matters;

3042 (g) an order requiring the defendant to participate in an electronic or other type of 3043 monitoring program; and

3044 (h) if the alleged victim and the defendant share custody of one or more minor
3045 children, an order for indirect or limited contact to temporarily facilitate parent visitation with a 3046 minor child.

3047 (3) When issuing a pretrial protective order, the court shall determine whether to allow 3048 provisions for transfer of personal property to decrease the need for contact between the parties.

3049 Section 64. Section 78B-7-804 is enacted to read:

3050 78B-7-804. Sentencing and continuous protective orders for a domestic violence
3051 offense -- Modification.

3052 (1) Before a perpetrator who has been convicted of a domestic violence offense may be 3053 placed on probation, the court shall consider the safety and protection of the victim and any

3054 member of the victim's family or household.

3055 (2) The court may condition probation or a plea in abeyance on the perpetrator's
3056 compliance with a sentencing protective order that includes:

3057 (a) an order enjoining the perpetrator from threatening to commit or committing acts of 3058 domestic violence against the victim or other family or household member;

3059 (b) an order prohibiting the perpetrator from harassing, telephoning, contacting, or
3060 otherwise communicating with the victim, directly or indirectly;

3061 (c) an order requiring the perpetrator to stay away from the victim's residence, school,
3062 place of employment, and the premises of any of these, or a specified place frequented
3063 regularly by the victim or any designated family or household member;

3064 (d) an order prohibiting the perpetrator from purchasing, using, or possessing a firearm
3065 or other specified weapon;

3066 (e) an order directing the perpetrator to surrender any weapons the perpetrator owns or
3067 possesses; and

3068 (f) an order imposing any other condition necessary to protect the victim and any other
3069 designated family or household member or to rehabilitate the perpetrator.

3070 (3) (a) Because of the serious, unique, and highly traumatic nature of domestic violence
3071 crimes, the high recidivism rate of violent offenders, and the demonstrated increased risk of 3072 continued acts of violence subsequent to the release of a perpetrator who is convicted of 3073 domestic violence, it is the finding of the Legislature that domestic violence crimes warrant the 3074 issuance of continuous protective orders under this Subsection (3) because of the need to 3075 provide ongoing protection for the victim and to be consistent with the purposes of protecting 3076 victims' rights under Title 77, Chapter 37, Victims' Rights, and Title 77, Chapter 38, Rights of 3077 Crime Victims Act, and Article I, Section 28 of the Utah Constitution.

3078 (b) If a perpetrator is convicted of a domestic violence offense resulting in a sentence
3079 of imprisonment, including jail, that is to be served after conviction, the court shall issue a
3080 continuous protective order at the time of the conviction or sentencing limiting the contact
3081 between the perpetrator and the victim unless the court determines by clear and convincing

3082 evidence that the victim does not have a reasonable fear of future harm or abuse.

3083 (c) (i) The court shall notify the perpetrator of the right to request a hearing.

3084 (ii) If the perpetrator requests a hearing under this Subsection (3)(c), the court shall 3085 hold the hearing at the time determined by the court. The continuous protective order shall be 3086 in effect while the hearing is being scheduled and while the hearing is pending.

3087 (d) A continuous protective order is permanent in accordance with this Subsection (3)
3088 and may include:

3089 (i) an order enjoining the perpetrator from threatening to commit or committing acts of 3090 domestic violence against the victim or other family or household member;

3091 (ii) an order prohibiting the perpetrator from harassing, telephoning, contacting, or
3092 otherwise communicating with the victim, directly or indirectly;

3093 (iii) an order prohibiting the perpetrator from going to the victim's residence, school,
3094 place of employment, and the premises of any of these, or a specified place frequented
3095 regularly by the victim or any designated family or other household member;

3096 (iv) an order directing the perpetrator to pay restitution to the victim as may apply, and 3097 shall be enforced in accordance with Title 77, Chapter 38a, Crime Victims Restitution Act; and

3098 (v) any other order the court considers necessary to fully protect the victim and 3099 members of the victim's family or other household member.

3100 (4) A continuous protective order may be modified or dismissed only if the court
3101 determines by clear and convincing evidence that all requirements of Subsection (3) have been 3102 met and the victim does not have a reasonable fear of future harm or abuse.

3103 (5) In addition to the process of issuing a continuous protective order described in
3104 Subsection (3), a district court may issue a continuous protective order at any time if the victim
3105 files a petition with the court, and after notice and hearing the court finds that a continuous
3106 protective order is necessary to protect the victim.

3107 Section 65. Section 78B-7-805 is enacted to read:

3108 78B-7-805. Sentencing protective orders and continuous protective orders for an 3109 offense that is not domestic violence -- Modification.

3110 (1) Before a perpetrator has been convicted of an offense that is not domestic violence
3111 is placed on probation, the court may consider the safety and protection of the victim and any 3112 member of the victim's family or household.

3113 (2) The court may condition probation or a plea in abeyance on the perpetrator's
3114 compliance with a sentencing protective order that includes:

3115 (a) an order enjoining the perpetrator from threatening to commit or committing acts of
3116 domestic violence against the victim or other family or household member;

3117 (b) an order prohibiting the perpetrator from harassing, telephoning, contacting, or
3118 otherwise communicating with the victim, directly or indirectly;

3119 (c) an order requiring the perpetrator to stay away from the victim's residence, school,
3120 place of employment, and the premises of any of these, or a specified place frequented
3121 regularly by the victim or any designated family or household member;

3122 (d) an order prohibiting the perpetrator from purchasing, using, or possessing a firearm
3123 or other specified weapon;

3124 (e) an order directing the perpetrator to surrender any weapons the perpetrator owns or 3125 possesses; and

3126 (f) an order imposing any other condition necessary to protect the victim and any other
3127 designated family or household member or to rehabilitate the perpetrator.

3128 (3) (a) If a perpetrator is convicted of an offense that is not domestic violence resulting 3129 in a sentence of imprisonment that is to be served after conviction, the court may issue a
3130 continuous protective order at the time of the conviction or sentencing limiting the contact
3131 between the perpetrator and the victim if the court determines by clear and convincing evidence
3132 that the victim has a reasonable fear of future harm or abuse.

3133 (b) (i) The court shall notify the perpetrator of the right to request a hearing.

3134 (ii) If the perpetrator requests a hearing under this Subsection (3), the court shall hold 3135 the hearing at the time determined by the court and the continuous protective order shall be in 3136 effect while the hearing is being scheduled and while the hearing is pending.

3137 (c) A continuous protective order is permanent in accordance with this Subsection

3138 (3)(c) and may include any order described in Subsection 78B-7-804(3)(c).

3139 (4) A continuous protective order issued under this section may be modified or 3140 dismissed only in accordance with Subsection 78B-7-804(4).

3141 (5) In addition to the process of issuing a continuous protective order described in 3142 Subsection (3)(a), a district court may issue a continuous protective order at any time in 3143 accordance with Subsection 78B-7-804(5).

3144 Section 66. Section 78B-7-806 is enacted to read:

3145 78B-7-806. Penalties.

3146 (1) (a) A violation of Subsection 78B-7-802(1) is a class B misdemeanor.

3147 (b) An individual who knowingly violates a jail release court order or jail release

3149 (i) a third degree felony, if the original arrest was for a felony; or 3150 (ii) a class A misdemeanor, if the original arrest was for a misdemeanor.
