Representative Ken Ivory proposes the following substitute bill:

Chief Sponsor: Ken Ivory Senate Sponsor: LONG TITLE General Description: This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses: None	JUINT RESULUTION - CONGRESSIONAL TERM LIMITS
Chief Sponsor: Ken Ivory Senate Sponsor: LONG TITLE General Description: This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	2023 GENERAL SESSION
LONG TITLE General Description: This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	STATE OF UTAH
LONG TITLE General Description: This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	Chief Sponsor: Ken Ivory
General Description: This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	Senate Sponsor:
This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	LONG TITLE proposing amendments to the United States Constitution. Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	General Description:
Highlighted Provisions: This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	This joint resolution of the Legislature applies to Congress to call conventions for
This resolution: • applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	proposing amendments to the United States Constitution.
 applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses: 	Highlighted Provisions:
States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	This resolution:
and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	 applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United
that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate; and • additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution,
Representatives and the United States Senate; and Additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the number of terms
► additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	Representatives and the United States Senate; and
United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	 additionally and separately applies to Congress to call a convention for proposing limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	amendments to the United States Constitution in accordance with Article V of the branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	United States Constitution, and limits the scope of the convention to establishing a branches of the federal government. Special Clauses:	limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive
Special Clauses:	branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive
•	branches of the federal government.
None	Special Clauses:
	None

2	6
_	U

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the state of Utah:

WHEREAS, support for term limits on members of Congress is one of the most popular bipartisan voter initiatives, with a January 2023 poll showing that over 82% of Americans support a constitutional amendment that will place term limits on members of Congress;

WHEREAS, the current re-election rate in Congress is over 90%, with nearly one-half of the members of Congress having served in office for more than eight years, and a quarter of the members of Congress having served in office for more than 16 years;

WHEREAS, national efforts to address the problems associated with career politicians and incumbency are incomplete without also addressing the problems associated with the accumulation of power by unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government;

WHEREAS, studies have shown that term limits have increased legislative diversity, and have had a statistically significant, positive impact on increasing women's representation in legislatures, and would also address the top-down power structure in Washington D.C. by allowing less-senior members to hold leadership roles;

WHEREAS, Article V of the United States Constitution provides that "on the application of the legislatures of two thirds of the several states, [Congress] shall call a convention for proposing amendments...to this Constitution":

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Legislature of the state of Utah hereby makes an application to Congress, as provided by Article V of the United States Constitution, to call a convention limited to proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution to set a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and to set a limit to the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States Senate.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution shall be considered as covering the same subject matter as the applications from other states to Congress to call a convention to set a limit on the number of terms that a person may be elected as a member of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate and shall be aggregated with the same for the purpose of attaining the two-thirds of states necessary to require Congress to call a limited convention on this subject, but shall not be aggregated with any other applications on any other subject.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution constitutes a continuing application in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution until the legislatures of at least two-thirds of the several states have made applications on the same subject.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that, in addition to, and separately from, the above resolution clauses, the Legislature of the state of Utah hereby makes an application to Congress, as provided by Article V of the United States Constitution, to call a convention limited to proposing an amendment to the United States Constitution to set a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this separate application shall be considered as covering the same subject matter as the applications from other states to Congress to call a convention to set a limit on the length of time unelected bureaucrats in the legislative and executive branches of the federal government may work for the legislative and executive branches of the federal government and shall be aggregated with the same for the purpose of attaining the two-thirds of states necessary to require Congress to call a limited convention on this subject, but shall not be aggregated with any other applications on any other subject.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this separate application constitutes a continuing application in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution until the legislatures of at least two-thirds of the several states have made applications on the same subject.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be sent to the Majority Leader and Secretary of the United States Senate, the Speaker, Clerk, and Judiciary Chairman of the United States House of Representatives, the members of Utah's congressional delegation, and the presiding officers of each of the legislative houses in the several states, requesting their cooperation.